THE TEACHERS HEAR AN INSTRUCTIVE LECTURE AT COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE

INTERESTING PAPERS PRESENTED AT THE TEACHERS' CONVENTION—TEACHING HISTORY IN THE SCHOOLS.

Yesterday, at the afternoon session of the Teachers' Convention, held in the Public Library here, Miss Mackay gave a paper on Educative Busy Work. This dealt with the matter of seat work. Teachers are often too apt to want to teach and thus do not give the pupils enough to do for themselves. This is especially a danger among younger teachers. Proper discipline depends upon suitable seat work. Children will be busy anyway. Their natural activity must be directed into proper channels.

What kind of busy work shall we give? Shall we give something just to keep the children quiet? Surely not, it should be co-related with the school work. It should be planned, and should have two uses; first, as a preparation for a lesson; second, as a drill after a lesson. No work should be given unless it is educative. It must aim at moral and intellectual development. The child must express himself. He learns to do by doing. Education implies knowledge and growth. The acquiring of practical ability to use knowledge is more important than the gathering of facts alone. The child's need and nature must be understood. Things nearest to the heart of the child are the best materials. Nature provides abundant sources of supply.

Arouse Interest.

What rules shall be follow to make work educative? The child's interest must be aroused to make lasting impressions. There must be variety, grading and co-relation with other things educational. Pupils must not be kept too busy at one thing, there must not be too much; pupils must concentrate. All work must be scrupulously supervised.

Hand-work, as cutting, pasting, etc., is valuable at all stages. Copying from the blackboard, etc., is valuable, but care must be exercised that pupils copy accurately. Neatness is essential on the part of pupils. An incentive for the best work must be held out. Give our best directions and supervision with a definite purpose. The work must be interesting. Certain devices suit certain ages.

Miss Mackay gave several illustrations of busy work, suitable for different subjects, using plasticine to make letters, making words by combining printed letters together, mounting pictures from magazines and using these to illustrate sentences. The pupils thus desire to read and co-relate the picture with the sentences. Drawing pictures to illustrate stories is very valuable and interesting to the children. Many lessons are easily illustrated.

The imagination and the inventive genius of the child must be encouraged. This is done through the various activities of the child. Making books to represent or illustrate what the children see or experience in every day life is a useful device.

Miss Mackay's paper was very practical and suggestive, was well illustrated, with many samples of the pupils' own work.

Teaching History.

Mr. M. M. Park discussed some of the difficulties met with in teaching history. One is the indefiniteness of the work to be covered. Too much is attempted. Another is the textbook. Our present one does not encourage pupils to read. It is rather broad, and contains much not essential to pupils' use.

He did not think that the oral method of teaching the subject was satisfactory. Pupils do not carry away enough. A definite list of questions to which the pupil must get answers from the book seems to make a deeper impression. It is a good thing for pupils to make their own outlines. These outlines must be checked by the teachers. There is need for uniformity. A certain amount of work ought to be given by the teachers if the pupils have had a chance to first make theirs.

Maps should be used very extensively to give the place idea of events in history. The time must also be carefully considered. Let pupils make out scrap books pertaining to current history. Have them use pictures.

Some literature lessons which bear on historical events can be taken at the opportune time. Let pupils read more widely. Let them do more reading for themselves. Supplementary reading ought to be more fully used to aid history.

Examinations seem necessary to establish a standard. They certainly stimulate exertion on the part of the pupils. Answer papers do not need to be long compositions. Outlines may fulfil the whole purpose. Pupils are too apt to have hazy ideas. They give stock answers to questions that are too general and are evidently intended to try to cover ignorance. Answers should be definite.

A good discussion followed. Many good suggestions were put forward. Wide reading on the part of pupils was advocated. Pupils must organize their knowledge. They must make contributions to the general information of the class.

Northern Ontario Trip.

Mr. F. E. Kerr, B.A., the delegate of the local Instieute, reported on his trip with the teachers last summer through Northern Ontario. Leaving Toronto on the evening of August 21st, the party reached Sudbury the following morning. Here they visited the Creighton mine, the largest nickel-producing mine in the world, and were shown in detail the different steps in production. At Copper Cliff, the blast furnaces in which the ore is smelted were seen. From Sudbury, the teachers proceeded to Sault Ste. Marie, a city about the size of Peterborough. The chief point of interest was the iron and steel smelter and the rolling mills, where steel rails are manufactured. The Spanish River Pulp and Paper Mills were also viewed.

The next stopping point was Hearst, 294 miles to the north. The Laurentian region had been left behind and the level clay belt reached. After passing through Cochrane, the party reached Timmins in the gold-mining district. Mr Kerr pointed out that Ontario produces more gold than any other state or province in North America except California, and that the Hollinger is the largest mine in the world in which gold is produced from quartz. The quartz is crushed in stamp mills, the lighter rock washed off, and the pure gold then secured by the cyanide process. At Iroquois Falls the Abitibi Pulp and Paper Mills were visited. Here the manufacturing of paper from spruce logs was seen in all its stages.

The party entered the Laurentian region again at Haileybury and Cobalt. The silver mines at Cobalt were not open to visitors. After a sail on Lake Temiskaming, they proceeded to North Bay. Here a day's outing on Lake Nipissing was enjoyed. The party then returned to Toronto. Mr. Kerr supplied each member of the audience with a map of Northern Ontario, which made it easy to follow the route covered. At the conclusion of his remarks, he showed moving pictures of the smelting at Copper Cliff, and also of the manufacture of news print. The Association is indebted to the Y.M.C.A. for the use of their moving picture machine and to Mr. Fred McNeely for manipulating it.

It is worthy of note that of all the countries of the world Canada stands first in the production of nickel and asbestos, third in the production of silver, and fifth in the production of gold.

Attended Lecture.

Last evening the combined Teachers' Institutes of the county and city met in the Collegiate Institute Hall. Miss M. Runnings occupied the chair. The musical part of the programme was particularly enjoyable. Mrs. M .H. Park, accompanied by Miss M. Rannie on the piano, and Miss E. Palmer on the violin, gave a much appreciated solo in her usual excellent style. Miss Palmer's violin solo was likewise delightful. Mr. and Mrs. Park's duet displayed their well known vocal ability. All the numbers were heartily applauded and the artists kindly responded with encores. Professor G. A. Cornish, of the Toronto College of Education, and a former master in the Normal School here, gave an illustrated lecture on "The Japanese and Their Industries."

LABOR BOARD INTERVENES

WARNS RAILWAY UNIONS NOT TO STRIKE AND CALLS CONFERENCE

CHICAGO, October 21 (Canadian Press). — Backed by all the authplace at its disposal, the United States Labour Board to-day issued a solemn warning to the railwaymen's unions and brotherhoods not to strike until the Board had heard their grievances and rendered a decision, at the same time calling the five railroads of the country and the five brotherhoods to appear here next week for a conference.

The Board's action virtually means that there will be on strike October 30 unless the unions should choose to openly defy the Government, for it is hardly probable that a decision will be rendered by the Board before that date.

The Board said "that in so far as the threatened strike is the result of a dispute between the carriers and their employees concerning wages, rules and working conditions, this Board hereby assumes jurisdiction of said dispute on the statutory ground that it is likely substantially to interrupt commerce." In the meanwhile both parties to the dispute were warned to maintain a status quo on the properties of the carriers.

BRAKEMEN KILLED.

BROCKVILLE, October 21 (Canadian Press). — John Cushaway, a C.P.R. brakeman, of Smith's Falls, was instantly killed last night at Petawawa Station, when he fell between two cars and was run over.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism (or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before eating more food.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

ACHIEVEMENT OF THE GREEK ARMY.

Enormous Difficulties on Road to Angora.

WITH THE GREEK ARMY IN ANTOLIA, October 21.—(The Associated Press)—When the Greek army sets itself the task of capturing Angora it had little conception of the enormous difficulties of travel that beset it in the remote reaches of Asia Minor.

The army had to traverse roads which may be best compared to the pioneer trails that existed on the western plains of the United States in the early '40's. Where thoroughfares have existed at all, they have been of sand or rough broken stone.

In order to avoid Kemals powerful defensive positions along the Sakaria River, to the southwest of Angora, the Greeks undertook a great detour to the southeast of Eski-Shehr, intending to flank the Nationalist army and cut off its retreat. In this desolate southern area they encountered deserts of sand and great stretches of rock. For 20 days the soldiers marched over the arid plains, finding little water and less rest.

Great Achievement

General Papoulas, Commander-in-chief of the Hellenic forces, declared to the correspondent of The Associated Press who accompanied the army that not even in the ancient days of Xenophon and Alexander were such obstacles and hardships encountered. He added that no army in modern history had equalled the achievements of the Greek troops, who covered a distance of 435 miles in less han 130 marching days.

Over the wretched roads which the country afforded all except the most powerful motor trucks broke down. To overcome some of the enormous difficulties, the Greeks employed thousands of camels and oxen. But the progress of these patient animals was necessarily slow. It took weeks and weeks for for supplies of munitions and food to reach the front. Then the path of the drivers was continually menaced by the roving bands of Chetas highwaymen of the East, who killed the men on sight and captured their caravans.

NOTHING BUT GOVERNMENT IN BOLSHEVIST CAPITAL TO-DAY

All Public Utilities, Hospitals, Schools, Orphanages and Factories Are Government - Controlled —Minor Officials of Old Regime Restored to Their Posts.

Red Tape Dominates.

MOSCOW, Oct. 21.—(By a Staff Correspondent of The Associated Press.)—Government everywhere, nothing but government!

Such is the impression that a foreigner who has known Moscow of old gets in entering the Bolshevist capital today.

All the hotels are government committee headquarters. The same is true of department stores, office buildings, clubs, cafes and larger private houses. All theaters are government theaters.

Queues of Russians and foreigners are waiting in the streets before most larger buildings for permits to buy railway tickets or perform some ordinary transaction such as a New Yorker would dispose of over the telephone in five minutes.

The motor cars are all government cars and are monopolized by government employes. The streetcars are run by the government and government employes, especially workmen, have first call on the few cars which run chiefly at times when workmen are going to or from work. Other folks may take the few carriages which ply the main streets for hire at prices beyond the reach of ordinary government salaries.

Trains are Few.

Railway trains are few and seem to be crowded largely with government employes and soldiers. Passenger trains far exceed freight trains on all lines and every coach has a red soldier or two to keep people from massing on the train at stations.

Factories which are in operation are run by the government and work chiefly on government supplies, such as railway repairs, motor repairs, airplane repairs and other army supplies.

The Kremlin, formerly the ecclesiastical center for Russia and the historic shrine about which the Romanoff traditions centers, is all government. Its churches are closed. Red army soldiers occupy the barracks of the old imperial army and prominent Bolshevist officials occupy the quarters formerly given over to church officials and other dignitaries of the Romanoff regime.

Hospitals and orphanages and schools are run by the government. The government payrolls are filled to overflowing with employes who want the government food ration and in consequence there seems to be an excess of personnel in Moscow institutions as well as the provinces.

Many of the orphanages have nearly as many attendants as they have orphans. To American eyes, the railways seems to be overstaffed. Trains and stations are alive with officials and guards, many of whom seem unnecessary because of the general quiet that prevails.

Document Mad.

Russia always was document mad, and it seems even worse now than it was under former regimes. Endless rows of employes are busy making documents and reports in nearly every government building. Statisticians are at work everywhere.

Bolshevist officials are not blind to the overstaffing of the departments and the inefficiency of many of the workers. They fill the Moscow and provincial papers with appeals for greater diligence on the part of employes and a reduction of forces not engaged in productive labor. They also complain bitterly of the red tape which slows down all government business and clamor for simplification and decentralization.

But, after all, the railways and telegraphs and telephones and posts are in much the same hands they were before Bolshevism triumphed. The men who knew the technic of the various public service organizations had to be recalled very largely. Many of them make no pretension that they are Communists or even Socialists and their work is done in an extremely perfunctory manner.

Less Acerbity.

Three years have brought about a remarkable change in the attitude of Red army men and all government employes toward the general public. There is a great modification of the acerbity which characterized the early days of the Bolshevist control. In the frenzied first year of Bolshevism, officials seemed to regard everyone who approached them as an enemy. They growled and harangued. From top to bottom officialdom was nervous, irritable and generally unpleasant to deal with.

This spirit has disappeared, to a very large degree. The success of the government in overthrowing its adversaries has given a feeling of security and it now functions much as other governments do. Guards, messengers, bureau chiefs and higher officials are more cordial. Bolshevist legations abroad also reflect this changed attitude to a marked degree.

White collars are no longer banned. Black leather coats are not regarded as the only suitable uniform for a Bolshevist official. Experienced minor officials of the old regime have been restored to their places in many of the offices and their example has greatly modified the brusque manners of the soldier, sailor and workman element which originally monopolized most of the government posts.

SEND FOOD AND CLOTHES FOR THE DESTITUTE.

Without Absolute Essentials of Life, Starving Natives of Labrador Will Get Urgently Needed Supplies From Quebec.

Federal Government Helps

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—(By Canadian Press.)—Capt. Alfred Living, in charge of the Dominion Government reindeer herd, situated at Lobster Bay, Labrador, has completed his mission here, and is returning bearing supplies of food and clothes to tide the destitute natives over the winter.

An epidemic of influenza and pneumonia last spring, which has left the people in a weakened condition, has been followed by a season in which both fish and fur have failed them. Thus there are 400 to 500 families in the Canadian Labrador who are without the absolute essentials of life. Even where a fair catch has been secured, the price of only $2.00 per barrel was obtained where normally $8.00 is paid by the traders. Thus the native has been unable to lay in his winter store of provisions from the outside. Many families which he has visited, says Capt. Living, are in a state of actual starvation. Indians, half-Eskimos and a sprinkling of white men married to natives constitute the population.

During the influenza epidemic, says Capt. Living, he covered 150 miles of coast line, having to visit each family. Practically every family was affected, and in some cases he found every member prostrated and unable to do anything for each other.

Outside Relief.

The result of all this is that the colony is now utterly dependent upon some outside relief. Though Capt. Living would ordinarily not have left his station until next June or July, he felt it imperative to come out and lay the state of affairs before the authorities. After 120 miles travel down to Harrington, he caught a steamer for Quebec. Here he interviewed Premier L. A. Taschereau and other members of the provincial government. Realizing the emergency of the case, Premier Taschereau has placed at Capt. Living's disposal such quantities of flour, lard, molasses and tea as will keep the natives alive until the spring.

The co-operation of Bishop Williamson of Quebec was also secured through whose mediation a general appeal for clothes was made throughout the province, a large number of the people being without warm things to cover them during the long, rigorous winter. A generous response has been met, with the result that Capt. Living is assured of taking back with him a large quantity of clothing suitable for men, women and children.

Federal Government Helps.

In addition to the supplies of food that have been forthcoming from Quebec, the federal government on its side, has provided Capt. Living with a steamer to transport him and his supplies back to the Labrador coast. During many weeks after his arrival, he will be entirely occupied in making the distribution of food and clothing by means of dog sleighs.

The reindeer, says Capt. Living, constitute the natives' continuing source of milk, butter, transportation and animal food. Although his work is officially that of reindeer conservation, he acts often enough as counsellor and even in emergency as practising physician. In the remote scene of his labors, he has often found it necessary to perform surgical operations. He will return with a provision of first aid remedies and simple medicines, prepared to meet a number of emergencies.

Capt. Living reports the natives as sincere in their beliefs and ready to make great sacrifices for them. Last spring, he says a party brought the bodies of an Indian of 24 and a young squaw of 6, from 100 miles inland where they had died, to the Christian settlement of St. Augustine's, so that they might be buried there. They made the final days of the difficult and hazardous trip entirely without food.

The Silver Cross.

The Indian in that country, says Capt. Living, almost universally wears a silver cross about his neck, and this has sometimes been put to a strange use. Where one of them became insane, as was not infrequent, the man was bound and his cross taken from him. This was melted into a silver bullet, with which the unfortunate man was shot to death This is a practice, however, which the author ties have stamped o[illegible]

"NEARLY WED"
BY EDGAR SELWYN

The Rex Stock Company will return to Peterborough next Monday with an especially good play called "Nearly Wed." The title is suggestive, but it does not apply to the situation one might expect—that is to young people about to marry and then involved in some embarassing entanglement or other. It has to do with a couple who have decided to agree to disagree. They are seeking a divorce—there being no real grounds except incompatibility, it is necessary to pay for the services of a divorce specialist. No, not a doctor, just a specialist, a nice, agreeable, easy-going sort of girl who makes her living by appearing to win men's affections, to break up happy homes and launch a first class, up-to-date action for divorce. The fact that she takes a fee for this seemingly easy accommodation, causes wifey, in most cases to forget that after all she is a woman, probably a very attractive though clever female. (The two are not always synonymous you know.) The heroine in "Nearly Wed" is much disturbed when she finds out how good looking Hattie really is and suffers an attack of genuine jealousy at seeing her waiting for hubby at a fashionable tea room. Why does fate, in the person of a young brother, upset things so when Harry Lindsay, the husband, who does not appear very keen to be divorced, wins back the affections of wifey, goes off with her for a second honeymoon, only to be pursued by brother-in-law and friends, plus the still unpaid "first aid to divorce?" The fact is, that while the couple and Hattie are taking things easily, the divorce is granted. To save his sister's reputation and prevent her from resuming relations with a husband whom the courts have declared to be no longer her husband, brother Dick and Harry's friends start out to pursue the fleeing couple. Hattie, not to lose her hard earned money, pursues also to the tune of many dollars on a taxi-meter. The meeting at the road house, the inkeeper (late of Sherry's) and his wife, the unknown proprietor of the same, and the final denouement, cause some screamingly funny scenes. Don't miss this show. It is really one of the best ever.

LAURA.

AT THE CAPITOL.

Sparkling, fascinating, bright, gay and modern, ultra modern, is "The Affairs of Anatol," at the Capitol Theatre this week. The heart throbs, the amorous adventures of an up-to-date young man, and his equally up-to-date wife, scintillate their devious ways through nine reels of luxurious, silken-clad film.

Perhaps the moral of the show might be epitomized as the up-to-date revised motto: "What is sauce for the gander is sauce for the goose." Anatol De Witt Spencer exercises his masculine prerogative of loving where and when he chooses, and his first adventure happens during the honeymoon. That his flyers in love are merely platonic does not serve to placate his bride's feelings to any great extent. He establishes his golden-haired inamorate in a luxurious suite and undertakes to divert her thoughts from jazz music and cocktails to higher things. Her former benevolent patron, the "Kewpie," waits around to pick up the pieces, and Anatol, coming in on a secret champagne supper, flies into a berserker range and converts the handsome furniture into kindling wood.

His next adventure is with a "sweet virtuous" country girl, who relieves him of his pocket book while he embraces her, and leaves him "footing it" back to town in the wake of a justly indignant wife departing by automobile. But Anatol's greatest jolt comes to him in this affair, also strictly platonic, with Satan Synne, "the wickedest woman in New York." This lady possesses a wonderful wardrobe, a diabolical collection of household accessories and a pet leopard. Three thousand dollars is the price of his freedom here. And in the meantime the worm has turned. His wife, Vivian, departs for an unspecified destination, and returns at her own pleasure with his best friend.

Anatol enlists the aid of a hypnotist and proceeds to handle the situation in a typically masculine manner. His subsequent change of mind, provides a large question mark which concludes a brilliant production. Dazzling gowns, luxurious backgrounds and the situations which our excitement-mad, emotion-loving modernity evolves, are the keynotes for a picture which has an all-star cast. The theatre was packed last night with every available seat taken.

The exciting serial, "The Purple Riders," and a double act of vaudeville complete the programme for last three days of this week. The first act is a "sister" team, with two musical young ladies, a vocalist and pianist, with guitar accompaniment, who sing and play in an entertaining fashion. The second act has two masculine performers, with a talking and dancing number. These two gentlemen are wonderfully clever steppers, with some originol footwork.

AT THE ALLEN.

"General Post' is the merry, attractive little screen production of the play that amused and entertained hundreds of people throughout the Dominion a year or so ago. It drew a good house at the Allen Theatre last night, who laughed with the aristocratic, peppery baronet with the old ideas of birth and social station. The name, derived from an old game where the actors change places with one another with startling rapidity, is very appropriate to the topsy-turvy effect achieved in the little English village where Sir Dennys Broughton has always reigned supreme, by the advent of newer social conditions following the war. The tailor who has fitted him with morning and evening costumes becomes almost overnight a gallant Colonel with the V.C. and aspires to the hand of his daughter. The gradual revulsion of feeling in the snobbish Englishman and his final utter capitulation makes a series of laughable situations. Humor runs through the likable little story, with some fine acting by principles and minor actors.

"Edgar's Country Cousin" is an amusing comedy, and the final episode of "The Son of Tarzan" provides the thrills associated with this offering.

ST. JAMES EPWORTH LEAGUE CONCERT

St. James' Epworth League presented a very enjoyable little performance in the comedy, "Uncle Ephraim's Summer Boarders," before a crowded house in their Sunday School Hall last evening. Mr. Edwin Rowe was stage manager, and those taking part in a clever little production were as follows: Herschel Welbourn, Reg. THIRTY RUNNERS ENTERED IN THE THANKSGIVING DAY RACE

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR A REVIVAL OF THE OLD TIME EVENT —ROUTE DECIDED.

To date there have been about thirty entries for the Thanksgivng Day road race and prospects are bright for a revival of the old-time event if merchants and business men lend their cooperation. The Examiner has donated a shield for the senior race and three other fine prizes to be drawing cards for a big entry in the senior event as well as donating a shield or cup for the juniors. It is confidently expected that merchants, business men and local sportsmen will support the race in a material way by donating prizes.

The committee will not be able to make a complete canvas of the merchants but it is hoped that every merchant who wishes to put Peterboro on the map as a road racing centre will give a hand in the way of prizes. A good race is impossible without good prizes; the Examiner has given generous support and the committee hope the merchants will follow suite

"Novelty Prizes"

If merchants, particularly those along the route will donate prizes, what are called "novelty" prizes will be awarded, outside of the premier prize list. These prizes would not be so pretentious as the others and would not be announced till after the race. They would be given for example to the man first in the second lap or second on third lap and would be arranged in this way so every runner would put forth his best efforts.

Route Decided

The route of the race has finally been decided. It is a 2 1-2 miles course by actual measurement and will be covered four times by the seniors and twice by the juniors.

Here is the route:—
Leave Y. M. C. A.,
George to Sherbrooke,
Sherbrooke to Park,
Park to McDonnel,
McDonnel to Aylmer,
Aylmer to Dublin,
Dublin to George,
George to Y. M. C. A.

The Regulations

If harriers haven't attained their 18th birthday by Thanksgiving Day they are eligible as juniors. All entrants must have resided in the county for three months. Entries must be in by the evening of October 31 and must be made in writing to D. Loomis at the YM.C.A. or Charles Thorpe of Grant. and Thorpe, George street.

The race is being started and ended at the "Y" so the harriers can use the facilities there. They can have a shower and rub-down and will be in far better running shape than if started from Lansfield or Nassua. The "Y" is behind the race too. "Doug." Loomis is working hard to make it a success and the "Y" has also promised to help in the prize list by donating a full year's membership.

The adverse weather last night forced the harriers to be satisfied with a workout in the "Y" Gym. However Charlie Thorpe led them smartly around the track and as long as he is around there is not much danger of them becoming rheumatic.

The parting shot of the committee is that all entries must be in by October 31, and they need prizes. Boy, page the merchants.

THE CITY CHAMPIONSHIPS

The City Championships will be held to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon at the Exhibition grounds (in front of the Grand Stand.)

The medals and cups for this Championship Meet will be presented at the same time as those awarded for the Examiner road race.

The entrants for the different classes line up as follows: Peck Cup, 5 entries, Huycke Cup 6 entries, Eastwood Cup, 10 entries; Howden Cup, 5 entries.

PICTON ARE CHAMPS AGAIN

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Oct. 20 — Picton holders of intermediate amateur baseball title of Ontario for 1920 won the championship for the second consecutive time by defeating the Hebrew "Lits" of Toronto in a sudden-death game here this afternoon at Agricultural Park by a score of five to two. The match was played under the most adverse conditions, the grounds being wet, and the officials were compelled to lay out a new diamond. Late innings were played in approaching darkness. The champions had the edge of the play throughout the game. They played errorless ball and found Wilkse of the "Lits" for ten hits, one of them a homer, made by Croft in the second frame. Four errors were marked against the Toronto line-up, who had to their credit four hits. Croft of Picton struck out twelve and Wilkes fanned six. "Lits" were unable to score until the eight innings, when Croft walked one man and allowed two hits. Two runs resulted. They looked for a time as if they would score in the sixth but failed. Picton, in the seventh, scored three runs on three hits and one error, their other runs being made in the second and the eighth. Th game was snappy at times, although conditions operated against the best of results. Some five hundred fans from Picton motored to the city to witness the triumph of their team, now twice champions.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Oct. 21.—(Canadian Press).—The local Stock Exchange was not as active during the first half hour this morning as it was yesterday, and no changes of any importance were noted. Dominion Steel appeared unchanged at 24¾ and Riordon at three. National Breweries was quoted at 55¼, a quarter point below its last night's closing figure.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(Canadian Press).—Sterling exchange easy; demand, Great Britain, 3.94¼; Canadian dollars, 8 9-16 per cent. discount.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21. — (Canadian Press).—Opening wheat quotations, which ranged from ¼c to 1¼c higher, with December 1.04½ to 1.05 and May 1.09 to 1.10, were followed by a material further advance.

Corn and oats shared in the strength of wheat. After opening 1-8c to ½c higher, December 46½ to 46⅝, corn continued to ascend. Oats started unchanged to ¼c higher, December 32 5-8 to 32 3-4, and later scored additional gains.

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(Canadian Press).—Selling of Railroad shares on a moderate scale attended to-day's early dealings in the Stock Market. The refusal of railroad labor organizations to cancel their strike order invited a renewal of professional operations. Losses among more prominent transportations extended from large fractions to a point, Northern Pacific and Great Northern showing especial pressure. Steels also were heavy on poor statements issued by several of the independent companies for the first quarter of the year.

Rails sustained additional losses during the morning, and Steels, Sugars and Tobaccos remained heavy. Otherwise, the lists showed a tendency to ignore unfavorable developments. Utilities of diverse types, represented by American Express, Wells Fargo, People's Gas and Laclede Gas, rose one to six points. Call money opened at 4½ per cent.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, Oct. 21. — (Canadian Press).—C. P. R. reflected the less favorable strike news from across the border on the Toronto Stock Exchange this morning. After opening at 122, yesterday's closing price, it fell off to 120½, with the last sale at 121. There were 84 shares sold. Canada Steamships, Common and Preferred, and Mackay Common were fairly active, with prices steady.

The Value of Advertising

No matter what particular merit a preparation may possess, if you wish to bring it before the public, it is necessary to advertise it.

For instance, Dr. Banta's Kidney and Rheumatic Pills were just as good a year ago as they are to-day; and while they had a steady sale due to one friend telling another of the benefits derived from them the proprietors recognized this was a rather slow way of introducing them, and for the year 1921 they have placed a contract with this paper for 10,000 lines of advertising.

On another page of this paper you will find their large advertisement, and with merit and advertising we feel confident they will meet with success.

LOOKING FOR BANDIT WHO ROBBED TRAIN

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Oct. 21. — (Canadian Press). — While the mounted police and Provincial police are combing the district in search of the unknown bandit who robbed the express car on Canadian Pacific train No. 4, Wednesday morning, an investigation is being held here by Superintendent Gordon of the Dominion Express Company, Winnipeg. There were no fresh developments further than that certain facts lead to the conclusion that the man who pulled off the job on No. 4 is one and the same man who robbed the Canadian National Railway express at Tofield, Alta., on September 22.

The intimation carried in despatches during the night that the loss was in excess of $5,000 and under $30,000, was given categorical denial by the express company officials and the chief of the investigation department of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The actual amount missing was stated to be in the neighborhood of $3,500. It was also denied that there were any bank remittances in the safe. There is, of course, the possibility that further investigation may disclose the loss of more. This would be possible if the robber made off with the parcels and the way-bills as well. As the way-bills have been checked with the empty envelopes left in the car, it is not believed that the loss will be increased.

No arrests of suspects have been made thus far.

PRIZE-WINNERS IN STOCK JUDGING

CONTEST WAS HELD IN THE COUNTY YESTERDAY—AN ANNUAL EVENT.

The East Peterborough U. F. O. Executive some months ago donated $50.00 towards prizes for a stock judging contest. It was held yesterday, and although it was the initial attempt at anything along this line, was very successful. Inclement weather prevented all of the 26 young men from competing, but there were 15 contestants all under 26 years of age. F. C. McRae, agricultural representative at Norwood, had charge of the contest, with R. H. Harding, a prominent breeder of Thornedale, official judge. Points were decided on five classes of stock. Dairy cattle and sheep were judged at Charles Moore's, 4th Line of Smith; heavy horses and swine at Roberts and Son, Otonabee, and beef cattle at Morley Smithson's, Otonabee.

The winners of the contest were decided by marks. The highest possible score was 500, the marks being given 50 per cent. for placing, and 50 per cent. for written reasons for so placing them. The young stockmen took a great interest in the contest. Four animals in each lot were taken, and each contestant, to secure full marks, had to place either in the correct order on their merits, the same as the judge.

The winners of the contest, the first eight with the greatest scores, were announced to-day by Mr. McRae as follows:

1st Percy Gardner, Asphodel, 363 points; 2nd, Richard Graham, Douro, 367 points; 3rd, Charles Hubbell, Belmont 343 points; 4th, Earl Petrie, Otonabee, 343; 5th, Herbert Knox, Asphodel, 342; 6th, Gordon Stinson, Dummer, 318; 7th, Fred. Crowe, Douro, 317; 8th, Jas. Petrie, Otonabee, 315 points.

Mr. Harding commended the men on their judging ability, and he gave them some good pointers that will be of value in their stock farming. The contest will likely become an annual event because of its popular reception by the young stockmen.

AN EXHIBITION GAME.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(Canadian Press.)— Announcement was made here that Miss Cecil Leitch, British golf star, would play Miss Alexa Stirling of Atlanta, formerly United States' champion, in an exhibition game at the Pelham Country Club on October 28, for the benefit of the Radcliffe College Endowment Fund. This will be their first meeting in the United States. It was generally expected that they would meet in the recent national tournament at Deal, N.J., but Miss Leitch was eliminated in the second round. Miss Leitch has decided Miss Sterling twice once in Scotland and once in the Canadian National Tournament at Ottawa.

VOL. XLIX., No. 95 PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1921 PRICE THREE CENTS

PETERBOROUGH IS MARKED BY BANK ROBBERS

POLICE HAVE INFORMATION THAT GUNMEN ARE COMING HERE AND ARE PREPARING TO RECEIVE THEM.

LOCAL BANKS TAKING STEPS FOR PROTECTION

Local bank managers interviewed by the Examiner said that protective measures were being taken by the banks here as elsewhere, to be prepared for any attempts at hold up which it are not unlikely to occur. Certain information it is said has been received that Peterboro has been "marked" by the gun men and the police and bankers taking the information at its face value are as a warning preparing for a visit from bandits.

If bandits arrive they will find the bankers not unprepared and the local police force, an organization to be reckoned with. It is learned that the banks are one in joining together for mutual protection. Every bank has received head office instructions to take every safeguard in the handling of money. Only a minimum of each is being allowed to remain in the tellers' cages and the bulk of cash will be in the strong safes behind a time-lock. Tellers particularly and others of the staff are being more heavily armed firearms are being located at more strategic points in the offices.

Conferences Held.

None know better than the managers that if a hold-up took place it would likely follow heavy deposits, so greater protection is being given at such times.

Conferences between the managers and the police have been held and an efficacious protection system it is believed has been evolved. The bankers realize the force behind the numerous bank robberies is well entrenched in banking knowledge, fearless and cunning and they are prepared therfore to take every step that will safeguard their customers' interest and break down the organization of hold-up men terrorizing Ontario.

"RED MASK GANG" RAID CARD GAME

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. — United Press.—Six bandits, known to the police as the "Red Mask Gang," raided a fashionable card game in Brooklyn early to-day and robbed the guests of $2000 in cash and diamonds. There were nine men and one women in an apartment playing cards when the bandits kicked a door open and rushed in waving revolvers. Each wore a red handkerchief over his face. The alarm was given by telephone to the police and a squad hurried to the house, but too late.

The robbers who were well dressed and who were ironically courteous, escaped in an automobile.

EGGS SCARCE AT 60 CENTS

DOZEN EGGS SELL FOR PRICE OF HEN ON FARMERS' MARKET, DUE TO SLAUGHTER OF POULTRY.

POTATOES PLENTIFUL

The farmers' market was very large and busy to-day. Immense quantities of vegetables and apples were offered and upstairs half the fowl of the county seemed to lay stark and stiff waiting for a buyer.

The farmers' wives have been virtually "killing the goose that laid the golden egg,' only in this case it is the hostely hen that is involved. Eggs were five cents apiece, 60 cents a dozen and twelve eggs were worth as much as the hen that would have laid them had she been allowed to live. It is indeed a sad spectacle to consider an eggless world, but seems to be quite within reason if the present slaughter continues. Chickens of every variety were so plentiful they could be bought as low as 20 cents a pound. Ducks and geese were offered in large numbers and were only 30 cents a pound. One lady had two great big birds, dark and fierce looking with white and black feathers and long scraggy necks. Guess what they were. "Turkeys." How did you guess it? They were fine gobblers, too, and only 45 cents for 16 ounces.

Butter Easier.

Butter was more reasonable than eggs and none of the basketeers asked more than 43 cents.

At 10.30 there was such a jam around the open market it was quite a feat to get around and see it all. An observer could not help but remark the great quantities of unsold potatoes. Most of the farmers held out for $2 but one or two were letting them go at $1.75 and and getting cleared more easily.

And such a clutter of apples. On all sides barrels and bags greeted the eye and certainly glistened invitingly in the busy sun-filled atmosphere. No. 1 Northern Spy were $7 a barrel, Russets $5, Peewaukies $5 and lesser grades accordingly. One lady read the riot act to the man asking $7 for Spys. "You can buy them for $4 a barrel at Port Hope, all you want to take away. I$t's a shame to ask $7." He expostulated with her, declared he came from near Port Hope himself, but his words did not carry the weight with the crowd like the emphatic woman's.

Vegetables Plentiful.

The vegetables to-day were selling about the same as last week. Cabbages and cauliflower were perhaps more plentiful and cheaper. Fine heads were 10 and 15 cents. Celery was 10 cents; kids in the market building were loudy proclaiming water cress at five a bunch. Sage was 5 cents, pumpkins, squash and all the gourd family 10 and 15 cents.

There were several meat men on to-day. Pork was 14c. and 17c. fore and hind, and mutton 21c. to 24c.

OPEN INQUEST INTO DEATH OF DR. J. V. HAYES

JURY IMPANELLED BY CORONER AND PROBE ADJOURNED UNTIL NEXT WEDNESDAY.

DR. HAYES DIED LAST NIGHT FROM INJURIES

An inquest in connection with the death of Dr. J. Vernon Hayes was opened at 11 a.m. to-day in Lane and Eano's Undertaking Parlors, Coroner Dr. T. N. Greer presiding. After the jury had viewed the body, the inquest was adjourned till Wednesday, the 26th, to be resumed in the Police Court or Council Chamber.

Coroner Dr. Greer told the jury empanelled he was required by law to hold an inquest in connection with all deaths relating to railway operation. If he had not been required by law he said that an investigation by himself would probably have sufficed to determine the cause of death.

The jury empanelled was as follows: Ald. Frank Whitehouse (foreman), Harry Thornton, Joseph Metheral, Joseph Picard, William Howden, D. M. Minicola, William Merrill, J. O. Fife, W. D. Campbell, Samuel Houlihan, Sidney Whatley.

At the inquest Joseph O'Brien represented the family, and Joseph Wearing, the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, street railway operators.

ELECTION NEWS

ELECTION NEWS.

Mr. Burnham says that there is to be a grand band concert preceding the monster Meighen meeting in the Armouries, Wednesday evening, November 2nd, beginning at 7:30. Taxes ond bad times cannot chill the consolation of sweet music. 1d96

BOWMANVILLE, Oct. 22. — The Town Hall was filled last night with an enthusiastic meeting in support of W. T. R. Preston, the Liberal candidate for Durham. Supporting Mr. Preston was the Rev. Mr. Holgate, a retired Methodist minister, who was the chairman; Hon. Senator Beith, W. L. Brey, M.P.P.; W. E. N. Sinclair, M.P.P.; G. N. Gordon, ex-M.P. of Peterborough.

Mr. G. N. Gordon was the principal speaker, and he made a vigorous onslaught on the Government's extravagance and wasteful administration, the mis-management of the pension matters, the cutting down of under-paid civil servants' salaries, while boosting the salary of highly-paid officials.

Mr. Gordon went after Hugh Guthrie, C. C. Ballantyne, and characterized them as millionaire additions to the Conservative party, and said it profited these men to support the Government.

The Peterborough member said he would not say that all tht members of the Government were grafters and profiteers, but he would say all the grafters and profiteers were supporting the Government.

Mr. Gordon, in an hour's speech, which was a vigorous arraignment of governmental mismanagement, extravagance and stupidity, defied a single person to contradict or excuse one single accusation he made. One member of the audience asked about the price of sugar, and what the Board of Commerce did, and Mr. Gordon showed him that the Board of Commerce, appointed by the Government, boosted the price of sugar from ten cents to twenty-five cents, and that the buyers' strike, organized by the women of Canada, was the only thing that broke the price of sugar, which was forced up in the interests of the profiteers. The audience accepted Mr. Gordon's statement with loud applause, and the sugar critic was silenced.

It was announced at the meeting that the Honorable MacKenzie-King would speak at Orono on Wednesday next, and at the conclusion of the meeting automobile parties were arranged to go to this meeting, which promises to be one of the largest meetings held in midland Ontario.

JAS. B. BEGG WITHDRAWS.

LINDSAY, October 22.— Following a meeting of the Liberal Executive for Victoria and Haliburton, Mr. James B. Begg, the party's nominee to contest the Federal election, has retired from the campaign. This leaves the field to the Progressives and Conservative candidates — the latte claiming that the prospects for a Conservative victory are considerably enhanced by Mr. Begg's withdrawal. They declare that many Liberals in the Riding will now support the Government's candidate.

Bring Reindeer To Baffin Band

TO BE BRED FOR DAIRY PRODUCTS, MEAT, HIDES AND DRAUGHT PURPOSES.

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

WINNIPEG, Oct. 22.—The Hudson Bay Company's steamship Nascopie has sailed from Norway with a full cargo of reindeer to initiate the reindeer culture project of the Hudson Bay Reindeer Company in Baffin Island, it was learned to-day.

The animals will be bred for dairy products, meat, hides and draught purposes, and if the venture proves a success will supply the Western Canadian market as well as the northern people within a very few years, it was stated.

The Hudson Bay Reindeer Company was incorporated under a Dominion cahrter last May with Vilsjalmur Stefanson, the organizer of the reindeer scheme, as one of the directors. It has obtained a large grazing territory on the southern part of Baffin Island to carry out the plans. Special officers were sent to Norway to select the reindeer herd which was inspected by the veterinary officer of the Dominion Department of Agriculture before shipment. A resident manager of the ranch will be retained by the company and several families of Laps are being brought out to act as herders and protect the herd from wolves and other wild animals. It is proposed to inter-breed the domestic wild reindeer with the wild caribou of the north, combining the productive qualities of the domestic wild with the vigor of the northern animals.

The Hudsons Bay Company is the first to undertake stock breeding of this kind in the far north, it was stated, and it proposes to utilize its resources to make productive the vast areas of the Canadian northland now productive even for fur bearing animals.

ROLLER ACADEMY NEXT WEEK

SKATING PARTIES BEING ORGANIZED—NEW SKATES RECEIVED

Friday saw the biggest afternoon crowd of the season, outside of Saturdays. The reason is that beginners are taking advantage of the opportunity to secure the services of the instructors when there is not as large a crowd as at nights. Several organizations have already made up skating parties, and an excellent evening has been spent.

On Tuesday night there will be another block contest, so popular last week, when good prizes will be given the winners.

On Thursday night a prize will be given to the best gentleman skater, a beginner this season.

On all nights and Saturday afternoon the band is in attendance.

Monday and Wednesday nights are good nights for skating parties. — Advt.

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press).—Equipments and Oils were active and strong at the opening of to-day's Stock Market. Haskell and Barker soon advanced 5½ points in connection with reports of a merger with the Pullman Company. Mexican Petroleum added three points to yesterday's seven point rise. Houston Oil was two points higher, and Pan-American Petroleum, General Asphalt, Baldwin Locomotive, American Locomotive and May Department Stores rose 1 to 1½ points. Rails were not materially strong by the latest developments in the strike situation, Deleware, Lackawanna and Western being the only one to show more than fractional gains. Steels were irregular on mixed trade conditions reported from Pittsburg and other industrial centres.

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.— (Canadian Press.)—Rails and oils were the chief features of the strong opening on the stock exchange to-day. Mexican Petroleum added 1 1--2 points to yesterday's gain and Pacifics and Coalers were the strongest of the transportations. Industrials and Specialties also made irregular advances.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press).—Trading on the local Stock Exchange during the first half-hour this morning was very interesting, more than usual activity being shown among leaders, several of which registered substantial advances. Abitibi sold at 33 3-8, after closing at 32¼ yesterday afternoon, while Atlantic Sugar was quoted a half point higher at 28½. Brompton was also stronger and changed hands a quarter point up at 24½. A gain of half a point occurred in Laurentide, which sold at 77½.

TEXAS RAILWAYMEN IGNORE WARNING OF LABOR BOARD

BY HERBERT WALKER
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. — The decision has been reached by President Harding and his advisers to leave the rail crisis in the hands of the Railway Labor Board until an actual walk out on an extensive scale begins, it was learned to-day.

If the strike comes, then the Federal Government will step in and move necessary commodities by whatever methods are deemed wise.

BY H. D. JACOBS.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

CLEVELAND, Oct. 22. — The initial step in the threatening nation-wide railway strike will be taken to-day without any interference by the Brotherhood Chiefs so far as could be learned.

Despite the warning of the Railway Labor Board in Chicago, that pending the joint meeting of the union leaders and the railway executives with the Board there Wednesday, employees should not leave their job, it appeared that workmen on the International and Great Northern in Texas, would go out at noon as planned.

HOPE FOR SETTLEMENT.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22. Canadian Press. — Hopes for a peaceful settlement of the railroad dispute were brighter to-day with the agreement of the rail executives and brotherhoods to respond to the summons of the Labor Board for an open conference next Wednesday. It is understood, however, that the Brotherhoods have made no plans for a suspension of the strike pending negotiations.

NEW THREAT OF DISRUPTION IN PEACE PARLEYS

IRISH CONFERENCE DEADLOCKED FOLLOWING CLASH OF DETAILS OVER FOUR POINTS.

LLOYD GEORGE MAY NOT GO TO ARMS CONFERENCE

BY ED. L. KEEN.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Oct. 22. — A new threat of disruption faced the Irish peace conference to-day.

A practical deadlock existed following the clash of details over the following four points:

The note of De Valera to Pope Benedict.

The arrest of a gun runner whose papers prove that the Irish Republican Army was importing arms from America all during the truce.

The Ulster problem.

The proposition of allegiance to the Crown.

The threatened break may force Premier Lloyd eGorge to postpone his visit to America, it was believed. It was reported that acute difficulties have arisen between Lloyd George and Field Marshall Wilson, chiefly because of the Irish developments.

National Sanitarium Campaign Bulletin

Peterborough, Oct. 22nd, 1921

No one will forget that memorable day in 1914 when Great Britain refused to consider a sacred obligation as only a "scrap of paper," and took up arms to protect it, when Canada, as a matter of course, at once sprang to her aid, realising that the Empire was in peril, and anxious to do her share. No one will forget the anxious days and nights that filled four weary, war-worn years, when the flower of Canada's young manhood were overseas, fighting what seemed to be an almost unconquerable foe.

No one can remember in all that time that there was ever a whisper of wanting to cease "carrying on." We were in it to the finish; there was no thought of anything but victory, no matter how long it took or what the cost. Dollars were pinch and pennies were saved in order to purchase Victory Bonds, knowing that the money was to be used in a sacred cause.

The re-building of the Muskoka Hospital is a cause just as sacred. It is a cause near our hearts, because it is near our own homes. The foe we are fighting is not overseas, but is just over the street, right in our own neighbourhoods. Our feelings were stirred with righteous horror when we read accounts of our adversaries in the Great War failing to furnish shelter for their prisoners.

But are we to allow those in our neighbourhood to perish from the Tubercular Foe because there are no buildings at the Muskoka Hospital to shelter them, where they might receive the attention and care they need, and later on return completely cured to take up their work at home again.

It is a time now to invest in the Muskoka Hospital—as sacred an investment as Victory Bonds. Just remember this when the committee calls on you next week. Theirs is a thankless task, at best. Remember also the parable of "casting your bread upon the waters," and remember, too, the fact that we are fighting a relentless foe at our own threshold; and we must not cease to "carry on."

NATIONALS FOR CUT; UNIONS ARE OBDURATE.

OTTAWA, Oct. 22. — (Canadian Press). — A statement by A. B. Mosher yesterday afternoon that the employees should not agree to the twelve and a half per cent. wage reduction in the aggregate, and an equally decided assertion by F. P. Brady, of the Canadian National Railway, that his company would insist upon the entire saving represented by such reduction, were features of the session of the Board of Arbitration. Mr. Mosher said that if the management would agree to reduce the total, then it would be possible to discuss distribution. His organization, he said, would only consider the 12½ per cent. basis as a maximum to be deducted from the higher paid employees, while lesser reduction might be considered for the lower-paid.

PROBABILITIES.

Fair and mild, a few scattered showers at night.

COMMUNITY HALL FOR WARKWORTH

BUILDERS MAKING GOOD PROGRESS — ESTIMATED COST $5,000.

WARKWORTH, Oct. 22.—Work on Percy Township's Memorial Community Hall, which is under erection in this village, is already well advanced. The contractor, A. C. Copperthwaite of Dartford, has made good progress since the foundation was laid, and bricklayers have the main walls about half completed.

This building, situated in the centre of the community, is 41 feet frontage by 22 feet. It will be one storey high and of Milton pressed red brick. The interior will be divided into two sections, a library and rest room. Inside the main door is a vestibule, which has been laid out as a repositary of a mural tablet upon which Percy Township's honor roll in the war will be inscribed. W. H. Barry of Peterborough, the architect, has prepared a design that will give Workworth a new community building combining a modest, graceful appearance with desirable features of utility. The cost has been estimated at $5,000.

GEORGE BULLIED SUED TOWNSHIP

INTERESTING CASE HEARD BEFORE HIS HONOUR JUDGE HUYCKE IN DIVISION CASE.

APSLEY, Oct. 22.— A case that aroused much local interest was heard in the Division Court at Apsley, on Wednesday the 19th inst., before His Honor Judge Huycke, when George Bullied of Coe Hill, sued the Municipal Council of Chandos for trespass and claimed damages of $200. When it was pointed out to the plaintiff by His Honor that $120 was the maximum that could be sued for in the Division Court, he reduced his claim to that amount. The plaintiff conducted his case himself and Mr. F. D. Kerr, K.C., appeared for the defendant. According to plaintiff's evidence the Council in 1918 expropriated a portion of his farm to make a new road to avoid a bad hill on the concession road and had offered him as compensation $30 and to build a fence along the new road, which offer they afterwards rescinded. He claimed that since that time he had derived no benefit from his farm whatever by reason of the trespass. After hearing some of the evidence for the defence His Honor advised the parties to get together and to endeavor to come to an amicable arrangement.

This was accordingly done, and a settlement was reached by the Council agreeing to carry out their original offer of $30 and fencing the road and to pay plaintiff's costs, amounting to about $20, plaintiff to sign a conveyance of the expropriated land to the Council.

ELECTION NEWS

CHANGE IN ITINERARY OF MEIGHEN IN QUEBEC

MONTREAL, Oc. 22.—(Canadian Press.)—A change in the Quebec itinerary of Right Hon. Arthur Meighen is announced. The Premier will not visit Shawinigan Falls as stated earlier. On November fourth he will speak in Montreal at two meetings. The previous announcement provided for an afternoon meeting for women only, but this is not specified in the revised list.

On November 5th., the Prime Minister I will speak at Lachute.

November 7th., he will speak at Three Rivers and on November 8th at Quebec. On November 9th., he will address an afternoon meeting at Farnham and from there go on to Sherbrooke, where he will end his tour with an address in the evening.

CRERAR TAKES UP HALT OF GRAIN PROBE

WALKERTON, Ont., Oct. 22. — (By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.) Again last night, Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the National Progressive's contributed to the long range debate between the Prime Minister and himself. The question at issue was the halted inquiry into the grain trade and especially references made thereto by Mr. Meighen at Sarnia.

Government seekers, Mr. Crerar accused, were engaging in "A Campaign of mispresentation," and, in passing, Mr. Crerar took occasion to put a few questions in regard to the voluntary wheat pool, formation of which, if he were returned to power, was indicated by Mr. Meighen in his opening speech at Portage La Prairie. If a wheat pool, Mr. Crerar queried, why should the government not go into the business of marketing cattle? Why should it not furnish farm implements or market Ontario cheese. There should, Mr. Crerar urged, be a definite pronouncement whether or not the business of marketing was to be a permanent feature of government policy.

The hard fought battle for Ontario is entailing some hard campaigning on the part of the Progressive leader. Last night's meetings followed an address to a large gathering of North Wellington electors in Mount Forest and, as on the previous day, a hurried ride of over thirty miles by automobile. At all his meetings, he was given attentive hearing.

On the question of the grain inquiry, Mr. Crerar took up first his own position as president of the United Grain Growers. "I have been represented," he said, "as a person associated with big business, and as a dangerous character who has curbed and shut up an inquiry." As a shareholder of the United Grain Growers, Mr. Crerar said, his dividends last year amounted to ten dollars.

SAY U. S. AND BRITAIN WOULD STAND TOGETHER.

MANILA, P.I., Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press).—The United States and Great Britain would be found standing together if any trouble developed in the Far East, Viscount Northcliffe, London publisher, who arrived yesterday from Australia, told the Rotary Club at a luncheon, at which he was the club's guest.

The English-speaking people of the world, and those whom they assist, should stand shoulder to shoulder as they did the world war, Viscount Northcliffe declared.

ARREST HEADS OF PRESSMEN'S UNION.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 22. — (Canadian Press).—An order for the arrest of President George L. Berry, of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union, and the directors of that organization, was issued by the Federal Court here late yesterday.

PACKERS VOTE FOR STRIKE OVERWHELMINGLY.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22. — (Canadian Press).—The completion of the strike vote in the packing industry, taken by the Amalgamated Meat Cutters' and Butchers' Workmen was announced here yesterday by C. J. Hayes, president. He said the poll stood 35,354 yes, and 1,490 no.

A conference of executive officers and representatives of allied crafts will be held here next week, Mr. Hayes said.

A strike of packing house employees at the John Morrell Company plant at Ottumwa, Iowa, which began this week, Hayes said, was the most important strike in the industry since the war. He reported 1,000 men out.

"POP" GEERS RIDES TO VICTORY TWICE.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press)—"Pop" Geers, veteran driver of the Grand Circuit, had things much his own way in the races here yesterday. He was entered in three events, and he took two of them, and won second place in the other.

Geers piloted Lillian Silkwood to victory in the $2,500 2.11 pace, in a desperate struggle with Walter Cox, driving Peter Kennedy, in which Geers won two heats and Cox one. The 2.11 trot for $1,000 went to Geers, driving Dudette, and again it was Cox who furnished the place horse, this time holding the reins behind Lord Frisco. The 2.08 trot for $500 was won by Dottie Day, piloted by McDonald, with Geers second, driving Utah.

In point of public interest, the best race was the 2.20 trot for southern horses. It was unfinished when darkness intervened and the deciding heat will be raced to-day.

OTTAWA, Oct. 22. — (By Canadian Press.)—His Excellency the Governor General has received a despatch from the Secretary of State for the Colonies proposing that on Friday, November 11, the Anniversary of the Signing of the Armistice, there should be a complete suspension of business as far as possible, beginning at 11 a.m., and continuing for two minutes.

URGE AMENDING SETTLEMENT ACT

VETERANS CONVENTION RECOMMENDS ADJUSTMENT COMMISSION.

PORT ARTHUR, Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press).—Recommendations for various amendments to the Soldiers' Settlement Act were taken up in the form of a resolution by the Convention of the Great War Veterans' Association yesterday, one of the most important being the suggested appointment of a Land Settlement Adjustment Commission to deal with the destiny of an unsuccessful settler. The principle only was endorsed, and the incoming Dominion Executive will make further recommendations to the Government as to the powers of the Commission. The clause was introduced on the conditions claimed to be existing in British Columbia regarding soldier settlement. The resolution had not all been discussed when the convention rose for dinner.

Other clauses embodied recommendations which, summarized, are as follows:

That the terms "Settler" should include all men who served regardless of place of service; that there be no age restrictions; that all Crown lands suitable for agriculture be thrown open to soldier settlement; that the Government break fifty acres on actual unimproved land, the expense being charged against his holdings, and to be an additional loan; that the board grant further assistance to soldier settlement in excess of the amount of the loan provided in the Act, in cases where the soldier settler has suffered loss through no fault of his own; that the Government provide voluntary Government insurance at cost to protect soldier settlers against loss from drought, frost or flood; that all field supervisors and land appraisers under the Board be ex-service men, fully conversant with the Act; that the solidier settler be permitted to sell his holdings, provided the terms comply with the Act referring to the sale of salvaged lands; and that any term passed in hospital or sanitarium shall constitute sufficient resident duties.

SAYS GOVERNMENT ACTS WITHOUT ANY AUTHORITY

CHICAGO, Oct. 22. Canadian Press. — The United States Government yesterday moved to prevent a railroad strike and to enforce obedience by both unions nad railroads of decrees of the United States Railroad Labor Board, the Board formally announcing that it had assumed full jurisdiction in the rail crisis and ordering the workers not to strick pending a conference of union heads and rail chiefs which it called for Oct. 26th.

A decision from this conference will not be announced until after October 30, the scheduled strike date Board members said, declaring that in this way a walkout would be averted unless the unions defied the Board's orders not to strike pending a ruling.

The action was taken following the receipt from Washington of information that every interested branch of the government would back the Board in its attempts to settle the rail difficulties, the members declared.

While both carriers and unions promptly announced they would comply with the order citing them to appear before the board next Wednesday, W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, one of the organizations which has called a strike, in a statement given out in Cleveland, asked by what authority anyone could compel a man to work, and pointed out that the right to strike had been upheld by the United States Supreme Court.

At the same time the trainmen of the International and Great Northern, a Texas road, prepared to carry out their plans to strike to-day, and the maintenance of way and the firemen's unions, representing 400,000 rail workers, announced here that the would join the proposed walkout on Oct. 30. These two groups are part of the 11 unions

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1921.

LATE DR. J. V. HAYES.

In the death of Dr. J. Vernon Hayes, who passed away in St. Joseph's Hospital last night, as the result of an accident Wednesday, a bright young life has been cut off, to the loss not only of this community, but also of Canada, for in his chosen profession, it was generally conceded by his professional brethren that he had a brilliant future ahead of him. Then the late Dr. Hayes' medical administrations were found always at the call of what he recognized as duty, irrespective of class or circumstances, and his death is all the more regrettably emphasized from the fact of his having met his fatal accident at the close of a busy day, when returning from administering to sick children of tender age, and in such service his care was at all times characterized by unselfish philantrophy.

The untimely passing away of Dr. Hayes is peculiarly sad from the fact of death having removed two notedly-clever young professional men from the same family, his brother, Dr. Wilbert Hayes, one of the most promising young surgeons on the staff of St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, having been summoned to the great beyond only two years ago.

The late Dr. J. Vernon Hayes, by his lovable and genial disposition, had won a warm spot in the hearts of a large circle of friends, patients and acquaintances, and his exceeding popularity is evidenced from the fact that the services of a special elephone operator at St. Joseph's Hospital were requisitioned to answer the intermittent and solicitous enquiries as to the doctor's condition while lying between life and death. And the sympathy of this whole community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hayes and his sorrowing widow, in their irreparable loss of a devoted son and husband, a young medical practitioner, just entering on that path of life and duty which leads to distinction brilliant in promise.

ARMISTICE DAY.

There seems to be some misunderstanding as to the celebration of Armistice Day—at least, as to the date on which Canadians are to observe the anniversary of the end of the World War. November 11th is, of course, the actual date, but the Canadian Government has decided to combine Thanksgiving Day and Armistice Day by selecting the Monday in each year immediately preceding November 11th. This arrangement means that this year November 7th will be observed as the anniversary of the signing of the Armistice, and the celebration arranged by the local Great War Veterans' Association will take place on that date. The ex-service men are arranging a demonstration worthy of the occasion, and the cordial co-operation of the public is urged in making the event in every way the success that the significance of the anniversary merits. There will be general rejoicing as a fitting recognition of the anniversary that meant the end of the war, and there will also be the opportunity afforded of honouring the memory of the men who will not come back, for a cenotaph is to be unveiled, and the public will be expected to bring floral tributes.

STILL MORE GROUPS.

The group movement in political circles seems to be developing at a rate that must be highly satisfactory to Mr. J. J. Morrison, who never tires in his advocacy of the new aspect that has come over the world of politics. The other day The Examiner gave a list of the various parties or groups already represented in the field by candidates. It was a lengthy array of talent, and the end is not yet in sight, for each day brings another variety into the fight. In North Winnipeg, for instance, we read of the entrance into the campaign of a candidate representing the Workers' Alliance, and it is announced that he was chosen at a joint convention of the Socialist Labour Federation, the Ukrainia Labour Temple Association, the Young Labour League and the Russian Progressive Club. There is already a Socialist in the field in this riding, and the Canadian Labour Party will have a standard-bearer. The mix-up grows from bad to worse, and if Mr. Morrison's group system expands much further we can look for candidates from the Red-headed League, the Bachelors' Protective Association and other combinations equally as important and as eager for office.

THE PENNY BANKS.

The teachers of the city have pronounced against the introduction of penny banks in the local schools, principally on the ground that the operation of the bank system would trespass to such an extent upon the time of the teachers as to interfere with their teaching of other more important subjects. That objection is undoubtedly a reasonable one, but the difficulty is evidently not insurmountable, for the school banks are functioning in fifty centres in the Province with remarkable results in increasing deposits and apparently no objection from the teachers affected, for we find a circular, issued by the Department of Education, which remarks: "The Minister desires to express his appreciation of the devotion shown by the teachers in those schools where the penny bank has been in successful operation." The Canadian people, as a whole, needs instruction in thrift, and where could there be found a better beginning than among the children of our schools? It is the opinion of the Department of Education that by helping to develop habits of saving among children who in a few years will have to undertake the responsibilities of citizenship and by training them in the exercise of the self-denial and foresight which thrift involves the Public Schools can render a national service of great value. Moreover, the influence of such training would not be confined to the children, for it has been found that the good effect of what is said and done in the school is apparent in many homes in places where the penny banks have been in operation.

THE BROTHERHOOD MENACE.

Too many newspapers and, it must be feared, too many citizens think no further into the present threatening attitude of the railroad brotherhoods than to conclude that a general strike would be too horrible a catastrophe to be permitted, and therefore must be averted at any price. That is exactly the state of the public mind which the brotherhood leaders wish to create for the success of their attempt to overreach and overrule the country. It admits a power in the hands of the organizations which as a matter of fact is not a certainty and, if it is to govern the solution of the problem, predetermines a spineless submission to an irresponsible and ungovernable tyranny on the part of railroad managers, Government agencies and the public.

If the railroad labor question is always to be handled in that manner, there is literally no limit to what these labor unions may extort from the rest of the population. It means that the men shall be allowed to reject any and every proposal to submit their case to impartial examination, as they are now rejecting the procedure deliberately provided by Congress for that purpose. If that is the price of peace, we shall all do well to consider whether peace is worth it. A world war was everywhere called unthinkable until Germany put the price of peace too high for the world to pay.

As for impromptu proposal of the public members of the Labor Board, it does not appear to have the support of the Commerce Commission, despite its attempt to order a new adjustment of freight rates, over which the Labor Board has no statutory authority whatever. To what extent, if at all, President Harding approves of the scheme he has not indicated and his silence is almost eloquent. The Labor Board members' disavowal of intent to instruct the Commerce Commission in regard to rates inadvertently, but none the less baldly, characterizes the step they have taken. They have again proved their incapacity to play their own part and it is quite possible that they have destroyed their own usefulness, so far as the present crisis is concerned.

Several of the Washington correspondents note the lack of leadership in handling the matter and suggest the necessity of President Harding assuming it. That some one must soon do so is obvious. Whoever the leader, it is a national necessity that he lead in the direction of a genuine and searching determination of the merits of the case, not in the direction of another Adamson act. The issue is, not whether or not there shall be a strike, but whether the country is ever to make a stand against labor union terrorism on the railroads. The interest of railroad owners is at the moment so small in comparison with what else is involved that it may well be ignored.—Wall St. Journal.

Wise and Otherwise

Pig iron is now less expensive than it has been since 1913—an economic fact which proves that pig iron is not, as many believe, a constituent of home-brew.

Anyway, the bank managers in Hamilton have no worries about their banks being robbed. A manager knows that if the yeggs miss him today it will be his turn tomorrow.

There is a ward in Chicago whose population is principally of Irish and Hebrew extraction. For many years the Irish and Jewish residents of the ward have been bitterly opposed politically. One year, however, the candidate of each race was defeated and a "dark horse" won. Representatives of the two racial factions met and decided that they must drop their traditional animosity and join forces to defeat the new party.

After considerable discussion, one Irishman arose and moved that a banquet be held in the near future to further the conciliation.

A second Irishman, who could not be reconciled to burying the hatchet, jumped to his feet and said: "Oi would like to move an amindment to the motion, that pork be served at the banquet."

Then, amid angry rumblings from the Hebrew delegation, a Jew arose and spoke as follows: "I would like to move an amendment to de amendment to de motion, dot the banquet be held on Friday."

UNEMPLOYMENT BEFORE HOUSE

VERBAL DUEL BETWEEN HON. C. ADDISON AND SIR ALFRED MOND.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press).—A feature of the debate in the House of Commons yesterday on the Government's unemployment proposals was a lively duel between Rt. Hon. C. Addison, ex-Minister of Health, and Sir Alfred Mond, the present Minister.

Dr. Addison violently attacked the proposals for providing work and declared they had been passed over by the Prime Minister with his usual astuteness because they were grevi-ously unworkable. He predicted that there would be absolute chaos in the administration of relief. He describ-ed the Government proposals for finding work as being as dead as mutton.

Sir Alfred Mond retorted that Dr. Addison, while Minister in charge of reconstruction in 1917, had ample op-portunity for evolving great schemes to relief unemployment, but had not brought forth anything half as good as the present Government were pro-posing. He now seemed to have abandoned the role of statesman to assume the worse role of tub-thump-er.

Continuing, Sir Alfred Mond said the amended export credit scheme would be a great advantage to trade.

Regarding the £25,000,000 guaran-teed loan scheme, he said that if the country could get large orders by enabling the big undertaking to ob-tain money one or two per cent. cheaper, it might be anticipated that fifteen or twenty million sterling for wages would come into British in-dustries in the next twelve months.

SHIPS FOR ANOTHER, ENDS VOYAGE IN JAIL

MONTREAL, Oct. 22.— (Cana-dian Press.)— Edward Wood, who shipped from England for Montreal, had the papers in his pocket to prove he was John Campbell, seaman. Campbell, who allowed Wood to substitute for him, was agreeable, Wood says. But the second mate, who was a relative of Campbell's, wouldn't recognize him, and besides that the skipper had had a tilt with Campbell over some little seafaring matter and couldn't remember his face.

Wood will spend some days in jail here and will then return to Eng-land, because Campbell signed up for the round trip. His home is in Canada and he has a brother in To-ronto.

MISS TALBOT HELD.

QUEBEC, Oct. 21. — (Canadian Press.)—Though a warrant for the arrest of Miss Amanda Talbot, the star witness in the trial of her broth-er charged with her attempted mur-der, has not yet been served, she is now detained at the Quebec jail un-der the custody of Sheriff Blouin.

The accused himself, Joseph Tal-bot, who up to the time of the trial had been out on bail is now in Que-bec jail, but an application for his release will be made shortly by his attorney.

THINKS ESCAPED CONVICT RESPOSIBLE FOR ROBBERY

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Oct. 22.— (Canadian Press)—The police here state that they are reasonably sure that Roy Gardner, an escaped con-vict from McNeil's Island penitent-iary, Washington, is the bandit who robbed the express car on train no. 4 Canadian Pacific Railway, Wednesday morning. The fact that the robbery for which this man was sentenced in the United States was pulled off in identical manner of the one at Toffield, Alta., on September 22, when a Canadian National train was held up, and the latest robbery here, leads to the assumption that Gardner is the man to look for. Gardner escaped from McNeil's early in Sepember.

2 DEAD, 2 DYING FOLLOWING "WET" PARTY

Sellick are dying in Saskatoon as a result of a party at Cymric, Sask., last night. The men are alleged to have drank alcohol and bay rum. An inquest is being conducted.

EXTENSION OF TIME ASKED FOR RIORDON

MONTREAL, Oct. 22.—(Cana-dian Press)—Gordon W. Scott, of P. S. Ross and Sons, authorized trustees for the Riordon Ltd. has issued a notice calling a meeting of of the company for November 17th., here when an extension of time in which creditors may pursue their claims against the company, until November 19 1922, will be asked, "since it s clear that nothing else will be adequate."

The proposal contained in a let-ter of Carl Riordon, President of the company, to Mr. Scott, and this letter further states that the propos-al vests in the Committee selected by the creditors a right to termina-tion" on thirty days notice at any time so that the Committee of the creditors will at all times be able to restore to the creditors their free-dom of action should the Committee feel that circumstances require it."

The grounds for the proposal are given by the President in the fact that the Kipawa Mills of the com-pany are now re-opened, orders for its output are being taken and it is desired to avoid anything that might lead to interruption of their oper-ation.

SEVEN LIVE FOR A WEEK ON ONE LOAF OF BREAD

MONTREAL, Oct. 22.—(Canad-ian Press.)—How a woman suffer-ing from anemia, subsisted with her husband and five children for a week on one loaf of bread and a little meat is reported by a worker of the Diet Dispensary here, who states that the case is but one of many tragedies in the city due to prevailing unemployment conditions.

When a supply of food was brought her she burst into tears, crying "I thought I would starve to death."

TUBERCULAR VETERANS FAVOR FEDERATION

WINNIPEG Man Oct. 22.—(Can adian Press.)—A resolution favoring the federation of ex-soldier organ-izations with a view to ultimate am-algamation and a change in the slate of officers of the association marked the closing session here yesterday of the first annual Convention of the Tubercular Veterans' Association.

H. St. John Biggs Tranquille, B. C., previously elected vice-president, was moved up to the office of Presi-dent, following the receipt of a telegram from J. W. Piper, St. Agathe, Que., declining that posi-tion owing to ill-health.

DECISION RESERVED ON HULL APPLICATION

OTTAWA, Oct 22. — (Canadian Press.)—The application of the city of Hull for an order to make the Hull Electric Company restore the old schedule of lighting rates was heard by Judge McDougall yes-erday. The company increased its rates on April 1 last, and the city claims the increase was not justified Decision was reserved.

OTTAWA, Oct. 22. — (Canadian Press.)—With a call over the sig-nals and a run through the trick plays at Lansdowne park last night, Coaches Cory and Clancy sent the Senators home to rest till they take the field against the Winged Wheel-ers this afternoon, in a scheduled game of the Big Four. The locals are confident that they can trim the Montrealers in this fixture, but are taking no chances and it is more than likely that the regular twelve will take the field to start.

It was announced to-night that Walter Gilhooley would not be sent out as it is deemed advisable to hold him as much as possible in the hope that he will be able to start against the Argonauts.

The line-up is still a matter of speculation, but it is sure to see the return to the game of Doe Chadwick, who will likely be assigned the task of booting them down for the Wings to chase. Eddie Emerson will start at flying wing, and Jess Ketch-um, Joe Smith, Joe Tubman and Ro-ger Smith wilyl be the other back field possibilities. Frank Valleau will call the tricks, with Tommie O'Neill in reserve, while Slinn, Bud Thomas, Frank Pinhey and Jim Wright will be on the outer flanks at one time or another during the afternoon. Dave Kirby will snap the leather out and the old reliables will look after the M.A.A.A. plungers. Gill, Dew-hurst, Humphreys, Baker, Don Kir-by, Steers and Cook will be assign-ed to line duties and should hold the lighter visitors in check.

No announcement was made re-garding the officials, but it is likely that Smirlie Lawson and Ben Simp-son will be in charge.

ASK LLOYD GEORGE TO ADDRESS BAPTISTS

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 22.— (Cana-dian Press.)—Centre Street Baptist church was filled to capacity last night when the last session of the Raptist convention was held. Rev. Dr. Geo. McDaniels of Richmond, Virginia, delivered the last of his series of addresses on "the churches of the new testament" with the vig-orous oratory that has characterized all his addresses. Speaking of danc-ing he declared there were many worse sins found among church members than dancing and the great-est of these is covetousness.

Rev. Dr. S. S. Bales brought in a resolution before the service which read that inasmuch as Premier Lloyd George has signified his intention of amending the disarmament confer-ence in Washington that he be asked by the convention to address a great gathering of Baptists in Toronto when he is in this country. The re-solution was unaimously adopted.

It is the general feeling among the delegates that next year's con-vention will be held in Olivet church, Montreal.

The convention reached its stand of Thursday by adopting a resolu-tion deciding not to accede to the request of the Anglican Bishop of Algoma to amend a conference where a plan for religious training in the public schools might be work-ed out. The resolution was present-ed by Rev. D. W. Mofrell.

THINKS MURRELLS HELD UP WYOMING BANK

TORONTO, Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press.) — Provincial police officers were inclined last night to give credit for the big hold-up Thursday at the Bank of Toronto in Wyoming to five gangsters, headed by the desperate Murrell Brothers, rather than to the bold bank robbers who operated at the Bank of Hamilton, College street and Ossington avenue here, two days before. The Toronto rob-bery was done by foreigners, it has been established, whereas the sensa-tional and successful hold-up at Wy-oming was carried through by des-peradoes who all spoke good Eng-lish.

SPENCE NOMINATED.

TORONTO, Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press.)— Parkdale Conservatives at their convention last night selected by an overwhelming majorty, ex-Alderman David Spence to contest the seat in the coming Federal el-ections. Only two names went to the delegates, those of the successful contestant and J. Stewart Lundy.

SEES GREATER RESULTS FROM CO-OPERATION.

LONDON, Oct. 22. — (Canadian Press). — In an article entitled "Lloyd George and Washington," the Spectator yesterday said that if the British Empire and the United States can really get together they may accomplish far more for peace and justice than can be accomplish-ed by any other method.

"Mr. Lloyd George's prime duty," says the periodical, "must be to make it clear to the President, the Secretary of State, and to those who command the power of the Senate, that he has come, not to watch or criticize or bargain, but to support President Harding in the great task he has undertaken. He must make it clear that he left England at a moment so precarious and so incon-venient, not because he hopes for any personal or national advantage, but solely because he sees an oppor-tunity of getting our relations with the United States put upon a true basis, of reaching an understanding by which our dual influence will be cast in the same direction and never sterilized by any processes of can-celling out."

ANXIETY OVER FINANCES OF THE ENGLISH CHURCH.

LONDON, Oct. 22. — (Canadian Press).—The financial state of the Anglican Church, under its new system of semi-self government con-tinues to give the keenest anxiety.

The central board of finance re-quires £80,000 to meet the barest requirements before the end of the year. Unfortunately, many dioceses frankly intimate their inability to meet the amounts which they are expected to collect towards the cen-tral fund, which consequently is in danger of collapse.

During the war the Church of England promised those men found suitable for ordination that they would be trained at the expense of the whole Church. Two hundred and fifty have already accepted, but the financial position of the Church gives little hope of the promise being further redeemed, and the training college at Knutsford is threatened consequently with extinction. Many critics in fact condemn the making of this promise, seeing the present unhappy condition of so many men who have given their whole lives to the ministry of the established church. Hardly a week passes for example when some harrassed cleric is not brought before the court for failure to pay his local taxes.

UNABLE TO WALK FOR A YEAR

Paralysis Entirely Relieved by "Fruit-a-tives"

The Wonderful Fruit Medicine

Paralysis is a break-down of the Nervous System and affects the vic-tim in various ways. Sometimes, nervousness makes itself known by hyster-ia, insomnia, constant headaches, or it may be so bad that one is partially or completely helpless in some part of the body, just as Mrs. Heacock was.

SAULT STE MARIE, ONT.

"When I was twenty-eight years of age, my doctor advised me to have an operation, which I did and it proved very serious, leaving me weak and unable to walk for a year. Seeing your "Fruit-a-tives" advertised in the papers, I decided to try them. I continued to use them regularly, and today I am able to go about my home duties and care for my family".

MRS. J. W. HEACOCK.

Any form of Nervousness is often caused by, and is always aggravated by, Constipation, which poisons the blood, irritates the kidneys and in-flames the nerves. "Fruit-a-tives" stimu lates the action of liver and bowels, kidneys and skin—tones and sweetens the sto-mach—keeps the blood pure, and builds up the entire nervous system.

In a word, "Fruit-a-tives" has proved that it is the most scientific and effective remedy in the world for Nervousness or a disordered condition of the nervous system.

GOOD DEMAND FOR SEASONABLE LINES.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 22 — (Canadian Press).—Good demand for seasonable lines of merchandise and fairly satisfactory placings for the spring marks the business at-mosphere here, and as far as the West is concerned, little change is noticeable since the early part of the month, states the weekly trade report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association.

Montreal advices state that two features in the business chart are fairly satisfactory placings for the coming spring, and a good demand for seasonable lines. Wholesale men's furnishings report good busi-ness; grocery houses report im-provement, and boot and shoe houses find the improvement maintained. Reports from retail sources are fair, but the public has not yet got into its winter buying stride. Collections in Montreal, and Quebec Province generally, are fair to slow.

Toronto and Ontario wholesalers find improvement maintained in men's wear, boots and shoes, groc-ery and furniture. Manufacturers are in some cases putting on men, and in the smaller manufacturing cities a considerable improvement in the labor market is noticeable. Re-tail trade in Toronto shows a slight improvement since the commence-ment of the month.

COMING EVENTS AT CENTREVILLE

CENTREVILLE, Oct. 22.—At the Presbyterian Church on Sunday its first anniversary services will be con-ducted by the Rev. G. S. Gervan of Millbrook. Mr. Gervan, until re-cently, ministered in the Far West, and brings with him the atmosphere of the prairie. His services and the special music will, no doubt, be ap-preciated.

On Tuesday night, Oct. 25, a fowl supper will be given. Centreville fowl suppers have more than a local reputation. The ladies, always gen-erous, provide a splendid supper, and visitors come from far and near with lively expectations. At the enter-tainment following Miss Hazel Dav-idson of Peterborough will give elo-cutionary numbers.

On Friday, Oct. 28th, a ploughing match will be held at Centreville, and it is sure to draw a big crowd. The Ladies' Aid of Centreville church will provide meals in the S. S. Hall at reasonable rates.

FASHIONS IN BRIEF.

Fitch is used for collaring coats and dresses.

Almond green is a new color gain-ing in favor.

Caracul in beige tone is very smart with pastel cloth tailored garments.

Ostrich plumes more than a yard long trailing below the waistline are seen on some Paris hats.

The big mesh filet veil is especi-ally good, and when combined with the chenille and chantilly lace border is decidedly chic.

Poiret twill seems to be taking the place of serge this season as the chosen serviceable material. Most every dress of that kind is well em-broidered upon skirt, sleeves and bodice. Yellow so often borders a navy twill, which, of course, is quite distinctive.

THE RAILWAY CONFERENCE

NO DEFINITE RESULTS WERE OBTAINED AT CONFERENCE—NEXT STEP NOT REVEALED.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press).—Efforts by the Railroad La-bor Board to avert the threatened railroad strike through conference with heads of the five unions which have ordered a walk-out, effective October 30, failed when the meeting adjourned last night with the an-nouncement by the board that "while the discussions were beneficial, no definite results were obtained."

"There has been a full and frank discussion of the situation," said a statement given out by Ben. W. Hooper, Vice-Chairman of the board. "The Labor Board and the Brother-hood chiefs exchanged views in a perfectly pleasant way. The inter-view was beneficial, but we cannot say that any definite results were ob-tained."

The five union Presidents imme-diately went into a secret conference with the announcement that they probably would go back to Cleve-land last night.

'The adjournment is final," Chair-man R. M. Barton of the Labor Board announced. "We do not plan any further conferences with the La-bor leaders, nor do we plan, at pre-sent, to call in the railroad Presi-dents. I cannot say what our next step might be."

Miss Jennie Stead Addresses Local On Work of Federation

At the recent October meeting of the Women Teachers' Guild of Peterborough, the guest of honour was Miss Jennie Stead, Provincial Organiser for the Federation of Women Teachers' Associations. Miss Stead spoke briefly, but in an interesting manner, on the work of the Federation and on the value of close co-operation in increasing the efficiency and raising the status of the teaching profession.

A pleasing musical programme was rendered by a vocal solo by Miss Bertha Eagleson and a piano duet by Misses C. Caldwell and E. Morrow. After initiation of new members, a dainty Hallowe'en lunch was served, and a pleasant social hour spent.

Interesting Ceremony Held By The Golden Link Rebekah Lodge

FIFTEEN YEAR MEMBERS WERE PRESENTED WITH TOKENS IN REMEMBRANCE OF THEIR FAITHFUL ATTENDANCE — NOBLE GRAND'S ADDRESS.

An interesting ceremony was held on Tuesday evening last by the Golden Link Rebekah Lodge, I.O.O.F., No. 81, in their rooms. The occasion was the ceremony which takes place at the end of every fifteen years, when members for that length of time are presented with a token in remembrance of their faithful attendance.

The veterans and charter members were brought in under an arch of Union Jacks, formed by 24 of the sisters, and led by Mrs. M. Hartley. The Noble Grand then read the address as follows:

"Dear Sisters and Veterans of the Golden Link Rebekah Lodge, I.O.O.F., No. 81.—On behalf of the members of this Lodge, I, as Noble Grand, esteem it a great pleasure and honour to be associated with you in the work you carry on here, viz., caring for the sick and needy and helping the distressed.

"I am sure you, as veterans, can see wonderful changes and many strange faces here to-night, and I feel quite sure that when you look around and see such a large gathering of members it must be very gratifying indeed to you as pioneers in such work.

"Upon organisation the membership of this Lodge numbered twenty-five, and to-day the total membership is in the neighbourhood of three hundred. With your kind attention I would read the names of the Charter Members: Mesdames A. Gibbs, A. Jackson, R. N. Jones, M. Watts, E. Hartley, J. Baten, M. Freeburn, M. Gibbs, A. Dodds, L. L. Henderson, L. Murduff, E. Sills, M. Morrison, L. Brown, Miss E. Mann, and Messrs. W. S. Robinson, W. H. Morrison, W. G. Freeburn, W. H. Roberts, C. H. Huffman, A. Bradshaw, W. H. Watts, E. T. Brown, H. R. Roberts, L. D. Jackson, and F. Sills.

"As you will note, we started with a good foundation, and through the never-failing support and hard work of these twenty-five members, along with the support of the newer members, we have to-day one of the finest Lodges in Ontario and second to none in Canada.

"When the present officers and members were looking over our past records, it was brought to their attention that this was our fifteenth birthday, and we all felt that we would like to show our appreciation of the work you have accomplished in some small way to the remaining Veteran members of this Lodge. I would therefore ask you to accept this small floral token as a memento of this occasion, and in presenting them, would ask you not to consider the actual value of same, but to feel that as flowers are a token of love, we wish to express that feeling of brotherly and sisterly love towards you—our guides and helpers in years gone by.

"We again thank you for your past services, and hope that we shall be honoured with your presence for years to come."

The seven members of the above number who are at present resident in Peterborough—Mrs. R. N. Jones, Mrs. M. Watts, Miss E. Mann, Mrs. E. Hartley, Mrs. J. Batten, Mrs. M. Freeburn, and Mrs. L. Murduff — were then each presented with a beautiful basket of flowers.

At the close of the ceremonies, Col. Miller gave an address on the work of the Rebekahs, and a very pleasing musical programme was rendered as follows:

Piano solos, Vernon Fuller and Norman Watts; vocal solos, Harry Murduff and Miss Williamson; readings, Mrs. Morton and Walter Hooper.

Follis' Orchestra also gave several pleasing selections. A banquet was then served, followed by dancing.

Pioneer Days in Peterboro County

In her book, "Pearls and Pebbles," the late Mrs. T. Traill gives an account of a journey in August, 1832, from Brockville to Cobourg by steamer, which took from morning of one day until dawn of the next. The chronicle says:

"Our progress was slow and steady, for in those early days of steam navigation, much caution was shown, and truly the passenger immigrants were in no hurry, for the 'wide world was all before them, where to choose their place of rest,' and 'the captain said it would be midnight ere we reached Kingston, the Limestone City,' and dawn before we could be at Cobourg, where our voyage was to terminate. Thence our way would lie northward to what was at that time the ultima thule of civilisation, a forest wilderness beyond the infant settlement of the new village of Peterborough — then but a cluster of log houses and squatters' shanties."

The chapter entitled "The First Death in the Clearing" contains an affecting paragraph. This was the death of an infant whose mother, the wife of the overseer, acted as cook for the mill-hands. The child was attacked with convulsions, and, no doctor being available, the mother and the writer of the book did what they could, but were powerless to save the life of the babe. It died, and the narrative says:

"There was no funeral pomp or display, no outward demonstration. A table in the centre of the room was covered with a damask cloth of snowy whiteness, beside it sat the child's father, a grave, respectable Scotchman, in black, his hat craped and tied with the white ribbon, symbol of the youth and innocence of the dead babe. A large Bible lay before him. He just raised his head from the book as my shadow fell upon the page, and bowed reverently and in silence as I passed over to where the mother bent above the little coffin.

"I see her now in her black dress, her fair hair, like a golden veil gemmed with tears, almost shrouding the calm, sweet face of her dead. There was no violence in the subdued grief of the mourner. She took a little packet from her breast, and opening its folds, pointed to the bright silken curls that she had cut from the pretty head, then replaced it with a sigh in the bosom where the soft head had been so tenderly nestled. It was only when the bearers came in and closed the coffin lid that for ever hid her darling from her sight that, with a burst of grief not to be suppressed, she threw herself into my arms and wailed the piteous cry, 'Gone! Gone! My wean! My wean!' . . .

"I watched them until they crossed the bridge and ascended the opposite bank, till the white pall was lost among the dark pines that marked the forest road, and then with heavy heart retraced by steps to my own home."

In "Alone in the Forest," the narrative continues:

"The first impetus that our neighbourhood received was the putting up of a sawmill at the Falls of the Otonabee, about half a mile below my brother's (Mr. Strickland's) house, and the building of a bridge to connect the townships of Douro and Smith, thus giving a better access to the town of Peterborough, then (1833) the only market for our produce and for the purchase of household necessaries.

"The clack of the mill wheels was soon mingling with the sound of the rush of the rapids, and we were able to obtain the requisite lumber to complete the new log house, and subsequently to build a frame barn and stable for the cattle.

"The proprietor of the mill was an adventurous young Scotchman, very ambitious and sanguine, but who illustrated the truth of the Italian proverb, 'His beak is longer than his wings.' Through inexperience and the attack of illness, he finally was compelled to give up under a sheriff's warrant all the money he possessed, and to find himself a prisoner in his own house. Only on Sundays was he free to go abroad."

Visit of the French Sample Train

The French sample train which will visit our city for the entire day of Wednesday next, 26th October, should be well patronised by women. In the eight cars which comprise the train, there is much of interest to the feminine portion of the populace. Among the exhibits is a full line of ladies' dress goods and trimmings; fancy bags; Parisian hats and fans; jewellery of all sorts; exquisite cameos, beautiful rings, silverware, and goldware of all descriptions; shoes and hosiery for women lingerie; French gloves and perfumery. There are a number of unusual exhibits of French hand embroidery, and there is also an attractive collection of French pastry, rolls, bread and bon-bons.

The cars in which the displays are contained are beautifully decorated with mural examples of French art. The walls are done in brocaded silk of various colours, and the entire train is both unusual and beautiful.

The Department of Trade and Commerce is now arranging for a similar train to tour France next year, containing Canadian exhibits of all sorts, "for the purpose of presenting to French buyers in an attractive, picturesque, and practical way, the resources of the Dominion."

The advantages of such an undertaking are obvious, and the inducements offered by the French Government are exceptional: Free transportation of the Canadian goods both ways across the ocean; free warehousing of the Canadian sample goods in the docks of the French ports selected; gratuitous use of the railways and other equipment required for a complete exhibition train and its circulation throughout the principal cities of France; the use of the best theatres n practically every city visited by the Canadian train, with the net proceeds of the entrance receipts for theatrical displays of films and other devices demonstrating the natural resources, industrial development, and natural beauties of Canada; free use for a period of six months of the most suitable building in the city of Paris for a fixed exhibition of the Canadian goods.

A TOUGH BIRD

He had not been in the navy long, ad while abroad he had sent his dear old mother a beautiful gaily-plumaged parrot.

A few months later he was home at the old country cottage on leave, and while at tea, not noticing the parrot, he asked his mother how she liked the bird.

"Well,' replied the dear old soul, "it was a real handsome bird, but it was tough."

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make 16 ounces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

CONVENTION OF TEACHERS ENDS

prominent in other lines of labor? Teachers can do much to eradicate the low view of duty. Shall we mould the child's character to high ideals? To do so we must have high ideals. We must not be simply mechanical. Teahers must never cease to be students and to be interested in outside matters. We must never be weary in preparation. It saves time and energy as well as giving an added interest. Dangers arise. There are the dull pupils. What shall we do for them? We need a changed outlook in our profession.

Better teaching will be done by ceasing to find small faults, and look for the greater, broader things which lead to success. More cooperation is needed between teachers and the outside world. Good schools should form good business, and good business should respect and form good schools. There should be greater cooperation amongst the teachers themselves. This has caused the various organizations to be formed.

Advantages of Better Teaching.

The social position of teaching has improved. The teacher has a higher plane in the community. Social duties should not be lightly regarded by the teacher who wants a place in it.

Better teaching means better health to the teacher

Not enough consideration has been given to the health of the teacher. Better teaching will come if we accept happiness as our proper attitude of mind. Teaching has no place for the grouch.

To do better teaching we must fully discharge our obligations to teach, guide and stimulate the children. Patterns of honesty, virtue and patriotism should be held up before the children.

Recommends Summer Schools.

Attendance at summer schools is a great stimulus to teachers. These are useful helps in raising standards. Reading courses also help; they are made compulsory in some provinces. Courses in elocution and debating are open to teachers, and should widen their usefulness and outlook.

The greatest drawback to attending courses is the little attention the teachers get from school boards for making themselves more fit. Travel is important in increasing one's efficiency, especially in history and geography. Organized trips to Europe have helped many teachers. Colleges in the United States send out teachers in different centres to help in certain studies and conferences and discussions are engaged in. Teachers ought to visit other places to get new ideas.

Teachers must have love and a desire for service to bring successful results. They should desire to improve and should apply tests to themselves. They should consider if their enthusiasm is such that the pupils catch it. Are they thoughtful and resourceful? Do they reach the individuality of pupils?

Are pupils treated as persons capable of having aims and ideals?

Following this address, Miss E. Dix gave a vocal solo, accompanied by her sister, Miss H. Dix This was heartily enjoyed and applauded.

Lecture on Uses of Maps.

Prof. G. A. Cornish of Toronto, gave a lecture on "Maps and their Uses."

The study of geography was much stimulated by the war. People studied maps to locate places of interest in connection with it. Another phase has since taken the position.

All the countries are deeply in debt To remain solvent means that trade must increase. This means increased competion so noticeable now. To trade we must know other peoples, transportation, etc. The Germans had studied these factors before the war and that caused their rapid advance in commerce. The universities of England and the United States now pay more attention to the study of geography. Canada has lagged behind somewhat in this.

The Importance of Geography.

Geography has an important place in the primary schools of Ontario. What is the best method of teaching it? One method used to have pupils learn it from text-books. This has defects. Pupils are too passive; they are receptive but not mentally active. There is no initiative on the part of the pupils. They have no problems to solve. A worse method is where the teacher writes notes on the board and the pupils copy and learn them. The facts are barren, mere words, lists of names. This method is deadening and appeals only to the memory. Ideas should come first and then let the pupils express themselves in their own words.

Maps Used to Illustrate.

A better method is where the teacher uses maps and has the pupils get the ideas by judicious questions. The child is mentally active and has to think out cause and effect There are defects in this method also. One pupil gives the right answer and the teacher accepts it as from the whole class. All pupils may not be following the lesson. There is not enough initiative in this method. The teacher does the leading. A pupil should take more steps by himself. A better method to use is the problem or project method. It is not unlike our method of having pupils do arithmetic problems. There is an end in view, and the pupils gather the facts to meet it. They may go wrong and need direction but they gain power to solve things for themselves. Let us give an example, to develop the surface of a country let the pupils have a good map and make out their own description. They thus gain power and skill and are making their own geography. Maps should be put together at the back of the book, or, what is better, let the pupils have atlases and geographies as separate books. The map can thus be always in front of the pupil while he reads the geography facts. The text-book should contain problems just as the arithmetic text-book does. Each pupil would have to do these for himself.

Best Sorts of Maps.

What is the best kind of maps Maps should not have on them any more names than are just essential for the teacher's purpose. Generally they have about ten times too many. A map filled with names is confusing and many names mean fine print and thus there is the difficulty of distinguishing what is wanted. Names should not be numerous but should be printed large enough so as to be clearly seen. Wall maps should not be congested atlases. Pupils cannot see the names on an ordinary map from their seats. Map makers are not teachers and do not put out what the teachers need. Boundaries should be indicated by heavy red lines. Different colors to represent different countries prevent the ideas of continuity of plains and other physical features. Boundary lines should be sufficient instead of so much colorization.

How should maps be mounted? those mound with rollers are difficult to store and are easily injured. Maps should have eyelets and be so made that they can be folded up and carried. They are less expensive wear better, and are easily stored. They should not be mounted at all.

Coloring on maps has its uses. It is valuable to show differences of altitude, mountains, plains, etc.

Mr. Cornish then showed some maps prepared by a teacher. Names were not very numerous; but they showed up clearly. Maps were shown to indicate variations of rainfall. Few teachers had ever seen such a map and yet these maps have been in existence for many years. Pupils could easily learn all the geography facts considered essential, with little effort, and would take delight in so doing.

Mr. Cornish's lecure was very practical and gave many new ideas and viewpoints. The teachers appreciated it very much.

Mrs. Morris' Address.

Mrs. W. R. Morris spoke on the "Imperial Conference of Teachers' Associations." She said that she could give but a meagre idea of the conference in the short time at her disposal.

The first of these conferences was held in England a few years ago and the second one took place in Toronot this year. The idea was to bring different parts of the Empire together. The best agency for this as the various teachers' associations. Teachers were there from all parts of the British Empire, representing different associations. There were men and women, inspectors, head masters, represntatives from universities, high schools, private schools, public schools, and many others.

Two particular lines of work had been done through this affiliation. Pupils could carrespond with others in altogether different parts of the Empire and thus gain much first hand knowledge in an interesting way. The interchange of teachers was another line of work done. Many teachers from Canada have thus gone to the Old Land and their places taken by teachers from across the seas. This was helpful to all. It benefitted the teachers, gave them a wider outlook and broke down much of the prejudices due to ignorance of conditions prevailing elsewhere. It had a good effect on the pupils taught. It aroused an interest in other lands. English children could not regard Canadians as foreigners. It developed the idea that humanity is all alike after all. By teachers boarding in private houses much valuable information was gained of the ordinary, everyday life of the people and the picture was true, because gained through real experience. Travelling teachers make the best immigration agents in the world.

Vocational Education.

Mrs. Morris said that vocational education received more attention in the discussions than any other topic. This shows the tendency of the times. The speakers were not men alone, but many women gave admirable and inspiring addresses. In was an inspiration to meet some of these great educators. One man had taught in one school for thirty-six years. The public schools of England are not like ours at all. High fees are charged, boys only attend, and only those who can afford it. The county council or board schools correspond to our public schools. They are attended by the general populace and the children get a good grounding in essentials for the laboring classes. This is changing now and a fuller education is being given. Organized effort is receiving more attention; it was, contrary to our understanding, really neglected. Sports were left to specialists as it were, and thus just a few got the benefit from it.

All the delegates were strongly impressed with the dignity of the occupation of teachers. There was a definite decision that teachers should see that their qualifications were upheld and their standing in the community maintained. Better salaries were deemed necessary for these things.

The Teachers' Institute appreciated the kindness of Mrs. Morris in taking up her time to come and address the teachers.

Miss F. D. Walker, who attended the sessions of the same conference, added her impressions to those of Mrs. Morris and added some interesting facts to those already told.

Miss Wallace's Talk.

It would be difficult indeed to express the delight and charm that all felt over the paper given by Miss M. J. Wallace, B.A., on the subject "An Appreciation of Dickens." She read many typical extracts from different books to give an idea of the author's humour, his natural sympathy and kindness, and his deep understanding of human nature. Many of these qaulities he had gained through his experiences, and the different unique characters in his books were really portrayals of persons he had met. Much of Dickens' early life was spent in poverty and his father was actually in prison for a time, on account of debt. This necessitated an early start in life to earn his own living, by pasting labels on boxes of polish. Many a time he had to go hungry, but these early experiences bore fruit in his writings later on. He became a lawyer's clerk and had determined to become a parliamentary reporter but the great success that attended some writings he did for magazines turned his steps to literature. He was an indefatigable worker and often gave readings to audiences with his limbs bandaged. It was his great labor that actually undermined his health, although his willpower was such that physical weakness never kept him from working. He travelled much on the continent and in the United States, where he was much appreciated.

The Author's Character.

Dickens was a man of high ideals and wished to leave his writings as his chief memorial. He wanted to make the world better for his having lived in it. This was the serious part of his nature. He advocated the practice of the Golden Rule, but was charitable of others' failings. He had the essence of true religion and recommended the study of the New Testament and religious devotions, because he had received strength and comfort himself from such sources.

Dickens' books are still among the best sellers in England. Like many others of England's great men, his body reposes in Westminster Abbey.

Forty-six per cent. of the income of the average American family is spent for food.

Because of the especially high standards of military training and soldierly discipline they have established, the War Department lists nine high schools throughout the country as "honor high schools." They are: Chattanooga (Tenn.) High School, Council Bluffs (Iowa) High School, Lincoln and Manual Arts (Los Angeles) High Schools, Northwestern (Detroit) High School, Rockford (Ill.) High School, and the Schurz High School, Chicago.

ELECTION NEWS

TO OPPOSE CRERAR

SHOAL LAKE, Man., Oct. 22.—Farmers of Marquette have named Brigadier-General Hugh Dyer of Minnedosa as their candidate to contest this constituency against Hon. T. A. Crerar. It was the convention called by the Meighen Government supporters, and Fred Arnold, president of the Union Association of 1917, acted as chairman. There were 75 representative farmers, chiefly members of the Grain Growers, from all parts of the constituency present, with seven women delegates No other names was presented for nomination and choice was unanimous. There was considerable enthusiasm. In accepting, Dyer said he had been farming in Marquette riding for forty-one years. He was an active member of the Grain Growers' Association of long standing. But he could not and would not stand for class legislation.

MEIGHEN ADDRESSES STRATFORD MEETING

STRATFORD, Oct. 22.—Speaking here last night, Sir Henry Drayton said that the government had been charged with wilful criminal extravagance. Speaking for himself he would be only too glad if the financial condition of the country would warrant decreases in taxation but it was costing more money to run the government than before the war and the business of the government must go on.

"The charge of extravagance is only a loose accusation made for the purpose of supplying material where none exists", said the minister. He did not mean to say that everything done during the war was perfect.

"You'd require a band of archangles for that. But I do say that the work was carried on by men devoted to your interests and the only adverse criticism comes from political opponents."

"You might have give the soldier a little more," said a voice from the audience.

"We did the utmost we could for the soldier without crippling the Canada he died to save, replied Sir Henry. "We did the best we could. Would to God we could have done more."

Sir Henry declared that every ton of coal which we put into our cellars last year cost two dollars more than it needed to because of the difference in exchange between Canada and the United States. Every Canadian could aid in remedying this by buying Canadian goods.

Premier Meighen said that "An epidemic of scurrilous and utterly silly misrepresentations had literally swept this country." Some of these were uttered by nonentities and others by prominent men. Since coming to Stratford he had been informed that a man in the vicinity had declared the government had a padded military list with 30,000 names on public payroll. This same man he said had made a similar charge some time ago, had been requested to substantiate his allegation and had failed to appear to do so. The charge was false, said the Premier.

Canada's expenditures for defence were at the lowest possible point said Mr. Meighen. The cost per head to Canadian for defence was $2.15 per annum compared to $13.13 in the United States, $6.13 in Australia, $5.82 in New Zealand and $22.36 in Great Britain.

GOVERNMENT MOVES TO PREVENT

numbering three-fourths of the nation's rail employees, which had voted to strike but had not issued a strike call.

Besides stepping into the breach between the carriers and the five unions which have called a strike—the trainmen, the switchmen, the engineers, the firemen and the conductors—the Labor Board summarily ordered the Tremont and Gulf Railroad, a 67 mile line in Louisana, to rescind its order installing an open shop effective at 6 p.m., to-night.

If the unions choose to carry through strike plans which the Board asked them to defer, members of the Board said that the next move would have to come from Washington, insisting that yesterday's action exhausted their attempts to furnish the teeth which the Transportaton Act, creatng the Board, was sad by many to lack. At the same time, it was pointed out that the Transportation Act gives the Board power to cite the interested parties for alleged violations of the rulings, as tt did in calling next Wednesday's conference, but provdes no penalties for violations of its decrees.

In connection with the Labour Board order to defer strike action, it was pointed out that "Big Five" union chiefs yesterday informed the Board that the strike could not be postponed, as no arrangements for such a contingency had been made, although it could be settled.

The Board's announcement came as one of the most sensational developments in the rail crisis since the "Big Five" unions let it be known that they were formally sending out authorization for a strike. It was issued virtually without any warning and at a time when this concensus had been that this governmental agency had met an impasse in its attempts to settle the crisis when its conference Thursday with the union chiefs was adjourned with the announcement that no results had been attained. Coming as the first instance where the Board so decisively expressed authority which many railroad and labor men had maintained it did not possess, the Board's action found most of the interested leaders too astounded to comment.

Last night local railroad presidents refused to discuss the pronouncement, other than to say that it would be complied with so far as they were concerned. They declared that they had not violated the Board's decision and took the attitude that the citation really was directed at the unions alone, saying that the carriers were called in simply because it was necessary to have both sides in the dispute represented. Under the circumstances, they said, it would be impossible to comment on the situation.

The action of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees, and of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen and Oilers, in announcng that they would join the walkout, was looked on by Labor leaders as especially significant, one chief professing to see in the announcement a possible healing of any breaks which might have existed between the eleven standard unions which had voted for a strike without calling one, and the "Big Five." Leaders of several of these organizations had announced that they would attempt to keep their men from walking out, despite overwhelming strike votes, and had expressed the hope that if their attempts were successful, their failure to support the "Big Five" might avert a walk out.

Other union leaders, however, said it was by no means certain as yet that a majority of the eleven organizations would walk out. It became known that the conference meetings of the standard union chairmen have been decidedly stormy.

A report submitted to the committe authorizing a strike was sent back to the executive council to be re-written, it was said, although it could not be learned whether the new report would oppose a walkout or simply urge the postponement of action. Where the leaders of these groups a few days admitted they probably could not hold back their men, to-night they appeared more confident of keeping them from joining the strike.

The maintenance of way men cast a vote of 98 per cent. in favor of a strike, 367,000 men voting to quit work, their officials announced, and their officials last night completed plans for a walk out, declaring that it would be in an "orderly and law-abiding manner."

It was announced that the chieftains felt that they were forced to authorize a strike with such an overwhelming vote in favor of it.

The stationary firemen made virtually the same announcement, their vote in favor of a strike being given out as 92 per cent. of the membership.

"Our chairmen voted unanimously to go along with the other unions," said Timothy Healey, president of the Stationary Firemen. "We are strongly of the opinion that many roads want a strike and that they believe a walkout will give them an opportunity to destroy the unions, but the men have voted, and we cannot go against their wishes.

"We realize that a railroad strike now would be bad for business generally, and I sincerely trust that it can be averted in such a way as not to injure the unions."

A Deposit Account Creates Credit Standing

THE pages of our deposit ledger are more than a record of the deposits and withdrawals of our customers. From them we read something of the character and ability of the men and women who are our depositors.

Many a customer, through the introduction furnished by such an account, has created a credit standing with the Bank that has developed into one of his most valuable assets.

Form a connection with us now, and, later on, should you find yourself in need of assistance, you can come to us with your standing already largely established.

MUSIC WEEK

Musical Notes.

Concert managers in the United States agreed at a recent convention on a standard contract for artists and on the centralization of the concert business.

To help promising and ambitious young musicians a series of "Stadium Concerts" are given every summer in New York. At these concerts a thorough try-out is given. At this year's test 300 candidates appealed, of whom 35 vocalists and ten instrumentalists passed. These will be given an opportunity throughout the winter to show what they can do. One of these musicians will appear once a week in concert. A fund of $40,000 helps out the concert tests.

The recent death of Mrs. Martha E. Crouch at Baltimore recalls the name of her husband, Frederick Nicholls Crouch, who in 1830 composed that popular Irish song, "Kathleen Mavourneen." Mr. Crouch was an Englishman, and in his day met most of the brilliant musicians.

One of the soloists of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra is an eight-year-old girl, Anita Malkin, daughter of one of the musicians of that organization. She was recently presented with a famous Cremona violin valued at $8,500.

Syracuse, N. Y., recently held a most successful musical festival. So much so that plans are already under way to make the 1922 festival larger and better than any previous festival.

The New England Conservatory of Music at Boston, Mass., was recently the recipient of two money donations—$5,000 to the orchestra, and $10,000 to two major scholarships.

The city of Watertown, N. Y., has voted $500 towards financing community singing in that city. This singing has been a feature of Watertown life since 1915.

Charleston, S. C., is raising a fund of $30,000 to place its symphony orchestra on a permanent basis.

Girl violin students are more ambitious than boys, and have more patience, in the estimation of Sevcik, the Bohemian musician, now in America.

The hurdy-gurdy street music is the only music that is not taxed in Germany at present. Even the playing of the wedding march at weddings and the funeral march at funerals are subject to a tax.

A number of residents of Toronto who are interested in wireless telegraphy are enjoying "wireless concerts" one or two nights a week through the courteous efforts of the Marconi company.

Sir Charles Santley at the age of 87 recently underwent a serious operation in London. Sir Charles has always had a deep affection for the music of Hayden, which started him on his musical career. The first chords of Haydn's First Mass, heard in a Catholic church in his boyhood, had an effect on him so profound that from that time "I lived on and for music," he said. Santley's first solo was from the Second Mass, and his first paid engagement was to sing in the Third. The first oratorio he heard was Haydn's "Creation," and his first step up the ladder of fame was achieved through the same work.

The Anglican Bishop of Peterborough, England, is an accomplished organist. He recently acted as organist in his cathedral at a memorial service for the deceased organist. Included in the music played by the Bishop were Mendelssohn's "Funeral March" and Handel's "Largo."

A Vocal Chicken Chief.

Much has been written about the growing power of music and its soothing benefits. Occasionally, however, there is a variation in this connection.

Not so very long ago a certain vocalist who styled himself "the champion American singer" got three months in England when he was found guilty of stealing chickens. Before sentence was pronounced the magistrate asked the accused whether he could pay a fine.

"No," replied the accused, "but I will sing for the court and that will be worth more than any fine that could be imposed on me."

The magistrate replied that unfortunately for him the court had no ear for music and then sent the accused to jail, and as he appeared to be a man of some education and therefore could not have stolen chickens, it being beneath a singer's dignity, the magistrate added to the sentence "hard labor."

Sheet Music Printing.

Practically all modern sheet music is engraved and not made from printed types. No one has, so far, invented a process of printing music from type that will compare with the clean, clear, sharp effect produced by printing from engraved plates and the processes following the methods of engraving and lithography.

The first record of music printed from engraved plates is that of a Purcell work, "Sonatas in III Parts." This was made by Thomas Cross, a London engraver, in 1683. Cross also kept a music shop in London. As near as we can tell he invented the process by which millions of copies of sheet music are now sent forth every year.

SAYS JAPAN IS A GREAT IMITATOR

BORROWS FROM OTHER NATIONS HER LANGUAGE, RELIGION AND CUSTOMS—LECTURE BY G. A. CORNISH BEFORE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

THE ISLAND EMPIRE

At the evening session of the combined Teachers' Institutes of the city and county in the Collegiate Institute Hall Thursday night, Professor G. A. Cornish, of the Toronto College of Education, gave an intensely interesting and illuminating lecture on "The Japanese and Their Industres.' He sad n part:

Japan is a country of great world interest at present. Britain, after standing isolated in her world relations, thought it worth while to make an alliance with this eastern empire. Japan has not been studied extensively by us. She is a great imitator and borrows from other nations. She borrowed her language religion and customs from China. The Portugese were the first Europeans with whom the Japanese traded. The former sent Jesuits to Japan and these had great success at first. The Japanese were tolerant of all religions. The Jesuits began to destroy the heathen temples, so that the Japanese decided to banish the Christian religion, and the foreigner as well. Japan became anti-Christian and for two hundred years no foreigners entered Japan. It was a criminal offence to build ships large enough to sail the ocean. Up to 1868, Japan thus remained isolated, except for a small trade with the Dutch and this was restricted.

Why did the Japanese open their ports to the fore gner? Small boats occasionally drifted to foreign countries and news filtered to Japan of the great progress that was being made in commerce, manufacture, etc. In accidental ways, the Japanese began to encroach on Japan. The latting behind. Russia at this time began to encroach in Japan. The latter could not compete with the Russian and the people began to recognize the need for progress for the sake of self-perservation. The opening-up process was not done willingly. Delegates were sent to various countries to study the war methods, vessels, equipment, etc.

Land is Barren.

Japan is a little larger than the British Isles, with a population twice as great. Most of the land is barren and unfit for cultivation. Her resources are thus limited. Japan is an agricultural country and has to depend on the little good land near the coasts. The people are thus hard pressed to get food. A farm there is about two acres. There is thus a great desire to extend her territory; it is a matter of life and death. The Japanese are not a wealthy people; farms are small without animals. The people must thus be vegetarian. Thus methods are primitive. Only within recent years have factories been built. Most of the manufacturing is done in the home to eke out an existence.

The people are jovial and bright, yet there is much suicide. Japanese soldiers frequently kill themselves if not killed in battle. Japan being a group of islands, naturally engages in the fishing industry. Fish is the only animal food that most of the Japanese ever have. All kinds of fish or fish products are utilized. The fish offal is used as fertilizer for the land. Cormorants are often used to catch fish. The bird dives and swallows the fish. The fisherman cleverly causes it to disgorge its prey. Clams, eels and sardines are all caught.

Small Holdings.

Japanese farmers on their small holdings raise some barley, millet and beans, since the last takes the place of the proteids or animal food. The main crop is rice, however. The land is ploughed while the water lies on it, by a crude instrument little better than a stick with iron points. One plot is flooded at a time. The rice is first grown in beds and then transplanted. This necessitates much labor, but help is very plentiful. We would consider transplanting our wheat very laborious, but that is what the Japanese must do with his rice. The threshing is done in a very primitive fashion by pulling the stalks through a species of sieve. It is then cleaned by means of a hand bellows. It is partially cooked and then pounded to a powder. This flour is used to make cakes.

Another great industry is the production of raw silk. The silk-worms are fed and tended with great care. They weave cocoons around themselves, each consisting of a single thread from five to perhaps eight hundred yards long. It requires great patience and skill to unwind these threads. The cocoons are first soaked in tepid water to soften the gluey material that holds the thread together. Japan produces more raw silk than any other country in the world.

The Tea Industry.

The tea industry is not as important as it used to be. The bushes are raised on the uplands, which cannot be flooded to raise rice. Paper is made from rice straw, but the methods are backward and slow. It is used for partitions in houses as well as window panes. The farmers must have something else to do besides farming to eke out an existence. Many of them make toys, umbrellas and similar useful articles. Flowers are raised for sale and for their beauty. Nothing is wasted. Even bamboo roots are dug up for food. Waterproofs are made of rice straw.

The religion of the governing classes is Shintoism, but the majority of the people are Buddhists. By the former religion, the Emperor is regarded as having descended from the gods. If the people believed this, it will be understood what a power he could exert over them. As yet Janan is under the control of the military class, but democratic government is becoming popular. When it gets a stronger hold upon the people, the desire to wage war will be much modified. A large part of the income of a Japanese, about one-third, has to go to pay war taxes and debts.

Needs Room.

Japan needs room to expand, and the United States is alarmed at her aggressiveness. It is this necessity that caused her to take Formosa and Korea, and to get virtually the control of Manchuria. Korea is used as a safeguard against encroachment by other nations. Manchuria gives her a place for her overflow of population, so that the danger to the United States does not seem alarming.

Japan is the first country with which Britain allied herself. During the late war, the Japanese did not shrink from their responsibilities to Great Britain; naturally, statesmen like the Hon. David Lloyd-George consider it cowardly to cast her off now. Probably much may come from the conference on the reduction of armaments. We may yet have an Anglo-Japanese-American alliance.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Cornish or his lucid and interesting discussion.

THE STAR EVENT

DURING CANADA'S MUSIC WEEK —DEL MAR QUARTETTE AT CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC HALL

Peterborough is certainly favored by the visit of such stellar attractions as those secured for the winter Lyceum Course at the Conservatory of Music. The first of these comes, most fortunately, in Canada's music week, which embraces from Oct. 22 to 29. The attraction arranged for is the famous Del Mar Quartette of talented musicians, two violinists, a 'cellist and pianist. They are booked for Friday, Oct. 28 and a rich treat is assured all who are privileged to hear them. The entire course consists of five entertainments, all musical but one, that one being a talk by A. W. Evans, the distinguished Welsh orator.

These talented entertainers draw capacity houses elsewhere, and would easily command a $1.00 admission if it were not for the fact that they are under a very large contract to the Lyceum, and the price is made so low that Conservatory Hall should be quite inadequate to contain Peterborough's music appreciators. Tickets for the course of five events are only $2.75, or two for $5.00, making the single rate of admission only 50c each, a very low price for such splendid entertainments.

See the advertisement for full particulars, and help to show that Peterborough appreciates the visit of such artists by taking up the full available number of course tickets.

COUNTY TEACHERS ELECTED OFFICERS

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF PETERBORO' COUNTY TEACHERS HELD IN NORMAL SCHOOL.

The annual convention of Peterboro County Teachers opened on Thursday morning at the Normal School with the President, Mr. Elmer R Frost in the chair.

After the routine business, the President gave a very splendid and helpful address on 'Play and its place in the Rural School'. He said in part: "Play is necessary to help brighten the life of the child. The benefits derived are manifold. Nothing can more quickly gain the respect and affection of the child than the teacher's participation in his games. Play makes children more alert more active and brighter in every respect and improves both mind and body. The school recess should be an organized recess in where every child takes part in some game especially adapted to his special need. The method of getting material for the playgrounds was also brought out by showing how the "Community Spirit" should be awakened in order to get all interested in the school. The benefits of a Christmas concert were clearly defined in the special training in platform work and the arousing of the spirit of cooperation. The president's address was followed by an address from Miss Stead, Provincial Organizer of the W. T. A. of Ontario, in which she urged teachers to remain more than one year in each school for the benefit of the child and also to remain longer in the profession and unite in the Association. Teachers should travel to know the world so as to bring to the child a more vivid knowledge of all the countries and peoples. The speaker also exhorted teachers not to place unnecessary stress on examinations, but rather more on the training of the pupils' minds.

A very instructive and interesting lesson was then given by Mr. K. Madil on "Music in the Rural School. His method was ably demonstrated by teaching his own school of thirty-five pupils who were brought in from the country for the purpose. He deserves great credit for the very capable manner in which he conducted this lesson.

The singing of the pupils showed with what success the work has been carried on in their school.

Miss Barrie then gave the report of the O.E.A Convention, which was very interesting and instructive.

At noon the County Teachers spent a very enjoyable social hour during luncheon at the Empress Hotel.

In the afternoon, the convention was divided into two sections, Mr Lees, presiding over the Senior Division while Mr. Stilson led the Junior Department.

Gave an Address

Miss C. H. Layton of the Y. W. C. A. delighted the audience by a very helpful and interesting address on Story-Telling. The essentials of story telling are first to introduce the charatcer, present facts in proper order, and [illegible] side issues or unnecessary details. There must be a climax to every good story and the teacher must know the story well herself. To illustrate, Miss Layton, told several stories which demonstrated her theory in a very practical and able manner.

The Department Lecturer was Miss McVannel of the Peterboro Normal School, who then gave a splendid address on "Household Science in the Rural School. The spirit of cooperation and helpfulness was emphasized by showing how children could be taught to make things for themselves as well as for others. They should be trained along the lines of cleanliness, neatness and orderliness.

The evening session was a joint meeting of the City and County Teachers as well, as on Friday morning, in the Collegiate Institute.

The following officers were elected for 1922.

President—Miss Jennie Barrie.
Vice-President—Mr. K. S. Madill.
Sec.-Treas.—Mrs. Stilson
Corres. Sec.—R. Lees.
Executive Committee—Mr. Elmer R. Frost, Miss Duff, Miss McKenzie, Mr. Wendt.
Auditors—Mrs Jackson and Miss Grieve.

AGED TRENTON MAN COMMITS SUICIDE

ALEXANDER MOUNTENAY FIRES BULLET THROUGH HIS HEART

TRENTON, Oct. 22.—Complaining of being weary of life, Alexander Mountenay, of Trenton, aged 65 years, wandered away from the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Ed. Bassett, Wrag street, with whom he had been living and was found dead with a bullet from a 22 calibre revolver in his heart, the fatal wound having evidently been self-inflicted. The unfortunate man's absence from home being noted, a search was instituted by his step-son, John Cooney, who with nine neighbors found the still warm body, lying face downward, two hundred yards from the entrance of Hanna Park. The suicide had opened his vest and shot himself to death just below the sixth rib.

ARREST THREE IN CONNECTION WITH ROBBING OF BANK

TORONTO, Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press.)—Toronto police have made three arrests in connection with the robbery here of the Bank of Hamilton branch at College street and Ossington avenue Tuesday. G. L. Sarchuk is alleged to have been the driver of the automobile in which the bandits escaped. A third suspect is at present under examination. All arrests were made in the foreign quarter of the city. It is understood that a considerable portion of the three thousand dollars taken from the bank has been recovered.

THE PERFORMANCE WAS REPEATED AT ST. JAMES' CHURCH.

DEMONSTRATION BEFORE EMBASSY IS PROHIBITED

By WEBB MILLER,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

PARIS, Oct. 22.— The Ministry of the Interior to-day prohibited a Communist demonstration at the American Embassy sechduled for tomorrow. The Communists, however, went right ahead with their plans for marching upon the Embassy through eight converging streets.

The Sunday demonstration at the American Embassy will not be permitted, it was stated to the United Press at the Ministry of the Interior. "No public procession will be allowed. The most rigorous measures will be taken to prevent it."

This is taken to mean that if necessary troops will be used.

FIVE HURT IN RIOTS BEFORE U. S. EMBASSY

DR. CHASE Has Taught the People How to Keep Well

TIME was when the family physician was the most prominent character in the community.

A man of intelligence and ability, he commanded confidence and respect, and sacrificed his time, strength and pleasure for those who needed his care and skill.

These were the conditions when, after graduating from the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor, Dr. A. W. Chase settled down to practise his profession in that well-known college town.

Every Man His Own Physician

But the doctor soon got the idea that people should know how to look after their own common ills, and set about in a large way to supply them with the necessary information.

By means of his Receipt Book, the circulation of which has since run into millions, and his well-known Almanac and booklets of many kinds, Dr. Chase has spread throughout the civilized world the gospel of "Every Man His Own Physician."

This plan enabled the doctor to devote his attention to more serious cases, and he soon became known far and wide as a specialist in the treatment of diseases of the kidneys, the liver, the heart and other vital organs of the human system.

The Dr. Chase Plan of Health

To reach patients at a distance, the doctor had his most successful prescriptions put up in handy form for mailing. In time the demand became so great that the doctor decided to give these great medicines to the public, and arranged for their sale through the drug trade throughout Canada and the United States.

In this way Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, Nerve Food, Ointment, Linseed and Turpentine, Catarrh Powder, and other medicines found their way into general use, until now one or more of them is found in almost every home in the land.

Home Medicines

With these time-tried medicines at hand, you can feel that you are protected against the common ills of life by the most effective treatments which Dr. Chase was able to discover during a long life of diligent study and research.

Confidence in Dr. Chase

Founded on His Integrity of Character and the Unusual Merits of His Medicines.

If there was ever a physician who commanded the confidence of his patients that physician was DR. CHASE.

No one could meet him and converse with him without realizing that he was a man of skill, who was in love with his profession and only anxious to relieve the suffering and disease of his fellowmen.

You cannot read the famous Dr. Chase's Receipt Book without appreciating the untiring zeal of its author in searching out the best receipts and prescriptions which were known to the medical profession.

When his attention was turned to selecting medicines to be placed on the market for public sale it was with whole-souled effort that he tested out the prescriptions which he considered most suitable for this purpose.

And so it is that the integrity of character which marked the efforts of DR. CHASE are indelibly stamped on every medicine which bears his portrait and signature, and people have learned to have the utmost confidence in them because of the splendid results which they have accomplished.

A PURELY PIONEER FUNCTION

A SOCIAL EVENT THAT PLACED PETERBOROUGH ON THE MAP —VISIT OF LIEUT-GOVERNOR OF UPPER CANADA TO THE PIONEER DISTRICT.

(By F. H. DOBBIN).

Quoth an able matron, speaking to myself:

"You have been writing of things concerning the town and district. Very interesting and informative, but why do you confine your relations to the men? Did women have little or nothing to do in forming the town and district? Or was their part wholly unpretentious? Surely theirs was a share in pioneer life! Of course one does not want or expect the intimate things and happenings in the household, but did woman have nothing to do in a public way worth recording?"

So, accepting the suggestion in good faith, and as proffered, we may fall to and tell something of an event in which women had a part, and as told by a woman who participated. Of Peterborough's first public function, the very beginning of social life on the town plot and an event that held in its activities much in relation to the future of the district.

Away back in the year of 1826, to get the ear or gain the favorable notice of some public man, one who could do things, whose sympathy could be appealed to and whose consideration might be helpful, was the real thing. There was only a moderate amount of public money to be given out, and local funds sparse. The need for establishing means of communication were most urgent. The next thing to roads was a flour mill. Few communities were able to finance such propositions. To gain the attention of even a Deputy-Secretary or Assistant Developer was at least something, but to come in contact with a Governor-General or his equal in the flesh was not to be sneered at. So this relation concerns the visit of, at the time stated, the Lieutenant - Governor of His Britannic Majesty's Dominions in British North America. Some title, and the title carried with it perogatives of large and substantial value. His it was to say and do. When it was known that he was coming the town plot of Peterborough at once sat up and took notice. The gentleman in question being none other than Sir Peregrine Maitland, sometime the Head Centre of Upper Canada.

Now as this relation is of and for women there should be a touch of romance at the very first go off. So let this be now applied. During the brilliant festivities which drew all Europe to Paris when the Allied Sovereigns met at that city to celebrate the downfall of Napoleon, no slight sensation was caused by the elopement of a dashing cavalry officer of the British forces with one of the most beautiful of the many ladies of rank whose presence graced the festivities—the only daughter of the Duke of Richmond. That officer, who thereby distinguished himself in the court of Hymen as he had on the field of Waterloo, was General Sir Peregrine Maitland. The good-natured duke was induced to forgive the lovers, and on the duke being appointed Governor-General of the Canadas, naturally procured for his son-in-law the lucrative appointment of Lieutenant-Governor of Upper Canada. He proved to be a most useful and conscientious administrator, and did much to assist in the settlement of the newer part of Upper Canada.

It must be remembered that the settlement of Peterborough at the time of the Lieutenan-Governor's visit was in the roughest pioneer condition. A few log houses scattered here and there. Stumps abundant and impeding the streets. The ox wagon or cart the only vehicle. No church, scarcely a store, only a make-shift distillery. All primitive and undeveloped. From the visit large things were looked for.

The buildings mentioned in the narrative, further on, were grouped about the corner of now Water and Simcoe Streets. The office and living place of Dr. Reade stood just about where the market weigh scale stands. A log building of moderate height. Divided by a partition on the ground floor. The end of the house to Charlotte Street was occupied by Rev. Father Crowley, of the Catholic faith, the first missioner to come to the settlement. Across Water Street, at the corner where the Bank of Montreal building was afterwards erected (now occupied by the Peterborough Club), stood the "Government Buildings," built of hewn logs and of comfortable dimensions. At the time mentioned occupied by Hon. Peter Robinson, Capt. Chas. Rubidge and others connected with affairs. No hotel or house of public accommodation had been opened.

Coming from Cobourg, the Lieutenant-Governor and his suite crossed Rice Lake on the ice, and on through Otonabee, nearly in the line afterwards made use of in laying down the road-bed of the old Peterborough and Cobourg railway. The party was entertained at the home of Capt. Rubidge, and on arrival at the settlement were met by leading men of the place and settlers. On reaching the outskirts of the town plot the horses were unhitched from the sleighs and ropes made from basswood attached, and the populace drew the sleighs, amidst great excitement, along to the Government House. During his stay, which was for several days, His Excellency held a sort of state reception in the building, using the largest room for the purpose. The Governor sat at one end of the room, and those who wished to be presented fyled past and were made known. All very formal and satisfactory. Several addresses were presented, in which the several petitioners made known their wants and expressed hopes that, having seen the Governor, would be pleased to grant, etc., etc. All desired "a mill," and concerning this request is a story that may be told, if not in this writing, then again.

But to get back to the reception. The story is told by Mrs. Frances Stewart, wife of Hon. T. A. Stewart, in a letter to a friend, a Mrs. Kirkpatrick. Just a friendly one, not written for publication, but in the intimacies of an exchange of correspondence. With the Lieutenant-Governor had come a fairly large party, in five sleighs. The relation makes comment, as follows:

"All seemed pleased and gratified at the warmth of the reception on arrival. Sir Peregrine very much so, and Mr. Robinson and his brother, the Attorney-General, particularly so. They expressed approval of all the arrangements. Sir Peregrine settled that he would go to the Cavan Church next day (Sunday). So Thomas went off to arrange for a place in one of the sleighs. I thought no more about them and set myself down to my reading, when a note was brought from Thomas saying that the Governor requested I would dine there that day and that he would send his own sleigh for me, William and his nurse. You know to this I could send no refusal. A little while later Thomas came for me, as the Governor's sleigh had broken down, so Thomas had borrowed another.

"You may imagine what a fine fuss this all put me into. How should I dress? That was my first thought. I know that none of the company would expect me to be fine, living as we do here, so I thought I had better put on what would take the shortest time. Thomas's opinion on the very important subject of dress was a great comfort to me. We soon agreed that a very pretty Irish tabinet, which I had never as yet worn, would be the best. In a short time all my curlings, etc., having been completed, we set out.

"We went first to Dr. Reade's, as we were going together. After a little time up drove Mr. and Mrs. Rubidge. We all laughed and talked for an hour, when the gentlemen agreed to let us have quiet possession of the parlor to adorn ourselves. They went to the doctor's medicine shop, and we ladies spent one good hour in dressing our beautiful persons. I had but little show in the business, as I had only my head to dress.

"Mrs. Reade and Mrs. Rubidge went without caps. Mrs. Reade had a large wreath of artificial flowers in her hair, and wore a brilliant geranium colored tabinet which did not suit her. Mrs. Rubidge had on a white striped gauze trimmed with pink satin. When we set out to cross the road to the reception, Thomas and Mrs. Reade, Dr. Reade and Mrs. Rubidge, Mr. Rubidge and myself all walked, and in the same routine entered the drawing-room of the Government House, which is nearly opposite to Dr. Reade's.

"You must know that all these houses which sound so grand are merely log houses, and little better than the cabins are at home. Dr. Reade's house is a very small, miserable, inconvenient place, but only a temporary one at that. The Government House, the best I ever saw for a log house, the parlor and drawing-room good-sized, well-proportioned and really pretty rooms.

"The other ladies present had been introduced to Sir Peregrine before. However, they were ushered up to his presence, and their names told by Mr. Robinson, each made a curtsey and retired a little. When my turn came he came forward and spoke to me for some time. He then talked to some of the gentlemen and I retired to join the other ladies, but was stopped by Mr. Robinson, who introduced his brother, the Attorney-General, to me. Then Col. Talbot came up, then Sir Peregrine Maitland joined our group.

"I was very glad to meet Col. Talbot, of whom I had heard so many curious anecdotes; but in his manner there is nothing remarkable, which disappointed me a little. He had on a greatcoat, made of sheepskins with the wool on, either natural black or dyed, and a pair of boots of the same, which he wears over his other boots; and as he is fat and short, you cannot think what a curious figure he cut in this Arctic dress.

"We were a large party. Besides we three ladies, our three lords, and the gentlemen I have already mentioned, there were Mr. Maitland, son and aide-de-camp to the Governor, a very fine, tall and pleasing looking young officer, Major Hiliar, the secretary, also in uniform, Col. Burke and Dr. Connin."

Mrs. Stewart's daughter adds the following information: "At this famous function and dinner party the name of the new village was decided upon. My mother suggested "Peterborough," in honor of Mr. Peter Robinson, and it was at once chosen as the most suitable. In a short time orders were given to have the site laid out in park lots, to be valued at one dollar per acre. A bridge and a mill were built as quickly as possible."

Resuming the narrative, as penned by Mrs. Stewart, is given interesting information with regard to the Governor and how the ladies passed the following evening, being storm-stayed as they were situated:

"Sir Peregrine Maitland is not at all a striking looking person. He has nothing military in his appearance or deportment, nor does he in the least degree look like a person who had made an elopement. He is remarkably quiet and retiring in manner, his countenance sweet and placid, but too calm and composed for a general. In his appearance he is much more like a clergyman than an officer, but very pleasing.

"He talked to me a good deal both before and after dinner, as he thought proper that I should take precedence, and consequently I sat between him and Mr. Robinson. He talked about the country and the immigrants, and then a good deal about planting and gardening. After tea he retired to write letters and we repaired to Dr. Reade's little hotel d'amitie, where we were all to bundle in for the night, at least a great many of us. Mr. and Mrs. Rubidge slept in the parlor. Mrs. Reade and her two little girls, Will and I, five precious souls, all slept in a tiny room divided by a board partition from the parlor. There was no door, so that the partition was only a screen. Dr. Reade, Thomas and Father Crowley all slept on the floor of the little drug shop. The next morning, after breakfast, we returned home."

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone losing hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

In a little shack

a poor consumptive

HE was sick in bed when the nurse from the Gage Institute found him.

—in a little shack in the rear of a row of tenement houses—a poor consumptive.

Here this man, his wife and two children existed, miserably, in a congested section.

—a poor place to live in—a sure place to die in, for a consumptive.

The National Sanitarium Association came to the rescue. He was sent to the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives, and the family was looked after.

Now he is cured and back to work.

The MUSKOKA Hospital for Consumptives, destroyed by fire on November 30th last, must be replaced by buildings, larger and fireproof.

Accommodation is needed at the MUSKOKA Hospital for 400 adults in early stages of the disease. This will restore 250 of them to their homes and loved ones—cured. The remainder will be greatly benefited.

A few months for each patient soon means thousands cared for. Funds are urgently needed for this work.

Again — adults in advanced stages must be treated at the King Edward Sanatorium on the banks of the Humber near Weston. Extensions are necessary. Many of these patients can be saved.

And again—little children—stricken with the dread disease—must be cared for at the Queen Mary Hospital for Consumptive Children near Weston. Ninety per cent. of these are saved to become healthy men and women.

Funds are urgently needed to cover the cost of extensions.

Further, funds are urgently needed to carry on the work of The Gage Institute in the City of Toronto, where the needy poor come for free examinations, including X-ray, and for medical and nursing assistance.

Fifteen thousand needy consumptives have been cared for to date at the hospitals conducted by the Association.

A NATION'S DAY OF REMEMBRANCE

UNITED HOMAGE SHOULD BE PAID TO OUR GLORIOUS DEAD

In only just three weeks will a day—the most sacred anniversary in the long history of the Kingdom and Empire, of which we people in Canada form an important integral part—I mean Armistice Day!

Armistice Day.

What a mass of thoughts are resurrected in these two words. Blended with the triumph of victory is an undying gratitude to the Glorious Dead, to whom we should forever pay immortal tribute.

So far nothing has leaked out as to how our Civic authorities propose to celebrate the third anniversary of the cessation of hostilities in the Great World-wide War.

November the 11th must for all time be Great Britain's national day; a day equally for mourning, rejoicing, and silent thought.

Our Unpayable Debt.

Last year, as though it came about by inspiration, the body of an unknown soldier warrior, whether he were peer or peasant none knew or cared, was brought from his lonely grave on French soil and buried in Westminster Abbey, London (Eng.) with all those honours as would befit the noblest in the Empire.

The greatest tragedy of modern times was then reconstructed. Ah! what a home-coming was that! A home-coming when all personal and party strife forgotten, Britain was united as never before by the common bond of sorrow and remembrance.

Silence of Common Sorrow.

At a given signal the whole nation—all over the world, northern, southern, eastern and western hemispheres, paid silent hommage to that one nameless, unknown soldier—the representative of hundreds and thousands who fell in battle in a war which never ought or should have been, all brought about by the crass conceit and mania of one self-worshiping monomaniac.

Nothing could be more beautiful, nothing more deeply impressive than those two minutes of grave-like silence while the wheels of every-day work and pleasure alike, stood still last Armistice Day. It united, so to speak, the living with the dead. Class hatred and creed, race and rank and colour were forgotten and buried in the silence of the Unknown.

We Must Never Forget

Armistice Day. In fact each and every year should make it a greater and a grander anniversary. Everybody everywhere can pay that two minutes of silent tribute. Every city, town and village in the land can do something to perpetuate the memory of those who died that we might live. We cannot, we must not, forget. Is it too much to hope that it will be honoured with fitting ceremony in every village and town throughout our own land?

The Memory of the Dead.

In the hearts of hundreds of thousands in all parts of the world, Armistice Day is dedicated to the memory of their dead. Many in this country—nay even in this city—feel that Armistice Day should be kept in perpetuity as one of solemn thanksgiving and remembrance. Do not, therefore, let us allow it, through neglect or apathy, to pass without something worthy the suffering and sacrifice which November 11, 1918, brought to its end.

It is For the Public to Say.

So far as we have heard, the city is doing nothing in the matter. The Great War Veterans will hold a "Poppy Day" and a round of amusements will have vogue in their Hall on Murray street from early morning till late at night. And it is possible that some of the religious bodies or other organisations may desire to hold a short service on that day. Surely if nothing else be done ,the "two minutes' silence" might be fittingly observed.

It is for the public to say whether any arrangements—or lack of arrangements — are acceptable as a worthy tribute to our Glorious Dead, and as an expression of the unity of our people in remembrance of the sacrifice made by her sons. The very impressive period of silence at 11 o'clock in the morning, which has been marked throughout the Empire in the past two years, will, it is hoped, be observed again this year, and in the years to come.

NO MUNITIONS BOUGHT GUTHRIE TELLS KING

GUELPH, Oct. 22. — (Canadian Press.) — Referring to Hon. Mr. King's letter to Premier Meighen issued at Ottawa yesterday, asking an explanation of munition shipments to Canada, Hon. Mr. Guthrie early this morning declared that no munitions have been purchased since the war with the exception of a few spare parts to put in shape such material as in Canada. Since the war ended Britain handed over to Canada a great amount of equipment to replace equipment Canada had taken to France and it has been coming at intervals from time to time.

"Owes her robust health to Virol."

Cranfield,
50, St. Albans Road,
Moseley, Birmingham.
Gentlemen, Aug. 20, 1920.

Enclosed you will find photograph of my daughter at 17 months old. I think you will agree that she is a splendid testimony to the value of Virol as a body builder. From early days Virol has been added to her milk food, and I am quite sure that she owes her robust health to this addition.

I have many times recommended Virol and in every case there has been improvement in general health, rapid growth and easy assimilation of food.

Believe me to be,
Yours faithfully,
(Signed) GEO. MOSS.

Virol is used in large quantities in more than 2,000 Hospitals and Infant Clinics. It is invaluable for the expectant and nursing mother herself, whilst for children it supplies those vital principles that are destroyed in the sterilising of milk; it is also a bone and tissue-building food of immense value. Virol babies have firm flesh, strong bones and good colour.

BUSINESS PRINCIPLES IN RELIGION

IMPORTANT SUBJECT TO BE DEALT WITH BY REV. JAS. ROLLINS TO-MORROW NIGHT.

There is just as much necessity of "Business Principles in Religion" as there is for "Religion in Business Principles." If a church announces itself as a friendly church its members must see that it is such. The praise service requires the same attention by those in charge and connected with it as a department in a manufacturing plant or business. The Pastor is a leader just as a General Manager of a concern is a leader, and while there is but the one way of getting to Heaven, the leader of any Christian community cannot afford to be out of touch with the times and conditions pertaining to religious activities any more than a business man can afford to be out of touch with his business sphere of life.

At St. Andrew's Presbyterian church to-morrow evening the pastor will deal with this timely subject and you are invited to this special service, to which you may expect to find co-operation in all departments. You will be made very welcome, the praise service is again specially suited and prepared for the occasion, and you will find a friendliness that will make you much at home.

If no other service has a claim on you to-morrow night, attend St. Andrew's Presbyterian church.

ROME, Oct. 22.— The Pope is much grieved over the evident mistrust between Britain and Ireland as indicated in De Valera's letters.

WHAT TO DO FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

GOOD ADVICE FROM ONE WHO HAD SUFFERED MUCH

Nine-tenths of all forms of indigestion or so-called stomach trouble are not due to the condition of the stomach at all, but are caused by other influences. The great contributing cause of indigestion is thin blood. Good blood and plenty of it is required by the stomach to take care of the food. If the blood is thin the stomach functions sluggish, food lies undigested, gas forms and causes pains in various parts of the body. Instead of getting nourishment from the blood the system gets poison.

Relief from this condition can be obtained by the tonic treatment which Mr. D. Shaw, Mt. Stewart, P.E.I., tried and now warmly recommends to others. Mr. Shaw says: "I suffered from indigestion for over four years, and have tried many of the well-known remedies for such troubles, but never obtained more than temporary relief. The trouble was aggravated by constipation setting in owing to the stomach failing to do its work, and laxatives only gave relief to the bowels and left the stomach in worse condition. The result was my blood was growing more and more anaemic, I did not sleep well at night and was growing despondent. I was in this wretched condition when a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got three boxes and by the time they were finished there was some change for the better. This greatly encouraged me and I continued taking the pills for some three months, by which time my stomach was all right again, my blood good, nerves strong and life was again worth living. My advice to all who suffer from stomach trouble is to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxen for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A JOLLY BANQUET AT THE Y.W.C.A.

TWO HUNDRED GIRLS TOOK PART IN THE FESTIVITIES

Under the auspices of the Girls' bers of C. G. I. T. groups in the city, including organised classes and those seeking organisation, gathered in the basement of Murray Street Baptist Church last evening for a very jolly banquet. The long tables and the hall, prettily decorated with festoons and garlands in black and yellow in Hallowe'en fashion, were bright and attractive, and the girls seemed to enjoy themselves immensely.

Miss Charlotte Layton acted as chairman in her usual efficient manner.

After the supper, during which the girls gave a series of camp yells and sang in unison, they were addressed by Miss Constance Jackson, of Toronto, Assistant National Girls' Work Secretary. Her subject was "The Quest of the Beautiful," outlining the ideals of the Canadian Girls in Training programme in its three-fold relation to the body, the mind, and the spirit. Miss Jackson's address was listened to with deep interest, and evoked much applause.

Representatives of the 'teen age group of girls who attended the girls' conference at Lake Couchiching during the past summer, reported on their trip—Misses Dorothy Wyman and Olive Rightmeyer, representing George Street Methodist Church, and Miss Alberta Throop from Mark Street Church.

Mr. J. Edgar, president of the local Religious Education Council, was present, and spoke a few words of congratulation to the young ladies present.

During the evening, a very pretty vocal solo was rendered by Miss Trucie Pearson. Mrs. C. Coon presided at the organ, and the unison singing was very effectively led by Miss M. Rannie.

Arrangements for the banquet were carried out by mothers and the Sunday School teachers from the different churches.

TO CONTEST DIVORCE

Mrs. Frank J. Gould, she still claims the name in full, recently arrived from France to contest in American courts the divorce which her husband won from her in Paris. Mrs. Gould was Miss Edith Kelley before her marriage to the scion of the wealthy Gould family.

I expect to pass through this life but once. If, therefore, there is any kindness I can show, or any good I can do to any fellow-being, let me do it now, let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again.

More Heat at Less Cost

The direct heating principle of the Findlay Pipeless Furnace eliminates all loss of heat and floods every corner of every room with warm, moist air at a saving of 35% to 50% on fuel.

Findlay Pipeless heat—balmy and healthfully moist—is automatically supplied through one register.

There are no pipes or costly plumbing fixtures. A hole cut in the first floor for the register face, the furnace in place in the cellar, the smoke pipe connected up and your Findlay Pipeless is ready to heat the house from top to bottom. It does not heat the cellar which may, therefore, be used for storage of fruits, vegetables, etc.

The Findlay can be installed quickly and cheaply in any home, old or new. The job is easily done in a day, so you can light the fire a few hours after the furnace is delivered at your door, and from that time on, every corner of your home will be warm, healthy and comfortable, no matter what the outside temperature.

Will you let us send you the full facts about this economical heating system? The attached coupon, filled in as indicated, will bring you all particulars by return mail. Mail it today.

WHAT DID BETTY BUY?

COPY OF BETTY'S LETTER

Dear Mr. Simpson

You know Clara Green, don't you? WELL SHE WANTED TO BE A NURSE. What do you think of that? OF COURSE SHE WAS SIMPLY TRYING TO APE A SISTER OF MINE. However she left for Toronto taking her maid Topsy to carry her luggage. When they got to the station the train was pulling out. THEY RAN SO FAST TOPSY RUPTURED A BLOOD VESSEL IN HER LEG. However Clara got on the train alright. Then what do you think happened? SHE TUMBLED AND FELL PEL-MEL ON HER BAGGAGE. Isn't that funny? I BET SHE WANTED TO BAN A NASTY ENGINEER FOR JERKING THE TRAIN SO. She soon got herself in order and reached her seat safely. SHE TOOK OUT A BOOK BY CHARLES LAMB READ A PAGE AND FELL ASLEEP. On arriving in Toronto she woke with a start, and hurried off. Her baggage was heavy and looked a burden. A NICE CHAP PLEADED TO HELP HER. She refused to let him as he was a stranger. But after walking two blocks she was tired out. THEN SHE THOUGHT HERSELF A SIMPLE MONSTER FOR REFUSING HIS HELP. She finally reached the Training School and registered. But she didn't like it a bit. She felt very blue. IN FACT AT HER DINNER SHE ATE A VERY LITTLE. She fought with her room mate. IN A FIT OF JEALOUSY OR ANGER SHE LEFT. However before going home she bought a new dress at Smith's store. When she tried it on it didn't fit. SO SHE TOOK IT TO SMITH'S ALTERATION ROOM FOR CHANGES. Even then it didn't fit, and she wouldn't keep it. SO APPLYING FOR REFUND SHE GOT HER MONEY BACK. Then she took the next train for home. Isn't that an interesting story?
Betty Beatty.

PUZZLE

FIND ABOVE THE NAMES OF 12 ARTICLES SOLD IN A GROCERY STORE

John Simpson was amazed when he read the above letter, which Betty Beatty had handed him. "Our order is in that letter" said Betty. "I've hidden the names of each article I've come to buy in each of the underlined sentences. Puzzle it out and I'll tell you the quantities." "Well" said Mr. Simpson "I can't find the name of a single article in my store, that is mentioned in your note." "Of course you can't" said Betty. But here's the clue. In each underlined sentence I've hidden one name. It is only the name of a grocery, fruit or vegetable and there is just one thing in each sentence. The letters aren't jumbled and all you have to do is to find the right letter to start on. For instance, if you start on the letter "B" in the fifth word of the first underlined sentence you will quickly see B-E-A-N. That's the name of one of the things I want. There are twelve items altogether, and the name of each one is hidden in one of the underlined sentences. So now what do I want? Find the names and you get the order."

John Simpson puzzled the letter out and got the order. Can you do as well? If you can mail your answers at once. Over $2500.00 in prizes and rewards is being given. Remember there are no trade mark names or products of any particular manufacturer. In many cases, as in the first underlined sentence, the single name as "Bean" and not the plural "Beans" is used. Be very careful, therefore, if you find the names to spell them exactly as they appear in the sentence.

CHARACTER ACTRESS LOSES HER GROUCH IN INTRPRETING ROLE

Margaret Cullington, who plays the home wrecking mother-in-law in "Scrappily Married," latest of the two-reel Christie Comedies at the Allen Theatre Monday is invariably cast for roles that show her as a disagreebale chaarcter, but she has no complaint to make about it.

"As a matter of fact," she says, "I believe that it is a good thing. I shoppse that every person has a certain element of the disagreeable in their make-up. I find that I get it all out of my system in the picture that I have and then I try to make up for those unpleaasnt hours by being in the best humor possible with the world the rest of the time."

SCREEN REVIVAL OF "EAST LYNNE" MAKES NEW STAGE HISTORY

Hugo Ballin's screen revival of "East Lynne," which will be seen here at the Allen Theatre for two days, commencing Monday, tempts theatre goers to interrogate stage historians and to browse through old playbills and records. For Mrs. Henry Wood's melodrama has too long been a literary and theatrical tradition not to have had an interesting history.

A play in which ladies have reveled lachrymally, not for years, but for generations, not only in the language of the original, but in virtually every tongue—such a creation must necessarily have enlisted the talents of many artists and must at the same time have been witnessed under unusual circumstances.

Mabel Ballin, wife of the mural painter now lending his talents to the films, plays the heroine whose problems while old are forever new. The part is associated with the memory of a dozen famous actresses, whose achievements are part of the history of the stage of America.

AT THE REGENT.

THE STORY OF "STRAIGHT FROM THE SHOULDER."

Bill Higgins was a wild man. When Bill imbibed too freely, he didn't care what he did or said. That was what caused him to get a bullet in his shoulder. He said a few mean things to the Mediator and then had attempted to draw his gun; but the Mediator was as fast as greased lightning when it came to drawing a gun. And yet the Mediator had a big heart, for immediately after this incident he was found nursing Bill back to healtah. Bill took so kindly to the Mediator that in a moment of soft-heartedness he told the Mediator that the reason he acted so bad was to forget the mess he had made of his married life.

Mrs. Bill had left him five years before because she wouldn't allow Bill to share his love for her with red liquor. Bill said he was sorry. If he could get her back he would give up strong drink. The Mediator went to Peaceful Valley, where Mrs. Bill Higgins was earning a living as cook at the Sierra Mines.

The Mediator arrived at the Peaceful Valley Hotel about the time Joseph Martin, owner of the mines, and his daughter Gladys got there. Martin and his daughter were greeted by Big Ben Williams, the superintendent and a bully. Big Ben insulted the Mediator until finally there was a fight, the result of which was that the Mediator threw Williams out of the place. For this act he won the smiles of Maggie, the waitress, who had frequently listened to the insults of Big Ben; and Gladys, the owner's daughter, who had taken a violent dislike to Big Ben.

Maggie, on her part, later saved the Mediator from being shot in the back by Pete, Big Ben's lieutenant.

The Mediator found Mrs. Higgins and at the end of his talk with her he sent word to Wild Bill to hurry to Pleasant Valley with flowers.

While this was taking place a dramatic scene was being enacted in the Sierra Mines office. Mr. Martin, Gladys and Rogers, the bookkeeper, were there. They had just decided that Big Ben was a crook when Ben entered and in a rage leaped upon Rogers, calling him a squealer. The Mediator heard the row and went to the office. His appearance made Ben stop fighting. Mr. Martin discharged Big Ben and made the Mediator superintendent.

In revenge Big Ben decided to rob the wagons of a $100,000 shipment of gold being taken away from the mines. As the wagons were departing one of his henchmen called a strike at the mines to divert attention. At this time the Mediator was in the cook tent making love to Maggie. Gladys rushed in and told of the trouble at the mines—that the men were fighting. The Mediator was soon in the midst of the uproar.

Wild Bill Higgins, with a fine bouquet, came upon the scene. He laid the flowers aside and pitched in to help the Mediator. When he and the Mediator had put the strikers to flight, Bill was not "all dressed up" to meet Mrs. Higgins, but, knowing what he had done, she forgave him. Then Mr. Martin came along and declared Gladys had been kidnapped.

The Mediator found the men with Gladys in a cabin. A terrific fight followed, and as the men departed one of them hit the Mediator and left him for dead. But the Mediator revived quickly enough and, knowing an attempt would be made to rob the wagons, directed Gladys to go for the sheriff and Maggie—who had followed him—to go for Wild Bill. He himself headed for the wagons. In the fight that followed he was wounded, and Big Ben would have killed him had not Bill arrived and "got" Ben.

Both Maggie and Gladys nursed the Mediator back to health. Maggie was ready to quit in favor of Gladys, whom she thought loved the Mediator — but the Mediator showed unmistakably that his love was for Maggie.

AT THE CAPITOL.

Clara Kimball Young in "Straight From Paris," will be the feature picture presentation for the first three days next week, beginning Monday matinee. Jimmy Aubrey in "The Riot," a two reel comedy. Also other short reels of quality. Overture, "Lustspiel" Great Orchestra.

Cost Never Considered When Perfection Of Details Demands Unusual Expenditures

"Straight From Paris," with Clara Kimball Young. The Latest And Best Example.

Few motion picture enthusiasts, which now include the majority of us, realize how much one little scene lasting but a few minutes, actually represents in the money it cost the producer to film. In the latest photo-dramatic masterpiece of Clara Kimball Young, "Straight From Paris," whose director is Harry Garson and whose author is the brilliant Sada Cowan, well remembered for her work in "Hush," a former Young production, we have a convincing example of the pains and expense to reproduce life with literal faithfulness.

As the title indicates, "Straight From Paris" presents Parisian life in all its splendor and gaiety. Naturally, the scene in which the action is laid must smack of the native soil. To give the spectator a vivid picture of the Parisian shops and French life, the director of "Straight From Paris" had to go to Paris for his background. It would challenge the ability of a layman to estimate the expense involved in such an effort, and yet it appears that Miss Young's company did not give the matter a second thought. The story was laid in France, then there was no question that the company must move there, even for the sake of but one picture. This explains the striking realism of the French atmosphere with which "Straight From Paris" abounds, the luxury and lavishness of investiture and the Parisian flavor of the entire photoplay. So infectious is the "smell of the soil" which this brilliant picture emanates that anyone seeing "Straight From Paris" will come out of the theatre with the feeling that he had actually come "straight from Paris" himself.

AT THE GRAND.

"NEARLY WED," A FARCE BY EDGAR SELWYN, TO BE THE REX OFFERING FOR MONDAY, OCT. 24TH

The Rex patrons who enjoyed the bill at the Grand this week will be enthusiastic about "Nearly Wed," which is the attraction for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. It is a farce in three acts and provides material calculated to bring out the best histrionic efforts of the entire Rex Stock Company. In the first place, the author, Edgar Selwyn, is a very clever writer of successful comedies, the play under discussion is well written, the interest sustained from start to finish and the situations are very comical.

Farces written about domestic troubles, about the eternal triangle situation, about "parlor, bedroom and bath" are quite common. Mr. Selwyn strikes a new note when he introduces to us "the divorce expert." He almost strikes a Bernard Shaw note in the cynicism which runs through the dialogue, and in the unforeseen, yet natural, turn which he gives to events without the slightest warning. The story has to do with the adventures of a young married couple who have come to the end of the married tether, who decide to separate. In order to get a divorce, when there is—in reality—nothing to constitute "grounds" for legal action, a divorce expert is engaged. She is an attractive young woman who agrees, upon payment of a certain fee "to compromise" the husband, openly, of course, and "before witnesses," as she says herself. A chance meeting with her occurrs at a fashionable hotel where she is waiting for the hubby in question. She encounters the now half-sorry wife with two friends and things begin to happen. Betty, like all women about to achieve their fondest wish, suffers a genuine pang of envy when she finds the paid co-respondent a young and pretty woman. Her brother Dick is a trouble maker, has caused dissension in the Lindsey family ever since invading their home, and when things are beginning to mend themselves, he jumps into the thick of the argument and literally "spills the beans" again, if you will pardon this slang expression. I could begin right now to unravel the plot for you, but instead I am going to tell you that Rex, as the husband who still loves his wife, but objects to brother-in-law living with them, is involved in a maze of exasperating and difficult situations. He extricates himself finally, but only after a series of fast-moving, ridiculously funny adventures, or mis-adventures, I should say. Betty, Harry's wife, is the personification of the eternal feminine. She's pretty, she's stylish, she's spoiled, she feels she is badly used, but cannot reconcile herself to view impartially the paid woman in the case when she sees her. Hubby, left alone with his wife, offers never to see Hattie again, and together they live over again the romantic days of their honeymoon, abroad, on the ocean and at their lovely "Wildwood" estate on the Hudson. This reminiscing scene, by the way, is one of the best things Miss Vaughn has done here. She is quite the romantic, petted, altogether charming little wife, who does not really want to go her own way and who is beginning to be very sorry at the idea of losing friend husband. Don't bother any more about the plot. There are many features of this play you must see to appreciate—how the married couple decided on a second honeymoon, how the law and an isolated roadhouse interfered with their plans how the "other woman" insisted on her pound of flesh, and finally how it all ends happily. You will like your favourites better than ever, so, remember, Monday night, October 24th, goes down in your engagement book as "Rex Night."

A Shakespeare Play

On Saturday evening, October 29, one of Shakespeare's most popular comedies, "The Taming of the Shrew," will be presented at the Grand by Mr. Walter Hampden, who has two leading women and an efficient cast of actors and actresses. He has won the unstinted praise of Metropolitan critics and is acclaimed as one of the youngest and most attractive interpreters of Shakespearian roles on the stage today. It is a common think to hear Shakespeare spoken of as "high-brow." Intellectually speaking, there is no question about it. William Shakespeare is the model upon which all English drama is founded—his stage career began behind the footlights, he was just a mediocre actor but was in and about the theatre constantly. The Elizabethan Theatre was not the institution that we know in modern times—large, comfortable buildings, furnished beautifully and accommodation for elaborate staging and scenic effects. In Shakespeare's day the theatre was a primitive affair, containing certain reservations for the aristocracy and merely benches or standing room for the mob. Among these surroundings, young Master William turned from the poor current reproductions of Greek and Roman drama, from the mystery plays and pantomime of the late middle ages and created modern English drama. Ben Jonson and Marlowe had written some few English works that found their way to public presentation, but on a stage consisting of a raised platform with frequently one setting, consisting of a few chairs, a table and changes of scene made by placing a card on an easel reading "A market place, etc.," Shakespeare produced his English versions of live, thrilling tales of murder, love, intrigue with an occasional comedy. He wrote of life, of human nature, of noble passions and of mean vices. But he could not overlook the lighter side of life, for comedy plays just as great a part in the world's history as does tragedy. The moot question as to Shakespeare's authorship is irrelevant. We have accepted him for more than three hundreds years, and occasional efforts to fasten his work on others, to claim Bacon as the "man who wrote Shakespeare," only serves to add spice to the little authentic detail we have concerning the bard's personal history. The source of Shakespeare's inspiration was the result of vast reading and observation.

Introducing Paint Products You Became Familiar with Years Ago

TO-DAY many of the finishing varnishes and paints used by industrial concerns are made by Scarfe's.

For forty-four years Scarfe's have been making Quality Finishes for the leading manufacturers of Canada. The "brand-new" finishes on the majority of their manufactured products have been supplied from our plant.

Scarfe's products, after forty-four years' test, are offered to the public for the first time in cans.

The Paints, Varnishes, Stains, etc., put up by Scarfe for the householder are of the same high quality that has placed Scarfe's products foremost in favor of among the industrial users of Canada.

"FATHERS AND SONS" AT GEORGE ST.

Two hundred fathers and sons in an immense gathering at George Street Methodist Church last evening made church history. Such a large family had never assembled in George Street Church at such a call before, and from the eloquence of the gathering the masculine element in the congregation should follow in the pathwayestablished by John Wesley with coherence and undying zeal.

Commencing at 6.30 o'clock, the ladies of the church served supper complete to the last detail ,and the asthetic senses were pleased by softly shaded lights and scintillating music by the orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. W. H. Cunningham.

Rev. Harold W. Young was chair, man, song leader, and half a dozen other things.

"This father and son banquet is not an isolated event in our church year," said Rev. Mr. Young. He said that all year long they were trying to bring the fathers and sons more together. He said they were doing their best to build the boys' character along the Canadian Standard Efficiency Tests programme to make them like Jesus in wisdom, in stature, and in favour with God and man. "I hope you will give us your co-operation in this, fathers," said Rev. Mr. Young. "We want to ask you to show your enjoyment of this banquet in a very practical way—we want you to lend your support so the boys can do their part in building up this great Canada of ours."

Toast to Fathers.

In proposing the toast to the fathers, Mr. Reg. Cuffe appealed to the fathers to be chums with their boys in every way.

In reply, Mr. E. E. Ingall urged the same thought. To equip the boy for the grave problems of life, he advised the fathers to tell their sons of the pitfalls, and to encourage them to seek the higher things in life.

The toast to the sons was ably proposed by Mr. H. G. Walker, and responded to by Mr. Charles Elliott.

Proposing the toast to the Methodist Church, Mr. S. R. Armstrong drew a significance between the Methodist revival and the social reform in England. "We know of the Methodist movement's religious revival, but I believe more than that, that it had a great effect on the social and economic life of the people. John Wesley was born in 1703, and he died in 1791, and the First Reform Bill of Lord Grey was passed in 1823." Mr. Armstrong said he believed this Bill was passed largely because the Methodist revival of truth had been proclaimed to the British people. "I believe," said Mr. Armstrong, "that so long as the Methodist Church emphasises these great theological facts, it will have not only a great religious effect but an effect on social and economic conditions throughout the world."

Former Pastor Present.

It was quite appropriate that Rev. W. R. Young, D.D., of College St. Methodist Church, Toronto, should participate in the father and son banquet. He is a former pastor of George Street Church, and parent of Rev. Harold W. Young. He replied to the toast to the Church. "The Methodist Church," he said, "goes back to a time worthy of great study. John Wesley ushered in a new religion, a new Christianity that saved England from the horrors of a French Revolution, saved her from sin, and gave her a new start. John Wesley transformed religion from a theory into a living experience."

Great Missionary Institute.

He spoke in glowing terms of the Church's missionary efforts. "The Methodist Church stands for the great missionary institute of the world. From the very first Methodism has been a great missionary institute." He said last year $1,082,000 was contributed in Canadian Methodism for missions.

In conclusion, he declared the Methodist Church to have led in social reform, and he spoke reverently of the pioneer Methodism work of Egerton Ryerson in the Province of Ontario.

The remarks of Rev. W. H. Hincks, D.D., of High Park Methodist Church, Toronto, who was the guest of honour, the toast to whom wos proposed by Mr. A. A. Fowler, will long be verdant to George Street men. "Masculine atmosphere is necessary in the life of the church," he said. "Christianity began in the person of one man. He was the only one who understood the complexity of the world's sorrows and how to meet it.

"In those early days woman's industry was a little back of the firing line. The men were strong and virulent, and we need the same thing to-day. Young men are likely to drift away from the church if it has a molly-coddling atmosphere. Keep a masculine atmosphere very much to the front so it will co-operate with the feminine atmosphere.

"At the present hour," said Dr. Hincks, "the Methodist Church is calling for 'pep,' energy, initiative. It seems to me the gathering of fathers and sons all over Canada is one of the finest notes in Canadian Methodism, and will develop potentialities little dreamed to be there. The masculine atmosphere will promote what Canada and the world needs so virtually—unity."

Disintegration Noticeable.

"Disintegration is noticeable," Dr. Hincks sand, and declared, "It's a man's job to keep the unity of our world, to keep the unity of our Empire and our Church. In Canada we are in danger of disintegration. There should be no East and West, no division between country and city. Never has there been a more critical hour in the history of this country.

"Now is the time," he said, "for the Church to bring about a unified Church, a unified State, a unified world, and unified humanity. We need the masculine atmosphere to promote service, and this atmosphere is compatible with the humble sense of our dependence on God."

PRAYER.

(From the Persian.)

He prayed, but to his prayer no answer came,
And choked within him sank his ardour's flame;
No more he prayed; no more the knee he bent,
While round him darkened doubt and discontent;
Till in his room, one eve, there shone a light,
And he beheld an angel-presence bright,
Who said, "Oh faint-heart, why hast thou resigned Praying, and no more callest God to mind?"
"I prayed," he said, "but no one answered prayer; Long disappointment has induced despair."
"Fool!" said the angel, "every prayer of thine
Of God's immense compassion was a sign;
Each cry of thine, 'O Lord!' itself contains
The answer, 'Here am I'; thy very pains,
Ardour and love and longing and each tear
Are His attraction, prove Him very near."

The cloud dispersed; once more the suppliant prayed,
Nor ever failed to find the promised aid.

JUST GRINNED WHEN LAID OFF.

Had Fallen Heir to $100,000.

FLINT, Oct. 21.—"I'm sorry, but I will have to lay you off for a few days," John Mahoney, foreman in a plant, told Alex. Simmon, aged native of Persia, and a 45-cent-an-hour man, Monday.

"I don't care; look what I've got here."

He pulled from a pocket of his overalls a document he had just received informing him that he had fallen heir to $100,000 worth of property in Persia, through the death of his father.

He will leave shortly for Persia to enjoy his fortune.

At The Theatres

He gleaned knowledge from soldiers, sailors and from men in the train of foreign diplomats, for Elizabeth, England's first ruler to advance the cause of her island kingdom on the continent, drew men of all nations to her throne. She was a great patron of the theatre, and encouraged by her presence, the efforts of the young playwright advanced fast. The actual plots of Shakespeare's works were taken from classic history from Italian and French, as well as Scandinavian legends, and from early English stories. Master of every secret of human nature, a born story-teller, his blank verse places before our minds accurate pictures and vivid descriptions of life. He has condensed the thoughts and motions of scores of persons into the space of play of ordinary length, and, above all, properly acted, with attractive and suitable scenery, Shakespeare appeals to all classes of people.

Mr. Walter Hampden, whom we shall have with us a week from to-night, claims, and rightly so, that it is a mistaken idea that Shakespeare is involved, that his meaning is difficult to reach and that he only appeals to the cultured. He does appeal to them, but he also appeals to the crowd. He wrote for the theatre, not for the library shelf, and in his own day he drew everyone. Some intellectuals make a fetish of proclaiming an author's value by the difficulty with which he is read. "Browning Clubs" usually read far more meaning into Browning's poetry than ever the author dreamed of. So Mr. Hampden makes a special plea to play-goers to forget the traditions which surround Shakespeare's plays and think of them as possessing the highest entertainment value. New York critics proclaim him the greatest "Hamlet" since Edwin Booth, the finest "Romeo" of this generation, and, I believe, as "Petructrio" in "The Taming of the Shrew," he is quite irresistible. He is handsome, virile, passionate and, altogether, a conquering master, whom any woman might well love and to whom she could surrender without prejudice to her pride. His leading woman in this bill, Miss Mary Mall, is an actress o wide ability and experience. She has won great praise from Boston critics, where she is well known and liked. Mr. Hampden, an American by birth, has had his training in the severe school of the English theatres. Sir Frank Benson and H. B. Irving are mainly responsible for his early years, while he played with Waller and the late Beerholm Tree for years. Most of his company are also English actors, who have been very successful and afford him excellent support. Hector Charlesworth, the last word on dramatic criticism in Toronto, endorses Mr. Hampden in superlative terms. Besides his articles in Saturday Night, Mr. Charlesworth sent his personal endorsation to Mr. Hampden for his Canadian tour, and there is no reason why people should not take the opportunity so rarely afforded of seeing a Shapespearian production of the very highest order.

It is a matter of great regret to have to announce that the de Courville Revue is cancelled. The show is playing to bumper houses in Toronto, and it is absolutely impossible to give the production in any of the one-night stands. We are missing a great treat and Trans-Canada regrets exceedingly that, or the present, at any rate, the big show will only play the big cities. LAURA.

Childish sports may satisfy the children, but annoys the neighbors.

The Rundown May Run Up In Health

Weekly Health Talk No. 40
By A. P. Rogers, D.C.

A run-down physical condition is the invariable result of a chronic weakness. Constant pain or dragging weakness will rob the sufferer of vitality. Quite often the appearance is unchanged, but the sufferer knows a difference.

Uncle Ben Says:
"Better music than the ring of money is the ring of health in your voice."

Ordinarily when a man finds himself in such a condition, the family physician advises a vacation. But the cause is not removed by a vacation. The vacation will help, perhaps, if the sufferer is taking Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments to remove the cause of his weakness. Rest and adjustments will restore, but rest alone will only postpone another breakdown.

HEALTH FOLLOWS
CHIROPRACTIC CORRECTS PRESSURE ON SPINAL NERVES IN DISEASES OF THE FOLLOWING ORGANS:

THE LOWER NERVE UNDER THE MAGNIFYING GLASS IS PINCHED BY A MISALIGNED JOINT. PINCHED NERVES CANNOT TRANSMIT HEALTHFUL IMPULSES. CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTING REMOVES THE PRESSURE. THE UPPER NERVE IS FREE AS NATURE INTENDS.

BREAKDOWN CAUSE IS REMOVED HEALTH FOLLOWS

"I was afflicted with what was called tuberculosis of the hips for three years. I was in bed for six months on two different occasions. I was run down in flesh, weak and pale and incapable of work. I was advised to try chiropractic. After three adjustments I was able to get up. I continued until about one year ago, and I have been well ever since. I cannot praise chiropractic enough." Wilbur Lee, Chiropractic Research Bureau Statement No. 1282R.

Dr. J. Vernon Hayes died at St. Joseph's Hospital at 8.30 o'clock last night after living for 48 hours with a fracture at the base of the skull. He never regained consciousness, and slept peacefully away. Every possible medical effort had been made to save Dr. Hayes' life, but from the first there had been but feeble hope, and Dr. Silverthorne, chief surgeon of St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, who attended him, could give the sorrowing family little encouragement.

The sad accident has cast a gloom over the entire city, for the young practitioner was loved and held in the highest esteem in every circle in the city. Prayers that his life might be saved were made in church and household, and news from the sick chamber was eagerly awaited by his friends in the hope that their might be some hopes for his recovery.

In all ranks in the city to-day sympathy was expressed for the sorrowing family, who still mourn the loss of another son, Dr. Bert Hayes, who passed away two years ago, and to Dr. Hayes' young wife, formerly Miss Anna Bowie, of Toronto.

Dr. Hayes was born in Peterborough 29 years ago last April, and received his early education at the Separate School and Collegiate Institute. For two years he attended Ottawa University, where he distinguished himself in sports, particularly in rugby and baseball. He received his medical degree at Toronto University, and before commencing practice in Peterborough, in December, 1919, was for two years interim at St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto. He was a member of the Peterborough Medical Society.

Dr. Hayes, although he only practiced here a comparatively short time, had established an enviable reputation as a skilful doctor, and a bright career as a physician was cut short by the very sad accident. Dr. Hayes enjoyed the confidence of the medical fraternity, and the physicians of the city mourn the death of the young doctor, who had all the promise of years of service and usefulness before him.

Mrs. J. Vernon Hayes and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hayes, his parents, and brothers and sisters will be extended the sympathy of the community. Three brothers, Carl, Cecil and Dr. William, and two sisters, Marion and Alice, survive.

IN MEMORIAM.
FAGAN.—In loving memory of Jas. Fagan, who died Oct. 23rd, 1918.
"When alone in our sorrow and bitter tears flow,
The thoughts of our dear boy three years ago;
We miss him and mourn him in silence unseen,
But cherish the memory of days that have been."
—From Father, Brother and Sister.

IN MEMORIAM
GOSELIN—In ever loving memory of my dear brother Isidore who died October 23rd., 1918.

Days of sadness still come o'er me,
Tears of sorrow often flow,
Memory keeps my brother near me
Whom God called three years ago.
There is a link death cannot sever,
Love and remembrance last forever.

MRS. GENTILLE.

IN MEMORIAM.
In loving memory of my dear husband, Pte. H. York, who departed this life Oct. 23, 1918:
This day brings memories sad but sweet
Of a dear one laid to rest.
Of a loving husband and father and a friend
The very best we think of him in silence
No eye can see us weep,
But treasured in our inmost heart
His memory we'll keep.
Though his loving voice is silent
And his heart has ceased to beat,
We miss his well known footsteps
And the face we used to greet,
How can we on earth forget him,
Broken though the circle be,
But hope in heaven some day to meet him
And then united be.
—Inserted By His Loving Wife and Family.

JONES. — In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. W. M. Jones, who died on 23rd October, 1920.

O! mother dear, how we miss you,
Tis God alone can tell;
Friends may think we oft forget you
When at times they see us smile,
But they little know the sorrow
That's concealed behind that smile;
In thoughts we see your dear, kind face,
And kiss your tender brow;
But in our aching hearts we know
We have no mother now.

HOPE LIVES

while life lasts, but better than hope are the scientific facts upon which CHIROPRACTIC is based.

YOUR CHILD'S FUTURE

depends largely upon the health and energy of his or her childhood and youth. A good foundation of perfect health and proper training in logical health methods now will mean more to your child in future years than any amount of wealth. HEALTH IS A NATURAL PROCESS. Nature is an economist first and last, and each organ in your child's body was put there for a specific purpose. You owe it to your child to investigate the Science of Chiropractic. Chiropractic is the science of common-sense applied to the human machine. It is a philosophy, science and art of things natural, and a system of adjusting the subluxated vertebrae of the spinal column by hand for the restoration and preservation of health. It is absolutely opposed to anything unnatural, and its millions of results have proven the correctness of its principles.

PARALYSIS

used to condemn a person to a life of uselessness and suffering. A few years ago people so afflicted travelled about from place to place vainly seeking relief, only to give up the quest as useless and settle down to an invalid's life.

To tolerate such a condition is no longer necessary. Chiropractic has proven that paralysis has a CAUSE—the impingement of a nerve as it emits from the spine—and by removing that cause the paralysis disappears. DON'T SUFFER. DON'T BE CONTENT WITH A HOPELESS OUTLOOK. LET US EXPLAIN TO YOU THE SCIENCE OF CHIROPRACTIC AND THE REMARKABLE RESULTS OBTAINED BY IT.

FATE OF IRISH PARLEYS AGAIN IS IN BALANCE

DEPENDS ON SINN FEIN'S REPLY TO LLOYD GEORGE'S ULTIMATUM DEMANDING ALLEGIANCE

BELIEVED DOOR LEFT OPEN BY DEVALERA YET

BY ED. L. KEEN.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Oct. 24. — The fate of the Irish peace conference hung on the Sein Fein's decision to be announced late this afternoon, when pour parlors were resumed at 10 Downing Street, upon Premier Lloyd Georges' ultimatum demanding allegiance to the Crown.

It was believed that Michael Collins had brought back from Dublin a "way out," through which Sinn Fein, without flatly repudiating Eamonn DeValera, could promise possible allegiance and bring about a continuation of the conference.

The British Prime Minister asked the Irish delegates for a statement in explanation of De Valera's letter to the Pope which indicated Ireland would not profess allegiance to the British Crown.

Michael Collins was immediately sent to Dublin to consult with the Republican President. He returned here yesterday and it was reported that he had brought a message to the effect that the Irish plenipotentiaries were not of necessity bound by De Valera's remarks.

The British Cabinet Committee will probably be told this afternoon that while DeValera's letter to the Pope repudiated allegiance to the King in the past this does not bar allegiance in the future.

The possibilities of the conference continuing, the report says, were good.

SAY PROVINCE MUST HELP TO CURB BANDITS

ROBBERIES IN WESTERN ONTARIO LEAD TO PROPOSAL THAT PROVINCE BEAR EXPENSE OF HUNTING ROBBERS.

SCOPE OF ACTIVITIES TOO WIDE FOR CITIES

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

LONDON, Oct. 24.—What must be done to cope with banditry? That is the question the people of the London district are asking as a result of the experiences of recent months in connection with the Garfield hold-ups and the Woodstock murder, the Murrell robberies and the murder at Melbourne, and finally the Wyoming bank robbery.

That the onus is on the police and public of every community to suppress such lawlessness is generally admitted, but law enforcement, it has been found, costs money. Thus the question arises, who will foot the bills?

When the Melbourne bank robbery occurred a telephone call was sent to London police headquarters for aid, and a fast car, with a crew of detectives, maintained by the taxpayers of London, was sent on a series of wild cross-country chases that got results, but cost money.

Wyoming repeated the process the other day, though fifty miles from London, and again a London car and police were hurried out. London was asked to take charge of the situation. Motor cycle officers dashed out over the roads, long distance telephone wires were burned up in an effort to head the bandits off at St. Mary's, Stratford, Galt, Guelph or Hamilton. London tax money financed part of the venture, but the pressure abated a little until the Bank of Toronto, as the most interested party, agreed to foot some of the bills.

The remedy, according to those who have encountered these obstables to law enforcement, must come from the Provincial Government. A new situation has arisen and new measures must be adopted to meet them. In the old days a crook's activities were more or less localized, and it was safe to leave the local authorities to deal with him. Now he steals an automobile in Thorndale, cracks a bank in Wyoming, and gallops back over a score of municipalities in the direction of Hamilton or Toronto.

To get him the municipal police must be tied together in a co-operative organization, to be financed in such cases by the people at large, through the Provincial Government.

The proposal is that a fund should be appropriated and held for emergencies. Then, in the event of such robberies as these at Melbourne or Wyoming, the chase would not be impeded by reluctance to assume what are, after all, trivial expenses. London police could use their own equipment or hire more. The commercial traveller or the doctor could rely upon it that if the Government would not leave him to foot expenditures undertaken in the public interest and when the best had been done that could be done, it is felt, that the Government could and should compensate those who had a reasonable claim endorsed by responsible persons.

Federation of Labor, Against Rail Strike, Will Discourage Other Walk-Outs in Sympathy

WASHINGTON, October 24 (United Press). — High officials of the American Federation of Labour are opposed to a rail strike at the present time, it was learned to-day.

Every effort will be made by Federal centres here to discourage strikes by other groups of union labour in sympathy with the rail workers.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, October 24 (United Press). — Brotherhood chiefs to-day declared that railway service could be as effectively tied up by their own efforts as with the aid of the associated unions.

BLUENOSE WINS SECOND RACE; BLUE RIBBON GOES TO CANADA

CANADIAN SCHOONER CAPTURES COVETED BLUE RIBBON OF THE NORTH ATLANTIC, WITH SECOND CONSECUTIVE VICTORY.

(Special Despatch to The Examiner.)

HALIFAX, Oct. 24. — (Canadian Press.)—Canada to-day won the International fishermen's trophy when Bluenose led the American Elsie across the finishing line by over a mile in the second race of the series. The Boston schooner, Mayflower, barred from the contest, created a sensation when she joined in the race against the legitimate contenders, but she was soon out of luck and gave up a full mile short of the second mark. As in Saturday's race, windward work told the story.

HALIFAX, Oct. 24.—Americans hope in the contest for the American speed championship of the North Atlantic fishing fleet, the Gloucester schooner Elsie, got away first today in the second race of the regatta. She crossed the starting line at 9:00.02. The Bluenose, the Canadian schooner which won the first race Saturday by more than a mile, crossed the line at 9:01.52. If the Bluenose wins to-day she will take the Fishermen's Trophy, which is now held by America.

The schooners stood away, for the first buoy was almost abeam with a wind blowing ten knots from the northwest. The Elsie was well in the lead at the first mark, six miles from the start. She passed the mark at 9:45.20. The Bluenose passed it at 9:46.

The Elsie held about the same lead as the two rounded the outer mark. The Elsie passed it at 10:36.49, and Blue Nose passed it at 10:47.15. The wind had increased to about 18 knots an hour at this time.

LLOYD GEORGE MAY VISIT TORONTO

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

TORONTO, October 24. — The following cable has been received from Premier Lloyd George in response to a joint invitation from the Canadian and Empire Clubs to visit Toronto, should he attend the Washington conference:

"I greatly appreciate your invitation, and will not forget it. I do not yet know, however, whether political and other considerations will permit of my visiting America, and I greatly fear in any case that I shall have little timt to spare for public engagements, outside of the work of the conference, but if I visit Washington I shall be exceedingly anxious to go to Canada too, if only to say one woed of heartfelt thanks to your great Dominion for the immortal service it rendered to the Empire and humanity at our side in the great war. I will assuredly bear your invitation in mind if I am able to visit Toronto, as I should very much like to do.—Lloyd George."

CHINAMAN SHOT ATTEMPTING TO SHIELD MOTHER

ROBBERS ESCAPE IN AUTOMOBILE AFTER MURDER, LEAVING NO CLUES BEHIND THEM.

ABANDONED CAR FOUND BURNED IN THE BUSH

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

NORTH BAY, Oct. 24.—Shot in the heart, George Young, 20 years of age, a Chinaman engaged at one of the laundries here, was instantly killed when he attempted to prevent two early morning intruders from entering the room where his mother lay sleeping. The woman, who is also Chinese, and middle aged, received a scalp wound, but is not seriously hurt. There is no clue to the murderer or his companion, although the police have notified all the towns in the district to be on the look-out.

One of the men is said to be tall, and the pair are believed to have made their escape in an automobile, but beyond this the police have little to work upon. The men were seen

AN OPEN LETTER

To the People of Peterborough:

A $600,000 building must be erected to replace the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives; burned down last November. Otherwise hundreds of patients suffering from consumption will be forced, for want of room, to return to their own homes, thus endangering the lives of themselves, their families, and the public. These patients have been occupying crowded summer quarters; other sufferers have been clamoring for months to get into the Hospital and would also be forced to remain in their own homes, spreading the disease.

The Institutions of the National Sanitarium Association in Muskoka and at Weston have also other large needs. In 25 years they have made it possible for 15,000 consumptives to leave their homes and their work, where they were infecting others, have cared for them, and returned 7,500 back to their homes and their work, either completely cured or greatly benefitted. This great work for suffering humanity must either take a great step backward, if the new building is not provided — which is unthinkable—or a great step forward, by erecting it quickly; the answer lies with us and with the other citizens of Ontario—and we know what it will be. This is why we, in Peterborough, are asked to take our equal shares with other places all over the Province of Ontario in the great emergency Million Dollar Movement on behalf of suffering consumptives.

The City of Toronto was asked to raise $635,000, or $1.25 per head of population. The City of Peterborough is only asked to raise $10,000, or about 50c. a head. We all know that this is not the best time for an appeal, but we have no choice as to the time—the Hospital has been burned down and must be replaced. This is an immediate and urgent need, and must be met by immediate and urgent action.

During the past 20 years a number of consumptives from this district have been treated and cared for in these institutions, the great majority of these received all their treatment without one cent of payment or expense to themselves or to the citizens of Peterborough, either for food, sleeping quarters, attendance of nurses and doctors, or even toward the building in which they were cared for. It is fair to say that Peterborough has greatly benefitted by the care of its suffering consumptives in these institutions, apart altogether from the protection given to those who remain behind, by removing the danger of infection.

An influential Committee of Citizens have undertaken to call upon the people of Peterborough to secure their contributions to this splendid work.

This letter is to ask you to extend a cordial seception to those who call upon you, and to do the big-hearted, generous thing for the consumptives when you subscribe.

On Behalf of the Committee:
Mayor A. A. McIntyre, Hon. Chairman; G. A. Gillespie, Chairman; W. G. Morrow, Vice-Chairman; W. R. Morris, Secretary; W. H. Dunsford, Treasurer; J. J. Turner, Thomas Barrie, Adjutant W. Buntin, S. R. Armstrong, R. M. Glover, W. D. Tyrer, C. E. Jamieson.

WAR CLOUDS GATHERING OVER HUNGARY AS KARL EXECUTED COUP D'ETAT

CZECH GOVERNMENT GIVES EX-EMPEROR 48 HOURS TO LEAVE COUNTRY AND "LITTLE ENTENTE" MOBILIZES—BRITAIN TO SUPPORT ANY ACTION FOR ARREST OF KARL—CONFLICTING REPORTS AGREE THAT MONARCHISTS ARE FIGHTING NEAR BUDAPEST.

VIENNA, October 24 (United Press). — Former Emperor Karl has been defeated in a battle at the very gates of Budapest, and his troops have been thrown back from the city, the official Hungarian agency announced to-day.

Advices sent out by this agency stated that the battle took place between Budapest and Budanene.

Karl, with from 10,000 to 20,000 troops, attacked fiercely. He was repulsed and prevented from entering the capital, it was announced.

Earlier and unofficial press reports said Karl had won this battle and entered the city.

(United Press.)

PRAGUE, October 24. — An ultimatum, with a forty-eight hour time limit, demanding the removal of ex-Emperor Karl from Hungary, was despatched to Budapest after a meeting of the Czech Cabinet to-day.

(United Press.)

LONDON, October 24. — It was learned here that the Entente representatives at Budapest presented a formal demand to the Horty Government on Sautrday, that the ex-Emperor be immediately arrested and expelled from Hungary.

Britain, it was reliably learned to-day, has agreed to support any action the "Little Entente" may take for the arrest of Karl.

AMBASSADORS' COUNCIL DEMANDS KARL TO LEAVE

(By United Press.)

PARIS, October 24. — The Council of the Allied Ambassadors met here to-day to decide upon measures to be taken with regard to ex-Emperor Karl's attempted coup de'etat in Hungary.

Word was received by the Council from Prague and from Belgrade that Czecho-Slovak and Serbian troops were massing on the border of Hungary, ready for action.

It was believed that the Allies would not opose intervention by the "little entente" in case Karl's coup proved temporarily successful.

The last word the Ambassadors' Council had received up to the time of its meeting was that the former Emperor with 15,000 troops, accompanied by former Empress Zita 15,000 troops, accompanied by former Empress Zita, and a provisoinal ministry was still fighting at Budanere, 15 miles from Budapest.

A note to the Hungarian Government demanding that the former Emperor Karl be forced to leave the country immediately, was despatched by the council.

RUMOR KARL CHECKED.

VIENNA, October 24. — Checked in his attempted coup d'etat by Hungarian troops loyal to the Horthy Government, ex-Emperor Karl, with between ten and twenty thousand troops, was to-day reported to be leading his men in battle between Budanen and Budapest.

Reports said that the troops of the Regent Horthy were deserting in large numbers to the Karlist colors; others reported that the Hungarian regulars had repulsed the invaders.

KARL ASSASSINATED?

LONDON, October 24. — Ex-Emperor Karl of Hungary has been assassinated, according to a news gencry report from Vienna, which is unconfirmed.

BUDAPEST QUIET.

BUDAPEST, October 24. — The Hungarian capital was quiet to-day, despite the reports that the troops of ex-Emperor Karl were at the gates. There were no disorders. The patriotic associations were organizing to fight against the Karlist troops.

[The above is the last direct message received from Budapest.]

Karl and the Empress Zita pushed forward with their troops to Komorn in their first drive towards Budapest. There the ex-Emperor found the railway destroyed and his advance halted. The invading forces were then withdrawn to Steinamanger, where they spent Saturday night.

KARL SAYS HE ANSWERS APPEAL OF HIS SUBJECTS

(United Press.)

GENEVA, October 24.— "It is only in response to the urgent appeal of my subjects that I go home to rule," ex-Emperor Karl of Hungary wrote in a farewell note to the Swiss government published to-day.

It was denied hee that Count Appony would participate in Karl's government, if one were set up.

The Swiss view of the matter is that there will be a brief civil war in Hungary, a railway strike to prevent troops movements by the monarchists, and the end of the Karlist coup.

National Sanitarium Campaign Bulletin

Peterborough, Oct. 24nd, 1921

A glad home-coming is one of the pleasantest things on earth. When a traveller has been out on a trip of one week or one month, nothing seems quite as good as home, and the ones at home look eagerly forward to the time when they shall hear the well-known step on the porch, and the familiar voice in the hall. If the return from an ordinary journey is so pleasant, can you imagine what the return would be like for one who was carried from home to take what perhaps might be a last trip—a trip to the Muskoka Hospital? Think how anxiously the letters would be watched for, how eagerly they would be devoured as they told of how wonderful a place Muskoka was, and how much good the life-giving air, the peaceful surroundings, proper food and medical attendance were doing.

Think what a home-coming that would be when finally the loved one was restored to the home—strong and well once more.

Such things are happening, but the happenings are not nearly as frequently as they should be. The buildings that were burned at the Muskoka Hospital must be re-built or the work they are doing cannot go on. It is not for unknown persons the buildings are wanted, but for friends in our own city. There is more than one walking the streets of Peterborough to-day who can testify as to what Muskoka has done for them. It's a home work for home people. The committee is composed of home men whom you know and have confidence in. Don't make their work any more difficult than necessary. They are giving their time and energy to a difficult task. When they call, give them a cheerful greeting, and be glad you have a chance to help in the work of replacing the Muskoka building.

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at Once When Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudly, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. The famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritatios, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

IN EMPTY TANK CAR, BOY DIES.

While Salvaging Gasoline Was Imprisoned.

SUPERIOR, Wis., October 22. — Imorisoned in an almost empty gasoline tank car, Maynard Larson, 15 years old, son of Albert Larson, of Sandstone, Minn., died en route from Sandstone to Omaha, according to word received by Great Northern officials here.

Larson and another boy set out with tin cans to salvage gasoline from the bottom of the car after it had been emptied. The other boy went home for more cans, and returned to find the car gone.

Several days later when he heard of Larson's disappearance, he told of having seen him last inside the empty gasoline tank.

Great Northern officials traced the car to Omaha, where the body was found. Larson was a nephew of Representative Larson, of the Sandstone District in the Minnesota Legislature.

KARL NEAR BUDAPEST---TRAINMEN STRIKE---IRISH CRISIS

TO-DAY'S NEWS OF THE DISTRICT

INSTITUTE MEETING HELD AT FRASERVILLE CHURCH

WAS THE CULMINATION OF FOUR SUCH GATHERINGS — MILLBROOK AND DISTRICT NEWS OF INTEREST.

OFF TO FLORIDA

MILLBROOK, Oct. 24. — The Sunday School Institute held in the Methodist church, Fraserville, on Friday, October 21st, was the culmination of four such gatherings held on successive days this week, the other three, begining on Tuesday, being at Peterborough, Bethel and Bethany. A unique feature of the Fraserville Institute was the combining of the annual fowl supper, given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid, with the Institute using the evening session for programme in place of the form of entertainment usually provided, but adding some special musical numbers contributed by a quartette from Millbrook, composed of Mrs. O. G. Urry, Miss May and Mr. J. L. Byam, and Mr. Frank Alcorn. Mrs. Urry also sang a solo, "A Dream of Paradise," in her usual sweet voice.

These Institutes are under the direction of the Rev. James E. Beckel of Bethany, who is the director of religious education for Peterborough district, and hold two sessions, the afternoon one being at 2 o'clock and the evening at 7. Almost impassable roads in one direction ,and various other causes, combined to lessen the attendance in the afternoon on Friday, but the church was well filled at night.

That the usual combination of a fowl supper and a Sunday School Institute can be a success was demonstrated by the tact that the ladies took in $70 at supper time, very generously contributing $8 of that amount to Mr. Beckel toward the expenses of the Institute since the usual evening offering was omitted from the programme. The supper was a most bountiful one, well cooked, and well served ,and deservedly received much praise from those fortunate enough to be present and enjoy the good things provided.

Last year the keynote of the Institute programmes was "Methods," this year it was "Evangelism," this being the main thought developed in every paper, and discussion of the two sessions.

Sunday Schools.

Rev. Andrew McLaughlin, of Pontypool, speaking on "The Spiritual Objective of Our Sunday Schools," showed that this great aim is as wide as life itself, and can only be attained as the teachers in preparing his or her lesson, asks the question, "What do I aim to achieve this year in my class." And then makes every lesson contribute to the great objective of developing informed, working Christians. This is the consuming purpose of the whole church, and the Sunday school is the machinery of most use and importance in accomplishing the task.

Mr. McLaughlin quoted some figures from the Toronto Star, stating that in a census of the boys in the Public and High schools of that city, between the ages of ten and eighteen years, ninety-one per cent. were found to be attending Sunday school, and this fact the speaker

CHARLES' TROOPS NEAR THE HUNGARIAN CAPITAL.

VIENNA, October 24 (Canadian Press). — Military forces supporting former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary in his second attempt to regain the throne in Hungary, have reached Budacrs, four miles from the Hungarian capital, where sharp fighting was in progress yesterday afternoon.

Admiral Horthy, Regent of Hungary, is reported to be personally leading the troops against Charles.

The forces of Charles aggregated several battalions. They arrived at Budacrs early yesterday morning.

The sound of the guns was audible in Budapest.

ACUTE CRISIS AT PEACE MEET

CONTINUANCE OF NEGOTIATIONS OVER IRELAND EXPECTED, HOWEVER.

LONDON, Oct. 24.— (Canadian Press.)—With Prime Minister Lloyd George week-ending at his country home at Chequere Court and Michael Collins, head of the Irish delegation in London, gone to Dublin, no important developments in the Irish negotiations are expected until the conference is resumed this afternoon.

That an acute crisis has been reached was admitted by both sides, but the general opinion last night was that the resentment expressed by the British represenatives toward Eamonn de Valera's message to the Pope would be smoothed over and that the negotiations would proceed.

Some afternoon papers Saturday asserted that Mr. De Valera's message was approved, or authorized, by the Sinn Fein delegates but independent inquiries in Sinn Fein circles elicited no such expression, none of the delegates being willing to voice an opinion.

"If Mr. de Valera's reiteration in his telegram to the Pope of the principle he enunciated long ago, and has never abandoned, produces a hubub," commented one Sinn Fein leader, "then we may expect other crises whe nthe conference takes up the real issues involved."

It was stated last night that although considerable progress was made in the preliminary discussions regarding the truce, the army, navy and finance, the recognized stumbling block—Ulster—has hardly been touched. It was understood that when the conference resumes to-day, Mr. Lloyd George will immediately bring up again the subject of Mr. De Valera's message and open up the question of the position of Sinn Fein regarding allegiance to the crown. Such a move, if taken would, it was pointed out on the British side, put the Sinn Fein delegates in the extremely difficult position of either repudiating Mr. De Valera—which of course is not expected—or of finding a formula for defining definitely Sinn Fein's attitude toward the British crown, which is recognized will be equally difficult.

A Harvest Supper.

The harvest supper given by the Tabernacle Church, English line, on Thursday, was a huge success. The church was crowded to its capacity, and the tables fairly groaned with the load of delicious eats provided by the ladies who quite retained their already good reputation for their sumptuous repasts. After ample justice had been done at the tables, the guests found their way way to the auditorium, where a most excellent programme was provided. Mrs. (Rev.) Seymour of Havelock, delighted the audience with her readings which were in each case heartily applauded. Mrs. (Rev.) J. E. Glover, in very fine voice, rendered several solos, which are always as much appreciated, as was also her duet with Miss Emma Meiklejohn, which was well received. Mrs. A. L. Malcolm rendered a solo very sweetly. The two numbers by the church choir were well received. Miss Hawley of town acted as accompanist for the evening in her usual efficient manner. Rev. Mr. Seymour of Havelock, gave a very fluent address, and Rev. J. E. Glover made a very capable chairman. The proceeds of the evening amounted to over $225. Some of those noticed from town were: Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Diamond, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. W J. Stillman, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. IRISH QUESTION SHOULD NOT FORCE AN ELECTION.

LONDON, Oct. 24. — (Canadian Press).—Speaking at the Labor conference at Southampton, Arthur Henderson, M.P., and secretary of the Labor Party, maintained that even if the Irish conference broke down it would be no justification for plunging the country into an immediate election. Far from settling things, he said, an election would unsettle everything and let loose forces in Ireland, and possibly England also, which would have the most appalling and devastating consequences. Therefore, he hoped the conference would be continued until a settlement is reached. The position, he said, was a difficult one, and he regretted that members of Parliament who claimed to support the Government, were badgering them with resolutions.

Dealing with unemployment, Mr. Henderson emphasized that many months must elapse before any alleviation of the position could be expected. The Government's steps so far to that end could be regarded only as preliminary.

EXPECT FURTHER RAIL RATE CUTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24. — By Canadian Press. — Saturday's decision by the interstate commerce commission making sweeping reductions in railroad rates on grain, grain products and hay will be followed by reductions in rates on other basic commodities, according to a high authority.

Lumber and coal are slated for cuts.

Saturday's decision will mean $32,000,000 less revenue per year for the roads. It is expected to lessen the extreme tension in the strike situation.

TRAINMEN ON INTERNATIONAL AND GREAT NORTHERN SYSTEM TIE UP FREIGHT SERVICE.

U. S. ATTORNEY-GENERAL CALLS CLINE TO CAPITAL

Following were Sunday's developments in the railroad strike situation:

San Antonio—Labor leaders claim strike of 600 trainmen on International and Great Northern, which started Saturday is "100 per cent. effective," but road says passenger service is unimpaired and that resumption of freight service, halted Saturday has been started. Unions announce no attempt would be made to interfere with efforts to resume full service.

Cleveland—Big Four Brotherhood chiefs say that if strike materializes the blame for it should be placed on the United States' Railway Labor Board and on the railroads.

Chicago—Railroads heads say action of majority of the eleven "standard" unions in refusing to join a strike now has broken the backbone of the proposed walkout.

Strike ballot being taken among 14.000 of organized signalmen. Result expected to be known Wednesday.

United States District Attorney Cline summoned to Washington by Attorney General Doughefty, presumably to discuss the strike situation.

Houston, Tex., Oct. 24.— (Canadian Press)—Three freight trains operated on the International and Great Northern System Sunday, General Manager E. C. Goforth announced. This follows a complete tie-up of freight service Saturday by the strike of approximately 600 union trainmen over the line.

Union officials have declared a policy of "hands off" and will not in any way interfere with the service, they say.

Mr. Goforth in discussing the partial resumption of freight service, stated that the crews were made up of recruits and officials having previous experience in train operation. No distinction is being made between union and non-union men, he stated, declaring that several appli

GOVERNMENT TROOPS BATTLING WITH MONARCHISTS NEAR CAPITAL WHILE JUGO-SLAVE MOBILIZE ON BORDER.

BELGRADE ASKS AID OF NEIGHBOURS AND ALLIES

VIENNA, Oct. 24. Canadian Press —The exact situation in Hungary is now beyond the knowledge of the Austrian foreign office, which has lost communication with Budapest. There have been all kinds of rumours, including one reporting the entry of Charles, the former King, into Budapest, and the defection of some of the government forces to Charles' banner as well as the repulse of the monarchist forces and other conflicting information. But it is known beyond a doubt that there has been a brisk and possibly sanguinary fighting close to Budapest.

A telephone message from Prague said that Charles had succeeded in reaching Budapest, while the Vienna Freie Presse announces that the Italian legation has received news from Budapest that some of the troops in that capital have declared in favor of Charles.

Early reports agree that the Karlists had been checked at Budaor, which is about 17 miles from Budapest, one of the despatches saying that the train that preceded Charles had reached that place, but was forced to back out hurriedly upon a show of resistance by the government troops. Oedenburg, Steinamanger and Stahlweissenburg troops, it is declared, are hastening to reinforce the ex-king, and the fact that bloodshed has begun is believed by those who know the Hungarian character to foreshadow a final grapple between the reactionary and the republican forces that will probably extend beyond the borders.

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, Oct. 24. Canadian Press. — Three divisions have been called to the colors to reinforce the troops on the Hungarian border, and all railroad communications with Hungary were occupied last night. The government is in communication with Czecho-Slovakia and Rumania, as well as with the allies, so that all may act in harmony.

BUDAPEST, Oct. 24. Canadian Press. — The Hungarian Government, while Charles and his army were yet some miles from the capital was standing firmly against his restoration to the throne. Government troops soon after word was received of the former King's intentions to invest or invade Budapest established a line of defence around the town of Bickewich, 50 miles from Budapest, which is held by regiments recruited from the Hapsburg-hating peasants of certain districts. These troops were under stringent orders to prevent the passage of Charles' train, and as a precaution the rails were torn up.

Charles evidently gained some ground, as the troops at Komorn who, according to previous report had turned back his train, are now said to have sworn allegiance to him. Former Empress Zita is believed to be with him, but is suffering from a cold which she acquired during her airplane trip.

GETTING ON THE LISTS.

In so far as the electors of the city of Peterborough are concerned, an article in these columns the other day in regard to the preparation of the voters' lists for the coming election may have been misleading. The reference was made in connection with conditions in the province generally, and not with the local situation, which by reason of last winter's by-election is materially different. Throughout Ontario the municipal lists will form the basis for the Federal lists, but in the City of Peterborough the lists used at the by-election last Februray will be employed as the foundation. Electors whose names appeared on that list will not be required to register, while an opportunity will be given for the registration of those who were not listed at that time. In the rural part of the West Peterborough riding the municipal lists, as everywhere else in the province except in this city, will be used as the basis. City voters are asked to pay particular attention to this point. The lists of the by-election are the only guide for them, and they must register if they are not listed therein, whether or not their names appear on the last municipal list.

DROP THE BONUS PROPOSAL.

The Great War Veterans' Association at its Port Arthur convention very wisely decided to drop the agitation for a further cash bonus for the ex-service men of Canada. "It was nearly the death knell of the Association," was the significant remark of one of the delegates in advocating the abandonment of the proposal. Many Canadian newspapers, the Examiner included, have consistently endeavoured to impress upon the returned men the impossibility of their demands for cash bonuses being granted and have emphasized the fact that the effort to secure the gratuities asked for was dividing the veterans into different bodies and alienating public sympathy from all of them. In some quarters this attitude of the newspapers was misunderstood and aroused the antagonism of a section of the ex-service men. But the Examiner — and doubtless all of its contemporaries who took a similar stand— feels that its attitude has been justified by the action of the Great War Veterans' Association, which has realized the folly of endeavoring to secure cash gratuities, and henceforth will concentrate on more feasible and more practicable forms of re-establishment for the returned men. There are still injustices that must be righted,, individual cases of neglect that must be taken care of official mistakes in pensions that must be corrected. There is much left for the G.W.V.A. to do, and the veterans will have the sympathy and good will of the people in their operations along the line indicated. They could not have hoped to have been similarly backed had they persisted in their drive for cash bonuses.

WALKING THE PLANK.

Despite Mr. Brethen's letter to the Examiner and his explanation of the recall system of the U.F.O., it is evident that the method he referred to by which a petition signed by 60 per cent. of the electorate was necessary to ensure the resignation of a Farmer member is not the one most in favour with the Agrarian party. There would be no class taint to the petition system and while it would rob the member of his independence, it would be less objectionable than other forms of the recall. But the United Farmers are discarding it because of the very fatcor that makes it less harmful in the opinion of the rest of the electorate. There is the obvious danger that others besides members of the Farmers' clubs might sign a petition and bring about the resignation of the member, and that would never, never do. The control of the member must rest entirely in the hands of the United Farmers. So a new method of recall has been devised. It is very simple ,and only the faithful can press the button. The candidate signs the recall resignation and places it in the hands of the executive committee of the Progressive party in his constituency. If his conduct at Ottawa happens to offend the Cabal at home, the delegates of the convention that nominated him are called together and the unfortunate member is compelled to "go on the carpet," with the executive acting as crown attorney and the delegates as jury. If it is established that he failed to vote for an experimental farm in every county or free tractors or some other boon that the home guard desire, a majority vote of the convention will convict him and he'll have to say goodbye to his $4,000 indemnity, his free pass on the railways and his banking privileges. The other fifty or sixty per cent. of the electorate in his riding may be perfectly satisfied with his conduct and his attitude on the different issues, but they do not count. It is explained that there is considerable difference of opinion over the recall question among the Progressives. It is not to be wondered at in view of the latest form it has taken.

TOO MUCH TALKING.

Now that the political campaign is getting under way, it is timely to remind those who are concerned with the direction of the affairs of the various parties that while the electors differ as to political platforms and issues they are a unit in denouncing certain features that have marked other contests and that can easily be spared from the present struggle. One of these is the custom of inviting a prominent chieftain to address a meeting and then spoiling the event for the visitor and the audience by unmuzzling a long list of half-baked local orators, each with nothing to say and requiring half an hour in which to say it, until the patience of the audience is exhausted and the orator of the evening has to curtail his address and even then is talking to a half-filled house. All political parties seem to make that mistake, and the whole effect of the visit of a party leader or lieutenant has often been spoiled as a result. Another bete noir is the garrulous chairman who insists on making a speech before and after each of the other addresses, summarizing what the previous speaker has said and guessing at what the next one is likely to say. He is a well meaning citizen usually, but that does not prevent him from boring his audience and doing much to ruin the meeting over which he presides. We get too much talking and not enough oratory in our political campaigns. The leaders themselves usually make their addresses too long to be wholly effective and they are handicapped, too, by the lesser lights who, for some unaccountable reason, are given places on the programme. An ideal political meeting should begin with a one minute address by the chairman, follow with ten minutes' talk by the candidate and leave the rest of the evening to the visiting orator. But perhaps that is too much to hope for, although political managers courageous enough to try it in the present campaign would be surprised at the popularity the experiment would attain.

A CALL FOR LOWER PRICES.

The manufacturers of the United States in a recommendation put before the national unemployment conference in Washington, have recommended price cutting in many commodities as a means of stimulating business. To many such a stand may seem rather paradoxical, for it has been generally assumed that the manufacturers more than any other class, have been responsible for keeping prices at a high level. Nor has this been denied, for the manufacturers' themselves, at a session of the conference n which the nation's industrial ailments were frankly discussed, admitted that they themselves were partly responsible for conditions, and resolved that they should now stand ready to lead the march back to industrial normalcy. The result was their recommendation that all concerned, from the manufacturer down through the jobber to the retailer, put reduced prices into effect at once.

Although this recommendation has come as an emergency measure, as a means of creating employment, it is one that should long ago have been prompted by common sense business judgment. One of the busiest manufacturers in America to-day is Henry Ford, and his activity in the midst of a general business depression is attributed directly to the fact that he had sufficient foresight to cut his prices. Prices in general, it has been estimated, should not in any case be more than fifty per cent. above the pre-war level. Yet figures compiled by the United States government show that most commodities are far above the average, and in some cases are as high as 125 per cent. above 1914 prices. The hope of those who urge a lowering of prices is that a general level will be re-established which will make possible a general resumption of business.

It is a fact that there has been for the past year, and still is, a buyers' sthike. This is no fallacy. It is one of the direct causes of the business depression and unemployment. Efforts to end the strike of buying ing have failed, simply because the right methods have not been adopted. The public have been waiting for prices to come down and although many articles are now cheaper, they are still waiting. The result has been a great slackening of industry. The only way to better conditions is that which has been recommended by the manufacturers of the United States, and in line with which Canadian manufacturers must fall. Prices must down all along the scale, not in a half-hearted and in a make-believe fashion but in a general sweep which will create demand, stimulate buying and set the wheels of industry going again as rapidly as before. If the manufacturers are sincere in their recommendations then there is a strong hope for a speedy betterment of conditions.—Kingston Whig.

TEACHING CIVIC PRIDE.

The school children of to-day are the business men, citizens, and civic leaders of to-morrow. There is no better place to begin the education of a citizen than in the primary schools, and certainly no small part of the education of a citizen is that branch of his knowledge that relates to his home city. Every city school child ought to learn the meaning of his own city in terms of civic accomplishment, to know what constitutes the elements of its growth, to know what its objectives are, and how they can be advanced.—Kansas City Star.

GENERAL SPORTS IN TABLOID FORM

HALIFAX, N.S., October 24. — Canada's folks down by the sea are jubilant to-day. Their pride of the fishing banks, the schooner Bluenose, has won the first of the international races by nearly as great a margin over New England's fastest, the Elsie, as that by which she won the Nova Scotia elimination race over her nearest Canadian rival, the Delawana.

With the North Atlantic providing a twenty-five-knot per hour gale, the two schooners did the forty-mile straightaway and triangular course on Saturday in little more than four hours. They got away at 9 o'clock, and shrill whistles blew and other innumerable noises, combined with the cheering of thousands of lusty throats along the water front, told the world that the Bluenose had breezed over the finish line at 1.33.05 official time.

The Elsie, with the skilled hand of Captain Marty Welch at the helm, did not come in until 1.46.15, thus giving the Canadian ship a lead of 13 minutes and 10 seconds.

Consumption --alone and poor!

"CONSUMPTION!"

To a little milliner in a small Ontario village the doctor's word sounded like her death sentence.

"Rest," said the physician, "fresh air, sunshine and good food are the only medicines for you."

—but how empty his words sounded!

"Rest!"

To this girl—without a relative in the world—rest meant starvation.

Death stared her in the face— — and then a ray of hope!

The woman she boarded with spoke of the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives—

If she could only get there?

She did—and now this young, pretty girl is well again.

Thousands of deserving cases such as this—poor sufferers who cannot afford to pay for their own treatment, make necessary the National Sanitarium Association's

Consumptives' Emergency Million Dollar Fund

WEEK, OCTOBER 25 to 27

THE MUSKOKA Hospital for Consumptives, destroyed by fire on November 30th last, must be replaced by buildings, larger and fireproof.

Accommodation is needed at the MUSKOKA Hospital for 400 adults in early stages of the disease. This will restore 250 of them to their homes and loved ones—cured. The remainder will be greatly benefited.

A few months for each patient soon means thousands cared for. Funds are urgently needed for this work.

Again—adults in advanced stages must be treated at the King Edward Sanatorium on the banks of the Humber near Weston. Extensions are necessary. Many of these patients can be saved.

And again—little children—stricken with the dread disease—must be cared for at the Queen Mary Hospital for Consumptive Children near Weston. Ninety per cent. of these are saved to become healthy men and women.

Funds are urgently needed to cover the cost of extensions.

Further, funds are urgently needed to carry on the work of The Gage Institute in the City of Toronto, where the needy poor come for free examinations, including X-ray, and for medical and nursing assistance.

Fifteen thousand needy consumptives have been cared for to date at the hospitals conducted by the Association.

—In the opinion of Jan Christian Smuts, the South African Premier, South Africa has no direct interest in the Pacific, and did not look for an invitation from the United States to attend the Washington conference.

The Premier gave his views on the subject Saturday in a speech which concerned Dominion representation at the conference. If the other Dominions were going to attend without a direct invitation through British diplomatic sources, he believed a serious setback would be given that status of Dominion statehood and nationhood which they achieved at the Peace Conference.

GREEKS STOP TURKS.

LONDON, Oct. 24. — (Canadian Press).—A despatch to the London Times from Smyrna, dated Saturday, says that at the time of the filing of the despatch the town of Afiun-Karahissar was burning and had been partially destroyed.

The despatch states that the Turks made desperate efforts to reconstruct the line between Angora and the Sakaria River. They crossed the Menader River south-east of Tsvril, but were attacked by the Greeks and compelled to re-cross the stream.

RED DEMONSTRATION FAILS TO MATERIALIZE.

LONDON, Oct. 24. — (Canadian Press).—A Sacco-Vanzetti demonstration outside the United States Embassy here yesterday failed to materialize. There was a small Communist gathering in Whitechapel, however, at which speeches were delivered by Sylvia Pankhurst and other persons, who protested against the conviction of the Italians. Rain dampened the enthusiasm of the demonstrators, and the proposed march to the Embassy was abandoned.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY N OF MACSWINEY'S DEATH.

LONDON, Oct. 24. — (Canadian Press).—There was a large gathering in Trafalgar Square yesterday afternoon to celebrate the anniversary of the death of Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork. MacSwiney died in Briston prison while on a hunger strike.

None of the Irish delegates to the peace conference attended, but William Roth, member of Parliament for Cork, was among the speakers. Frequent reference was made by speakers to the telegram of Eamonn de Valera to Pope Benedict, which was endorsed by the gathering.

The Sinn Fein delegates who are attending the conference with Government officials in an endeavor to bring about peace in Ireland, were in consultation yesterday concerning today's meeting. Persons in close contact with the Irish delegation assert that none of the delegates will do anything which might be construed as a repudiation of Mr. De Valera.

From his little shop here, he sends out horse racing saddles to all parts of the civilized world.

WIRTH CABINET DEFENDS ITS ACTION

BERLIN, Oct. 24 — (Canadian Press)—In his letter informing President Ebert of the resignation of the Cabinet Chancellor Wirth said the ministry had assumed responsibility for carrying out the ultimatum of the Allies at a grave moment and that for five months it had continued political affairs, animated by a desire to regulate the situation between the German Empire and the allies and to restore Europe by a fulfillment of the treaty obligations.

The cabinet, the letter said, had met the heavy demands made upon German people particularly as regards the payment of the 1,000,000,000 gold marks on October 31, and had received allied acknowledgemen of the fulfillment of its obligations in the matter of disarmament, which was effected in the face of great difficulties.

"It might have been expected, says the letter, "that in view of German efforts and an earnest desire loyaly to fulfill the treaty obligations that the occupation of the Ruhr would have ceased, and that regarding Upper Silesia a solution would have been found in harmony with the sense of justice of the German people of Upper Silesia and future peaceful relations between the European nations.

GOTHAM GIVES WARM WELCOME TO SIR HARRY

LAUDER'S FIRST APPEARANCE MORE THAN A "FIRST NIGHT"

(BY BEN BEACON)
(Canadan Press Correspondent)

NEW YORK, October 24. — It was a wonderful welcome that was given Sir Harry Lauder by his ain folk" Monday night October 17th., The opening of the famous Scotch comedian's latest tour of the continent was something more than a "first night as New York knows them. For many in the audience which crowded every available inch of space in the big Lexington Theatre it was obviously an "only night." It was as different from the ordinary New York theatre audience as could be possibly imagined. The great majority were Scots; many, it was quite apparent, were not regular theatregoers. For some it was the one big night of the year. Those people were not there to see the show so much as to see and hear Sir Harry Lauder, to greet him as an old friend and to pay tribute to him as an artist and a man.

He is the same old Lauder with some of the same old songs and some new songs, and he takes complete possession of the house and everybody in it in his same old happy-go-lucky, nonchalant way. His first appearance on the stage Monday night was the signal for a spontaneous ovation such as is seldom heard in a New York theatre, where applause, if not supplied by the claque, is generally of the indolent and grudging sort. From that moment he took complete charge of everybody's affairs, and made it everybody's affair to join in the singing and have a thoroughly good time. As he wheedled them into helping him out with the choruses he won added favor with every appeal to those in the "shelves' to come to the vocal rescue of the voiceless three-dollar-per-seat plutocrats on the ground floor.

Among Lauders' new songs "There is Somebody Waiting for me" seems to be the favorite. At least, the amateur choristers in the audience appeared to enjoy singing it the most. "When I was Twenty-One" also made a decided hit, particularly when Lauder confided that he is seventy-one and had a very bad cough, adding hastily "there is no such thing as a good cough."

Lauder has added considerably to his wardrobe as well as to his repertoire. One new costume, and a new drop curtain to each song. Some of the stage pictures which served as backgrounds for the comedian won an outburst of applause that would make many a Broadway star envious.

There was a demand for some of the old favorites Lauder obliged with 'Roamin' in the Gloamin' " and at its conclusion the ushers started a procession down the aisles bearing floral offerings. There were almost enough of these to cover the stage. Then Lauder made a neat little speech in which he declared he had never met a stranger in New York.

Lauders tour of the continent is not to be so leisurely as in past years. He is rather in a hurry this time, consequently western Canada will not see him. According to his present plans as announced by his manager, William Morris, he will be in Toronto for the week of November 21. Montreal will have him for three nights, November 28, 29 and 30. On December 1, he will be in Kingston; December 2 in London, and December 3, in Hamilton This will end the Canadian section of his tour.

This week saw the opening of a dramatic offering which has met with almost unanimous approval from the critics. This was an adaptation of "La Griffe,' one of the earlier plays of Henru Bernstein. The American version has been called "The Claw," the direct translation of the title having been used by the adapters, Edward Delaney Dunn and Louis Woldhein.

"The Claw' tells the story of Achille Cortelon, a Paris publisher, who at 50, when he has won a little prosperity and renown as a leader among the radicals of French politics becomes infatuated with an evil siren, the daughter of one of his editors, and marries her. By her extravagances she ruins him financially and finally she reduces him to a condition of moral helplessness under which he permits her to rent him and his paper out to various interests. At last he is caught in this dishonesty and the woman decides he is no further use to her. She skips off to Italy with a young and wealthy admirer, leaving the old politician sitting tearfully at his desk—enfeebled in mind and body, and decayed in soul. At the end he is shown as a drooling, babbling paretic, facing the mob which is stoning his windows and thinking not of his peril, but of the adventuress who has just deserted him. He takes his hat and coat blindly to go to the senate to face his accusers and falls dead as the drama ends.

Monday night was "first night' also for "Bachelor's Night," a play which was in direct contrast to the Bernstein drama. It was frankly for amusement purposes, and amusement purposes only, he produced at least gave the audience fair warning. An announcement printed in the programme said: "This farce is written by the author for laughing purposes only. Nothing original is claimed for it. It contains the usual opening and shutting of doors and people appearing and disappearing. The story could have ended in the first act as well as being played throughout the entire three. But if so it would have been a vaudeville sketch and not a play."

Most of this is true, according to all accounts. There is nothing original in "Bachelors Night." It has an impossible plot and there is much opening and shutting of doors. The only point at issue appears to be as to whether it is amusing. The majority of the members of the jury declare it is not.

PUT UP THE FIGHT OF HIS LIFE AND WON

SALVATION ARMY OFFICER'S EXPERIENCE WHEN GRIM DEATH ASSAILED HIM — VICTORY GAINED IN MUSKOKA HOSPITAL

Following his chosen calling as an officer in the Salvation Army, on the streets in all weathers, rain or shine; now exposed to chill east winds, penetrating with irresistible force, the human frame, no matter how warmly protected, and again defying the insistent attacks on his robust constitution by rain, frost and snow—all this daring the pitiless elements to do their worst in the soul-appealing work of a Master who admonished his followers to "go, preach My word in the highways and byways," left Major W. White in a run-down and weakened condition. And then the dread enemy of mankind attacked. Consumption enveloped a one-time vigorously healthy body with its insatible, life-consuming tentacles, and unknowingly Major White was doomed to an early grave. But the grim enemy did not acutely manifest itself in its very early stages, the lurking germs of this insidious malady at times hustling its victims into false sense of security—with periods of comparative good health between their incipient attacks—dangerously deceptive. And then the Major's condition grew alarming physical lassitude seized him, he lost flesh and was subject to intermittent shiverings, alternated by flushings and an oppressive warmth. An irrepressible cough developed, followed by spitting of blood. Thoroughly aroused at last to his precarious condition, Major White hastened to consult a consulting specialist, only to hear his death sentence pronounced.

Struck Home.

Yes, the White Plague, after playing with its victim for months, had finally struck home with organic-devouring force. The Major's case was hopeless, so pronounced the specialist with forceful finality; a few months—perhaps a year or two with unremitting care and treatment—but the grim reaper, death, was already watchfully waiting.

However, Major White did not prove an unresisting victim to the arch enemy. Not a bit of it! At once gaining admission to the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives he, together with that great institution's equipment and physicians and nurses, put up the fight of his life for life, and won. The victory theirs, Major White was discharged—saved to his family and to carry on in the great work of the Salvation Army in Canada. And to-day he is vigorously engaging in the arduous duties entailed in his official capacity as Divisional Commander for the Salvation Army in Winnipeg, Man.

Science Intervened.

Such was the experience of Major White, repeated in thousands of other similar cases—some from this beautiful little city of ours—where the National Sanitarium Association has intervened between untimely dissolution and the Great White Plague's victims. Restored to health, many brother and sister mortals have been saved for useful, and not a few brilliant, careers in country and community by the functioning of those splendid rescue institutions controlled by this philanthropic organization. There, those who could have paid for treatment, others not in a position to contribute one cent toward their care, have at all times found that at The Muskoka Hospital, The King Edward Sanatorium, and at the Queen Mary Hospital for Consumptive Children, the true spirit of man's real brotherhood knows no bounds or limitations reflected from patients' material circumstances.

Funds Are Needed.

But to carry on this great work on a plane commensurate with the need, and to replace on enlarged lines the Muskoka Hospital destroyed by fire last November, funds are urgently needed—and a campaign to this end starts in Peterborough tomorrow. In this connection you are asked to remember that Peterborough, jointly with all Ontario enjoys the benefits attainable in those Great White Plague combatting institutions. None of us are immune from this terror; any one of us may fall a victim to its ravages to-morrow; and some in this community are infected with the germs of that ruthless foe even now. Therefore it behooves everyone to contribute in accordance with his or her means in one big three days' united endeavour to raise a sum toward the National Sanitarium Association's Million Dollar Emergency Fund, which will fittingly reflect Peterborough's whole-hearted and practical sympathy with a glorious cause in defence of suffering humanity.

BENJAMIN H. KAUFFMAN, Reading, Pa.

"There's no doubt in my mind that Tanlac saved my wife's life," was the positive statement of Benjamin H. Kauffman, 505 Bingaman Street, Reading, Pa., popular clothing salesman for the well-known firm of Croll & Keck:

"I was almost desperate from worrying over her condition, as she had suffered so long without getting relief and I can hardly believe my own eyes now hen I see the change in her. Why, she doesn't show her age by twenty years, and declares she never remembers feeling better in her life. Her health was failing steadily for a year as a result of catarrh of the stomach, and I have never seen anybody suffer as much from indigestion and nervousness as she did.

"After a five weeks' course of Tanlac she was like another person, and I'm firmly convinced that years have been added to her life. It makes me shudder now when I think what the result might have been if she hadn't taken Tanlac in time."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by the Warne Drug Co., Ltd., and by leading druggists everywhere.

Nervous Breakdown

The extreme depression and discouragement which comes over one at times is the most alarming symptom of nervous exhaustion.

This letter is a message of hope to all who find themselves in this unfortunate condition.

Mrs. Geo. T. Tingley, Albert, N.B., writes:—

"For years I was in a very nervous, run-down condition, was much depressed in spirits and suffered a great deal at times. The least noise would irritate me and at times I felt as though I certainly would go crazy. I consulted different doctors to no effect.

"A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I can truly testify today to the great benefits received. There was a marked change before I had finished the second box and when I had used a dozen boxes my nerves were thoroughly restored and I was entirely relieved of those terrible feelings I used to have. I shall ever be ready to testify to the benefits of this wonderful medicine, feeling sure that it will give to others the quick and permanent relief it has given me."

WILLIAM COWIE PASSES AWAY

FELL FROM A LADDER ON THURS. DAY LAST AND SUCCUMBED TO HIS INJURIES ON SATURDAY

On Thursday morning Mr. William Cowie, a long, well-respected citizen of Peterborough, residing at No. 219 Simcoe Street, fell from a ladder while engaged in putting up some storm windows, the fall breaking three of his ribs and causing other serious injuries, which proved fatal on Saturday evening at 8.30. His demise came so suddenly that his intimate friends could scarcely credit the sad news — Mr. Cowie having been seen on the street in his usual good health the day previous to the accident, enjoying his usual daily walks to and from his home. Deceased had been living a quiet, retired life during the past eight years, after having occupied the position of foreman in the bookbinding department of The Examiner for a period of over thirty years previous to his retirement. He was born in the city of Kingston, and on coming to Peterborough over half a century ago, he first filled the position of foreman in the Review bindery, subsequent to assuming a similar position in The Examiner. He was a skilled craftsman, diligent and faithful in the discharge of his duties. Up until the day of the accident, he had been in the enjoyment of excellent health. He lived a quiet and unaffected life, but always took a lively interest in public and civic affairs. He was a consistent member of George Street Methodist Church, and a staunch Conservative in politics. He was one of the oldest living members of Peterborough Lodge of Oddfellows, and had filled the highest positions of honor in the gift of the local brethren.

Deceased is survived by his sorrowing wife, to whom he was married over fifty years; also his three daughters and son: Mrs. Alfred E. Edmonds, of this city; Mr. Harry E. Cowie, of Vicella, California; Mrs. William Comstock, of this city, and Mrs. John Mayneord, of this city.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock from the residence, 219 Simcoe Street, to the Little Lake Cemetery, under the auspices of the Oddfellows.

DOG STEALS $10,000 FROM BANK VAULT.

Money Sack Returned, Then Somebody Stole Dog.

DETROIT, Oct. 21.—Boob stole $10,000. Then somebody stole Boob.

Perhaps the somebody who stole Boob thought that a dog that could steal $10,000 was worth stealing.

Boob is a long-legged, long-eared playful mongrel of uncertain ancestry. He is described as 7 months old black and tan, and a mixture of Airedale and hound.

A few days ago Boob went banking with his master, Louis Emmert, 5757 Woodward avenue. While Emmert was making a deposit in a Woodward avenue bank Boob sniffed his clumsy way through a swinging door and entered the vault unnoticed by bank employes.

Boob had never been in a large vault before and his curiosity was roused by the array of odd-looking playthings. A money sack, in particular, interested him.

Forgetting the dog, Emmert left the bank to return to his work. In a few moments his attention was called to Boob gleefully bouncing a heavy sack on Woodward avenue, and shaking it strenuously as he ran for his master.

Emmert stopped the dog. He was amazed to find the money sack contained $10,000, and he rushed back to the bank cashier with apologies for his dog.

Emmert presented Boob to Fred L. Rice 81 Forest avenue west, for his 8-year-old daughter, Lorina. Sunday Boob went out for a stroll and disappeared should be shouted in the ear of some clothing manufacturers. Maybe it would do some good but more likely not. It is appalling the amount of semi-finished clothing we are looking at these days.

Boob may not be long on pedigree but little Lorina Rice loves him even though he is a thief and her father is offering reward for his return.

We Look at It—That's As Far As We Go

What we demand is perfect workmanship, faultless fabrics and good fitting garments.

If a maker wants to speed up his production to a break-neck speed, that's his own affair, but he cannot sell his products in this store—our doors are bolted and barred to such goods.

You Can Rest Assured That Any Garment You Find Here Is Carefully Tailored and Worth the Price You Pay

Not in years have we taken such pride in showing men the new Suits and Overcoats. We have got back to the splendid standards of quality in fabrics and workmanship in tailoring.

Then the lines of fashion this season are so sane and good-looking. Men look so business-like and well-dressed, but not too tailored or over-dressed.

Every detail of the clothing shows the better workmanship that means so much.

And yet, every man who looks at the new clothing is gratified at the new prices. It no longer seems extravagant to have the best.

Take these new overcoats, for instance:

We will refrain from mentioning the regular price. We want you to come with an unbiased mind and judge for yourself.

With one stroke of the pen we could make their regular prices greater than they ever were. The Cressman Store has never done that sort of thing and it never will. It does not raise your expectations one minute and dash them the next.

On Tuesday next, October 25th, Commissioner Richards of Toronto, who has been in command of the Salvation Army work in Eastern Canada for the past seven years, will pay a final visit to the citizens of Peterborough. The Commissioner, who has visited this city upon a number of occasions, is leaving Canada in the near future to take command of the Salvation Army in Southern Australia. He will be accompanied on Tuesday by Colonel Rawlings, Field Secretary, Colonel Adby, Major Moore, and Staff Captain and Mrs. Richards, who are also on their way to an appointment in Eastern Australia. Staff Captain Richards is a son of Commissioner Richards, and is a talented performer on the concertina.

During the seven years of his term in Canada the Commissioner has endeared himself to Salvation Army Officers and Soldiers, and has also won a name for himself outside Army circles as a fluent, eloquent and interesting speaker, and all who can possibly do so, should avail themselves of the opportunity of once again listening to him.

The service will be conducted in the George street Methodist church, and will commence at eight o'clock sharp. The chair will be taken by Mr. G. N. Gordon, M.P., who will be supported by His Worship the Mayor and other prominent citizens.

Keep the date in mind and come early to secure a good seat.

HASTINGS AND THE DISTRICT

HASTINGS, Oct. 24.—The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church held a very successful chicken pie dinner in the basement of the church on Friday evening, Oct. 21st. Dinner was served from 6.30 to 8. After ample justice had been done to the tempting viands, the company repaired to the church auditorium, where a good programme was rendered. The chair was ably filled by Rev. M. L. Hinton, pastor of the church, who announced the several selections. The opening chorus rendered by the church choir was very much appreciated and well given. Rev. D. A. Thomson was called for an address, and, as usual, gave something spicy. This was followed by a vocal solo, given by Mrs. M. Baker. Rev. Mr. Caldwell, of Australia, was present and gave a most interesting address, although the time was too short for him to tell very much about his country, but he was listened to with rapt attention, and, as the chairman remarked, all present are hoping to have another opportunity to listen to him soon.

Rev. Horwood, of Norham, gave an excellent instrumental selection on the pipe organ, and was loudly encored. Mrs. (Rev.) Glover, of Seymour, was called on for a vocal solo, and was so loudly applauded that she was obliged to respond to an encore.

A very able and interesting address was given by Rev. Capt. H. B. Kenny, of Campbellford, who has just returned from a trip to the battlefields of Flanders, but who had only just time to mention the fact, and hoped, at some future occasion, to give a full account of his trip. The last speaker of the evening was Rev. Glover, of Seymour.

After the customary vote of thanks to all who so ably assisted in the programme, the company arose and sang God Save the King, and the gathering dispersed, each one feeling that the evening had been pleasantly and profitably spent.

The school teachers of the district attended the teachers' convention in Peterborough on Thursday and Friday.

We regret to learn that the condition of Mr. David Thomson is very serious, and his friends are anxiously awaiting his recovery.

A new furnace is being installed in the Methodist Parsonage, which will supply a much needed want.

Mrs. (Rev.) M. L. Hinton was in Peterborough on Friday.

Mr. W. Barry is improving his property here by a cement frontage.

Mr. Winter Runnels, of Belleville, was in town on Friday.

Mrs. Duncan Fife is spending a few days with friends in Monaghan.

The condition of Mrs. Chas. Jones does not show much sign of improvement.

CENTREVILLE ANNIVERSARY

REV. G. S. GERVAN, OF MILLBROOK, CONDUCTED THE SERVICES.

CENTREVILLE, October 24. — The Presbyterian Church at Centreville was favoured with exceptionally fine weather for its anniversary services yesterday, when Rev. G. S. Gervan, of Millbrook, preached to large congregations, both morning and evening.

The church was very beautifully decorated with flowers and autumn leaves, the thank-offering received was a substantial one, the music was excellent, the choir, besides being unusually large, had, in addition, the services of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnston, of Millbrook, whose musical ability is too well known to make further comment necessary. Besides assisting with the anthems, Mr. and Mrs. Johnston were heard in duets at both services, and with Miss A. McConnachie, sang a beautiful trio, "Sweet Sabbath Eve," before the sermon in the evening.

Rev. Mr. Gervan, whose sermons are marked by simplicity of language and a very earnest manner, took for his text at night Matthew 19, 20: "The young man said unto Him, All these things have I kept from my youth up. What lack I yet" And proceeded to show in a most practical way that this young man, one of the beautiful characters in our Lord's ministry, who appears but for a brief interval, and is not seen again upon the stage of the New Testament history, having wealth, position, and of spotless moral character, was yet, like many another of our day, conscious of an unsatisfied want in his soul that led to the question, "What lack I yet?"

The Jews looked upon poverty as a sign of God's disfavour, but a man who was rich was regarded as specially favoured by Heaven. Is that true to-day? Yes, the latter part is, if such an one look upon himself as a steward holding his money in trust for God and His work.

The young man of our text was sincere and honest in his claim, "All these (commandments) have I kept from my youth," for Jesus allowed the claim to stand; but craving something more to satisfy a need in his soul, he wisely brought his difficulty to Christ, Who is always standing ready to give a surprisingly rich response to the call of a hungry spirit. The difficulty is that we shrink from the remedy. We think it too severe, for the Master will put His finger on the thing held dearest: "Give me that," He says in effect, and like the rich youth we turn away from peace and happiness.

Now just the desire for riches may be as distinct a barrier between the soul and God, as the actual possession of great wealth; something that has a tighter hold on us than God's claim will be a decided hindrance to acceptable, efficient service. If He asks us to give up anything for Him He will make it up a thousand fold, for God will be no man's debtor.

Doubtless the sorrow in Christ's heart far exceeded that of the rich ruler who "went away sorrowful, because he had great possessions," and his great refusal is there to warn us to-day that Christ must have the whole life if it is to be rounded out to completeness. To escape the tragedy contained in the words "went away," choose rather what you think God has designed for you, and daily will come in richer, fuller measure the glad realisation that doing His will involves no real sacrifice, and that there is no pleasure offered by any other thing in this world to equal the consciousness of a harmony of purpose between the soul and its maker.

The words of the duet, "I heard the voice of Jesus say," sung after the sermon by Mr. and Mrs. Johnston were peculiarly appropriate to the evening's discourse.

BANDITS POSE AS OFFICERS OF LAW

RELIEVE MOTORIST NEAR MONTREAL OF $3,000.

MONTREAL, Oct. 24.—(Canadian Press).—"You are a bootlegger and we are going to arrest you," said one of two men to L. Pante, of St. Louis De Gonzague, early this morning on the Lachine Road. They took hold of Pante and his chauffeur and relieved the former of three thousand dollars and a revolver, afterwards making their escape in a high-powered automobile.

CHINAMAN SHOT

by several Chinamen, but only by the light of an electric flash lamp, and they can give little assistance.

The tragedy took place about half-past one this morning in a Chinese laundry on Main Street East. The occupants of the place were upstairs sleeping when two men entered a window on the second story after climbing over a shed. Their object was robbery, and they had secured $15 from the trousers of one of the men and had taken ten dollars from the till when they were discovered. They were then apparently about to enter the room where the woman was asleep. George Young, appearing on the scene from behind, attempted to dissuade them from their purpose, when one of the men, seizing the young man around the neck, drew a revolver and shot the Chinaman through the heart.

He dropped to the floor dead. In the subsequent confusion the murdered man's mother was struck on the head. The two men then escaped through the window through which they had entered.

The police were notified, but there was little to go upon. Acting upon some information, Chief Rayner despatched an automobile to Sturgeon Falls containing Sergeant Michaud and Constable Grant, and he notified the town police there by telephone to be on the watch for a car which was thought to have proceeded in that direction. Michaud and Grant drove to within ten miles of Sturgeon Falls, 23 miles west of here, when they were halted by a barricade the police had erected. The Sturgeon Falls officers had seen no other car, and it is thought that if the murderers used an automobile they have taken to a bush road and abandoned the machine. The railways and roads in all directions are being watched. An inquest is to be held this evening.

According to a report received by Chief Rayner this morning, an abandoned automobile, partly burned, has been found in a bush lot near Trout Mills, some four miles north of the town. The car had been driven in off the main road and has been set on fire. There is no clue to its former occupants as yet, but the road in this direction runs north to beyond Widdified, 14 miles away, and there is no other communication with the Temiskaming district except by the T. & N. O. Railway tracks.

This is an offer which millions have accepted. And glistening teeth seen everywhere show the good effects.

Make this free test. Then judge the benefits by what you see and feel.

To fight film

Dental science, after diligent research, has found ways to fight film on teeth. Careful tests have proved them beyond question. Now leading dentists everywhere advise their daily use.

The methods are embodied in a scientific tooth paste—Pepsodent. So all may regularly apply them. To countless homes they have brought already a new era in teeth cleaning.

How film ruins

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The ordinary dentifrice does not effectively combat it. So, despite the tooth brush, it has caused tremendous damage.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It forms the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

It breeds millions of germs and they, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Pepsodent combats these film-caused troubles as nothing else has done.

Combats acid

Pepsodent also multiplies the salivary flow. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits that cling. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, to neutralize the acids which cause decay.

In these ways it acts as fruit acids do. With every use it multiplies Nature's teeth-protecting forces. Old methods had the opposite effect.

INSTITUTE MEETING AT FRASERVILLE CHURCH

rightly regarded as a tribute to the success of modern Sunday methods.

Rev. S. T. Tucker.

Rev. S. T. Tucker of Millbrook, whose subject, "The Evangelistic Opportunity of Our Present Lesson System" followed up the thought first presented by showing that the spiritual objective is best obtained through the use of the graded lessons, because they are carefully adapted to the needs of all ages from the little beginners of three years right up to the senior and adult classes. Religious education has two aspects, one is psychological whereby the teaching is adjusted to the needs and capacity of the pupil, instilling ideals which fit into the horizon of the experience of the individual, and the other is pedagogical and has to do with the most efficient manner of presenting the truth so it may be worked out in personal service. And yet many Sunday schools are missing their chance by not using the graded lesson system; a challenge by one of the leading workers to-day is contained in the words: "If for the next twenty-five years, we used the evangelistic opportunity of the graded lessons, no other special evangelistic effort would be needed for winning, touching and training in the Christian life.

"Worship in the Sunday School" was the subject of a very helpful and thoughtful paper by Rev. S. G. Rorke, of Cavan, delivered in his own inimitable way. Mr. Rorke left the very helpful thought that while worship has several elements, prayer, singing of Christian songs, reading of the Scriptures, and making an offering to God. Yet since the teacher is the hinge upon which the school turns, and upon him, or her, and the superintendent rests the responsibility for order and discipline during the devotional period, they must bring the atmosphere of worship with them; they cannot put it into the school after the service has began.

The afternoon session closed with four brief, practical addresses by experienced workers, "Solving the problem of the child's religious training" by Mrs. Lewis of Peterborough, "The present plan for 'teen age boys and girls" by Mr. Frank Alcorn, "How to conduct the missionary department" by Rev. R. H. Patterson, and "How to apply our Sunday school lessons to life" by Rev. F. E. Mallott of Peterborough.

Evening Session.

After supper the delegates spent a very profitable hour in a lively discussion of the questions sent in under the heading, "Cracking Hard Nuts," and conducted by Rev. James Beckel. The latter, at the opening of the evening session, spoke briefly on "The Ten Point Standard," using it as a measuring line, and showing how each school measured up to its requirements, some coming as high as ninety per cent, none lower than forty per cent., though the last named is not considered a good record.

Rev. F. E. Mallott, chairman of the Peterborough district, had the concluding address on the subject, "Educative Evangelism, Its Meaning, Agencies and Methods," which rather long title really means religious education by which the Sunday school, in co-operation with the Holy Spirit, endeavored to develop the whole nature which God gave the child, body, mind and soul. Mr. Mallot's whole address centred round the thought that religious education to-day seeks to have the child grow up in the kingdom and never know himself other than as a child of God. There will, of course, naturally come crisal periods in every growing life, but our aim is to have these occur within the kingdom, not without its safe enfolding. The methods are worship, instruction, and this by trained teachers if possible, giving the life an avenue of expression, suited to its years, and leading to service for the church, the kingdom and training in Christian citizenship.

The singing of the National Anthem and the Benediction, pronounced by Rev. Mr. Mallot, closed a successful and helpful Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard De Geer, of Kirkfield, and Mrs. S. De Geer, of Oakwood, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bichard.

The anniversary services at Roseneath on Sunday, October 23rd, will be taken by Rev. S. T. Tucker, of Millbrook; Rev. Mr. Bunt, of Roseneath, will take the services in the Methodist church here morning and evening, and at Zion in the afternoon.

Moving to Florida.

Mr. W. I. Collins, who has for some years resided in Millbrook, is moving his family to Florida next Wednesday. Mr. Collins intends going in for fruit cultivation after getting settled in the 'Sunny South.'

Mr. James Bingham is another resident who has gone to Florida for the winter. Mrs. Bingham intends joining her husband in a few weeks' time.

Mrs. Henry Mulligan is in Ottawa attending the marriage of her niece, Miss Armstrong, daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Armstrong.

The dance in the armouries on Thursday evening under the auspices of the G.W.V.A. proved very enjoyable, and was well attended. The music was good and everything in connection with the evening showed excellent order and management.

District Epworth League.

The District Epworth League convention to be held in Lakefield on Fridlay, November 11th, have secured two excellent speakers. They are Dr. Lorne Pierce, literary critic of the 'Guardian,' and Rev. Kenneth J. Beaton of China. Local Leaguers are endeavoring to secure a strong delegation to attend this gathering.

Mrs. G. W. Sayles will sing at the anniversary services in Roseneath Methodist church on Sunday.

RIVAL BEAUTIES SEEN IN NEW TORCHY COMEDY.

Broadway press agents spend a great share of their efforts in praising the pulchritude of the young women appearing in the various beauty organizations, but it has remained for a motion picture, the latest of the Torchy Comedies, made from the stories of Sewell Ford, to afford an opportunity for comparing rival beauties from New York shows. Audiences will be able to decide for themselves when they see them in support of Johnny Hines in "Torchy's Night Hood" at the Allen Theatre to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Because the chief character in these pictures is a New York office boy and all of the scenes of the stories are laid in the big city, the producers have unusual opportunity to secure the services of actors who appear in legitimate production at the same time. Some of the most notable players on the New York stage have been seen in the various Torchy pictures. In fact, one young woman, Jacqueline Logan, made such an impression as Johnny Hines' leading lady that she was taken to the coast as leading woman for one of the principal feature producers.

Dorothy Leeds and Dorothy Mackaill are the young women who contend for beauty honors in "Torchy's Night Hood," the former appearing as the eloping daughter and the latter as a beautiful maid who causes all sorts of complications for the hero. Miss Leeds has the reputation of being the highest salaried showgirl on Broadway. She appeared in Dillingham productions, then in the Ziegfeld Follies and is now a member of the "Hitchy Koo" company. This is the second Torchy Comedy in which she has been seen and she will appear in a number of others.

Although chosen as a type of typical American girl, Dorothy Mackaill has been in American less than six months, and has the distinction of having appeared on the screen in three countries, including England and France. It was while she was appearing in the "Joy Belle" revue at the London Hinpodrome that she was advised by Ned Wayburn, who staged the production, to come to this country. Her engagement in Torchy Comedies was almost immediate. She is one of the leading members of the Ziegfeld Midnight Frolic, probably the most celebrated beauty organization in the world.

"EAST LYNNE" THE TYPE OF STORY NEEDED ON SCREEN.

The tremendous agitation now going over a great many of our States to place rigid censorship on the motion picture would be entirely unnecessary—even now it is greatly exaggerated—if we saw more productions like that of "East Lynne." This recreation of the famous story has been produced by Hugo Ballin as a Hodkinson release and will be seen at the Allen Theatre, commencing to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday.

In "East Lynne" we have a tale that has kept its popularity for sixty years among the millions who read it as a book and saw it as a play. It has survived not only for its dramatic strength, its sympathy and the great names of the stage that have been associated with it, but primarily because of its wholesomeness. Only what is straightforward and clean can stand the test of time—especially in this country, where the lurid and the lewd is but a matter of the moment.

AT THE CAPITOL.

A Big Seven Reel Super Special Production To-night—Clara Kimball Young in "Straight from Paris," also Jimmy Aubrey in his Latest Comedy, "The Riot"—Other Short Reels of Quality—Overture "Lustspiel"—Great Orchestra

That Clara Kimball Young is a screen actress whose art attains new heights with each successive vehicle, instead of exhausting her versatility—a fact that is so sadly true of many other motion picture stars, is brought home with telling force in her latest six reel production —"Straight from Paris"—whose director is Harry Garson and whose author is Sada Cowan, one of the new feminine screen writers who take their stories out of reel flesh-and-blood experiences of married life.

The action of "Straight From Paris" is in tune with its environment. Set in the gaiety and whirl of high society life, the plot starts off with a startling romance in which the cross-currents of human passion and jealousy are painted to a fault. The story of this sparkling love-intrigue centres about the adventures of an unassuming milliner in the person of Lucette Grenier — the part played to perfection by Miss Young. Despite her humble calling she is thrown by dint of her personal charm into the most aristocratic circles of the Parisian salons, and from that moment magnetizes the attentions of the grandees of high society. The thrilling love episodes that pursue our pretty heroine and their novel development, form an exciting and scintillating tale that holds the spectator's interest from beginning to end.

AT THE GRAND.

"THE TAMING OF THE SHREW"

"The Taming of the Shrew" to be presented by Mr. Walter Hampden at the Grand on Saturday night, October the 29th, is a very happy choice. Mr. Hampden's Shakespearian repertoire includes the two great tragedies Macbeth and Hamlet — the inevitable choice of students and actors to represent the author's great dramatic powers, "The Merchant of Venice" is a master-piece of comedy, but "The Taming of the Shrew" may be described in modern terms as, tumultuous, boisterous farce. It has always been a favorite bill with the foremost interpreters of Shakespeare and has been done by every generation of actors and actresses. There is ample scope for the very highest histrionic ability therefore, no repertoire is complete without it. I have seen E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe in the bill and of all their co-starring vehicles, nothing suits them better than this sixteenth century domestic tornado for such is really the atmosphere during most of the "taming" process. In accordance with the social position of Baptista, the fair Katherine's father and the noble Paduan, Petruchio, the scenery is beautiful. Mr. Walter Hampden follows along the same lines and plays the "Shrew" as Shakespeare intended. Miss Mary Hall, his leading woman is certainly possessed of a quick volatile temper but she does not reach the heights of stormy anger that Ada Rehan and Julia Marlowe displayed. Her portrayal is effective and gives Petrucio every opportunity to use his drastic if effectual methods of reducing her to reason. Commentators on Shakespeare are at a loss to decide whether this play was ever printed until the 1623 edition of the author's works. It is similar in plot and construction to another play printed in 1594 called "The Taming of a Shrew" but the play as we have it is Shakespeares' own inimitable work and one of the best farces ever written.

Produced by Mr. Hampden as it was written by Shakespeare it tells the story of the spoiled, bad tempered Katherine who frightens away all her suitors who approach her gently and withdraw discreetly when the vials of her wrath are turned upon them. Her father Baptista finaly decides that she must be taken off his hands before her younger Sister Branca can be married. It remains for the equally hot blooded, high tempered Petruchio to meet Katherine's haughty manner with similar methods and from the day of their marriage the tide turns. It is a clever, vastly entertaining process this 'taming" business but the audience soon grasps the situation and realies that Petruchio loves his wife but so do all women love a master; once subdued and conscious that she must surrender only to one whom she can respect as well as love, all goes well. The future angurs well for the fair Katherine—her womanly nature is left intact but domineering gives way to affection and Petruchio is so handsome so ardent so altogether a fitting husband for the high-spirited, passionate Kate that the curtain goes down on a thoroughly satisfactory amusing finish. No one who loved the drama can afford to miss this play. Mr. Hampden is an actor of distinction and worth. He is sincere in his love of the theatre as a means of entertainment and instruction. Content to make a living, he puts his surplus into his productions and travels —well, he does not insist upon a private car and his Roll-Royce is not in evidence this season. His scenery and theatrical equipment are above reproach.

LAURA.

REX SNELGROVE AND ZANA VAUGHN IN "NEARLY WED" AT THE GRAND

Have you ever thought of the feelings of the principals in a divorce action? Sitting up at home in youthful ignorance, or presiding in boudoir cap and morning grouch (or newspaper, I meant) at the conjugal breakfast table, opinions as to the state of mind of about-to-be divorce's differ. One may condemn the idea absolutely, one may sigh over wayward husbands or one may sympathize with a coquettish wife. But how many of us wonder how the pair feels when the knot is about to break, when the coveted freedom is within reach! The unattainable is usually most attractive, and when Betty, in Edgar Selwyn's farce, called "Nearly Wed," realizes that she is about to be free, she sighs for Harry as he used to be, and suffers much at the presence of the woman who eagerly takes her husband's money to create the necessary evidence for Betty's action. And the poor husband! He really loves his dear little wife, but cannot stand his interfering young brother-in-law, who owes everything to Betty, but repays her kindness by separating her from hubby in "Nearly Wed" at The Grand to-night.—Laura.

MABEL BALLIN IN "EAST LYNNE," AT THE ALLEN, MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY.

Canada's Foremost Critic--- GRAND - SAT.

"AMERICA'S GREATEST SHAKESPEARIAN ACTOR"
SATURDAY NIGHT
"The Paper Worth While."

Toronto, October 5th, 1921.

Dear Mr. Stoddart:

I have looked up my criticism on the occasion of Walter Hampden's first appearance in Toronto as a Shakespearian actor last November. The digest given below contains the main points I emphasised. I am very anxious that he should obtain popular support in Canada.

Yours sincerely,
HECTOR CHARLESWORTH.

"Whether Shakespearian acting on this continent was to live as a vital force or dissolve within ten years into a mere legend of the past is a problem that has seriously concerned all lovers of the drama of late. To the last-named fear the acting of Walter Hampden gives a reassuring answer. No one who has seen his Hamlet can doubt that we have in him an actor who will keep that greatest of all poetic roles alive in the theatre, and who gives promise of even richer achievement in days to come. Walter Hampden is endowed by nature with all the physical attributes that are necessary to the making of a great poetic actor—a graceful physique, a beautiful voice, and innate powers of mimetic expression. In addition, he has a personality unique in spiritual qualities, and what is equally essential in poetic acting, ability to impart a genuinely aesthetic atmosphere to all that he does."

I also emphasized his fine apprenticeship under Sir Frank Benson and H. B. Irving as illustrating the fact that although an American by birth the British stage could claim him as one of the heirs of its tradition.—H. C.

THE WAR VETERANS TEAM WON SECOND LAST GAME OF SEASON

HIGH WIND MADE THE BALL HARD TO CONTROL — THE SCORE WAS 1-0.

The War Veterans won the second last football game of the year from the Canadian Woollens at the Oval Saturday afternoon by getting the only tally in the game. The 1-0 score indicates that it was a hard-fought battle. The gritty work of the Woollens backs, Jones and Chambers, made up for the weakness of the forward line and the Vets found they had a stiffer opposition than they reckoned for. Next Saturday's battle. The gritty work of the season, but if the Woollens tie there will be another game as a matter of course.

Saturday's game was played under the most adverse weather conditions possible. A gusty wind played from the west and south-west all afternoon ,and besides dashing the ball out of all control, nearly froze the fans who, protected generally by only light ulsters, watched the game out heroically. The officials are hoping for a clear, calm day next Saturday.

The wind was so strong it gave great assistance to the team playing with it. In the first period the Woollens had this advantage, but despite its value the War Vets captured most of the play. In the second period the Vets had it, and although the Woollens were forced on the defensive, played a finer game than in the first period, their short sallies were more brilliant and their defence broke up nicely the innumerable attacks of the War Vets.

William Abbott was referee. The game was called at 3.15, with both teams at full strength, and the Vets, with their old-time line-up, Wilfrid Jones was back in goal, Tommy Monks was at his old position on the right wing, and Peel and Sherman led the left wing as of yore. The line-ups were:

G.W.V.A.		Canadian Woollens
	Goal
W. Jones		Hillman
	Backs
Gamble		H. Jones
Perry		Chambers
	Half-Backs
Burrows		Monkman
Haycock		Hensby
Hurle		Roberts
	Forwards
Monks		Shuttle
J. Willshaw		Lomax
Dyer		Gaskell
Peel		J. Shaw
Sherman		Downes

The Woollens failed to make the use of the wind that was expected and the Vets led in the play practically during all the first 35 minutes. Peel and Monks were the first to get a crack at Hillman's citadel. Monks centred to Dyer and his strong attack looked like a result-getter, but Hillman saved by throwing. Two succesive corners by the Vets did not produce any sensations. A little variety was introduced by a Woollens' offensive that maintained the ball for some time around Jones. Several times things looked dangerous to the soldiers. Gamble cleared the ball away from the nets once when it looked dark. The Woollens supporters all called "hands' but Referee Abbott did not blow the whistle. If the Woollens had secured the penalty, if one was deserved, they would have had a good chance of scoring.

Burrows and Monks cleared the clouds away in separate breaks for Hillman, but Chambers was ready for both. An opening made by Dyer resulted in the Vets scoring after about 20 minutes' play. Willshaw received the ball from Dyer, and although the Woollens' fans said he was offside, got through the defence and sent a fast shot home for the only goal of the game.

The Second Half.

The most notable thing about the second half was the impregnable defence of the Woollens. Time after time the Vets, who had the wind behind them, were driven back. Several hot dashes, however, were made by the Woollens' forwards, and Gaskell delivered one shot at Jones that brought him to his knees. Shuttle made a hard try later on, but Dyer intervened. The Vets had several corners, but made no scores from them. The period was more or less a test of endurance—the Vets couldn't pierce the Woollens' defence, and the strong wind was a handicap on the Woollens that they could not overcome. Sensational plays were as scarce as feathers on an eel.

PREPARATIONS FOR PETERBORO' ROAD RACE WELL UNDER WAY

JUST TWO WEEKS REMAIN FOR CONTESTANTS TO FINISH TRAINING — POSSESSION OF AMATEUR CARDS NECESSARY ACCORDING TO INSTRUCTIONS FROM THE CANADIAN AMATEUR ATHLETIC UNION.

Entrants in the Thanksgiving Day road race are required to have the card of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union as proof of their amateur standing. Any of the contestants who have not yet secured an amateur card are requested to give their names to Doug Loomis at the Y.M.C.A. as soon as possible.

The Examiner has applied for official sanction of the race, because of the fact that it had lapsed during the war years, and a favorable reply has been received, with the expectation that the final details will be satisfactorily arranged this week.

In the meantime Charlie Thorpe's harriers have been working earnestly. They will take their usual jaunt to-night and the bunch are requested to report promptly. Any others who wish to break in will be cordially welcomed. Thorpe intends to stretch the distance to-night and will also increase the speed. He states that the enthusiasm of the runners has shown no sign of let down. In fact the harriers are keener for the road every workout.

The attendance has undergone a slight change. In the beginning the senior candidates were in the ma-jority, and there was a little misgiving as to the prospects for the major event. Since then, however, the seniors have been gathering force as well as condition, and with seventeen entries in the harriers alone, not including any other prospective contestants who may be practicing alone, the senior race will likely be the big attraction.

Reports of several "dark horses" have been heard recently, and one of them was mentioned as being an entry only if he looked good in a trial run this week. His sponsor is an experienced handler of long distance runners, and it is to be hoped that if his entry shows any kind of style and condition that he will be encouraged to face the starters on the holiday

Another suggestion that is under consideration is an "Athletic night" in one of the theatres. A decision on this proposal will be reached shortly. Those who have mentioned it believe that it could go over big, and also that it would serve to introduce the P.A.A.A. at the beginning of the winter season, and would bring together all the citizens, men and women, who are interested in the promotion of amateur athletics in Peterborough.

BRITISH SOCCER LEAGUE RESULTS

LONDON, Oct. 24. — (Canadian Press).—Despite rain almost everywhere, 125,000 people attended the football league match on Saturday.

Burnley had all the luck against Chelsea, who fell to pieces early. Anderson cross-scored twice, Kelly securing Burnley's fifth goal.

Things continue to go unfavorably for Tottenham. Liverpool caused them another defeat on their own ground, notwithstanding that the visitors had three players playing in the International match at Belfast. Tottenham too played several reserves, who performed indifferently. The team's misfortunes reached a climax when goalkeeper Hunter broke a bone in his hand. Liverpool never before won a match on the Tottenham grounds.

Aston Villa went down with a crash before the Middlesborough team, chiefly owing to the brilliant forward work of George Carr, who did the hat trick. Birrell made the other two goals.

BOY SCOUTS WILL HELP IN CANVASS

MEET IN ARMOURIES TUESDAY AT FOUR P.M.

The Executive Committee in charge of the Peterborough Canvass in aid of the National Sanitarium Association's emergency fund for Consumptives met in the Canada Life's Offices, Saturday night, and transacted considerable business preparatory to the campaign which opens in this city to-morrow.

District Scout Master E. J. Whiteside and other representatives of the local Boy Scouts resolved to assist in the campaign here, and a meeting of all Boy Scouts has been called for to-morrow (Tuesday) at 4 pm, in the Armouries.

Boy Scouts have been of great assistance in the province during this particularly humanitarian effort of the Association to raise a million dollars, which cause has been heartily endorsed by the Boy Scouts' chief executive, who are awarding points of honor to all boys assisting in the movement.

In this connection, Mr. C. E. Jamieson is in active sympathy with the Peterborough canvass from both a Boy Scout and School Cadet angle.

CITY ATHLETES DO GOOD WORK

COMPETITIONS FOR TROPHIES CARRIED OUT AT EXHIBITION PARK.

The City Athletic Championship were carried out successfully at the Exhibition Park on Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. Geofirey Hardill won the Peck trophy with a score of 500 points .The Huycke silverware went to Ferdnand Wolff who scored 492 points. The winners of the Eastwood and Howden trophies will not be known until the pole vault in these two competitions are held at the Collegiate grounds next Friday. It was impossible to do the pole vault at Exhibition Park on account of a strong wind. Warde and Hopkins are high in the Eastwood trophy, with 470 and 457 points respectively, and in the Howden cup, the final contest wil be between Ed Dugan and Scotty Galbraith, Dugan having gained a margin of 13 points on Saturday's performances.

Hardill did great work in the Peck trophy, getting a perfect score. His work was equalled only in the high jump, and Bobby Sturgeon was his successful rival. This youngster's jumping created great enthusiasm among the spectators, and his splendid work won plaudits from all. Hardill and Sturgeon set up a mark of 4 feet 4 1-2 inches.

Ferdnand Wolff carried off high honors in the Huycke trophy being high four of the five events. Miller beating the field in the high jump.

There was some good competition in the Eastwood trophy, in which Warde won the half mile run with Hopkins at his heels. In the running events for the seniors. Ed. Dugan captured the mile run and Bergoine the 100 yards event.

A new comer in the person of A. Tingley, whose entry was too late to permit competition for the Howden trophy, went in the various events and did some excellent work. The standing by points:—

Peck Trophy

Hardill, 50; Rutherford, 434, Sturgeon 310, Levine 251, Cohen 246.

Huycke Trophy

Wolff 492, Miller 446, LeBarr 388, Jenkins 373, Marchand 276.

Eastwood Trophy

Warde 470, Hopkins 457, Thornton, 416, Bates 361, Porteous 349, Meyette 314, G. Sturgeon 301, Gandy 292, Hurry 240.

Howden Trophy

Dugan 475, Galbraith 444, Bergoine 421, McMartin 384, Curtis 344.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—(Canadian Press).—Traders evidently were disposed to draw favorable inferences from the latest developments in the railroad situation, judging from the trend of prices at the opening of today's stock market. Trans-Continental's grangers and coalers were higher by large fractions, to 1 1-2 points, with Northern Pacific as the strongest issue. Railroad equipments, notably Baldwin and General Electric, also were substantially better. German marks were not materially affected by the fall of the German Ministry.

Washington advices quoting labor leaders as opposed to railroad strike at this time contributed to the further strength of Rails, at mid-day, although call money rose to 5 1-2 per cent. Equipments, Motors, Oils and Textiles also were one to two points higher.

On receipt of word from Chicago that the Railroad Labor Board was hopeful of averting the strike, Rails strengthened their early position. Active Oils continued to fluctuate irregularly, however, and Steels and Equipments were under pressure, Tobaccos and Utilities also easing. The few exceptionally strong issues included Baldwin, Virginia Iron, Endicott Johnson and Cuba Cane, these gaining one to two points. Call money opened at five per cent., the firmer rate probably resulting from last Saturday's deficit in clearing house reserves.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24. — (Canadian Press).—Opening wheat quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to one cent lower, with December 1.05 to 1.05½ and May 1.10¾ to 1.10½ were followed by a rally all around to above Saturday's finish and then by something of a set-back.

Corn and oats fluctuated in line with wheat. After opening unchanged, December 46½ to 46 5-8, corn hardened a little and then underwent a slight sag.

Oats started unchanged to ⅛c off, December 32 3-4, and kept within narrow limits.

LIVESTOCK MARKET.

TORONTO, Oct. 24.—(Canadian Press).—Receipts $6,609, trade slow. Quotations:

Heavy beef steers, $6 to $6.75; choice butcher steers, $6 to $6.25; butcher cows, medium, $3 to $4; calves, $10 to $12; lambs, $8.25 to $8.50; hogs, selects, $9.

PETERBOROUGH WON FROM BELLEVILLE

BELLEVILLE REFEREE WAS A LITTLE HAZY ON THE NEW RULES.

On Saturday the Peterboro Collegiate Rugby Team went to Belleville for their first game of the interscholastic series in the O.R.F.U. The Peterboro team was far superior in all branches of their team, and beat Belleville high school by a score of 8 to 0. The score would have been greater had it not been for the poor refereeing by a Belleville man. He tried to apply the old rules to the new game and he made a muddle of it. In one place Peterboro got the ball within one yard of Belleville line and for no other pretext than that he did not know one of the rules, and had not observed the play, called an offside on Peterboro and gave Belleville the ball.

There was a heavy wind blowing almost directly across the field but did not give much advantage to either team. The points were scored by three kicks to deadline, and one touch down scored on a buck by Bookhout.

In the first quarter, after five minutes of play the first point was scored by Peterboro by a kick to the deadline. A few minutes later Peterboro made another point by a similar play. In the second quarter there was no scoring done by either team. In the third quarter one point was scored soon after the play commenced by a kick to the deadline, and Belleville scrimmaged the ball at quarter. Peterboro held them hard and when they gained possession bucked over the goal line for the touch line. For the rest of the game there was no scoring done, but each team fought their hardest to score again.

The Next Game.

The Belleville team do not want to play next Saturday in Peterboro as they want another week to get ready. On account of this Peterboro team is trying to get Oshawa to play this Saturday in Peterboro, and if they cannot play Belleville will do so, so that a game is assured for this Saturday. Oshawa is reported as having a strong team this year and the game on Saturday will be a fight from the kick off till the whistle blows for full time If Peterboro can win this game the round will be within their reach as half of their games have been played, and won.

Tickets sold for Rugby games will entitle the holders to see the game on Saturday. Anyone who has not got their tickets can get them from any member of the team.

Everyone should be out to see the game and to help promote the game of Ruby in Peterboro.

RAILROAD STRIKE SAID TO HAVE BEEN SETTLED BY SECRET CONFERENCE

NEGOTIATIONS PRELIMINARY TO MEETING WITH RAILWAY LABOUR BOARD REPORTED TO HAVE RESULTED IN SETTLEMENT WHICH PROVIDES THAT BROTHERHOODS WILL ACCEPT JULY WAGE CUT AND RAILWAYS WILL TRANSLATE THIS INTO IMMEDIATE REDUCTIONS IN FREIGHT RATES.

By H. P. JACOBS
(United Press Staff Correspondent).

CLEVELAND, Oct. 25.—Secret negotiations were reported here to be under way preliminary to the "Peace Conference" in Chicago to-morrow, which is designed to avert the railway strike, scheduled to begin Sunday.

While these reports were denied by the brotherhood chiefs, they persisted under the surface and were repeated with considerable detail.

According to unofficial information, these negotiations began between the Railway Labor Board and the unions, and between the Board and the railway officials immediately after the failure of last week's board-union conference in Chicago to effect a settlement.

They were said to have progressed to the point where the brotherhoods and the railways had exchanged views through the Board as mediary. A settlement, it was declared, had been virtually agreed upon.

One version of the proposed agreement was:

Brotherhoods will accept the July wage cut and other reductions will be postponed.

The railways will translate the July wage cut into immediate freight rate reductions. All working conditions and shop rules previously in effect will be retained.

Such a settlement, it was pointed out, would provide "peace with honor" for everybody involved, including the Railway Labor Board, which will have demonstrated successfully the powers conferred upon it by the Government.

EXECUTIVES MEET.

By CARL VICTOR LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent).

CHICAGO, Oct. 25. — Railroad executives met here to-day to prepare for the conference to-morrow with the chiefs and general chairmen of the five big brotherhoods before the United States Railroad Labor Board.

As the executives went into session the Railroad Board made an eleventh hour study of the railroad crisis and drew up final plans designed to avert the strike called by the brotherhoods for Sunday morning. The conference of the executives to-day was secret and said to be just an informal discussion of the situation. Some minor union officials met here but most of the preparation of employees for to-morrow's session was done by the brotherhoods in Cleveland. The strike conference to-morrow is to be held in the Coliseum Annex and will be open to the public. This hall was chosen because the offices of the Railroad Board would not accommodate the 1,600 railroad executives and union leaders who have been ordered to participate.

It is expected that the Railroad Board will request the carriers to refrain, for the present, demanding a slash in pay of railworkers The men, it is anticipated, will be requested to rescind their October 30 strike.

Crisis Past, Say Sinn Fein; Outlook Viewed As Hopeful

BY ED. L. KEEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, October 25. — Irish peace delegates to-day declared the crisis in the negotiations was past.

British delegates said there was some improvement, but that the situation was still serious. Both agreed, however, as they resumed their meetings this afternoon, that the outlook for peace was more hopeful.

Premier Lloyd-George's determination to attend the Washington Limitation of Armaments Conference was speeding up the conference to-day, as important agenda which the Sinn Fein delegates require must be completed before his departure.

The question raised by De Valer a's telegram to the Pope, reiterating that Ireland considered itself independent, was still before the conference.

CANNOT LOWER BREAD PRICES BAKERS STATE

CLAIM THAT HIGH LABOR AND DELIVERY COSTS NEGATIVE DECREASE IN THE PRICE OF FLOUR.

ALLEGATIONS MADE OF EXORBITANT PROFITS

There is no immediate prospect of a decrease in the price of bread, bakers interviewed by The Examiner stated yesterday. Bread prices are now as low and lower than Montreal, it was pointed out, and the bakers believed that the public were not looking for any decrease with operating costs so high. At least, they told The Examiner there had been no complaints to them about the high price charged.

One and one-half pound loaf tickets are ten for a dollar. In the stores large loaves are one cent more than if bought with tickets. In Toronto prices are the same, and in Montreal large loaves, that is, ones baked by the English bakers, are 22 cents.

Prices Stationary.

"The situation, so far as I can see, is fairly stationary. Flour prices are certainly lower, but operating costs all round are not down any," said H. W. Stock, of William Stock and Sons, one of the city's largest bakers. "Our labor costs have not been reduced a cent. If anything, we are paying a little more by the new schedule, which holds good till next June. We don't like to cut the wages. I don't think the men are getting too much. Bakers, like some other trades, have never been well paid, and the bakers do not wish to see the wages reduced." Figuring everything into the overhead, Mr. Stock said the bakers could not reduce prices any further at the present time.

Bakers say that in Montreal the trade claim they are absolutely running at a loss, and they are getting a cent more per loaf than the local men. The bakers say that their delivery costs always mount during autumn on account of the large number of housewives who begin to bake their own bread as soon as cold weather arrives. There has been quite a falling off on the routes, they say, although the store trade keeps firm. With less demand on the streets, the delivery costs naturally increased, a condition which is accentuated when snow arrives, because of the slowness in delivery. This, the bakers say, is a further reason why prices cannot be reduced. The summer trade is 50 per cent. above the winter, they declare.

Allegations that the bakers are making exorbitant profits are based on figures as below:

Flour per barrel.	Bread per loaf.
1913-15—$5.50	5 to 6 cents.
1921 —$7.60	10 cents.

It is asserted that the bakers get fifty-five pound and a half loaves from one barrel of flour. If this is so, he buys his flour for $7.60 and sells the product for $15.50. If there appears to be a disparity in these figures the bakers declare it is due to increased operating expenses.

In May, 1920, flour was at its peak price. The table shows prices going back to ante bellum days:

	Flour per barrel
March 2, 1914	$5.50
May 10, 1920	14.85
August 30, 1921	10.50
September 9, 1921	9.85
October 20, 1921	7.60

Against all the decrease in the price of flour the price of bread has only been reduced from 14 to 10 cents per small loaf. The price of flour has been reduced 48.82 per cent., whereas bread has only been reduced 28.57 per cent. Here is another way to look at it. When flour was at its peak the bakers had to sell 106 loaves to pay for a barrel of flour. now that flour is down they only have to sell 76 loaves to pay for the barrel of flour.

HON. FREDERIC NICHOLLS, HEAD OF C.G.E., DEAD

TORONTO, October 25. Canadian Press. — Lt.-Col., the Hon. Senator Frederick Nicholls, former President of the Canadian General Electric Company, died here at one o'clock to-day, after a long illness.

In 1896 he was elected president of the National Electric Light Association of America, being the only Canadian who has occupied the position.

He was secretary of the Canadian Manufacturers Association for seven years and founded the "Canadian Manufacturer," the then official organ of the manufacturing interests. He was editor and proprietor of the paper until 1893. He was consul for Portugal in Toronto, president of the Toronto Press Club, 1890; president of the Athenaeum Club, 1893; a life member of the Toronto Board of Trade; honorary member of the Canadian Press Association; and a member of the executive committee of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

BOILING WATER NOT NECESSARY SAYS DR. YOUNG

POLLUTION HAS DECREASED TO SUCH AN EXTENT THAT CHLORINE DOSE IS DEEMED SUFFICIENT.

FILTRATION PLANT WILL BE COMPLETED SOON NOW

Such an improvement is noticeable in the condition of the river water that Dr. T. W. H. Young, M.O.H., had no hesitation, after a consultation with the Superintendent of the Waterworks, R. L. Dobbin, this morning, in advising water users that it is quite safe to use the raw water without boiling. Since very early in the summer the water has been polluted to an unprecedented extent, and the dosage of chlorine has been necessarily high, finally reaching the peak at 13 pounds per million gallons.

During the last two weeks it was shown that the water was improving but to "play safe" the dosage was not reduced till yesterday, when the Superintendent was absolutely sure that it could be made without danger. It was found that the six pounds were all that was required to negative the pollution, and it was decided that the animal bodies in the raw water were destroyed sufficiently without the home process of boiling, so necessary during the warm months.

The lifting of the M.O.H.'s warning comes about the same time as last year.

The Waterworks Department asks the water users to bear with them for a few more months, by which time it is expected the sparkling filtered water will fill the mains. The work on the filtration plant is advancing rapidly, and it is expected to be in operation by the first of the year.

THE MARKETS

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, October 25 (Canadian Press). — Foreign oils, especially the Mexican group, were buoyant at the opening of to-day's stock market. Pan-American Petroleum, General Asphalt, and Houston Oil were one to 1 1-2 points higher. Rails made an indifferent response to the latest developments in the labour situation, although coalers showed a decided firmness.

Exchange on London was at its highest quotation in six months, and the German mark strengthened.

Mexican Petroleum increased its gain to six points during the morning. Low-priced Motors, notably Pierce Arrow Common and Preferred. Willys Overland Preferred and Accessories, including U. S. Rubber and Kelaly, Springfield, also strengthened with Leathers, Chemicals and Paper specialties. Rails made little progress, however, and Steels were sluggish. Heaviness was shown by some of the stocks, including American Sugar Preferred and Public Service of New Jersey. Call money opened at 5½ per cent.

Rails remained in the background at midday but specialties, including some of the obscure characters, showed gains of two to seven points despite the six per cent. rate for call money. Pressed Steel Car Pierce Arrow preferred, General Asphalt preferred and United Drug were among the strongest features.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, October 25 (Canadian Press). — The local stock exchange has seldom experienced such strength as was in evidence during the first half-hour this morning, during which time some outstanding advances were recorded. Spanish River rose 2 1-2 points to 67. Laurentide advanced 1 3-4 to 79 1-4. Atlantic Sugar was up 1 1-8 at 30. Brompton was stronger by a half at 24. National Breweries strengthened 1 5-8 to 57 3-8. Brazilian, however, was unchanged at 23 1-2 and 47 3-4, while Abitibi was down half at 33.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, October 25 (Canadian Press). — General Electric common led in activity in the Toronto stock exchange this morning. Opening at 93, a point lower than yesterday, it gained half, but failed to hold, closing at 93 1-4. C. P. R. held steady at 122 3-4, and there was quite a demand for Steamships Preferred around 54.

The Bond Market was quiet, with prices for Victories unchanged and other bonds neglected altogether. In the unlisted, Riordon went as low as 75, and closed at 80. Asbestos sold up to 55 3-4.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25. — (Canadian Press).—After opening at 1-8c off to ¼c gain, with December 1.08 to 1.08¾ and May 1.12¾ to 1.12½, the wheat market scored a material upturn all around, although a temporary sag intervened.

Corn and oats moved up with wheat. In corn the opening, which varied from unchanged figures to ½c lower, December 47 5-8 to 48, was followed by a moderate general advance. Oats started unchanged to ¼c higher, December 33 3-8, and then scored further gains.

MONARCHISTS FORCES FLEEING; KARL AND LEADERS CAPTURED; LITTLE ENTENTE THREATENING

SECOND ATTEMPT BY DEPOSED EMPEROR TO REGAIN HIS THRONE ENDS IN DISMAL FAILURE.

WILL SURRENDER KARL TO BRITISH COMMISSION

(By United Press).

VIENNA, Oct. 25. — Former Emperor Karl's second attempt to regain his throne has ended in dismal failure, and he and his principal followers are under arrest, according to advices from Budapest to-day.

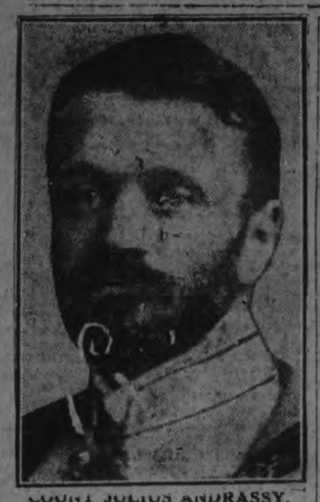
Along with Karl and Empress Zita, Count Julius Andrassy and other leaders of the movement to restore the Hapsburgs have been arrested, according to word from the Hungarian capital. Half of the troops with which Karl set out to take Budapest have surrendered, and the other half are fleeing toward Tata Tovaros, near where they were defeated in fighting with the Government forces.

Warrants have been issued for Raskoviki, Col. Lehar, and other officers of the Monarchist army.

Admiral Horthy, Regent of Hungary, announced he would surrender Karl to the British commission, which probably will send him into some exile, from which another attempt to regain the throne will be impossible.

Horthy, in a proclamation to the troops, stated that as Regent he had power to hold the reins of government until he deemed it expedient to hand them over to his Sovereign. If they were handed over at this time, he said, the result would be ruin for Hungary.

With Karl and his Empress prisoners, the nations of the "Little Entente," which threatened to march on Hungary if the former ruler were not expelled, continued to make preparations for war-like moves.



COUNT JULIUS ANDRASSY,
Leader of the Hungarian Monarchist party, who, with former Emperor Karl and Empress Zita, was captured yesterday when the former Emperor's second coup to regain his throne, failed.

Karl and His Consort Weep

FORMER EMPEROR CONFINED NEAR FIELD WHERE HIS TROOPS WERE CRUSHED IN DESPERATE FIGHT FOR THRONE.

(United Press..)

VIENNA, October 25. — Guarded by two companies of soldiers, former Emperor Karl and his consort, wept as they sat in an upper room of the Chateau Totis, near the field were their troops were crushed in battle. They will be detained in the castle until the allies sent instructions as to what shall be done with them. Both were very down-hearted. A close watch was kept on Karl lest he attempt suicide. The former Empress Zita implored the officers in charge to get some word of their children who were left in Switzerland when the desperate campaign to regain the throne was launched less than a week ago.

The remnants of Karl's army, which tried to capture Budapest, were being hunted down to-day. The last village held by the Royalists capitulated to-day and the last organized body of troops surrendered.

Karl was turned over to Regent Horthy's troops by his own body guard, it was learned to-day, after he had fled from the battlefield in a special train, and reached Komorn, where he rejoined Zita. The advance guard of his pursurers was so close that it was deemed expedient to give him up for the sake of his own safety.

Flood Washington With Wet Goods on Eve of Conference

By CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent).

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. — On the eve of the disarmament conference, with its foreign guests, the national capital is flooded with bootleg booze. Despite prohibition agents' efforts to squelch this illicit trade to refute stories that Washington is one of America's wettest cities—with the lid lifted for the conference — a bootleg army, including women, college graduates, ex-aviators, negroes, whites and foreigners is pursuing a systematic sale and distribution of liquor.

RUMOR CHARLES CAPTURED WHEN TROOPS BEATEN

NO CONFIRMATION OF THIS REPORT — GOVERNMENT HOPES TO DELIVER EX-EMPEROR TO BRITISH.

ROYALISTS SURROUNDED AND NEARLY CAPTURED

LONDON, Oct. 25. — (Canadian Press.)—It is reported that former Emperor Charles has been captured by the National Army, says a Reuter despatch from Budapest.

After further fighting the Carlist forces dispersed, abandoning Charles to the government troops, according to this information. He was handed over with every mark of consideration to Col. Falvy, commander of the National Army.

There is no official confirmation of this report.

The Carlist army, the reports state, finding itself unable to make further progress, sought to retreat and finally broke the lines on the rearward side of the attacking circle, withdrawing to Komorn with the Constitutionalists following up the retreat.

Earlier in the day the Carlists had progressed as far as Bicske, between Tata-Tovaros and Budapest and about twenty miles west of the Hungarian capital. It was here that the royalist army was encircled and its capture appeared imminent until the troops were able to break through and retreat.

The Budapest government to-day appeared confident of ultimate victory over the Carlists. The constitutionalist forces number about 20,000 against approximately 10,000 followers of the former monarch. Admiral

This step was taken following the work of the recent conciliation commission, under Chairman J. H. Godfrey of Toronto, which adjourned recently with the understanding that a round table conference should be held directly between the Grand Trunk Railway and its employees, in the hope of arriving at a settlement.

The discussion was amicable in tone but did not result in any conclusion. It was adjourned until to-day.

CONFIDENCE IN AVERTING OF RAILWAY STRIKE INCREASING AS ITS PERILS ARE REDUCED

BASED ON FACT THAT ONLY ONE-FOURTH WILL GO OUT AND GOVERNMENT CAN OPERATE FOOD AND FUEL TRAINS.

RAILROAD LABOR BOARD SAYS "THERE IS HOPE"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(Canadian Press).—Confidence that the threatened great railroad strike will not develop has steadily gained here. It is based chiefly on the fact that three-fourths of the employees will not strike and thus a strike of the remainder appears foredoomed to failure.

If necessary, the Government, with the backing of those employees who will continue work, can keep food and fuel trains running indefinitely, it is claimed.

Following, in brief, are yesterday's developments in the strike situation:

Chicago — Railroad Labor Board announces there "is great hope" that scheduled strike can be settled and warns public to refrain from "loose talk" about roads or unions.

Labor Board receives word from Big Four brotherhood chiefs retiterating warning that strike cannot be postponed, although it may be settled.

The Coliseum, scene of many national political conventions, selected by the board for strike hearing with 1,800 rail and union chiefs beginning Wednesday. Public invited and announcement made that the 1,800 executives must attend every session.

Officials of Signalmen's Union, representing 15,000 rail employees, vote not to authorize walkout at present, thus limiting prospective strikers to 475,000 trainmen, conductors, firemen, switchmen and telegraphers. Leaders warn signalmen to perform only their regular work, however.

Labor Board members say it will not offer any plan of settlement of strike situation at Wednesday's hearing, and that any such plan must come from the roads or the unions.

Cleveland—Big Four brotherhood chiefs announce that strike situation is unchanged.

Washington — Attorney - General Daughtery confers over strike situation with United States district attorneys from New York, Chicago, Cleveland, Buffalo and Indianapolis.

St. Louis—E. J. Manion, president of the Railway Telegraphers' Union, denies reports his 25,000 men may not walk out, and says they positively will stand by the "Big Five" in the proposed strike.

Houston—International and Great Northern passenger service remains normal and freight service rapidly approaching normal, despite strike of 600 trainmen, which started Saturday.

SHOT TAGGED DUCK

Sent out From Washington, Had Indentity Band on Leg.

PICTON, Oct. 25.—Mr. J. H. Fitzpatrick of the Lakeshore House shot at the Sandbanks a pair of black ducks, one of which had a band on its leg requesting that the Biological Survey, Washington, D.C. be notified and the number of 4526.

The band was on the leg of the drake. Both were fine, large birds. Mr. Fitzgerald has notified the Biological Survey of the killing of the bird. The bird with the band on its leg is evidently one of a number marked and released by the Biological Survey in order to trace their migrations.

MUST CONSERVE NATION'S HEALTH

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25. — Canadian Press. — All advances in medicine must begin and end with the welfare of the patient, Dr. Malcolm A. McFarland, the superintendent of the Vancouver General Hospital, declared yesterday in an address at the opening session of the Clinical Congress of the American College of Surgeons.

"Volumes have been written on how to eliminate waste in industry," he said. "To-day we meet to conserve the nation's health. Accurate records of each case, the best laboratory equipment, good nurses and doctors—these are the factors contributing to the conservation of the health of America."

IRISH CRISIS UNHEALED BUT HOPE IS HELD

STATUS OF IRELAND STUMBLING BLOCK IN NEGOTIATIONS FOR SETTLEMENT OF IRISH PROBLEM.

COMPROMISE ON SUBJECT NOW SEEMS IMPOSSIBLE

LONDON, October 25. Canadian Press.—The first real crisis in the Irish conference, caused by Eamon De Valera's assertion of Ireland's independence in his message to Pope Benedict last week, is not healed, but there are hopes, if not prospects, that it may be smoothed over or compromised.

The representatives of the British Government, and of the Dail Eireann, conferred for nearly three hours yesteday aftenoon, and this question was the only one before the conference, which adjourned until four o'clock this afternoon.

The government is understood to have placed clearly before the Sinn Fein delegates its ultimatum or declaration that Great Britain will deal with Sinn Fein Ireland only as a part of the British Empire, and not with representatives of the Sinn Fein as plenipotentiaries of an independent republic.

Prime Minister Lloyd George made the Government's policy clear to the House of Commons before he walked over to the Irish conference at his official residence in Downing street. He said Mr. De Valera's message was a "grave challenge," that the government's position on that question (meaning independence) had been made abundantly clear, and that the conference could not proceed upon any other basis.

The business of yesterday's conference was described after adjournment as an attempt to agree upon a formula which would carry the conference over the apparent deadlock created by Mr. DeValera's statement. That this requires delicate diplomacy goes without saying.

Mr. De Valera's claims of Ireland's independence in preliminary correspondence with Mr. Lloyd George apparently were compromised by a tacit agreement to avoid any discussion of them, but apparently the issue now has reached a stage where avoidance of the subject, or a compromise upon it, is almost impossible. Whatever optimism that was discernible last night among informed on-lookers, both British and Irish, was based upon their conviction that there are men of high abilities on both sides of the conference table and that there is a sincere desire for a settlement of the whole Irish problem on both sides.

MAY START FLAX MILLS ALONG THE LAKE FRONT

COBOURG, Oct. 25.—Mr. Rice, of Pickering, manager of a flax mill there, contemplates operating a series of flax mills along the lake front, including Port Hope, Cobourg and Trenton. He is looking for inducements in the shape of a free site, exemption from taxation and to dispose of some of the stock to local parties. At present the flax, after it is milled, is shipped to the United Staes or Ireland, to be spun into linen, and it is his intention if enough flax mills can be started to also start a spinning mill, where the complete linen will be made.

No man's opinion of himself is going to have much influence in getting him into h—

AN ELECTION FEATURE.

A writer in the Toronto Star Weekly has given us an amusing picture of an individual we all know at election times, the "ward heeler," although that title is perhaps a little too severe. A political campaign is the nearest possible approach to heaven on earth for these busy bees. They glory in the opportunity it gives them of basking in the limelight that surrounds the great and the near great, of impressing upon the general public that they are "on the inside." They never lose a chance to be seen shaking the candidate's hand or of drawing him to one side and conversing earnestly with him. At public meetings they attract attention by sidling over to the chairman and whispering mysteriously in his ear and they are always the first to start the applause when the speaker makes the proper pause for the appreciation of the audience. For weeks before the election they assume an air of busy secrecy that is designed to convey to the outsiders that they are carrying around a heavy load of state secrets upon their shoulders. An election without them would be a Hamlet without the melancholy Dane. They are on the whole, however, harmless, for their activity is generally only a pose and the Toronto Star man has perhaps been a little bit harsh in his word picture. They have their brief crowded hour of publicity and then pass off the screen—until another election comes around—and nobody much the worse because of their [illegible]ections.

THE FRENCH TRAIN.

The people of Peterborough are being given an opportunity to-morrow of viewing the French sample train which has been touring Canaad, and the chance to see the remarkable exhibits which are a cross section of all phrases of the national life of France should not be missed. The general public is invited to visit the train during the afternoon—there will of course be no admission charge—and to inspect the varied exhibits which are representative of the arts and sciences, literature, commerce and industry, travel, fashion, chemical goods, scientific instruments, objects of art, agriculture, horticulture, in fact an almost bewildering variety that fills eight railway cars.

It is interesting to note that preparations are being made for a tour of France by a Canadian train along the same lines as the one which visits Peterborough to-morrow. The Canadian exhibits will be thoroughly representative and will advertise Canada and Canadian products in France in a manner that should be of great value. In this connection Senator Beaubien of Montreal, who is accompanying the French train, refers to the advantages to be gained in the following words:

"Better, perhaps, than any other two countries in the world, Canada and France can exchange their products without fear of importing competition either way. If in the carrying out of this idea we greatly help the French republic to advertise and sell her goods in Canada and popularize her land as an ideal country for travel, please bear in mind that we will open to her a market and the resources of some 8,000,000 people, whilst we in turn shall get access in like manner to her market of 38,000,000 people."

A SOCIALISTIC ABERRATION.

In one of the most useful current works, "What Is Socialism?" by Professor Le Rossignol, of the University of Nebraska, an important fallacy of socialism is successfully exploded. This is that as the working classes become more enlightened they will themselves replace the middle class, the bourgeoisie, the exploiters of distribution, who are assumed to take an unfair toll from what the worker creates—and, according to the socialist, he creates everything. Professor Le Rossignol clearly points out that the argument proves too much. The result would be to strengthen the middle class, through these promotions by merit, as the worker learns to supplement the product of his hands by that of his brain.

Socialism is conceivable only on the theory of denying the most patent facts of human nature. No organisation of society can eliminate the individual's desire to excel. To suggest that he will become so spiritualised that he will turn this desire to the common benefit of the shirker and the incompetent is to reduce the standards of human society to idiocy. He will of course use his intelligence to put the shirker and the incompetent in their proper places. What the Socialist, and even the union labour leader, never can see is that there is no such thing as rigidity in any class. The individual perishes, but the order survives, which sounds like a contradiction of terms, but is merely a statement of everyday fact. The successful worker moves up and, what is equally important, the unskilled classes are recruited from the failures in the classes above them. We are fond of saying that there is no such thing as class in America. There will always be classes so long as a man can choose his own company. He will consort with those who subscribe to his own standards. True democracy admits promotion through all classes. But it is sometimes forgotten that it exacts that the individual shall be able to hold his position in his class. It is curious that Lenine thoroughly recognises this. The limitations of the Russian franchise are such that they exclude all except the best skilled and the most ignorant. Promotion there would be equivalent to disfranchisement. That such a system has ever been regarded as a progressive step in democracy will be matter of astonishment to future historians.—Barron's.

RESTORING ECONOMY.

"Are we loading on our Governments, national, provincial, and municipal responsibility for services we should do without at least until times mend?" is the interesting question that is asked by the Citizens' Research Institute of Canada in a recent bulletin. The Institute evidently believes that the answer is in the affirmative, for it proceeds to discuss how economy in public business can best be secured, first pointing out the essential differences between the carrying on of public business and of private business. For instance, Governments can neutralise leaks by pouring in more money, can initiate undertakings without worrying about the returns therefrom, and can take money by force from those within its jurisdiction, while private enterprises can do none of those things.

The remedy for economy in public affairs that is recommended is a thorough knowledge of facts. Some of these facts can be arrived at only through a thorough system of accounts, says the bulletin. As comparison of year with year and department with department is essential in the detection of tendencies toward waste and over-expenditure, the accounting system must be standardised within itself and as between departments, by the adoption of a uniform classification of accounts and standardised accounting terms. As comparison with other provinces and municipalities provides valuable information for the control of costs, accounting methods and accounting terms must be standardised as between provinces and municipalities the country over, if worth-while results are to be obtained. The growth of public ownership makes standardisation all the more necessary on account of the increased expenditures by public bodies. Publicly-owned utilities are purely business enterprises, and are, therefore, particularly hopeful fields for the introduction of business methods into public administration.

What organisation has done for private accounting and private accountants, organisation can do for Governmental accounting and accountants. Canada needs, as never before, an annual conference of Governmental accounting officers, and continuous co-operation throughout the year, to the end that Governmental accounting practice may be standardised throughout the Dominion.

The need is too great to allow inertia to stand in the way of progress. Could not the Dominion Government issue an invitation to the Provinces and through the Provinces to the municipalities, to send their chief accounting officers to a conference to be held at Ottawa some time during the autumn months? Undoubtedly this would result in the formation of a permanent organisation, holding regular annual meetings. Is it not worth-while to spend a few thousand dollars to save millions?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Electon prophets are one class who cannot complain of unemployment.

Many Canadians who never have breathed the salt air from the sea are rejoicing in the triumph of the Bluenose.

There is no unemployment in Germany, and the 56-hour week has been introduced. No wonder British industries are in difficulties.

Nine United States rail unions have voted against a strike. The Big Five are discovering that workers nowadays are doing their own thinking.

The Government party must be making a play for the Liberty League vote. Not satisfied with Porter in West Hastings, they have nominated Champagne in Ottawa.

Sir George Foster advised Toronto students to study public questions and be prepared to vote intelligently. The advice is good—not only for college men, but for Canadians generally.

In the visit of "The Taming of the Shrew," Peterborough people will have a chance of seeing Walter Hampden as "Petruchio, the first classical exponent of the theory of treating 'em rough."

Wise and Otherwise

We formulated the following political platform, which we consider acceptable to all citizens, both those who swear by the constitution and at it, with the intention of going to the country on it, but H.B.M. says we would never get back:

We believe that all men are born free, and some of them equal to most anything, though examination of penitentiary statistics convinces us that all of them do not remain free.

We believe that they are endowed with certain inalienable rights, chief of which is to live their lives as they please—until the police get wise to them.

We believe in the inherent authority of a husband—as far as he can get way with it.

We re in favour of placing upon the statute books legislation which would provide for the increasing of the tax on wild land, wild woman and wild oats.

We also favor deportation for males and men who use scent on their handkerchiefs.

We believe that Ontario should have two Cabinet ministers at least, and that one of these should be a bootlegger, in order that all classes in the community may have equal representation.

We do not believe that the housing shortage would be materially increased if people were compelled to spend one night a week at home.

We are in favor of disfranchising all those who walk into church more than five minutes late with a squeak in their shoes.

We heartily support the demand of the small boy for a second piece of pie.

We are in favor of capital punishment for the newspaper reporters who have made the following terms terms practically synonymous:

Night attire—What the victims of the midnight fire escaped in.

Clump of bushes—Where the body was found.

Broad daylight—When the daring robbery occurred.

Heart of the city—Where the bank was robbed.

CENTREVILLE

CENTREVILLE, Oct. 25. — In the church life of rural Canada the anniversary occasion is a big event. For weeks ahead there is much planning and preparation.

When the weather favors and all goes well the event itself is a source of deep satisfaction and pleasure to a rural community. The local congregation is augmented by many friendly visitors from the other churches and large audiences are the order of the day. So it happened at Centreville (Rev. A. A. McConnachie) on Sunday last. The weather man favored, and the roads were good, and everything contributed to a joyful day.

The Rev. George S. Gervan of Millbrook, was the preacher, and he acquitted himself to the satisfaction of all. The congregational singing was hearty and the choir's items much appreciated. The singing of Mr .and Mrs. Harry Johnson of Millbrook was a memorable feature of the day. The anniversary offering, while not so large as last year's, was considered highly satisfactory in view of the local conditions among the farmers. The minister and office bearers are grateful for the success of the big annual event in church life.

The anniversary fowl super will be held on Tuesday night and is due to be a big success.

CEDAR VILLAGE WOULD ANNEX TO OSHAWA

OSHAWA, Oct. 25.—Ratepayers of Cedar Dale on the borders of this town are seeking annexation to the corporation of Oshawa. A petition to this end, signed by eighty seven property owners in the village is now in the hands of Oshawa Town Council for action.

SYNONYMS

A synonym is a word having the same, or about the same, meaning as another, so that when you hear the one you almost naturally think of the other. Synonyms are very useful to writers and speakers and, in fact ,to all who would lift the language in which they clothe their thoughts somewhat above the drab and commonplace; without them our vocabulary would be about as colorless as a tune played on a Chinese fiddle.

In the realm of thereapeutics, or in the vocabulary used to designate or describe certain systems, phases or methods or therapy, there are two words which might be called perfect synonyms, words which mean, stand for and express the same meaning absolutely to that extent that those knowing anything about them always connote them together in their mental note book, and these words are "OSTEOPATHY" and "ADJUSTMENT." Osteopathy means adjustment in its absolute and complete sense; by correction of spinal slips and subluxation of bones; adjustment by the establishing of a proper dietary regimen; adjustment by recommending a needed surgical operation; adjustment by a proper psycho-analysis and the restoration of a mental imbalance; adjustment by the institution of necessary hygienic and sanitative reforms.

Osteopathy does all this, and all this is Osteopathy; therefore, when you hear the word "ADJUSTMENT" you should think of "OSTEOPATHY," and when you hear the word "OSTEOPATHY" you should say to yourself: "Why that means ADJUSTMENT."

It is in his spinal adjustments, the manipulating, shoving or thrusting of those little spinal bones back into proper alignment that the Osteopath really and truly excels.

Epworth League.

The League has resumed its meetings in the Methodist church. New office bearers have been appointed, and everything put in shape for another season's work.

There is a power of usefulness in the league in a village that does not boast of many meetings. Wisely guided it becomes a social and religious factor of much importance. In times like these when so many matters are up for discussion, the league might be a sort of local parliament. Its friends wish it prosperity in every way, in power and usefulness and numbers.

REMOVE BODY OF EX-KING LUDWIG TO-DAY

Science Proves the Danger of Bleeding Gums

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean.

CHURCH GATHERING IN CAMPBELLFORD A WONDERFUL SUCCESS

CHRIST CHURCH ENTERTAINS VISITORS FROM SURROUNDING DISTRICT IN RURAL DEANERY

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 25. — Christ Church, Campbellford, had another of their wonderful successes when they entertained the brothers and sisters of their loved church from the surrounding district in the rural deanery. Havelock was well represented by their rector and about 8 lay members. Hastings sent us about 8 lay members, Roseneath 12 members and Codrington 13, together with Rev. Mayor Balfour A goodly number of our own church members gathered with them in a missionary meeting. The first hour was spent in conference the men meeting in the basement where subjects were discussed of importantance about various matters in church work, viz: advisory boards or church councils, their use and advantages, the Duplex envelope as an aid to raising church funds, mens organizations, men's clubs and Bible classes as a means to attract more men into active church workers. The women held their conference in the upper hall, where maters pertaining to the Women's Auxiliary and different societies of the church such as Willing Workers, Young Peoples Guilds were discussed.

Much information was gained by all about the working organizations on the various lines from the topics discussed, and wishes were expressed for more talks like these in the future.

The chairman for the men was the Rev. C. C. Clarke, while Miss Jenkins ably presided over the meeting in the upper hall. Afterwards a delightful hour was spent with the Rev. P. S. Powles a missionary from Mid-Japan, in his lecture illustrated by lantern views of mission work and life in that country. Refreshments were then served and a very enjoyable evening was brought to a close about 11 o'clock.

HASTINGS MEN ON TRIP TO FACTORY

SAID TO HAVE BEEN IMPRESSED BY INSPECTION OF COOPERAGE PLANT AT ST. CLAIR, MICH.

HASTINGS, October 24.—W. A. McMaster, one of the directors of the National Cooperage Company, told the Examiner that the underwriting of the stock in the company was proceeding favorably, and that the projected factory for Hastings would be the first started. Reeve Hess, Walter Fowlds and T. Lynch recently accompanied Mr. McMaster to St. Clair, Mich., to see in operation one of the company's American plants. Its best record was nine barrels a minute. Mr. McMaster stated that they were greatly impressed by the inspection of the factory. The company has its own machine shops at Windsor, where the machines used in the cooperage are manufactured. It is also understood that the Government fruit inspector has recommended the National Cooperage barrel for the export trade.

TRENT RIVER HAPPENINGS

TRENT RIVER, Oct. 25.—Ideal weather favored the anniversary services, morning and evening, at the Methodist Church here yesterday.

Rev. Mr. Aikenhead, of Toronto, preached in the morning to a large congregation, and in the evening Mrs. (Rev.) Aikenhead spoke of the "Prodigal Son" to a well-filled church. Mrs. Aikenhead made an earnest appeal especially to the young people, and her message will long be remembered by all those present. Miss Aikenhead rendered a suitable solo, "Come Home," before the sermon, which was very much appreciated.

A good attendance is hoped for at the Sunday School Convention Wednesday afternoon and evening of this week. Delegates present will be entertained for tea at the various homes.

The usual Young People's meeting will be held at the church Tuesday evening.

Mr. E. H. Fairbrother motored home to Toronto Saturday, after spending the past week at his cottage.

Mr. Herbert Rose and sons, Bert and Harry, left Saturday for their home in Toronto, after spending the past week at their cottage.

A number of young folk attended the chicken pie supper at the Methodist Church, Hastings, on Friday night.

Terrific winds blew all day yesterday and last night, making navigation almost impossible for the many tourists who are here to take in the fishing.

Mr. Will Waldie and son, of Roseneath, were Sunday guests of the former's sister, Mrs. John Sedgewick, of the Sedgewick House.

Mr. Bruce Waters, who underwent an operation a week ago, is making a good recovery under the efficient nursing of Miss Ona Arnold, R.N., of Campbellford.

Guests at "Cedar Isle" are: Dr. Brethour, Dr. A. C. Muchell and brother, P. J. Collins, J. T. McKinley, J. M. Duff, C. T. Coots, Mr. Dever, E. Alson, Mr. Carleton, Dr. Burns.

RUMOR CHARLES CAPTURED, ETC.

Horthy, the Hungarian regent, said he was determined ta capture Charles and deliver him to the British military commission, who would find a suitable "Isle of St. Helena" for him.

The former emperor, before the present operations began, sent Gen. Hegedus to ask for a truce. Admiral Horthy agreed to call a truce upon the condition that the royalist troops be disarmed, that Major Oestenburg, leader of the troops, be arrested and that Stephan Rakovsky and Count Andrassy, leaders of Charles' provisional cabinet, be interned. Gen. Hegedus, however, left without accepting these conditions, whereup Admiral Horthy's forces were ordered to attack.

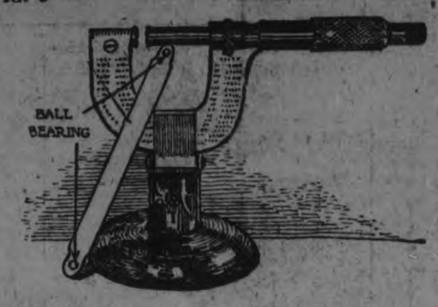
Micrometer, and Probe Used for Testing It, by Means of Which Differences of 1-100,000 Inch Can Be Detected.



THE micrometer is so marvelous an instrument that differences of one-one hundred-thousandth of an inch can be detected. But the nerves in your finger-tips are so sensitive that they can actually check up on the accuracy of a micrometer!

The accuracy with which the nerves in the finger-tips will record small differences in dimension depends on various factors. The human equation and the thickness of the skin affect the delicacy of touch to some extent, and so does the size, the weight, and the roughness of surface of the object felt. Ordinarily, with small objects up to a pound or so in weight and a few inches in length, a discrepancy of a thousandth of an inch will be readily detected. Under proper circumstances, however, it is possible to exceed this figure. When the surfaces are polished and of small size, as with small steel balls, the fingers will notice differences of a hundred-thousandth of an inch.

A method of demonstrating the sensitiveness of touch is explained in Popular Science Monthly by C. A. Briggs, who used a machinist-micrometer and a thin aluminum handle, in which a steel ball is set at each end, as shown in one of the accompanying illustrations. In a well-made micrometer the faces on the spindle and the anvil are flat and perpendicular to the axis of the spindle, with an accuracy of between one-ten-thousandth and one-one hundred-thousandth of an inch. With a micrometer that is new or in good condition it is possible to adjust the distance between the measuring faces so that the aluminum probe will just be held in place.

The senses which you perceive through your skin are numerous and varied, such as those several qualities of sensation relating to the sense of touch and including that of discrimination, the sense of temperature and the sense of pain. A careful investigation of the skin surface bears out the idea that these three great classes of cutaneous (skin) sensations have special mechanisms or classes of mechanisms for each individual sense.

In considering these senses, it is best to take them up and deal with each separately. Through the agency of the skin and the touch-corpuscles, you are able to perceive various qualities such as shape, texture and hardness of the objects in contact with the skin. Of course, the sense of hardness also has associated with it a muscular sense, in that you are able to tell the hardness of the object by pressure. But, the real sense of touch can be easily found and so can the location of the touch spots by the following very simple experiment which Joseph H. Kraus describes in Science and Invention:

If a hair is mounted on a wooden handle with a small piece of sealing wax and the skin pressed with this hair until the hair bends, then a certain known pressure is being applied to the skin. The skin is then gone over carefully with this hair and wherever a touch sense is indicated and the hair is felt touching the skin, a tiny cross or dot is placed on a chart.

The pressure applied by the hair is then determined by pressing down upon a balance which will register the number of grams-pressure a hair of that thickness can give, because the hair will bend at a certain point and the point of bending will give the weight the hair is capable of applying.

It appears to matter very little whether the surface of the skin is pushed downward or pulled upward by an instrument. A sense of pressure in either case is announced to the brain. Scientists find that on the tongue and nose, a pressure of only two grams per square millimeter will announce to the brain that a certain region is being touched.

On the back of the forearm it requires a pressure of 33 grams per square millimeter, and on the back of a finger only five grams. Nearly all pressure sensation localizes itself near a hair root, and in particular, on the side opposite to the direction toward which the hair slants.

"The sense of touch is greatly augmented by a profusion of hair on the skin," says Mr. Kraus. "When a slight touch is applied to the hair proper, it acts on the long lever arm of the hair and multiplies the force of pressure so applied five or more times, because the hair is pivoted at the surface of the skin and the small arm of the lever projects through the skin, into a hair follicle profusely surrounded by nerve endings.

"It has been found that before the skin was shaved, .2 milligram pressure was effective, whereas after being shaved it required a 36 milligram pressure to produce the same feeling of touch.

"A different sense is that of discrimination or what is otherwise known as the spatial quality of touch. If any part of the skin of the body is stimulated by applying a cork point to the skin, you can instantly tell the exact location of the excited spot. If now, instead of one point, two cork points are substituted in a pair of dividers, there must be a certain spatial distance between these points, varying in different parts of the body, before you are able definitely to determine whether or not there are two points or only one point in contact with the skin.

"By means of the temperature senses the skin can appreciate that a body coming in contact with it is either cold or warm. If the body is of the same temperature as the skin, no sensation is generally excited. Neither are the senses of warmth and cold produced by the same means."

The experimenter can readily determine this for himself by warming a small pointed glass rod and passing it over the palm of the hand. Certain regions in the hand will then give a sense of warmth. Others give a medium sense, while in still other spots no sensation will be evoked by touching the skin with the glass rod. If a rod is, on the other hand, cooled to a few degrees below body heat and moved over the same regions, cold spots can be definitely outlined.

"An investigation of these warm and cold spots," says Mr. Kraus, "shows that the apparatus for the appreciation of cold is much more distributed over the body than that of warmth. The cold areas are best marked on the chest, the nose, the abdomen, etc., and both cold and heat are less sensitive on the face, hands and mucous membranes. We can, therefore, drink hot drinks, which, if applied to the hand and other more sensitive parts of the body, would prove very painful.

"When the skin is very cold or very hot, it is much more difficult to recognize a change of temperature."

GETTING the MOST Out of MILK

MILK is one of man's most valuable foods. The baby, while he lives on mother's milk, is almost free from putrefactive bacteria in his intestine. Later, on a mixed diet, he accumulates a choice lot of bacterial enemies—unfriendly germs—and they colonize his intestine for the rest of his life.

Sour milk was lauded by Metchnikoff and others as a sort of elixir of life. It was thought that the bulgarian bacillus and the lactic acid that it formed, transformed the bacterial population of the intestine and excluded undesirable bacterial citizens. This is not now accepted as a sound scientific theory. Sour milk is a wholesome food and it helps to keep the intestine wholesome and free from unfriendly germs, but so does sweet milk, and it does it through the milk sugar upon which the real friendly germ of the intestine, the bacillus acidophilus, feeds.

You can plant the bacillus acidophilus in the intestine by feeding cultures of it, and germs of this type that are always present in a certain number will multiply if a diet rich in milk sugar is taken. It was thought by Metchnikoff that the bacillus bulgaricus could be implanted and cultivated in the intestine, but later experiments would indicate that this is not so, and that he confused the bacillus acidophilus with the bacillus bulgaricus. The practice of eating the culture tablets of bacillus bulgaricus would seem, therefore, to be of no practical benefit and the results that were sought to be obtained by this method may be obtained by drinking liberal quantities of milk, and the use of milk sugar in addition.

Milk sugar is rather expensive, but if it does the work it is cheap at the price. For so-called auto-intoxication or chronic intestinal infection, according to a bulletin of The Life Extension Institute, milk to which milk sugar has been added is well worth a trial, and on present evidence it would be good for the average individual to try to improve his intestinal condition by such method and see to it that his intestines are populated chiefly by the "best families" of germs. A mixture made by adding several ounces of sugar of milk to a quart of sweet milk is fattening and nourishing, not only to the body but to the friendly germs of the intestine. People who cannot take sweet milk often are able to take sour milk, and the milk sugar could be used in the diet in other ways as is customary with cane sugar, although it has not equal sweetening qualities. Those who suffer from diabetes, overweight, chronic rheumatism, or other conditions where sugar is not well tolerated, should, of course, avoid liberal use of any kind of sugar.

What Is Meant by Timber of "VIRGIN GROWTH"

SPECIFICATIONS often call for "virgin growth" or "second growth" timber, yet the terms are without fixed significance, and the material when delivered cannot be positively identified as belonging to one class or the other.

"Virgin growth," aso called "first growth" or "old growth," means timber which grew up in a standing forest under conditions of active competition for sunlight and moisture.

"Second growth," which applied to a forest stand, usually means timber whose main growing period occurred under conditions of lessened competition, after all or a portion of the original stand had been removed by cutting, fire, wind, or other means. In connection with individual trees, the term is used to mean any whose growing conditions approximated those which would produce a "second growth" stand. To the wood user, "second growth" means material cut from either of these sources. In general, the term is associated with the idea of a second crop of timber, though specific applications may vary.

Virgin growth is generally thought of as slow-growing timber, while second growth, due to more favorable conditions, is relatively rapid. A faster rate of growth is evinced by wider annual rings. These are popularly supposed to indicate stronger and tougher wood in the hardwoods, such as ash, hickory, elm and oak; and weaker and brashy wood in the conifers, such as pine and fir. Hence, for uses in which strength and toughness are essential, second growth is sought among the hardwoods, whereas in conifers virgin growth is desired.

As a second growth forest attains maturity, the rate of growth slows up, and the annual rings may be no wider than in virgin-growth timber of the same size. On the other hand, when a slow-growing suppressed forest tree is freed by removing the neighboring trees, it may grow rapidly for a long period. Therefore it is possible to have some wood with the characteristics of virgin growth and some with those of second growth in the same tree. Furthermore, individual trees in a virgin growth forest may have the characteristics of second growth throughout and vice versa.

A Friendly Poison Gas

THE laity would have some difficulty in seeing any connection between a poison gas and a clear water supply, but the magic wand of the electrochemist reveals chlorine as the basis of the gas and chlorine as the safeguard of the water supplies.

A few pounds of hyperchlorite, according to the New York Medical Journal, will insure safety to troops in tropical places or alien cities. Chlorine aids in healing ghastly wounds, in sterilizing sewage. One hundred and twenty pounds of hyperchlorite will sterilize 1,000,000 gallons of screened sewage. It will flush streets and cars, sterilize dairies and so insure pure, clean milk for the babies. So a terrible poison gas is turned into a friend by science and an outlet for the excess chlorine in metallurgy and organic chemicals is found.

The New "Language of the Air"

BECAUSE of the frequency with which the "language of the air" is not only misused, but also misunderstood, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics has just devised and compiled a standardized set of terms which have been prescribed for use in Uncle Sam's army and naval air service. Among the new and often misunderstood terms are the following:

Aeronaut—The pilot of an aerostat (airship or balloon).

Airdrome—A landing field equipped with hangars and shops.

Aviator—The operator or pilot of heavier-than-air craft, such as airplanes and seaplanes.

Bank—To incline a plane laterally in turning to prevent skidding.

Ceiling—Maximum height to which an airplane or airship can climb.

Fuselage—Body of an airplane, including passenger seats.

Glider—An airplane without a power plant.

Helicopter—An aircraft deriving its support not from wings but the vertical thrust of propellers.

Nacelle—Enclosure for passengers or engines, but unlike the fuselage, it has no tail unit.

Ornithopter—An aircraft deriving its support and power from flapping wings.

Pancake—To land by an airplane by levelling off higher from the ground than normal, causing it to stall and descend nearly vertically.

Slide Slipping—Sliding on a bank, toward the ground.

Skids—Runners used with landing gear, also on lower wing tips, as a protection.

Skidding—Sliding sidewise away from the ground on a bank; opposite to slipping.

Soar—To fly on a level without power.

Spin—An aerial manoeuvre in which the airplane descends nearly vertically while turning rapidly in the form of a helix or a "workscrew."

Taxi—To run an airplane over the ground or a seaplane over the water under its own power without taking the air.

Zoom—To climb rapidly at a very steep angle.

According to the recent published report of the national advisory committee "aircraft" constitutes any form of craft designed to navigate the air and is divided into "aerostats" and "airplanes." Aerostats comprise lighter-than-air craft, embodying a container filled with a gas lighter than air, such as hydrogen and sustained by its buoyancy. They include "airships" and "balloons."

Aerial experts will tell you that it is customary for the public to call anything that traverses the air an "airship," whereas the word "aircraft" should be employed. They say that all balloons, rigid and non-rigid airships, or lighter-than-air craft, are constantly being termed "blimps," a slang word now obsolete, but originally used to designate a non-rigid airship, driven by an engine installed in an airplane fuselage slung beneath the gas bag.

The word "airplane" is now used to designate craft heavier than air, obtaining their support from the action of the air on the wings, and driven through the air by screw propellers. "Tractors" are airplanes having their propellers in front, "pushers" having them in the rear. Usually airplanes are equipped for land work with wheeled landing gear, but, when fitted for alighting on water, with a boar or pontoons, the term "seaplane" is used.

"Airships," as the craft formerly known as lighter-than-air are now called, are divided into three types; rigid, whose form is maintained by a metallic frame within the gas bag or envelope; non-rigid, whose envelope is kept taught by the pressure of the contained gas, and semirigid, maintained by a rigid or jointed keel and also by gas pressure. These three types are all propelled by gas engines located in a hull or car, or in individual engine houses suspended below the supporting envelope, and controlled by means of rudders and fins.

"Balloons," the second division of the aerostat class, have no power plants nor means of controlling their horizontal flight. They include free, or flight balloons of the old-style spherical type; captive ballons used in forming an aerial barrage against airplane attacks; kite, an elongated captive balloon such as the Caquot observation balloon, which has tail fins to keep it headed into the wind; nurse, a small heavily fabricated balloon used for storing gas and filling service balloons; and pilot and sounding balloons employed in securing meteorological data.

The heavier-than-air types of aircraft now officially termed airplanes, are divided into several classes according to the number of planes or wings, which are usually superimposed, namely: monoplanes, biplanes, triplanes and multiplanes. There is also the Langley type of airplane, which is still called the tandem from the arrangement of its double set of wings on approximately the same level.

The word "hydroplane" has often been misused in referring to a seaplane; "hydroplane" designates a sea sled, which planes on the surface of the water but does not take the air. An airplane has been called an "aero," which, it is explained, is as wrong as calling a boat a "water." The words "aeroplane," "hydro-aeroplane" and "dirigible" have been done away with and "airplane," "seaplane" and "airship" have taken their places.

"Seaplanes," airplanes designed to rise from or light on the water, are classified in two groups; boat seaplanes, having a central hull not unlike a boat, and float seaplanes, whose landing gear consists of one or more floats or pontoons.

Rare Sugar as Diet for Disease Germs

DELICATE tests are required for determining the purity of rare sugars, which often are sold for several hundred dollars a pound. Rare sugars are principally used in the cultivation of disease germs for study and if these are not absolutely pure, they fail of their purpose. They are made of such unusual substances as the roots of the dahlia, from the ivory nut and from manna.

An example of the extreme accuracy of the tests required is given in the Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry, prepared by Drs. Carl Pfanstiehl and Robert S. Black, of Highland Park, Ill. The chemists warn their fellow-workers for instance against using in the processes any distilled water drawn from a copper faucet as the contact of the metal has been known to prevent the growth of certain organisms.

They also urge that the moisture present in these sugars be kept down to a small fraction of 1 per cent. The sugars must also be kept white as organic coloring matter interferes with the brilliancy of their solutions and the detection of delicate color reactions.

Making SOW'S EAR Into SILK PURSE

THAT ages-old challenge that "you cannot make a silk purse out of a sow's ear," at last has been met by 20th century science. Evidence of this fact was shown at the recent Chemistry Exposition in New York city, at which Arthur D. Little, a chemist of Cambridge, Mass., exhibited such a purse.

The announcement of the successful result of experiments, contains the explanation that the silk is not very strong and that there is no prestrand. This becomes a firm filament of silk when it coagulates on reaching the air.

Analysis of this viscous liquid showed it to be like glue and with somewhat similar chemical properties. The sow's ear being chiefly gristle and skin also has the natural elements of glue. This was obtained from the ears and it was put through several processes of preparation, filtered under pressure and placed in spinning apparatus of a special design.

The solution of glue and chemicals came out as 16 very fine colorless streams, joined into one ent industrial value in the process involved. It is more or less the product of chemistry at play, but a contribution also to philosophy in proving the fallacy of the old proverb.

To Make a Silk Purse Out of a Sow's Ear, Science First Analyzed the Silkworm's Method of Making Silk, and Then Copied Its Caterpillar Chemistry in the Laboratory.

In describing how a sow's ear from the stockyards was transformed into a silk purse such as a woman might carry, the chemist explained that the first step was to analyze the silkworm's method of making silk. This done, its caterpillar chemistry was copied in the laboratory.

It was found that man had to provide a substitute for a process by which the silkworm exudes from two fine ducts in its head minute threads of a viscous liquid coated with another secretion, which are cemented into a double composite fibre, treated to give it strength and color, and processed yet again to obtain the desired soft, silky feel. The weaving followed on a small hand loom, the fabric was formed and thus a silk purse was made from a sow's ear.

TOO MUCH RELIGION!

(A. H. McConnachie.)

"The world is dosed with too much religion", says a recent writer. "Life is to be learned from life, and the professional moralist is, at best, but a manufacturer of shoddy wares." Paul said as much to the Athenians. They had too much religion—of a kind! It is equally true of the twentieth century. We erect altars to all sorts of gods and goddesses. It is hardly possible to have too much religion of the right kind. Truth to tell, we are not in any danger from that kind of excess There is some danger, however to the church and humanity from certain varieties of religion that are shoddy and effiminate and artificial—perversions of true religion which is living and life-giving. The troubles lies here; religion is too often divorced from actual living and becomes a mere diversion or a formal parade. And, "the corruption of the best is the worst."

Church a Kindergarten

The church, under differing leadership, grows all sorts of religion. One church is a kind of kindergarten! Its members are all under age! They are lectured and admonished as children, and they take it meekly, though it be as water on the duck's back! They must not dress in a certain fashion, or dance, or go to the "movies". They must not exercise their divine right of private judgment. The most grandmotherly advice is freely handed out. Thus, preaching degenerates to the trivial level of smal talk. Pity the professional moralist," n the pulpit or out of it.

Church Sweetmeats

Another Church is a kind of confectionery store. All sorts of sweetmeats of music, of light doctrine and anecdote are served up. A sloppy sort of religion is developed that moves between smiles and tears. There is no appeal to the intelect or reason, but the emotions must be stirred. Some men seem to claim a divine right to act foolishly and to degrade the true religion.

Church Reviling

There is another variety of religion one meets occasionally. It paints human nature in the blackest colours. It describes the earth as a vale of tears or a desert drear. Men, by nature, are altogether bad and exposed to endless judgment. Jesus had no words of condemnation for the outcast, only pity and forgiveness, but, these teachers of the law, after reviling the bulk of their fellows as miserable sinners, consign them to the endless miseries of the future! Such teaching carries with it the hollow-sound of unreality, and awakens no response. It is not true to nature or life.

The Pulpit Actor.

Another sanctuary is "blessed" with a "professional' preacher, as well as "moralist", who makes a fair show in the flesh, i.e. a good, theatrical display! He is a pulpit actor and advertises himself by means of the gospel! Well might Cowper say: "In man or woman, but far most in man,
And most of all in man that ministers
And serves the altar, in my soul I loathe
All affectation. 'Tis my perfect scorn;
Object of my implacable disgust.
* * * * * * * *
Therefore avaunt all attitude and stare,
And start theatric, practised at the glass!"

Burns' lines apply to curtain pulpiteers:
"O wad some power the giftie gie us
To see oursel's as ithers see us!
It wad frae monie a blunder free us
And foolish notion;
What aire in dress and gait wad lea'e us,
And e'en devotion!"

The Church Hustler.

Again, the hustler has invaded the church. Everything must be organized to the last degree. He would organize the atmosphere and the sunshine if he could! The church must be boosted after the manner of the theatre. There is a great show of activity, a fine, window display, many meetings that have a sort of galvanised existence, but no real life. This is a poor substitute for dignified worship and deep devotion.

The Musty Past!

And what more need one say? Of the traditionalist who lives in the musty past and respects the old Shibboleths as if they were valid for the present? It is pitiful. The boys who fought in the trenches faced the issues of life and death. They were in touch with grim reality. How can they listen patiently to disquisitions that are stale, that have not been brought up to date, that do not savour of reality or answer to the need of present-day life?

Positive Message Needed

The church must have a positive message, even as Jesus had. In His teaching you seldom find the negative "thou shalt not." There is a call to life, to a full and complete life. To live a positively good life means that evil is defeated and dethroned.

We have to do now with a more or less educated world. We cannot make it walk in leading-strings. It is well to recognize the new freedom that has come to the children of this generation We must not measure the children's liberties by the father's. It should be the glory of the Church to try to give direction of nobler purpose to the enfranchised mind of the twentieth century. Instead of dogma in matters of detail let the Church seek to guide and suggest and inspire.

Verily, there is too much religion —of a kind!

The only sort of religion that will survive the crucial tests of the new era is that variety which is robust and manly in itself; that lives in the open and welcomes light from every source. It is jealous only for the truth and can be woven into the fabric of life. The true Christian religion welcomes criticism. It has nothing to fear. The world cannot have too much of the religion of the man Christ Jesus, the Master of Men.

THE MADE-IN-FRANCE EXHIBITION TRAIN HERE ON WEDNESDAY

The "Made in France" Exhibition train consisting of thirteen cars, including eight cars of exhibits, 1 Dynamo baggage car which supplies current to light the train; also dining car and three sleepers for use of those travelling with the exhibits, will arrive over the Grand Trunk from St. Catharines at 5 a.m. Wednesday, October 26th, and remain here till 11 p.m., when it will leave for Belleville.

The train will be parked on Bethune street, between Charlotte and Hunter streets, Simcoe street, being blocked to traffic that day.

Exhibit will be open for delegations Trade and Commerce exclusively from 10.30 a.m. to 12.30 noon, and for all visitors from 2.30 p.m. to 5.30 p.m. and 7.30 p.m. to 9.30 p.m. Admission Free

A restriction has been placed on the admission of children because at many places hundreds of children have turned up to the exclusion of the general public, which proved to be unsatisfactory as the train is primarily a commercial enterprise. But school children (Senior classes only) can be admitted in organized groops accompanied and under authority of their teachers between 9.30 a.m. and 10.30 a.m. only.

It takes at least one half hour to unpack Exhibit before opening and one hour to repack them after each exhibition, which explains why there is a margin between hours of opening and closing and itinerary.

The personnel of the train includes Count D'Arnaud, who is the Head of the French Republic Trade Commissions, also representatives of several Industrial concerns of France. Senator Beaubien of Ottawa and H. R. Charlton, General Advertising Agent, G.T.R. Montreal, are accompanying train.

TELLER ADMITS FALSE ENTRIES.

But Denies He Profited Thereby.

BAY CITY, October 22. — Carl W. Lankenau, former teller of the Bay City Bank, accused of falsifying the records of the bank and of embezzling $60,000, admits that he is guilty on the eleven counts of the indictment charging false entries, but denies that he embezzled the money, or received any benefit therefrom.

He also admitted in Federal Court through his attorney, that his affidavit at the time the shortage was discovered, that he turned the missing money over to David Miller, cashier of the bank, was false.

Prior to the opening of the trial, Lankenau had offered to plead guilty to the first eleven counts, provided the other two, which charged embezzlement, were dismissed, but John E. Kinane, district attorney, refused to agree.

Half a day was spent in selecting a jury. Mr. Kinane, in his opening statement, described how the shortage had been discovered by State bank examiners. He said that the false entries were always made about the time of the semi-annual examination of the bank's business by the State Banking Department and of its examinations by the board of directors; that the first entries showed a shortage in 1910 of about $13,000; that to the next examination, the shortage had increased to $25,000, then to $30,000, and gradually to $60,00.

Two examiners of the State Banking Department told of the discovery of the shortage early in May, and finally of securing from Lankenau his affidavit that he had turned the missing money over to the cashier, with a request that it be placed in another vault, as the one he had charge of was crowded.

Up in God's own country

—her boy is getting well

HE was working his way through college, this boy, and contributing, too, to his mother's scanty resources.

Clever, and ambitious—his future looked the brightest! But—overwork and study undermined his health.

He had a breakdown.

"Consumption" was the doctors' verdict—and grim despair gripped the mother's heart.

Must he die, her boy? Surely, surely, somewhere, someone would help.

She appealed to the National Sanitarium Association —and hope was justified.

Free treatment was provided at the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives, near Gravenhurst.

Now, up in "God's Own Country," —up among the pine trees, where the air is pure and life-giving—her boy is getting well.

The mother's prayers are being answered.

It is the needs of such as these that make necessary the National Sanitarium Association's

Consumptives' Emergency Million Dollar Fund

THE MUSKOKA Hospital for Consumptives, destroyed by fire on November 30th last, must be replaced by buildings, larger and fireproof.

Accommodation is needed at the MUSKOKA Hospital for 400 adults in early stages of the disease. This will restore 250 of them to their homes and loved ones—cured. The remainder will be greatly benefited.

A few months for each patient soon means thousands cared for. Funds are urgently needed for this work.

Again—adults in advanced stages must be treated at the King Edward Sanatorium on the banks of the Humber near Weston. Extensions are necessary. Many of these patients can be saved.

And again—little children—stricken with the dread disease—must be cared for at the Queen Mary Hospital for Consumptive Children near Weston. Ninety per cent. of these are saved to become healthy men and women.

Funds are urgently needed to cover the cost of extensions.

Further, funds are urgently needed to carry on the work of The Gage Institute in the City of Toronto, where the needy poor come for free examinations, including X-ray, and for medical and nursing assistance.

Fifteen thousand needy consumptives have been cared for to date at the hospitals conducted by the Association.

HUDSON BAY VESSEL BACK FROM FAR NORTH

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Oct. 25.—(Canadian Press).—The Hudson Bay Company's vessel Lady Kindersley, arrived here Saturday night from the Far North and went into drydock to have her propeller straightened. The craft went to a point 30 miles northeast of Herschell Island, reaching a point as far north as the Franklin expeditions. On the voyage back the vessel encountered severe weather off Cape Prince of Wales, and was caught and held in the ice at Cross Island for two weeks.

Mrs. O'Kelley, who was a passenger to Coronation Gulf to join her husband, Commissioner O'Kelly, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, was the first white woman ever seen by the Eskimos.

INCREASED IMMIGRATION ACTIVITY IN BRITAIN

OTTAWA, Oct. 25.—(Canadian Press).— Immigration activity by the Canadian government in Great Britain on a more extensive scale than has prevailed since the outbreak of the war is said to be the object of a visit of W. J. Black, deputy minister of immigration and colonization, to England at the present time Mr. Black sails to-day.

"Unsettled industrial condition, particularly in Europe, since the armistice have greatly complicated Canadian immigration activities," said Mr. Black just before leaving. "Large numbers of industrial workers and refugees from the devastated areas in Europe have been offering themselves as immigrants. In most cases they are without capital or experience such as would enable them to make a start in Canada. Such immigration has been vigorously discouraged except in those instances where there was a demand for the type of labor offering.

"On the other hand, agricultural settlers with some capital, of the type needed in Canada, have been enjoying unusual prosperity in their own countries, which had added to the problem of obtaining such people as settlers."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

MR. ROGERS EXPLAINS

I thought that my long connection with the "Examiner" would have prompted you to have at least asked me or the County Magistrate, as to the facts of the matter before giving such prominence on the front page of your issue of Friday last to such an unfavourably worded article as was contained therein with reference to my shooting of a black squirrel.

I can quite understand Inspector Woodcock rushing at once to the "Examiner" office with the news that he had secured a conviction under the "Fish and Game Protection Act."

If the numerous infractions of the law were as easy of detection as they were in my case he might keep himself in the limelight continually. In my case he got his information through his brother-in-law who at the time was in my employ on my farm, but who I had to discharge soon after, he leaving with very bad grace after telling a fellow employee that he would have it in for me. The Inspector having this tip came up and interviewed me when I told him that I had shot the black squirrel as it was destroying my property, though I had no idea that it was against the law. I then gave him the skin. This was all the evidence he offered in the case and which I confirmed. This was all the evidence necessary to compel the Magistrate to levy the minimum fine of $22.25 for the offence. The Inspector appears not to know the usual court practice is for the defendant to plead "not guilty" in order that the facts of the case may be brought out. I was so advised by my solicitor to so plead. Perhaps when the Inspector has a little more success in his position he will know more of court practices. Your article ends with the statement of the Inspector that "Mr. Rogers was a member of the Fish and Game Protection Association." This was uncalled for, it was added for the purpose of insinuating that my support of this Association was not sincere. The president of this Association informs me that dozens of informations, of most serious infractions of the Act in this section over which Mr. Woodcock has jurisdiction have been reported but no convictions have been secured.

This article is altogether too long. However, allow me, Mr. Editor, to state the facts briefly which could have been found out before you allowed this article to have appeared, by asking the County Magistrate or myself. Red squirrels have become so numerous that they have destroyed a large part of my crop of grain and apples as well as cutting holes in my granary, barns and outhouses. I decided to have such destruction stopped and get rid of these pests and was shooting them off when this black squirrel (which is the only one which has ever appeared about here) came along and was shot the same as his cousins, as I did not know that the law made any distinction between them. The carcase laid about for some days, when it was suggested to me that I get it stuffed. When I took it to the taxidermist he informed me it was against the law (which was the first I knew of this law) so he could not stuff it for me. I took it home and laid it out on a board from which the Inspector took it. I quite appreciate the fact that ignorance of the law does not prevent one from coming under the penalty of the law, or allow a Magistrate to exercise any option in the case; however, in mitigation of my offence I might say that I have not hunted for some years so I had no occasion to study the law heretofore, in fact as the Magistrate remarked not one lawyer in a thousand knew all the laws of the land.

ASSESMENT ACT

Copy of resolution passed October 20, 1921, by Weir Royal Black Preceptory No. 261, Peterboro.

"That, whereas an organized effort is being carried on at the present time in the Province of Ontario by certain Roman Catholic bishops, demanding an amendment to the Assessment Act, whereby a portion of the Roman Catholic population of Ontario, would be diverted to the support of Roman Catholic sectarian schools:

"And whereas the Roman Catholic Church authorities and organizations are conducting a province-wide propaganda, supporting these demands, with the evident intention of impressing the Government of Ontario with their numerical strength:

"And whereby the demands now being made by the bishops are the same in principle as the demands made by the Roman Catholic Church representatives before the Confederation, viz.: to receive public monies for Separate School support, not in proportion to the Roman Catholic taxable property, but in proportion to the population, though the ratio of that population may be many times that of the taxes they pay:

"And whereas similiar remands were denounced by Dr. Ryerson as a 'monstrous proposition' and were rejected by the Government and Parliament of Canada in 1855, 1858, 1861 and 1862:

"And whereas the Separate School Act of 1863 was confirmed as 'a finality as to assumed rights by the North America Act of 1867, Section 93, and adopted by the Parliament because of that belief:

"And whereas to grant the present demands of the Roman Catholic bishops would not only violate the fundamental principle of the Act of 1863, but would, in an arbitary manner, define all Roman Catholics as Separate School supporters, and result in the crippling of the splendid system of Ontario:

"Therefore, be it resolved that we, the members of Weir Royal Black Preceptory No. 261 of the City of Peterborough, believing that it is the duty of all friends of the Public School system of Ontario to express their opinion at this time, hereby record an emphatic protest against the re-opening of the school question by granting to the Roman Catholic Schools of Ontario any of the concessions demanded by their Bishops, or the adoption of any regulation or amendment by the Government or Legislature that would further extend sectarian schools in the Province at the expense of the Public Schools, which are open to every class and creed."

SECRET SERVICE IS HUNTING FOR ROBBERS OF MAIL

HELD UP TRUCK ON BROADWAY AND SECURED $1,000,000 LOOT

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.— (United Press.)— A small army of government secret service agents to-day were looking for three men who held up a mail truck and secured loot, the value of which may be $1,000,000. The robbery took place on lower Broadway last night, the bandits holding up the truck under the glare of an arc light.

Post office officials have feared such an attempt might be made and had taken precautions against it. The very boldnes of the robbery apparently defeated the precautionary measures.

NOT TO MAKE ISSUE OF SCHOOL INCIDENT

WINNIPEG, Oct 25.—(Canadian Press).—W D Bayley, M.L.A., who yesterday resumed the principalship of King George V School in Norwood, denied that a meeting of ratepayers had been called for Thursday evening to consider his refusal to participate in a Trafalgar Day commemoration service here last week. A report published Saturday said the citizens would consider whether or not they should continue to send their children to King George School.

Mr. Bayley stated that Thursday's meeting had been called before the Trafalgar Day incident occurred to discuss general civic affairs. Several prominent citizens are quoted as denying all knowledge of any intention to make an issue of the incident.

ASKS REDUCTION IN LUMBER FREIGHT RATES

VICTORIA, B.C., Oct. 25.— (By Canadian Press.) —Excessive rates on Canadian railroads are strangling business on Vancouver Island, causing loss to capital and throwing laboring men out of work, the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners was told yesterday by representatives of the associated boards of trade of Vancouver Island.

The trade boards placed before the railway board an application "for a reduction in rates on lumber from coast and interior mills to stations in Eastern Canada."

A CHANCE TO INSPECT C.N.R. ACROSS CANADA TRAIN ON NOV. 11.

Practically All the Comforts of Home Are Provided in Sleeping Car Attached.

A unique opportunity will, on Nov. 11th, be afforded the residents of Peterboro and vicinity of inspecting one of the trains which the Canadian National Railways employs in the transcontinental service.

The train is of outstanding interest in a two-fold sense. In the first place it shows the kind of locomotive and cars that are being used in the transcontinental service while in the second place it is an jocular demonstration of high-class locomotives and railway cars which are being made in the factories of the Dominion.

The train is complete in every respect, being composed of sleeping car, colonist car, and express car. Each car is the embodiment of the latest and most-up-to-date ideas designed to secure for the traveler the maximum of comfort and safety. Steel equipment is employed in every instance.

Practically all the comforts of home life are provided by the sleeping car attached to the train. Those who desire more than the usual measure of sleeping car privacy can, by a simple device, be accommodated with individual sections. The interior of the car is finished in mahogany. Seats are of the latest design in friezette short nap. Lighting is by electricity throughout. The car is heated by the largest size Pullman standard type of hot water. Berths are equipped with latest conveniences. The water supply is obtained from underfed tanks. By the electric-driven suction fans installed, the air of the car can be changed every twenty minutes. The cost of a car of this kind is $53,000.

The dining car has seating capacity for thirty persons. It is finished in quarter-cut oak and is equipped with the latest innovations in respect to cooking facilities, lighting arrangements and the conveniences of travellers. Housewives will be particulary interested in the kitchen. Among the features of its equipment are removable carving tables, hot tables for cooked meats and poultry, and special arrangements for heating cups and dishes. Refrigerators are equipped with the Bohn system of refrigeration, separate compartments being provided for poultry, meats, milk and vegetables. Stewards, chefs and waiters are on hand to explain equipment and reveal the mysteries appertaining to the kitchen and dining room of a travelling hotel. Cost entailed in building and equipping dining car such as the one on exhibitinn is $46,000.

To the average citizen who may contemplate a cross-Canada trip in a less expensive way than in the standard sleeper, the tourist car shown is of particular interest. It is just as substantially built as the standard sleeper and is exceedingly well-equipped with modern conveniences, but is less luxuriously finished. The car is lighted by electricity, one peculiar feature of which is the location of electric lamps under the seats for use at night when the ceiling lights are out. The car is also equipped with a modern kitchen, containing range, refrigerator, sink, cupboard, etc., for the convenience of travelers who wish to provide their own meals. This car cost $39,000.

Another car that will probably be of particular interest to many is the colonist car. The car shown is of an improved type, and is now in use by the Canadian National Railways in harvesters' excursions. The berths are adjustable in order to accommodate themselves to day or night travel. A car of this kind costs $32,500.

The day coach is of the well-known standard type used on the Canadian National system, and cost $33,000. The express car is of the type that is regularly used by the Canadian National Express Company.

Total cost to reproduce a train such as that now on exhibition would be approximately $370,000, cars alone costing over $300,000. A similar train was shown at the Canadian National Exhibition, and was visited by 100,000 people.

The train is accompanied by a staff of men efficient in the various departments appertaining thereto. Their office is to explain by practical demonstrations the "why and wherefore" of the equipment of an across-Canada train such as that in use on the Canadian National Railways system.

Wouldn't it be an improvement to have the silver lining without the cloud attachment?

WE'RE WINNING THE WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS

But Fight Must Be Kept Up, and $1,000,000 Is Needed for Muskoka Hospital.

DEATHS CUT IN HALF.

Marvellous Work Done By National Sanitarium Association, Which Is in Need of Funds.

Tuberculosis has come to a very modified place in human affairs in the past twenty years.

In 1902, when the first Muskoka Free Hospital was built at Gravenhurst, "t.b". was universally called the "great white plague." Where it struck, it killed. Families were wiped out. Homes were cursed. When a man or a woman got the flushed spot and the ripping cough of the dread disease, friends put on a metaphorical mourning and waited for the inevitable end.

To-day, with a campaign in full swing for a million dollar fund to rebuild the Muskoka Free Hospital which was destroyed by fire last November, tuberculosis is still the greatest killer of all the enemies of mankind. But since 1900, deaths from consumption in Ontario have been cut in half. Annually 150 persons died of tuberculosis per 100,000 of population. To-day, that figure is 75.

And the great part of the credit for this victory over the plague of civilization must go to the National Sanitarium Association, led by the late Sir William Gage, which, apprising itself of all the latest scientific knowledge on the subject, built sanitaria, spread broadcast the warnings and information which today every schoolboy is acquainted with, and provided the means, through public subscription and private donation, of saving and curing thousands of men, women and children, who, a short generation ago, were doomed and expected to die.

Fifeeen thousand consumptives have been cared for in the three free hospitals of the association. These hospitals are the Muskoka Free at Gravenhurst for the early cases; the Toronto Free, at Weston, for advanced cases; and the Queen Mary, at Weston for consumptive children

Just what has happened to the dread disease of our fathers' and grandfathers' day is strikingly stated in the following most recent official statement:

60 per cent. cures and improvements Muskoka Free.

30 per cent. cures and improvements—Toronto Free.

90 per cent. cures and improvements.—Queen Mary.

The older folk of this generation will really appreciate those brief figures.

Is the battle over? By no means. 75 deaths annually per hundred thousand of population is still a terrible figure.

In Toronto, in the past ten years, deaths from typhoid have been reduced from 40 per 100,000 to 2 by means of scientfic public health measures. Can the same be done with tuberculosis?

Consumption is this kind of a disease: It takes a man unawares. It does not declare itself with a cough, as is generally believed. That cough comes when the disease has got a stranglehold. A man goes on working, growing thinner and weaker, and more depressed. The very man who can least afford to get the disease is the one who dares not quit work — because he needs the money.

Then consumption strikes.

The man with money has been able, earlier in the game, to lay off work and go away for his health.

The poor man has worked until the disease made him quit.

It is looking after the poor man that the National Sanitarium Association has done its greatest fighting gains tuberculosis. Because so long as the disease runs unchecked amongst those yho are too poor to check it, it is o source of contagion and danger to the whole community.

Another twenty years will see no doubt, a still greater victory over tuberculosis, when, by means of hospitals and further education, the plague will be restricted to the earliest and the curable stages.

The new sanitarium, which is to rise out of the ashes of the old one in Muskoka, will be one of the greatest of modern institutions. It will be devoted to curing those in the earlier stages of the disease. It will be the headquarters of the great fight.

In view of the nature of the disease, its capability of striking anyone and throwing him on the mercy of his fellowmen, its slow progress eating up the means of those who are moderately well-to-do, the National Sanitorium Association, in its campaign is looking to every citizen of Ontario to give something exceptional, not only out of mercy for humanity, but in self-defense in the war on an enemy that menaces each one individually.

Around the ruins of the Muskoka Free Hospital, the patients are living cheerfully in tents with temporary conveniences of every kind, waiting for Ontario to set up the great modern hospital.

That wil be a decisive blow in the advance to victory. Let Peterborough citizens rise to the occasion this week, and contribute the $10,000 objective set for this community in a cause transcendently worthy.

Indoor Life

Spending more time indoors makes women far more subject to constipation than men.

The liver becomes sluggish and torpid, the bowels constipated and the system poisoned by impurities.

If you would get away from the myriads of ills which result from constipation, it is only necessary to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The benefits from their use are as lasting as they are prompt and certain.

Mrs. John Barry, 18 St. Amable Street, Quebec, Que., writes:

"This is to certify that I was troubled for years with constipation and tried all kinds of medicines without relief. At last my husband suggested that I try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and must say that they have given me more relief than all the medicine I have taken during the last fifteen years. I may also add that I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles with excellent results."

AMERICAN COLLEGE OF SURGEONS' REPORT

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—Hospitol service to the patients of Ontario shows a decided advance in the past year, according to the third annual report of the American College of Surgeons released here today. This report is based on a survey which included visits to every hospital of one hundred beds or over in the United States and Canada. The following institutions were given an place on the "approved" list.

*General Hospital, Hamilton.
General Hospital, Kingston.
Grace Hospital, Toronto.
Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto.
Hotel Dieu, Kingston.
St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto.
*Toronto General Hospital, Toronto.
Victoria General Hospital, London.

(The asterisk indicates hospitals which have instituted measures which insure scientific care to their patients, but which have not realized them to the fullest extent to date.

"The institutions above proved that they are giving the best scientific medical care to their patients," declared Dr. Franklin H. Martin, Secretary-General of the American College of Surgeons. "Aided by one of the great educational foundations, we have carried on actual visits to hospitals, made by trained medical men, who see working conditions as they are. Our report for 1921 shows a marked improvement in hospital service the country over, and places Ontario in the forefront of provinces who are active in medical progress. Ontario is to be congratulated on its splendid showing and on the forward looking men, hospital superintendents, and trustees who have made this advance possible."

INTERESTING HISTORY OF ODDFELLOWSHIP.

The history of Oddfellowship is interesting reading. Like many other great institutions, it began in a small way. It was on Monday, 26th April, 1819, that five men met in an obscure hotel in Baltimore, Md., known as the Sign of the Seven Stars. They were Englishmen, and the War of 1812-14 had left a spirit of hatred against their country; so they met secretly to devise some method of counteracting the enmity embittering both countries.

Before this small gathering dispersed there was organised Washington Lodge No. 1, I.O.O.F., and the Order went on its feeble way. On 26th March, 1820, the second lodge was formed in Boston, Mass., and on 26th December, 1821, a third was established in Philadelphia, Pa.

It was in March, 1846, that Oddfellowship came into Canada. In that month three men travelled 800 miles by coach to organise lodges in Cornwall, Kingston, Brockville, Picton, Cobourg, Port Hope, Toronto, Hamilton, and St. Catherines; and in all these the Order still flourishes.

According to the latest figures there are now 68 grand lodges, 56 grand encampments, 17,698 subordinate lodges, 3,450 subordinate encampments, 9,953 Rebekah lodges, all enrolling a membership of 2,230,231.

Oddfellowship is based on practical brotherhood, and this found expression during the war by the payment of $75,000,000 to keep soldier brothers in good standing, while the expenditure for general relief in 1920 was 7,541,914.

In 1872, the first home established by any fraternal society was located in the State of Pennsylvania. There are now 55 such homes, sheltering 4,457 widows, orphans, and aged men. Thus are the members bound together by the triple link of Friendship, Love, and Truth.

American railroads own approximately 2,428,049 freight cars, 56,240 passenger cars and 68,802 locomotives, overating over 252,571 miles of track.

CHARLES ATTEMPTED TO COMMIT SUICIDE.

BUDAPEST, Oct. 25.—(Canadian Press).—Former Emperor Charles, whose attempt to re-establish himself upon the Magyar throne, met with dismal failure yesterday, attempted to commit suicide yesterday by shooting, following his arrest near Komorn. His wife saw his preparing to shoot and prevented him from carrying out his intention. Both are now prisoners in Esterhazy Castle at Tata Tovaros, and the British High Commissioner in Hungary, with representatives of other nations, is hurrying there to ensure the safety of the prisoners.

The Hungarian Government will now likely await plans of the Allied Powers regarding Charles' future place of residence. The strong hand of Admiral Horthy, the Hungarian Regent, was responsible for the failure of Charles to regain the throne, and he demanded that the soldiers stand by their oath of allegiance to him.

LET US COMB THE CONTINENT

TO BRING THE BOYS HOME FOR PETERBOROUGH'S OLD HOME WEEK—SUGGESTIONS AS TO FIRST AID WORK IN GETTING STARTED.

Granted that the movement now on foot to put on and have an Old Boys of Peterborough Re-union and Home-coming some time next autumn materialises, we might as well see just now what is involved in it. For the proposition, boiled down to a practical basis, calls for a lot of real practical and persistent work to carry it off successfully.

Three things are at once involved. The invitation and accompanying propaganda; how to entertain when here; and in what way to let those attending go away. For their going-away impressions may mean much to Peterborough. Little use in bringing them home unless we can handle the situation to satisfy.

The whole thing calls for money to expend. And the organisation of a loyal, hearty, vigorous, and persistent campaign all along the line, with a vision of what we can do once a definite plan is set out for accomplishment. And every phase of that plan spells money. So suppose we analyse the possible work involved in the first section, getting the boys to come.

A running estimate made of the outgoings from Peterborough the last twenty-five years gives about a possible four thousand. Men old enough to be young enough to come and a raft of young men young enough to be old enough to want to come for coming's sake. They'd like to be with us if at all possible.

Now these people are not living in the stretch of the Province between Smith's Falls and Toronto. Not any. When Peterborough young men went abroad, they looked for lots of room in which to expand. We should have to comb the continent from Halifax to Edmonton, at least, and over into British Columbia, for few of them got mixed up in the Rockies and stayed there. A hillside location would not offer opportunity.

And to reach all these and enthuse them to come along to the old Home Town will take some persuasion. It looks, even viewing the thing hopefully, that what the Board of Trade calls a Sustaining Fund of about five thousand dollars would be required for all purposes. Not a cent less. For besides those who may decide to come along, right off the bat, there will be hundreds that must be persuaded.

The man at Saskatoon or Moose Jaw will have to fork out a trifle over $200.00 in travelling and other contingent expense before he gets back home. Farther away, much more. So his heart-strings will have to play a lively air on his purse-strings to the tune of "The Old Folks at Home," and likely induce him to find the money. It appears, on reflection, as if about $800.0 will be required for postages alone. Tell you why.

First—We find out where folks really are. All lists now available are antiquated. Must start and build from the very bottom up. The city and country would be asked to send in to some central place names and addresses of relatives and friends, all absent. By 'phone, but preferably by writing, for with an Edmonton street number that hovers around "K-143628-North" mistakes are quitely likely when given over the 'phone. Local factories are interrogated as to where the men who have gone out from the shops are likely to be found. Business men on the road, many of whom have headquarters at Peterborough, can do much in the way of locating and urging.

A fair amount should be expended in placing in leading newspapers at points all over Canada and spilling over into the States, announcements of the Old Home Week. With an appeal to all interested to send for particulars. Peterborough men living, for instance, at Chicago, New York, Buffalo, Montreal—in fact, at any important place—should be secured to spread the glad tidings and hustle back notes of the fellows who are in sight. These men the committee bombard with appeals to get busy and warm up the fellows to come along.

A pithy, stirring, alluring, and inveigling circular letter would be prepared, stating time, place, object, and the possibilites and assurances for all who come to participate. This letter has to have a lot of confidence between the lines and full assurance that nothing will hang fire. Mailed out as a personal missive to all whose names have been secured. None of your open-envelope business. Three-cent stamp every time. It will cost at least thirty cents in postage for each name before the thing is handled. Before he is hooked and bound down to come. The first letter is only a feeler. Return envelopes enclosed and that sort of thing. Make it as easy as possible for him to decide.

Those who advise that they are coming will be held for final communication. Railway lines will supply cost of transportation from, say, fifty well-known points. The visitor can form estimate of travelling expense. He will be told that the committee will arrange for living accommodation while in the city, if he has not relatives or friends. Such is very important and reassuring. A large factor in inducement is to know that he won't have to appeal to the police for shelter. Lots of these men have been away so long that they have not a surviving relative living with us. Practically as a stranger within the gates.

The obvious thing to do is to coax a favourable reply from the man, right off the bat. Then keep him enthused. He will leaven some other man. Make it contagious. But even a doubtful or mildly negative reply is better than none. Indifference is what we have to combat. If there be a ghost of a chance of getting him, we go after him with diligence and earnestness. Set others on his trail, too. Appeal to him in all sorts of ways that may not be enumerated here. Follow out the "follow-up" idea. He may be amenable to persuasion. Most men stranded away from the old home town are.

All names will have to be card-indexed, ticketed, and docketed. That a friendly eye may be kept on them until all is over, or until we have positive assurance that the case is hopeless. It will take a lot of Christian Endeavour in the way of persuading.

Look at it financially. It will pay to try for these men even if it costs fifty cents per head in propaganda. Little enough. You'll not get them for less, taking postage, printing, correspondence, etc., as a reasonable overhead cost. So if we are fortunate to get three thousand to come, it will cost about $1,500.00 to get them to come. When here, that is another story. Personal expenses for each visitor will run into surprising figures. Possibly an excursion rate can be arranged, along the usual lines of reduced return fare. Many can well afford it. Numbers will have to consider carefully. Just consider what it would cost you to pack a grip and start for Medicine Hat, especially if you had to grope amongst your earnings for the money.

Within a month after taking the matter in hand, we should have the prospects classified, about as follows:

Prospects—Coming—Hardly Sure—Doubtful—Don't Know—Will See About It—Think It Over—Don't Think They Can Manage It—Can't Get Away From Business—Cold Winter Comin' On.

These will be divided up among the men at home who seem the best able to make attack and persuade. No one man knows it all. Each can do something, possibly better than the other fellow. It will be a case of Grand Community Effort.

If the boys get here, it should be a time of large cheeriulness. Much of the hearty handshake and recognition.

A brisk number would come, love to do it, but hate to be selfish and come without the wife, and feel that the family exchequer will not stand both. Even that the man knows that the wife thoroughly deserves the trip. Most women do, if they are like the women we all have in mind at this moment.

Men who are coming will be kept in touch with and urged to inspire others. Doubtful cases will be pleaded with. Those who are in a halting mood will be helped to make up such minds as they have. The fellow who says he can't leave business will be advised to see a surgeon and have an amputation, right away.

What has been written is only an outline of a possible promotion and propaganda. Other details stand in abeyance. Efficient committees will be formed to carry on details. Say committees on the following, and a few other things:

Reception—Hospitality— Accommodation— Information —Entertainment—Excursions—Sightseeing—Decorations—Group and Mass Meetings Travelling Information—Personal Information.

All these will be needed to have the week run smoothly, and beyond all to convey the idea that Peterborough does things thoroughly.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT .. ALBERTA FARMER

RETLAW Alta Oct. 24.—While engaged in hauling coal from the Bow City Mine, 30 miles north of here, R. A. Trotter met with a painful accident, in which he narrowly escaped death. He was driving four horses hitched tandem on two waggons and was pulling up a hill 12 miles south of the mine, when the lead chain broke, and the front team dashed forward, pulling him off the load and falling in front of the waggon. The wheels passed over both his legs, one leg being broken in two places; below and above the ankle. He was rushed to the Taber Hospital in a car and is doing as well as can be expected.

Mr. Trotter moved to Aberta some eight years ago from Clydesdale, Ont. He took up a homestead in 1914 and has been engaged in farming her for the past six years.

CHURCH SERVICES AT MARK STREET

The congregations were most encouraging and at Sunday morning service the entire gathering remained for the fellowship meeting. "The Hero of the Ages" was the subject of the morning, and was founded on Col. III., 11, "Christ is all and in All" The following is an outline of the discourse. Jesus can never be classified.

We must never put the name of Christ on any list of heroes in earth or in heaven. He belongs to no group, for He transcends all classes. He is the one lonely, solitary figure on the snow-white hills of perfection. Like the towering Rockies Christ flashes the light of God afar upon the darkness of the world. We cannot compare Christ with any saintly historical character, and show His supremacy for that supremacy is not comparative. It is absolute. There is none that can approach Him. A young man receiving a list of the greatest books in the world, was offended because the Bible was omitted. There was no ground for offence, itself. Men write infallibility across every utterance of science, but they grow shy of testimony of the Christian, even though that testimony is sealed by a transformed life. Did Huxley and Darwin prove themselves authorities on science? Did not Beecher and Parker and Wesley and Spurgeon annd Edwards and Moody prove themselves experts in the science of a glorious evangelism? But let us consider the subject as founded upon the text.

Christ is Everything in the Bible

Everywhere I open the Bible I find Jesus. Start where I will I come out at Bethelhem. In the Garden of Eden, the "Seed of Woman" is Jesus. In the old dispensation I find a lamb on the altar and say: "Behold the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world." The manna in the wilderness is Christ, and I say Jesus the bread of life.' Listen to Job, "I know that my Redeemer liveth." Isaiah speaks of Jesus "as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he open not His mouth." Then in the New Testament He is "Immanuel," "True Light," the "Door of the Sheep," "The light and morning Star," and the "Good Shepherd." Yes, it is Christ in parable, Christ in miracle, Christ in the Evangelists' story it is Christ in the Apostles' epistles and it is Christ in the mighty trumpet blast of the Apocalypse. He is the centre and glory of all, and if you take Jesus out of the Bible you have deprived it of it4 very soul. Jesus Christ is all in revelation.

Men Who Do Not Find Christ in the Bible.

Certainly, the man who comes to the Bible as an historian, will find an account of the world's creation, the birth and death of mighty empires, the surge of war, the tramp and rush of devasting armies, the clash of steel, and the triumph of conquerors. Oh, yes, it is a wonderful history. Homer could make great stories out of little events, so could Gibbon and Thuckydides, but it took a Moses to tell, in one chapter, how a thousand million worlds were made, and to give the history of thousands of years on two pages of the grand old Book of God.

Others come to the Bible as sceptics. They are not looking for Christ. They marshall passage after passage and try to get Matthew and Luke into conflict and Paul and James quarreling over faith and works. They test the first chapter of Genesis by the first chapter of Geology and think they have killed the Word of God by the decisions of modern science. Moses, in Genesis does not dispute with Geology, that the rocks are a million years old' he says: "In the Beginning God created the Heavens and the Earth." The "Beginning" may have been a million years ago. What a pity that men should fatten their infidelity on the truth that has saved millions.

Christ is Everything in Redemption

We are slaves, Christ sets us free. We are thirsty, He is the river of salvation. Are we hungry? Christ is the head of life. Under condemnation are we? "There is therefore no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus" Art thou sick? Jesus is the balm of Gilead. 'Art thou tossed upon the sea and says "It is I be not afraid." Oh how we cried out in agony when under deep conviction in the days that are gone. What must I do to be saved?" Then there came a voice out of the darkness "Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved." Yes Jesus is all in redemption, and there is none beside. When I am in darkness Jesus is the light. Justification and pardon are mine through Christ and he needs none to help Him. He carried the cross, endured the shame faced the very flames of hell for me. Does the grave look dark my friend? Jesus scattered its mists, bursting the bands of death asunder Yes, and it is as free as the sunlight on the air of heaven. And if we try to merit pardon we spoil it as a gift." None but Christ His merit hides me. None but Christ his wisdom guides me. "Come, then, for He Calleth thee. You will know His voice by its matchless sweetness. Come now, just as you are.

Christ is All in the Christian's Hour Of Trouble

What does it mean to stand four-quare for right? It means more than in any other age of the worlds history. We must all stoop down and drink out of the bitter springs of trouble. As surely as the wolf-pack scents the deer, trials follow on our track. A thousand silken cords reach out from our hearts and twine around loved ones, and there cords are ever breaking. The richest fruits of blessing have a prickly shell. Trouble has wrinkled the brow and silvered the hair. Is there no angel of love to bind the the wounds of those who fall in the battle of life? Blessed be God we find the answer in the gospel of Christ. Jesus will pluck the thorn out of human agony. His mighty arms will hold thee in weakness. He has carried His cross and will help us to carry ours. He was wounded, persecuted, scourged, and slain, so He feels for you and me. Oh, ye sons of toil, in Him ye shall find rest. Ye who long for quiet, come apart with him and ye shalt find that peace. Bring thy long-standing heartache to Jesus, and lean thine aching head on the broad bosom of the Son of God. "Am I crossing the River?" said a dying man to me, as I told him he must die. Then leaning back he exclaimed "Blessed River of God." Christ was all and in all to him.

DIET STUDY.

It is only as we study more and more the relation of food to our general well-being that we come to realise that even our personality can be changed by the kind and amount of food we eat. It may seem like stretching a point to advise persons troubled with jealousy to change their diet, but science gives proof that by bridling your appetite and exercising your muscles, you strengthen your will and get control of your emotions.

Jealousy, anger, and hate mar the beauty of any face. Gluttony, slothfulness, and untidiness spoil the appearance of any figure.

"HE PROFITS MOST WHO SERVES BEST"

MOTTO AND PRINCIPLE OF ROTARY EXPLAINED AT OPEN MEETING BY WALTER J. FRANCIS, OF MONTREAL

The Rotary Club held an open meeting on Monday evening at the Empress Hotel. An open meeting means that in addition to the members, their wives and lady friends, were of the party. For once the generally subdued appearance of the tables was brightened by the costumes of the ladies and the atmosphere of a generous sized family gathering prevailed. Rotarian Fred Roy presided, with the guest of the eveing, Rotarian Walter J. Francis, of Montreal, sitting handy to refer to. Rotarian Francis is a High Up in Rotarian councils and has borne many offices in the organization with distinction and credit. His mission Monday evening was to bring an enthusing message to the local club.

New members in the persons of Dr. M. A. Morrison, Rev. W. Harold Young and Geo. A. Gillespie were received into good standing and favored with the inaugural address from Rotarian Francis, who impressed on the new members the duty of living and doing that the power of example as shown in their lives would reflect credit on Rotary.

Formal business was disposed of soon after the luncheon had been served. During this several songs were given in great style, members by now having had at least five months' tuition in the words and melodies. Rotarian Asa Huycke leads the singing and is a host in himself, especially when assisted by Rotarian John Crane, who is a past master in the art of community singing. Most of the glee clubs, minstrel shows and other diversified forms of vocal effort in the past have been tooled by Rotarian Crane with stunning effect to the good.

During the evening Miss Ida Sanderson, Ald. Frank Whitehouse and Mrs. Bridge contributed instrumental and violin selections, a very pleasing feature of the proceedings. For these a hearty vote of thanks was tendered.

A Monthly Pleasure

Rotarian Roy, being moved to make certain confidences announced that once each month the ladies would be expected to attend and in so doing absorb and hold up the principles of Rotary. Acting, as it were, as silent partners in the scheme of Rotary endeavor. Such participation, he assumed, would do away with any impression that the husbands were carrying on as a special masculine effort. Rotary needed the approval and support of the ladies, same as all helpful projects desired.

Rotarian Francis, in making the address of the evening, referred to his years spent in Peterborough and to associations formed among the men of the town and city. To fraternal connections established that had proved to be of large value to him. In his message he said he hoped to lay before the members some of the higher attributes of Rotary, its objects and privileges. These were not considered in daily contact, but were there nevertheless. Rotary had for its object the bringing together in one of the newer and to be more powerful organizations of the world, men with an object to share. Rotary hoped to and made the effort to stand for all moral objects alongside the great re-organized Church. In all this the best citizens associated, forming a power for the public good.

Objects of Rotary

Throughtout the world most distinguished men had offered their names and assistance to the movement. Selfness and service is the object of Rotary. It develops character by its ministrations among men, and inspiring all to emulate the good and to live up to the essential of service to one's fellowman. Rotary is never selfish. It will do all it can for its community, giving out service such as is not sought to be given by other societies.

It is co-operative, not competitive. Rotary will chip in with any other once the need is apparent. It is not in the field to take the place of any pre-existing organization, but hastens to cheerfully and willingly co-operate to the public good. It spans the wide gulf between Church endeavor and the work of the devised charities, the middle ground that has been heretofore neglected.

Not Exclusive

The membership is not exclusive. One each from each profession, business and occupation. This affords a wide field. The movement, locally, gains its value, not only from numbers, but in intensity. Fervor of effort counted for much. And the Rotarian motto, "He Profits Most Who Serves Best," was the keynote to success.

Turning to the blackboard Rotarian Francis sketched out in a diagram the points of Rotary, typical in the triangle of fellowship as emphasized by personal responsibility. This feature of his address was of large interest, placing in visible form the foundation and progress of the Rotary principle and influence on the individual and reflected in the community. The keynote was that the individual renders service, service gives happiness and he who serves most profits greatest.

The closing feature of the entertainment was a vocal duet by Rotarians John Crane and Asa Huycke, "Watchman, What of the Night," well sung and largely appreciated. Then the company stood up and closed the evening with appropriate Rotarian songs.

FIRE FIGHTERS PAINTING TOWN BRILLIANT RED

LITERALLY, HOWEVER, AS HYDRANTS AND FIRE BOXES ARE RECEIVING THE VERMILLION COAT'

ADDS TO EFFICIENCY OF FIRE PROTECTION

The Fire Department and the Waterworks Department are painting the town red, but not in the sense that many readers might at once assume. Theirs is quite innocent activity. Every hydrant and every fire box is receiving a vermilion coat, and if the painters haven't got around to them all they will in time. Quite a Soviet dash is being given to the city thoroughfares.

This conspicuous marking of the machinery of fire protection has come about by Chief George Grange's agitation, following visits to other cities where hydrants and boxes are made plainly visible by day or night. In the placing of the red lamps over the boxes the department have been held up because of repairs to the wires, but it is hoped to soon have all the lamps in place. Having made them visible by night, the Chief is carrying out his policy of protection by day, and when the painting is complete every box will gleam in the brightest of scarlet coats with a wide red band around the post to make the position of the box apparent to even citizens of notorious weak eyesight.

And the Waterworks red paint brigade are busy on the hydrants too as a result of Chief Grange succeeding in getting them to relinquish the old green in favor of the brighter shade. The department are working on streets running east and west now. It is no slight task to paint them all, for there are 300 in the city. Decorated with white tops, the effect seems not displeasing, and many favorable comments have been heard on the sweet in regard to them. Most of the hydrants are of "low visibility," because they are barely above the ground, and for this reason must be marked with a color not relatable in any way to nearby objects. "We know where these hydrants are, but by painting them red we are making it practically impossible for us to miss one in the case of a hurry call!" Chief Grange said to-day.

If you would be happy and content never borrow trouble or lend money.

PLANT TREES AT EXHIBITION PARK

250 ELMS, MAPLES AND POPLARS ALONG AVENUES

Under the direction of Frank Wise, the planting of 250 elms, Manitoba maples and poplars along the avenues in Exhibition Park began yesterday. This afternoon over half the holes had been dug and good progress was reported.

The trees are being planted alternately along Leary, Garbutt and Collins avenues and against the south fence towards Park street to conceal the view of the houses along McGill street. At first it was suggested that the trees be planted along Lansdowne fence, but the directors decided it would provide too good a 'roosting-place" for small boys.

When the trees are mature the poplars will be removed.

The trees have been secured from the Stoney Creek Nurseries. They are all of uniform height, about 10 feet, and good stock. The Exhibition Board hope that every boy and girl in the city will watch these trees whenever they are in the Park. "We want the boys and girls to remember they are their trees and not to injure them in any way, or allow others to do so. "I am sure the boys and girls will help us in this," said Mr R. H. Turner, who is looking after the tree planting.

MUSKOKA HOSPITAL FILMS TO BE SHOWN WITH REGULAR PROGRAM

The Regent Theatre will to-night run with their regular programme two fine films of the Muskoka Hospital and to-morrow night two more films of allied institutions. They are very interesting and instructive This afternoon 100 Boy Scouts and Collegiate students were in attendance at the Regent in response to the invitation from the management to see the films.

The Peterborough Melody Concert Band will give another fine programme in front of the Regent Theatre to-night, as a contribution to the Campaign Fund.

AT THE CAPITOL.

Clara Kimball Young, in "Straight From Paris," is the attraction at the Capitol Theatre at present. This striking actress has an exceptionally good vehicle in this picture for the exercise of her histrionic ability and also for an exhibition of her beauty in some wonderful gowns. "Straight From Paris" is a charming, sparkling presentation of the successful efforts of a little Broadway milliner to subjugate the aristocratic forces of her fiance's family. Lucette Grenier meets the bored scion of a wealthy and old New York house on a trip to Paris. He immediately forgets his Doris charming and becomes engaged to the beautiful milliner. But Doris doesn't forget him, not intend to be supplanted. Her efforts with his family finally result in a breaking-off of the engagement at a dance. But the little milliner comes off victorious after all, and entirely squashes her snobbish antagonists by landing a much bigger fish than Robert Van Austen. A lovable character in this production is the girl's grandfather, who possesses a grand manner and an unquenchable thirst. With his old fiddle, he evokes the image of his long-dead wife, and, through his love for his granddaughter and an unfortunate mixture of drinks, he appears unexpectedly at the party. The episode of the mixed suit-cases is very funny.

Jimmy Aubrey, in "The Riot," contrives an excellent imitation of the immortal Charles in his adventures with an underground still. An entertaining episode of "The Yellow Arm" and the fine views of the Consumptive Hospital at Muskoka completed a good programme, which was witnessed last evening by a well-filled house.—Jeannette.

AT THE ALLEN.

"East Lynne" at the Allen Theatre presents a highly successful modernized version of a story that apparently never grows old. With a very human appeal, a moral that is as applicable to modern life as in the days when the tale was penned, the story of "East Lynne" never fails in its charm. The story of the jealous wife who sacrificed everything in life because of her lack of faith in her husband, has been placed in an up-to-date setting, but the story remains essentially the same. The acting is splendid. Isabel, the emotion-wracked wife. Archibald Carlyle, the steadfast lawyer husband, the handsome home-wrecker, Francis Levison, and the "other woman," Barbara Hare, give excellent portrayals. The contrast between the serene home-life of Isabel, with her husband and boy baby, before her flight, and the cruel poverty which assail her later years, when, forsaken and bereft of her child, she wanders desolately home, is very keen. The inserted fairy tale, with the ancient knight and his lady faire, is lovely. The music of the old song, "Then You'll Remember Me," weave in and out of the pictured story.

The Bray pictograph and the animated cartoon, with its arithmetical guinea pigs, are as interesting as ever, and there is a good "Torchy" comedy, with a lunch counter hero and a missed-fire elopement which leads to some peculiar situations.—Jeannette.

WHY MARY CARR MAKES IDEAL SCREEN MOTHER

One of the outstanding features of the success of the remarkable William Fox photoplay "Over the Hill" is the mighty chorus of praise that has been accorded Mary Carr, who in this remarkable filming by William Fox of Will Carleton's famous story in verse has won a niche in the hall of film fame. "Over the Hill" will be shown at Allen Theatre for the entire week commencing Monday, October 31st.

MARY CARR as 'OVER THE HILL' MOTHER in WILLIAM FOX PRODUCTION

While Mrs. Carr is deserving of all the tributes that have been lavished upon her, it is nevertheless a fact that her principal claim to greatness cannot be charged wholly or even chiefly, to any highly idealized or carefully studied portrayal of the role that has made her famous. Her achievement has its foundation in the fact that in the making of "Over the Hill" she did not "act" at all, but rather walked into the picture surrounded by her own little brood of children—who play important characters in the earlier part of the picture; and when called upon to register a certain emotion or visualize a particular incident of the story; she merely portrayed herself—did just as she would have done in real life, with no attempt at theatrical embellishment.

The result—when naturalness and simplicity of interpretation are considered —has given to the American screen a veritable gem of character ization and one that ranks with the great portrayals of the American stage.

It was perhaps a fortunate coincidence in Mrs. Carrs life that years ago she gave up a very promising stage career in favor of domestic life; and when this fact is taken into consideration it seems as though fate had transplanted her to the quiet domestic atmosphere that was to prepare her to go out in later life and achieve fame with a portrayal so lifelike and natural that it seems at first glance little short of uncanny.

Another factor in Mrs. Carr's favor is that screen audiences are becoming more and more particular as to these so-called types of women to whom mother parts are entrusted It is natural that men and women out front—particularly the women—should resent or grow weary of screen mothers who do not look the part and cannot act it convincingly. Mrs Carr surrounded by her kiddies, certainly looks and acts the part; and the unprecedented success of "Over the Hill", which tugs at the heartstrings from beginning to end, was inevitable, with the pivotal character so happily cast.

Mrs. Carr, though sought persistently by several picture producers ever since the eventful night last September when Broadway awoke to a consciousness that a screen hit of tremendous proportions had arrived in "Over the Hill" is still playing mothers in other William Fox productions and her cheery, optimistic spirit is one of the brightest assets of the Fox Studios.

SEATS NOW SELLING AT THE GRAND FOR THE ENGAGEMENT OF WALTER HAMPDEN, AMERICA'S GREATEST SHAKESPEAREAN ACTOR.

Seats will be on sale at the Grand Opera House for the engagement of Walter Hampden, America's foremost actor, who will drop off in Peterboro on Saturday on his transcontinental tour for one performance on Saturday night next week. Mr. Hampden will be seen as Petruchio in "The Taming of the Shrew," which is regarded as his most brilliant farce characterization.

To those who are disclined to see Shakespeare on the ground that they want to be entertained while in a theatre, this comment of the dramatic critic of The New York Sun, following Mr. Hampden's debut in the role during the course of his enormously successful season in New York last spring, may prove of interest.

To those who regard Shakespeare as "highbrow" there is one answer, at least. That is Walter Hampden's Petruchio in his presentation of "The Taming of the Shrew," which is now on the boards at the Broadhurst Theatre. There never was a better Petruchio than Walter Hampden and as he plays the piece it proved to be one of the most refreshing entertainments of the entire dramatic season. There are more laughs in it than there is even in one of the best movie comedies and any comparison of it to the farces now current on Broadway woould be not at all favorable to the latter. Hampden is to be congratulated. He has made Shakespeare a real rival to anything now to be seen."

Interest manifested by the community, especially the schools, point to an excellent house for Mr. Hampden on his first visit here, in order that he may see that Peterboro will support the best attractions. Many students from the Normal School, under Mr. Duncan Walker, the Collegiate, under Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, the Catholic High School, under Miss M. O'Connell, together with smaller groups from the secondary schools will be there.

'NEARLY WED"

The Rex Stock Stock Company's presentation of the laughable farce "Nearly Wed" at the Grand last night came very close to being the best all-round performance the organization has given in Peterboro —in fact many theatregoers will be inclined to regard it as superior to any of the Rex offerings. In the first place the play itself is a most amusing mix-up replete with funny situations and with a wealth of bright lines and secondly there are good parts for practically all the Rex company and the acting of the whole cast strikes a new level of merit. "Nearly Wed" deals with the complications that follow when a young married couple really in love with each other but estranged because of the interfering habits of the wife's brother's plan to secure a divorce, employing a professional divorce expert to supply the necessary evidence by carrying on an affair with the husband. The expert turns out to be too pretty to suit the wife and the later decides to call off the proceedings and reconciled the couple start off on a second honeymoon. And then the fun starts for it is announced that the divorce decree has just been granted and the two are no longer husband and wife Everybody starts out in pursuit and all wind up at the Cherry Tree road-house, where the developments are fast and furious. To reveal all that happens would spoil the enjoyment of those who have yet to see "Nearly Wed".

Rex himself is as amusing as ever in the role of the husband and Zana Vaughn does some of the best work she has shown here as the wife. Billy Seymour is excellent as Tom Robertson, one of the most entertaining parts that have fallen to his lot. Wm. Yule is seen as Prince Ranji, proprietor of the Cheery Tree Inn, a role that he puts across most effectually while Katherine Van Esse usually cast as a patrician matron contributes a clever bit as Norah Hazel Williams always effective is even better than usual as the divorce expert, Dr. Cole is very funny in his picture of the grafting Justice of the Peace and Wm. Mitchel is most successful in his portrayal of the part of the busy-body brother, Gloria Machan as Gertrude adds to the success of the performance and the other smaller roles are well looked after. "Nearly Wed", showed cause the "S.F.O." sign to be hung out early to-night and to-morrow night at the Grand.

Next week the Rex Company will offer that uproarious farce "Billy's Tombstones", in which the late Sidney Drew scored such a hit. It has been done here before and should be a red letter performance in the hands of Mr. Snelgrove and his company.

SIXTY LEAGUE GAMES WERE PLAYED DURING THE SUMMER

FINANCIAL STATEMENT OF PETERBOROUGH FOOTBALL ASSOCIATION—A SMALL DEFICIT.

It will be seen from the appended statement that the league has a deficit of approximately $150.00. An analysis of the statement reveals the fact that this deficit was incurred through the participation of the league in the Plenty Cup competition. It is unfortunate that the efforts of the league in providing good, clean sport of such a high standard as was witnesed in this competition, should have met with such scant support from the general public. This was perhaps due to the fact that important baseball games were played on the same days, and at an earlier hour than the above matches, and no doubt the unemployment existing about this time would also detract from the attendance.

The directors are not discouraged, however, feeling as they do, that the participation in the 'Plenty Cup series' was fully justified by the impetus it gave to amateur sport, and it may be said here, in justification to the players in the league, that they are amateurs in the strictest meaning of the word, young men who are playing and enjoying a game of football at considerable expense to themselves, purely in the interest of sport and to their credit be it said, that the class of football as played by the local clubs this summer, has been on a par with the best in the province. This was demonstrated in the games wth Brantford, both at home and away, and with Ottawa here.

League is Sound.

Notwithstanding the adverse bank balance, the league is in a sound, healthy condition, with a live directorate and valuable assets, which are the gifts of some of our most prominent citizens and organizations. Few leagues in the province can boast of such valuable trophies as the Gordon Cup, Clarke Shield, Phelan Charity Cup, and the magnificent Shield donated by the Industrial Exhibition Board. The Father Phelan Cup series this year was productive of good sport and afforded the league with the means to contribute $32 to the Children's Aid Society and St. Vincent's Orphanage, worthy organizations with which the Rev. Father Phelan, the donor of the cup was identified.

The affiliation of the league with the P.A.A.A., which is looked on with favour by the directorate, The future of football in Peterborough is particularly bright, especially as this may lead to the acquiring of an enclosure to which admission to games may be charged. In order to liquidate the adverse balance, a subscription list has been opened, to which a few of our large-hearted citizens, whose interest in sport is sufficient to loosen up their purse strings, have subscribed generously, and the directors make an urgent appeal to the public generally and those interested in sport in particular to subscribe liberally to this fund, and thereby assist them to pay off the deficit and enable them to begin the coming season with a balance on the right side. Subscriptions to this fund may be handed in to the secretary-treasurer, Mr. W. G. Nicholls, 183 Dublin street, city, where they will be thankfully received and faithfully applied.

All league games (with the exception of the Plenty Cup series), somewhere in the neighborhood of sixty games, were played in the city, and no admission charged, simply a collection taken on the ground, so that the Football Association is deserving of support by the citizens who are interesetd in outdoor sport and recreation.

P. A. A. A. BEHIND EXAMINER ROAD RACES FOR THANKSGIVING DAY

TRACK AND FIELD COMMITTEE ASSUMES FULL CHARGE O TWO EVENTS.

The Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association will give it's support and assistance to the Examiner road races arranged for Thanksgiving Day. The track and field committee of the Association will take charge of the arrangements for the races. The Association will assist in supplying suitable prizes for the junior race. At a well-attended meeting of the Association last night, the part to be taken by the Association in helping to promote the success of the road races was considered, and decisions reached.

One prize from the Association is already in the hands of the committee. It is a gold medal, valued at $20.00, the gift of Mr. C. R. Widdifield.

"Blue and White" Again.

Supporters of hockey will be interested in the report of the hockey committee, which recommended that blue and white be the colors for the hockey teams. This recommendation was enthusiastically supported, and the belief was expressed that with the return of the old blue and white — the colors of former champions—there would also be a revival in hockey, and that in the coming season, Peterborough would assume its rightful position among the hockey clubs of the Ontario Association.

The hockey committee is working on the coach problem, and expects to be in a position to make a definite announcement in the near future.

Athletics at Schools.

With a view to gaining the co-operation of the teachers of the city schools, Dr. E. H. Wood was requested to arrange for a meeting of the teachers, at which they might appoint one or more of their number as a committee to work with the Association in promoting athletics and sports at the schools.

Hold Theatre Night.

The track and field committee will also make a report on a proposed theatre night, for the presentation of trophies and prizes won during the summer and fall seasons. This committee already has taken preliminary stens to provide a programme which should attract a capacity house.

The membership drive continues to find favor, and the Association will soon be in a position to announce a membership of one thousand. It means a lot of work, but the campaigners are confident of success.

ROAD RACE PRIZES WILL SOON BE READY FOR EXHIBITION

EVERYBODY IS HELPING WILLINGLY AND THE AUSPICES ALL POIN TO A SUCCESSFUL RACE — HARRIER SQUAD WENT NEARLY WHOLE ROUTE LAST NIGHT.

A gratifying feature of the preparations for the Thanksgiving Day road race is the willingness with which everyone, or nearly everyone, for there has been a solitary exception, is co-operating with the committee in charge of the arrangements. As an example of this friendly attitude, Mr. C. R. Widdifield has voluntarily donated a gold medal as one of the prizes in the junior race. This is the spirit that will make the race attractive, bring out a numerous field, and generally revive interest in road work.

The Examiner, as sponsor of the annual road race, is giving the shield and three first prizes for the senior race, and a silver cup for the junior race. The Y.M.C.A. is giving two membership prizes, one in each event, and the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association, under whose auspices the race will be run, is donating the first three prizes in the junior contest.

Needing other prizes to be offered on the same basis as adopted in the St. Catharines and other races, the committee yesterday approached a few of the merchants to enlist their support and met with a very generous response. These prizes, which will be listed later, were received from the following: Walter Jopling of J. G. Jopling and Sons, Coleman Bros., Wm. Lech and Sons, E. F. Mason, the Campbell Flour Mills, A. A. Fowler, Neill's Shoe Store, L. Lebar, Fred. J. Lowes of the New Centre Meat Market, Grant and Thorpe, C. H. Williamson of the Peterborough Floral Company, and W. B. Warne.

Hour's Run Last Night.

Charlie Thorpe took the harrier squad for a fifty-five minute run last night, and reports that they finished in fine shape. Only three other group workouts remain before the race; but some of the boys may put in extra time on their own account.

It is probably understood by this time that Mr. Thorne will not enter this year's race. He has been turning out regularly with the candidates in order that they might have the advantage of his experience.

Seniors Need Cards.

Contestants in the senior race are required to have amateur cards. These will be procured by Mr. Douglas Loomis, of the Y.M.C.A. Any of the prospective entrants who are not registered with the C.A.A.U. should report to Mr. Loomis at once. This detail should not be postponed, but should be attended to as soon as possible.

All the present indications promise a successful race, and with the goodwill exhibited by the citizens in general, there is every reason to expect a race as good, if not better, than any of those which were held prior to the war.

STORY OF THE MAN WITH A PASSING COLD

VIVIDLY PICTURED ON THE SCREEN—ATTACKED BY CONSUMPTION, CURED IN 8 MONTHS AT MUSKOKA HOSPITAL.

The pictures shown at the Capitol Theatre last night illustrating the humanitarian work of the National Sanitarium Association in fighting consumption, emphasised as could be done by no other means except actual experience just what the Association's philanthropic institutions mean to this province and its citizenship. They conveyed to their audience a tensely vivid story, clothed in the realism of photoplay, of patients undergoing treatment in the Queen Mary Hospital for Consumptive Children and the Muskoka Hospital for Needy Consumptives in the disease's early stages—moving pictures taken from actual happenings, which should stimulate all who saw them last evening, and who will see them again at the Regent Theatre to-night, to respond this week as generously as possible to the canvass started to-day in aid of Ontario's great fight against the Great White Plague.

Care of Children.

The film of the Queen Mary Hospital picturised the life there of consumptive little ones from day to day under the tender care of skilled physicians and motherly nurses—in comfortable, airy dormitories, at their wholesome meals, in school preparing for subsequent lives of useful citizenship, and in spacious, admirably equipped play grounds, where, summer and winter alike, they make the welkin ring with their happy, joyous laughter. And here it must be remembered that 90 per cent. of these children—well clad, properly fed, skilfully treated, enjoying abundance of fresh air filled with health-giving ozone—are returned to their homes positively cured.

An Every-day Story.

The film of Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives told an almost every-day and pathetic story. In its picturisation one sees a young mechanic afflicted with the "passing cold," which, howtver, eventually incapacitates him for work. He will not consult a doctor until, in alarm and persuaded by his anxious wife and kindly district nurse, he presents himself at the Gage Institute, Toronto, for free medical consultation provided by the National Sanitarium Association. And there the X-ray reveals that his "passing cold' was developed into consumption, and he is advised to rest, get plenty of healthy nourishment, and fresh air. But his savings are all expended; his family in straightened circumstances; and so the Association undertakes to assist his struggling wife during his absence; sends the stricken man to the Muskoka Hospital, where he is scientifically treated and nursed back to health, returning home in eight months to his overjoyed family —a well man, with every symptom of consumption stamped out from his then robust body.

The picture is timely, illuminative, and well worth while, in that it shows every health-renewing feature of the Muskoka Hospital, together with its beautiful natural and created surroundings of lake, field, gardens, and wood, and open-air recreation facilities. It also demonstrates the fact that this dread disease can be cured by a treatment which eliminates actual "doctoring," and resorts to "fighting" the malady, not only by specialists, but also by the patients themselves.

Of course, unfortunately, this Muskoka Hospital at Gravenhurst, screened last night, was destroyed by fire last November; and $600,000 of the Million Dollar Emergency Fund needed by the Association is to replace it by the building illustrated on The Examiner's front page yesterday. The ruins of the old hospital appeared below the proposed new structure, but in error was referred to as a hotel.

Suffering consumptives—men, women—aye, and children, too—cry to you for help. See to it that Peterborough subscribes the objective of $10,000.00 hoped for.

WILLIAM ARNOTT

A Veteran of '66

Mr. William Arnott, who died suddenly on Wednesday morning at his home, 13 Northcote avenue, Toronto, in his 75th year was a Fenian Raid veteran. He suffered a paralytic stroke on Sunday morning from which he failed to rally. Born near Churchville, Ont., he was the son of the late James Arnott, a pioneer farmer of Peel county. In 1871 he married Mary Elizabeth Rutledge, of Streetsville. He moved to Toronto over thirty years ago and was for many years in the employ of the Shedden Company. He was an Anglican by faith and a life-long Conservative in politics. He was a member of the Orange Order for 57 years. It is particularly sad, as his death caused the first break in the family and he and his wife were to have celebrated their golden wedding on the 25th of this month, when they intended having a family re-union. He is survived by his sorrowing widow, four sons, George, James, William and Fred, of Toronto, and three daughters, Mrs. I. D. Church, Burleigh Falls; Mrs. A. Cobean and Mrs. S. Gurofsky, of Toronto. The casket was draped with the Union Jack. Among the many beautiful floral tributes were a pillow of roses from the family, brothers and sisters, a wreath; nieces and nephews, a wreath; Boyne L. O. L., a wreath; Dominion Express Co. depot staff, a wreath; Dominion Express Co. drivers and stablemen, a wreath; White & Co., a sheaf of roses; Mr. Linton and family, an anchor; also tributes from Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rutledge, Parkview Rebekah Lodge, L.O.B.A. Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hetherington, Mr. and Mrs. Potts, Mr. and Mrs. W. Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin, Mr. and Mrs. B. Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe, and Mrs. A. Semper.

The funeral was held from his late residence on Friday, October 14th, Rev. Mr. Bracken, of St. Anns, and Rev. W. Arnott, a nephew of deceased, officiated at the service, after which the cortege proceeded to Mount Pleasant cemetery. The pallbearers were brother Orangemen of Boyne L.O.L. No. 173. The Orange service was conducted at the grave. Veterans of '66 also attended the funeral.

JOHN JAMES BICKELL

After suffering from heart trouble for some years, John James Bickell, well-known Smith Township farmer, died at the family residence this morning. Deceased was born in Smith Township and has always resided in the township. He is survived by his wife, one daughter Mrs. Herbert Girven of Douro, and one son John, on the homestead

The funeral will take place at 2.30 p.m. Thursday from the family residence to Lakefield cemetery. Rev. F S. Dixon of Lakefield, will conduct service at the house at 2 p.m.

ELECTION NEWS

PECK EXPLAINS STAND.

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Oct. 25.—(Canadian Press).—Col. C. W. Peck, V.C., explaining why he is running for Parliament as an Independent, stated that he disagreed with the Premier on redistribution. He believed in free trade, but would support a Government whose policy was for the good for the people.

ALBERTA SITUATION.

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

LETHBRIDGE, October 25. — W. A. Buchanan's withdrawal from the contest in Lethbridge Riding after representing the constituency for ten years at Ottawa, is the feature of the week's campaign in Alberta. He consistently voted for Western tariff principles, and was probably closer to the Progressives than any man who was not actually one of them. In addition, he has consistently advanced the interests of Southern Alberta in the House in connection with the one outstanding problem, irrigation development.

To show how little past performance counts in the present situation, Mr. Buchanan found after he had announced his candidacy as an Independent Liberal that he would have to face just as determined opposition from the Farmers as is being shown against James Douglas, member for Strathcona, who voted with the low tariff forces in 1919, then deserted and voted consistently with the Meighen forces on tariff matters in 1920 and 1921.

As was the case with the Stewart Government, it is not that there is anything wrong with Mr. Buchanan's past record; it is simply that the Farmers are determined to worship at their own shrine in their own way for a while.

The Conservatives are not bothered by any such consideration, and go serenely on—putting candidates in the field.

In Medicine Hat Major McIntosh, of Irvine, will oppose Robert Gardener, who is being nominated by the Farmer locals without calling a convention. The Liberals are almost certain to leave the field free.

In MacLeod, Hugh M. Shaw has been named as Government candidate against the Farmer, with Labour also represented.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Stepney Council, which recently announced its intention to follow Poplar Council in refusing to pay tax rates for greater London, has relented.

DIES OF INJURIES

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 25.—(Canadian Press).—Milford Bassett, aged thirteen, died last evening at Frankford as a result of injuries sustained when struck by motor, while he was playing on the street on Saturday night. An inquest has been ordered.

FRENCH TRAIN EXHIBIT HERE TILL TO-NIGHT

CITY COUNCIL, CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND SCHOOL CHILDREN VISITED EXPOSITION THIS MORNING.

PICTURE THIS AFTERNOON; OPEN TO PUBLIC TO-NIGHT

The French train exposition, in charge of Count d'Amaud, arrived in Peterborough at 3.50 a.m. to-day and leaves at 11 p.m. to-night for Belleville. It was first viewed at 9.30 a.m. by members of the City Council and Chamber of Commerce, and as they concluded their inspection the Public school children of the upper class, students of the Normal school, Business College and Collegiate Institute poured into the cars in an unceasing stream for an hour.

Mayor A. A. McIntyre, Ald. Frank Whitehouse, Ald. M. H. Gainey, Ald. Robert Morrison, Ald. G. L. Hay, City Clerk S. R. Armstrong, City Engineer R. H. Parsons, J. J. Duffus, President of the Chamber of Commerce, extended a welcome to the French mission from the city at 9.30 a.m. Mayor McIntyre gave them the freedom of the city and introduced the reception committee to Count d-Arnaud and his associates.

This afternoon the motion picture, "France," an exposition of the manner in which France is recovering from the ravages of war, was shown at the Grand, the proceeds being donated to maimed and blind French war veterans.

To-night the cars will be open to the public from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Party Shown Through.

The party were shown at once into the cars and spent three-quarters of an hour examining the beautiful examples of French art and genius the display affords. The train consists of one dynamo car, one dining car, three sleeping cars and seven cars containing the exhibits. The dynamo cars and exhibits cars extended from Charlotte street some distance below King street and traffic, by order of the City Engineer, has been suspended on King street during the day.

The First Car.

The first car, entitled La Pensee Francaise—the French thought—under the patronage and presidency of Mr. Raymond Poincare, Senator and ex-President of the French Republic, represents ancient and modern literature, science, books, and is under the supervision of M. Albert Kaulek.

The second car displays Transportation, Colonies, French scenery, and is supervised by M. F. U. Pauze. Fashion, clothing and their accessories, a goregous display of cloths and materials occupy Car No. 3, and explanations are given by Messrs. F. A. L'Heureux, Charles Billard, M. Berthelot, P. Bertholle. Car. No. 5 is devoted to displays of chemicals, drugs, pharmacy, perfume and leather goods, under Messrs. Andre Lecoz, M. Menzies and S. Baille. Articles of parts and foodstuffs are the exhibits in Car No. 6. Messrs. L. N. Patenaude and Maurice Esnard in charge. In art work, in anything that requires the delicate touch, the French excell, and this genius and skill is shown to perfection in the last car, exhibiting jewellery, works of art, bronzes, silverware, clockwork, cutlery, etc. Messrs. P. L. Henriot, M. Genon and M. Lefebvre are in charge of these beautiful exhibits.

French Scenery.

In addition to the exhibits, by means of stereoptican views of a very delicate and life-like nature, French scenery, French life and industry is illustrated and the "peep-shows" are the next best thing to a trip to France. Mr. Max Reville, with the Count, was in charge of the opening party to-day, and he devoted every attention to the party.

Travelled 8,000 Miles.

The French mission has now travelled 8,000 miles, having been almost continuously "on the go." The train has been west to Vancouver, and is now bumping its tour to a close with only a few more places to visit before reaching Montreal on Nov. 4. Those who saw the beautiful exhibits to-day might not realize they are only renovated baggage cars. The goods were all shipped from France. It is expected that Canada, having seen representative French products, will send a train to France, displaying hers, possibly next summer. The party all speak well of Canada, of the fine reception everywhere, and sincerely hope Canada will give the French Republic an opportunity to see and interest theselves in Canadian products as they have seen interest shown in theirs during the long tour.

RAILROAD EXECUTIVES AND LEADERS OF FIVE BIG BROTHERHOODS MEET RAILWAY LABOR BOARD.

CONFERENCE IN COLISEUM; THROWN OPEN TO PUBLIC

By CARL VICTOR LITTLE,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Railroad executives and the leaders of the five big Brotherhoods met to-day with the United States Railway Labor Board. The joint conference of representatives of the transportation group of railroad employes and the carriers was called by the Labor Board to avert the strike set for Sunday morning. The peace—or truce—expected to come out of the meeting will be a covenant "openly arrived at." The meeting has been thrown wide open to the public and is held in the Coliseum, the scene of many a stormy political convention.

Attempts made by the Board to settle the controversy between the carriers and workers before the conference actually started were futile.

BANK MANAGERS REGRET LOSING GIRL EMPLOYES

ULTIMATUM ORDERING RELEASE OF WOMEN MEMBERS OF BANK STAFFS DOES NOT MEET WITH APPROVAL.

CONSIDER WOMEN TO BE AS EFFICIENT AS MEN

The final decision of the Canadian banking authorities to replace the girl members of their stasff with men as speedily as possible will probably have some effect in local banking circles. The eight branch banks in Peterborough have a total of 22 feminine clerks, including stenographers. The Royal Bank has six girls in its employ; the Bank of Toronto two; the Bank of Commerce five; Bank of Montreal three Bank of Nova Scotia two; the Union Bank three; the Merchants' Bank one; while the Dominion Bank will have no trouble on this score at all, its clerical force being composed entirely of the sterner sex..

The local managers seem to regret the ultimatum. They are all agreed that the girls have proven themselves to be fully as competent, and in some cases, much better clerks than the average male member of the staff. "They are neat, efficient and altogether satisfactory," said one manager, "and in fact I dread the thought of going back to the system which involves the perpetual training of boys." The troubles and trials arriving in the wake of the constant succession of fresh juniors with which every bank is harassed is a well known problem, particularly, as in most institutions, the luckless new arrivals is left pretty much to his own devices, his system of training usually consisting of learning by his own mistakes.

Blame Dan Cupid.

The main objection to the young ladies is the fact that they object to being transferred from one branch to another, and they have an unfortunate habit of going off and getting married just when they have proven themselves to be of some use to the bank. Dan Cupid has been to blame for much in the past, and evidently he is jointly responsible for the present situation. If a man marries, he naturally holds on to his job tighter than ever; on the contrary, when a woman marries, she usually forsakes her former occupation for good and all. She may have been an employee in good standing for many long years, when, presto, she falls in love and business and ambition are alike forgotten.

The majority of women also, do not care to be transferred from one part of the country to another at a moment's notice. Notwithstanding her boasted rivalry with man, a woman isn't ready, on a few hours' warning, to pack a suitcase and jump from Peterborough, probably to Vancouver or to some little place in the Maritime provinces. So there's the rub, and that's why, although the ladies were received with open arms in war time, they are now quite welcome to seek other employment and leave the way open for the fresh young juniors who regard the banking field as their chosen sphere in life.

Close Sub Offices.

Another phase of the situation is the fact that all over the country, sub offices, formerly open for two or three days in a week, are being closed up. There are two causes for this. One is the depression in trade which renders it an expensive and unproductive proceeding to maintain these offices and the clerical staff necessary to man them. Another is the widespread era of robbery and violence which renders it a foolhardy proceeding to despatch a couple of young men to a country office for two or three days in the week, with some thousands of the bank's funds in their charge, "practically inviting the attention of the thug," as one man puts it. This closing up of the smaller offices is therefore releasing a certain number of the clerical staff for use in other departments.

And still another objection to the women bankers is the fact that a woman who wishes to go ahead and attain to the higher positions, and is desirous of gaining the benefits of the pension fund, must submit to a severe physical examination and her subsequent rate of pension payments is different from that of the masculine members.

Some of the local banks have received no instructions whatever along this line. Others say there will be a gradual weeding out process until only tre girl stenographers remain as a relict of war-time feminine activities in banking circles, and only one, the Canadian Bank of Commerce, maintains that its women clerks in this city were engaged on a permanent basis ex-

THE DISTRICT I.O.D.E. HOLD MEETING HERE

REPORTS AT CONVENTION SATISFACTORY AND SHOW WIDE SCOPE OF ORGANIZATION'S ACTIVITIES.

ORDER HAS GIVEN AID TO NUMEROUS CHARITIES

The district meeting of the I.O.D.E., held at the G.W.V.A. Hall, was very successful Nearly 125 delegates representing the 15 Chapters in the district, attended. Representatives were present from Havelock, Cobourg, Port Hope, Warkworth, Hastings, Campbellford, Norwood, Cottesloe, Birdsall, and the smaller country centres.

The short afternoon session was opened by a few remarks from the presiding officer, Mrs. E. B. Clegg, Regent of the 57th Chapter, I.O.D.E. Mrs. W. A. Sanderson, Regent of the Otonabee Chapter, welcomed the visitors, who replied through a senior member, Mrs. Vance of Havelock. The guests of honor, Mrs. H. Burkholder, of Hamilton, President of the Provincial Chapter, and Mrs. Grant Thompson of Toronto, the Vice-President of the National Chapter, were presented with beautiful bouquets of roses by little Miss Jean Meyers and Master Billy McPherson. They replied in suitable terms.

District Reports.

Reports from the district, all showing a very satisfactory condition of affairs and excellent co-operative work throughout the locality, were read by the following ladies: Mrs. Vance, of Havelock; Mrs. Snider, of Port Hope, followed by Mrs. Haultain, who gave a glowing account of the work in that centre of the Secret Relief Committee; Mrs. Armstrong, of Warkworth; Mrs. R. Fowlds, of Hastings; Mrs. Archer, of Campbellford; Mrs. McDonald, of Cottesloe; Mrs. Squire, of Norwood, and Mrs. Birdsall, of Birdsall.

The Cobourg report was read by the secretary of the meeting, Miss Georgie Stevenson, and the City Chapters presented their reports as follows: 57th Chapter, Mrs. B. B. Gillespie; Otonabee Chapter, Mrs. J. H. Seels; Peter Robinson Chapter, Miss Estelle Knox, and Major Bennett Chapter, Miss Daisy Davidson.

The reports showed that the activities of the I.O.D.E. cover a very wide field Their social and charitable endeavors seem to stretch forth and embrace a number of works which are not touched by many other organizations. The recital of donations to the Children's Shelters, to the Institutes for the Blind, to the Navy League, the Muskoka Free Hospital, the Serbian and Armenian Relief Funds, the Zenana Mission of far-away India, the Health Associations, gifts to the Soldiers' Homes, to the Salvation Army, the Supervised Playgrounds, the Christmas treats for the orphans, to the Well-Babies Clinic, to the Re-Establishment for Soldiers' Fund, prizes towards educational endeavor in the schools, funds provided in some instances for the teaching of music in the class-room, donations to the War Memorial, all these indicated a wide range of charity which must of necessity do an immeasurable amount of good.

The reports received much favorable comment from the meeting, which proceeded to the discussion of various minor matters of business. On motion that a secretary was necessary to the recording of the work of these district rallies from year to year, Miss Georgie Stevenson was unanimously apointed as the district secretary. It was decided also to hold the district meeting for next year in Campbellford.

High Tea Served.

The upper hall of the G.W.V.A. building was utilized for the high tea served by the ladies to the visiting delegates, and was very attractive with long tables decorated with silver candelabra, yellow-shaded candles and glowing yellow flowers. Mrs. D. Carmichael was in charge.

IRISH OUTLOOK IS BRIGHTER SINN FEIN AND BRITISH SAY, GIVING NO REASON FOR THIS

FACT THAT DATE FOR RESUMPTION OF CONFERENCE HAS NOT BEEN SET NO GROUND FOR UNEASINESS.

UNIONIST REVOLT IN COMMONS IS EVIDENCED

(BY ED L. KEEN,)
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Oct. 26. — Without apparent reason, the Irish outlook was to-day declared by both British and Sinn Fein delegates to "be brighter". Something behind the scenes, unknown as yet to the public led to official optimism

There was said to be no grounds for uneasiness because the date for resumption of the conference had not been set. It might take place today or tomorrow, it was stated at Downing Street.

Ulster and Allegiance were discussed by the "little peace conference" composed of Lloyd George and Lord Birkenhead, Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins. The Irish plenipotentiaries were reported to be holding the subject of allegiance until they could gain every possible concession regarding the north of Ireland

There was evidence of a growing Unionist revolt in the Commons against Lloyd George's indecisions.

The Morning Post, voicing the sentiments of this group, said today: "The conferees are trying to invent some form of words which will enable the ministers to continue their negotiations.

"The rebels still pretend they are not rebels and the Government is floundering deeper and deeper into an uniathomable Irish bog."

WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT

The campaign so much talked of the past ten days is now in full swing.

FOR WHAT?

To raise in Peterborough $10,000 toward the National Sanitarium Association's Million Dollar Emergency Fund.

How Will the Money be Used?

$600,000 for replacing the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives destroyed by fire last November.

'Twas a cold winter night when this no ordinary fire broke out—in a hospital—

Heroic physicians and nurses worked like Trojains and removed every one of the 225 patients to safety—through flame and fire and smoke and falling debris.

And now there arises a cry for help from fellow mortals stricken by the Great White Plague—Consumption—Thousands doomed to death unless this $1,000,000 is subscribed in old Ontario.

Then $300,000 are needed for enlarging the Association's work generally—

At the Muskoka Cottage Sanatarium, The King Edward Sanatarium, The Queen Mary Hospital for Consumptive Children, The Gage Institute.

But can Consumption be cured, you query?

Yes, if taken in time—and that's what these institutions are mainly for—and to-day thousands are singing the praises of the National Sanitarium Assn. in that they have been rescued from the Great Terror's insatiable clutches and restored to health. Thousands of others, hopeless cases because of delay, have had their lives prolonged phenomenally.

Who are at the head of this great campaign?

Patron — His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire, K.G., G.C. M.G., etc.; Ex-Governor-General of Canada.

Hon. Committee—Hon. E. C. Drury, Premier of Ontario, His Worship, T. L. Church, Mayor of Toronto, Hon. W. A. Charlton, M.P.; Vice-Chairmen. Sir Edmund Osler, Honorary Treasurer, and a small army of Canad's most representative men.

In Peterborough, all over this fair Province, men, women and little children should be under treatment for Consumption in one or other of the Association's institutions. But room and equipment are now wanting—

And so, The Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives must be rebuilt, and other facilities provided.

This is the story of the Million Dollar ($10,000 from Peterborough) Campaign, in a nutshell—

DO YOUR BIT.—

Help this great work for suffering humanity to go forward in the name of Christian Brotherhood and Sisterhood.

Bank Manager Foils Attempt At A Daylight Hold Up in Montreal

MONTREAL, Oct. 26.— (Canadian Press.)—The police here are scouring the city for three bandits in a stolen automobile, one of whom attempted to hold up two clerks in the branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, corner of Park avenue and Prince Arthur at 12.50 yesterday afternoon.

Only the opportune appearance of J. H. Carnegie, manager of the branch, who fired a shot at the holdup man, resulted in the failure of the attempt, although the bandit fired three shots from two automatic revolvers with which he was covering the teller and ledgerkeeper.

After the bank manager's shot the bandit lost his nerve, bolted from the bank and jumped into the waiting automobile which turned west on Prince Arthur street and was soon lost to view.

None of the shots fired took effect. The police believe the attempt was made by amateurs.

"It was fortunate," said Mr. Carnegie last night, "that I had not gone to my lunch as usual at that hour. The first words that struck me were, 'I've got you. Hands up.' Believing this was a joke, I looked out of the door and saw a young man covering the teller and the ledger keeper with an automatic in each hand. I picked up the revolver that lies constantly on my desk and fired at the bandit, the bullet going wild. This completely unnerved the man, who fired simultaneously from both guns and then fired again in my direction. The man then dashed out and escaped.

"Immedlately after I went to the cage of G. T. Drew, the teller and found that he had fainted but he soon revived."

Mr. Carnegie described the bandit as a tall, slim, well-dressed young man about 25 years of age, dark and celan shaven. He states that the bank did not lose a cent and could not have lost much if the bandit had been successful.

ELECTION NEWS

CRERAR RESENTS "IMPUTATION" ON WEST

WOODSTOCK, N.B., Oct. 26.—(By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.) — Opening the National Progressive Party's campaign in the Maritime provinces here yesterday, Hon. T. A. Crerar came sharply to the defence of the west. He declared that an "imputation" had been cast again at the loyalty of the men in western Canada and in warm tones, resented statements reported to have been made by the prime minister and by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Militia and Defence. As a Canadian born in the same province as Mr. Meighen, warmly exclaimed Mr. Crerar—our birthplaces were not a day's ourney apart—I regret to see such language fall from the lips of the prime minister of Canada.

Carleton-Victoria, the county in which Mr. Crerar spoke, was formerly represented in the House of Commons by Hon. F. B. Carvell, who resigned his seat to assume the chairmanship of the Dominion Railway Commission. A couple of years ago at the consequent by-election, it returned T. W. Caldwell, the first and so far, the only Progressive elected from the Maritime provinces. Mr. Caldwell is again a candidate. His opponent is Hon. B. F. Smith, a Conservative and former provincial minister. There is as yet no Liberal candidate before the public.

Yesterday's meeting was but the second which Mr. Crerar has addressed in New Brunswick since he entered political life and, singularly enough, the first was from the same platform. The audience was not as large as some of the Ontario meetings and like other agrarian audiences, generally, was undemonstrative.

There was one interruption. Mr. Crerar was referring to Mr. Guthrie, claiming that while Mr. Guthrie at NEWSPAPERMEN REGRET WIRELESS CHAIN DELAY.

LONDON, Oct. 26. — (Canadian Press). — General regret was expressed at the annual meeting of the Empire Press Union at the poor progress made in the Imperial wireless chain. It was announced that owing to the generally depressed condition of the newspaper isndustry, it had been impossible, so far, to do anything regarding an interchange of the newspaper staffs of the Home Land the Dominions, although applications had been received from the Dominions to participate in such a scheme.

Lord Burnham was re-elected president of the Union, and Lord Northcliffe, treasurer.

ATTACK INDIAN POLICY ON EVE OF PRINCE'S TOUR.

LONDON, October 26 (Canadian Press).—Despite Government efforts to prevent Parliamentary discussion of Indian affairs on the eve of the departure of the Prince of Wales for India, that subject was taken up in the House of Lords yesterday, where Baron Sydenham charged the Government with exercising a weak policy by which British authority had suffered throughout India.

He asserted that it was widely believed by the masses of Indian people that British rule either had ended or shortly would end. He argued that the Government must have been aware of the recent Moplah uprising, which he declared was well organised under the eyes of the Government.

Lord Curzon, the Foreign Secretary, who strenuously objected to the debate, said he had written previously to Baron Sydenham and also to Baron Ampthill, urging them to state their reasons for declining to refrain from debate of the subject at the present time. Neither of them, however, was prepared to give way, he said. He declared it was a most unusual thing when a request of this kind was made by the leader of the House for it to be ignored. Such debate was capable of exercising a very deleterious effect on the eve of the departure of the Prince of Wales, he declared, and urged the House to cease the discussion so that the Royal tour should open in an atmosphere with not a single jarring note.

SINN FEIN FIGHTING ULSTER ISSUE BEFORE YIELDING ANY POINT ON CROWN ALLEGIANCE

SPECIAL COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO FIND FORMULA TO ENABLE IRISH CONFERENCE TO CONTINUE CONFERS AGAIN WITHOUT COMPLETING ITS TASK.

LONDON, October 26. Canadian Press.—The committee comprising Mr. Lloyd Geore, Austen Chamberlain, Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins, which was appointed to find a formula that would enable a continuance of the Irish conference, conferred another two hours yesterday without completing its task.

No date was fixed for the re-assembling of the conference itself, because the committee's report is not yet ready.

The Ulster question is closely connected with the question of Sinn Fein's consent to enter the Britsh commonwealth, and the committee had to consider sugestions for meeting the Sinn Fein demands for Irish unity. Sean McIlroy, the Sinn Fein member of the House of Commons for Tyrone, was in conference with Sir Hamar Greenwood, although the latter is not a member of the committee.

Detailed maps, showing the distribution of Catholics and Protestans, not only by counties, but by districts, again were brought into the committee conference, and the inference was drawn that sinn Fein is fighting the Ulster issue before consenting to yield anything on the question of allegiane to he Crown.

Its arguments were marshalled by deputations which before the conference met, waited on Eamon De Valera in Dublin, from all sections containing Nationalists majorities within the area of the Northern Parliament.

It will be recalled that in replying to them, Mr. De Valera declared the issue of Irish unity to be as fundamental as that of the Irish form of government.

At the Irish headquarters last night an attempt was made to convey the impression that a break-off to-day and the immediate return of the delegates to Dublin, are within the range of possibility.

Among the British officials, however, there appeared a disposition to believe that the committee would present its report, and that a full conference would reassemble to-morrow.

Never strike a man when he's down—especially for a loan.

SENATOR NICHOLLS.

The passing of Senator Frederic Nicholls, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Canadian General Electric Company and for many years President of that company, was learned with regret by his many friends in this city. Although never a resident of Peterborough, his connection with the largest local industry and the deep interest that he had taken in the progress of this city, had caused him to be regarded as one of our nature sons, to such an extent that when he was appointed to the Senate he was banquetted by the citiezns of Peterborough who were delighted to hear of the honour conferred upon him. Senator Nicholls' career is another proof that Canada is the land of opportunity for men who possess the vision and enterprise to take advantage of the opening that is offered. Coming to this country as a young man at eighteen years, Senator Nicholls advanced from one pinnacle of success to another until at his death he was connected with the directorate of more than two dozen of Canada's manufacturing and business concerns. In his death Peterborough has lost a good friend.

ANOTHER TYPE.

The camp follower—that name is perhaps preferable to "ward heeler"—was referred to in these columns last evening as an inevitable feature of political campaigns. He has his faults, obvious ones they are, too, but, at least, he possesses the virtue of loyalty, and he is not afraid to show his colours. There is another type found at election times that is just as familiar and much more objectionable, the individual who tries to ingratiate himself with all the parties, and after the election is one of the first to cheer the victor. Everybody knows one or two specimens of this political parasite, who goes from one camp to the other whispering maliciously, carrying tales, retailing the little tag ends of gossip, tonight at one headquarters, tomorrow night at somebody else's committee rooms, two-faced, untruthful, scheming. Every campaign finds him at the same old game, until at last he overplays his hand and all the parties turn a deaf ear to his mouthings and a cold reception waits him wherever he goes. He is just a type, that's all—the heavens be praised his kind are not numerous.

OLD HOME WEEK.

Mr. F. H. Dobbin has done yeoman service in his letter to The Examiner last evening on the proposed Old Home Week for Peterborough. With his usual eye to detail he has effectively sketched the preliminary steps that will be necessary to ensure the success of the event. Being nothing if not practical, he has gone into the financial aspect of the suggestion and has decided that a fund of at least $5,000 must be available. And then he has shown what work will have to be done to swing the undertaking into its stride. A prospectus of this kind was needed. Various bodies have expressed their approval of an old boys' re-union without much investigation of ways and means. But as a huge event of the character suggested cannot be made a reality by the mere passing of resolutions, Mr. Dobbin has done well to point out just what is involved. There is, of course, nothing in his plan of campaign to dismay the citizen who is enthusiastic over the scheme. His suggestions are workable and can be utilized. But the point is that unless Peterborough is prepared to go into the enterprise on the lines indicated by Mr. Dobbin and work enthusiastically and steadily for its success, there would be little use in launching out. A half-hearted organization could not expect to succeed.

THE GAME LAWS.

While engaged in ridding his farm of the red squirrels, which were destroying his fruit crop and damaging his property, Mr. R. B. Rogers made the mistake of shooting a black squirrel, unaware that the latter animal is protected by the law. A game inspector was informed of the offence, and on the case being brought to court Mr. Rogers was mulcted the minimum fine of $20.00. There was no other course that could have been taken by the County Magistrate, nor could the inspector have refrained from doing his duty when his attention was drawn to the infraction of the law. But to those who know how often and how widely the game and fishery laws are broken in this district, the whole proceedings have the aspect of a force. The letter of the law was undoubtedly broken in Mr. Rogers' case, but in the flagrant disregard of the regulations that take place in this section of Ontario each year the spirit, as well as the letter, has been completely shattered, while the offenders to go scot-free. Shooting a black squirrel that is damaging your property may be an offence against the game laws, but it seems a very trivial offence when it is compared with the action of the pirates who catch tons of fish out of season, or the poachers who are every day slaughtering partridge. It is an open secret that in the spawning season the illegal fishing at Rice Lake does more harm in one day than the activities of legitimate fishers could accomplish in the whole of the open season. The majority of these illegally-caught fish are brought into Peterborough and sold here, a steady business having been developed in this city. What are the fishery inspectors doing to stop this illicit trade? Again, it is claimed, that partridge are being transported here and sold in quantities. So far as The Examiner has been able to learn, there has been nobody prosecuted for this offence, nor has there been any indication that the authorities are awake to the conditions. There is a vast field of action for the inspectors who mean business, and it is to be hoped that sooner or later they will be able to secure a conviction in some case more serious than that of shooting a squirrel. Every real hunter and fisher in Peterborough will wish them success.

POPULAR QUEBEC.

A goodly number of Americans with a sprinkling of Englishmen and others are usually to be found in Canada during July and August, some of whom, the more adventurous, take the long overland journey by rail across the Continent and enjoy the romantic secenery of the Canadian Northwest, making Banff and beautiful Lake Louise their objective points. Others who are devoted to angling or are fleeing from hay fever find the Muskoka Lake region with its varied scenery and pure and bracing air an ideal resort in the heated season further south; while many others, chiefly from the United States, spend the summer on the northern shores of Lake Ontario at Cobourg and other places, including Toronto during the season of its annual exhibition; others still enjoy the Thousand Islands of the St. Lawrence and the Old World air of Montreal and Quebec.

Readers of Howell's "A Chance Acquaintance" need not be reminded of the charm and picturesqueness of old Quebec and the sublime scenery of a voyage up the Saguenay River, with Cape Eternity frowning darkly above them, 1,500 feet in height, while the dark waters at its base are of unknown depth. Possibly a large number of the visitors to Canada, especially in its eastern part, have been led to make this excursion northward by Howell's novel or the romances of Sir Gilbert Parker or the splendid pages of Parkman.

But while the advantages and allurements just enumerated are sufficient, even without Niagara and the Falls of the Montmorency, to account for the presence of tourists in the Dominion during the summer season, ordinarily these guests are but birds of passage and in the early days of September usually wing their flight southward. This season, however, the case is different, especially in the Province of Quebec. We learn from Montreal and Quebec papers that there were not only an unusual number of Americans in Canada the past summer, but that a greater number than usual are lingering and at present give no signs of leaving. The hotels at Montreal and Quebec are full, as at the height of the season, and new guests continue to arrive daily.

Of course, it is not incumbent upon us to explain why the cities and towns of the Province of Quebec seem more than ordinarily attractive to Americans the present season. We have "dilated" upon the beautics and picturesqueness of portions of Canada, but it is difficult to believe these are the reasons why Americans are lingering so long in Quebec. Those same charms were there in other years, and yet they did not detain visitors much beyond the usual time for their departure southward, so that an explanation must be sought elsewhere. The fact that Quebec is practically the only Province of the Dominion that combines a reasonable degree of "moisture" with beautiful scenery and romantic associations may explain why her tourists are prolongin their stay beyond the usual time.—New York Times.

U. S. STEEL EARNINGS LOWEST SINCE 1915

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. — Total earnings of the United States' Steel Corporation for the third qaurter of the current year, announced after yesterday's meeting of the directors, dwindled to $18,918,068. This is the smallest total of any quarter since March 1915, when earnings fell to $12,457,809 and no dividends were paid on the common stock.

Regular dividends of 1 3-4 per cent on the preferred and 1 1-4 per cent, on the common were declared, but no part of the common dividend was earned and only $1.58 of the $1.75 due on the preferred was available after payment of interest on outstanding bonds.

To meet these dividend payments the directors drew on the corporation's undivided surplus to the extent of $6,965,504, against the $4,571,668 taken from the surplus in the previous quarter to make up the deficit in the common dividend.

APPROVE ABOLITION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

LONDON, Oct. 26. — (Canadian Press).—A Reuter cable from Brisbane, Australia, dated October 25, says that the Queensland Legislative Assembly, after the application of closure, passed the second reading, by a vote of 39 to 30, of a bill providing for the abolition of the Legislative Council.

LUDICROUS SITUATION OVER LICENSING HOURS

LONDON, Oct. 26. — (Canadian Press).—Hitherto only four London licensing courts have fixed the hours in which liquor may be dispensed in public houses, but each have fixed different hours. The want of uniformity causes a ludicrous situation where the areas adjoin. Thus a man, though compelled to leave a Shoreditch public house at 10 in the evening, is able to obtain drink in a city public house till 10.30 by walking a few yards.

WOULD DEVELOP BRITISH "ESTATE"

LONDON, Oct. 26. — (Canadian Press).—Sir Robert Horne, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in moving yesterday in the House of Commons, the second reading of the Trade Facilities Bill, providing for the extension of the export credits scheme and the scheme for guaranteeing loans up to a limit of £25,000,000, said any government or any undertaking in any part of the world might apply for a loan. He would favor proposals from the Dominions.

"It is our duty as well as our interest," said Sir Robert, "to develop the great estate we own throughout the world. These possessions were our best customers and proved in times of difficulty our most loyal and attached friends."

He added that help would not be given under the bill to countries able to raise money on their own credit, but there were many Crown colonies which required help which the bill afforded. It would be a condition of any loan that material to be purchased with the proceeds would be bought in Great Britain, if obtainable in Great Britain. If the bill should prove to be fruitable, its extension would be considered at the next session.

LORD RAGLAN DEAD.

LONDON, Oct. 26. — (Canadian Press). — Lord Raglan, formerly Lieutenant-Governor of the Isle of Man, and grandson of the Crimean commander of the same name, died yesterday. He held the Manx Lieutenant-Governorship for seventeen years.

George Fitz-Roy Henry Somerset, 3rd Baron Raglan, had many characteristics usually associated with peers of a century ago. He confessed, for instance, that before he was sixteen years of age, he drank buckets of beer. Later in life, he was abstemious enough, and in his individual relations was entirely popular. The Governorship, however, became unwelcome to a large class of Manxmen—so much so that the inhabitants once presented him with a petition virtually asking him to resign. He ignored this, and did not relinquish his office until some years later, when his departure was signalized by a decent show of goodwill towards him.

"CONSCIENCE BROOCH" RESTORED AFTER 15 YEARS.

KINGSTON, Oct. 26.—(Canadian Press).—The "conscience brooch," concerning which the woman who found it fifteen years ago, recently wrote Mr. Givens, publisher of The Standard, has been restored to its rightful owner, Miss M. A. Anderson, 178 Bagot Street, this city. The brooch has amethyst surrounded by pearls. No fewer than five other ladies have written The Standard, setting forth that they, too, lost brooches at the time, and in about the spot mentioned in the letter of the "Repentant Woman."

RAIL WORKERS OF G. T. R. TO ACCEPT SLASH

TENATIVE AGREEMENT PROVIDES THAT IF SCHEDULE IS ALTERED BACK MONEY WITHHELD TO BE REFUNDED.

MONTREAL, Oct. 26.—(Canadian Press).—A tentative agreement was reached yesterday between the employees of the Grand Trunk Railway and representatives of the company whereby the men agree to accept provisionally the reduction in wages, with the understanding that if further negotiations alter the schedules of pay the company will see that any back money withheld is refunded.

The agreement arrived at is, in a general way, that the employees accept the reduced rates of pay put into effect in July last, subject to adjustment of any inequalities. The agreement was also subject to a reopening of the whole question of wage rates on fifteen days notice from either side, when any further reconsideration would be taken up by representatives of the company and the employees. The reduction approximates twelve and a half per cent.

Should the reconsideration and conferences suggested as possible result in a disagreement of a permanent character, it was provided that the matter would then be reported to the chairman of the arbitration board, J. M. Godfrey, of Toronto, and the dispute would be taken up before this board until the case was referred back for settlement between the company and representatives of the employees. This is not regarded as likely and the agreement reached is considered as paving the way to a settlement of the whole question. Further discussions will deal with rates of pay in different classes.

The conferences were presided over by Mr. C. W. Needham af the Grand Trunk Railway Company, and the committee of the employes consisted of representatives of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railroad Employes, the International Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, the International Brotherhood of Railroad Stationmen and the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen and Oilers.

It was further provided in the tentative agreement that no change would be effected in schedule rules, until thirty days after January 1, 1922, unless mutually agreed upon.

The provisional settlement of the dispute follows closely the lines of the understanding reached between the representatives of the Big Four Brotherhoods and Canadian Railway Companies before the Justice McLennan Board some weeks ago.

FOWL SUPPER CENTREVILLE

PETERBORO' TALENT TOOK PART —AMONG THOSE PRESENT

The fowl supper at Centreville on Tuesday evening, 25th October, broke all records, the attendance being between five and six hundred, many people having to stand all evening in the church, which was filled to overflowing. Scores of cars were parked for quite a distance on both sides of the street, many loads driving in from Port Hope, Peterborough, Millbrook, and from the surrounding country for several miles. The fine evening and good roads,together with the reputation of the South Monaghan ladies, which was fully sustained on this occasion, of providing an excellent supper, doubtless supplied a combination of attractive circumstances which few could resist.

The supper was served in the Sunday School hall, and the tables certainly groaned under the weight of good things provided, the supplies holding out very well until the last comers were served, the waiters being kept busy at their task for fully three hours. It was about 8.30 before the programme could be proceeded with in the church, the following artistes taking part and being repeatedly encored: Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Johnston, of Millbrook, who sang twice in duet and also gave two quartette numbers with Rev. and Mrs. G. S. Gervan, Miss Annie McConnachie being the accompanist; Miss Hazel Davidson, of Peterborough, whose elocutionary numbers were thoroughly enjoyed; Mr. Wilfred Johnston, of Centreville, who played two excellent violin solos; and Rev. Mr. Patterson, of Frazerville, who made a brief address, as did also Rev. G. S. Gervan, of Millbrook.

Rev. Mr. McConnachie announced that the proceeds of the evening were practically $300.00.

The gathering closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Amongst those from Millbrook and its vicinity who attended the supper were noticed Mr. and Mrs. H. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. A. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. O. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ball, Mr. and Mrs. M. Fallis, Mr. and Mrs. S .R. Nicholls, Rev. and Mrs. S. T. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ball, Rev. and Mrs. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Birchard, Dr. and Mrs. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Roper, Mr. and Mrs. Urry, Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Burnham, Dr. Wallace, Misses E. and M. Grandy, M. White, E. Fisher, M. Needham, Audrey Lacheur, Sadie Might, Pearl Burnham, Mrs. P. I. Bentley, and Messrs. J. Fair, D. Morden, and F. Alcorn.

STORM SWEEPS WEST COAST OF FLORIDA

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 26.—(Canadian Press.)— The business section of Tampa is practically flooded under three feet of water as a result of a gulf storm, according to advices reaching here last night over crippled transmission lines. No loss of life has been reported, but industry is at a standstill. The entire west coast of Florida is feeling the effects of the storm and is virtually isolated in so far as communication is concerned.

UNION CHIEFS SEEK TO RETAIN HINES AS COUNSEL AT HEARING; FORMER RAIL DIRECTOR REFUSES

GOVERNMENT COMPLETES PLANS FOR OPERATING TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM IN EVENT OF STRIKE.

RAILWAYS REITERATE POSITION UNCHANGEABLE

CLEVELAND, Oct. 26.—(Canadian Press).—That the "Big Five" railroad transportation organization chiefs are expecting a legal battle when they appear before the United States Railroad Board to-day in Chicago was indicated yesterday when they sought to retain Walker D. Hines, former director-general of railroads, to handle legal phases which might develop. Mr. Hines informed the brotherhood executives that he "was not in a position" to represent them, and returned to New York last night.

Mr. Hines declined to make any general comment on the situation, or to discuss any specific points.

Unless the Railroad Labor Board has changed its attitude concerning the necessity of general chairman of the five labor organizations appearing at the Chicago meeting, it is anticipated that one of the first legal squabbles to be decided will be on the action of Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, in notifying his general chairmen they need not answer the Labor Board's citation. Mr. Stone anticipated last night that only himself and six grand officers, in whom authority of the organization is vested, will attend the conference.

Referring to conflicting reports in telegrams exchanged between Chairman R. M. Barton, of the Railroad Labor Board and President Stone, regarding the necessity of general chairmen of the brotherhoods being required to attend the Chicago hearings, Mr. Stone last night said; "My chairmen are scattered all over the country from Maine to California and it would be impossible for me to get them to Chicago in time for the opening of the hearings."

When asked how long he and his grand officers expected to remain in Chicago, Mr. Stone replied that he could not answer, adding that no arrangements had been made for the return trip.

Other brotherhood chiefs would not indicate whether their General Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, who has ordered the 200 general chairmen and grand officers of his organization to be present, and with whom he will confer in Chicago this morning, previous to meeting the Labor Board. It is understood that the other chiefs and their officers will confer separately preliminary to the board meeting.

In a statement issued yesterday, W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and engineers, said: "The men are determined to peacefully leave the service of the railroads until a satisfactory adjustment has been reached." Mr. Carter also stated that "if press reports are to be taken at their face value, the whole power of the administration is going to be used to defeat the strike of the employees," adding, "Not one word comes through the press that any influence is being used upon the railroad corporations."

The five chiefs held two conferences and discussed final plans for their appearance before the Railroad Labor Board- and left late last night for Chicago.

Following were Tuesday's rail strike- devlopments:

Chicago—Labor Board suggests to roads that they temporarily postpone seeking further wage cuts because the docket is so full that a decision could not be rendered before July, 1922, but roads declare themselves "powerless to take any other position," than their present one. Board announced rules and working conditions will be settled before any wage reduction petitions are considered.

Rail executives meet to discuss strike situation and Labor Board hearing which begins to-day.

Washington — Attorney - General Daugherty and District Attornevs from New York, Cleveland, Buffalo, Indianapolis and Chicago complete plans "for transportation of people who travel and transportation of food and fuel" in the event of a strike."

Cleveland—Warren S. Stone, head of the engineers, announces he has instructed his chairmen they need not attend to-day's Labor Board hearing at Chicago, saying the Board has misunderstood their authority and will not want them when the situation is explained.

W. S. Carter, president of the firemen and engineers, in a statement, declares press reports indicate "the whole power of the administration is to be used to defeat the strike," and that "there seems to be no disposition on the part of anyone to bring about an equitable adjustment."

"Big Five" union chiefs ask Walker D. Hines, former director general of railroads, to act as their counsel in dealing with Labor Board but he declines.

Cincinnati—Railway clerks will give "passive assistance" to the proposed walkout by refusing to do other than their own work during the strike. Train despatching orders will not be handled by the clerks by telephone if telegraphers carry out their plans to strike.

Houston—International and Great Northern strike situation unchanged: full passenger and part freight service being operated under armed guards, although strikers maintain a hands-off policy.

Any story told over a long-distance telephone is a sort of distant relation.

ELECTION NEWS

tacked reciprocity now, he supported it in 1911.

"Yes," interposed a voice, "he spoke in favor of it from that very platform."

Well, the whirligig of politics brings many changes, musingly observed Mr. Crerar, and it brought some queer ones for Mr. Guthrie.

In his defence of the Progressive movement, Mr. Crerar cited the following statement reported to have been made by the prime minister during his tour of the Maritime provinces.

"It is not unfair for me to say," Mr. Meighen was quoted, "that the soil from which the Wood-Crerar movement has grown is not so wholly a Canadian soil as the soil in which you and I grew. There has been much immigration in that country and though these immigrants make good farmers, I do not believe that they have the vision of Canada or the heart of Canada in the way the rest of us have."

"As a Canadian who was born in the same province as Mr. Meighen," commented Mr. Crerar, "our birthplaces were no more than a day's journey apart—as a Canadian proud of his country, I regret to see such language falling from the lips of the prime minister of Canada. There is in it an imputation against the men in western Canada. I care nothing for Mr. Meighen describing the party to which I belong as the Wood-Crerar party. That is a transparent device to create prejudice in the public mind against a political movement that is threatening the foundations of this government. But in face of the fact that we need people in Canada to share our burdens, to develop our resources, in face of the fact that western Canada and Alberta and Sasaktchewan, particularly, sent more men to the front in proportion to their population ,than almost any other province, I say that I regret to see the prime minister using such language."

PREMIER REITERATES PROTECTION STAND

ORILLIA, Ont., 26—(By Canadian Press)—Premier Meighen spoke at a meeting here last night. He said no one regretted more than he that James Tudhope, member for East Simcoe in the last parliament, found himself unable to be a candidate in the coming election. He felt sure, however, that in Col. Raikes the party had chosen a worthy successor to Dr. Tudhope

The Premier said that there never was an election in wich geography counted for so much as this time. The locality had an important effect in determining the platform which the Liberals placed before the electors The government had not raised the tariff issue. The government simply adhered to the tariff policy which had been in effect prior to 1911, when the Liberals were in power.

"The protective tariff we propose to adhere to," said Mr. Meighen, "and we ask the country to support us."

The protective principle had been challenged by the Liberals and the Progressives, said the Premier they were responsible for raising the issue which was before the country. The war-cry of the Progressives was "On to Ottawa" for the purpose of destroying the protective tariff. They proposed to force their will on the people of Canada by electing enough members to control parliament.

Mr Meighen said that he had found candidates supporting Mr. Mackenzie King and yet adhering to a protective tariff chiefly on the grounds which were proceeded in their own constituency. In this connection he mentioned W. G. Raymond, Liberal candidate in Brantford, who he said insisted that the tariff on farm implements must be maintained.

"Mr. Crerar says that protection is commercially and morally wrong," remarked the premier. "He sets his morality against the universe." He went on to say that practically every industrial country in the world had protection, and that the tendency in these countries was to increase rather than decrease the tariff.

Protection was more important to Canada than it was to other nations because her industries were smaller owing to her youth. Abolition of protection in Canada would be "blazing madness," said the Premier.

"Any policy other than protection means the absorption one by one of Canadian industries the far mightier industries to the south," he insisted.

The reason for the continued good health of some children is simple enough

Especially when you know the facts, some of which are given here

EVERY mother is proud of a healthy, strong youngster that radiates buoyant life and energy. She has reason to be proud, because the child's good health proves her wisdom in the selection of the food she gives her boy or girl.

All mothers should know that growing children require a balanced diet, a diet containing the food elements needed for building and energizing the little body.

Grape-Nuts, the rich, nourishing food made from whole wheat flour and malted barley, served with milk or cream, contains the materials the child needs for its best growth and development.

Grape-Nuts helps make sound teeth, strong nerves and pure red blood, and for the palate there is nothing more wholesome or delicious.

Go to your grocer today and get a package of strength-giving Grape-Nuts. Let the children have all they want, with milk, cream or stewed fruit, or made into an appetizing pudding. Grape-Nuts is a food that will be relished by every member of the family.

New and Interesting Facts from Science and Life

Curing Deafness by Operating on the Nose

YOU hear with your ears and smell with your nose, but, paradoxical as it may seem, surgical science has found a cure for deafness by operating on the nose.

Dr. Paul V. Winslow, a New York surgeon connected with the Brooklyn Ear, Nose and Throat Hospital, in a recent lecture described such a simple operation. It was four years ago, when treating a patient suffering from catarrhal deafness, not for his hearing but to improve his speech, that Dr. Winslow discovered that this operation also improved the hearing. Dr. Winslow cited case after case, one of a boy who had been almost totally deaf for 10 years and whose hearing began to return immediately after air was readmitted to the Eustachian tube, and so the middle ear.

Another was of an eminent physician who had for many years been obliged to use an artificial aid to hearing, and who soon after the operation was able to hear a watch tick at a distance of 12 inches.

To understand how and why it cures, one must first of all have a general idea of the mechanism of hearing. This is not all in the ear, any more than the music is all in the strings of a violin. As the strings require a sounding box, so do the vocal chords with which you speak or sing. And this sounding-box, or air chamber, acts also as a ventilator for the ear.

It is generally known that the waves of sound that enter the ear set in vibration a tightly stretched membrane, called the ear-drum. Back of the drum-head is an air chamber called the middle ear, containing a series of little bones delicately hinged together, which transmit the vibrations of the outer drum to a second inner drum which is in communication with the organs of the inner ear, from which the nerves of hearing transmit them to the brain.

The middle ear is a most important part of the instrument of hearing. It is normally full of air and has two orifices, one leading to the cells of the mastoid bone and one to the upper part of the throat, back of the nose. These tubes must be open, so that fresh air may always be circulating between the nose and the middle ear, and so on to the mastoid cells.

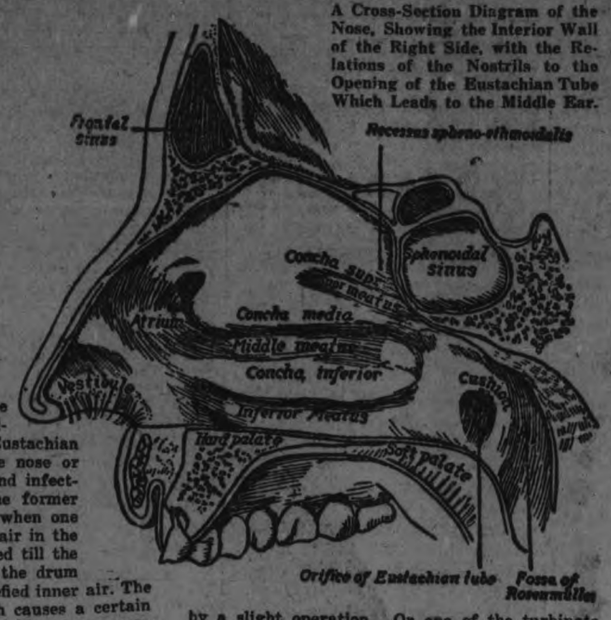
Ear troubles nearly always have their origin in the middle ear, and are due to a stoppage of the tube leading from the nose—called the Eustachian tube—or to infection from the nose or throat creeping up this tube and infecting the middle ear. When the former happens, as it frequently does when one catches a cold in his head, the air in the middle ear is gradually absorbed till the pressure of the outside air on the drum is greater than that of the rarefied inner air. The result is a dull sensation which causes a certain amount of deafness and may quickly cause severe pain.

When the middle ear is infected an abscess may result, pus may find its way into the mastoid cells and make necessary the dreaded mastoid operation to let out the pus before it eats its way to the brain.

It is, therefore, necessary that the Eustachian tube be always open and that it has a free supply of air. This air can come only through the nose.

Inside the nose on each side are three projections of the upper jawbone, each twisted into a spiral. These are called the upper, middle and lower turbinated bones. The air you breathe must pass through the tubes of these bones and through the narrow channels between them. The entrance to the Eustachian tube is immediately behind the lower turbinate bone.

Noses are often "stopped up" on one side or the other either by inflammation of the mucous membrane that line the passages or through a slight malformation that may be congenital or caused by a blow, perhaps in childhood. The septum, or partition that separates the nostrils, is often deflected to one side. This contracts the air spaces on one side, and surgeons often correct it by a slight operation. Or one of the turbinate bones may be distorted, with the same effect.



A Cross-Section Diagram of the Nose, Showing the Interior Wall of the Right Side, with the Relations of the Nostrils to the Opening of the Eustachian Tube Which Leads to the Middle Ear.

Dr. Winslow found that when one of the turbinate bones was distorted, it obstructed the flow of air and the Eustachian tube did not receive the supply necessary to keep the middle ear in good condition. He did not at first suspect that this was the cause of so many cases of partial deafness, but as deafness disappeared after a slight operation on the offending turbinate bone, in case after case, he became convinced that it was. Then he began searching for nasal obstruction in all cases of deafness. There were some, of course, that were due to other causes, but he found so many of them with nasal obstructions that he now makes it a rule to remove these as the first step in treatment for restoring the hearing.

Can Vision Be Improved by Looking Backwards with Head Upside Down?

DO you wish to improve your vision? If so, then lean so far forward that you can look backwards between your parted legs. These directions sound more like the description of some physical exercise, but, according to Prof. Ernst Darmstaedter, a noted German scientist, you will be surprised to note how the colors of the landscape, the hues of a level sheet of water, and the tints in the sky all become more beautiful, more powerful, perhaps more varied and in any case more sharply differentiated. Where before were but faded or dimmed tints and shades will now be seen almost a riot of color—at any rate in certain regions where Nature is favorable. Looking backward is seems, means seeing better.

Prof. Darmstaedter speaks with caution after much personal experiment with the somewhat difficult movement to which he refers. He has taken the trouble to suggest to many people that they stoop forward until they can see the landscape between their parted legs and in every case they agreed with him that vision for color was vastly improved. In Prof. Darmstaedter's own experience, which he describes in Umschau (Leipzig) and quoted in Current Opinion, the effect can be attained by sideward movements of the head, especially if the upper portion of the body be inclined sidewise.

Colors accentuate themselves from this peculiar point of view, especially the colors of the flowers and the trees. If the spectator finds himself on the seashore he will behold every conceivable shade of the same color—that is, if the variety of shades be really present in the sky. The mountains and the air become in some instances almost kaleidoscopic. The colors of groups of trees in the foreground and in the middle background seem brighter.

What is the explanation of so singular a circumstance? The reply of the professor is not as definite as he would like, to make it because all theories of vision are tentative. Scientists do not know just what sight is, even if they possess elaborate information regarding the nerves of the eye. Provisionally, the German professor suggests that when one stands with legs apart and head down, the forms of trees, of clouds and mountains are less sharply indicated while the hues of all things are brought nearer, in appearance at any rate. This theory is somewhat weakened by the fact that when a person contemplates a sheet of water in this attitude, there is an accentuation of all color. There is no "form" to speak of, the surface of the water being of a monotonously level character. Perhaps the explanation is to be found in the detail that when one stands with bent head there is an increase in the flow of blood to the brain. Hence there is an increase in the "stuff" of which vision is made, an increased energy in the nerve substance which must be excited before vision can be said to be present at all.

This explanation brings up the theory of vision set forth by Prof. Ewald Hering, the psychologist of the University of Lepzig, who investigated minutely the nature of specific color sensations, which he described in a book on "Memory," consisting of a series of lectures on "The Specific Energy of the Nervous System." When a vibration of ether stimulates the nervous membrane of the eye (the retina) a process ensues whose real nature scientists do not understand. When a ray of light enters the eye, it causes an irritation of the nervous fibres and of the cerebral cells; and thus we become conscious of the sensation of light and of color. If now these same rays, which when entering the eye produced the sensation of light, fall upon the skin of the hand, this stimulation is transmitted through the nerves and the spinal cord to the brain, and instead of light we are conscious of warmth. How is it that the same external agent in one case produces light, and in the other warmth?

Moreover, the sensation of light can be produced in a perfectly dark room by stimulating the nerves of the eye by an electric current; and if the electric current is passed through the auditory nerve, we hear sounds and noises, though the deepest silence surrounds us.

The eccentricity of what science calls vision is illustrated by the fact that if a piece of the optic nerve could be cut out and a piece of a motor nerve inserted in its place, and every fibre of the former combined with every fibre of the latter, functional continuity would be restored along the perception of light and color would be possible just as before. In a word, although scientists are well acquainted with the physiology of the process of vision, the fact of vision itself is still to be understood.

Do Elephants Swallow Stones to Help Digest Their Food?

MOST of what is known of elephants, and especially of the African elephant, is due to the elephant-hunter and the big-game hunter. Hence it is that there are many aspects of the life history of these animals which have yet to be investigated, and others which need further enlargement. A case in point concerns the habit, which these animals apparently have, of swallowing stones. As far as can be made out, the first record of this curious trait was made by Mr. H. S. Thornicroft, a district commissioner of Northeast Rhodesia, so long ago as 1907, when, at a meeting of the Zoological Society of London, he exhibited 168 stones, weighing 7 pounds 13 ounces, which he had taken from the stomach of a bull elephant—carrying tusks weighing 45 pounds apiece—killed in his district.

These stones, which are now in the British Museum of Natural History, are of various kinds, shapes and sizes, the average being of about the size of a hen's egg.

Prof. W. P. Pycraft, the noted English naturalist, writing in the Illustrated London News, says that their lithological differences show that they have been picked up in widely different areas. Among the natives such hoards appear to be familiar enough; so much so that they see in them an indication of the age of the animal, believing that they take long to accumulate. But among sportsmen and naturalists this stone-swallowing habit, if it is a habit, was apparently not even suspected. One can readily understand this since, while the natives very thoroughly dissect the whole animal in the process of cutting it up for food, the sportsman and the ivory hunter are concerned with the tusks alone. One naturally asks, Is it a habit of this animal to swallow stones? Are Indian as well as African elephants also stone-swallowers? Under what circumstances, and for what "purpose," are they swallowed?

After carefully examining the stones taken from the elephant just referred to, Prof. Pycraft says that they do not seem to bear out the native belief that they are accumulations of slow growth. For in this case they should be worn smooth, which is not the case in these specimens. It is possible that they are swallowed for the purposes of trituration—the grinding up of vegetable fibres—as in the gizzards of vegetivorous birds. On the other hand, they may be swallowed for their pleasant taste, or accidentally, because adherent to tree-roots, which form a favorite item in the diet of this animal.

Till now, birds have been generally regarded as alone addicted to the practice of swallowing pebbles and grit; but it would seem that quite a number of other animals, from elephants and whales to crocodiles, must be included in the list. But among birds, stones and grit are not the invariable materials used for trituration purposes. The great-crested grebe uses its own feathers; the birds of prey, to maintain their health and well-being, must swallow a certain amount of the hair and feathers of their victims; the cuckoo, and the trogons of the Genus Harpactes, use the hairs of certain "woolly" caterpillars, on which they alone can feed.

HEATING Water with WASTE STEAM

THERE has recently been placed on the market the ingenious storage heater shown in the accompanying drawing which is reproduced from the Scientific American. This device is intended to furnish hot water in hotels, apartment houses, factories, etc. Exhaust or live steam is supplied to the heating element, where it condenses and heats the water in the tank.

The storage type heaters insure a reservoir of hot water at all times. In their general form they have been on the market for years, but the present storage heater departs from the general practice as regards the construction of the heating surface. It has been standard practice to use U-tubes for the heating element of a storage heater. Careful study and experimentation have established the fact that practically all of the work of heating is done in the upper or outgoing portion of the U-tube, and that the lower row or return portion of the U-tube simply acts as a drain pipe and returns the condensed steam to the steam head. It is, therefore, obvious that in a U-tube heater practically half of the tubing is useless as a heating medium.

Furthermore, a certain volume of steam, when condensed, will occupy only about 1-1600 of the volume of the steam. Therefore, the large area of drain tubes in the U-tube type of heater is absolutely unnecessary and waste material.

The present storage heater is designed with a cerain number of straight tubes in the steam element, and these tubes are of sufficient length to insure that the required heating will be taken care of and all of the steam will be condensed when it reaches the rear end of these heating tubes. It is therefore necessary to provide only a sufficient area of drain tube section to carry the condensation back to the steam head.

The heating surface consists of seamless drawn brass tubes expanded into a fixed tube plate at one end, and a floating tube plate at the other end, permitting expansion and contraction of tubes without strain of the tube joints. This straight tube construction, as contrasted with U-tube, eliminates the necessity for removal and scrapping of a large portion of the tube surface to replace an inner tube, as is the case in U-tube construction. These straight tubes are all of the same length, and this reduces the spares necessary to be carried in stock, and in fact permits the purchase of stock tubing to replace worn-out tubes.

The Great Productivity of the Banana

THE productivity of the banana is said to be greater than that of any other food-bearing plant. One acre and a little labor will annually produce 17,000 pounds of bananas.

The chemical composition of bananas and potatoes is almost identical. Not the least of the remarkable features about the banana is that it is immune from disease; no insect has acquired a taste for it, and, as it bears two crops a year, it is a seasonable fruit for 10 months out of the 12.

There are over 60 known varieties of the fruit, with as great, or greater variation in character as the different kinds of apples. Hawaii is said to have something over 40 distinct varieties of the fruit, most of which have been introduced by the whites. Some of these are of extremely delicate and delicious flavor, while other kinds are used, if at all, only when cooked in various ways. There is scarcely a city house lot or country "kulcana" or homestead which does not have a clump or two of bananas, which grow with practically no care, new plants or suckers shooting out to replace the ones which have fruited and been removed.

ACID in WOODS

ACID is a term used by many persons to designate almost any kind of chemical which has a corrosive action, and, in the same loose sense, the term "wood acid" is used in explanation of any unusual quality in a wood, such as taste, odor, or corrosion of metals in contact with the wood. As a matter of fact, in the research of the Forest Products Laboratory, only three chemicals correctly called acids have been found existing free in wood; these are tannic acid, acetic acid, and formic acid. Tannic acid is very feeble and has very little corrosive action on metals. The other two acids are also feeble in comparison with sulphuric, nitric or hydrochloric acids.

A very small amount of acetic acid and a still smaller amount of formic acid apparently exist in all native woods, probably as the result of a slow action of water on wood at ordinary temperatures. All native species are also alike in that both of these acids can be produced very readily from them by the simple action of steam or hot water, a reaction for which there is no simple preventive treatment. Acids formed in the wood by the agency of steam or hot water are doubtless responsible for the results frequently attributed to acid supposed to have been in the wood originally.

The amount of acid normally present in any native wood is not sufficient to warrant its rejection for any purpose involving contact with metals.

HOW to MAKE RECORDS at HOME

WITH the more or less complete disappearance of the cylinder-type phonograph, there passed away the former possibility of making one's own records—a feature that made for no end of added pleasure for the phonograph owner. The mechanical details of the usual disk phonograph are such as to produce the making of phonograph records at home except through the use of some elaborate accessory.

It has remained for C. E. Sanders of New York city to develop a practical form of recording device which can be attached to any standard disk phonograph for producing home-made records. Aside from making records of various members of the family, the recorder can be employed for divers other purposes, such as in the school room, laboratory, singing school, and so on. At any rate, this device can be readily attached to any disk phonograph and used by anyone, because of its simplicity.

The starting point of the home recorder, which is described in The Scientific American, is a special soft-wax disk, which is placed on the turntable in the same manner as the usual record. A metal disk, with a fine spiral groove, is placed over the centre of the wax disk or blank. The reproducer is made in the form of a resonator and operates a fine cutting tool resting on the soft-wax blank. As the wax blank is turning, the recorder is slowly fed along through the small guide that rests in the spiral groove of the metal disk. Thus a good hill-and-dale cut record is produced, and by using the usual phonograph sound box the music can be reproduced. Obviously, such a record being made in soft wax, is not intended for long wear. If one desires to make it permanent, the manufacturers of the new device are prepared to duplicate it in the shellac compounds of which the familiar records are made.

By means of a special fluid it is possible to efface the grooves and create a smooth surface for the next recording. Thus one blank can be used over one hundred times.

In the accompanying illustration will be noted the device attached to a standard disk phonograph, as well as a line drawing of the device itself. In this case the cutting tool and diaphragm are not shown; these members fit at the lower or smaller end of the horn.

Training Dogs to Find Lost Golf Balls

VISITORS to the famous St. Andrews Golf Links in England are often surprised to see men with dogs roaming about. They imagine them to be poachers looking for rabbits. But they are not poachers—unless rabbits come their way. They are caddies looking for balls.

The dog-caddie, or ball-finder, is carefully trained for this job, and he brings a good income to his owner.

Andra Kirkaldy, in his "Fifty Years of Golf," says that when he was a young caddie he used to train his dog to find balls, and made many a pound in that way.

"The method of training," he says, "was to throw a ball on the open ground every night for about a week, and after the dog retrieved it, I would pat him on the head and give him a biscuit, to show that I was pleased with what he had done.

"If he bit the ball too hard I let him know that he had done wrong, and a good dog dislikes nothing worse than a frown or a knock from his master. In the long run my dog was able to carry balls as gently as if they had been eggs.

"This stage being reached, I might go out at night and throw a ball down and then go past, or drop one in a 'whin' unknown to him. I would then say, 'Seek dead,' as if I had shot a bird. He would be sure to scent the balls and bring them to me.

"I have got as many as 40 and 50 balls in one day with my dog; and every time he brought a ball I gave him some reward or other. He expected this, just as a caddie expects his fee."

Sometimes the bunkers lie three feet deep in water, where the balls cannot be seen, and the caddies cannot reach to scrape for them. But a properly trained dog will dive in and fetch them out all right.

Sunday is the great ball-finding day, for then there is no golf played at St. Andrews. The professional ball-finder sells to the best bidder, and some of them earn at times as much as $5 a day recovering balls by the aid of their dogs.

The Ambitious Wasp

ALL wasps are industrious and ambitious—quite as much so, naturalists say, as their more celebrated relatives, bees and ants. Labor and effort are evenly divided up in a nest of wasps. For instance, some of them assume the duty of plunderers, going out in search of food, while others act as policemen and stay at home and guard the place. Their devotion to honey is well known by people who keep beehives, and constant warfare is needed to keep them out of the hives and prevent them from carrying off the honey. The drones of the wasp world are energetic and keep the town in the best of order, and lead well-regulated, quiet lives.

SAYS HENRY HOPE COMPANY CAUSED SERIOUS DELAY IN SCHOOL CONTRACT

RICHARD SHEEHY RELATLS DIFFICULTIES HE HAD TO CONTEND WITH IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE PRINCE OF WALES SCHOOL—DELAYED DELIVERIES OF WINDOW FRAMES HELD UP OTHER WORK.

Failure on the part of the Henry Hope Company to deliver steel window frames and sashes delayed the completion of the Prince of Wales School from December, 1920, until August, 1921, Mr. Richard Sheehy testified in the hearing of the company's claim of $3,571.51 against R. Sheehy & Sons, contractors, which was embodied in the only case that went to trial in the autumn assizes before Mr. Justice Orde on Tuesday.

Under cross-examination by Mr. G. N. Gordon, plaintiff's solicitor, Mr. Sheehy said he had not made any money on this job, but had actually lost money by reason of the frequent delays in the shipment of the window frames and sashes.

"I was held up almost from the beginning," said Mr. Sheehy, "and I could not carry out that contract in the way I usually handle a job of that kind. In the fall of 1919 I started to get ready for the work which I intended to rush early in the spring. I bought 400,000 bricks from the local makers, ordered lumber and other materials, including the window frames and sashes."

Was Assured of Supplies.

When spring of 1920 approached, Mr. Sheehy telephoned the Henry Hope Company to make sure they were working on the order for the school. He was informed on April 30th that the frames would be delivered in a few days. But the days stretched out into weeks, the first shipment arriving about June 1st. The frames had to be set up, Mr. Sheehy said, wasting more time. Other shipments were piecemeal and dilatory, the last being received about September 15. These facts were brought out in examination by John R. Corkery, counsel for the defendants, R. Sheehy & Sons.

Depended on the Company.

Mr. Gordon asked in cross-examination why the contractors had not gone to some firm other than Henry Hope & Sons when the orders were not filled when expected.

"Because they kept telling us that they would have the goods here in a few days," Mr. Sheehy replied, "and because we had a contract with Henry Hope & Sons."

"Why didn't you order from some one else?" Mr. Gordon questioned.

"Because I didn't want to break the contract with that company," said Mr. Sheehy. "It might have taken just as long to get frames from another company. I told Mr. Costain that I would charge the Hope Company with any costs caused by their delay in shipment."

Mr. Justice Orde to Mr. Gordon: "Perhaps the name of your clients inspired a certain amount of confidence in Mr. Sheehy."

The Claims in the Action.

The plaintiffs in this case, the Henry Hope Co., brought suit to recover $3,571.50, which they claimed to be owing them under the contract to supply window frames and sashes for the school. Their account totalled $10,540.63, of which sum $7,500 was paid. The balance of $3,049.63, they state, was increased to $3,571.50 by sales tax and extras.

When planning the work Mr. Sheehy said he had intended to use twenty-five bricklayers. However, as a result of the delays in the delivery of the steel window frames, the most men he could use at any time was eleven and the minimum was one or two bricklayers. Hence, not only was time lost in the spring, but in June the wages were increased, that of the bricklayers from 85c to $1.00 an hour and the helpers from 45c to 55c an hour.

Hadn't Allowed for Increase.

"I heard in June that wages were going up around town, and I simply told the men that their wages would be increased, too," Mr. Sheehy said. It was pointed out that much of the brickwork which should have been done before the wage scale was raised, and which would have been done had there been no delay and had the estimated number of men been engaged, had actually to be paid for on the basis of the new set of wages that took effect early in June. Mr. Sheehy further testified that in tendering for the school he had not contemplated a higher rate of wages in 1920. He thought they would remain at 85 cents. His first intimation of an increase was a few weeks before he had offered it on the school job. Furthermore, as a result of the company's failure to forward the frames when they were needed, the efficiency of the bricklayers was materially reduced. They could not be placed to advantage along the walls, and when they were working on the north and south walls where there were no windows the men were too crowded to give the best results. The total number of bricks laid was 888,000.

Mr. Sheehy said he didn't blame Mr. Richardson of the Henry Hope & Sons, but the company to which the contract for the frames had been sublet. It was their wrong information that had misled Mr. Richardson. At first Mr. Sheehy was unaware that the contract for these supplies had been sublet. Afterwards, on one occasion when he was anxious to secure frames at once, he visited the sub-contractors in Toronto and found them without a frame ready to ship or material to make them.

Plasterers Delayed.

Later, on his examination by Mr. Corkery, Mr. Sheehy went into the delay in the plastering, which, he said, was another consequence of the belated deliveries of frames. He had expected to carry the work well forward during the fine weather when the natural heat would dry the plaster. Instead, it was late when the building was roofed, the sashes were also delayed, the plasterers had to quit work at times, and at others they complained of the cold drafts. Then the plaster had to be dried by heat from stoves, adding somewhat to the cost.

Originally the contract was to have been completed by January 1st, 1921, said Mr. Sheehy, but because of the extent of the work the Board of Education had agreed to moving the date forward to March 20th. Actually the school was completed during the midsummer holidays, and the contractors received their certificate from the architects in August, a few weeks before the new school term opened.

"The Board of Education didn't enforce the penalty clause," said Mr. Sheehy. "They realized the difficulties we had to contend with, and were very reasonable. But there was no reason why we shouldn't have finished it in December, 1920, if we had not been held up."

THRESHING COMPLETE IN WESTERN CANADA.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 25. — (Canadian Press).—With the exception of Saskatchewan, threshing has practically been completed in Western Canada, states the weekly crop review of the Canadian Pacific Railway issued here. "The drop in the price of wheat is causing keen disappointment to farmers," states the report, "and wherever financially able they are holding their grain until better prices prevail." The live stock situation is unchanged, with prices offered unattractive and farmers showing no desire to sell under present conditions.

In Manitoba, threshing is about completed, apart from outlying districts in the north, these sections being held up awaiting machines. The area affected, however, is very small. Plowing is well advanced. An increased acreage over that of last year is anticipated.

Another week of good weather will be required to complete threshing in Saskatchewan, rains during the latter part of the week necessitating the delay. Plowing suffered a similar setback, the ground being too wet to work. About one-half of the fall plowing is reported completed.

Alberta reports all wheat threshed and very little oats and barley to be completed. From 55 to 60 per cent. of the plowing has been finished, and an increased acreage is looked for. Threshing along the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway has been completed, except in a few isolated districts. The yields are turning out well, and grading satisfactorily.

BRIAND MUST KNOW FATE IMMEDIATELY

PARIS, Oct. 25. — (Canadian Press).—Premier Briand, who has demanded from the Chamber of Deputies a vote of confidence emphatic enough for him to appear before the Washington Conference as the undoubted spokesman of France will require to know his fate at once as there is just time for him, to make the necessary arrangements to sail Saturday. Political observers state that the debate on the general policy of the Government must end to-night.

Is my mamma coming back?

"MAMMA" always came back to her little girl at the day nursery—after her day's work at the factory was done.

But since Marjory came to the orphanage—well "mamma" hasn't come back—yet!

But she is coming back—happy, and in good health—coming back from the MUSKOKA Hospital for Consumptives — where free treatment, provided in the pure air of the pine forests, brought roses back to mother's pale cheeks.

Won't you help bring home "mammas" to little girls like this?

Your opportunity is the National Sanitarium Association's

Consumptives' Emergency Million Dollar Fund

THE MUSKOKA Hospital for Consumptives, destroyed by fire on November 30th last, must be replaced by buildings, larger and fireproof.

Accommodation is needed at the MUSKOKA Hospital for 400 adults in early stages of the disease. This will restore 250 of them to their homes and loved ones—cured. The remainder will be greatly benefited.

A few months for each patient soon means thousands cared for. Funds are urgently needed for this work.

Again—adults in advanced stages must be treated at the King Edward Sanatorium on the banks of the Humber near Weston. Extensions are necessary. Many of these patients can be saved.

And again—little children—stricken with the dread disease—must be cared for at the Queen Mary Hospital for Consumptive Children near Weston. Ninety per cent. of these are saved to become healthy men and women.

Funds are urgently needed to cover the cost of extensions.

Further, funds are urgently needed to carry on the work of The Gage Institute in the City of Toronto, where the needy poor come for free examinations, including X-ray, and for medical and nursing assistance.

Fifteen thousand needy consumptives have been cared for to date at the hospitals conducted by the Association.

VOTING HOURS ARE UNCHANGED

POLES TO BE OPEN FROM SIX A. M. TO SIX P.M.

OTTAWA, Oct. 26.—(By Canadian Press) The hours of voting in rural and urban polling districts will be the same in the forthcoming election, an amendment to the Dominion Elections Act having been passed at the last session of Parliament to provide for this. In the 1920 amendments to the act provision was made for opening city polls at six o'clock in the morning and keeping them open until six o'clock at night. When these hours were put into effect in by-eelctions, howeverfi it was found that there were practically no votes cast before eight o'clock in the morning, and also that candidates had great difficulty in getting their representatives to attend at the different polling places at six o'clock.

When the special committee of parliament met last session to consider proposed amendments to the Act objection to the earlier voting hours in cities was raised from several sources and it was decided to recommend to the House that the hour of eight o'clock be set for the opening of urban and rural polls alike. This amendment was subsequently passed by the House, so that polls in all constituencies, on the regular day of voting, will open at eight o'clock in the morning and close at six in the evening. Standard time governs in all cases.

A provision is made in Section 55 of the Act however, governing polling in municipalities near the international boundary which states: "Upon application to the Chief Electoral Officer by any municipality situated upon or near the international boundary line the Chief Electoral Officer may in his discretion authorize a change in the hours of polling for all polls in such municipality in order to accommodate electors who are resident in Canada but whose occupation renders it necessary for them to be absent from Canada during the ordinary polling hours.

"Such application for change of polling hours must be made to the Chief Electoral Officer before the day appointed as nomination day and the Chief Electoral Officer shall notify the returning officer of any change in the hours of polling authorized by him and the same shall be duly announced."

Provision is made in the Act for the holding of advance polls for railway employees, sailors and commercial travellers whose work would take them away from their original polling division on the day of polling. The rules governing procedure at advance polls are given in the Chief Electoral Officer's instructions for the guidance of returning officers and other election officials governing these polls. Schedule 3 of the Act provides for the holding of advance polls at practically all railway divisional points throughout the Dominion and similar towns and cities where railway men, commercial travellers and seamen would be likely to live in any considerable numbers. Electors voting at these polls are required to take a declaration that they come within the classes for which such a poll is provided. The Chief Electoral Officer is given power under the Act to amend the schedule of towns and cities in which advance polls may be held, the requisite number of advance votes for a poll being placed at fifty.

Advance polls, which will be officered as other polls, will be open from seven to ten o'clock in the afternoon of the three days, exclusive of Sunday, immediately preceding the regular voting day. Public notice of the holding of advance polls to be given not later than seven days before polling day.

WHAT WOMEN LIKE TO READ IN NEWSPAPERS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 26.—Radcliffe College completed a census of its newspaper-reading students today and definitely established the following interesting facts:

Of the 600 students at Radcliffe, 96 per cent read the newspaper habitually; 95 per cent of them read some local (Boston) paper, and in addition, 70 per cent of them read one or more of their home town papers as well.

The questionnaire which the students answered and upon which the census is built, demanded information upon the subjects of editorials, headlines and "favorite sections" of the readers, and the range of answers may help managing editors solve an age-old problem of the newspaper world—namely, "What do women really like to read?"

Sixty-two per cent of the Radcliffe girls said they read the editorials in their newspapers regularly, and 25 per cent went even stronger and cited the editorial page as their "favorite section" of the paper. The regular news columns ran second in the "favorite section" answers, 23 per cent of the girls stating that the day's news appealed more strongly to them than editorials, departments or special features.

Said one young miss, a freshman, "I read everything, murders and all." As if to rebuke this sweeping statement, a dignified senior gave as her answer, "I read the first page news, exclusive of divorces and murders."

Thirty-eight per cent of the students confessed that usually they read "headlines only" which puts a terrible responsibility upon the copy-readers of the country. Forty-four per cent declared they read both headlines and stories, and 15 per cent said it depended entirely upon the headlines whether they read the stories, which will probably spur a lot of copy-writers on to herculean efforts.

Only two of the six hundred students interrogated on the subject of favorite sections of the newspapers came through with answers that will win a cheer from the business managers. One said, "bargain ads," the other, "antique furniture advertisements.

The sporting pages polled 14 votes as against 4 votes for the Women's Pages. Twelve girls said theatrical news was their favorite food and six came boldly out for the comic sections. One of the latter explained that her father was a minister and her mother a poet and that she just had to get a laugh out of life somewhere.

The newspaper columnists won the scattered votes of eight girls; book reviews had twelve admirers, cartoonists, six, and poetry one.

One girl who is specializing in foreign languages, announced that her favorite section was the puzzle department. Another who is specializing in music, gave her vote to the "real estate market." Twelve girls, or two per cent of the number questioned, confessed that they liked the society news most. Twenty-three per cent played safe and said they had no favorite section.

Of the dozen girls who said they read no newspaper regularly, two naively confessed that they were taking their college training preliminary to going into journalism. The line forms on this side for the managing editors who want to put in advance bids for their services. They should have a newspaper style that at least will be all their own.

BOSTON REPUTATION FOR MUSIC NOT SUSTAINED

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—Boston's reputation as a music center has not been sustained during the past summer so far as attendance at summer resort band concerts is concerned.

In his annual report Ellerton P. Whitney, director of parks for the Metropolitan District Commission, which provides the concerts, asserts that he is convinced the public has lost interest in band concerts. For a number of years, the report says, the attendance at the vrious concerts has been decreasing and this summer the only place where the concerts seemed to be enjoyed was at Nantasket Beach.

FARMERS TURN SURPLUS WOOL INTO BLANKETS

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—Cold nights will have no terrors for Massachusetts farmers who keep sheep this winter. Unable to dispose of their wool to advantage, many have followed a suggestion of the State Department of Agriculture to have it made into blankets

Stations for collecting the wool have been established at Shelburne Falls, Springfield, West Brookfield, Concord, South Hanson and West Tisbury. Enough has been turned in to make 2,500 blankets weighing four pounds each, valued at $7.50 each.

Home-made, but Has No Equal for Coughs

Makes a family supply of really dependable cough medicine. Easily prepared, and saves about $2.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes 16 ounces of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

GROOM DIES IX HOURS AFTER WED

DIVORCED HUSBAND OF HIS WIFE IS HELD

HUTCHINSON, Kas., Oct. 26.—Mistake or Homicide.

A belated postmortem examination will be held over the body of George V. Barnes, the deathbed bridegroom, to ascertain how much arsenate of lead his stomach contained.

His bride Mrs. Maude Yargus-Barnes, is in the Reno County Jail here awaiting trial on charges of homicide and bigamy. Her divorced husband, Mr. Ray Amos Yargus, of Hannibal, Mo., occupies another cell in the jail on a charge of plotting with her to poison Barnes.

"I dont know how it could have happened," tearfully explained Mrs. Yargus-Barnes. "For 10 days I was feeding him a gruel of cornstarch and water for an acid stomach. He kept wanting cornstarch and water but seemed to grow worse instead of better."

Six hours before Barnes' death he was married to Mrs. Yargus in his home by the probate judge.

Tells of Poison

When the public officials with aroused suspicions began to investigate, Mrs. Yargus-Barnes first denied that there was poison in the house. Then she recalled a parcel of arsenate of lead which she says her husband had bought to use on some plants.

The poison was on a shelf in the pantry, in a paper sack. In a similar sack was some cornstarch.

Mrs. Yargus had been keeping house for Barnes for a number of months prior to the deathbed marriage. Their acquaintances thought she was his wife and were surprised when she applied for the marriage license. Barnes, a salesman, was 44; Mrs. Yargus is 31.

Court records showed that Mrs. Yargus obtained a divorce from Yargus May 2, 1921. Under the Kansas law her marriage to Barnes before six months had elapsed made her guilty of bigamy.

She was arrested on that charge and placed in the county jail.

Poison in Cakes

Then Sheriff Clark, of Reno County, found in the Barnes home two cup cakes, partly eaten. These were analyzed by a chemist, who reported them to contain about a tablespoonful of arsenate of lead each.

A letter from Yargus, dated Sept. 29, the date of Barnes' death, and mailed Sept. 30 at Hannibal, Mo., was found by the sheriff. This letter was addressed to "My Dear Little Wife" and signed "Your Sweet Daddy—A. Y." It contained advice to Mrs. Yargus telling her what to do in disposing of the property of Barnes.

Clark then swore to complaints against Mrs. Yargus and Yargus.

Attorneys for the state argue that the whole affair has been a plot by Mrs. Yargus and her former husband to kill Barnes and get possession of his property.

But the couple maintain their innocence and point for proof to the fact that Mrs. Yargus had frequently called the doctor who ministered to Barnes.

STILLMAN HEIRS NOT TO BE BROUGHT INTO CASE

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y., Oct. 26. Canadian Press. — Supreme Court Justice Morschauser yesterday at White Plains, denied the motion of John E. Mack, guardian ad litem for Guy Stillman, to bring all the heirs of the late James Stillman into the divorce action against Mrs. Anne U. Stillman.

Mr. Mack made the motion for the purpose, he said, of protection of the interests of Guy in the future. Justice Morschauser, in giving his decision, said he believed that the interests of the child would be properly saefguarded if Mrs. Stillman should win the divorce action

SAYS OLD HEART CURES ARE WRONG.

Dr. Halsey, of New York City, Ridicules the "Keep Quiet" Remedy.

DETROIT, Oct. 26.—Superstition among the medical profession as well as the laity is responsible for retarding investigation and treatment of heart disease cases, according to Dr. R. H. Halsey, of New York City, who addressed members of the Wayne County Medical Society on "Heart Disease in Children and Its Treatment."

Dr. Halsey is an internationally recognized authority on cardiac cases and he voiced, as the result of his experiments, dicta which but a short while ago would have been termed revolutionary.

"It has not been so long ago," said Dr. Halsey, "that the patient discovered to be afflicted with 'heart trouble' was regarded by the physician as a man whose days were numbered. The patient was told to drop all forms of work immediately, to take no exercise and virtually to sit around and make himself as comfortable as possible till the end came

Kept Active, Got Better

"There were many persons so afflicted, however, who, either through economic necessity or because of a natural inability to remain inactive, persisted in disobeying the physician's orders, continuing to exert themselves in precisely the same manner as before his pronouncement. And the amazing thing about it is that these patients got no worse and in many instances continued to improve their condition steadily.

"This fact led to close observation on the part of the scientist, who discovered that, so far from weakening the proper kind and amount of exercise was actually stimulating recovery. Exercise, suited to the particular case, is now considered one of the most important treatments to be administered."

Dr. Hasley declared that he advocated not merely school inspection for children by a thorough annual medical examination for every man and woman.

"We have heard a great deal about the athletic heart," Dr. Halsey said, "but in all my experience I don't believe I've ever seen a single case. The theory has been that the athlete, while in college, goes in for football and other violent sports. Nature responds to his call, providing him with the large powerful cardiac system necessary. After leaving college all exercise is usually dropped, the heart is supposed to undergo a kind of shinkage, the valves fall to function and the leaking heart, so-called results. I believe every case of this type can be traced to other causes. I do not advocate strenuous exercise for everyone, but there are many who can stand it and are in no way impaired."

Dr. Hasley asserted that the injury done to the heart through smoking also is largely overestimated and cases of heart disease in habitual smokers can usually be traced to other influences.

BRITAIN RE-CAPTURES COAL TRADE FROM U.S.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—(Associated Press.)—Britain's export coal trade, transferred to the United States a few months ago owing to the long strike of British mines, is rapidly slipping out of the hands of American traders, according to Board of Trade figures.

"The rapidity with which the international coal trade is reverting to British hands is evidenced in the fact that three months ago the United States was actually exporting coal, not only to the Scandinavian countries but to England, with distinct leadership in the Mediterranean and undisturbed primacy in South American markets," said Alfred P. Dennis, commercial attache of the American Embassy.

"We, to-day, are practically out of the European trade and are rapidly losing our position in the Mediterranean markets, where we had secured practically half the business with our position seriously menaced in South America, where we occupied logically a favored competitive position.

"The amazing recovery of the British coal industry is shown in trade figures for August which shows an export business of more than 3,000,000 tons as compared with 600,000 tons the preceding month, and 1,847,000 tons in August, 1920.

"This striking reversal in the entire situation is due to the immense quickening of coal production in the United Kingdom, accompanied by falling wages.

"The export coal trade is one of the fundamentals in Britain's economic position in world trade and every sacrifice is being made to win back lost ground. Production costs have come down with a run and coal is offered for export at figures approximating production costs.

"On the other hands, production costs in the United States have still a wide margin for decline.

"Fine quality Cardiff coal can now be put on ship board at 30 shillings, equivalent at present exchange rates to about $5.50 per ton. At normal exchange the price would be $7.30.

"It remains for us to endeavorto to maintain our competitive position by bringing down our f.o.b. steamer costs, while at the same time indulging the hope that the future appreciation of sterling may tend to equalize our position, not only in South America but in the major continental markets."

SPEND MILLIONS TO GIVE EMPLOYMENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Millions of Dollars will be authorized for expenditure within the next few weeks by municipalities in an effort to speed construction work and aid the unemployment situation, say reports to the Department of Commerce.

Col. Arthur Woods, chairman of the clearing house committee of the unemployment conference, has compiled an incomplete list from these reports which reveals some conspicuous examples of the hastened activities in municipalities to meet the crisis. Savannah, for example, reported that as a result of its activities there are scarcely 1,500 residents of that city now out of work.

Dayton, O., has issued $500,000 bonds with which to continue public work, but no job will be given anyone save a resident of Dayton.

Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Lakewood, Marion and other Ohio cities, Col. Woods reports, have created complete and effective organizations to co-operate with the President's unemployment conference. Cleveland reports that all public improvements for which money is available are now under way and that $5,000,000 worth of bonds have been sold for educational buildings, construction of which will begin as soon as possible.

Lakewood has disposed of $200,000 worth of bonds for paving, sewer and waterworks construction.

Springfield, Mass., reports the institution of a 5-hour day at 40 cents an hour for those particularly needy.

Buffalo is spending more than $12,000,000 in public works. Plans for additional public works. Plans being rushed, including $750,000 for car track improvements and $10,000,000 for buildings.

CHOLERA HAS RUN COURSE ON VOLGA

AMERICAN RELIEF WORKER DESCRIBES PITIFUL CONDITIONS IN WAKE OF FAMINE.

SAMARA, Oct. 26. — (By Staff Correspondent of The Associated Press)—Cholera has about run its course along the Volga for this year and, as the weather grows cooler, is disappearing very rapidly in spite of the weakened condition of the famine-stricken population and the unsanitary condition of impoverished refugees crowded into the camps where there is absolute lack of sanitary precautions.

Vital statistics are lacking but the testimony of medical men who have wide knowledge of health conditions in Volga districts indicates that the death rate among persons who were taken with cholera ranged from 50 to 75 per cent. This was attributed to the undernourished condition of the population and lack of facilities to treat the malady.

Dr. Emily Burkhardt, a Russian physician who is now in the service of the American Committee for Relief in the Near East with headquarters in Tiflis, visited the famine area recently for the purpose of studying the cholera, and talked with many physicians and nurses who are battling with the disease in the famine area. The testimony of these medical men and women was that they were helpless because of the lack of beds for patients and proper facilities for their treatment.

"The work of the doctors and nurses has been highly dangerous and hopeless," Dr. Burkhardt said. "Underfed doctors and nurses who try to care for cholera patients without decent hospitals and every facility for protecting themselves against the disease know that they really risking suicide. The greatest guarantee against cholera is a stomach filled with properly prepared food. Proper feeding generates acid in the germs and makes the attendants immune.

"Years ago I saw one of my professors at the University drink a pure culture of cholera germs to prove that persons who are in good health and properly fed have acid in their stomachs which combats the disease. He suffered no ill effects.

"The underfed medical men and women in the famine area undertake their task with the full knowledge that they risk death every time they touch a patient. Their hospitals are not screened. They have no saline solution and in most cases haven't the means for injecting it. They are without medicines and frequently without disinfectants.

"Consequently the refugees who get cholera must fight the disease as best they can."

June was the worst month along the Volga. During that month the average number of new cases reported at Samara alone was about 200 daily. In July the number decreased and in August was reduced to 30 a day. Soviet officials attributed the improvement mainly to innoculation.

Screens are almost unknown in Russia. Consequently the great swarms of flies prevalent in midsummer doubtless did much to spread the disease. With the coming of autumn these disapeared.

Every Russian railway station provides an unlimited supply of hot water for travellers, all of whom carry a tea pot and drink little water except in the form of tea. Most of the cities have also provided barrels of boiled water for drinking purposes and have numerous hot water stations where boiling water may be had without charge. Warnings against drinking unboiled water are posted very generally about centers in the larger cities. But the inability of Russians to read and their general indifference to sanitary precautions make it difficult to protect them against epidemics.

KING AGAIN ASKS MUNITIONS EXPLANATION

LIGHT SESSION FOR THE JURIES IN FALL ASSIZE

PETIT JURORS DISMISSED WITHOUT SINGLE CASE AND GRAND JURY HAD MINIMUM OF DUTY

The autumn assizes of the Supreme Court of Ontario with Mr. Justice Orde presiding dwindled to one solitary case when the docket was presented Tuesday afternoon. And this stray bit of litigation was in the nin-jury list. His Lordship accordingly dismissed the petit jurors and sent the Grand Jury on their way with the lightest possible duties.

Prior to opening the case of Henry Hope and Sons against Richard Sheehy and Sons, His Lordship announced the receipt of letters patent of the appointment of R. R. Hall annd F. D. Kerr as King's counsel. "It is a great pleasure for me to call them technically within the bar. They are entitled to the precedence the letters patent give them."

The Grand Jury was as follows: A. W. Archibald, George Evans, Dayid Fife, Robert Morrison, John Pearson, E. G. Patterson, J. R. Smith, J. A. Stephens, Paul Trebilcock, Michael Whibbs, F. E. Wilson, Thos. Young and Eric Pearson.

Mr. E. G. Patterson was elected chairman. Mr. Justice Orde began his address to the accompaniment of the loud hissing of a steam radiator working up heat. He expressed his pleasure at being back again in the court room in which he opened his first assize after his appointment and was always proud of the fact that his mother's father, the late Judge Hall, was the first judge of Peterboro county. "I have so many blood relations in this county and so many friends that I hope I shall frequently come to Peterboro."

His Lordship congratulated the county upon the absence of crime, and in outlining the duties of the Grand Jury recommended that they pay special attention to Court House and jail "in view of the fact that some of the jails in Western Ontario were not sufficiently strong to keep certain desperate criminals within the walls of those jails. I should suggest that you satisfy yourselves that the Court House and jail are efficient for their purpose."

Justice Orde told the Grand Jury that it was optional with them how far they carried investigations in the county, but it was customary to visit the institutions maintained by public money.

His Lordship referred to the Grand Jury system, remarking that he knew it was objected to in certain quarters. "I am convinced the Grand Jury system serves a good purpose not only in the cases submitted to them, but also because it gives the people of the county a feeling that they are taking part in the administration of justice, that they form one of the cogs in the wheels that grind out justice in each court. It is a reminder that the people have some share in the determination of the guilt or innocence of the people concerned."

Mr. Justice Orde made a similar address to the petit jurors, but it may be safely observed that against the muffling accoustics aggravated by the effervescing and sibilant steam radiators few of the grand jurors heard a word of His Lordship's presentation.

Jury's Swift Work

A few minutes after the only case was begun the Grand Jury returned with a report that they had confined their duties to the inspection of the Court House and jail, which they had found in a good and stout condition. They deplored the presence in the jail of some old men who were there because of no fault except poverty.

In dismissing the Grand Jury His Lordship remarked that these old men kept in the common jail was a reflection on our modern civilization.

"In many of these cases the men won't go to a house of refuge," said His Lordship. "They balk at it, and this type would rather go to jail." They have no compunctions about the stigma of being shut up in jail for months." Coming to the case of Ellis vs. Bettes, Mr. R. R. Hall informed His Lordship that an attempt was being made at the last moment to reach settlement. He asked that it be set over until the next case was disposed of. Mr. Hall and Mr. Widdifield represented Mr. J. Ellis and Mr. F. D. Kerr appeared for Mr. Bettes.

SEES LITTLE BENEFIT TO CHINA FROM PARLEY.

PEKING, Oct. 26.—The Tientsin newspaper, Ta Chun Shang Pao, believes that with civil strife upsetting the country, China can hope for little benefit from the Pacific Conference.

"The Ministry of Foreign Affairs has just established an investigation bureau for the purpose of gathering materials, records and other documents to be used at the Pacific conference in connection with China's case" says the paper.

"We believe this can do little toward attaining our object, for so long as China lacks the power essential to success, the foreign powers will continue to look down upon her and treat her as an inferior, so that even if we have overwhelming evidence at our disposal to support our case, they will never take the trouble to go into it so as to render a decision in our favor. Under such circumstances it would be foolish to expect success.

"The all-important question today is to settle our domestic strife. When peace and order are restored foreigners in our midst will not suffer from occasional disturbances, and their ministers and governments seeing that China still has the ability to maintain order, will naturally treat us with respect, and the Japanese propaganda that China has not the necessary capacity to protect life and property and that Japan should be appointed guardian over her, will explode itself.

"If all this can be accomplished before the Pacific Conference, we are not without a ray of hope. If however, we indulge in continual civil strife between one province and another we are simply furnishing evidence to prove the truth of the Japanese contention.

"For the peace of the Far East and the interests of their nationals foreign powers cannot but approve the internationalization of China and it is perhaps not unlikely that they will charge Japan with the task of overseeing us. When this happens our sovereignty will be completely lost and what favor can be expect from the powers when we set forth all our evidence and records before them to support our case?

"Let both the people and the government work to avoid this eventuality."

DEBATE IN FRENCH CHAMBERS RESUMED.

PARIS, Oct. 26. Canadian Press.—The Chamber of Deputies amid great agitation last night resumed the political debate on which Premier Briand's tenure of office depends. The chamber was determined to finish the debate before adjournment.

The premier was attacked by different orators on a great variety of questions, such as the French policy in Asia Minor, Russian famine relief, the recent Loucheur-Rathenau agreement, the religious question and domestic policies. Deputy Tardieu expressed skepticism of the competency of the French delegation to the Washington conference, and the debate thereupon turned to the question of domestic politics entirely.

It is estimated that $5,000,000 is spent yearly by the Federal Government in correcting incomplete and erroneous addresses on letters in the United States.

Appetite Good, Gained 20 lbs.

Could Not Feel Better

From a nervous wreck this man was restored to health, strength and happiness.

He tells his own story in this letter.

Mr. Ralph A. Roberts, Loverna, Sask., writes:

"In 1917 I had lost all appetite, failed 25 pounds in weight, become very nervous and shaky and in fact given up all hope of recovery. For some time I had suffered from constipation, which kept getting worse, until I was fast becoming a total wreck. Doctors and their drugs were sending me to my grave at the age of 39.

"Then I read about people being restored by Dr. Chase's Medicines and after three months' use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills I found that my bowels were restored to normal movement each day and the constipation was no more. I had a good appetite, had gained 20 pounds and could not feel better. I shall always be grateful for these benefits."

OTHER DUMMER SCHOOLS WANT CONSOLIDATION

CORRESPONDENT WRITES PEOPLE OF CERTAIN SECTIONS SEEM TO THINK THEIR DISTRICTS TURNED DOWN IN PROJECT.

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

WARSAW, Oct. 25.—Considerable interest was exhibited at S. S. No. 5 School at the Warsaw Town Hall Monday morning when the vote to consolidate their two schools was taken. In S. S. 5 exactly one-half the possible votes were registered in the affirmative. There was a majority of four for the proposition and 12 against. In Warsaw a trifle over half were affirmative votes, giving a majority of 33—52 for and 19 against the project.

It is about two years since the subject was first mooted, and since then there have been several speakers here, viz., Messrs. Chisholm, Hutchinson, Sedgeworth, Mills, Dr. Sinclair and Mrs. Morris. Mr. Cowles met and interviewed some of the people. The subject had been brought up at the U.F.O. Club, also at the Women's Institute. At the annual school meetings several schools were asked if they wished to appoint committees to arrange for a vote, and only S. S. Nos. 2, 3 and 5 did so.

Some few people of other school sections now seem to demur that their section was turned down and not asked to vote. No section was turned down by the voting sections. Such a school section turned itself down by not appointing a committee to act on the plan. The Secretaries of those two sections who approved of Consolidated schools appointed committees, arranged for a meeting of the two committees, and the work was carried on. They could not very well invite any school section to join with them which had already rejected the proposal.

The new School Board of the two schools to be consolidated will shortly have to be appointed. They will look over the school sites available and submit them to the ratepayers. The site chosen will have to be approved of by the Department of Education. If the board and the ratepayers cannot agree on this question the department will arbitrate.

Attended Convention.

Warsaw was well represented at the recent Conservative convention in Norwood, and also at the Liberal convention last Thursday.

Sheep Killed.

Two farmers to the south-east of this village have had several sheep killed recently.

Schools Closed.

Warsaw school was closed this afternoon out of respect to the late Mrs. Hawthorne.

Warsaw and other schools in the district were closed Thursday and Friday that the teachers might attend the annual convention in Peterborough.

Personal Mention.

Mr. A. F. Choate is in Toronto for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster spent Sunday at Reaboro.

Miss Barrie was at her home for the week-end.

Mr. Melville Crowe is still in the hospital.

Messrs. E. N. MacDonald, M.P.P., and G. A. Brethen, U.F.O. candidate, were in Chandos holding election meetings last week.

Rev. Gerard Graham returned on Saturday evening and occupied his own pulpit Sunday.

Mr. T. Patterson of the 9th line S. S. officially visited Cotessloe Sunday School Sunday afternoon.

The Dummer S. S. Association's President and the President of the Temperance Department visited the 9th line Sunday School on Sunday afternoon.

Both Cotessloe and 9th line Sunday Schools are sending delegates to the Provincial S. S. convention to be held in Gananoque during the first week of November.

Laid at Rest.

After an illness of about a year, Mary Ann Rogers, wife of Mr. Edward Hawthorne, passed away at her home. The funeral, which was largely attended, took place Monday afternoon. The remains were laid at rest in Warsaw Cemetery. Rev. Gerard Graham conducted the services.

Throughout her long illness, Mrs. Hawthorne showed Christian patience and courage. She is survived by her husband, three daughters—Mrs. David Rose, Mrs. John Selkirk and Miss Mary Hawthorne—and three sons—James, Archie and William. One son, Thomas O., was killed in France. Her own brothers and sisters predeceased her.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

LADIES' AID SOCIETY HELD A SUCCESSFUL SUPPER — NEWS HAPPENINGS

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 26. — The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church held a most successful supper in the basement of the church last evening. Supper was served from six till after nine, and to see the long line of people waiting to be admitted to the tables was to wonder will they ever be served. The basement was nicely decorated with maple leaves and evergreens, and the tables with cut flowers. There seemed to be no end to the tempting viands prepared by the ladies, and the waitress, dressed in white, with white caps, catered to the needs of all. After ample justice had been done to the good things provided, the guests repaired to the auditorium, which was crowded to its capacity. After the opening number, 'All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name,' in which all joined heartily, Rev. M. L. Hinton, of Hastings, led in prayer. "Sweet and Low" was then nicely rendered by the choir. The chief item on the programme was Rev. H. B. Kenney's 'Travel Talk,' nicely illustrated with views obtained while in the British Isles this summer. The speaker carried his hearers in thought first to Chester, that old historic town, sixteen miles from Liverpool, connected with the life of Earl of Derby. From there we travelled to the English Lake district, Cumberland, Westmoreland and Lancashire, dear to all lovers of Colridge and Southey. Scotland was then visited, the first point of interest being Sterling Castle, Glasgow, Greenoch and Oban, from where the stone of destiny was taken to England. Loch Lomond and the Trosacs appealed to all lovers of Sir Walter Scott, while Edinburgh claimed the interest of all, Edinburgh Castle, St. Margaret's Chapel and Holyrood Castle all teeming with historic association. St. Giles' Cathedral, with whom we associate John Knox, and also his birthplace, now preserved as a museum. From there we returned to London, visiting Charing Cross, the hub of London, the House of Parliaments and numerous other places of interest. The whole address was interspersed with humor, and as the hour grew late, Mr. Kenney promised to give further accounts of his trip at some future date. The meeting then dispersed after singing the National Anthem.

Ready For Premier.

Already the town is being decorated with banners, etc., in honor of the approaching visit of the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen on Nov. 2. The premier will be accompanied by Hon. Calder and will address a mass meeting in the arena.

Passed Away.

There passed away yesterday in Campbellford, Mr. Justus Asselstine after a short illness, caused by a strike. The deceased is survived by his wife and one son. The funeral will be held to-day at ten o'clock a.m., interment being made in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Dispersion Sale.

Mr. G. H. Kingston, who resides about two miles from Stirling, will hold a dispersion sale of his pure-bred Holstein cattle, together with all implements, grain, etc., on November 3rd. There will be no reserve, as Mr. Kingston intends moving to Campbellford in the near future, where he will reside. Mr. J. R. Battisby, of town, will be the auctioneer. Mr. C. A. Wilson, clerk, and Messrs. J. A. Caskey and B. P. Nelson, managers.

Social Evening.

The first congregational social was held in Parish Hall on Monday, October 24th. There was a good crowd and everything passed off most pleasantly. Games were provided, in which all engaged, young, middle-aged or old. A duet on Jews' harp was well rendered by Masters S. Archer and Master Peckett. Miss Helen Bygott rendered a solo which was heartily applauded, as was the following number by Miss Hilda Bonnycastle. A guessing contest followed, and games, after which dainty refreshments were served. A pleasant evening then closed by singing of Auld Lang Syne and National Anthem.

Mr. and Mrs. Fennell and Mr. and Mrs. Denike of Havelock, attended the supper in Methodist church last evening.

If You Keep Hens CUT THIS OUT

1,000 Eggs In Every Hen—Four to Seven Eggs a Week per Hen Through Cold Winter Season. With Eggs at Dollar a Dozen, Means $5.00 Profit per Hen in Next Six Months. Amazing Poultry Secrets Revealed by AMERICA'S FOREMOST POULTRY EXPERT

This is an offer no reader of this paper who keeps chickens can afford to ignore. We will tell you why.

Henry Trafford, Famous Poultry Expert and Breeder, for nearly eighteen years Editor of "Poultry Success," has developed a new and remarkable system of rearing, breeding and feeding chickens for heavy egg production that seems certain to revolutionize the poultry industry and give five eggs or more for every egg produced to-day. This plan or system is explained in Mr. Trafford's "1,000 Egg Hen," a free copy of which will be sent to any person who keeps six hens or more.

Poultry keepers, following Mr. Trafford's directions, learn how to start young pullets laying early; make old hens moult quickly and resume heavy laying during entire winter season. Most any hen will lay in spring when eggs are cheap. Mr. Trafford tells how hens lay four to seven eggs a week during coldest winter days when eggs sell at a dollar a dozen or more. His system shows how any breeder, with ordinary care, may get 1,000 eggs or more from nearly every hen in four years' time at a net profit of $25.00.

There is big money to be made with chickens this winter by the man or woman who gets the eggs. The time to get the hens ready for heavy winter laying is now. Mr. Trafford's "1,000 Egg Hen" system tells how and arrangements have been made whereby any reader of this paper may receive one copy absolutely free by using the Coupon below. Send no money, but cut out the Coupon and mail it with your name and address to Henry Trafford, 580C Court Bldg., Binghamton, N. A LUNCHEON FOR FRENCH MISSION

ALD. J. J. TURNER READ THE CIVIC ADDRESS OF WELCOME —COUNT D'ARNAUD'S REPLY.

The French Mission which accompanies the French exhibition train, and of which Count d'Arnaud is the head, was entertained by the city at a luncheon held at noon to-day in the Empress hotel. The civic address of welcome was read by Ald. J. J. Turner and included a generous reference to the natural and created advantages of Peterborough and its industrial, commercial and social life. The diversified nature of Peterborough's industries was commented upon by Ald. Turner.

Count d-Arnaud in reply said Canada stood with Great Britain in the front ranks of civilization. He eulogized the work of the Canadians in the war and jocularly remarked: "Of course our good friends the Americans won the war, as even some of our friends the Canadians believe they were responsible." Dealing with the object of the French Mission here, Count d'Arnaud said one of the main objects was to get acquainted. Almost everything produced in Canada is needed in France, and the same might be said of the French products. The speaker hoped the Canadian government would reciprocate by sending a similar train to France, and that many Peterborough citizens would accompany the train. In conclusion the speaker said the trip through Canada had been a revelation.

Mayor A. A. McIntyre presided at the meeting.

A Go-To-Church Sunday Campaign

November
Sixth
Thirteenth
Twenty Twenty-Seventh

Why are so many Christians careless in regard to attending the services of the church? In connection with every congregation there is at least a minority of members who are more or less indifferent in the matter of church attendance. This means a loss both to them and for the churches with which they are identified. They miss the blessing which comes through faithful, reverent waiting upon God in his sanctuary. Their fellow church members miss the inspiration which the presence of every worshipper gives to others—like-minded with themselves—who meet with them in the House of Praise.

A Peterboro Campaign

In several cities of late years, thousands of Christians have derived great benefit through the conducting of "Go-to-Church, Sunday" campaigns. Next Week such a Campaign will be conducted in Peterborough, in which laymen from all the Protestant Churches in the City will take part. In each congregation a canvass of the members of the church, men and women, boys and girls, will be made by committees of laymen. All the members will be urged to attend all the Sunday services of the church during November, if at all possible, and if not possible, then all that opportunity permits. If you are a church member, your cordial co-operation is invited.

Why Christians Should Attend Church

The following six reasons are given by Bishop Richardson why Christians should attend church regularly:

First—Because worship is a duty that I owe to God. If I neglect that duty, I rob God of something that is His due, and deprive myself of something that is essential to my soul's health and strength.

Second—Because, while the duty of worship can be discharged elsewhere than in the Church—in the fields, in the woods, and on the river—every man knows by his own experience that, as a matter of fact, the duty is seldom discharged under those conditions. The distractions are too great.

Third—Because the atmosphere of the Church's services makes worship less difficult there than in any other place.

Fourth—Because, in the services of the Church the message of God's word is read and preached in a regular and systematic manner. I need that message.

Fifth—Because my relationship to God is corporate as well as individual. The religious life, therefore, ought to be given expression in company with other members of the Church. That implies public worship.

Sixth—Bcause, last of all, I must not ignore nor make light of my influence over other men. If I go to Church regularly, others will be more likely to do the same. If I stay away from Church, other men are sure to follow my example. Therefore, I ought to attend the Church's services.

ARRANGING FOR ARMISTICE DAY

BIG PROGRAM IS BEING PREPARED BY THE VETERANS

The arrangements for the celebration of Armistice Day under the auspices of the G.W.V.A. are being rapidly completed and it is evident thta the citizens are eager to co-operate in making the affair a success.

The programme for November 7th will begin with a parade from the armouries at 9.30 a.m. of War Veterans, the 57th Regiment, the School Cadets, Boy Scouts, municipal representatives and other bodies, followed by a memorial service in the armouries, after which the cenotaph on the G.W.V.A. lawn will be unveiled. The afternoon and evening will be given over to rejoicing.

The Ministerial Association, by resolution, has placed itself on record as endorsing the programme and willing to assist in every way possible. Memorial services will be held in the majority of the city churches on Sunday, No 6th.

Saturday, Nov. 5th will be Poppy Day when the G.W.V.A. will sell poppies on the streets and the public will be asked to wear these little red flowers in memory of the men who fell.

GIRL THREATENS TO SLAY FATHER OF HER CHILDREN

WINDSOR, Oct. 26.— (Canadian Press).—"I have been living in this wicked city, (Detroit), for over two weeks and looked for work and if I don"t get help soon I will buy a revolver with my last $25 and blow his heart out," writes a seventeen year old girl, who signs herself "Jessie" and claims to be the mother of twins recently abandoned on a Windsor ferry, to M. R. Winters, Inspector of the Children's Aid Society.

The girl claimed the man referred to is a prominent Windsor man and the father of her twins but Mr. Winters refused to give his name. He states that if the girl will meet him he will do all possible for her. He promises startling revelations if he locates the girl.

HARDING CHAMPIONS RIGHTS OF NEGROES

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 26.—(Canadian Press.)—The right of the United States negro to broader political, economic and educational advantages based on pride of race but never on an aspiration for social equality, was championed by President Harding here to-day is plainly worded enunciation of his views on the race problem. He appealed to the people to lay aside old prejudices and antagonism and support a constructive policy of racial relationship.

FITTING HOMAGE TO SERVICE DEVOTION AND SACRIFICE

PETERBOROUGH MEMBERS OF EVERY DENOMINATION SHOW APPRECIATION OF WORK OF SALVATION ARMY COMMISSIONER AND MRS. W. J. RICHARDS.

FAREWELL LAST NIGHT

Salvationists of Peterborough and friends of every denomination who appreciate the work of Commissioner W. J. Richards, filled the George Street Methodist Church last night to say farewell to Commissioner and Mrs. Richards, who leave shortly for South Australia, where the Commissioner, who has been so successful in his seven years' work in command of Eastern Canada, will be in similar command across the Pacific.

Peterborough saw Commissioner Richards and Mrs. Richards for the last time before their departure last night, and gave them a rousing send-off.

Ald. G. N. Gordon, M.P., was the chairman. He commended the work of the Salvation Army, and said that Commissioner and Mrs. Richards were two of Canada's leading citizens. "This meeting pays homage to their seven years of splendid, self-sacrificing service and devotion," the chairman said.

Local Tributes.

Sergt.-Major John Williams, representing the Peterborough Corps, bade farewell to their leader and his wife, after referring to the progress of the Army during his leadership.

Mr. R. C. Braund, Sunday School superintendent, paid tribute to the interest of the Commissioner in the Sunday School phast of the work. Mr. Braund said in the seven years the local Corps have sent ten young men out to preach the Gospel, have established two additional Sunday Schools, and anticipate soon having another, towards the construction of which the Commissioner, he said, had kindly donated $1,000.00.

The great progress made in seven years has been due to the co-operation received from the Toronto staff and the field staff, Commissioner Richards said, refusing to accept the honours singly. When he began his work here, he said he was working under great difficulties, 137 of the Canadian leaders having lost their lives in the Empress of Ireland catastrophe, and then all through the war years, their ranks were depleted of their best workers. Despite every handicap, however, he reported progress in every department.

Sunday Meetings.

Attendance at the three Sunday meetings, he said, showed an increase of 3,357,695 for 1921 over that of 1914, while collections increased by $100,000.00. Their departments have cared for 51,000 men, and found employment for 85,000 in this period.

Attendance at the young people's gatherings in Toronto have increased from 200 in 1914 to 1,200 in 1921.

"I advise every church to look after the young people. It is like bread cast unon the waters," he said.

When he first came, Canada, Newfoundland, and the Bermudas were all one. Since then all the territory west of Winnipeg has become a separate district. The Commissioner said that Canada East had become in every respect greater than when both were together. In the seven years, 30 new citadels have been erected, 16 have been remodelled, property has been acquired for the building of 13 more, 3 summer camps have been started, 17 military buildings secured, and 3 sites for buildings—at a total cost of $1,499,836.

The Army Banner.

These were the material things that had been accomplished. Commissioner Richards and Mrs. Richards told of the undying zeal with which the salvationing work had proceeded. In glowing terms the Commissioner told of the Army banner flung around the world. "I say this sometimes, advisedly, that we are the biggest missionary organisation in the world—that is, in the aggregate," he said. From little Serbia to the East Indies the Salvation Army was marching on, he declared. "By the generosity of our people we've been able to "carry on" and increase our work in all these countries."

In moving a vote of appreciation of the Commissioner's services, Judge Huycke praised the work of the Army, and remarked upon the advances made under Commissioner Richards. "Whether you are under the Great Bear or the Southern Cross you will be under the British flag, the Union Jack, and in going to the sister Dominion, I am sure you will send the greetings of Britons under the North Star to their fellow-Britons under the Southern Cross. You have been gloriously successful in your work in Canada, and, in the interests of the cause you have so much at heart, we hope you will be more successful there. You will be loved, you will be respected for your work in Australia, but you cannot be more respected, more valued, than you have been here in Canada."

Ald. J. J. Turner seconded the vote of appreciation, and the Commissioner was given a rousing ovation.

During the evening, selections by the Band, the Songsters, and by Staff-Captain D. Richards, son of the Commissioner, on the concertina, were much appreciated.

Col. John Rawlings, Field Secretary, also took part in the service, and moved a vote of thanks to the chairman, which was heartily accorded to Ald. Gordon.

Mayor A. A. McIntyre and J. H. Burnham, ex-M.P., were on the platform.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—(Canadian Press).—Further retirement by short interests was noted at the opening of to-day's Stock Market, especially in Oils, Motors, Steels and Equipments. Shippings improved, but Rails failed to throw off their recent apathy.

Preliminary quotations for the principal foreign exchange rates were irregular, reflecting the latest political developments abroad.

The market's tone became more uneven during the morning, the six per cent. opening rate for call money due to the withdrawal of Government funds evidently acting as a restraint upon bullish operations. Some Steels, Equipments, Motors, Sugars and merchandising issues extended their early gains, but foreign oils became heavy.

Lower-priced Oils, Sugars and Leather issues forged ahead in the early afternoon, but Railroads were reactionary. Northern Pacific declined one point, and other representative shares substantial fractions. A wide assortment of Industrials and Specialties ruled from one to five points higher, reflecting the decided increase in professional and public buying.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—(Canadian Press).—Sterling exchange easy; demand, Great Britain 3.93¼; Canadian dollars, 8 1-8 per cent. discount.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26. — (Canadian Press).—Opening wheat quotations, which varied from ¼ off, with a like advance, with December 1.08 to 1.08 3-4 and May 1.13¼ to 1.14, were followed by moderate gains all around, and then something of a reaction.

Corn and oats hardened with wheat. After opening a shade to ⅛ higher, December 48⅛ to 48 5-8, corn scored slight further gains. Oats started unchanged to 1-8 up, December 34, and then continued firm.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, Oct. 26. — (Canadian Press). — General Electric was the most active stock on the Board during the morning session of the Toronto Stock Exchange. Price changes were confined within narrow limits, however, and the close was only ¼ higher at 93½. Throughout the list sentiment was mixed with gains exceeding losses. Atlantic Sugar was 1 1-8 higher at 31 5-8, Brazilian 3-8 higher, Cement Preferred ¼ higher, and Brompton ½ higher. Steel of Canada Common lost a full point at 61.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Oct. 26 —(Canadian Press).—Trading on the local Stock Exchange during the first half-hour this morning was not so brisk as it was within the same period yesterday, although a considerable volume of business took place, resulting in several major changes in price quotations. Abitibi appeared unchanged at 33. Atlantic Sugar was strong and rose three-quarters to 31½. Brompton was stronger by a quarter at 23 3-4. National Breweries was unchanged at 56 3-4, as was also Riordon at 6. Spanish River, contrary to the unusual strength it displayed yesterday, dropped two points from its closing level, and appeared on the tape this morning at 66.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

TORONTO, Oct. 26.—(Canadian Press).—Receipts, 1,125; trade light. Quotations: Heavy beef steers, $6 to $7; choice butcher steers, $5.75 to $6.25; butcher cows, medium, $3 to $4; calves, $11 to $12.50; lambs, $8 to $8.50; hogs, selects, $8.50.

S. O. E. MASQUERADE A JOLLY FUNCTION

About 200 members of the Sons and Daughters of England gathered in their hall on Hunter street last evening, for the jolly masquerade held under the auspices of the Daughters of England, with Mrs. R. Bugg as convenor. The affair was very successful from every angle, and the assemblage spent a jolly evening in the enjoyment of dancing, games and the excellent refreshments provided by the ladies in charge. The following programme met with much applause: Piano solo, Mrs. Massey-Cooke; recitation Mr. J Johns; vocal solo, Miss Betty Cooke; vocal duet, Miss M. Allan and Mr. A. Lee; vocal solo, Mr. Scholey; masquerade dance by the Misses Betty and Barbara Cooke; which was a very pretty number; vocal solos, Mr. C. Coleman; the Misses F Harrison and Wade. Comic duet, "Farmer Giles" an original and much-applauded number in appropriate costume, with Mrs R. Bugg as a mirth-provoking "farmer" and Mrs. B. Nichols as Mrs. Giles. Vocal solos were also rendered by Miss Allan, Messrs. B. Nichols, I. Lee and T. Chapman, and Mr. Nichols recited "The Cockney" with telling effect Two little girls, Gladys Defoe and Berenice McFarlane gave a dainty little dance. Mrs. Massey-Cooke acted as accompanist for the different numbers

The Costumes

The costumes were numerous and varied Mr. and Mrs. Giles, Aunt Polly and her boy Tommy, the Irish girl, the Shepherdess and Red Riding Hood receiving much favorable comment.

Mr. P. Webb acted as chairman for the evening, and, in a neat little speech, asked for the support of the audience for the campaign in aid of the Muskoka Free Hospital, and also for their co-opertion in making Poppy Day a success. Mrs. Bugg thanked the different performers and her committees for their whole-hearted support on the occasion of this enjoyable social evening.

THE CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE DO GOOD WORK

FOURTEEN NEW BRANCHES IN PETERBORO' DIOCESE

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Catholic Women's League, with about 250 members present, took place last Sunday afternoon in St. Alphonsus' Lyceum. Mrs. Jas. V. Gallivan, the president, occupied the chair.

Reports of the organization and social service committees were read by Miss M. A. O'Connell, the convenors of these committees being absent. Splendid progress was reported along both lines. Fourteen new branches of the League have been formed throughout the diocese during the summer months, and several more centres have signified their willingness to organize branches.

During the summer the children from St. Vincent's Orphanage were treated to a motor ride and high tea at Chemong, and charitable work of various kinds has been conducted by the Society throughout the city.

A Good Showing.

Splendid reports of the secretary's and treasurer's work were read by Miss Margaret Hefferman and Mrs. D. Legendre.

His Lordship, Bishop O'Brien, who was present at the meeting, gave a short address of congratulation to the society for the splendid work undertaken by them since their organization early in the early. His Lordship emphasized the advantages of membership in such an association, which went about its good works in a quiet way, and asked for co-operation amongst all the members in creating a spirit of friendliness and kindness, particularly to strangers to the city.

The secretary was requested to forward letters of condolence to the families of Dr. Vernon Hayes and Mr. J. McCoy, on their recent bereavements. A resolution was passed unanimously to hold open meetings of the society in future on week nights, instead of Sunday afternoons, as heretofore.

An enjoyable musical programme was rendered by instrumental and vocal selections from Miss Margaret Weatherhead and Mr. Robt. Leonard.

SLAIN WOMAN HAD IRON CROSS MARK ON SEVERED LEGS

NEW YORK, October 26 (Canadian Press.) — Mrs. Elizabeth Richard, of Jersey City, yesterday identified the legless body of a woman found on Saturday in a pool in Long Island City as that of Bertha Baker, or Becker, who lived with her two years ago. A design of the German Iron Cross and the initials "B.B." had been tattooed on her right leg above the knee, Mrs. Richard told the police, and she thought this might have been the reason why the legs had been severed.

Mrs. Richard said the girl had come to the United States from Cologne, Germany. She appeared at her home in company with her husband and baby, and asked for lodging, Mrs. Richard said. The man was a boatman.

After leaving her house, Mrs. Richard said, the girl lived in Hoboken, where she was arrested on 18th of August, 1919.

She said she would bring her husband to New York to-day to view the body and corroborate her identification.

To check up Mrs. Richards' statements, detectives were sent to Hoboken police headquarters for finger-print records to be compared with the prints of the murder victim.

At the same time other detectives will be busy on Staten Island, seeking to determine if a stained night-gown, a butcher's knife, and a battered hat found in the underbrush near a factory had any connection with the Long Island mystery.

The police last night indicated that an arrest might be expected soon.

WOMEN'S WORLD

There are at least two women voters in Quebec to every oen man.

More than 40,000 women are engaged in embroidery work on the Island of Maderia.

Women as a whole are now politically better off than at any time in the history of the German people.

An old custom, which is still adhered to, is the sending of "first night" floral tributes to hospitals by Broadway actresses.

The daughter of Charles Dickens ments with instructions that they placed in the British Museum docuwere not be opened until 1925.

RESCUE CREW OF SHIP ICEBOUND OFF GREENLAND

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 26.—The Danish government in April appropriated 200,000 kroner to defray the expense of sending the ship, Teddy, to the east coast of Greenland to search for the East Greenland Trading Company's ship Dagny which has been dispatched from Copenhagen in the spring of 1920. Since then, nothing had been heard of her.

A cablegram from Akeyri, Iceland, reports the safe arrival there of the Teddy. On July 17, she observed a distress signal from Walrus Island and sent a party across the ice to investigate. They discovered the Dagny's captain, Hansen at Germanishaven station.

It appears that the Dagny became ice-blocked on August 8,1920,30 miles east of the Shannon Islands. Part of the crew had previously landed at some newly established stations, and the remainder had reached land on an ice flow.

Before they were rescued by the Teddy, however, three of them perished, two succumbing to scurvy and the third being killed in an encounter with a polar bear. The Teddy, herself, was ice-bound from August 24 to September 2.

GUM CHEWING FOILS BREATH DETECTIVES

Whiff of Wintergreen After a Mix-up of Two Motor Cars.

DETROIT, Oct. 26.—The police brought Charles Lambert, 3016 Wabash avenue, before Judge Thomas M. Cotter in Recorder's Court on a charge of driving while drunk. But their evidence was incomplete. Mr. Lambert chews gum.

Lambert got into a mix-up with another car. The officers testified that when they arrived he had a mouth stuffed with gum and was chewing furiously. It was wintergreen gum. Lambert staggered a bit, the police testified but they could not report on his breath.

"If I staggered," Lambert averred, "it was because of nervous shock, your honor."

The case was adjourned for further investigation, and Judge Cotter admonished the traffic officers to get their men after this before they started to chew gum.

MONARCHIST COUP IN BAVARIA LIKELY WITH LUDWIG'S BURIAL.

BERLIN, October 26 (Canadian Press). — Bavarian Monarchists who, it is alleged, have been attempting to establish a kingdom in Bavaria with former Crown Prince Rupprecht on the throne, may attempt to use the burial of former King Ludwig as the occasion for a widespread movement against the Republican Government, according to despatches received by anti-Monarchist newspapers in Berlin.

There were rumours on the Bourse to-day that steps already had been taken to enthrone Rupprecht, but these were found on investigation to be false. The radical newspapers and the Munich correspondents think there is little likelihood of a serious movement by the Monarchists prompted by Ludwig's funeral, in view of the fiasco of former King Charles of Hungary, which was a sore disappointment to the Bavarian Monarchist faction, which discredited a report that Charles was only a figurehead in a French political move to cut off Bavaria by the establishment of a kingdom in Tyrol.

In democratic circles, it is asserted that the agitation for calling Rupprecht to the throne is widespread and well organised, but that there is no indication as to the extent of his popularity. The Liberal and Workmen's parties in Austria, Germany, and Czecho-Slovakia are publishing a joint resolution, pledging the use of "every parliamentary and other means to uphold and make secure the republican form of government," in view of the recent Monarchist move. The Liberals of Britain, France, and Belgium are being asked to join in the ocmmon cause.

According to the Tageblatt, Count Leopold von Berchtold, former Austrian Foreign Minister and confidential adviser of Charles, arrived in Bavaria from Switzerland, on Monday. He left almost immediately, however, in an automobile for the Dutch border. His destination was not known.

MEN TO DEFENCE OF MODERN WOMEN

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26.—Judging a girl's fitness for business by the length of her hair as an employment standard, has little more to recommend it than the selection of a man because he wears a bow tie or a four-in-hand, in the opinion of Dr. William W. Guth, president of Goucher College of Baltimore. While a little vanity is good for any women, "bobbed brains" are a more vital subject than bobbed hair, according to President Guth.

"It is difficult to see why this harmless feminine whim has aroused such widespread discussion," Dr. Guth added, unless perhaps it is true that we delight in making mountains out of molehills. For all the evidence visible from a college office points to the fact that the fact that the young girl of today is aiming toward a standard of real usefulness in the home, in the community and in the world of business.

"So much has been said about the vanities and frivolities of the modern girl that it is only fair to point out that the average girl of today is far better equipped mentally than the girl of a generation ago. The girl of today wants to be useful as well as ornamental."

WIRTH TO FORM NEW GERMAN CABINET

BERLIN, Oct. 26. — (Canadian Press.) —Former Chancellor Wirth was yesterday asked to form a new cabinet. He has consented to assume the task.

It was in an eleventh hour attempt to solve the political chaos brought about by the Wirth cabinet's retirement on Saturday that President Ebert last night requested Dr. Wirth to form a so-called business men's, or non-parliamentary ministry. It is expected that the new government will take office to-day.

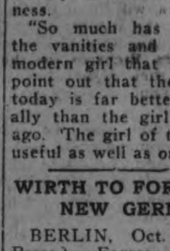
The cabinet will not be a coalition one, as all efforts to reconstitute the three-party bloc or to induce the German people's party to enter a government failed definitely when the democrats and the representatives of the People's party withdrew from to-day's inter-party conferences owing to a dispute over the Upper Silesian decision.

The Majority Socialists and the Clerical party will constitute the nucleus of the parliamentary support actually vouchsafed the new ministry.

IN BED EIGHT MONTHS

Cause—Change of Life. How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Got Me Up

Afton, Tenn.—"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During the Change of Life I was in bed for eight months and had two good doctors treating me but they did me no good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did and in a short time felt better. I had all kinds of bad spells, but they all left me. Now when I feel weak and nervous I take the Vegetable Compound and it always does me good. I wish all women would try it during the Change of Life for I know it will do them good." —Mrs. A. KELLER, Afton, Tennessee.



Women from forty-five to fifty years of age should take warning from such symptoms as heat flashes, palpitation of the heart, smothering or fainting spells, or spots before the eyes, and prepare their system for this perfectly natural change by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has helped many, many women through this trying period, just as it did Mrs. Keller.

CROP REPORT

Following is a summary of reports made by the Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture;—

General farm work, such as root pulling, apple picking, fall plowing, etc., is well advanced, and the land is now in spendid condition for turning under.

Essex says that sugar beets are yielding from twelve to as high as twenty tons per acre, but complains of some dry rot. Kent states that about half of the crop has been taken up.

Waterloo reports considerable marketing of turnips. Two weeks ago 20 cents a bushel was paid, but prices later came down to 15 cents. Considerable rot was also reported.

Algoma reports a better than average yield of potatoes, and Timiskaming also claims an abundant crop.

Grain and hay are being marketed slowly. The latter is increasing in price, even in the more western counties.

Simcoe, speaking of fodder supplies, says that men with silos are the outstandng winners this year.

Norfolk reports that apples are moving freely at from $4 to $6 a barrel Middlesex gives prices at from $1 to $2 a bushel, according to quality. Halton states that evaporator apples are bringing from 40 cents to $1 a cwt.

Dundas says that local beemen claim that the honey flow this season has been the best on record.

The new fall wheat is looking exceedingly well, except where the Hessian fly got into some of the fields sown very early.

Middlesex states that farmers in that county are hiring men at from $15 to $25 a month and board for the winter.

Grey says that there has not been so much live stock seen at our fall fairs for several years. At a recent sale of pure-bred cattle at Markdale good heifers went at moderate prices, the best figures being $300 and $265. The greater part of the offerings went to local buyers.

Middlesex reports that several carloads of cattle were shipped during the week, a number going to Great Britain.

On the other hand Bruce says that a dozen carloads of cattle, some of them from Manitoulin, were recently brought into the county as feeders

Lennox and Addington states that milkers are in great demand and quotes five year old Holstein grades as bringing $75.

Some farmers in western counties are changing from beef to milk. One Waterloo man has brought in two carloads of dairy cattle for local sale. Leeds states that there is a strong demand for springers.

Grey says that some cream collected in that county is being shipped to Buffalo.

Little pigs are quoted at $6 a pair in Lennox and Addington and at $5 in Frontenac.

Sheep are holding their own in numbers in Timiskaming, but prices are far from encouraging. Lambs are selling at $7 each.

Victoria says that good horses are bringing around $100.

BOWLING

REPEATERS WON THREE.

The advent of cold weather has brought with it a disposition on the part of the city's bowlers to return to their favourite indoor game of bowling. The Water Street Alleys is, as usual, the rendezvous for the majority of those participating in this sport. A number of teams from the different manufacturing plants in the city have entered in the City League contest this year, which promises, from the standpont of bowling, to be better than ever, while several inter-departmental leagues are coming into line.

Conspicuous among these is the Bell Telephone Inter-Departmental League, composed of four teams, which will again contest the cup donated by the local management of the company last year. This League played their initial game last Friday evening, when the P. B. X. defeated the Repeaters three straight games. Following is the score:

GENERAL SPORTS IN TABLOID FORM

CONNAUGHT PARK SUFFERS HEAVY LOSS.

OTTAWA, October 26 (Canadian Press). — The annual meeting of the Connaught Park Pockey Club was held yesterday afternoon at the Clubhouse, Connaught Park.

The financial statement for the year showed that while the club had enjoyed greater patronage and the general business had been larger than ever before, the new Dominion and Provincial legislation had diverted the revenue to such an extent that the Connaught Park Club would not be able to declare a dividend.

Senator Balcourt explained that the increase of the daily tax and the reduction of the Pari-Mutual revenue had wiped out the earning capacity of the organisation, and that efforts would be made to secure from the Quebec Government such relief as would ensure the shareholders at least a small return on their investment.

LEITCH SISTERS LOSE.

NEW YORK, October 26 (Canadian Press). — Miss Marion Hollins national woman's golf champion, and Mrs. W. A. Gavin, metropolitan title-holder, yesterday defeated Miss Cecil Leitch, British, French, and Canadan title-holder, and her sister, Edith, by one up, in a four-ball foursome on the Baltusrol (New Jersey, Golf Club). The United States players were four up at the turn, but their British opponents carried them to the eighteenth hole before losing.

BRITAIN CONSIDERS SHANTUNG SETTLED.

LONDON, October 26 (Canadian Press).—As far as the policy of the British Government was concerned, the Shantung question was settled by the decision embodied in the Treaty of Versailles, said Austen Chamblrain, the Government leader in the House of Commons yesterday. Mr. Chamberlain made this statement in reply to a question as to whether there had been anw modification of the British policy concerning Shantung.

CHARLES AND ZITA ANTAGONISE SWITZERLAND.

GENEVA, October, 26 (Canadian Press). — Former Emperor Charles and ex-Empress Zita have worn out their welcome in Switzerland.

"Never will they be permitted to return to this country," declared President Schulthess to the Associated Press to-day, "and if they should return by airplane, as they left, then we should arrest, intern, and finally expel them. Charles must understand that the doors of Switzerland are definitely closed to him."

"Should the exiles return," continued the Swiss President, "we would give them the choice of four frontiers. If the report is confirmed that Charles and the ex-Empress have been arrested in Hungary, let the Hungarians keep them; or they could eventually go to the United States. Of course, we shall take care of the children until some other arrangement can be made."

CHURCH LEAGUE FIVE PINS.

Representatives of various church es met at the Y.M.C.A. last night and organized for the coming season. Rules for the League were drawn up and teams entered. The schedule will commece next week with George street and Murray play ing the opening game on Tuesday night. On Thursday Excelsiors will play St. Luke's and on Friday St. Pauls and Trinity will be the opposing teams. Mr. George Robertson was elected chairman of the League Committee and H. Johnson Secretary. Each team will have one representative on the Committee.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

Friday, night November 4th., the Capitol Theatre offers a novelty in the way of entertainment for the Peterboro public in conjunction with their regular big and excellent picture program. A monster local vaudeville show will be staged by a number of the cleverest local vaudeville artists, 5 first class artists have already signed up for this big professional try-out-night. It's a well known fact that every city or town has a whole lot of very excellent talent, who hide their light under a bushel as it were, only waiting for the opportunity to show what they are really capable of doing. Manager Abbey at the Capitol has decided to hold a number of these local vaudeville nights during this fall and winter season, and each artist will receive a salary for their night's work, the public to be the judge of the talent displayed. Friday night, November 4th, will be the first of this series of local vaudeville nights. —Fan! Fan!

To-morrow, Thursday, the Capitol Again Offers the Popular Thomas Meighen in "White and Unmarried" and the Balance of a well Selected Program at Popular Prices ..

The popular and classy Capitol Theatre offers for the week end program commencing to-morrow night, a program that for quality alone should attract big crowds at every performance.

When "White and Unmarried" of which Thomas Meighan is the star comes to the Capitol to-morrow night, theatre patrons will have an opportunity of seeing how "the other half lives" in the gay French capital. Meighen appears as a crook who reforms when his uncle leaves him half a million dollars and goes to Europe to kill time.

He as a romance and incidentally is involved in some desperate encounters with Apaches in Paris. It is the Paris of the novelists that is shown. The underground Paris—the Paris of the dance halls, the Apaches, the picturesque and hetic. Billy Kane develops into a man of rare prowess and rescues several damsels in distress.

It is a vivid tale with plenty of excitement and red-blooded action. Tom Forman directed and Will M. Ritchey adapted John D. Swain's story. Jacqueline Logan is leading woman and Grace Darmond has an important role. Walter Long is cast as particularly ferocious Apache. The support is excellent.

'Society Dogs', a very funny two-reel comedy with Brownie, the wonder dog of the screen and many other good short reel subjects will go to complete an excellent show.

AT THE ALLEN.

THE HOPE DIAMOND MYSTERY NEW SERIAL FEATURING MISS DARMOND

The Hope Diamond Mystery, the stupendous fifteen episode serial, featuring beautiful Grace Darmond, which will open at the Allen Theatre Thursday, deals with the most famous and most sinister jewel in history. It is a succession of thrills from start to finish and tells for the first time the mysterious manner in which this world famous jewel was first stolen.

THIS MYSTERIOUS CHARACTER ADDS ZEST TO FILM'S FUN

That "bob up" character in pictures who seems to have nothing to do with the plot is a mere matter of mechanics in film making. He gives the other characters a reason for being in different places, speeds up the action. There is such a character in "Scrappily Married," latest two reel Christie Comedy featuring Harry Gribbon and Helen Darling at the Allen theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. He is responsible for a lot of the situation laughs and he creates a decided atmosphere of mystery, and finally when his purpose is really explained there is a huge roar.

ABOUT THE MOTHER IN "OVER THE HILL"

With an ambition to be the greatest mother in the world rather than the greatest actress, Mrs. Mary Carr, the charming artist who essays the role of Ma Benton in the William Fox film presentation "Over the Hill', says that for her, the playing of such a part is merely transferring her household duties from the home to the screen. Six little Carrs and the father, William C Carr, are in that happy home, and four of the children acted with their mother in "Over the Hill' which will be shown at the Allen Theatre for entire week beginning October 31st.

"I have three boys and three girls," Mrs. Carr explains, "and I am determined to bring up three gentlemen and three ladies. If I accomplish this, then I am sure my fondest ambition will have been realized. At least six fine young women and young men should make any woman feel that she had been a success as a mother."

Mrs. Carr under her maiden name of Mary Kennevan, began her stage career in a stock company in her home town of Philadelphia in 1897. One of her earliest engagements was in ingenue parts in stock with Valerie Bergere. Later she appeared as Louise in "The Two Orphans" and as Carey in "Alabama." After her marriage and brief service in pictures, when the babies began arriving she decided to give all her time to her home.

"But I went back to pictures when ever I got the chance," she explains "and was always happiest when playing mother roles. I had such roles in 'The Flames of Johannas,' 'The Light of Dusk,' 'The Barrier,' 'Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch,' and 'The Lion and the Mouse,' but enjoyed none of them half so much as my latest picture, 'Over the Hill', under the direction of William Fox."

AT THE GRAND.

Another bumper house greeted the "Nearly Weds" at the Grand last night. This is a performance which seems to exactly fit into the capacities of the different members of the cast. They appear to be well suited with their different parts, and carry them out in a pleasing manner. The trials and tribulations of the temperamental couple in their pursuit of a divorce and their subsequent change of mind are effectively portrayed. Hazel Williams has some funny bits in her characterization of the lady who never compromises herself "except before witnesses." William Yule is as funny as usual in his villainous scarlet get-up, while the fickle-minded husband and wife, with Mr. and Mrs. Snelgrove alternately billing, cooing and quarreling on a moment's notice, provide excellent entertainment for their usual large audiences.

"UNDER THE SPOTLIGHT."

Mid-Week Dramatic Notes

The date for Mr. Walter Hampden's first appearance in Peterborough is fast approaching. Interest in the event is evident on all sides, and unless something very unusual happens, there will be a large and representative audience at the Grand on Saturday night. There will be no matinee. It would give Mr. Hampden much pleasure to satisfy his patrons to the extent of playing twice in Peterborough, but in justice to himself it has been found better to limit the number of performances in one night stands. Last year the distinguished actor played "Hamlet" sixty-eight times on Broadway — a modern record for the great study in psychology, with its tragic finish. It is a record which, I believe, has only been surpassed by Edwin Booth. Some years ago, critics either made or smashed an actor's reputation on his performance of "Hamlet." Mr. Hampden's portrayal of "Macbeth," the ill-starred "Thane of Cawdor," in this country, and James L. Hackett's London production of the same tragedy, appear to signify a change in public taste. We are most fortunate in having a presentation of "The Taming of the Shrew." A resume of the best criticisms from New York, Boston and other large cities may be found in one of the June issues of 'The Literary Digest.' There is no question of the worth of this production, and a glance at Canadian comments regarding it, proves that Mr. Hampden has won unstinted praise from such men as Hector Charlesworth, Augustus Bridle, and Morgan Powell.

I heard from a Montreal source that during a week at His Majesty's, the Shakespearian repertoire played to unusual houses, in spite of the fact that playgoers had patronised Marie Lohr so well during the previous fortnight. This week the famous English actress and Mr. Hampden are dividing honors at the box office in London, Ontario, without prejudice to the latter. We should be most grateful to Trans-Canada Theatres for the opportunity of seeing some really worth-while theatrical attractions.

Coming Very Soon—"The Title," By Arnold Bennett, and "Camouflage," By the Maple Leafs.

Almost as varied and often changed a programme as local moving picture houses afford, is the programme of attractions at the Grand in the very near future. After "The Taming of the Shrew," we are to have three nights of "The Rex Stock Company," which speaks for itself; a new comedy by Arnold Bennett author of "Milestones," called "The Title," and two evenings and a matinee of "Camouflage," a snappy, up-to-date revision of the show that caused such enthusiastic comment last year. When the "Maple Leafs," or Fourth Division Concert Corps undertook to follow in the line of their elder brothers, "The Dumbells," it seemed hardly possible to make anything like a real success of the newer organization. It is a splendid tribute to the ability of Morley Plunkett and his companions that after last year's tour, they reduced their play to a vaudeville sketch, which was so popular at Pantages in Toronto, that it was deemed advisable to rebuild the show, and they are now playing to capacity houses at the Grand in Toronto. The boys have many friends here who will be delighted to see them again, and we only hope that "Biff, Bing, Bang" will not remain all winter in the States, as we shall welcome anything Captain Plunkett sends.

MR. WALTER HAMPDEN as Shylock,' at the Grand next Saturday evening, October 29th, in "The Taming of the Shrew."

The admirers of Arnold Bennett are legion. Perhaps no present day English writer pleases more people of varied literary taste than does this genial, sane, altogether charming novelist and playwright. Life in the Five Towns, novels dealing with modern social problems and conditions, Arnold Bennett's pen gives us vivid pictures of them and clever character delineation. "Mr. Prohack," a story of the "new poor"—is the name of a late novel of his, now running in serial form in "The Delineator." You will find in "The Title," which comes to the Grand next week, a clever, worth - while comedy, written with the careful technique and regard to construction that characterized "Milestones." Selene Johnston, who has the leading female role, is an actress of proved ability, and handles her lines with ease and delicacy. Mr. Lumsden Hare was last seen here in "The Passion Flower," with Miss Nance O'Neil. There will be one evening performance of "The Title," and it should be a most attractive offering.

A GO-TO-CHURCH CAMPAIGN

The laymen in the Protestant Churches of Peterborough, working in conjunction with the Ministerial Association, have decided to conduct a Go-to-Church Campaign next week in Peterborough similar to the campaigns which have proved so successful in other cities. The canvass will be made by laymen of all the members of the Protestant churches of the city to induce them to attend all the regular church services during the month of November, both morning and evening. Where it is impossible for members of the churches to do this, they will attend all the services that their opportunities permit of. In some of the churches in Toronto where these campaigns have been conducted, the attendance at first has increased by 100 per cent., and a year later have shown an increased attendance of 50 per cent.

One of the features of the campaign will be a series of advertisements, prepared by a layman's committee, which will appear in The Examiner every night during the balance of this week, starting to-night, and at intervals during the month of November. Because Sunday, 6th November, is Thanksgiving Sunday, it is believed that it should be a good day for launching a campaign of this character.

actly like men, and will remain, therefore, permanently on the staff, as long as they desire to do so. The others all agree that women were engaged only as temporary help during the days when men were not available. One manager made the illuminating remark that, in war time, "we were all more or less slackening up. We didn't care if we occasionally took a day or so off work, but now things in that regard have changed entirely."

PRAISE FOR ROGOW BROS.

The following valuable words of praise from a satisfied lady patron of Rogow Bros., costume tailors, of this city, has been received:

"I am very pleased with my suit, and every one who has seen it thinks it is just lovely. It is really the nicest suit I have ever had, and it is a perfect fit. Many thanks for the way you fitted me, and the material is so rich and good."

THE DISTRICT I.O.D.E.

assisted by Mrs. W. Sharpe and Mrs. R. G. Cottrell, representing the 57th Chapter; Mrs. H. A. Yenney and Mrs. W. H. Meredith for Otonabee Chapter, Mrs. F. Hills and Mrs. F. C. Weber, for the Peter Robinson Chapter, while the Major Bennett Chapter contributed charming waitresses: the Misses Maleline Pulkinghorn, Marion Huff, Vera Porteous, Eleanor Eastwood, Audrey Milburn, Mary Harstone, Edna Conner, Marion Harvey, Doris Clegg, Marjorie Ingall, Marjorie Reid and Daisy Davidson

The evening session was occupied by addresses from Mrs. Burkholder and Mrs. Thompson, which were very much enjoyed. Both ladies expressed their surprise and delight at the admirable reports presented at this district meeting and recommended the continuance of such meetings as a source of inspiration and a furtherance of desire for co-operation amongst the local branches.

Mrs. Burkholder said "Little did Mrs. Clarke Murray think in 1900, when she organized our Order, that it would evolve itself into this geat organization of women who have done and are doing such noble work. It was our privilege to do for the men who fought so bravely for us in the Great War and how thankful we should be to think we were organized and ready for the fray when duty called us. It is most gratifying to hear how well known the Daughters of the Empire were among the men over there, and to hear such appreciation as we do from those who were spared to come back.

Promote Unity.

"The statement is very often made, 'Now the war is over our work is done.' This is a mistake, for in the Aims and Objects of our order, we are pledged to promote unity between the Motherland, the Sister Dominions and ourselves; to promote loyalty to our King and Empire ;to forward every good work for the betterment of our country and people; to assist in the pogress of Art and Literature; to draw Women's influence to the betterment of all things connected with our great Empire, and to instill into the youth of our country patriotism in its highest sense. Surely this pledge embraces almost every phase of work that the Daughters of the Empire would want to take up."

Mrs. Burkholder went on to emphasize the activities open to the society, the work in hospitals, in the Navy League, in connection with child welfare, the furtherance of the great War Memorial to which the Order has pledged itself. Encouragement is due from the fact that since the organization of the Provincial Chapter, there have been 35 Chapters formed in Ontario. "In these days of unrest we should bind ourselves closer together and, forgetting ourselves, remember only the grand ideals for which our order stands. We must stand shoulder to shoulder and show our loyalty to our King, our country, and to each other; personalities must be put aside and we must work as never before to help our country to return to a normal condition. Let us, as Daughters of the Empire, lead the way to a community spirit among our country men and women."

Mrs. Burkholder also recommended work amongst the foreign-born element, many of whom are grasping for the fundamentals of education in a new land.

Mrs. Grant Thompson followed with a short speech, reiterating the advice of the first speaker in endors of the order. The links of the ecouragement of the worthy endeavchains which bind together the junior, the primary, the provincial and the great national or administrative Chapters of the Order, were itemized in this address.

Mrs. Thompson referred to the complexities which have crept into the wording of the Constitution, relating the recent experience in which an expert lawyer took two days to unravel one particularly intricate ruling, and desired the co-operation of all members in forming a less complicated constitution for the future.

Bureau Information.

The half-million dollar educational Memorial to which the order has pledged itself was recommended for hearty support, and the members were asked to co-operate with the Bureau of Information recently established in Ottawa by pledging their patronage to Canadian manufacturers, provided their goods met with the approval of their customers.

Mrs. A. Stevenson expressed the sentiment of the meeting in a few words of appreciation to the speakers, and the session was brought to a close by a vote of thanks to the Peterboro hostesses tendered by Mrs. Vance of Havelock.

During the afternoon and evening a charming musical programme was rendered by several vocal solos from Mrs. F. Doig, accompanied by Mrs. G. Evans; by two splendid vocal solos from Mr. J. Ball, accompanied by Miss I. Sanderson, and an instrumental selection by Miss Agnes Logan.

RUGBY NEWS

There will be the first home game of the Peterborough Collegiate's series O.R.F.U. at Riverside park on Saturday, when Oshawa will be here and they are confident of a win. The Peterborough boys are also confident of victory and intend to work their hardest to win. They are practicing daily at Riverside park and hope to be in the best of condition for the game.

Last night Mr. Browne and Dr. Wood were out with the team, who went through a stiff tackling practice. After about three-quarters of an hour of this the first team played the second team and practiced all their play; nearly all worked well, but a few will have to practice more or else be dropped out for Saturday.

The line positions are strongly contested for by many of the boys, and all hope to catch a place on the team. Stacey, Bookhout, Eastwood, Cowan, Stevens, Fleming, Gilchrist, Parrington and Hay are those who are trying for inside and middle wings. They are all working hard and it will be difficult to choose the players to start the game. For the outside wings, Rishor, Johnston, Legon and Maniece are the most likely to start the game, but these players also will be hard to pick from as regulars.

It is expected that a big crowd of rooters from Oshawa will be here to witness the game Saturday, which will be one of the most important in this round.

A PRESENTATION TO MISS G. COOK

About twenty of the employees of the Western Clock Co. met at the home of Miss E. Cooke on Monday evening to make a presentation in honor of her forthcoming marriage. After a short address Miss Mabel Scott made the presentation, which consisted of a handsome hand-painted tea set and serving tray. During the evening, vocal seelctions, piano solos and dancing were enjoyed by the company. The best fun of the evening was the proverbial forfeit game, which is, of course, liable to cause lots of "cold sores."

About 10 o'clock supper was served, which received ample justice by those present. The party broke up at a late hour, everyone having thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

TO-DAY'S FASHIONS

FROCK OF CANTON CREPE

This frock puts all its faith in bindings, and rightly, too, for from round neck to unusual hem the bindings furnish charming contrasts. Quite a new idea is presented in uneven straps of self material, hanging from the waistline that end with hand-made roses. Dark blue with white bindings is the attractive color scheme.

MR. R. J. SODEN REPLIES TO MR. ROGERS' LETTER

EXPLAINS STAND TAKEN BY LOCAL FISH AND GAME PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION.

Part of a letter published in the Examiner yesterday, explaining over the signature of Mr. R. B. Rogers, the circumstances of his having been fined for a breach of the Game and Fisheries Protection Act, is apt to convey an erroneous impression, Mr. R. J. Soden, President of the Peterboro Fish and Game Protective Association, said to-day.

The statement complained of is as follows:

"The President of the Association informs me that dozens of informations of most serious infractions of the Act in this section, over which Mr. Woodcock has jurisdiction, have been reported, but no convictions have been secured."

"In the first place," said Mr Soden, "there were not dozens of informations. The Deputy Minister advised the association that if they knew of infringements of the law in certain sections, and would report that the law was being broken in those localities, he would send officers to investigate and enforce the Act."

"Such reports were sent by the secretary of the Association regarding the shooting of ducks and of partridge and regarding the running of dogs for deer. No complaints were made to Woodcock by the Association, and no convictions followed such complaints to the department, so far as the Association knows, though such convictions may have been made."

"What both Mr. Rogers and Inspector Woodcock should bear in mind is that the association does not lay informations against individuals, but pledges its members to observe the law themselves and use all possible persuasion to show lawbreakers the error they are guilty of and also to give a more widespread knowledge of the law by the distribution of government literature."

The Value of Advertising

No matter what particular merit a preparation may possess, if you wish to bring it before the public, it is necessary to advertise it.

For instance, Dr. Banta's Kidney and Rheumatic Pills were just as good a year ago as they are to-day; and while they had a steady sale due to one friend telling another of the benefits derived from them the proprietors recognized this was a rather slow way of introducing them and for the year 1921 they have placed a contract with this paper for 10,000 lines of advertising.

On another page of this paper you will find their large advertisement, and with merit and advertising we feel confident they will meet with success.

IN MEMORIAM.
THERE IS BALM IN GILEAD.
Lovingly Inscribed to Mrs. Frank Sanderson by Mrs. A. F. Calder.

Weep not, as those bereft of hope,
Rather rejoice instead,
That he has passed to endless life,
Whom thus you mourn as dead.

The mortal body only sleeps
Beneath the churchyard sod,
The spirit, from earth's fetters free,
Has winged glad flight to God.

To that bright home, whose mansions rise
Beside the Crystal Sea,
Where death and pain, or mourers' tears,
Nor aching hearts can be.

The heart knows well its bitterness,
Yet selfish grief restrain,
And think not of your loss, but his,
Immeasureable gain.

If to Emmanuel's Land of Light,
Our dearest friends have passed,
Shall all life's smiling skies with gloom
Be evermore o'ercast?

What if henceforth you journey down
A solitary way?
The Day Star from on high will cheer,
Your path, with radiant ray.

But follow still that narrow path
That leads no foot astray.
'Twill guide you home to God and and kin,
Some glad and glorious day.

Sufficient grace for every need
The dear Lord will bestow,
Aye, there is Balm in Gilead,
For every earthly woe.

ARRESTED HERE NOW SOUGHT IN A MURDER CASE

WALTER MULLEN, COMMITTED TO GUELPH REFORMATORY FROM HERE, IDENTIFIED AS MAN WANTED IN MICHIGAN.

ARRESTED IN PETERBORO' 11 DAYS AFTER SLAYING

GUELPH, Oct. 26.—(Canadian Press).—A man named Walter Mullen, wanted by the police authorities of Carthage, Missouri, in connection with a murder in that place some time ago, has been located at the Provincial Reformatory here. The man who is claimed by the Sheriff of Carthage to be the one wanted, was sent to the reformatory here a short time ago from Peteborough, where he was arrested eleven days after the Missouri murder had been committed Mullen is sick in the Institution here but on effort will be made to have him extradited. Officials state that he has a long and bad record and came orinigally from Ottawa Mullen has not made any statment regarding the matter.

Mullen was arrested at Havelock on May 10 last with Ernest Swears by Canadian Pacific Railway Constable Evans on a charge of breaking and entering freight cars. He was committed to Burwash Reformatory at Guelph by Magistrate D. W. Dumble for one year. Swears was given two years in Kingston penitentiary.

CAMPAIGN OFF TO A GOOD START

REPORTS OF FIRST DAY'S WORK IN AD OF CONSUMPTIVES PROMISING.

Three sub-committees of the local campaign in the interests of the National Sanitarium Association's Emergency Fund, reported yesterday evening good progress on the first day's canvass for subscriptions in this city. And optimism of reaching the $10,000 objective here prevails. The sub-committees will report to the main committee at the end of each day's work; and it is gratifying to note that practical sympathy with the campaign's worthy object is extended generally to the workers.
The Boy Scouts were organised into working squads last evening under various scoutmasters, the whole organisation in the capable charge of Mr. Whitesides. The little fellows are quite enthusiastic over the house-to-house canvass duties apportioned them, and start out with a will to bring in returns really worthwhile.

The Tired Mother

and Housewife will find in our Chiropractic Adjustments just what has been lacking to give her the needed strength and energy for her duties. If you are sick, or just tired out, Chiropractic will make you feel like a new woman.

Procrastination

is the thief of Health. A half-sick feeling is an indicator that should never go unheeded. Putting off only gives Disease the time it needs to get a foothold.
Staying at home and nursing your ills, and promising to "do something" for yourself "some time" is no more procrastination than treating incessantly for the effects of your trouble. There is only one way to get around having your Health stolen from you—GET RID OF THE CAUSE of your Disease. Disease is an EFFECT. Without a CAUSE there can be no EFFECT.
Modern scientists have proven that in more than Eighty per cent. of Diseases the cause is Pressure on the Nerves, which hinders the transmission of the vital force or mental impulses with which Innate Intelligence (Nature) supplies the entire body, and without which there can be no life. The only place where such pressure can occur is at the Spine, where the nerve cables emit from the Spinal Column. The Segments or Vertebrae of the Spine become Subluxated or Displaced, press upon the Nerves at the point of emission, shutting off part or all of the vital force or mental impulses from the brain to the various parts of the body, and the result is ill-health—Disease.
Chiropractors are Spine Specialists. They are experts in locating and adjusting the CAUSE of Disease. Chiropractors do not treat, heal, or cure. They Adjust the Spine so that a free and normal current of vital force may pass through the nerves to all parts of the body at all times. Nature does the Curing.

LLOYD GEORGE NOT TO BE AT ARMS PARLEYS

NOW FEARED THAT RIFT IN IRISH NEGOTITTIONS IS SUFFICIENTLY SERIOUS TO KEEP HIM AT HOME.

CONTINUANCE OF IRISH PARLEY IS IN ABEYANCE

By ED. L. KEEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent).

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Friends of Premier Lloyd George to-day feared the difficulties which have arisen from the rift in the Irish Conference have made it impossible for the Prime Minister to attend the opening of the limitation of armaments conference at Washington.

The sub-committee of four, of which Lloyd George, with Lord Birkenhead, Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins, is a member, had not fixed the date for its next meeting, and continuance of the conference proper depended upon successful negotiations by these leaders.

Lloyd George, it was said, will not give up his intention of being present at Washington until the last possible moment. If possible, he will sail on the Aquitania.

LONDON, Oct. 27. — (Canadian Press).—Several well-informed newspapers to-day stated that the Premier will probably have to abandon his visit to Washington because of the situation which has developed in the negotiations with the Sinn Fein. He had not made any public statement to this effect, but his political friends are quoted as communicating the report to inquirers as if publicity was desired.

LONDON, Oct. 27.— (Canadian Press.)—Sinn Fein delegates marked time to-day in anticipation of a communication from the government fixing the date for the renewed sitting, but up to one o'clock to-day no such summons had arrived. They deny that they are awating any communication from Ireland and declare they have full power to handle the question and are willing to confer at any length if a settlement can be reached.

WANTS VOTE ON MOTION BY REBELLIOUS UNIONISTS

LONDON, Oct. 27.— (Canadian Press.)— The Prime Minister proposed in the House of Commons today that it set aside next Monday for discussion of the motion of Unionist members of Parliament condemning the present negotiations with representatives of Sinn Fein Ireland. He said he hoped for a vote on the question.

GERMANY WON'T ACCEPT RULING ON U. SILESIA

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—(Canadian Press).—Partition of Silesia under decision of the Council of the League of Nations is not accepted by the German Government, declared Chancellor Wirth in the Reichstag last night. Reference of the Silesian problem to the League Council was illegal, in that it was contrary to the Versailles Treaty, he asserted, and Germany will make her stand against carrying out the plan for drawing the Polish-German frontier through the richest industrial section of the district in dispute.

ELECTION NEWS

KING CHARGES AGAIN DELIBERATE DECEPTION

ORONO, Oct. 27. — (Canadian Press).— That deliberate deception had been practised by the Government with regard to expenditure of public monies on war like stores and ammunition was the statement reiterated by Hon. Mackenzie King here last night. He said the letter issued by the Premier disclosed the situation and infinitely worse than he had supposed and would be a revelation to the people of Canada when its real significance was appreciated.

FARMER-LABOR GROUP GAIN IN NOVA SCOTIA

(Special Despatch to the Examiner)

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 27. — While the Farmer-Labor group is not expected to be as strong in the Maritime Provinces as in Ontario and the West, the chances now seem good for their getting their candidates elected in Nova Scotia.

In South Cape Breton and Richmond, the riding which has been regarded ever since the Provincial election of last year as strongly Labor, the Liberal and Conservative parties have each nominated two lawyers, while the Farmer-Labor party has chosen J B MacLachlan, secretary of the United Mine Workers, and E C Doyle, a Farmer.

The selection of J. C. Douglas, Glace Bay lawyer, and R. S. McMillan, a Waterford lawyer, by the Government means that they will get no support whatever in the southern part of the riding.. There the Liberals will be strong, but whether they can offset the Farmer-Labor vote of the north is doubtful.

CITY TO GIVE $1000 TO AID CONSUMPTIVES

THIS SUM MAY BE SUPPLEMENTED BY $500 AS RESULT OF DEPUTATION WAITING ON COUNCIL

QUESTION OF ACTION INCURRING A DEFICIT

One thousand dollars, which may or may not be supplemented by another $500, seems to be about the amount the city council will donate towards the National Sanitarium Association's Million Dollar Emergency Fund, according to action taken last evening, when a deputation from the local campaign committee waited upon the Board of Aldermen in this regard. No definite sum was reached.

This deputation consisted of Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie, who in introducing the subject hoped for a grant of $2,500, and Messrs. R. W. McCormack, Geo. A. Macdonald and Dr. M. A. Morrison The latter gentleman, in explaining the object of the campaign, and reviewing the Associations work said that during the past 25 years, 25,000 consumptive patients had been treated at the four institutions controlled by the National Sanitarium Association and that the death rate from tuberculosis has been cut in two by scientific treatment and improved health conditions. Referring to the burning of the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives; and the loss by death this year of Sir William Gage, originator of that hospital and most generous individual benefactor of the other institutions which have sprung therefrom. Dr. Morrison emphasized the need of Peterborough's contributing campaign objective of $10,000 being fully realized in support of replacing the destroyed building and to further the good work generally. To give an idea of what other municipalities are doing in this connection he cited the following municipal donations from places much smaller than Peterborough:—

Blind River, population 800; grant $200.00.

Cayuga, population 600; grant $200.00.

Copper Cliff, population 1.000; grant $500.00.

Gravenhurst, ; population 1,500 grant $3,000.00.

Orillia, population 3,800; grant $1,000.00.

Oshawa, population 6,000; grant $1,000.00.

Barrie, population 6,000; grant $1,200.00.

Perth population 1,500; grant $500.00.

In addition to the above there are about 200 grants from villages and townships ranging from $25 to $300; the Provincial grant is $ 150,000 that from Toronto's City Council, $150,000 while the citizens of that city have agreed to raise another $500,000.

Dr. Morrison here pointed out that during the last three years seven patients from Peterborough had been treated at the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives. Of these four had paid $8.75 a week, the other three nothing. It costs he asserted $22 a week to treat a consumptive patient, and the Provincial Legislative has passed an act empowering the Sanitorium Association to assess a municipality the maximum charge of $10.50 per week for each of its patients cared for in anyone of its institutions, which provision, however, has never yet been enforced .Those Ontario towns he added, who maintain consumptive hospitals of their own will not be approached for contributions in this campaign.

Mr. Macdonald was heartily in sympathy with the Association movement, especially so since learning that while during the war 40,000 Canadian lives were lost, either killed or missing while deaths in Canada from consumption in the same period totaled 43,000. He did not think $2,500 two much to expect from this municipality.

Mr. McCormack was also in earnest accord with the sentiments of his collegues and contended that Council should be generous.

No Appropriation.

Admitting that $2,500 was not an unreasonable sum to solicit from Council for so worthy a cause, still Ald. J. J. Turner, Council's finance minister advised the deputation that a grant of $1,000 would be as much as the city could stand with-

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—(Canadian Press.—Ben W. Hooper of the Railroad Labor Board, left the conference of the Big Five Union executives afternoon and said that the strike had not been settled and that settlement "could hardly be expected while he was at the meeting."

The proposition that the Brotherhood chiefs call the proposed rail strike off and entrust to the Labor Board adjustment of complaints which led up to the strike vote is said to be the principal matter before the conference.

M. R. Winters of the Children's Aid announced to-lay. He has not had any word from Jessie, but he believes the letter is bonafide. NEW MINISTRY TO ATTEMPT TO FULFIL TREATY

CHANCELLOR WIRTH ANNOUNCES THAT HIS NEWLY-FORMED CABINET WILL TRY TO MEET OBLIGATIONS.

ONLY TWO CHANGES IN COMPOSITION OF GOVT.

By CARL D. GROAT
(Unted Press Staff Correspondent).

BERLIN, Oct. 27. — "The new German Cabinet will do everything in its power to fulfill the Treaty of Versailles and to meet Germany's other obligations," Chancellor Wirth who announced the composition of the latest German Cabinet and received a vote of confidence yesterday, declared to-day.

"Germany's capacity to pay, however, is doubtful," he said.

The new Cabinet, in which Wirth is both Premier and Foreign Minister, is the same as the old, except for the post of Minister of the Interior, which is filled by Adolf Koester, Inland Minister of Justice, to which Wirth appointed Radbruch, a Socialist.

The office of Minister of Reconstruction is unfilled, but it was hoped to persuade Rathenau to accept the appointment.

ALDERMEN ARE NO JUDGE OF CLOTHES

SO AWARDING CONTRACT FOR FIREMEN'S UNIFORMS DEFERRED.

Tenders from local tailoring houses for 20 firemen's winter uniforms and 20 extra pair of trousers, submitted to the Council's Fire, Water and Light Committee last evening showed a maximum deflation in price since last year of $210 on an expenditure running in the neighborhood of $1,000 according to the bids for the contract.

Those tendering are D. H. Hickey Tartan Tailor Shop(Frank Hourigan), W. L. Anderson, Thornton Bros., and Charles Schooley, all local men.

Specifications called for 24-ounce Forbes serge, and as the committee were unable to judge whether the samples of cloth accompanying tenders measured up to this quality awarding the contract was deferred.

On motion of Ald. Crowe and the Mayor, Chairman Ald Morrison and Fire Chief Grange were instructed to secure an analysis of the cloths submitted and report back to committee.

For obvious reasons the prices bid are not published

DON'T PASS UP THE BOYS' SCOUT-GRAM

USE IT FOR CONTRIBUTING TOWARDS THE AID OF NEEDY CONSUMPTIVES.

The local campaign in aid of Ontario consumptives is meeting with that measure of co-operation from the public which arouses optimism for this city's $10,000 objective being eventually reached.

The Boy Scouts are demonstrating exceeding enthusiasm in the work apportioned them, as evidenced last night in the Chamber of Commerce by reports from Messrs. C. E. Jamieson, E. J. Whiteside, district scout master, C. M. Thornton, H. Blake, H. Ashmore, V. Sedgwick and W. D. Tyrer. The foregoing are in charge of the boys' effort during the campaign, which is is hoped the public will generously and practically endorse by their subscriptions. The little fellows are stimulated in this cause of—if indeed they really need any stimulating—by the knowledge that they are entitled to a citizens' badge awarded by the chief executive of their Order for participating in worthy community work of this nature. So contribute through them as liberally as possible.

Their method of house-to-house canvass is as follows: They leave at each dwelling the following "Scout-Gram" envelope.

This important numbered message is delivered by Boy Scout from Scout Headquarters in this district. At sacrifice of his own time, he offers last minute opportunity to Every Member of your house hold to extend helping hand to those who are suffering and in need, by enclosing in this envelope, total contributions of every member of household to Consumptive Emergency Million Dollar Fund.

The Scout will call for this envelope again next Monday evening. He is responsible for the contributions of every member of fifty households in this district.

Every good Scout is pledged to do one good turn every day. Won't you be a "Good Scout" yourself and encourage the Boy Scout in his good work? Please have this envelope ready, generously filled, signed on the flap and sealed, when he calls Monday. Your gift is necessary to complete the Million Dollars.

These envelopes will be returned by the Scouts to headquarters of the fund campaign. Do your bit!

SAY ACCIDENT CAUSED DEATH OF DR. HAYES

CORONERS' JURY RETURNS VERDICT OF ACCIDENTAL DEATH AND RECOMMENDS RED LIGHTS ON STREET CARS.

DIED OF HIS INJURIES FOLLOWING A COLLISION

A verdict of accidental death was returned by the Coroner's jury at the inquest held last night in connection with the death of Dr. J. V. Hayes, which was concluded last night in the Police Court. Coroner Dr. T. N. Greer presided.

Dr. J. V. Hayes' death on Friday last followed a street car and automobile collision.

After the jury had been out three-quarters of an hour, the verdict, with the recommendation of additional signals on the street cars, was as follows:

"We, the jury empanelled to inquire into the death of Dr. J. V. Hayes, find that he came to his death in the City of Peterborough on Friday, 21st day of October, 1921, at St. Joseph's Hospital, as a result of injuries caused by the collision of his automobile with a street car, on George street, south of King street, on Wednesday, Oct. 19, 1921, which in our opinion was purely accidental. We strongly recommend that the street railway carry a red light on their cars in addition to the headlight."

At the inquest, Mr. G. W. Hatton, K.C., represented the Crown; Mr. Joseph Wearing represented the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, who operate the street railway, and Mr. Joseph O'Brien represented the late doctor's family.

Medical Testimony.

Dr. A. W. McPherson, who was first called to give evidence, said he arrived at the scene of the accident shortly after the accident happened. Dr. Hayes was lying unconscious on a stretcher. He made no examination other than to determine he was living.

He went with him in the ambulance to the hospital where, after a cursory examination with Dr. F. P. McNulty in the ward, a more complete examination was made in the operating room. From the symptoms exhibited, Dr. McPherson said Dr. Hayes died from some brain injury, due to exterior violence, interfering with the heart action.

There were two marks on the head; one just above the left eye, another on the ball of the cranium just back from the eye. Death, Dr. McPherson said, may have been due to pressure on brain tissue or a hemorrhage of the tissue. Witness said these would cause the paralysis on the left side. Dr. Hayes did not recover consciousness, Dr. McPherson said. There had been bleeding from the ear. He kenw nothing about the fracture.

Dr. McPherson said when he arrived the body was on the east side of the road opposite Peter Gillespie's home. He also saw the street car and the smashed automobile. Dr. McPherson said he had but a hazy recollection of the position of the automobile. So far as he could tell, he said, Dr. Hayes appeared to have been in a healthy condition when struck.

Death Due to Fracture.

Dr. E. P. McNulty next gave evidence."I was called about 11 o'clock to see the injured doctor. I found him unconscious and showing every evidence of a severe cranium injury." Dr. McNulty corroborated what Dr. McPherson said. He did not regain consciousness, he said. He had practically a complete paralysis of the left side as a result of a fracture of the skull. Death was due, the doctor said, to the fracture and lacerated brain tissue.

Motorman's Evidence.

Motorman Lloyd Redmond, who was in charge of the street car, next testified. He said the smash occurred 150 feet south of King street. "I was going south; the motor car was on the west side of the road. The street car was going about 12 miles an hour. It was very dark and the lights on the street were not very good. Some of the street lights near the accident were out. The street lamp

NORTHUMBERLAND GRITS QUIT THE FIELD FOLLOWING CLARKE

SAM CLARKE M.P.P., DECLINED NOMINATION AFTER CONSIDERING IT FOR A WEEK—MAJORITY AT CONVENTION IMBUED WITH SAME OPINIONS.

MINORITY WANTED CHANCE

WARKWORTH, Oct. 26.—Sam Clarke's rejection today of the Liberal nomination which was tendered him a week ago, and which he took a week to ponder, was a determining factor in the party's decision at their adjourned convention here this afternoon not to make the Northumberland contest a three-cornered against Milton E. Maybee the Conservative and Fred J. Slade the candidate of the U.F.O.

Mr. Clarke talked for half an hour. His address was simply a rehash of his comments at the previous session on the political and economic problems of this year of grace, with the anxiously awaited announcement that after carefully surveying the situation and his party's nomination he had concluded that it would be inadvisable to project himself into Northumberland's federal ring. With expressions of deep regret he declined to stand election.

"Things Cant' Be Worse

Mr. Clarke's discussion of the approaching contest from its local and federal aspects was still set to the mournful note he sounded a week ago on his return from the west.

"The world is out of joint; things couldn't be worse than they have been; the Liberals are last getting into action; if we go in Mr. Maybee will be elected; I simply can't go into those townships where I have always got big majorities and oppose them; things couldn't be worse; if the Liberals don't put a man in the field I'll vote for Fred Slade." Such was the burden of Mr. Clarke's speech, and his sentiments were echoed by other prominent Liberals including J. F. Langdon of Brighton, W. A. Smith of Murray township and others, until the fighting spirit of Liberalism envinced last Wednesday all but vanished in the fog of expediency.

Minority Protested

A minority of the convention strenously protested against the defeatist opinions and against the abandonment of the progressive cause to the U.F.O.

"This will be the death blow to Liberalism in Northumberland county' said C. H. Curtis of Warkworth.

Sam Dudley of Cobourg, soldier and Liberal candidate in 1917, saw nothing but defeat but he hated to mark a ballot for the U.F.O. or Conservative candidate.

"When the U.F.O. grabs what we have held forth for years" he said, "what right have we to turn around and support them. Our wives and the young people who cast their

JAPANESE DECIDE TO EVACUATE SIBERIA.

TOKIO, October 27 (Canadian Press). — The intention of the Japanese Government to evacuate Siberia, turning over the responsibility for peace to the Merkuloff Government at Vladivostock at an early date is anonunced by the War Office, in confirming the report printed in the Hochi Shimbun that Japan would be impelled to carry out the evacuation prior to the opening of the Washington Conference, because of the alleged insincere attitude of the Chita administration in the Dairen Conference.

WHITE LAUNDRY BAG IS A CLUE TO MAIL THEFT

NOW BELIEVED MEN WHO HELD UP TRUCK ON BROADWAY GOT GREATEST HAUL IN POSTAL HISTORY.

FEAR THEY WILL DESTROY NON-NEGOTIABLE SECURITIES

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.— (Canadian Press.)—A white muslin laundry bag used to muffle the head of the driver yesterday became the clue upon which postal authorities hope to track down perpetrators of Monday night's mail truck robbery, now believed to have been the richest haul in the history of mail thefts. Postal authorities said the fact that the bag was used by the robbers was not explained by Frank Havranick, the driver of the truck, until to-day.

In the absence of complete figures, being compiled by a force of nearly fifty postal clerks, the belief gained ground in official circles that the loss would exceed $1,000,000.

Postal officials learned that the bulk of the stolen securities were non-negotiable and hence useless to the robbers and likely to be destroyed as worthless. Scores of Federal operatives and city police were making every effort to lay hands on the precious packages before their nature was discovered by the thieves.

Stock Exchange tickers broke all records in carrying itemized lists of stocks and bonds reported lost by banks and brokerage houses of the financial district. At the same time, well defined reports were circulated that a "very large amount" of currency was in one of the sacks. The lists carried on the tickers supported the theory that the total loss would reach the million mark.

While many theories of how the daring robbery was planned and executed continued to be advanced, postal investigators prosecuted their inquiry in the belief that the three robbers must have received accurate information of the shipment. They worked on the theory that the plot involved some present or recent employee of the City Hall post office, where the looted truck was loaded before starting up Broadway.

Insurance men advanced the theory that the hold-up was connected in some way with the recent mail robbery in Toledo, Ohio, and pointed out that several members of the gang, who appeared there, were still at liberty. Descriptions of these men have been circulated through the metropolitan district in the hope of picking up some of them.

The laundry bag which focused the interest of the investigators is about 18 inches long and 30 inches wide and is equipped with drawstrings. Havranick said his assailants threw it over his head before they removed the sacks of registered mail from the truck. He also told the authorities that a second automobile figured in the hold-up. "The party will confine its immediate efforts to perfecting its organization in the confident hope that it may prepare the ground upon which the political power of the workers may be eventually unified upon a national basis, and lay the foundation of an organization in which, linked up with a movement from coast to coast, unhappy local feuds may be forgotten," Mr. Dickie says.

CANADIAN WOOLS MOVING STEADILY

OTTAWA, Ont., October 27. — Canadian Press. — Canadian wools are moving steadily in all but the ower grades. More movement in coarse, low combing and low medium combing has been expected for some time but has not yet materialized. Some low mediums are selling but rather slowly. Quotations have not changed range from 19c to 20c for fine medium down to 10c for coarse. The Boston market is reported as having been rather quiet during the past week, apparently because of the lack of optimism shown by the clothing manufacturers. Another government wool sale is to be held there shortly. The English market reports activity but with no increase in prices.

"SATISFACTORY SETTLEMENT" ONLY CAN AVERT STRIKE, SAY CHIEFS OF RAILROAD UNIONS

Sustain Briand By 195 Majority

PARIS, Oct 27.—(Canadian Press).—The policies of the cabinet of Premier Briand were sustained by the Chamber of Deputies last night when a vote of confidence resulted in 381 votes in favor of the government to 186 against it

The vote of confidence in Premier Briand's Cabinet is taken as an indication that he will head the French delegation to the coming conference on limitation of armaments and Far Eastern questions in Washington. Earlier in the present debate, the French premier strongly hinted that unless he were given a majority of at least 100 votes he would feel that he would not be backed up by the French nation at the conference table. He even ndicated that unless such a majority were given him he might not attend the conference at all. Last night's vote gave him a majority of 195 votes.

TELL RAILWAY LABOR BOARD ORDER TO CANCEL SIRIKE WOULD NOT, IN THEIR OPINION, BE OBEYED.

INJUNCTION PROCEEDINGS AGAINST UNIONS LIKELY

CHICAGO, Oct 27—(Canadian Press).—Executives of the Big Four Brotherhoods and the Switchmen's Union of North America, after a day of verbal jockeying, with the United States Railroad Labor Board declared late yesterday, that no power on earth save a "satisfactory settlement" can prevent their men walking out next Sunday morning at six o'clock.

Their declaration came at the close of a day of fruitless questioning, when Judge R. M. Barton, Chairman of the Labor Board, called each union president in turn and asked him four prepared questions, the third of which was:

"If the Board shall declare a strike is not justified and should not occur and direct that the employes do not strike, will that order be obeyed?"

The union chiefs, Warren S Stone of the Engineers, W. G. Lee, of the Trainmen, L. E. Sheppard of the Conductors; W. S. Carter, of the Firemen, and T C. Cashen of the Switchmen, declared in turn they had no power to cancel the strike order, expressed the individual opinion that their men would not obey an order from them or the Board to remain at work;; and reiterated their previous declarations that only a "satisfactory settlement" could avert the walkout.

Such a settlement, they said, would be reconsideration by the Labor Board of its twelve per cent. wage reduction order of last July 1, or a movement by the individual railroads to confer with the unions and set aside the Board's order.

W. S. Carter declared a settlement should also reimburse the men for the pay lost since July 1, as a result of the wage cut.

The other three questions asked the union leaders were:

"Who, or what authority, in your labor organization, can withdraw the order to strike or stop a strike?"

"Suppose you, the chief executive of your organization or your executive committee issued an order or a statement that a strike should not occur, do you not believe the strike would be prevented?

"Will you, as chief executive, use your power and influence to see that the orders of the Board on the matter be obeyed?"

That the government contemplates injunction proceedings against the unions for violation of the Transportation Act was indicated by the trend of questioning, conducted by Ben. W. Hooper, representative of the public on the Board.

Hooper sought throughout his examination of the five union leaders to bring out that their strike order was not only in defiance of the July wage cut decision, but, by including other and unsettled questions violated that part of the Transportation Act which says all disputes "shall" be referred to the Board first for settlement.

Lee of the Trainmen, said his organization's ballot was based solely on the July 1, wage cut, and declared he had withdrawn from the Brotherhoods "joint meeting and refused to subscribe to their ballots The language of the joint ballot he said, implied other questions were involved.

The other leaders defended the joint ballot and asserted that the other questions referred to all had a bearing on the frame of mind which led the employes to vote for a strike.

HEAVY DAMAGE BY 100 MILES AN HOUR GALE

EAST COAST OF FLORIDA SWEPT BY WORST TROPICAL STORM IN ITS HISTORY

VILLAGE WIPED OUT; DAMAGE MANY MILLIONS

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 27th. Canadian Press. — The entire water front of St .Petersburg, was wiped out by the Gulf storm on Thursday. It was the worst gale that the city has ever experienced, according to a message received by the Times-Union last night.

The message which was sent by a resident of St. Petersburg, who went by automobile to Brooksville, said that Passagrille was also reported to be wiped out. "St. Petersburg," the message added, "is badly damaged, and observations coming through say that 90 per cent. of the citrus fruit is gone. All previous storms were no comparison. Town in total darkness for at least three days."

FORT MYERS, Fla., via Punta Rassa Cable Station, October 27.—Local railroad officials said that this city would be without transportation service for three days. The highways out of Fort Myers are almost impassable and many of the houses in Punta Rassa were either badly damaged or washed away.

FORT MYERS, Florida, via Punta Rassa Cable station, Oct. 27. — Canadian Press. — The fiercest gale this section has known in several years raged here for 36 hours beginning at midnight on Monday, and attaining a maximum velocity of 100 miles an hour. Transportation services were prostrated while the property loss for Lee County is expected to total well over a million dollars. Reports from Sanabel and Captiva Islands said that water covered the entire island. Estero Island, near here, on which two beach resorts are located, was badly damaged, the cottages and other buildings being wrecked.

Northcliffe Says Anglo-Jap Pact Prevents a Solution in Pacific

LONDON, October 27. Canadian Press. — The Anglo-Japanese alliance "undoubtedly is the dominating factor which now prevents an unfettered attempt by Great Britain, Japan and the United States to solve the problems of the Pacific," declared Lord Northcliffe to a Reuter correspondent, who interviewed the noted British publisher in Hong Kong yesterday. The interview was cabled to London to-day.

According to the correspondent's despatch, Lord Northcliffe gave as a reason for his opinion that the alliance placed the United States "outside of the very definite arrangements for the control of China."

"During the last two years," the publisher is quoted as having said, "I have been gradually coming to the conclusion that the Anglo-Japanese alliance has outrun its usefulness. Japan faithfully carried out the compact during the war, and she should be well rewarded for her services. The purpose of the Washington conference is to reach a mutual agreement but hte United States is handicapped by arrangement already made by Japan and Great Britain concerning the chief problem of the Pacific.

"It cannot assist in establishing co-operation as a means of helping China out of the present chaos, and it prevents reconelliation of the diverging interests of Japan and the United States. At present China can not give satisfactory national guarantees, so there is urgent necessity for making international assistance to China a practical possibility.

"I hold that there can be no solution of the Pacific problem which does not rest on the solid foundation of Anglo-American friendship and co-operation. Unfortunately, the Anglo-Japanese alliance has been prolonged beyond the point where it is understood by the Americans or is liked by the Chinese."

ARMISTICE DAY.

Although a number of Canadian cities are carrying out their Armistice Day celebrations on November 11th, which is, of course, the actual anniversary of the cessation of hostilities, the demonstration in Peterborough will take place on November 7th, the holiday set aside by the Dominion Government for this purpose. The memorial service, unveiling of the cenotaph and other features arranged by the G.W.V.A. in co-operation with other local bodies, will all be held on Monday, November 7th. At the same time, however, the people of Peterborough are reminded of the fact that on November 11th at 11 o'clock all activities are to be suspended for two minutes as a tribute to the memory of the gallant lads who gave up their lives in the great war. This is a form of memorial in which every citizen can co-operate, and there should be a general observance of the King's request. Last year the occasion was not as generally marked as its historic significance warranted, and Peterborough should do better on November 11th.

EDUCATION NEEDED.

One thing that Peterborough people have yet to learn and that the Police Department should lose no time in teaching them is to avoid crowding at public events. This was painfully in evidence during the visit of the French exposition train yesterday, when there was an altogether unnecessary amount of jostling and shoving because everybody tried to get into the train at once. Some attempt was made to form a queue, but the effort was unsuccessful because late-comers instead of falling in at the end of the line persisted in wedging themselves in at the sides. The crowd was not of such proportion as to warrant any such confusion if the simple expedient of making the people line up in pairs and of forcing new arrivals to take their places at the rear had been adopted. This plan is successfully followed at big football games and other similiar events in Toronto, and although the queue may be several blocks long there is no crowding, the tickets are sold quickly, and time as well as annoyance is saved. The Police Department should carry out an educational campaign along this line, both to save themselves much unnecessary work and for the benefit of the public. Such education would seem to be rather badly needed here.

THE HECKLER.

An election figure that is more common in England than in Canada is the heckler, the individual who interrupts the speakers of the opposition forces and adds a human interest note in what otherwise might be a very dry meeting. The heckler is increasing in numbers in Canadian political campaigns, and we will likely have an opportunity to study him at close range during the contest now under way. When he is a close student of political affairs his remarks from the audience are sometimes very effective; on the other hand, when he knows little or nothing of the issue, he is very likely to be an unmitigated nuisance. We have some of both types in Peterborough, and may expect to hear from them at the meetings that are to be held. Some speakers thrive on heckling. The Premier is one who does and generally contrives to turn the question into a boomerang that comes back and hits the disturber. Hon. Mackenzie King also handles hecklers very effectively. On the contrary, Hon. Mr. Crerar, the Progressive leader, dislikes to be interrupted and has been known to ask his audience not to interject disturbing remarks. In England heckling at political meetings is taken as a matter of course, and the indications are that before long the same condition will apply in this country.

AN UNUSUAL TRIBUTE.

Theatrical events very rarely succeed in securing a place in the editorial columns of a newspaper, so that the following reference to Walter Hampden, famous Shakesperian actor who is to be seen here on Saturday, which appears as an editorial in a recent edition of the Boston Post, is rather a unique tribute:

"Of the very few actors in America today who are still carrying the glowing torch of Shakesperian genius, the best by general agreement is Walter Hampden, who is now on the last week of an engagement of extraordinary interest and stimulation at the Arlington Theatre in this city.

"Mr. Hampden deliberately turned his back upon a brilliant career as leading man under prominent managers to devote his art, his energies and his ambitions to the portrayal of the great characters of the greatest of all playwrights. It is said of him—and we cannot doubt it—that he is not lured by any dreams of wealth, but would be and is content if he can earn a modest livelihood by the presentation of great classics. Such actors are none too common; they deserve the support of the discerning public—which is always numerous enough to amply repay at least a few figures on the stage who aim at the highest marks."

The post was probably led to publishing this unusual reference to Mr. Hampden because of its appreciation of his efforts to elevate the stage in these days of bed-room farces, boudoir plays, cheap wit, lace and lingerie; an actor who believes that the master pieces of the stage still should have a place merits the assistance of those who are able to differentiate between merit and "hokum." It is to be hoped that the coming of Mr. Hampden to Peterborough in "The Taming of the Shrew" will be welcomed by an audience that will show that this city appreciates the best that the theatre can give us.

THE FARMER AND THE INCOME TAX.

The publication of the income tax returns for the fiscal year 1920-21 has occasioned a good deal of surprise and speculation as to why so numerous and, to all appearances prosperous, a portion of our population as the agrarians have contributed so little to the revenue derived from this source.

The returns show that the income tax yielded a total of $46,381,806, of which amount the farmers paid only $611,736. Striking as is the disproportion between their numbers and the amount of their contribution to the revenue, the figures are startling when the returns from the several Provinces are analyzed. They are as follows:

Prince Edward Island	$ 2,279
Nova Scotia	5,605
New Brunswick	1,197
Quebec	18,286
Ontario	40,974
Total for E. Provinces	$ 68,341
Manitoba	$145,906
Saskatchewan	165,032
Alberta	127,722
British Columbia	104,707
Total for W. Provinces	$543,367

The surprising feature of these returns is that so little of the $611,736 was collected in Eastern Canada, which contains more than two-thirds of our population. The total for the great Provinces of Ontario and Quebec and the Maritime Provinces is very little more than one-third the amount contributed by Saskatchewan alone, and even considerably less than the sum collected from the Province of British Columbia, which is not regarded as a farming country comparable to Ontario or Quebec.

Anyone who has motored through Ontario must have been struck with the evidences of thrift, comfort, and prosperity on very many of the farms. The dwellings in many respects are equal to those of city people in comfortable circumstances, the outbuildings are of a substantial character, the farm machinery is up-to-date, the farm stock sleek and well cared for, and most of the farmers keep an automobile, and many of them motor trucks besides. How does it happen that a population which shows such unmistakable evidences of prosperity makes such a poor showing in the income tax returns as compared with other classes of the population and even in comparison with the farmers in the new Provinces west of the Great Lakes?

One explanation is that a man may be a prosperous farmer and yet not be subject to the payment of income tax. Take as an illustration the case of a farmer with a family of five children who makes a return showing an income of $3,300. From this are deducted certain amounts for dependent children, for products consumed on the farm, and depreciation on buildings, machinery and stock.

The exemption for five children amounts to $1,000. For products consumed on the farm the deduction is, say, $500, and for general expenses such as taxes, wages, etc., $400. If he has $5,000 worth of farm buildings apart from his residence, there is a deduction of $250, being five per cent. for depreciation. If he has $2,000 worth of machinery and four workhorses valued at $600, the depreciation allowed at the rate of 10 per cent. amounts to $260. These items added up make a total of $2,410 to be deducted from his income of $3,500, and the balance is below the taxable minimum, though he may be saving $1,500 a year. He can be properly regarded as a prosperous farmer and yet be exempt from the payment of income tax.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Babe Ruth has gone hunting, and if it is trouble he is hunting for probably Judge Landis will be able to accomodate him.

The management of the French train have paid the Canadian people to high a compliment as linguists. Most of the cards on the exhibits are in French and the majority of the people who saw the train yesterday were handicapped as a result.

An exchange suggests that much of the trouble between capital and labour is caused by the people who try to secure capital without labour.

COMMUNITY GATHERINGS

There is no earthly fate that can harm people who meet and sing joyously together. They are proof against all the ills of the earth, and these community gatherings for that reason are the firmest anchor to windward that the American cities could possibly put down. And nothing better could be done to make the people better realize the beauty and the serviceableness of their parks, and the value of one another's company, than these admirable community gatherings.

A NEW METHOD OF DIAGNOSIS

The osteopathic diagnosis differs from all other methods in that, in addition to the taking of your pulse, listening to your heart sounds and testing the lung resonance, and that of the various other regions of the body, taking the blood pressure, making an urinalysis, making, or having made, in indicated cases a count and analysis of the blood, etc., etc., (classical procedures all) he has a further and whichconsists in a careful inspection and palpation (feeling) of the spine; tracing it with fingers rendered by long practice as sensitive in their touch as the fingers of the blind; testing out each separate joint as to its mobility, as to any change in the temperature of the tissues around it, or any variation in their densisty; determining the exact relation of each little spinal bone with the one above and the one below it; inspecting and diagnosing the condition of the other body joints, together with the condition of the skin and the fascia and the muscles under it.

All this constitutes a method which, in its entirety and its thoroughness, is singularly unique and especially peculiar to the Osteopathic profession. No such thorough, complete and painstaking methods are ever employed by any other sort of practician.

The Osteopathic methods of adjustment which he applies to the abnormalities his diagnosis finds, in their simpleness, thoroughness and unrivalled effectiveness, their ease and gentleness, defy either imitation or duplication; but all that is another story, as Mr. Kipling would tell us, first votes in this election will vote either U.F.O. or Conservative. How many of them would vote Liberal four years from now?"

NORTHUMBERLAND GRITS QUIT FIELD

What of the Future

J. N. Stone tried to stem the tide started by Mr. Clarke's withdrawal and his gratuitous advice with the assertion that the Liberals had as good a chance of winning as any of the other parties, that the future of Liberlism was in the balance and should be safeguarded, but his argument availed nothing when the three men proposed a substitute nominees withdrew in full accord with Mr. Clarke's conclusion that "if we nominate a candidate we would be only helping somebody (the Conservative candidate) whose election would not be in the interest of the great majority."

The Proposed Substitutes

After Mr. Clarke had delivered his decision, the President, J. D. Hayden of Cobourg, proceeded with the convention from that point. Dr. W. J. Robertson of Colborne, Sam Dudley and Mr. Hayden were proposed but they retired and with them went the diehard's last hope of getting into the fight.

What Might Have Been

"We have no chance now" said W. H. Smith of Murray township. "We frittered away our time when we should have been first in the field. If Mr. Clarke was nominated we might just as well promise to vote for Mr. Maybee."

In the same key was a remark from the hall "If we can't get whiskey, give us beer," with an implication of willingness to accept "something just as good."

Dr. Robertson who was mentioned as next in line to Mr. Clarke, but who refused to accept nomination at this time said that it was a shame the Liberal party had to give away to others. "Our duty is to talk as Liberals. We have no right to talk of chosing between two evils. Slade came to the County Council and solicited the members for the wardenship. He got there on the vote of the Liberal members. I say that a man ought to consider who put him where he is today. We are not here to vote for the Conservative party or the U.F.O.

Proud of Leaders

Mr. Hayden in declining the nomination, made a sharp reply to J. J. Morrison's reflections on the integrity of the Liberal leaders.

"The U.F.O. secretary has said more than once that the leaders of both the old parties had sucked eggs" I'd like the pleasure of telling J. J. Morrison that Brown Blake and Mowat and Fielding and Laurier and the Liberal leader never were egg-suckers. No man who knows the history of Canada would dare to besmirch our leaders."

Was not Dilatory.

Mr. Clarke explained that in justice to Mr. Stone, late president of the Reform Association, he was in no way to blame for any delay in getting early into the contest, Mr. Clarke said he had been urged repeatedly and early in the campaign to stand for election. "I think I have been as big an obstacle as any one," said Mr. Clarke.

THE NOBILITY AND DIGNITY OF FARM LABOR.

First Prize - Winning Speech of Evelyn McMurray, Douro, in Speaking Contest at Warsaw School Fair.

DOURO, Oct. 27.—The following is the speech of Evelyn McMurray S.S. No. 5, Douro, which won first prize in the speaking contest at the Warsaw School Fair.

As it is my privilege to speak today, I have chosen for my subject the nobility and dignity of farm labor.

"How very often we hear people, especially from the cities speak of the misery and monotony of farm life. The reason of this is what they have no experience and know not what they are talking about. If they did they would never consider farm work dull or monotonous. How could it be so as a farmer's work is ever changing it must need be so to keep with the changing seasons, and it has always to do with life both animal and vegetable. He sees the inner working of nature from the fountain head. He plows the fields and plants the good seed in the land first. He sees the blade and then the full grown grain in the ear develop. He works under the blue dome of heaven, cheered by the freshness of the green earth and the music of the singing birds. In every leaf and flower he sees proof of the great love of His Creator. Then again there is always a chance to advance on the farm as over 60 per cent. of the farm owners have once been hired help or their fathers before them. Has any one ever heard of a miner becoming a mine owner, or a railway man becoming a railway director? Very seldom we hear of a factory worker becoming a manufacturer. No, indeed, and if you want monotony and depressing sameness go into the soul of our large cities or hives of industry. There the division of labour is brought to such a pitch where men are engaged year in and year out making holes and driving pegs into them, and all such work. They rarely see the finished article, they dont know what it is like and most of them do not care while all the time they look upon the same dead walls and are deafened by the same endless clang of wheels, or sickened by the same factory smell.

We also hear all sort of remedies telling us how to keep boys and girls on the farm. Now this should not be necessary, as any sensible youth or maiden should consider themselves thrice blest that their home is in the country, and that it is not necessary for them to go to the grimy city to eke out a living for God made the coutry and man the city. Why, there are times in the country when one single day is worth years of city life. Some people dislike a rainy day on the farm, but their we must have rain, and can anything be more beautiful than sunshine after rain. Of course, there is plenty of mud, but even the very mud is clean. You dont have to drag your feet thru slush that has been attached to a thousand different feet and instead of inhaling the odor of cigars smoked by all kinds of men we inhale the pure country air which goes to make up health and strength. The most menial task performed on the farm is filled with dignity, as the whole world is dependent on the farmer for its food, and, therefore, farmers should ever remember the nobility and importance of their position and know that:—

"In all pomp and splendour
Of any army on parade,
And through all the smoke of battle
That the fighting men have made.

In halls where jewels glisten
And where learned men debate
In palaces where rulers deal out honors to the great,
There is not a single person would be doing business now,
Or wear medals,
If it wasn't for the man behind the plow."

SALTS IN HOT WATER CLEARS PIMPLY SKIN

Says we must make kidneys clean the blood and pimples disappear.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generally in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities ad clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

One of the day's developments which served to intensify the fear of officials that the robbers might destroy that part of their loot which they could not convert into cash, was the finding of 25 registered letters, believed to have been part of the plunder. The letters were found in a vacant lot in the Bronx. They were turned over to the police.

LEGLESS BODY RE-IDENTIFIED

WOMAN SAYS BODY TWICE ERRONEOUSLY IDENTIFIED IS THAT OF DAUGHTER.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(Canadian Press.)—The legless body of the murdered woman found last Saturday in a pool of rainwater in Long Island City was re-identified late yesterday as that of Mrs. Dolly Bailey Higgins, of this city.

Last Monday Mrs. Mary Bullard, sister of Mrs. Higgins, viewed the body and declared it was Dolly's but a few hours later Higgins visited the morgue and denied the remains were those of his wife. The body on two other occasions had been erroneously identified, once by by a captain of marines as that of a girl who had complained to him that one of his men had wronged her, and again by a Jersey City woman giving a fictitious address, who declared she recognized the face of a former domestic, Bertha Becker.

The re-identification was made by Mrs. Anna Bailey of Brooklyn, mother of Mrs. Higgins, who was accompanied to the morgue by Mrs. Helen Otto of Brooklyn and Omer Dennis of East New York, both of whom also identified the corpse and said they had known Mrs Higgins a score of years.

"That's Dolly, my poor Dolly!" cried Mrs. Bailey. "Poor girl! I demand the arrest of a man in connection with this brutal act."

The she gave the police the name of a man whom she said "knows all about poor Dolly." She also asked the arrest of his brother, a physician.

Mrs. Bailey said Mrs. Higgins had left home two years ago and she hadn't heard a thing from her until Mrs. Bullard made her identification Monday.

LARGE NUMBER OF PRISONERS BEING HELD AT KINGSTON

SAID TO BE LARGEST AT ANY TIME IN 45 YEARS

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

KINGSTON, Oct. 26. — It was stated to-day that there are 820 prisoners in the Portsmouth Penitentiary, and that this is the largest number confined in the big prison at any one time in the last forty-five years.

It is stated that the suspension of the operation of the Ticket of Leave Act passed in 1899 has a great deal to do with the conditions. The Ticket of Leave Act, it is claimed, was a great reformative force, while at the same time it tended to keep down expenditures. By this Act, young men who were first offenders were allowed out. Representations made by the Dominion Association of Chiefs of Police is given as the cause of the change in the policy.

The importance of the parole law is realized when the announcement is made that about 60 per cent. of the prisoners in the "Pen." are very young men, the majority of whom have never been in prison before.

ARE YOU PLANNING A HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Hallowe'en affords an excuse for the jolliest of fall dinners and parties of all kinds, formal or informal, and there are always plenty of new and original decorations and afvors that tell its old story in a new way, which makes them worth while. An expensive party is not always the one which gives the most pleasure; it is witty and original ideas which count more than the actual outlay. The odd prizes and decorations made at home or personally designed are the ones that make the biggest sensation among the guests.

A lantern feast is a good name for a dinner party planned in this way: Send out invitations in the form of little yellow and black lanterns. For decorations use the pumpkin lanterns, green squash lanterns, big cat and witch lanterns, which are fighted only through the green eyes, and the skeleton lanterns that are dense black, excepting where the light shines through the bones. A few yellow Chinese lanterns may be used if desired, or yellow bulbs and shades may be put over electric lights if more light is needed.

For flower decorations use, where available, cornstalks and field grasses, or if these are not to be found use yellow flowers and greenery of some sort. Among the greens hang some of the Chinese wind bells that tinkle mysteriously with each passing breeze. Whenever small witches cats, brooms, half-moons and so on are hung use heavy black thread that does not show to hang them up by.

In the dining room, surround the table with small pumpkin lanterns, and decorate with yellow flowers. Use a plain yellow linen centrepiece and doylies, placing in the centre a gray paper wasps' nest Jack Horner pie filled with appropriate favors. Use paper service plates painted black, and if possible, yellow plates. At each place lay a bunch of paper pumpkin blossoms tied with black ribbons with a witch place-card attached.

Hollow out pumpkin shells, or use paper ones for celery, olives and other relishes. A quarter of a pumpkin shell, paper lined, makes a decorative bread boat. Before each plate set a small yellow candle melted to stand upright in a walnut shell. Do not light the candle until dinner is over. Then a big bowl of water is brought on and the candles lighted and silently named, go forth to meet their fate, either sinking gto the bottom and burying their owner's hopes, or sailing along merrily beside their chosen companion. The uncertainty of the crafts' antics makes a lot of fun.

Following the dinner a black domino dance may be enjoyed. Every one brings his or her domino. Some are gayly decorated and others are plain. After dinner the guests go to the dressing rooms and don their disguises.

Others invited for the evening swell the crowd annd make the distinguishing of the dinner crowd almost impossible. The masks are lifted at midnight, when a few of the old fate tricks may be tried

These tricks are fairly well known, though they differ in the various localities and countries. A little delving into the customs of England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland will unearth a number of them.

For the evening refreshments, little well-made and highly seasoned sandwiches with coffee and witch cakes with some punch will be sufficient. The cakes are variously frosted and ornamented in appropriate ways, and the punch made with ginger ale and vichy instead of plain water.

The dinner service will depend upon locality, help and the amount available to spend upon it. It should not exceed five courses under any condition. Individual service always makes things more attractive, and in the end lessens the work of serving.

A Russian relish dish may take the place of the soup. On the half a stuffed egg, a wee caviar sandwich, a little cut cabbage with a peppery dressing, a sardine, a slice of pepper with a cheese stuffing, two little shrimp fritters, and two or three sorts of pickle will be sufficient. The relish is novel and interesting.

The Small Boy in Peterboro Plans Break Loose on Hallowe'en Night

The Pump Handle, Front Gate and Sundry Others Things Will Be On The Missing List The Morning After

Once more it is Hallowe'en season Every year this festival seems to gain in popularity. Of course, it was always popular with the younger element. On the 31st of October, it was never safe to leave anything movable around the premises, that is, anything of value. You were liable to find a gaping chasm where your gate used to be, and the gate itself sitting astride the barn peak. The pumps, in the days when there used to be pumps, would be minus a handle next morning, as likely as not, it wasn't safe to leave stray chairs or step-ladders, in fact, any small object, around the premises, and your bell was used all evening by masked and painted prowlers who stood politely blinking while you talked to them and broke into loud whoops and shrieks of laughter as they wandered off.

An epidemic of black and orange runs riot around this date. Everywhere you see the two colors. The Peterboro stores use them for all sorts of garnishments, crepe paper fancies, orange backgrounds with black cutouts of hard-riding witches and one local establishment has achieved an attractive effect with sheaves of wheat and pumpkins and long streamers of the two omnipresent shades. Another uses leaves for decoration, lovely leaves in autumn colors with gilded edges, in massed, bountiful numbers.

In the bookstores, there are all sorts of things for Hallowe'en, place cards and invitation blanks, seals, cutouts, grinning skulls, bats, and black cats, and the grey-haired toothless lady who rides the wind on an agile broom-stick. She shakes a taloned finger against a ruddy moon at an unfortunate spitting feline imprisoned in a monstrous cobweb and pursues an uncanny black bat down long stretches of orange crepe decorative paper. Fat goblins with skinny legs smile at you from lanterns and favors and dinky little candle shades, or prance with jolly pumpkins on a white walled paper, merry spirites wend their mischievous winking way amongst all sorts of bonbon dishes with fluted edges, tall, pointed caps in black and orange, where wide-eyed owls hover on long branches. In a word, the art of the draughtsman, and painter and cartoonist are awaiting your pleasure at Hallowe'en time, when a wave of Halowe'en teas, parties and masquerades seems to sweep over the land. Everything of a social nature these days partakes of the mystic spell of the Hallowe'en rites, and everywhere is the black and orange of the popular fancy.

Decorations for Hallowe'en Parties

Most of the costumes are suitable not only for youngsters who go from house to house in the early evening in quest of nuts and other eatables, but may also be worn by old or young at Hallowe'en parties held in club house, gymnasiums, churches and other large buildings.

For Hallowe'en parties of any kind the decorations are important; the need may be met by the elaborate use of corn stalks, pumpkin, lanterns, and paper decorations. Some of the latter may be purchased at slight expense in the form of snakes, skeletons and skulls. Large places, like gymnasiums, barns and clubhouses, can literally be transformed into a miniature woods by covering the floor to a depth of six or eight inches with leaves, hiding the walls with stalks of corn containing the ears, and with branches from trees covered with colored leaves, and by stringing from wires overhead small ored lights interspersed in the leaves branches with the leaves. Small coloverhead produce a delightful woodsy effect. In a residence the decorations must perforce be on a smaller scale, but the same general effect may be produced in the same way. Black cats, wriggly snakes in realistic colors, moving skeletons, skulls lighted on the inside by candles—all contribute to the "spooky" effect when skillfully used. Crepe paper centerpieces for the dining-room table may even carry the Hallowe'en effect to the serving of refreshments.

That everybody who attends a Hallowe'en party shall be en masque goes almost without saying. While the art of applying colors to the face to form subtle lines of light and shade or to disguise the features by bringing out this characteristic or lessening that is known and practised by some, others prefer quicker and less troublesome methods of keeping their identity a secret. For these the knocked-out tooth, the missing eye and the putty nose offer the easiest way out.

"Knocking out" one or more teeth, as the process is technically known, is very easy indeed. Black court-plaster is cut to a size to cover the tooth to be removed, applied —and the trick is done.

The missing eye is more difficult, but more effective. First cut out a piece of court-plaster large enough to cover the bony socket. Fold the court plaster large enough to cover the bony socket. Fold the court-plaster and cut an oval-shaped hole in the centre; this will enable the "one-eyed" person to see with both eyes and to judge distances better than is possible with only a single eye; at the same time the observer is unable to tell the difference. Dampen the court plaster and while the eye is open press the plaster down firmly around the edges. The wearer can then pass anywhere as one-eyed.

With a little putty that prominent feature, the nose, can be made lop-sided or enlarged or otherwise maltreated at will. Warm the putty to make it work easily, wet the fingers to prevent it from sticking, place a dab of suitable size on the end of the nose, and mold it into the shade desired. Work the edges carefully so there will not be a ride where the putty merges into the skin. Then carefully cover the skin and putty with a dark sunburn colored grease apint and carefully rub it in. Removing the putty may be a painful and slow process unless the right method is used. The best way is to take a twine string. Place the middle of the string across the bridge of the nose at the putty line, bring the ends down alongside the nose at the edge of the putty, tie a slip knot beneath the nostrils, pull on the ends of the string, and the putty nose will be painlessly pinched off in one piece.

Making up the face well is very difficult without a few materials; the most important are grease paints of several standard colors, a bottle of spirit gum, some black and white court plaster, a yard of crepe hair —for beards and bushy eyebrows— and a bottle of cold cream for use in removing paints. A small kit of these materials, well selected, can be purchased from any costume house for about a dollar.

Incidentally, it is interesting to know that cold cream is much cheaper when bought by the pound than when purchased in small jars.

How to Use Grease Paint.

The grease paints are applied by rubbing them in well until the skin appears smooth; they do not injure the skin in the least. Cold cream—never water and soap—must be used in removing grease paints; the cream is rubbed well into the face and wiped off with a cloth, this process leaving the skin smooth and clean.

The crepe hair comes in braids suitable for use as hair or beard.

The spirit gum is a liquid used in applying crepe hair to the skin; it can be readily washed off with alcohol or bay rum along with the crepe hair.

An easy method of giving variety to a Hallowe'en party is to allow some group of people—as a class or club—to put on some stunt.

One excellent stunt of this kind is afforded by shadowgraph pictures.

A large sheet is stretched tight in the form of a screen and behind it about four feet high and at a suitable distance, is suspended a strong electric or other light. The actors then put on their stunt between the light and screen. In some fashion that the shadows fall on the screen.

The fun depends upon the ability of the actors to imitate people in the audience or to think up ingenious ideas.

A take-off of the characteristic walk of some person, household difficulties, a quarrel between sweethearts, and a timid young man on his first visit to the manicure, are subjects that have been well handled in shadowgraph pictures.

A stunt of this kind is worth while.

Animal stunts are always popular and have the added advantage of giving full opportunity to those so inclined to work out their own costumes.

Some of the costumes that can be made at home are described below: A leopard costume can be made from any kind of gravish white cloth. The costume really consists of three parts—the body, the tail and the head. The latter is most difficult to make. Use pasteboard or stiff paper covered with white cloth for the nose and face; stuff the lower part with excelsior to aid in keeping the shape. The hood is made exactly like a child's hood slightly pointed at the crown; instead of being cut just to the neck, however, it is better to have a sort of skirt that falls over the shoulders. This skirt should also be brought together in front under the chin; this leaves an oval opening in front for the face, which can be attached by paste or sewing.

The body can be made in the style of a combination sleeeping garment cut large; instead of cutting the arms off at the wrist they should be extended over the hands to serve as paws.

The tail is made from two pieces of cloth each four inches wide and sewed together; excelsior makes suitable stuffing.

It can be sewed to the trunk.

The Lion and the Donkey.

For the lion, mouse-colored Canton flannel is best. Cut the costume so loose that it will hang in big wrinkles. Use an outdoor sleeping costume pattern, extending the arms and legs sufficiently that they may be padded; stitching between the fingers and toes is effective.

The tail is made in the same fashion as for the leopard.

The head is very difficult, indeed, to make at home, and on the whole it is better to rent this part.

In case of need, however, make a mask resembling a lion's face as much as possible. Use red flannel for the tongue and stuff the nose and jaws enough to hold them in place. After adjusting the face throw a sheepskin or goat skin over the neck and fasten it in place.

For the donkey dark gray Canton flannel is the best material. Cut the costume from an overall pattern. As with the leopard and lion, the head is most difficult. Lay the material on the floor and with white chalk draw the outline. Make an opening for the mouth, and for the tongue use red flannel. Stuff the front and lower part of the head with excelsior or rags. Make the ears separately, stiffen them on the inside, put wires around the edges, and sew them on. Then fasten the head on the person being made up. The arms are not long enough for the front legs, but a short stout piece of wood in each hand served admirably for an extension. The make-up of the donkeys is such that the actor is able to perform all sort of funny stunts.

Game With Apples.

A game with apples for this night is to suspend a stick horizontally from the ceiling by means of a string. Place an apple on one end of the stick, a lighted candle on the other. Rotate the stick and try to spring up and catch the apple with the teeth only.

Another idea is to fill a tub with water and place apples in it. The company then tries to catch the apples with the teeth, not using hands for the purpose.

Hallow-day

Hallow-day, according to the dictionary, is the feast of All Hallows or All Saints. Hallow-fair was a market held on All Saints' Day. Hallowe'en was an abbreviation for Alle halowene tyd; All hallows tide, halowene being the Mid English plural for halowe, or halwe; a saint. The eve or vigil of the feast of All Hallows or All Saints. Hallomassrade; the name given to a general assembly of warlocks and witches, formerly believed by the vulgar to have been held at this season.

An ancient writer says: "Hallowe'en is thought to be a night when witches, devils and other mischief-making beings are all abroad on their baneful midnight errands; particularly those aerial people, the Fairies, are said that night to hold a grand anniversary."

Another writer says: "It is clearly a relic of pagan times, a night set apart for the universal walking abroad of spirits, both of the visible and the invisible world, for, one of the special characteristics attributed to this mystic evening, is the faculty conferred on the immaterial principle in humanity to detach itself from its corporal tenement and wander abroad through the realms of space. Divination is then believed to attain its highest power, and the gift asserted by Glendower of calling spirits "from the vasty deep," becomes available to all who choose to avail themselves of the privileges of the occasion. Popular belief also ascribes to people born on this date the possession of mysterious faculties of perception of and conversation with supernatural beings.

The feast is known in the north of England as Nutcrack Night or Snap-apple Night, and authorities declare this to be a curious recrudescence or classic mythology, Druidic belief and Christian superstition. On November 1st, the Romans had a feast to Pomona, the goddess of fruits and seeds, and it was then that the stores laid up in the summer for winter were opened. Hence the appropriateness of the use of nuts and apples. November 1st or thereabouts was also the great autumn feast of the sun which the Druids celebrated in thanks for their harvest. Now, the Druids believed in transmigration, and taught that on the eve of this feast, Saman, Lord of Death, called together the wicked soul that had within the last twelve months been condemned to occupy the bodies of animals. But Saman might be propitiated by means of gifts and incantations to mitigate his sentences.

November 1st was also one of the quartenary periods when the Druids lighted their bonfires in honor of Baal. Each family made its own fire and, as it died, threw in a white stone marked for identification. If the stone was missing in the morning, the owner would die within the year. These fires in Wales were commonly followed by feasting on nuts, apples, parsnips and by games. Nuts were thrown in the fire. If they burned brightly, all would be well within the year, but bad fortune would follow the blackening of the nut.

In some parts of Ireland, October 31st was known as Oidhole Shamhna, the Vigil of Saman, and games with the pulling of hemp, nuts, apples and so forth, were indulged in.

In the Island of Lewis, the name Shamhna or Saman seems to have been corrupted to Shony. Here farmers gather together, bringing huge flagons of ale, which they pour into the sea, to propitiate the god of the waters.

Vallancey, the historian, says: "The first day of November was dedicated to the angel presiding over fruits, seeds, etc., and was therefore named La Mas Ubhal, that is, the day of the apple fruit. Through being pronounced Lamswool, the English have corrupted the name to Lambs-wool, a name which they give to a drink made by bruising roasted apples and mixing them with ale or milk as a drink for this occasion.

A little book, "The Festyvall" (1511) mentions a custom obsolete even then. "We rede," it says, "that in old tyme good people wolde on All halowene daye bake brade and dele it for all crysten soules." The women of Ripon, in Yorkshire, on this night make a cake for everyone in the family, so that it is popularly known as Cake Night. In Warwickshire and elsewhere, the seed cake accompanying Hallowe'en is indicative of the end of wheat seed time. This was general in the time of Thomas Tusser, who thus adjured his spouse:

"Wife, some time this weeke, if the wether hold cleere,
An end of wheat-sowing we make this year.
Remember, therefore, though I do it not,
The Seed-Cake, the Pastie, the Furmentie Pot."
(Five Hundred Points of Good Husbandry, 1580.)

In the Land O' Cakes, where the idea among the little folks is universal that a small brother or sister always arrives by the aid of the fairies, they leave generous piles of 'kail vents' or cabbage stalks on door and window sills so that the fairies within the year will leave another tiny baby at the home. They sing:

"This is the nicht of Hallowe'en
When a' the witches micht be seen;
Some paint them black, some paint them green,
Some think them like the turkey bean."

In Ireland and Scotland, they serve at the evening meal on this occasion, a dish called "call-cannon," made of mashed potatoes, parsnips and chopped onions. Placed in a deep bowl, with melted butter in the centre, it contains a gold ring. The finder will be married within the year. If already married, he will have good luck. Or they make a loaf cake in some parts, with a ring and a key enclosed, the former signifying marriage, the latter a journey.

UNUSUAL NEGLIGEE

The "yoke" extends to the hem in the front but is short and rounded at the back. Deep peach is the color even to the background of the brocaded pattern, which is done in black silhouette.

Ceremonies On Hallowe'en Night Still Enchain The Popular Fancy

"Amang the bonnie, winding banks
Where Doon rins, 'wimplin', clear,
Where Bruce ance ruled the martial ranks,
An' shook his Charrick spear,
Some merry, friendly, countra folks,
Together did convene,
To burn their nuts, an' pou their stocks,
An 'haud their Hallowe'en
Fu 'blythe that night.

So the immortal Burns wrote long, long ago, and the ancient charms and ceremonies still enchain the popular fancy. In his poem, which described the customs of a merry party of Scotch coutryfolk, gathered together an that night, all sorts of incantations are recorded. In several, in which it is broadly hinted that the Old Boy himself has a large part, there is much that might not appeal to popular fancy, but many are continued to this day.

Burning the nuts is a famous charm. They name each particular nut for lad or lass, as they lay them on the fire, and accordingly as they burn quietly together, or start from beside one another, the course and issue of the courtship will be.

Another formula is: Take a candle and go alone to a looking glass, eat an apple before it, and some traditions say that you should comb your hair all the time; the face of your conjugal companion will be seen in the glass, as if peeping over your shoulder.

A Scotch form was as follows: Steal out, all alone, and sow a handful of hemp-seed, harrowing it with anything that you can conveniently draw toward you. Repeat now and then: "Hempseed, I saw thee, hempseed, I saw thee; and him (or her) that is to be my true lover, come after me and pou thee." Look over your left shoulder, and you will see the appearance of the person invoked, in the attitude of pulling hemp.

Another test is to put three nuts upon the bars of the grate, naming them after your lovers. If the nut cracks or jumps, the lover will prove unfaithful, if it blazes and burns, he has regard for the person making the trial, and if they burn together, they will be married.

In Scotland, they go blindfolded and pull stalks of kail or colewort. According as to the stalk is little or big, straight or adhering indicates the amount of fortune or dowry and the taste of the pitch or custoc the temper.

Wet a shirt sleeve, hang it before the fire to dry. Watch the garment in silence, and some time before midnight, your prospective partner in life will come in shadowy form and turn the other side of the sleeve to dry.

Peel a pippin, take the paring by one end, swing it three times about the head, and drop. The initials formed will be those of your future partner in life The spell is supposed to be helped materially by saying

"I pare this pippin round and round again,
My Sweetheart's name to flourish on the plain,
I fling the unbroken paring o'er my head,
My sweetheart's letter on the ground is read."

If one places two cut apple seeds on the lids of the eyes' and names them for two lovers, the one that adheres the longest will be true. One might help matters along possibly by winking, it is true.

Drop the yolk of an egg in water, to form an idea of the trade and tools of your future husband

On this night, a young lady must pluck two roses with long stems, one for herself and one for her lover. Without speaking to anyone go directly to her sleeping-room, remain kneeling while gazing intently at the lover's rose, which is supposed to grow deeper in hue as one repeats this rhyme:

"Twine, twine and intertwine,
Let my love be wholly mine,
If his heart be kind and true,
Deeper grow his rose's hue."

A glass of water, in which a small sliver of wood has been placed, may be set on a small table beside the bed. In the night, you will dream that you are drowning, and your future husband will appear to save you from a watery grave.

PIMPLES AND RASH ON FACE

And Neck. Burned and Itched. Cuticura Healed.

"I had pimples and a sort of rash on my face and neck. They would burn and itch and when I scratched would become red and scaly and peel off. It was hard for me to sleep and I dreaded to go anywhere.

"I heard of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and used them. My face began to get smooth and stopped itching and burning, and when I had used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment for about a month I was healed." (Signed) Miss Cora Lim, R. F. D. 2, Blackfoot, Idaho, Feb. 23, 1920.

MILNE ARRIVED.

MONTREAL, October 27. — G. T. Milne, C.B.B., who will replace Capt. Evan J. Edwards as His Majesty's senior trade commissioner for Canada, Newfoundland and the West Indies, arrived in Montreal yesterday from England, and will resume his duties on Monday next.

MONSTER RACOON BATTLES WITH GIRLS.

BEECH GROVE, October 26. — A monster racoon, weighing more than 20 pounds, recently joined combat with two young girls, who were fishing in Murphy Brook one afternoon. The result of the short but sharp battle was that the girls now have the pelt of one of the largest raccoons ever captured in this district. Attention was first drawn to the animal by the barking of the girls' dog, Nelson, who was getting the worst of a skirmish with what the girls thought to be a bear cub. Thinking the mother bear might be near, they first thought of running for help, but fearing the animal might be gone before they returned, they seized sticks and after a sharp fight, in which the "cub" refused to retire, they succeeded in stunning it. Later the girls rolled the fighting animal into the creek and held its head under water until life was extinct. The fur on the pelt is thick and glossy, in spite of the somewhat early period in the winter.

CARING FOR CANINE PLUTOCRAT

Dr. Jopson, English dental surgeon, caters to a select and exclusive clientele. The patient here is "Billy", a bull terrier, member of one of England's most exclusive canine families and he is having a gold crown fitted. "Billy" eats so many bon bons and other sweetmeats that his molars are in a frightful condition and he and the other "Billy's", "Rovers" and "Fidos" of "his set", make Dr. Jopson's establishment possible.

CITY FATHERS WERE NOT IN INDUSTRIOUS MOOD LAST NIGHT

MAYOR M'INTYRE ASSERTS THAT COLD WATER SHOULD NOT BE THROWN ON BIRMINGHAM MOTORS PROJECT.

PREPARING FOR SNOW.

In Council last evening, Mayor A. A. McIntyre reported that he understood Birmingham Motors, Limited, had purchased the Henry Hope building, South City, in which to start manufacturing their cars here.

Ald. Gordon did not seem so optimistic of this. "Mr. Lederer has the cheque for its purchase, but it has not left his hands yet," he replied.

The Mayor—"I have seen their site and one building in Jamestown, N.Y., and after having looked the company's situation there generally, I don't think we should throw cold water on the Birmingham Motors, Limited, proposition for Peterborough."

And here the matter rested.

In this connection there was no question of endorsing this company's project before Council; it was merely a passing incident arising from Ald. Gordon's optimistic reference to the possibility of several new industries locating in Peterborough at an early date.

But Little Business.

Council was evidently not in an industrious mood last night, and, on suggestion by Ald. Turner, postponed as much business as possible till the monthly meeting, but ten days hence.

Remedy Nuisance.

J. D. McMillan, superintendent of the G.T.R., wrote that he had given explicit instructions to abate the nuisance on Bethune Street caused by shunting at night, complained of by residents adjacent to the Charlotte Street Station. The question of removing the engine house is held over, he said, pending concrete action as to a proposed union station.

Aylmer Street Crossing.

Regarding increased protection at Aylmer Street C.P.R. crossing, the company, in a communication pointing out that they already have a flagman there from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m., enquired just exactly what further protection Council is hoping for. This went to the Railways Committee.

Snow Plowing.

City Engineer Parsons, being insistent that tenders for snow plowing be invited without delay, this will be done in the usual manner, on motion of Ald. Gordon.

Clerk, Board of Health.

T. O. Quartermaine applied for the position of clerk for the local Board of Health. This application and a letter from that body recommending the appointment of such an official, were received and shelved, for the time being at any rate.

Armistice Day.

Council accepted the local G. W. V. A.'s invitation to attend the Armistice Day thanksgiving proceedings at the Armouries on November 7th.

More Lights.

On motion of Ald. Gainey and Crowe, two or three lights will be installed at the eastern end of the Peterborough Cereal Company's dam and Hazlitt Street. This is a dangerously dark spot now on a dark night.

Ald. Phelan Right.

Ald. Phelan complained that following Council's request to Hydro-Electric that street car head-lights be "dimmed," the cars on George and Charlotte Streets are carrying no head-lights at all now. This practice is courting accidents, especially on misty nights, he advanced, as without a head-light, motorists cannot discern which way a street car is travelling. He himself narrowly missed an accident that way. Hydro's attention will be forcefully drawn to this matter.

Bridge in Limelight.

Ald. Hamilton reported that Ald. Turner and he had ordered from the Roy Studio photographs of the new Hunter Street Bridge to send to the Toronto Star, Toronto World and Toronto Saturday night for publication, together with a brief description of the structure. This action was generally endorsed on publicity grounds.

Old Home Week.

The following report of the Legal Committee, submitted by its chairman, Ald. Crowe, was adopted:

We recommend that the letter from the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, suggesting that an "Old Home Week" be held next year be acknowledged, and that they be informed that this committee will be pleased to consider the matter with them and other bodies and to go into the details if it is decided to proceed with the project.

Damages From Bridge.

The following recommendations by the Special Bridge Committee, fathered by Ald. Hamilton, were adopted:

That the letter from the Peterborough Mattress Company regarding the insurance on their factory be left in the hands of the chairman of this committee to confer with Mr. Ellis, the manager of the company, and the agent of the insurance company.

That an offer be made, without prejudice, to the estate of W. C. Austin, of $1,000 and the construction of a sewer on the street to the front of the property in full settlement of their claim for damage to a house by the building of the Ashburnham Bridge, on release from liability being executed by the proper party or parties.

RUM RUNNERS WORK AT WILL.

"Order No. 68" Virtually Bars U. S. From Chance To Get Smugglers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Red tape, with political influence and official jealousies and rivalries, is an outstanding hindrance to prohibition enforcement. This evil works more harm in Florida than elsewhere because it has blocked all efforts to close the floodgates against booze from the Bahama Islands.

The department of Justice had effectually curbed rum-running along the Florida east coast until "Order No. 68" was issued—in confidence to all operatives—April 30, 1921.

This practically prevents agents of the Department of Justice from co-operating with prohibition enforcements agents, who are under the Treasury Department. And prohibition agents in Florida are too few to stop smuggling.

Order No. 68, in substance, absolutely forbids any Department of Justice operative from assigning himself, giving aid, arresting, or in any way assisting in the apprehension of bootleggers. whisky smugglers. or enforcing the Eighteenth Amendment, except under these three specified emergencies:

That the local enforcement agent must be out of reach.

That the Department of Justice operative must get explict orders to aid.

That he must first refer the case to his next highest superior.

A department of Justice operative in Florida told of nearly losing his job for giving aid in the capture of some whisky-runners not many months ago.

In spite of Order No. 68, he made a report to Washington, involving some men high in national politics.

"I was severely criticized for it," says the Department of Justice agent. "The Department told me to mind my own business-'

Few Large Fines

Federal courts rarely impose big fines or jail sentences for violation of the liquor laws.

Bootleggers in Miami are so sure of their immunity that they have boasted to federal agents of their operations.

While an investigator was in the office of L. E. Howes Department of Justice agent in Miami, a bootlegger entered and demanded that whom he accused of double-crossing him.

"He skinned me out of 10 per cent commission last week when we shipped a load of alcohol from Nassau to New Orleans," said the indignant bootlegger.

He also told Howe that the bootleger who had double-crossed him was about to ship another load of liquor, and he named the probable time of shipment and the place of destination.

When the bootlegger left the investigator asked Howe why he didn't arrest the man for implicating himself as a rum-runner.

"What's the use? said the agent, "he would repudiate what he has just said, and then he'd say he was trying to bribe me and that I got sore because he wouldn't pay as much as I wanted.

There is another "arm of the law" in Miami helpless against rum-running—the custom office. It is in charge of Deputy Collector David Tyre, who has two assistants. One is an office man and he and Tyre are chained to their desks with office work.

The second deputy, Thomas J. Whitten, 68 years old, is left to roam around the water front and do the best he can at searching incoming boats for contraband liquor.

All boats smuggling liquor come in at night. Steamers with legal cargoes also come in frequently at night. There is no quarantine station outside the port of Miami and ships come in the Bay of Biscay and moor at the docks. They unload as much of their cargo as they wish and then the captain phones Whitten and tells him to come down.

The custom office has no water craft for boarding steamers. Collector Tyre says he needs more men and a boat.

BROKE INTO DWELLING — FIVE YEARS' SENTENCE.

BELLEVILLE, October 27.—For the theft of a quantity of clothing from th residence of Mr. W. C. Springer, Dundas Street, Charles McConnell has been sentenced by Magistrate Masson to five years in the Penitentiary, near Kingston.

Prisoner admitted breaking into Springer's house at night and stealing the goods. Ven. Archbishop Beamish pleaded for suspended sentence, as the prisoner at the time of the crime was under the influence of liquor, from which he had since pledged himself to abstain for twelve months. But His Worship explained that in view of a previous conviction he had no authority to show leniency.

GOVERNMENT CANDIDATES PREPARING FOR THE CAMPAIGN —MILLBROOK NEWS.

MILLBROOK, Oct. 27.—A committee of the supporters of Mr. F. W. Bowen, the Liberal-Conservative candidate, for wards one and two, was held in the committee rooms, engaged by Mr. Bowen in the Dominion Block, on Wednesday, October 26th., at 8 p.m. for the purpose of making plans for the election campaign, going over the voters' list, appointing deputy-returning officers, etc., besides making arrangements for holding some public meetings, and securing suitable speakers to address these gatherings. It was expected that the candidate would be present at this committee meeting if at all possible.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

The Epworeh League meeting on Monday evening, October 24th., was under the direction of the missionary committee of which Mrs. G. W. Sayles is the energetic and successful convenor.

By way of variety a musical programme was given, the missionary element being supplied in the prayers, Scripture lesson and also in a reading, "A Survey of China" by Mr. Frank Alcorn.

Mrs. Sayles and Mr. W. Coombe sang a duet which was much enjoyed, Miss May Duncan being the accompanist, while instrumental duets were given by the Misses Ella Elson and Stella Hetherington and Marjorie Sayles and Gladys Tucker. Miss Elson and Miss Gladys Tucker also played piano solos, Mrs. Sayles adding a vocal solo in her usual good voice, and Miss Jean Burnham gave a reading.

Altogether the programme was a good one and thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present. The next meeting will be under the Citizenship Department.

Missionary Auxiliary

The Woman's Missionary Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church held their usual monthly meeting on Wednesday October 26th at 3 p.m. in the Sunday School room, the President, Mrs. L. S. Clarry, occupying the chair.

After the devotional exercises were concluded and business items disposed of Mrs. Clarry read a few extracts from the new Study-book "Canada's Share in World Tasks', and arranged that two papers on the chapter, "Africa' should be given at the November meeting by Mrs. H. W. Johnston and Mrs. J. R. Eakins. A special feature of th's meeting was a talk by Rev. G. S. Gervan on his pastoral work while in the province of Saskatchewan.

Mr Gervan's address dealt chiefly with conditions brought about by the large foreign population in the West, many of whom are opposed to the idea of having their children receive an English education in our English-speaking school, quoting the figures that forty-five per cent. of the population of Saskatchewan are foreign born, and this element increases, in comparison with the English-speaking population, by a very conservative estimate at the rate of three to one. Then, too, these foreigners as their circumstances improve, either bank their money, or buy more land, while the English settlers go to the Coast, return to Ontario, or spend it in foolish extravagances as in the case of one family who come there in 1910 with no means and now have five cars in the one household. As a result of these facts there is real danger that in the end the foreign population will be in the majority and control the land.

There is also the fact that, owing to the lack of Public schools in large sections of the country, children from Protestant schools are sent to the convents to be educated, receiving the preference where accommodation is limited, over Roman Catholic children themselves. Convents are fairly numerous, one village with a population of only four hundred people having one built at a cost of $30,000. Though everything possible has been done to prevent overlapping, there are still large stetches of the province where no churches have yet been built and no religious instruction of any kind is being given.

To offset these disadvantages the church (which is the one agency which can and must, find a solution for the various problems which the situation presents), now sends deaconesses as missionaries in foreign and English settlements, and has established school homes, where children who must be sent away from home to receive a Public or High school education may, for the actual cost of board alone, still have Christian influences and surroundings. Some of the Forward Movement money was used for this purpose, the salaries of the matron, etc., being paid by the church.

Then hospitals have been built at points far removed from the big centres, and here nurses and doctors, as they minister to the bodily ills of foreign born patients, endeavor also to influence them toward Christian ideals and true Canadian citizenship.

The meeting closed with a brief prayer by the pastor.

Seymour West, Oct. 24, 1921.

To Misses Margaret, Mary and Emma McArthur:

Dear Girls,—It is with feelings of regret, mingled with pleasure, that we have gathered to-night to spend an evening with you, before your departure from among us. We regret losing such sterling characters from our community, but sincerely hope your lives will fall along more pleasant and easy lines, as we all know full well that the lot on the farm is a hard one. Through all the trials and difficulties which you have so successfully passed, you have had our sincerest sympathy, though perhaps you did not know it.

Signed on behalf oyu your many friends—

Mrs. Howard Clark.
Miss May McArthur.

U. S. ARMY PREPARED TO RUN RAILROADS.

General Staff Has Plan Which Will Be Used in Event of Strike.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—It has become known that the General Staff of the army had worked out a program for running the railroads in case of strike. The program has been drafted after a conference with the departments, interested in transportation facilities, and the Government is ready to operate the chief roads in event of a strike.

When men enlist they are required to tell of their previous training. As a result the War Department knows the number of men in the army who are qualified to act as engineers and trainmen.

It is said that the number in the army is large enough to keep the chief avenue of travel open between Chicago and New York, and between the chief cities of the Far West and Chicago.

To bring about "concerted action and harmony of effort" in connection with Federal handling of the strike crisis, Attorney General Daugherty held a conference with District Attorneys Hayward of New York, Clyne of Chicago, Lockwood of Buffalo, Wertz of Cleveland and Van Nuys of Indianapolis.

After the session the Attorney General gave out a statement declaring that the Government was "big enough and strong enough" to assure operation of the railroads in the event of a strike.

Mr. Daugherty's Statement

In his statement Attorney General Daugherty said:

"I asked the District Attorneys to come heer in order to have a conference and understanding in any event and any emergency.

"I still doubt that there will be any strike, but it is the duty of the Department of Justice to be prepared for any emergency, and it is necessary that there be uniformity of proceedings and policy determined in any event. So I called these gentlemen here, and have discussed with them fully the various plans of the department, if there should be a strike.

"We did not discuss the merits or the matters in dispute betwen the railroads and the employees who have threatened to strike. With the merits of that controversy the Department of Justice takes the position that it has nothing to do and merits probably will not be entered into at any time.

"We probably would concede that the men have the right to strike—that means quitting their employment. They may strike in groups. I don't say they can strike in groups broadcast over the country without violating a conspiracy law when it comes to antagonizing the Government of the United States.

"I would say that, peacefully doing so in a lawful manner men may quit their employment and stop. But I do say that when it comes to the Government's interest, they cannot strike at that.

"When it comes to these facilities the Government has the power, right and duty to see that the owners of the railroads give the American people the service they are entitled to. Many, many more American people are interested in these facilities, in seeing that they serve the public, than in controversy between the railroad operators and employees, regardless of who is right or who is wrong.

"The conference has been held for the purpose of bringing concerted action and harmony of effort, to the end that the railroads may continue to give this service with the least interruption possible and as soon as possible without interruption, so that the public may be served. There is involved the accommodation of people with coal as Winter approaches, and food, which cannot be distributed without these facilities.

"The government has the power and ample authority, and will be as just and reasonable as it can be, but these arteries of commerce must continue to serve the people, property must be preserved, life protected, law enforced and order maintained. The Government is big enough and strong enough to see that this is accomplished."

The District Attorneys at the conference were selected from railroad centres, Mr. Daugherty said, and because the headquarters of many of the railroad labor unions were located in their districts. It was inferred that if legal action were taken it would probably be started in one or all of these districts.

SETTLED CASE OUT OF COURT

OWNERSHIP OF STRIP OF LAND ON WATERFRONT INVOLVED IN THE ACTION OF ELLIS VS. BETTES.

The autumn assizes ended last night about nine o'clock with the settlement out of court of the case of Ellis vs. Bettes. In this action James Ellis asked for a specific performance by his father-in-law, J. H. Bettes, of an agreement for sale of the factory formerly occupied by the late Mr. Faint. The agreement had not been reduced to writing, but possession of the property was taken pursuant to a verbal agreement. Nothing was said by either party as to who owned the land along the water front, adjoining the factory, which is situated immediately south of the Hunter Street Bridge on the Ashburnham side of the river, and the question to be determined was whether or not the vacant strip of land on the water front became the property of the purchaser of the factory.

When the court opened on Tuesday afternoon Mr. Justice Orde consented to this case being laid over while efforts were made to settle it by agreement. R. R. Hall, K.C., and C. R. Widdifield, solicitors for the plaintiff, and F. D. Kerr, K.C., for the defendant, spent hours in negotiation and also in deliberation with their respective clients. Finally, last night, as a last move toward conciliation, the parties met His Lordship in his chambers at the Court House. This conference effected the compromise by which Mr. Ellis pays to Mr. Bettes $500 extra and obtains possession of the disputed water front strip ten feet wide, subject to a right-of-way for pedestrians over a path four feet wide from Hunter Street to the rear of the property.

It is understood that one result of this settlement will be the removal of uncertainties which had held up the city's proposed purchase of these properties for park purposes.

Judgment was reserved in the case of the Henry Hope Company vs. Richard Sheehy and Sons. His Lordship arranged for counsel either to present their argument in Toronto or by letter. G. N. Gordon for the plaintiff and J. R. Gorkery for defendant.

Mr. Justice Orde, before departing, thanked all the officials of the court for their assistance.

IF you were being asked to invest in The Mount Royal Hotel Company, Limited, and had no other facts to base your decision upon than the character, reputation and financial responsibility of the Board of Directors, you could, with complete confidence, invest your money in this enterprise.

Consider these men individually, and their associations. Canada's greatest Banking, Railroad, Insurance and Industrial Corporations have no greater directorate.

Is it reasonable, then, to suppose that so able and so far-sighted a group of men would personally invest in this Company and go upon its Board of Directors if there was the slightest suspicion that the enterprise was not well founded.

Certainly not.

They know, as does every other big business man, that Montreal is on the threshold of a great business destiny. It is our greatest City—our greatest seaport—our largest Transcontinental Terminal—and a Financial and Jobbing Headquarters.

Yet, for so large a city, it has the smallest modern hotel accommodation on the North American Continent.

The Mount Royal Hotel cannot fail of success. We have investigated every phase of it, and have backed our faith in it by underwriting its securities.

In short, you may invest in the 8% Convertible Debentures of The Mount Royal Hotel Company, Limited, with the assurance that your money is safe—your 8% interest certain, and your prospects good for a profit from your Common Stock bonus.

The price of the Debentures is Par and Interest, carrying a 30% Common Stock bonus. Send your order now, or write for full particulars on this coupon. Address:

CONDOLENCE WITH FAMILY OF THE LATE SENATOR NICHOLLS

CITY COUNCIL ADOPTS RESOLUTION TO THAT EFFECT—INFLUENCE IN CITY'S PROGRESS

"It is with profound regret that this council learns of the death of Hon. Frederick Nicholls, Senator, on October 25th. President Nicholls was president of the Canadian General Electric Company for many years, and it is due to his great business ability and remarkable nergy that this industry has been developed from a comparatively small beginning to its present large proportions. The rapid advance of Peterboro has been due to its manufacturing industries, of which the C.G.E. is the largest and the most important, and to the business acumen and zeal of the late Senotor Nicholls the city owes much of its progress. To his family this council conveys its deepest sympathy in their bereavement."

The above is a resolution of condolence passed unanimously by the city council in special session last night. Ald. Turner and Hamilton were the mover and seconder.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(Canadian Press).—Overnight developments in the railroad labor situation invited an extension of short interests in the early stages of to-day's Stock Market. Railroad shares were less affected than those industrials and specialties which featured the recent rally. Pressure was most marked against Mexican and Pan-American Petroleums, Royal Dutch, Bethlehem and Crucible Steels, Baldwin Locomotive, Great Northern and Northern Pacific. A moderate reversal in German marks featured early dealings in foreign exchange.

The market continued to be influenced during the dull forenoon by fragmentary reports from the Railroad Labor Board hearing. These were more or less conflicting and the trend of prices reflected this uncertain condition. Among the favorites of the Oil, Steel and Equipments groups irregular extensions to early reaction prevailed. Shippings Chemicals and Food issues also eased on small offerings but Rails were only occasionally quoted at trifling changes. The few strong stocks comprised Houston Oil, International Paper, Chandler Motor and Kreege, these gaining one to 2 1-2 points. Call money opened at 5 1-2 per cent.

EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.— Sterling Exchange heavy; Demand Great Britain 3.93; Canadian Dollars 8 3-16 p.c. discount.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.— (Canadian Press.)—Opening wheat quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to 1 1-8c. lower with December 1.06 1-2 to 1.07 and May 1.10 3-4 to 1.11 1-4 were followed by setbacks all around.

Corn and Oats descended with Wheat. Corn opened a shade to 3-8 to 1-2 lower, May 53 1-4 to 53 1-2, and then sagged further. Oats, after starting 1-8 to 1-4 off, May 38 to 38 1-8, underwent additional down turns.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Oct. 27.—(Canadian Press).—A drop of eleven points in Detroit United Railway from its yesterday's closing figure at 73 to 62 featured early trading on the local Stock Exchange this morning. With this exception, however, nothing of exceptional interest occurred within the first half hour. Abitibi appeared fractionally stronger at 33. National Breweries was unchanged at 56, while Riordon advanced a quarter point to 5¼.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, Oct. 27.— (Canadian Press.)—Trading on the local stock exchange this morning was fairly well distributed throughout the entire list, but with no great activity in any particular stock, with the one exception of Barcelona, Detroit United on sales of less than one hundred shares, opened at 64, declined a further two points to 62, later reacting to 63 1-4. Atlantic Sugar at 30 was off a point and five-eighths on small sales and General-Electric sold at 93 1-2. Steel of Canada recovered its loss of yesterday afternoon, selling at 61 1-8. New Riordan in the unlisted sold at 75 cents.

HAYS TAKES CHARGE OF MAIL THEFT PROBE

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.— (Canadian Press.) — Postmaster General Hays has arrived here to take charge of the investigation of last Monday's mail robbery. The total loss accounted for up to the present is over eight hundred thousand dollars.

OF INTEREST TO AMATEUR PAINTERS

When painting a car, amateur painters should oil the floor of the paint room, so that dust will have a tendency to stick to the floor instead of rising to the body finish. If it is not possible to use oil, sprinkle the floor with water from time to time during the operation of painting.

A STITCH IN TIME

A new car, after making its first 1,000 miles, should be carefully inspected. The engine parts should be given special attention, for the slightest defect will result in trouble. Make your inspections frequently, until the car has worn to operate in perfect order.

out showing a deficit at the year's end, which is contrary to council's policy. There is no appropriation for this purpose, he explained, and the only chance for raising even a thousand dollars is to persuade Ald. Gordon to release that amount from his committee on manufactures and power. This committee, continued Ald. Turner, had an appropriation of $3,000, of which they have expended some $600; they might retain $400 with which to carry on till the end of the year, release $1,000 to make good an overdraft of $1,000 in the budgets of the Board of Works and Park Committee, and let the remaining $1,000 be used as a grant for the Sanitarium Association.

Urged Cooperation

Ald. Crowe urged that Council cooperate with the deputation to the fullest possible extent. He characterized the cause as especially worthy in that it benefitted the poorer classes.

Will Confer

Alds. Gordon and Crowe's motion that the Finance and Manufacturer's Committees confer together in this matter, and report and recommend the amount of grant possible to council carried.

Ald. Gordon thought a grant of $1,000 would be arranged for somehow—perhaps another $500.

Ald. Hays wanted the question settled last night, and Ald. Jones thought the Fire, Water and Light Committee had a surplus, some of which might be expropriated.

The deputation left fairly well confident of getting from Council a donation of $1,000 at least, as all seemed anxious that the city should act as generously as possible in the circumstances.

There were present Mayor A. A. McIntyre, Aldermen H. Gainey, Jas. Crowe, G. N. Gordon, J. J. Turner, Jas Hamilton, R. Jones, Nagle Phelan and G. L. Hay.

Ald Whitehouse was in attendance at the inquest into the death of the late Mr J. V. Hayes, he being one of the jurors at the enquiry.

WARNE DRUG CO., LTD. - THE CUT-RATE STORE - 351 GEORGE STREET

by the scene of the accident was out.

"I did not see the car till it was 30 or 40 feet away. The automobile had no lights on. I was not looking for him coming north."

The motorman said when he saw the smash was imminent he "sanded" and brought the car to a stop in 33 feet. Witness said he had been for three years a motorman with the local company. The automobile was carried about 15 feet.

Front Driven In.

The front of the street car was driven in and the glass smashed. The automobile was badly smashed. When Redmond first saw the doctor, he said he was leaning to the right, giving him the impression that he was a passenger and the driver was obscured. The face was over to the right, he explained.

He jumped out as soon as possible to see what had happened. He seemed pinned to the wheel. I saw him taken out.

Witness said Chief Newhall was in the car, sitting on the stool at the right facing south.

Company Rules.

Coroner Dr. Greer allowed Mr. O'Brien to examine the witness closely that all the facts might be brought out. In reply to a question if the rules of the company did not authorize motormen not to allow passengers in the vestibule, witness said that he believed there was such a rule, but in allowing the Chief of Police to ride in the vestibule he did not think he was exceeding his duty.

Motorman Redmond said that the Chief got in at Charlotte street. Other than exchanging some greeting about "rainy night" or something of that sort nothing was said between them. Redmond said his windshield was clear. He had just wiped it off.

"Where did you wipe it off?" asked Mr. O'Brien.

"I don't know."

Continuing, witness said that when he brought the street car to a full stop the automobile was facing east. Witness in reply to a question said he had not had his eyesight tested for four years. His eyesight had never been tested by the company he said. The street car was travelling about 13 miles an hour. This was not any faster than on earlier trips, although it was the second last trip and few passengers were taken on below Charlotte street, he told his examiner.

"I wouldn't swear whether my light was lit or not," he said. He was standing when he first saw Dr. Hayes. He used his hand brake—if he used his emergency he said, he could not have stopped any sooner. When examined carefully on this point, he said that he had tested the brakes this year and found that he could not stop any more quickly with both on than with the hand brake alone. If he had used both he would have broken the circuit. "The emergency is only effective at about 4 miles per hour," he said. He told Mr. O'Brien he cut off the power as soon as he saw the automobile. Witness testified that he had "lots" of sand. When pressed he said half a pail. If his headlight had been on he admited he would have had a better view of the car at 40 feet, but he did not think it would have helped a great deal at 80 feet. He was not looking for a car coming north on that side, he maintained.

Near the Rails.

Motorman Redmond told Mr. Hatton the automobile was close to the rails. When asked by Mr. Wearing he said he understood railway had been ordered by the City Council to have the lights off on the cars north of the C.P.R. as it blinded motorists. He had no other thought except that the car was going south, he said. From the time he realized the collision was imminent he had only time to "sand" and give one wind on the brake, he said. Had he used the emergency the rails were so slippery the street car would have skidded.

Police Evidence.

Chief of Police Samuel Newhall next gave evidence. He said he was in the front vestibule of the street car when the accident occurred. The street car was 50 feet south of King. The Chief said he was riding in the vestibule on the outlook for motor cars infringing the law. The accident occurred 50 yards south of the King street points. The Chief said he saw an automobile on their right rail coming north turning to the right in front of the car. "The left hand corner of the autombile struck the centre of the car, knocked the controller down aid pinned me in the corner."

Just before the crash the Chief said he saw a man in the car leaning over to the right. He thought he recognized the man, but he was mistaken.

The Chief said Dr. Hayes' head, when he first saw him, was bleeding from the left forehead and there was a gurgling sound in the doctor's throat. He told how he was extricated and removed to the sidewalk and of the arrival of the doctors, police and ambulance.

"The automobile was facing east and west, the two inside wheels were caught in the bumper and it could not turn over." When the automobile was first seen the Chief said it was about George's Duncan's former residence.

Said Night Was Clear

Chief Newhall was convinced the street car's light was on There were no lights on the automobile, he siad. The Chief described the night as clear and dark.

To Mr. O'Brien, Chief Newhall said he believed Dr. Hayes' eyes were closed—his head was hanging heavily. He seemed asleep. Witness said Dr. Hayes swung in on the street car diagonally for about 15 feet.

George Chambers, who was a passenger on the car, testified as to what happened after the smash. He helped remove Dr. Hayes out of the car. Witness said there was no light on the street car. He thought the street car was proceeding slowly Recognized Deceased.

P. McCoy, who was driving a car that night, said that Dr. Hayes passed him about 30 feet south of the accident. His lights were on and he was on the right side of the road, half of the car tracks. "He waved his hand and I waved back," McCoy, who knew the doctor personally, said.

Witness said the right hand light of the car was on after the smash. To Mr. Wearing McCoy said he saw no indication of Dr. Hayes turning a half circle behind him as would be necessary to get to the side of the road referred to in evidence.

Deceased Was Awake.

L. Walsh, who was next called, was a passenger with Mr. McCoy. He said Dr. Hayes was awake. "There's Dr. Hayes," McCoy said to me." Walsh said Dr. Hayes' lights were on. Afterwards, he noticed the street car's light was off. Mr. Walsh thought they were 20 or 25 feet ahead of the street car.

Cecil Follis, also driving an automobile, testified to seeing Dr. Hayes at Sherbrooke street. "He was driving along like any other man."

"Was he awake?" asked Mr. O'Brien.

"Yes."

"He was on his own side. His lights were on." Mr. Follis swore Dr. Hayes' right hand light was still burning after the accident. From what he saw of the car he thought the car must have struck while swerving to the north-east.

H. Robinson swore to seeing Dr. Hayes wave to two men in a car a minute before the smash. He said the right hand light of Dr. Hayes' car was on after the accident.

Motorman Redman recalled by the Coroner, said he saw no second car. The only car he saw was the car which afterwards turned out to be that of Dr. Hayes'.

Carl Hayes, brother of Dr. Hayes, gave evidence that Dr. Hayes, on the testimony of Mrs. (Dr.) Hayes, had not been out the night before on professional duties and his day's work had been the regular routine, and nothing to occasion sleepiness. He said he had never known Dr. Hayes to fall asleep in his car.

The coroner's jury was as follows: Ald. Frank Whitehouse (foreman), Harry Thornton, Joseph Metheral, Joseph Picard, W. G. Howden, W. D. Campbell, J. O. Fife, S. Houlihan, Sidney Whatley, D. M. Minicola, William Merrell.

Pearls are occasionally found of a freak or fanciful shape, or fastened together in clusters, and in odd cases these have been known to command very high prices.

For instance, a pearl fisher in Torres Straits once found a cluster of pearls shaped like a cross. This curious freak of nature was bought by some wealthy Roman Catholics for presentation to the Pope, the sum paid being $50,000.

Pear-shaped pearls, sufficiently large to be used as pendants or eardrops, also bring big prices. But, contrary to popular belief, black pearls are not especially valuable.

The most valuable ordinary pearls are those of a pure white, and perfectly round in shape, suitable for stringing as a necklace. Black pearls of this, or any other shape, are worth less than the corresponding shapes in white.

The most costly of what for want of a better term may be called "freak pearls," are the pink ones, but these are very seldom met with. So rare are they indeed, that they have no fixed commercial value, though the pearl fishers say that, when any are found, the Indian Rajahs are always willing to pay enormous prices for them.

Yap, that little dot of an island in the South Seas which has become so internationally prominent, has small need of divorce courts. The island is peopled by women who are not vamps, and men of Apollo-like figures. And what is more to the point, says Fred. Hassa, globe-trotter, lecturer and writer, the women do almost all the work done on the island.

"Divorce courts are not needed in Yap," said Mr. Hassa. "When the Yap wife tires or becomes dissatisfied with her home life she simply leaves her husband, without the semblance of formality.

"Among the natives of Yap, however, family life has little discord. The people are great lovers of children. Families are small, sometimes no more than one child in a family, but nothing is too good for the children.

"If a wife chooses to leave her husband the other retains custody of the children. When twins are born to a woman she quickly gives one of the babies away, fearing it might die under her care.

"The Yap woman never flirts. If she chances to approach a man she looks neither to the right nor left. Strange to say, with the great difference in station of the men and women of Yap just the opposite exists on Pellew, an island not far distant. Woman suffrage has been in existence there for centuries."

A more grotesque and ridiculous figure has never been found in the history of literature than that of Elizabeth Porter Johnson, wife of Dr. Samuel Johnson, eminent writer of the Eighteenth Century. Twice as old as the writer, coarse, fat and outrageously painted, this woman, whose sons were as old as her husband, caught the fancy of Johnson and held it until the day of her death and beyond.

Mrs. Johnson, costuming herself in loud, gaudy clothes, and exhibiting provincial manners, succeeded in charming the emotional and not very discerning Johnson to a ludicrous degree. His "pretty creature," as he fatuously called her, was to him the most beautiful, graceful and accomplished of her sex. In spite of occasional differences, they lived together happily until her death at the age of 64.

Shortly after the marriage of the Johnsons, they took a school in the neighborhood of Lichfield, his birthplace. But this tawdry, painted grandmother, whose household accomplishments were on a par with her beauty, was not a person to inspire confidence in mothers of small boys, and the school was a failure. David Garrick was one of the few pupils, and later, when he became famous as an actor, used to convulse fashionable London with accounts of Mrs. Johnson and her grotesqueries ant her enchantment of the worthy doctor.

The art of making spirits was well known many centuries before the advent of the Christian era. The Chinese distilled liquor long before that period and "arrack" was made in India as early as 800 B.C. There is little doubt that spirits were made in Egypt, India, China and the Far East generally as remote as 2,000 B.C.

The term "whiskey" probably is derived from the Celtic "usgebeatha" (water of life), subsequently contracted to "usquebaugh" known in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries, however, was not of the same character as modern whiskey, but was a compound of plain spirit with saffron, nutmegs, sugar and other spices and flavoring matters.

Whether the term whiskey to denote a plain type of spirit was used concurrently with usquebaugh or whether the latter name covered both varieties is not clear. It is certain, however, that an alcoholic liquor, derived mainly from grain, has been prepared for many centuries in Ireland and Scotland.

If, when the air is still, you stand near a high wall and speak a word loudly, it will come back to you as if repeated by an invisible person. It is, of course, an echo. Parallel walls, separated by a few hundred feet as in a canyon, may reflect a sound as to cause it to be distinctly heard again and again in a long-undying series of repetitions. If the reflecting walls are irregular, the repetitions, instead of being distinct to the ear, will be mere jumbled and unintelligible reverberations. This is noticeable in certain caverns.

Prof. W. J. Humphreys, an eminent physicist, describes a curious phenomenon which he calls an "acoustical mirage," sounds uttered at a distance on the surface of the earth seeming to come from high in the air. Such an uplifting of sound (corresponding to the uplifting of a landscape by a visual mirage) may occur when a stratum of warm air at the surface is overlaid by cooled air. The sound travels faster at the top, and so appears to come from aloft. A balloonist can often hear the earth-echo of his own voice when he can not, by shouting, gain the attention of people standing on the ground below him. It is because he—at an altitude of 1,500 feet, perhaps—is in a region of silence, whereas they are immersed in a flood of sound.

Two Swedish scientists recently made a journey of exploration through Iceland with the interesting result that they discovered the largest volcanic crater in the world. It took them nine days, using three horses and sledges, to cross the great sea of ice of the Watnajokel from west to east in order to reach Kolar, on the Fjord of Hornar.

On the Hogjokel the scientists found a tremendous volcanic crater containing hot water and no less than eight kilometers long and five kilometers wide. It was surrounded by a number of hot springs. The Swedish savants who discovered it named it the Svea Crater, and it is regarded as not only the greatest crater in Iceland, but probably the largest in the world.

The oldest golf club in the world, founded in 1608 by James I. of England and the Sixth of Scotland, is still used today at Blackheath, the home of the Royal Blackheath Club.

This club was established 127 years before the Edinburgh Burgess Golfing Society, and 146 years before even the Royal and Ancient Club was formed.

The course at Blackheath today is similar to what it was when James and his cronies went there for exercise. The course consists of seven holes, which have to be played three times for a complete medal round. There are no awe-inspiring bunkers and the hazards consist of iron railings, lamp posts, nursemaids and children.

The club house is a museum of historic treasures relating to the game. The walls are hung with paintings, and there is a set of clubs 200 years old. In the collection is an iron club more than four feet long with a head as big as a two-handed battle axe.

Ancient traditions are maintained at club dinners; members wear their red coats, and there is betting on who will sneeze most when the old snuff box is passed about.

From the moment Von Bismarck, the "Iron Chancellor" of Germany, first beheld Johanna Puttkammer at the wedding of a mutual friend, he was her devoted slave. He wrote to her parents demanding her hand in marriage. Johanna's father was thunderstruck. He had never met the young man, but his reputation had preceded him.

The girl seemed to discern the capacity for a great love under Bismarck's fierce exterior, and she pleaded passionately with her father to accept his suit. The father invited the suitor to call upon him. Overcoming, or rather disregarding the formality of the parents and the timidity of the girl, Bismarck rushed up and embraced Johanna, before she could realize what he was about. The formal betrothal followed on the same day, and shortly after they were married.

Princess Bismarck was fine looking, exceedingly well educated, beautifully poised, and above all she was the soul of tact.

Bismarck always spoke of his wife in terms of highest affection and praise.

"She it is," he often said, "who has made me what I am."

Montezuma, Emperor of the ancient Mexicans, lived in a state of luxurious magnificence, and took no other beverage than the chocolate, a potation of chocolate, flavored with vanilla and other spices, and so prepared as to be reduced to a froth of the consistency of honey, which gradually dissolved in the mouth and was taken cold. This beverage, if so it could be called, was served in golden goblets, with spoons of the same metal or tortoise-shell finely wrought. The Emperor was exceedingly fond of it, to judge from the quantity—no less than 50 jars or pitchers being prepared for his own daily consumption; 2,000 more were allowed for that of his household.

Control of destructive insects by the introduction of their natural enemies has become an important technique during the last generation, writes Paul Popenoe in Science. But if competent observers are to be trusted, the Southern Arabs employed the same method more than 160 years ago in the culture of the date palm.

In his "Relation d'un Voyage dans l'Pemen," P. E. Botta says:

"I was able to verify the singular fact previously observed by Forskal, that the date palm in Yemen are attracked by a species of ant which would cause them to perish if each year the growers did not bring from the mountains and fasten in the tops of the palms branches of a tree that I did not recognize, which contains the nests of another species of ant which destroys that of the date palm."

The Yanktze, the great muddy river of China, is one of the greatest of streams, and its valley is the most densely populated and closely cultivated river basin in the world. It crosses the whole of China in its 3,000-mile course to the sea. The Yangtze has a different name in almost every Province, and pours a flood of diluted mud through half its valley, tingeing the ocean for more than a hundred miles offshore. There are many interesting features of this most interesting river.

When the snows melt in Tibet and the monsoon pours its annual flood on the watershed, the Yangtze rises 80 or 100 feet at Chungking, 70 or 80 feet at Ichang and 40 or 50 feet at Hankau, sweeping in a fierce flood from June to October, and then falling as rapidly as a foot a day.

John Wesley, founder of Methodism, deeply in love with an ardent coworker for Methodism, lost the girl through the interference of his brother, and was caught on the rebound by the Widow Vizelle. She had a large fortune, but this had no influence on Wesley's marriage to her, for he refused to accept any part of it. Instead of proving the guiding light that a minister's wife should be, she showed to be a termagant of the worst kind, scolding all day long, opening his letters, interfering with his plans, spying on his callers, and treating him generally like a prisoner.

Little good it did him to expostulate. A biographer writes that one of Wesley's preachers once came upon the Wesleys in a room of their house in the north of Ireland, where he found the husband on the floor, his wife standing over him foaming with rage. Her hands still held the remnants of hair she had pulled out of his head as she dragged him about the floor.

Ultimately they separated.

WHY GO TO CHURCH?

WHAT'S THE USE?

There are many people in Peterborough—Christians—who do not attend church, or who attend church only at long intervals. For some reason or other, they have become indifferent and careless in spiritual matters. Some of these frankly confess that they know that they should do better, that they intend to try, but that they find it hard to get started. Others have adopted a critical attitude towards the church. If you ask them why they do not attend church they may give you some of the following reasons:

The Faults of the Church

First: There are too many hypocrites in the church.
Second: The people in church are not friendly enough. They never speak to me.
Third: They don't want the likes of me.
Fourth: I don't like the minister.
Fifth: They are all the time asking for money.
Sixth: I don't see that the church does me any good.,
Seventh: I like to rest on Sunday and stay at home with my family.
Eighth: I can be a Christian and remain away from church.

Attend Church Because of the World Crisis

Ex-President Taft, speaking recently to some hundreds of men, said:

"The only thing that can save our civiliza tion from utter ruin is religion. Therefo re, go to church."

"The Church is not perfect—that is because you and I and others who compose it are not perfect—but it is the one agency that, above all others, is making for righteousness and stability in these days when the very foundations of society seem to be threatened."

Some Points To Consider

FIRST—Yes, there are hypocrites in the church. There were many hypocrites in the Jewish synagogues at the time of Christ. Read what He called them in Math. 23:13-36. Yet Christ went to the synagogue regularly. (Luke 4:16). In spite of those old hypocrites, think what we owe to the old Jewish synagogue. There was a hypocrite among the twelve Apostles, yet consider what we owe to the Apostles. There were grievious sinners in the early Corinthian Church, yet great truths have come to us through that church. In spite of some hypocrites in the church, God has promised to bless us through it. We should not miss that blessing by staying away.

SECOND—Are you friendly yourself? Do you attend the prayer meeting or the Sunday School? If so, you will soon find plenty of friendly Christians. Try it and see.

THIRD—In most churches there are some people who are friendly and some who are not. If you go to church in order to receive a blessing from God you will soon find yourself welcomed. If not, there are churches where you will be welcome. Seek one out.

FOURTH—Pray for Him. He probably needs and waits your prayers. In this way you may learn to like Him better.

FIFTH—May your resentment on this point not show that there is something wrong with yourself? It is only when our hearts are cold toward God and when we are not appreciative of His blessings to us that we do not like to be asked to give to His cause. When we are walking close with God He has promised to provide the means whereby we can meet our Christian obligations. (Note 2 Corinthians 9:7-8).

SIXTH—If you go to church seeking to find God and for a blessing from Him, you will find it. (Note Jeremiah 29:13). Useless we seek it we will not find it.

SEVENTH—We have a duty to perform towards our families. If we adopt a careless attitude in spiritual matters we may expect them to do the same. If we trust God He will see that we have plenty of time both to worship Him and to rest. (Note Mark 6:31).

EIGHT—Yes, you can be a Christian and stay away from church. But you will be a better Christian by going to church. Because they believed in churches we read that the early Apostles went everywhere "establishing churches in the faith." As Christians we are commanded not to forsake "the gathering of ourselves together, as the manner of some is." Every time we break a divine injunction we work havoc with our spiritual welfare.

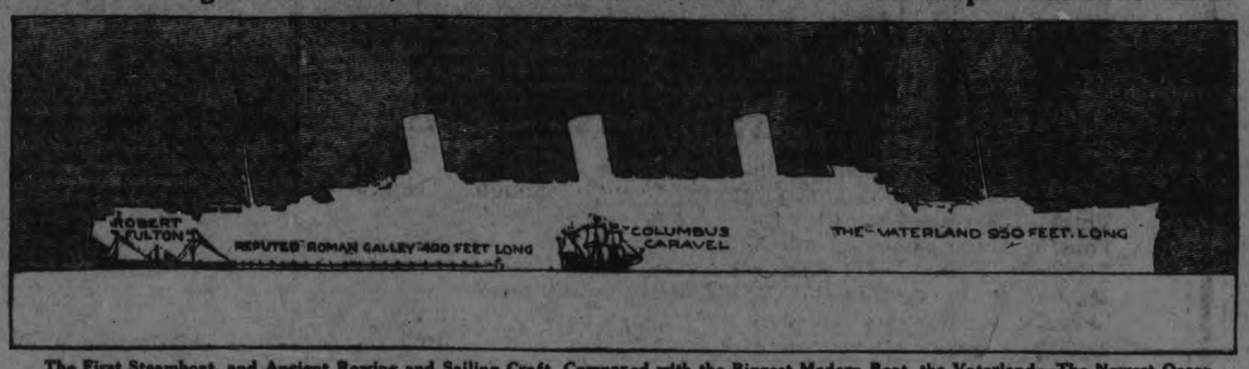
NEW FACTS ABOUT THE SEA AND BIG SHIPS

The Real Height of Waves, and the Wonderful Size of the New Ships That Ride Them



The First Steamboat, and Ancient Rowing and Sailing Craft, Compared with the Biggest Modern Boat, the Vaterland—The Newest Ocean Giant Is 950 Feet Long, 100 Feet in Beam, and the Height from Keel to Top of Mast Is 297 Feet.

FROM a point near the water, as from the deck of a steamer, the ocean appears to be perfectly flat. If one climbed to the top of a high mast or rose by airship to a considerable height, the surface of the water would seem to be convex, forming a great bowl ending only at the horizon. Both these impressions are, of course, optical illusions, since the ocean following the general line of the earth is spherical.

In crossing any large body of water the vessel must therefore climb up hill half the distance and descend on the other side. The elevation of the surface of the sea varies considerably in mid-ocean. In the Pacific it is from two to three feet, while in the Atlantic from nine to twelve feet.

In making a long voyage, as in crossing the Atlantic, the height of this hill is surprisingly great. Taking the width of the Atlantic as approximately 3000 miles, the "mountain" which must be climbed by transatlantic ships measures nearly 150 miles in height. In other words, an ocean liner is obliged to "climb" a distance of 150 miles, or a gradient of about 20 per cent., and descend at the same angle on the other half of the trip.

Actual Height of Sea Waves

IT is only in the imagination of the poets that waves rise "mountains high." The exact altitude and length of waves have been measured with scientific accuracy and the record waves are carefully recorded. Waves in shallow water are, as a rule, higher than those in open or deep water. The height of a wave is commonly about one-fifteenth its length.

The longest wave on record was 2590 feet, measuring from crest to crest, and its period being about 22 seconds. Waves of extreme length are seldom very high. A wave 2500 feet in length, rising in deep water, will have a height of about 50 feet.

When a wave enters shallow water its crest becomes considerably higher, and one of a height of 40 feet will frequently rise to 50 feet. If it meets resistance, it may be thrown up twice this height.

In severe storms at sea waves rarely reach a height of 50 feet. The average in such time has a period of about 10 seconds, which would indicate a length of about 500 feet. Waves with a period of 10 seconds have a length of from 150 to 300 feet and a height of 32 feet, and form a very high sea.

How "Ships" Have Shortened Then Grown Longer

IT is generally agreed that Noah's Ark measured about 450 feet in length, 75 feet in breadth and 45 in depth. It is interesting to note that the proportions of these dimensions are practically the same as those of the great modern ocean liners.

The Greeks and Romans constructed several large vessels measuring upward of 500 feet. These were built for the emperors or rulers and were little more than enormous scows without any means of propulsion. Upon these were erected elaborate cabin accommodations, and even gardens were planted. A Roman bath was installed on one of these boats.

A vessel 420 feet in length was built by Ptolmey, which was propelled by 500 rowers arranged in five banks, using oars 57 feet in length. The boat is recorded to have developed considerable speed.

The fame of the Thalamegus still lives. This boat, which measured 300 feet in length, 40 feet in breadth and 60 depth, was said to have been the most beautiful craft in antiquity and was used exclusively by the Emperor.

A King of Syracuse is also credited with having built a very palatial boat, whose cabins were hung with costly silks and decorated with rare statues. After the decline of the Roman empire no great ships were constructed for more than 1000 years.

The biggest modern ship, the Vaterland, measures 950, thus approximately fulfilling the tradition that ships would come to be 1000 feet long.

Special "Life Jackets" for the Use of Children

THE international conference on safety at sea, held in London during January last, drew up provisions covering every conceivable point in the plan to render sea travel as free from disaster and death as human care and ingenuity can make it. In working out the big details the little essentials did not escape the painstaking attention that marked the treatment of the entire subject.

"Even the question of special lifejackets for children was dealt with," says a London periodical, in commenting on the thoroughness of the work. The jacket has been put to most rigorous tests and the London Board of Trade has given a certificate that it will keep a child afloat and head above water. It is not a cumbersome or a complicated arrangement and is very readily donned.

How a Watch May Serve as a Compass

ANY one can readily determine the exact point of the compass by means of a watch. Any watch or clock face will answer. The scientific explanation is very technical, but a simple rule borne in mind will enable one to do the trick.

Hold the watch in such a position that the hour hand will point directly toward the sun. The point between the end of the hour hand and the numeral XII. on the dial will point directly toward the south. A glance at the dial will show the other points of the compass with surprising accuracy.

Supposing, for example, it is 4 o'clock when the experiment is made and the clock face is held with the hour hand pointing toward the sun. A line drawn from the centre through the numeral II. will point directly toward the south.

Should it be 8 o'clock and the hour hand is pointing toward the sun, the numeral X. will indicate the exact south.

Fighting the Fog Danger with Wireless

THE North Railroad Company in France is making experiments on the use of wireless waves for clearing away fog. It is well known that electric waves act upon the water particles which make up fog, so as to dissolve them and turn them into vapor.

Following this idea, it is claimed that as much as 600 feet can be cleared up in front of the electric wires which are sending out the waves, the fog being at least partially dissipated, and this will have a great value in practice, especially for railroads and vessels at sea. The latter will have time to avoid each other in this case.

Sending Power Under the Sea

THE much discussed project of an under-sea power line from Sweden to Denmark appears to be on the way to execution, for according to recent reports the two countries have now authorized the laying of the cables, and work is to be soon begun.

The object of the scheme is to make use of water power in the southern part of Sweden, employing the fall of the Lagan river, and to bring this power by under-sea cable to the island of Zeeland, where it can be employed to advantage.

X-RAYS as an Aid to the FARMER

EXPERIMENTS made by Dr. Schwartz, a German scientist, show that X-rays stimulate the growth of plants and of living tissue in general, but in order to produce good results it is required to adjust the value of the rays in order to prevent a destructive action such as can also take place without due care in making use of them.

Should the exposure to the rays be too long, the effect can exceed the proper limits and become dangerous. Working upon plants, he finds that an under-exposure of 30 seconds had no appreciable effect of any kind upon the growth, and, on the contrary, a long exposure of five minutes is seen to alter the tissues and hinder the growth of the plant.

The proper time appeared to be 150 seconds, and shortly after exposure to the rays the plants were so much stimulated that in three weeks' time they had grown to double the height of the other specimens. Such experiments were made with the use of young sprouts, and not upon plants in an advanced state of growth.

How SCIENCE Has Discovered a Way to Make HONEY BEES Work Double Time

GO to the ant, thou sluggard!" is an excellent injunction; but, should the person thus admonished be unfortunate enough to be far removed geographically from the little workers, and, at the same time, sincerely desire to get a lesson in thrift and industry, why let him observe the bee, instead. The honey-maker is one of the conspicuous money-makers in America today, and when it takes an entire train of special cars to carry him on his summer industrial journey one gets some faint idea of his national importance. The apiarist gets much enjoyment and no small profit from his work—the stings are negligible.

The picture of the workers here shown should interest you, and, if you have an idea that, though sweet in its suggestion, it is depressing in its expression of hard, unremitting, unpoetic toil, a reading of Maeterlinck's fascinating work on the bee will be a revelation to you. Twenty carloads of the field and hive people spend the winter months in Southern California among the orange groves and the white sage of the foothills. Before the first of June they were aboard the Bee Special on the way to their northern homes.

This use of the bee gives the bee specialist the advantage of an all-the-year-round service, with a change of climate without which he could not hope to get such large storage of honey even from the most willing bees. It is stated that the bees, normally expected to take a non-producing rest, show no ill effects in health or quality of production from this continuous service.

Wonderful Growth in Modern China

TOKENS of changing China are seen in the immense increase of certain classes of imports into that country. In 12 years the annual consumption of kerosene has increased from $3,579,724 to 197,902,363 gallons, while the importation of lamps and lamp ware has trebled.

During the same period machinery imports have increased from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000, with an additional item of nearly $1,000,000 for sewing machines.

Matches and match making materials show an increase of over 300 per cent. Imports of clothing, hats, boots and shoes have increased tenfold.

The Big Pipe of an African Chief

WHEN Sir Walter Raleigh acted as "the advance agent of tobacco," though gifted with a magnificent imagination, he surely had no hint of its future that would set the world's millions to smoking, even into the far away dark spots of the globe. Were Sir Walter living today he would undoubtedly be one of the most accomplished cigarette consumers in the royal smart set; and yet, still possessing an appreciation of the bizarre and the exotic, he would experience joy in the ownership of the pipe, recently found, of a British East African chief.

It is more ornate than the calumet of the American Indian, which, in early history, was ornamented with wings, like a Mercury cap, a graceful design, but simple withal. The African creation is a ceremonial pipe about two feet in height, and the design would go far to sustain the assertion that in the religion and superstition of the natives of the Dark Continent there are no beautiful creatures—the good and the terribly evil are alike monstrous in their ugliness.

The Pipe of an African Chief, Standing Two Feet High.

At the foot of the big pipe are two smaller ones, and an authority on such matters points out that the modelling of the horseman shows European influence in a surprising degree. When the ceremonial pipe is being put to its utmost with its ample holding capacity, it must appear like a vaporous altar. It was for this reason, and not because of the adoption of American slang, that the chief who owned it was called the "big smoke."

Sad Fate of Army Horses.

All the old army horses that have to be slaughtered will in future be handed over by the English war office authorities to the zoological gardens for the purpose of feeding the lions and other carnivorous animals.

Why MEDICAL MEN Are Asking the Question, "Is the BRAIN Necessary to Human Existence?"

CAN a man live with faculties unimpaired after a large portion of his brain has been removed, or with no brain at all? Several recent cases are leading scientists to answer the question in the affirmative, however much such an answer would have been scouted a little while ago.

There is now in the service of Dr. Daniel Molliere, surgeon in the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Lyons, a capable little fellow of 12 years, who is apparently in perfect health. Some time ago, in sliding down the balusters, he fell and fractured his skull upon a chandelier below. As a bowl full of brain matter oozed from the wound, no hope was entertained of his recovery. He lay in a coma for ten days, in fact, but upon awakening began to improve and is at present apparently sound in mind and body.

The famous surgeon, M. Destot, comes forward with an incident as striking. It is the case of a stone mason, who in mounting a large cornice was so seriously wounded that he lost the left frontal bone and the left frontal lobe of the brain. After twelve days of unconsciousness he began to recover, and, according to the surgeon, is not only well, but in the possession of all his senses.

When in Algiers some time ago, Dr. Brüch treated an Arab for an ugly wound about the left eye, which had been caused by the blow of a hammer. The patient remained in the hospital service fully two months and during that time did not show the slightest evidence of cerebral trouble. At the end of that period he became unconscious and died in a few days. The post mortem examination developed the astounding fact that he was totally destitute of brains.

The anatomist and the psychologist alike are studying these cases with tremendous interest, but no explanation that harmonizes with our previous knowledge seems to be forthcoming.

Science's Latest WARNING Against the Danger of Infection from DOMESTIC ANIMALS

IF a duck in the domestic flock develops any symptoms of paralysis, the chances are that its presence is a menace to every child that approaches it. The same statement applies to a cow or a goat, and, presumably, to any domestic animal.

Such, at least, is the conclusion of the great Bruno, arrived at through extensive observations in his own practice. He was called upon to treat two children suffering from epidemic poliomyletis. As neither had associated with other children for some time, and there were no other cases of the disease in the neighborhood, the source of the infection was obscure.

The father had purchased some ducks not long before, and a little while prior to the illness of the children one of the birds had died. A little later, another, appearing to be paralyzed, was killed and eaten.

Three more were taken in the same way, but subsequently recovered. These were removed to the Heidelberg Pathological Institute and examined in the laboratory, where the germs of the disease were discovered in them. There could be no question but that the source of the infection was thus laid bare.

Bruno has observed similar infection in two other cases, one from a cow, another from a goat. All were isolated ones, owing to the fact that very few children were exposed, no doubt; but the possibility of such infection would seem to justify extreme caution in permitting children to approach domestic animals which show symptoms of paralysis of any kind.

Shall We Some Day Really Be Able to Live on AIR?

SCIENCE begins to dream of a day in which man will gather his food direct from the air and digest it without much aid from the various ferments and juices which are now mainly instrumental in that work.

The chief agent in this mighty revolution, according to no less an authority than Bertholet, will be the ultra-violet light rays. These are not visible to the human eye. They do not appear upon the spectroscope. They affect the photographic plate, however, and are probably discerned by some of the lower animals, whose sense of sight is much more acute than that of man.

Much is known of their chemical effects. Few microbes can long withstand their power. The redness and pain of "sunburn" is their work. They are particularly injurious to the eye, which, upon exposure to them, becomes totally blind in a little while.

Through the agency of these rays Bertholet has actually combined carbon dioxide and water vapor into sugar and other carbo-hydrates. He has enclosed carbo-hydrates, fats and albuminoids in sealed vessels of quartz and has seen them digest under the rays. The process is very expensive, of course, but it is hinted that modern inventive genius will so cheapen it in time that fields of wheat may be replaced by factories where food is manufactured from the gases of the air.

And should the men of that day be troubled with indigestion the same agent that makes their food will come to their relief. Stomach troubles will disappear at once before a little bulb of light rich in the ultra-violet rays. In view of these revelations it is only just to Malthus to explain that he reasoned out his gloomy theory quite a time before Bertholet and the rest of our modern physicists were born.

Another writer, perhaps influenced by the war spirit of the day, suggests that an apparatus for projecting the ultra-violet rays into the eyes of the enemy, thereby blinding whole regiments at a time, would render military operations at once comparatively bloodless and very effective.

Studying the Puzzling Habit of Chewing the Tongue

TO chew one's tongue would appear to be a process about as unlikely, to become a habit as any that could be imagined. It satisfies no craving and is at once unsightly to beholders and painful to the subject. Nevertheless, British physicians are just now astonished to be faced with something very like an epidemic of this habit.

The symptoms are identical in all cases. The individual chews one side of his tongue only. The act is performed by the upper molars, which move inward a quarter of an inch or so and then back, abrading the tongue more or less severely. As a rule these movements occur at the rate of about 90 per minute. The operation may last from a few seconds to a half hour or longer and usually occur once or twice daily, although it is often observed to come on more frequently and at intermittent intervals.

In the vast majority of the cases studied, tongue chewing begins in the second year of life. It is likely to persist into old age.

Beyond the fact that the tongue itself is irritated and inflamed, the habit seems to have no deleterious effect upon the bodily health. In the view of those who have studied it, it does not spring from an abnormal mental condition and has no tendency to create such. It seems to be hereditary rather than acquired and is almost invariably found in children whose parents are subject to habit spasms of one kind or another.

The habit, which curiously illustrates the idiosyncrasies of human nature, seems to be of interest to the psychologist rather than to the physician and it is the concensus of opinion that its cure, if effected at all, is to be along the lines of mental suggestion.

Among the novelties inspected by the Kaiser at Heligoland is a scheme for building a "sinkable" airship shed for two naval Zeppelins. To save the shed from attack a hole will be dug in the ground into which the shed can be lowered by hydraulic power so that the roof will be level with the ground and the entire shed invisible from the sea.

How It Is Possible to Telegraph to the Brain Cells

PLACE the point of a needle against the skin and, however slight the pressure, a sharp pain is felt instantly. This ceases shortly if the needle remains stationary, but its withdrawal occasions another twinge, much less marked than that caused by its introduction. By applying greater pressure the same effects are produced, only that the pain is more pronounced and of longer duration.

Whence come these sensations and others, as heat, cold, smoothness and the like? By what means do they travel so rapidly to the brain? They are among the commonest of experiences, but until quite recently among the most difficult to explain.

To understand them it is necessary to realize that the human body is a dynamo, generating continuous electric currents, some of which circulate through the end organs in which the nerves terminate in the skin. Pressure, temperature and, perhaps, some other forces set up a varying resistance to these currents in the end organs, thus creating sensations, the intensity of which corresponds, of course, with the force of the interruption.

In point of fact, touch communicates its findings to the brain in electrical characters, spelled out much as words are spelled by the key of the telegraph instrument, only that the code offers facilities for expressing different meanings and shades of meaning infinitely beyond the possibilities of the Morse alphabet.

Thomas Meighan and Jacqueline Logan in a scene from The Paramount Picture "White and Unmarried"

At the Capitol To-night, Friday and Saturday

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

Today the Capitol offers Thomas Meighan in the big crook love story, White and Unmarried, and the balance of an excellent program at popular prices.

Jacqueline Logan, the pretty ex-Follies girl who plays the leading feminie role opposite Thomas Meighan in the Paramount picture, "White and Unmarried," which comes to the Capitol Theatre to-night is rapidly forging to the front as a motion picture actress.

Miss Logan, now eighteen years old, has had a varied career. When she was eight years, she went abroad with her mother, Marian Kelley, formerly noted singer with the Bostonian Grand Opera Company. At fifteen, she entered Colorado College at Colorado Springs, being the youngest Freshman in the school

Miss Logan went to New York in 1920 to study dancing and was understudy of Margot Kelly in the role of "Angela" in the revival of "Florodora" at the Century Theatre. She later assumed the role herself and played it with success. Then she joined the Ziegfeld Follies as a singer and dancer.

In November, 1920, she left New York for Los Angeles, and she was chosen to play oposite Mr. Meighan in "White and Unmarried." She designs her own gowns and helps dress the settings.

The balance of this big and very excellent show will contain the very newest in short reel entertainment, including a very funny two reel comedy, 'Society Dogs' with Brownie the wonder dog of the screen.

AT THE ALLEN.

FOLLIES GIRLS' LIFE FAR FROM MERE LARK

Probably the ordinary person who sees the Follies Girls in "Scrappily Married," latest of the two reel Christie Comedies, which comes to the Allen Theatre, to-day, Friday and Saturday, concludes that they have a life of ease and comfort. For in this picture they appear in a series of dances in a cabaret scene. It looks very easy and one might well conclude that they need spend but a few hours of the week in the studio and then enjoy the pleasures of California the rest of the time.

But before jumping at conclusions read the "rules and regulations" that each of these girls must follow rigidly:

1. Must be between five feet one and five feet eight in height.
2. Must weigh no less than 100 and not more than 130 pounds.
3. Must be able to pass tests of riding, swimming and dancing and answer questions concerning social eitquette. Higher rating given to those who know golf, tennis and various sports.
4. Days when not working in pictures must report for dancing rehearsals or scene rehearsals, not later than 10 a.m.
5. Must not alter the color or shorten the length of the hair without permission from the director-general.
6. Must be in the studio each working day at 8:30 a.m., and must not leave until permission is given by the director in charge of the production on which they are working, or if not working must remain until 5.30 p.m.
7. Must take part in annual girls' hike and any special athletic events aranged by the studio officials.
8. Must not smoke cigarettes in the studio or any public place.
9. Must not chew gum in studio.
10. Must not attend cabarets or late entertainments in public places at any time excepting on Saturday nights or other nights when they are not called upon to work the following day.
11. Must visit physician at stated intervals to assure perfect health and to guard against any posibility of contagious disease.
12. Must at all times conduct themselves so as to maintain the reputation of the studios.

SCREEN VILLAIN BALKS AT BEATING GRACE DARMOND.

"Though I have been a stage villain for many years," said Harry Carter, who has the part of Sidney Atherton, the international crook in "The Hope Diamond Mystery," the stupendous fifteen episode serial, which will be the feature attraction at the Allen Theatre to-day, "I do not ever want to be called upon to The president,Miss Runnings, gave that I was in this picture. After working on the lot all day I used to go home and shudder at myself.

"In one part of the picture the scenario calls for me to order my men to string beautiful little Grace Darmond up by the thumbs to the yardarm of the yacht, and lash her across her bare back with a cat-o'-nine tails with leaden pieces of lead embedded in the rawhide thongs.

"The day on which this action takes place was one of the hardest I ever put in. I tried dozens of times to keep the proper expression of villainy on my face, but every time I gave the order an expression of horror at the heinousness of the act would unconsciously steal over my face. It was only with the utmost difficulty that we at last got the scene good enough for the camera.

"That night I had the most horrible nightmare I ever had in my life. I dreamed that same scene all over again, only that I was wielding the lash, and every time I brought it down on the beautiful white back of Grace Darmond the welts immediately turned to blood. I was finally awakened by my own cries which in my dream I thought were her shieks. If they ever write a scene like that in a scenario again for me they will have to rewrite it, for I will never play in it, no, not as long as I live."

WHAT HECTOR CHARLESWORTH, THE FAMOUS CRITIC THINKS OF WALTER HAMPDEN

Of more interest, perhaps, to Peterborough playgoers than the New York viewpoint of Walter Hampden —and down there he is regarded as the Shakespearian actor who heads the profession — is what Hector Charlesworth, Canada's foremost critic, thinks of the star. Mr. Charlesworth, after pointing out that while Mr. Hampden is an American, the British stage can claim him as one of the heirs of its tradition by virtue of his having been trained by Sir Frank Benson and H. B. Irving, says in the Toronto Saturday night:

"Whether Shakespearian acting on this continent was to live as a vital force or dissolve within ten years into a mere legend of the past is a problem that has seriously concerned all lovers of the drama of late. To the last named fear the acting, of Walter Hampden gives a reassuring answer. No one who has seen his Hamlet can doubt that we have in him an actor who will keep that greatest of all poetic roles alive in the theatre, nad who gives promise of even richer achievement in days to come. Walter Hampden is endowed by nature with all the physical attributes that are necessary to the making of a great poetic actor —a graceful physique, a beautiful voice, and innate powers of mimetic expression. In addition he has a personality unique in spiritual qualities, and what is equally essential in poetic acting, ability to impart a genuinely aesthetic atmosphere to all that he does."

Mr. Hampden will appear at the Grand Saturday night in "The Taming of the Shrew," before returning to Toronto next week at the Royal Alexandra by request.

"HULLO CANADA" TO VISIT HERE

A wire received by Mr. W. L. Phillips, manager of the Grand Opera House, to-day contained splendid news for local theatre-goers as it announced that Albert de Courville's spectacular English revue "Hullo Canada" now in its second week at the Princess Theatre, Toronto, is after all to visit Peterboro, coming to the Grand on November 10th., the date originally scheduled. This huge production featuring Shirley Kellog and Harry Tate is the greatest attraction of its kind Canada has seen and there was regret when it was stated that it would not visit here Peterboro is one of the three cities in Ontario outside Toronto that is to have a chance of seeing "Hullo Canada".

MONTREAL POLICE THINK THEY HAVE HAMILTON ROBBER

MAN HELD IN CONNECTION WITH ATTEMPTED BANK HOLD-UP

MONTREAL, Oct. 27. —(Canadian Press.)—Norman Ryan, arrested here on a charge of attempting to rob the branch of the Bank of Commerce here on Tuesday, is believed by police to be wanted for bank robberies in Hamilton, Ont. He was identified this morning by Eugene Laflamme, Bertillion expert, at headquarters.

Ryan was arrested last night with another man who gave his name as O'Hara. When arrested Ryan had a Luger automatic revolver and a 38-calibre Ivor Johnson in his pocket and a stock of ammunition. O'Hara had an automatic revolver in his possession fully loaded. Both men had railway tickets for Toronto in their possession.

7,500 VISITED MADE-IN-FRANCE EXHIBIT TRAIN

LOCAL PEOPLED WAITED OVER AN HOUR TO GET ABOARD

The official attendance at the French Exhibition train in Peterboro yesterday as compiled by Mr. R. H. Charlton, G. T. R. representative on the train, was 7,500. Mr. Charlton sent a special despatch to the Examiner from Belleville to-day, announcing this attendance. This is considered a very large patronage. Crowds filled the train from its opening in the morning till late at night, and at times there was a line-up of patient men and women nearly a block long. Some people waited over an hour to get aboard. The train left at 11 p.m. last night for Belleville, going on to Brockville to-morrow.

"AMER CA'S GREATEST SHAKESPEARIAN ACTOR"
SATURDAY NIGHT
"The Paper Worth While."

Toronto, October 6th, 1921.

Dear Mr. Stoddart:

I have looked up my criticism on the occasion of Walter Hampden's first appearance in Toronto as a Shakespearian actor, last November. The digest given below contains the main points I emphasised. I am very anxious that he should obtain popular support in Canada.

Yours sincerely,
HECTOR CHARLESWORTH.

"Whether Shakespearian acting on this continent was to live as a vital force or dissolve within ten years into a mere legend of the past is a problem that has seriously concerned all lovers of the drama of late. To the last-named fear the acting of Walter Hampden gives a reassuring answer. No one who has seen his Hamlet can doubt that we have in him an actor who will keep that greatest of all poetic roles alive in the theatre, and who gives promise of even richer achievement in days to come. Walter Hampden is endowed by nature with all the physical attributes that are necessary to the making of a great poetic actor—a graceful physique, a beautiful voice, and innate powers of mimetic expression. In addition, he has a personality unique in spiritual qualities, and what is equally essential in poetic acting, ability to impart a genuinely aesthetic atmosphere to all that he does."

I also emphasized his fine apprenticeship under Sir Frank Benson and H. B. Irving as illustrating the fact that although an American by birth the British stage could claim him as one of the heirs of its tradition.—H. C.

FRENCH TRAIN LOSES CIGARETTE CASE ONLY.

Although It Carries $5,000,000 of Gems and Works of Art.

Although they had travelled over 8,000 miles with jewellery, silverware and works of art worth over half a million dollars, the only article they knew lost was a cigarette case, Mr. Max Reville, one of the French mission in charge of the exhibition train that was in Peterborough yesterday, told an Examiner man. It was quite a startling statement, in view of the many opportunities for at least petty thieving the train afforded, to say nothing of "big" jobs that might have been "done." Mr. Reville considered the made-in-France train had come through the "crime wave" fortunately. He informed the reporter that there were diamonds on board valued at $500,000, all of these not being publicly shown, for obvious reasons, but carried in trade interests.

While only the cigarette case so far as they knew had been stolen, several valuable busts had been broken by the jolting of the cars. When they arrived in Montreal he said the Customs officers had to completely check over all the goods, and their losses would then be definitely known.

While in Peterborough yesterday special protection was given by the local police. In addition to a generous squad of uniformed men, there were plainc'othesmen in and around the train all day.

SAYS STRIKE AGAINST JOB OF EVERYMAN

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—(Canadian Press)—The threatened Railway strike would be a strike against every man's job, Edgar J. Rich, counsel for the Boston and Maine Railroad, said to-day. It would be a strike against the health, safety and welfare of every man, woman and child in the United States. The issue was sharply drawn and must be resolutely met, he said.

LINDSAY MAN ARRESTED HERE

WALKED INTO THE ARMS OF THE POLICE THIS MORNING

It is not often that the police apprehend law-breakers as easily as they did John McClory to-day. McClory is wanted in Lindsay to pay a fine of $1,500, or serve a sentence on a charge for a breach of the O.T.A., on which he was convicted after he "skipped" town. Chief of Police Newhall has had experience with McClory, and when he saw him at the G.T.R. Station yesterday, recognized him. McClory also recognized the Chief, and it was evidently with intentions of clearing himself in some way that he appeared at the station bright and early this morning, giving his name as McDonald.

The Chief had not yet arrived, and Sergt. Detective William Meagher, recognizing McClory, had him locked up. Chief Newhall notified Chief Short, of Lindsay, that McClory had been arrested here. "Good for you. We've been looking for McClory for a long time," Chief Short said over the telephone, and said that he would send an officer down to-day for McClory.

McClory, it is alleged, was the leader in bootlegging activities in Lindsay, and was the principal one involved in the sensational "clean-up" made by the Lindsay police early this year. McClory left town, was convicted and given the heaviest fine of all—$1,500.

JUVENILE CHAMPIONS AROUND FESTIVE BOARD

BANKERS RECEIVE THE WARNE CUP AND SPALDING MEDALS AT ENJOYABLE BANQUET TENDERED BY MANAGER YEOTES.

The members of the Bankers' Baseball Club, winners of the City Juvenile League, were entertained by Manager Louis Yeotes at a most enjoyable banquet at the Class Cafe last evening. The programme included the presentation to the Bankers of the Warne Cup, donated by Mr. W. B. Warne, as emblematic of the juvenile championship, and the individual medals presented by A. G. Spalding and Company.

In addition to the members and officers of the champions, the gathering included Ward Patterson, who was an ideal chairman; Frank Convery, president of the City Baseball League; Kevin Murray, of the League's umpiring staff, and F. D. Craig, scorer. All the players were on hand except Jack Turner, who is attending Royal Military College.

After the array of good things had been attacked in scientific fashion, Mr. Patterson, in the absence from the city of the donor, presented the Warne Cup to the Bankers. In doing so he congratulated them upon their clean cut victory, and upon their sportsmanlike conduct on and off the field, assuring them that those who were most keenly interested in baseball had followed their games with the greatest enjoyment. He emphasized the importance of keeping their amateur standing clean, reminding the players that they would make better citizens in after life if they were above reproach in their games.

Manager Yeotes accepted the trophy on behalf of the Bankers in a speech in which he thanked the members of the team upon their good work during the season.

Mr. Convery, as president of the City League, congratulated the Bankers upon their splendid showing during the season, and Kevin Murray expressed his pleasure at being able to officiate as umpire.

The Spalding medals were then presented to the following players: Jack Hardill, "Hap" Wilgar, "Lefty" Turner, Geoff. Hardill, D. Johnston, S. Hensley, B. McLean, Jim Hall, Walter Bradshaw, E. Johnston and P. Parrington. A medal will be sent to Jack Turner.

All the players were called upon to speak, after which a vote of thanks was passed to Manager Yeotes, on motion of Jack Hardill and Harold Wilgar, and the enjoyable affair was brought to a close with the singing of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and cheers for the manager and other officials.

RUGBY NOTES.

For the game Saturday between Oshawa and Peterboro, the Collegiate is trying to secure the services of an outside referee. So far they have been unsuccessful but they hope to be able to get a Toronto man down to handle the game for them. If however they are unable to get an outside man they will try and procure the services of some man in Peterboro who knows and understands the new rules, and avoid a repetition of the game in Belleville, when the referee did not know the rules. A Peterboro man will however umpire and the best man available will be secured to handle this end of the game.

The team is in fine shape for their game and every member of it intends to work the hardest to help bring the victory to Peterboro. They have every confidence of vicory and also hope to see a big crowd of rooters out to cheer for them. As this is the first real attempt to re-esablish Rugby in Peterboro since 1912, when Peterboro had a senior O.R.F.U. team here, they deserve the support of every citzen, who can attend the game at Riverside Park should turn out, as besides helping to promote the game of Rugby they will be sure to see a good game.

MOORE TO MEET HERMAN AT NEW ORLEANS.

CITY TEN PIN LEAGUE.

The City Ten Pin League is expected to start next week, as the league is waiting for another team to enter.

RUGBY FANS HAVE A TREAT FOR SATURDAY

The Collegiate Institute Rugby team deserves the greatest credit for keeping Peterborough on the map so far as the great autumn game is concerned, and every rugby fan should show his appreciation by turning out at Riverside Park on Saturday, when the Central Park twelve clash with Oshawa. The Collegiate showed their class on Saturday by stepping into Belleville and handing an 8 to 0 beating to Maidens and company on their own grounds, and a win over Oshawa here will see them well on their way to the championship of this group. The youngsters are working like beavers to get into shape and to perfect their team play, and they should be a well-conditioned, well trained squad when the ball is kicked off on Saturday. The new rugby rules tend to speed up and open up the play, and Saturday's game should be a fine demonstration of the improved article of rugby. Riverside Park should be a popular spot on Saturday.

COO LEAVES FOR EAST.

WINNIPEG, Man., October 27. — Canadain Press. — Abbie Coo, secretary of the Manitoba senior Hockey League and president of the intermediate league, will represent Manitoba at the Canadian Amteur Hockey Association Meeting at Toronto on Friday. He left for the east last night.

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, Oct. 27. — Commenting on the suggestion from British Columbia nad Alberta that amateurs should be llowed to mingle with professoinals, without losing their standing, the Free Press says to-day:

"After all, so far as the Canadian body (A.A.U. of C.) is concerned, the status of the individual is the thing that counts, and if the individual player, whether performing in out and out professional ranks, or with the "tainted" variety, lives up to all clauses in the amateur ruling, except that relating to the mere playing with or against professionals it is difficult to see why he should cease to be reckoned an amateur in the wider sense."

DELAVAL TEN PIN LEAGUE STARTS MONDAY NIGHT

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir: God be praised that our people are waking up to the necessity of hearing God's word on Sunday in our churches, for it is all that we have in this world, and it is a hopeless dreary world without it. When the Church Attendance Committee goes around asking those who are falling away to come back again to the fold, they must say to us, "Come and hear God's Holy Word and the Bible."

It is no use to ask people to go to church if the ministers are to say that the Bible is half historical and mythical, and not from cover to cover the inspired Word of God, the Father of Mankind. It would be a waste of time and money, and a mockery. The Rotary, Kiwanis, Knights of Columbus, and the hundred and one Societies that are taking the place of the church people, it would be better to join. So dear friends, take with you on your holy mission (and God speed you) the signed statement of your minister that he preaches from the real Word of God, and that he is not a Higher Critic. There is no use in asking others if we ourselves have not faith. We are as a brand for the burning and traitors to Jesus Christ, the Saviour.

—One of the Old Faith.

P.A.A.A. MEETS TO-NIGHT.

Any citizen will be welcome at the Chamber of Commerce Rooms at 8.00 p.m.

PETERBOROUGH MALE VOICE CHOIR.

An increased attendance was again shown at the regular rehearsal of the above choir on Tuesday evening in the J. M. Greene Studio.

New members are being enrolled, and the impressions from the general membership, numbering over 50 voices, is highly satisfactory at so early a date.

Several new pieces of music have arrived, and the evening was thoroughly enjoyed in practising the selected choruses, in the choice of which the Musical Committee have shown great judgment and sympathy.

The choir, as a whole, appreciate the work of this and all the other committees, also the splendid efforts of Mr. C. S. Thompson, the untiring and popular secretary. This is a busy time for these officers, and everything is running smoothly, and giving promise of a very successful winter programme.

Next week's practice is being awaited with great interest, and some more new members will be in line, it is expected.

WEDDING BELLS

FRAZER—GREAVES.

At the home of the bride's parents, 786 George Street, the marriage was solemnized at 1.30 to-day of Helen, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Greaves, to Leon Frazer, of Peterboro, son of the Rev. Jas. G. Frazer and Mrs. Frazer, of Orillia.

The ceremony, which took place in the living-room, beautifully decorated for the occasion with palms, ferns and mauve and pink chrysanthemums, was performed by the Rev. Harold W. Young, pastor of George Street Methodist Church.

The bride, who was unattended, wore a beautiful gown of Harding blue, with wide panels of brocaded velvet over blue net and slip of silver lace. She wore the groom's gift, a necklace of pearls, and carried a bouquet of orchids and ophelia roses.

Miss Winifred Frazer, of Toronto, a sister of the groom, played the Wedding March, and also sang very sweetly during the signing of the register.

After the ceremony, a dainty luncheon was served to the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties, the young couple leaving later on a motor trip. The bride travelled in a smart suit of brown velours with sable trimmings and hat of panne velvet to match. Mr. and Mrs. Frazer will reside in Peterborough.

Many beautiful gifts testified to the popularity of both bride and groom, who are both well-known in the city. Mr. Frazer is secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce.

IN MEMORIAM

One year has passed since the sad day,
When the one I loved God called away,
Sleep on Dear Edna take your rest
They missed you most, who loved you best
In silence you suffered with patience you bore
Till God called you home to suffer no more
Until the Day breaks and the shadows flee away.

LOYD GEORGE SUPPORTED BY BIG MAJORITY

EMIER TAKING LITTLE RISK IN STAKING GOVERNMENT ON MOTION OF CONSERVATIVE "DIE HARDS."

BORITES AND LIBERALS SOLIDLY BEHIND PREMIER

By ED. L. KEEN,
United Press Staff Correspondent.)

ONDON, Oct. 28.—Lloyd George obilized the Government forces to-y for a showdown on the Irish sit-tion in the Commons next Mon-y.

The "Die-Hards" of the Conserv-ve party announced their inten-n of challenging the Government's nduct of the Irish negotiations in debate. The Prime Minister has cepted the challenge and will con-der the motion for debate as one lling for a vote on censure. He ll stake his government on the estion.

Lloyd George takes little risk, and knows it. His political enemies the Labor and Liberal parties will solidly behind him, in support of policy of negotiating with Sinn in. Even the Ulster contingent in e House will side with the Gov-nment against the extreme reac-naries, who will be attacking the ish negotiations.

The Labor party has voted to op-se solidly the vote of censure on e Government. By snapping up e Conservative challenge, Lloyd orge has aligned himself with his terest enemies. Few members of e House and only a small propor-n of British public opinion will d the Government is wrong in eeting Sinn Fein plenipotentiaries a conference.

The Irish conference itself re-ained in committee stage, Lloyd orge, Lord Birkenhead, Griffith d Collins apparently being unable agree upon a formula that would rmit the conference to resume its ssions.

Notices Recalling Order For Rail Strike Sent Out

CLEVELAND, October 28. Canadian Press.—Notices recalling the strike order went out from the headquarters of the Railway Brotherhoods to-day to all parts of the country, following the decision of the executive committees of the Brotherhoods in Chicago last night to cancel the walk out proposed for Sunday.

The policy adopted by the United States Railroad Board in reference to the future changes in wages and working conditions was taken as affording the basis of a "satisfactory settlement."

Arguments over the final adoption of the resolution lasted nearly four hours in Chicago, and when it came to a vote the acquiescence came quickly.

"Strikeoff," came the flash.

The "Big Five" Brotherhoods represented were: Switchmen, Trainmen, Conductors, Engineers and Firemen.

AMERICAN SHERIFF IS HERE TO PROBE RECORD OF MAN CHARGED WITH HAVING PART IN SLAYING

WILLIAM MULLEN, ARRESTED IN HAVELOCK FOR BREAKING INTO FREIGHT CARS, ALLEGED TO HAVE ASSISTED IN MURDERING TAXI DRIVER IN CARTHAGE, MISSOURI, TO GET CAR FOR BANK ROBBERY---REACHED PETERBORO 48 HOURS AFTER ROBBERY WAS COMMITTED

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

ELPH, Ont., Oct. 28.—Walter Mu , the young man who is at presen serving a twelve months' senteno at the Ontario Reformatory, and who is wanted at Carthage, Missouri, to face a charge of murder, was arraigned before Extradition Commissioner Judge Spotton at a sitting held at the Reformatory yesterday afternoon. Sheriff Harry M. Mead, of Carthage, the officer who arrived in Guelph on Tuesday to make application for the prisoner's extradition, related the story in connection with the murder of William Spain, a Carthage taxi driver, who was killed on a lonely country road twelve miles from Carthage, on the night of May 8 last, and for whose death Earl Tucker, a companion of Mullen, is now serving life imprisonment.

In his confession at the trial, Tucker informed the authorities that Mullen was an accomplice in the crime, while a gun, identified by United States army officers, as the one used by Mullen at Camp Eustace, Va., at the time he was in the American army, was found near the scene of the crime. When brought before Judge Spotton, Mullen strongly protested his innocence, stating that he knew nothing whatever of the crime. Under cross-examination he later admitted to Sheriff Mead that he was acquainted with Tucker, but denied being in Eustace the day the murder took place. The prisoner admitted that he had been with the United States forces at Camp Eustace, but, according to his story, he deserted from his unit, and had reached Peterborough, Ontario, early in the month of May. Mullen went further and stated he was arrested at Havelock, just outside Peterborough, on May 10 last, by a C.P.R. detective for attempting to break into a freight car.

In order to make enquiries as to the truthfulness of some of Mullen's statements, Judge Spotton decided to adjourn the extradition hearing until Monday, October 31. Following the adjournment, Sheriff Mead left last night for Peterborough, where he will look up the case.

Sheriff Harry M. Mead arrived in Peterborough at 1 a.m. to-day, and this morning received from Chief of Police S. Newhall the story of Mullen's conviction here for breaking into a box car at Havelock early in the morning of the 11th of May. C.P.R. Constable George Evans arrested Mullen and Ernest Schwiers, who is now serving two years at Kingston, at 3 a.m., May 11.

The murder of William Spain, for which Mullen is wanted 1,500 miles from here at Carthage, Missouri, took place the night of the 8th, and the first train by which Mullen could have got away was at 3.55 a.m. on the morning of the 9th. Could he have travelled those 1,500 miles in 48 hours? Sheriff Mead says he could, but would have to ride first-class and not "on the bumpers."

"I came down to Peterborough to check up the time—there is such a remarkable closeness to the murder and his arrest that it must be checked up carefully," Sheriff Mead told The Examiner. He said that Tucker declared that Mullen had two hundred dollars. He said that Mullen and others at Camp Eustace had been "high-jacking," robbing their comrades on pay day, and that is how he had so much, although he was only getting $30 a month, said the Sheriff. Tucker said Mullen had a ticket from Newport, News, to Buffalo.

Sheriff Mead, telling of the crime, said that Mullen and Tucker were both in Battery A, 43rd Battalion, Camp Eustace, Virginia. Mullen had enlisted on November 26, 1920. On May 1 Tucker, whose home is in Carthage, obtained ten days' leave. Mullen deserted and went home with Tucker to Missouri. Here a bank robbery was planned, and to obtain Spain's car they murdered him, Mullen firing the fatal shot, and the body was thrown in the river, not being recovered for four days later.

Earl Tucker was arrested, and he gave evidence against Mullen. Mullen's gun, identified by the serial number as the one he used at Camp Eustace, and declared by him yesterday to have been left in camp, was found near the scene of the murder. Tucker was given a life sentence, and by June 1 the Carthage police were seeking far and wide for Mullen.

At Washington, in the Adjutant-General's Department, Sheriff Mead obtained Mullen's finger prints, which had been taken on his enlistment. There was some delay in getting these, and some delay in getting in touch with the proper authorities in Canada, where it was suspicioned Mullen had gone, as it was known his father, George Mullen, resided at 418 Preston Street, Ottawa. Reproductions of Mullen's finger prints were sent to Albert J. Cawdron, Director of Criminal Investigation, Ottawa, and Mullen, after some investigation, was located in Burwash Reformatory.

When asked this morning if Mullen could be extradited, Sheriff Mead said that everything depended on Judge Spotton. Chief Newhall 'phoned C. P. R. Constable George Evans this morning, and he will come up to Peterborough this afternoon to give exact details of Mullen's arrest. Sheriff Mead will remain here overnight.

Chief Newhall recalled this morning that Mullen seemed agitated when he was on trial here. He said that Constable Evans had been suspicious of Mullen when he arrested him. He seemed in a very nervous state, and Evans asked him, "What's the matter with you? You'd think you had committed a murder." Evans told me he went as white as a sheet when he said that to him. Evans was in Peterborough last night, and told the Chief that according to the papers his suspicions of Mullen had been verified.

Mullen gave his age in Peterborough as 22, but, according to information of Sheriff Mead's, he is 28. Mead thought he had a record in Ottawa in 1910 when he was 17 years of age. The local police had been advised from Ottawa he had no record there. The Chief of Police today remarked upon the soldierly appearance of Mullen compared with Schwiers. "I knew he had been in the army somewhere, and I questioned him. I asked him if he had been in any trouble in the states, and he finally admitted he had in the army—and he bumped, said Chief Newhall. He said, "He guessed they had forgotten about it."

"I thought he was some kind of a crook, for Detective Meagher told me that he knew how to 'roll' his fingers for the impression. He had evidently had them taken before. If Magistrate Dumble had only let me get his American record then we'd have cleared the whole thing up then."

Carthage, Missouri, is a city of 20,000 situated in the south-western part of the State, 333 miles southwest of St. Louis.

KIWANIS CLUB ORGANIZED IN PETERBORO'

OVER 50 PRESENT AT ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING IN EMPRESS HOTEL AT WHICH VENTURE IS LAUNCHED.

PURPOSES ARE EXPLAINED BY VISITING KIWANIANS

At an enthusiastic after-dinner gathering at the Empress Hotel last night a Kiwanis club was organized in Peterborough.

During the past month several conferences of those interested locally have been held and interest stimulated in Kiwanis to a great extent. The attendance of over fifty at the banquet last night is proof of the interest that has been taken in Kiwanis.

Kiwanian Frank Hoag, President of the Kingston Club, was chairman and in his address spoke of the principles and ideals of Kiwanis. Mr. H. Lorimier of Toronto, district representative, made a spirited address and outlined the good work Kiwanis had outlined the good work Kiwanis had of the beginning of Kiwanis and the progress made in Canada, and he said the International convention will be held in Toronto next year. Addresses were also given by Kiwanian Ald. Rogers of Kingston, and Kiwanian George B. Lee, of Kingston.

Kiwanian Mayor A. A. McIntyre welcomed the coming of Kiwanis to Peterborough and Kiwanian G. N. Gordon, M.P., thanked, on behalf of the new club, all the outside Kiwanians for starting the Peterborough club on what promises to be a successful career.

Officers Elected.

The officers of the Peterborough Kiwanis Club were elected as follows:

President—Ald. F. Whitehouse.
Vice-president—C. R. Widdifield.
Secretary—Ald. N. E. Phelan.
Treasurer—C. S. Cummer.
District Trustee—E. F. Mason.
Board of Directors—Dr. J. E. Middleton, Alex. Dick, Ald. G. L. Hay, Jack McNabb, Ald. N. E Phelan, Edgar Burnham, R. H. Parsons.

The district representatives explained fully the organization of Kiwanis clubs. Two representatives of each field of activity are admitted and fifty members are required for a chartered club. Over 50 members have already been enrolled in Peterborough and the club are eagerly anticipating "charter night," when 50 Toronto and 40 Montreal Kiwanians, with many from Kingston, will be here for the presentation and official recognition of the local Kiwanis. It was decided last night to meet every Tuesday at the Empress Hotel for the luncheon meetings.

THE PEER AND THE PAINTER HALF RATE FOR HALF LENGTH

Sir William Orpen, B. A., at work on his portrait of Lord Leverhulme, which has occasioned a remarkable controversy between the peer and the painter. Lord Leverhulme commissioned at 3,000 guineas a full length portrait in his mayoral robes destined for Bolton Town Hall. Sir William suggested a sitting position as giving a finer effect. Now Lord Leverhulme only offers 1,500 guineas—"half rate" for half-length. The artist insists that just as much paint and varnish has been used—and objects to "payment at so much a foot."

Beer Released In Windy City

LIQUOR SOLD IN EVERY BLOCK IN DOWNTOWN CHICAGO TO-DAY

CHICAGO, Oct. 28. — (United Press.)— Drinks, masquerading under titles of "Beer" and "Bourbon" could be purchased freely in Chicago to-day.

How near they come to measuring up to the standards in ingredients and taste was a matter of opinion. For instance, prohibition agents say the beer contains poison.

Vendors usualy claimed they were the real stuff, while the purchaser usually found them real so far as they "carried a wallop."

Liquor of some sort could be purchased in practically every block in down-town Chicago. It was generally sold openly and over the bar in saloons. Delicatessan stores, tailors and other establishments handled it on the side. In nearly every large building there is some office where liquor can be purchased.

Bourbon, carrying the old-time labels, but lacking the old-time taste, could be purchased for $6 a pint. Bought by the drink in cafes the charge was usually $1 for a tea cup half filled.

NEW ANGLE TO ARBUGKLE CASE

DOCTOR AND NURSES SWEAR MISS RAPPE HAD CHRONIC AILMENT WHICH MIGHT HAVE RESULTED IN DEATH.

NURSE CLAIMS SHE WAS THREATENED NOT TO TELL

(United Press).

CHICAGO, Oct. 28. — Virginia Rappe, movie actress, for whose death Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle is held, suffered from a chronic ailment which might have resulted in her death, a doctor and two nurses swore in the District Attorney's office to-day.

The witnesses, Mrs. Josephine Roth, Miss Virginia Warren and Dr. Maurice Rosenberg, gave their testimony to Frank Peska, Assistant State Attorney. Formal depositions will be taken later to-day when Arbuckle's attorney arrives from San Francisco.

All said they had attended Miss Rappe during an illness. Mrs. Roth declared she was present at the premature birth of a child to Miss Rappe in 1912. Dr. Rosenberg corroborated the testimony of Mrs. Roth, as also did Miss Warren.

Mrs. Roth said threats made against her in case she testified for Arbuckle made her decide to testify.

BRITISH WORKERS PLANNING TO DISCARD ANGLO-JAPANESE PACT IN FEAR OF ANOTHER CONFLICT

TRANSPORT WORKERS' HEAD SAYS COUNCIL OF ACTION WILL BE USED IF DEEMED NECESSARY

TO MEET SIMULTANEOUSLY WITH DISARMAMENT PARLEY

BY CHARLES M. McCANN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Oct. 28.—British workers have determined to scrap the Anglo-Japanese alliance, which would lead to another world war, Robert Wildam, president of the International Transport Workers' Federation, declared to-day, in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

If necessary the council of action which prevented the Anglo-Polish treaty against Russia, will be re-established, Wildam says. "Japan's Imperialism is threatening to bring about a new world war," the transport leader declared. "We European workers, who control all the essential war making machinery, will take direct action if need be to prevent war.

"Workers in the four integral war industries, transport, railways, mines and metals, will meet at Amsterdam simultaneously with the Washington conference to take steps to prevent a new impending world war."

"We fear an Anglo-Japanese alliance would strengthen Japan in the Pacific. Already sated with power, the Japanese are looking hungrily towards Russia, towards the Philippines, towards Australia, even towards the United States Pacific Coast.

"The Washington Conference will have no more effect in preventing another world war than did the Hague convention. The men at the conference will be discussing, not amity and peace, but world power."

U.S. CABINET OFFICER HURT

POSTMASTER-GENERAL AMONG SCORE INJURED IN REAR-END COLLISION IN NEW JERSEY FOG

ON WAY TO INVESTIGATE $1,000,000 MAIL THEFT

United Press.

NEW YORK, October 28. — Postmaster General Hayes and a score of other pasengers were slightly injured early to-day when the Washington bound midnight express on the Pennsylvania Railway crashed into the rear end of a Long Branch local at the Manhattan transfer, New Jersey.

The accident was due to a heavy fog.

Hays, who had come here to investigate the $1,500,000 mail robbery, was thrown from his berth, and in addition to shock, sustained strained muscles. He was attended by a physician on the train and returned to New York City, going immediately into a hotel where he was ordered to rest.

R. S. Simons, chief inspector of the Post Ofice Department, and Dr. Lee K. Frankel, director of the Department's Welfare Division, also were slightly injured.

Mrs. J. B. Moore of Ashbury Park, whose skull was fractured, was said to be the only person seriously injured.

ARM POSTAL EMPLOYES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.— (Canadian Press.)—One of the first things Postmaster General Hays did when he came here was to release a shipment of guns sent to arm postal employees after the series of mail robberies in other cites. They were still in shipping cases, but are now in the use of employes and those guarding mail trucks through the streets. He will find the cause of the non-delivery to the employes. Arrests are expected soon in connection with last Monday's robbery.

EXTEND CAMPAIGN IN AID OF CONSUMPTIVES

CANVASS FOR CONTRIBUTIONS WILL BE CONTINUED INTO NEXT WEEK.

The local campaign in aid of suffering consumptives, shows every promise that the $10,000 objective set for Peterboro will be reached. The main committee met last evening in the Chamber of Commerce, where reports from sub-committees were most encouraging. But owing to the size of the districts into which the city has been divided the canvass teams find it necessary to carry on their work into next week. Any person who should not happen to be called on is requested to send his or her subscription to either of the local banks, or to the campaign's treasurer, Mr. W. H. Dunsford, Bank of Commerce.

AFTER BEAUTY? SWIM; CO-EDS FLOCK TO POOL

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Northwestern University here is developing a record-breaking class of mermaids.

The school had a perfectly good swimming pool, but Tom Robinson, swimming coach, couldn't get any of the co-eds near it.

Then he posted a notice on the bulletin board.

It read:

"To swim is the easiest manner to become beautiful. Complexion improves, wrinkles disappear and the body develops perfectly. Swim and achieve beauty."

Now, extra classes are being booked.

TO-DAY'S NEWS OF THE DISTRICT

SHOT A FOX AND A BEAR

THE BEAR WAS ON ITS WAY TO TO YOUNG'S POINT WHEN THE CATASTROPHE HAPPENED.

YOUNG'S POINT NEWS

YOUNG'S POINT, October 28.—While hunting quite close to the village on Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Fred Young shot a bear cub and a fox. They were on exhibition on the steamer Islinda, and many spectators viewed the trophies of the hunt during the evening.

Personal Mention.

Mr. Thomas Watson, of Norwood, was in the village with boxes for the local cheese factory on Thursday last.

On Wednesday evening last the Roman Catholic Women's League held their first social in Mr. Charlton's hall.

Owing to the inclement weather those from a distance were unable to attend; but a very pleasant evening was spent in progressive euchre and dancing by those present.

Mrs. Allan, of Peterborough, is visiting friends in the village over the week-end.

Mr. Flood, of Ennismore, was in the village on Tuesday.

Mrs. F. G. Young and children, of Peterborough, visited the village on Friday.

Mr. Clarence Foster, of Smith, spent Tuesday evening in the village.

Rev. S. F. Dixon, of Lakefield, was in the village on Wednesday.

Mr. A. Wilson spent Tuesday in Westwood on business.

THE LATE KATHARINE SKINNER OF KEENE

KEENE, Oct. 28.—It was with feelings of deepest regret that the relatives and many friends of the late Katie Skinner, learned of her sudden death at Nichol's Hospital on Tuesday, October 18. Though she had been in poor health for months the immediate end was not anticipated, and it seems particularly sad because of the many bereavements that have come to the family within the last few years. She was a daughter of Mrs. Mary Skinner and the late Richard Skinner of Keene. There remains in her immediate family her mother, a brother, Percy; of Niagara Falls; and an aunt, Miss Katherine MacNeill of Keene.

The deceased spent her girlhood in Keene and was most favourably knowr for her kind and loving ways. She was a true sunbeam in whatever circle she was entered. Beyond genial disposition was an insight into deeper problems and a high ideal and sensitively developed conscience that stood for the best and highest on any issue.

After completing her course at the Peterboro Collegiate Institute she entered Queen's University and graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Art. There she was a leader in athletics and all activities of college life.

Her classmates showed their esteem by electing her in her final year, president of the Levana Society, the highest position that could be given a student. After leaving college, she entered the teaching profession, but returned to Keene to serve her family and had been there two years.

"The ripest, fruit drops earliest to the ground," and it would seem so in the case if the ripest means most perfect or most ready. Her life was one of great promise and her death seems a true loss. But her life, if short, was exemplary and will be rounded out in another sphere, even though we feel;

"Cut is the tree that should have grown full straight."

CENTURY OF PEACE EXAMPLE TO WORLD

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(Canadian Press).—The century of perfect peace between the United States and Canada was cited as an example to the world, by Viscount James Bryce, at a luncheon in his honor yesterday by the English-speaking Union. The disarmament agreement, affecting 3,000 mile of boundary between Canada and the United States is an arrangement which should be made world-wide, he said.

In his address to the gathering, Viscount Bryce alluded to the 'fervor and hope with which America anticipated the Washington conference." Citing the century of perfect peace between the United States and Canada, as a result of their disarmament agreement effecting 3,000 miles of boundary, he said such an arrangement should be made world-wide and declared that the Americans, with their impartial and disinterested viewpoint regarding Old World problems, were capable of leading the way toward world disarmament.

He interpreted the recent presidential election in the United States as a non-acceptance of Versailles Treaty in its present but declared it did not mean aloofness and isolation on the part of the United States.

Sailings: St. Anthony, Copenhagen ;Lord Londonderry, Belfast; Canadian Trapper, Liverpool.

CRAWFORD'S HILL WILL BE CUT DOWN—EAST EMILY NEWS OF INTEREST.

A PRESENTATION

EAST EMILY, October 28. — county road steam shovel and a number of men have come to Crawford's hill to cut the hill down, and straighten the road, instead of the curve around the hill. They are working at the hill now.

A Presentation.

On Monday evening last about 65 members of Bethel church journeyed to the home of Mr. Joseph McCarrel, and presented Miss Florence Green with a miscellaneous shower before her marriage, which took place on Wednesday. The many presents showed the high esteem in which Miss Green is held in the community. She was a faithful worker in her church, and has been in the choir for some years. The president of the League, Mr. Harry Jackson made a speech, and also Mr. Ruth, secretary of the Sunday school, and Mr. E. Switzer, president after which Miss Green thanked the people in a very pleasing manner. The evening was spent playing games of different kinds, after whch lunch was served

A Socal Evening.

On Thursday evening, October 20, the ladies of Bethel church held a social evening, and a 15c tea of fowl, salads, cakes and pies left over from the fowl supper of the previous evening, the people not being able to get there on account of the wet weather. The ladies served tea in the basement. After the tea was over a very good programme was given in the church as follows:

Mr. Stillman acted as chairman, and gave an address.
Reading by Miss Marion Carey.
Address by Mr. Herb Jackson.
Solo by Mr. Ira Switzer.
Recitation by Mr. Harry Jackson.
Recitation by Master Kenneth Jackson.

Mrs. Harry Lowes, president of the Ladies' Aid, said a few words on behalf of the ladies, after which the programme was brought to a close by the singing of God Save the King.

Church Services

Tht Rev. Dr. Blagrave of St. John's church, Peterboro, took charge of the services in the Anglican churches of East Emily on Sunday last, the Rev Mr. James of Omemee taking the services in St. John's church, Peterboro.

ELECTION NEWS

KING CHARGES GOVERNMENT WITH RECKLESS SPENDING.

SUTTON, Ont., October 28 (Canadian Press). — In the last sixteen months, said Mr. W. L. Mackenzie King here last night, Mr. Meighen had been spending millions of the people's money; he had appointed judges and senators, and taken over railways, yet no one between the two coasts of Canada could say he had a hand in giving Mr. Meighen the authority. Autocracy of the most pronounced type was the only name for such usurpation of the powers of Government.

Women, said Mr. King, often told him that they did not understand political matters, and he said men might honestly say the same. This year Parliament voted $560,000,000, this divided between the eight or nine million people means $62.00 for each individual. Yet as children do not pay taxes, one must take a basis of families of five, and then one found that the tax came to $310.00 per family of five. Thus it was easy to see tht matters of Government were of prime importance to women as well as to men. The present Government, said Mr. King, had become so used to paying out public moneys that they have become absolutely indifferent to the meaning of huge expenditures to the people.

CRERAR DENIES ANY ALLIANCE WITH KING.

SUSSEX, N.B., October 28 (Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.)—"This miserable campaign of questioning the loyalty of your opponents is worse than the Toryism of the middle ages," exclaimed Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the National Progressive Party, in addressing the electors of Royal Constituency yesterday.

Mr. Crerar was referring to statements attributed to the Prime Minister. "Our opponents," said Mr. Crerar, "must be very barren of arguments if they have to embark on a campaign of that sort it shows that they are fighting a losing cause."

Mr. Crerar's speech came at the close of a chapter of accidents. Yesterday he was to have spoken at Fredericton, but there had been failure to advertise and the meeting was called off. To-day the Sussex meeting was delayed by reason of late trains, and the crowd had to wait nearly two hours for Mr. Crerar's arrival. The attendance was large, however.

He took up, first, reports of a secret alliance between himself and the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, the leader of the Liberal Party. They were, Mr. Crerar said, part of the campaign of misrepresentation.

"From first to last," he added, "they are a tissue of misrepresentations—I was going to say a tissue of falsehoods—and that would not be too strong a word to use."

DELIVERS JUDGMENT ON SUBURBAN ROAD COST.

KINGSTON, Oct. 28 —(Canadian Press).—The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, which concluded its sitting here yesterday afternoon, reserved judgment in the Frontenacs application and threw out that of Kingston protesting against the Provincial engineers' designation of Provincial suburban roads here.

In reserving judgment in the county's case, Mr. McIntyre, chairman of the board, gave as his opinion that the present apportionment for 1919 cost of the Provincial highway could not stand as it is. Frontenac was not the same as Carleton County, and there was and always had been a cleavage between the North and South of Frontenac County. The Front townships had a community of interest which the back townships did not enjoy. In deciding this "somewhat intricate matter," the board would have to consider population and wealth, but the dominant factor was the amount that the road was used.

In regard to the city's case, Kingston had been assessed by the Government for twenty per cent. of the cost of 15 3-4 miles of Provincial suburban roads. The general policy of the Government in designating the extent of the roads to which the cities should contribute has been to allow one mile of road for each million of the city's assessed value. The city claimed that in their case, with an assessment of $14,000,000, they were being charged for 1 3-4 miles more than they should be. In dismissing the city's application, Mr. McIntyre pointed out that the department engineer had to designate a certain part of the Provincial highway which directly benefited the city. These three roads concerned were a direct benefit to Kingston, carrying very much of the traffic into the city. Unless legislation laid down some definite criterion for the guidance of the board he did not think there should be any interference with the action of the engineer in this case.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO DRAFT RESOLUTION WHICH WILL CANCEL RAIL STRIKE

ACTION FOLLOWS INTIMATION OF RAILWAY LABOR BOARD THAT UNLESS STRIKE IS SETTLED IMMEDIATELY ACTION, BACKED BY U.S. GOVERNMENT AUTHORITY, WOULD BE INSTITUTED—"WOULD DEAL WITH UNIONS WITH UNGLOVED HANDS," SAYS ULTIMATUM.

CHICAGO, October 28. — The Railway Strike scheduled for Oct 30th, was averted late last night, when leaders of the railway employees adopted the resolution withdrawing authorization of the walkout, a basis of settlement having been found

CHICAGO, October 28 (Canadian Press). — Chiefs of the Big Five rail labour unions which have called a strike for 30th October, last night appointed a committee to draw up a resolution calling off the proposed walk-out, and present it as quickly as possible at a meeting of the labour leaders who temporarily adjourned their session, begun yesterday morning, pending action by the committee.

Indications were that it would be some time before the resolution could be drafted.

The Railway Labour Board announced that unless peace came by then, it would "deal with the unions with ungloved hands" in its attempt to prevent a 30th October walk-out.

The statement from the Labour Board was delivered to union committees which called on the Board during the day to report progress of the joint conference of chieftains of the switchmen, trainmen, conductors, engineers, and firemen, which was forced to adjourn without taking action because the lease on the meeting rooms had run out. The session was continued at a hotel a short time later, however.

Just before entering the night meeting, W. G. Lee, President of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, gave the following statement to the Associated Press:

'There is every reason to believe that certain arrangements will be made to-night whereby the strike scheduled for 30th October will be called off.

"I am not at liberty now to say what these arrangements will be, but I will say that certain conditions resulted from to-day's meeting which have materially changed the situation, and which lead me to believe that the meetings to-night will result in there being no strike."

Warren S. Stone, president of the Engineers, said as he entered the night meeting:

"Something is going to break to-night. I can't tell you what, though."

According to several members of the Board, the labour committees which conferred with it were told that the Board would defer until to-day its decision on the hearing yesterday to which the carriers and the unions were cited to find out of the Transportation Act had been violated in the strike activities.

The labour men were informed that unless the crisis were settled by to-day, the Board would take its most drastic action thus far, and that it had received assurances from Washington that the full force of the Government would be behind it in any action taken.

Admiral Beatty Advocates U.S.-British Co-operation

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(Canadian Pres).—The possibility of any serious differences arising between Great Britain and the United States over the Washington Conference on limitation of armament was discounted last night by Admiral Beatty, First Sea Lord of the British Admiralty, speaking at a dinner given in his honor by the Pilgrim society.

The world will wait and watch with supreme interest the conference's deliberations, Admiral Beatty said, but nowhere will it be watched with more hope than in Britain. Surely, he added, there never was a greater issue dependent upon the deliberations of man.

Reverting to the relationship between Britain and the United States and the part it will play in the conference, Admiral Beatty said the question was not one of bolstering up an "artificial and man-made alliance' but rather a question of keeping alive and awake communion which is right and natural between the two nations.

"Our every interest, our every instinct binds us together," he said. "Just as members of the same clan when widely separated, lose touch with one another, and with one another's point of view unless efforts are made to maintain touch between them, so I believe absolutely in the necessity for the closest intercourse between the United States and Great Britain in every sphere of activity.

"It is not to be expected, indeed it is humanly impossible that both countries should be in perfect agreement at all times. When differences do rise in international affairs they are called 'incidents' and much can be made of them by those who delight in making mischief and scandal—but if we know one another well enough, and trust one another competely enough, the mischief-maker can strive in vain."

MOST SUCCESSFUL SERIAL IN YEARS IN THE EXAMINER

The Examiner will offer to its readers in the near future a serial story which has been characterized as the most successful serial in years." It has proven a popular attraction in such papers a the New York Evening Journal, the Philadelphia Bulletin, the Cincinnati Enquirer, the Washington Star, the Boston Globe, the Milwaukee Journal, and, recently, in the Montreal Star. Some of the comments following the publication of this serial were; "When is McNeile going to write another story?" "Is there a sequel to Bull Dog Drummond?"

"Bull Dog Drummond", by Cyril Sapper) McNeile, makes an entertaining serial. Rapid action, hairbreadth adventures, intense love interest, the dangerous, the thrilling, the unexpected lurk around every corner in the recital of startling encounter which await the reader of "Bull Dog Drummond".

Hugh Drummond, the versatile hero, inserted this advertisein The Morning Post: 'Demobilized officer, finding peace incredibly tedious, would welcome a diversion Legitimate if possible; but crime if of comparatively humorous description. Excitement essential. Would be prepared to consider job per manent if suitably impressed by applicant for his services. Reply at once Box X10."

With such an introduction, and the possibilities it unfolds, the ensuing story could not fail to be full of unexpected situations and it fully lives up to one's expectations.

You remember the story of the Pitcher—

It made a good many trips to the well and it came back in good order.

"I can take care of myself," it said—"they don't need to talk about risks to me."

But it went once too often.

After that it was only part of a pitcher, and they didn't need to talk to it about risks—it knew.

A lot of people won't believe tea or coffee can harm them until it does harm them.

"Nonsense!" they say, "it never disturbs me."

When it does disturb them, then they know.

Often the disturbance which they then recognize is the result of irritations to nerves and digestion which have been going on for a long time.

If you have to lie awake at night and count the clock ticks, after an evening cup of tea or coffee, then you know that it's better to be safe than sorry.

The risk of tea or coffee's harm is gone when the meal-time drink is Postum.

Here's a delightful and satisfying table beverage, with charm for the taste and without harm for nerves or digestion. You know you're on the right road with Postum; there's never the possibility that you'll go once too often.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28TH, 1921.

OLD HOME WEEK.

At the meeting of the City Council the other night a report from the Legal Committee to the effect that the Peterborough Industrial Board be informed that "this committee will be pleased to consider the matter with them and other bodies and to go into the details if it is decided to proceed with the project," was carried. In other words, the Council does not propose to take the initiative in this enterprise, nor perhaps was it reasonable to suppose that it would. The scheme is still very much in the air. Different bodies have expressed their approval of it, but no organization has yet taken a definite step towards translating approval into action. Perhaps His Worship the Mayor might bring the thing to a head by calling a meeting of representatives of the Industrial Exhibition, Chamber of Commerce and other interested bodies at which the whole project could be thoroughly discussed and preliminary steps towards organization taken. Otherwise, the scheme may be allowed to drift along until it is too late to undertake it for next year.

A TIMELY WARNING.

Premier Drury has forbidden employees of the Provincial public service to take any active part in the Dominion election campaign. The warning, while it should be unnecessary, is one that the public will endorse. The employees of the Ontario Government are servants of the public, their salaries being paid by all the people, and in taking sides in a Federal campaign they would undoubtedly offend the followers of two out of the three political parties. It is not in their own, nor is it in the public interest, that they should place themselves in a position that would render a demand for their dismissal almost meritable. Civil servants in the Provincial employ have the right to their own opinions, but they must see the wisdom of keeping clear of political entanglements, not only in Provincial affairs, but in the Federal campaign as well. The Premier's ultimatum will not be resented by anybody inside or out of the civil service who has a proper appreciation of the fitness of things.

STOP THE SLAUGHTER.

Whether the members of the Fish and Game Protective Association should report any infraction of the regulations they may come across is a matter which they must settle for themselves. At the same time it must be evident that the inspectors, doubtless because of lack of this information, have not been able to curb the activity of illegal hunters and fishermen. The regulations concerning fishing by illegal means and in the close season are shattered every spawning season and the law in regard to the sale of fish is almost a dead letter. True, the men who traffic in fish do not open stores and publicly offer their wares for sale, but they might as well do so, for they have their regularly visited distribution points in the city, and they do not lack for customers. Measures to re-stock the waters of this district with fish will be of little avail if the pirates are not checked. These operations in the spawning season are each year doing more and more to kill the supply of lunge, and it is up to the Protective Association and all other lovers of angling to do everything in their power to assist the authorities in stopping this annual massacre.

MISREPRESENTING THE FARMERS.

The Examiner is not nor ever has been enamoured of the class-conscious nature of the Farmers' political movement, nor of some of the features of its platform, but in justice to the Agrarian party it must be admitted that both the old political parties are either suffering under a misapprehension as to the aims of the Progressives or else are indulging in some old-fashioned buncombe when they each accuse the Farmers of being allied with the other. The Premier has called the Agrarians an annex of the Liberal party; on the other hand, Liberal speakers have declared that in many ridings Farmers are being placed in the field to ensure the election of the Government nominees. Both those statements are sheer nonsense. It is surely obvious enough by this time, if there ever was any doubt, that the farmers are running their own campaign and that they want nothing to do with either of the older parties. Agrarian candidates are being nominated wherever they appear to have a chance to succeed and without any regard to the political shade of the opposition. The fact that a Farmer is opposing Hon. Mackenzie King in North York, while several of the Government Ministers scious Bav selves facing Farmer opposition, is proof enough that there is no alliance with either the Government or Liberal forces. There is not the slightest indication that the Farmers want any connection whatever with the two old parties, while there is every sign that they are thoroughly in earnest in their desire to drive as many as possible of both parties out of public life. Nothing is to be gained by either Government or Liberal leaders in misrepresenting the aspirations of the party led by Hon. T. A. Crerar.

"A LIE THAT IS ONLY HALF A LIFE."

There is no lie so dangerous as one diluted with a truth familiar to the hearers. A Non-partisan League speaker, addressing a body of discontented farmers in the corn belt, made use of this fact by asking several several questions, among them the following:

'Why does it require 12 cents to transport a bushel of corn to Omaha now, when this bushel of corn is selling for about one-fifth of its price when the transportation cost was only 8 1-3 cents "

'About the time of this address the farm value of corn in that vicinity was officially estimated at 29 cents a bushel. If the cost of transportation to Omaha is 12 cents a bushel, a rank injustice is imposed upon the farmers. Plainly, the address was meant to inflame them and add to their discontent. No finer tribute can be paid to the sanity and patriotism of the American farmers than this, that while enduring such injustice they have not become Bolshevik or, like an important labor organization, attempted to secure justice for themselves from society by moving to destroy society.

But let the farmer go to the official records and learn what makes up that 12 cents, and then answer the question himself. He can easily get the facts from Federal records. He will learn first that freight rates and wages are not fixed by the owners and operators of the railway property, but by authority of law. Since that freight rate was eight cents a bushel railway wages have been officially increased 120 per cent. Had the operators of the railways been treated on an equality with labor the rate would have been 20 cents a bushel instead of 12.

The farmer need not be a trained statistician to learn from the official records that the cost of transportation, far more than that of the average industry, is made up of labor. It has been taking 70 cents out of every dollar paid for transportation. When the farmer paid the carrier 12 cents for transporting that bushel of corn to Omaha, labor reached out its hand and took 8.4 cents, leaving the operators 3.6 cents with which to pay for fuel, maintenance, interest and taxes.

When with that 3.6 cents the railroad company went to pay for the coal necessary to transport the bushel of corn, it paid the greater part to mine wages officially fixed before the price of corn began to decline. Those wages are fixed until March 31, 1922, and those who receive them refuse to give up any part of their bargain, even in the interest of cheaper transportation. When the farmer sells his products he hopes to have something to maintain his family after paying labor, interest, taxes and farm upkeep. Where was the "family maintenance" for the railroads?

These matters are of official record. The farmer should learn the truth for himself. Then, he can tell Falsehood, also Brotherhoods, "why it requires 12 cents to transport a bushel of corn to Omaha."—Wall St. Journal.

Wise and Otherwise

Although conversation has been developed as a medium for the exchange of ideas it is used the most by individuals who have no ideas to exchange.

The man who burned the midnight oil and believed that "setting the Thames on fire" was a figure of speech has a son who burns enough gasoline to perform the feat.

The only logical reason for some men considering that they are answers to a maiden's prayer is that "a soft answer turneth away wrath."

Scientists now admit that it is within the realm of possibility for a man to live 300 years. But with the high cost of living and the Irish problem who wants to live 300 years?

Quite a number of people who pride themselves on their respectability hace avoided becoming principals in scandal because they have been too busy peddling scandal.

After the Shakespeare performance on Saturday night nine-tenths of the women will go home and read the advance notices of the play to find what the critics said about it so that they can discuss it as they perform conversational acrobatics over a tea-cup next week.

Our faith in Thomas A. Edison is shattered; he says that government is carried on by the intelligent few, which is the same thing as saying that the average politician is gifted with brains as well as vocal ability.

Some one has said that second thoughts are best, but as a number of us find it difficult to get one thought we will have to do without the best.

You Need a Good Engine

You can't realize the money-saving value of a good farm engine until you've seen how much more quickly and efficiently you can clear up the numerous odd jobs about the farm.

For milking, separating, churning, sawing, grinding, sharpening tools, mixing cement, shelling corn, filling the silo—there's nothing I know of that will give better service with so little attention as a Toronto Engine. And they operate on either kerosene or gasoline.

Let me explain in detail these sturdy little workers next time you pass my way. Don't forget to see their able assistants—The Toronto Saw and the Toronto Grain Grinder—at the same time.

A FEW REAL PHYSIOLOGICAL GEMS FROM YOUTHFUL MINDS

Illuminating Answers Gleaned from a County School Examination Papers in Canada

We are indebted to one of the kindly older members of the teaching staff of Peterboro for the following extracts, none of which, however, occured within the confines of Peterboro schools. The following answers in a physiology examination in a county of a certain province were culled by teachers at the request of the superintendent.

"Respiration is breathen. You respire with your lights, your lung, your liver, your diagram, your windpipe, your Adam's apple and your breathen organs.

Respiration is sweaten. When you have respiration you musn't set down on ice, as you'll ketch cold and die.

Lungs is inside your breast. They have nearly all the bad sicknesses. We nearly all die of lungs. You must open your window at night and breathe through your noses or you'll die of lungs.

The liver is one of your parts. When you get livers you are cross and grouchy and think everything bad is going to happen. Pa has livers a right smart often.

FINDS ONLY ONE RUSSIAN DRUNK IN THREE WEEKS

MOSCOW, Oct. 28.—In three weeks of travel through Soviet Russia the Associated Press correspondent has seen but one intoxicated man. That was a workman in Moscow who was so far under the influence of liquor that he was unable to tell a group of curious and thirsty men where he foud the liquor.

The new decree permitting 12 per cent alcohol in beverages has not produced the results wine-bidders and beer-lovers had hoped for. Wine cellars have not produced hidden supplies and apparently there are no vegetables, fruit nor grain available for conversion into drinks.

Restraunts and cafes have no alcoholic drinks for sale. There is an abundance of kvas and various non-fermented drinks alleged to be made from fruit but probably largely chemical in their composition.

If there are alcholic stores in Russia they have not yet retched the markets of Central and Northern Russia. The enactment was defended by the Soviet officals on the ground that it was necessary to save the Caucasian and Crimen wine-growers from ruin.

MUSIC IN THE HOME

A Pleasure That Pays Large Dividends.

The life in us is a sort of divine capital which we are privileged to invest as we will. To the vast majority this investment is a matter of no moment. To others—those who really think—it is a serious responsibility. Most of us live lives of pleasure, varied by necessary work to store up the means for indulging ourselves in the particular kind of pleasures we like.

The whirl of the social life engages many, others go in for making things—gardens, houses, building up a comfortable fortune, much as children collect toys and bird eggs. Still others move along a higher path, and become students, scholar, scientists. They collect facts and seek out new combinations of old facts. It is all—whatever way we may look at it—the collection of something, for the faculty of acquisitiveness is large in every son of his mother born into this world.

One of the most satisfying things to collect is—Music. True, it is the most intangible of all things, but it pays large in dividends. One gets more all-round pleasure out of it than anything else. And it is a pleasure that never tires.

Why Mendelssohn Is Most Popular Composer.

Has anybody realized that Mendelssohn is the most popular composer? Why, no marriage takes place without him, or at least without his famous Wedding March. Its theme is synonymous with nuptial benediction 'for better for worse." In the movies, in vaudeville, a few notes from that noted composition brings better than any other suggestion a complete picture of the altar before your eyes. Mendelssohn has married more couples than all the ministers in the world put together.

How a Notable Song Prevented a Battle.

At least once in history a sure-enough war was prevented by the singing of a song, this occasion being when the British invaded France at Gast, Brittany, in 1758, and a Breton force marched out to meet them. As they approached the invaders, the Bretons were astonished to hear the strains of one of their own Breton national songs. Stirred by the associations of the song, the Breton soldiers soon picked up the strains of the British. When the officers delivered their commands the soldiers recognized them as being in the same language, threw down their arms and entered into friendly conversation, and here follows the interesting historical feature of the story.

England had sent a Welsh regiment to attack France. The ancestors of the Welsh were the Britons whom the Saxons drove into Wales during their invasion in the sixth century, at the same times forcing many of the same people to cross the English Channel to Brittany in Western France. More than a thousand years had passed and now these two off-shoots of the original British stock met on the battlefield to find that they spoke the same language and sang the same songs. In this we see how a people clings to its national songs. The one connected with this story is still sung in Brittany as Emguan Sant-Kast (The Battle of St. Cast) and in Wales is now known as the popular Captain Morgan's March.

A Notable Celebration.

Senegalese music—savage song and the rhythms of the tom-toms—were a feature of a black soldier celebration in honor of their African chiefs slain during the war, presided over in Paris recently by Generals Archinard and Marchand, and the Military Governor of Paris, General Berdoulat of the Tuileries. These sharp-shooters from the forests of the Ivory Coast, Mandingoes, Bambaras and Baoules, danced their warrior dances, at times violent, at others slow, punctuated by monotonous rhythms and occasional bursts of frenzied song, in strange contrast to the French military music played by the band of the Twenty-Third Regiment of Colonial Infantry.

Advancing the Cause of Community Education.

The community spirit aroused by the war activities is afoot throughout the country. Efforts are being made in every progressive community to advance the cause of education, art, and social welfare. But no uniform conception, no model, no fixed standard of the things to be achieved by the community is as yet in existence. Every locality has its own ideas as to its needs and acts upon them. It is an effervescent condition which requires control based on practical principles. In every prospectus and proclamation issued by the promoters of community improvements the importance, in this movement, of the arts is emphasized.

But no uniform method of procedure is in evidence. There exists no well arranged working plan which could be applied to every locality as a practical course of development. There exists a go-as-you-please method which lacks the guarantee of a progressive ultimate benefit to this movement as a community impulse. Under such conditions the community movement will gain little, and runs the danger of exhausting the enthusiasm of the people, and wear out their interest.

What, for instance, can we expect for the furtherance of the musical art, painting, sculpture, the drama, etc. And yet these branches of art are among the factors to be aided by the community movement.

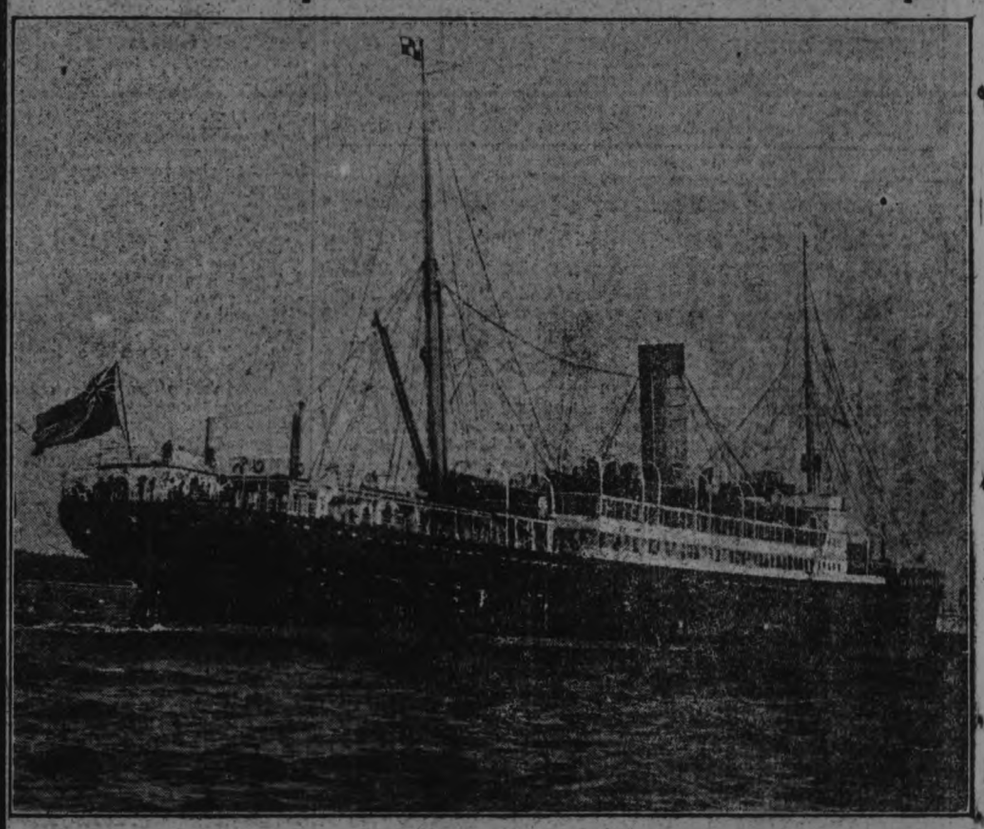
Government Experiments With Canadian Pacific Steamships



"Scotian" leaving Southampton Harbor, as a troopship, en route for India.

The "Scotian," which left Southampton Docks recently, embodies an experiment by the British Government which will result in a substantial saving of money to the taxpayers. As is generally known, troops are conveyed to and from India only during the winter months, when accommodation on vessels specially built for tropical waters is at the highest seasonal demand, and when the chartering of such vessels for conveying troops is most expensive. On the other hand, winter is the season when the North Atlantic trade is at its lowest ebb, and when some of the ships in that trade are normally laid up and the crews paid off. The Government have selected the Canadian Pacific liners "Scotian" and "Victorian"—both engaged in the North Atlantic trade—for use as troopships during the coming season, and the "Scotian" has already been altered and refitted for this special work.

The Mayor of Southampton, a number of Government officials and officials connected with the Canadian Pacific Steamships, Limited, have visited the "Scotian," and expressed the opinion that the difficulties in the way of providing suitable accommodation had been overcome, and that, when the vessel was put to the practical test, the experiment would prove successful. The troop decks are spacious and well ventilated. Multitudes of fans and an auxiliary ventilating system have been installed to keep the cabins cool. Notwithstanding all this, it was stated that a comparatively small sum would be required to re-equip the vessel for her ordinary trade and afterwards to reconvert her when required into a troopship.

During the war the "Scotian" took part in the Gallipoli operations; she steamed 128,000 miles on Government service, and carried 56,000 officers and men.

A GET-TOGETHER MOVEMENT IN LAKEFIELD NOW

INAUGURATED AT MEN'S SUPPER UNDER AUSPICES ST. JOHN'S CHURCH — WRETCHED ROAD NEEDS ATTENTION.

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 28.—The men's supper held in the school room of St. John's Church on Tuesday night was a great success in all particulars. About forty men gathered round the well-spread tables and did ample justice to the dinner cooked and served by an efficient committee of ladies. The menu was simple, but substantial, consisting of roast beef with brown gravy, mashed potatoes, boiled cabbage, bread and butter, apple and pumpkin pie and cheese and tea and coffee.

After the "eats" had been disposed of the remainder of the evening was devoted to speeches and singing. Every man was asked to either sing or make a speech, and though some of the speakers were very brief, others took up their full limit of five minutes. Among those who spoke at length were Rev. A. W. Mackenzie, Messrs. E. R. Tate, S. T. Leggott, J. F. Lillicrap, O. A. Langley, B. O. Dench, C. C. Stenner, H. G. Fitzgerald, G. W. H. Pattrick and A. E. Dawson. The rector occupied the chair and contributed greatly to the "get-together" spirit which pervaded the gathering. Mr. O. A. Langley struck a high note in his speech which made for higher ideals and greater personal service in the parish.

A resolution was passed to hold another of these gatherings at Mr. A. E. Peacock's parlors in December. The motto of the men of St. John's is, "Let us get together," and with these gatherings the men will know on another better and will be better churchmen. The following were among those present:—Rev. F. Vipond (rector), Rev. A. W. Mackenzie, O. A. Langley, S. E. White, E. R. Tate, F. R. Alford, L. Cox, A. E. Dawson, B. O. Dench, H. G. Fitzgerald, M. C. Hampton, J. F. Lillicrap, S. T. Leggott, A. O. Lampman, R. L. Mason, G. G. Ogilvie, C. C. Stenner, J. W. Todd, W. Watson, T. Watson and Percy Watson, Braden Blewett, F. C. Crawford, Roy Everett, F. Moon, Mr. Post, A. Mitchell, H. E. Peacock, G. W. H. Pattrick, T. A. Simpson, Mr. Seabrooke, H. Wannamaker and E. M. Grier.

Bad Roads.

A start has been made at the road between Peterborough and Lakefield, on the Smith side, and not at all before there was need. The recent heavy rains have washed away a good deal of the old road and it is in a worse condition than usual. The work has been started by plowing up the ditch and putting the earth on the centre of the road. So far no crushed stone or gravel is in sight, and as one traveller said, "There's no need for cops to keep a fellow from ding." It is to be hoped that something will be done before another season, as it is very humiliating to be always apologizing to tourists for the bad roads, of which they complain continually.

Personal Mention.

Mr. T. B. Marling was in Port Hope on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb. Mitchell are in Peterborough this week. Mr. Mitchell is serving on the jury.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Abbott and Miss Lottie Smith motored to Peterborough on Wednesday.

Mrs. (Dr.) Gibson and family are visiting Mr. C. Young for a few days.

BLOODHOUNDS LEAD POSSE TO HOME OF BARTOLINO

LEAD, S.D., Oct. 28.—(Canadian Press.)—Placing of bloodhounds on the trail of the slayer of Father Belknap last night only resulted in the dogs leading the posse through a blinding storm to the home of Tony Bartolino, who is reported to have discovered the body of the priest. Bartolino was not arrested, but the county attorney said important developments had resulted.

Headaches Gone

Perhaps you can imagine what this means to one who had suffered terribly with headaches for ten years.

Read about it in this latter.

Mrs. Tena A. Smith, Country Harbor Cross Roads, N. S., writes:

"I feel that if anyone can recommend Dr. Chase's medicines I certainly can. I suffered for ten years from severe headaches, and although I took all kinds of headache powders they just relieved me at the time. I became very nervous and run-down, and everything seemed to trouble me. I have taken eighteen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and it has made an entirely new person of me. I felt that I could not have lived without it. I do not have one headache now for every hundred I used to have, and my nerves are good and strong. I just weighed 109 pounds when I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and now I weigh 121. Knowing what this treatment has done for me, I cannot too highly recommend it to others."

A PRESENTATION AT YOUNG'S POINT

YOUNG'S POINT, Oct. 28.—On Wednesday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Wilson motored to Peterborough and brought Mrs. Allan, who has recently moved to the city, home with them to attend a church meeting held at the rectory that evening. A number of her friends had assembled, but business was not discussed. Instead, a presentation was made to Mrs. Allan:

Young's Point, Oct. 26, 1921.

Dear Mrs. Allan,— It was with profound regret that we received the news of your removal from our midst after a residence of many years. By your departure you will be sadly missed in the life of the church to which you have been proud to belong and to which you have unstintingly given of your time, strength, money and prayers. The church of St. Aidan's owes much to you for the favorable and happy circumstances in which it stands today. Not only for the material welfare of the church have you worked so well, but also for its true life—the spiritual life, and in this respect we feel bound to make special mention of your love and work for the young in the Sunday school.

Not only will you be missed by the members of the church of St. Aidan, but by all fellow members of the community of Young's Point. You have ever been a friend to those in need, ever ready and willing to help, as far as it lay in your power, often sacrificing your own comfort for the good of those in need of help. Your life well illustrates the truth of the lines:

"For all that is noble and high and good
Has an influence on the rest,
And the world is better for everyone
Who is living at his best."

We pray that your future life in Peterborough may be blessed with heaven's richest blessings, and that, as thy days, so may thy strength be. We ask you to accept the accompanying purse as a small token of our respect and esteem, not as a gift to denote a final severance from our midst, for we shall ever look upon you as one of us, and you will always find a welcome at such times as you are able to come among us.

"Here's health, wealth, love and happiness wherever you may roam,
May gladsome sunshine light your way,
Your path with flowers be strewn,
Be ever shadow chased away
And peaceful all your hours.
May all the richest, choicest blessings
Life can give be yours, and as the years go rolling by.
'Mid many thoughts of thine,
Oh give a wee bit thought sometimes
To the days of Auld Lang Syne.

Signed on behalf of subscribers—

Hilda Wilson.
Ruby McNaughton.

Mrs. Allan was completely taken by surprise, but replied in a very appropriate manner.

The remainder of the evening was spent in games and music and the witty stories of Rev. Hughes and Mr. Wilson were much appreciated.

This pleasant evening was brought to a close by singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow," and "Auld Lang Syne."

The crowds certainly came last Saturday. It was one of the biggest business days in the history of this store. THE QUANTITY OF MATERIALS IS LIMITED — ONLY ENOUGH FOR 200 OVERCOATS—AND THE OFFER WILL POSITIVELY NOT BE REPEATED.

This is undoubtedly the biggest Overcoat bargain you've ever seen. There is no reserve in either the style or the weight of material you choose—you can order a Chesterfield or a light or heavy ulster, with or without belt, and you can have lightweight goods or heavy, warm, woolly weaves that will keep out the cold and storm of the worst winter days.

No—we don't make a cent on these; in fact we lose money. But you will see how well-made Regent Clothes are and you will be a customer for life. Your friendship and goodwill are a great business asset—and that will be profit enough for us. We ask as a special favor that you shop as early in the day as you conveniently can.

THE FRUIT MEN CLAIM POTATOES WILL GO HIGHER.

In Spite of Optimistic Report From Growers, the Yield is Below Normal.

A local fruit man today confirmed the report that the potato crop was only about 45 or 50 per cent average and he predicted higher higher prices in potatoes. Already the retail price per bag has advanced slightly. Most of the stores were asking $1.85 a bag today or $1.75 if 5 bags are taken. In Toronto they are $1.90 by 25 bag lots being taken. The farmers are raising their price and are now getting $1.65 wholesale it is said

American buyers are buying in Canada, it is said and the pinch of the small crop is already being felt. A few weeks ago potatoes could be bought at $1.25 a bag in any quantity desired. This was before the farmers began to see the way the wind was blowing.

Most of the crop is out of the ground and ready for the pits or cellars and once put away will likely be held tilll spring when high prices will likely prevail is the opinion of vegetable men. Dealers will clear their stocks which generally aren't large at $1.85 a bag but next week it is predicted tubers will be at least $2.00

Apple Prices

Apple prices are much the same as 1920. High freight rates are doing their share to keep apple prices up, one buyer said:

To move a car of apples from Garden Hill to Peterboro now costs $45.00 nearly 3 times the pre-war rate. "And yet people expect cheap apples" he said. Retail first-class Spy are $7.50, Snows, $6.50 to $7.00 and Mackintosh Reds, $7.50. Windfalls are cheaper of course.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GREY HAIR

Use the Old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous and you appear years younger.

CRAZED WITH DRUGS, CHINESE SHOOTS TWO DEAD

HAMILTON, Oct. 28.—(Canadian Press).—Hong Jack Sam, restaurant proprietor, ran amuck last evening with a revolver and scissors and shot his wife, his cook, Hong Toon, dead, wounding his dishwasher, Hong Hing, riddled the hat of another worker in his restaurant and then killed himself. He was crazed with drugs and it is said he was jealous of Toon and Hing.

"STANDING ROOM ONLY" IN THE PENITENTIARY.

Number of Prisoners 820, Highest in 40 Years.

KINGSTON, October 28. — The population at Portsmouth Penitentiary has reached the highest point in more than forty years, the number confined being 820. It is stated that this is due to some extent to the suspension of the operation of the Ticket-of-leave Act passed in 1899, and which was a great a reformative force and also an effective means by which to keep down the annual expenditure for maintenance. It enabled the authorities to liberate on parole young first offenders who served their sentences at large while following some useful occupation.

The change in the policy, it is stated, was brought about by the repeated representations of the Dominion Association of Chiefs of Police, who are said to have been prejudiced against the paroled men in spite of the fact that the statistics covering the period since the inception of the Ticket-of-leave Act showed that it was eminently successful, as the proportion of liberated men who broke their parole was really very small.

The importance of the parole law may be realized when it is shown that fully 60 per cent. of the inmates of the Portsmouth Penitentiary is composed of very young men —the majority of whom were never before within prison walls, and whose confinement along with desperate characters without any hopes of earning their liberation by good conduct tends to deprive them of any incentive to reformation. In the meantime those fortunate enough to secure their liberty on parole have to depend upon friends who are able to bring influence to bear and secure recognition of the merits of the case.

PRIVY COUNCIL ALLOWS APPEAL OVER ESTATE TAX

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(Canadian Press Cable).—The Privy Council yesterday allowed the appeal of the Royal Trust Company vs the British Columbian Finance Minister arising out of the amount of duty payable to that province in connection with the estate of the late William Van Horne. The Finance Minister claimed $14,000. The Privy Council declared that the Minister's claim proceeded upon an erroneous basis, $9,523 being the correct sum payable.

CENSURED CONGRESSMAN COLLAPSED IN TEARS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. Canadian Press.—Saved from being thrown out of the House of Representatives by a bare margin of eight votes, Thomas L. Blanton, a Texas Democrat, was publicly reprimanded late yesterday by Speaker Gillett, in accordance with a resolution of censure, against which not a single vote was cast.

A moment later, as Blanton, walked out of the Chamber with all eyes upon him, he toppled over in a heap. Some of his colleagues who had voted to expel him and picked the Texas representative up and placed him on a lounge. Rousing himself in a few minutes, Blanton stumbled out, the tears streaming down his cheeks.

"I hope I never see the House again," he was heard to mutter as he left the chamber.

Blanton was charged with putting into the Congressional Record a document described as "unspeakably vile." He admitted before the House that he had wished to enter in the Record an undelivered speech, containing the language complained of, and have 250,000 copies mailed to voters.

WHAT KIND OF A CHRISTIAN ARE YOU

In Peterborough there are hundreds, possibly thousands, of Christians who have become careless in the matter of their Christian life and Christian example. Because of this, they are not setting the example in their homes and in their places of employment that they promised God they would endeavor to do when they first accepted Christ and joined the Church. Are you one of them?

ARE YOU A CHRISTIAN?

Who seldom reads your Bible?

Who neglects daily prayer?

Who rarely thinks of Christ or seeks to do Him reverence?

Who is not grieved when God's name is defamed before you?

Who are doing things constantly that set at nought your Christian profession?

Who has come to think that it is not possible to live a Christ-like life?

Who has become careless in the matter of church attendance?

WHAT SAITH THE SCRIPTURES?

"Search the Scriptures * * * for they are they which testify of Me."—John 5:39.
"And whatsoever we ask, we receive of Him, because we keep His commandments and do those things that are pleasing in His sight."—1 John 3:22.
"Blessed is the man * * * whose delight is in the law of the Lord, and in His law doth He meditate day and night."—Psalm 1:1-2.
"For the Lord will not hold him guiltless who taketh His name in vain."—Dent. 5:11.
"If I regard iniquity in my heart the Lord will not hear me."—Psalm 66:18.
"But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you and keep you from evil."—2 Thess. 3:2.
"And let us not forsake the gathering of ourselves together, as the manner of some is."—Hebrews 10:25.
"Be not comformed to this world, but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind that ye may prove what is that good and acceptable and perfect will of God."—Romans 12:2.

WHAT GOD PROMISES TO DO!

God promises to give every man and every woman WHO SEEKS HIM WITH ALL THEIR HEART a new, a divine, a miraculous power in their lives; to give them victory over sin, freedom from anxiety and worry, power in service, joy in their daily lives. This is the kind of life God wants YOU to live. Careless Christians who neglect the things of God miss the blessings which God will richly pour upon them if they will but seek Him in spirit and in truth. Why not put God to the test, by seeking Him in prayer, commencing the study of God's word and by resuming faithful attendance at church?

The Present Price of Bread

Here is a quotation from The Toronto Globe of October 22nd, 1921, on prices of commodities:

"Flour, first patents—This week, $7.60 per bbl.; one year ago, $12.90.

"Hogs, per cwt.—This week, $9.00; one year ago, $19.75.

"Cattle, choice butchers', cwt.—This week, $6.25; one year ago, $13.00."

Now let us investigate the price of bread, which should be interesting to everyone in Peterborough, especially at this time when we read in The Examiner that the bakers are moving to form an association. We judge the idea is to stabilize the price to avoid any cutting or lowering of present inflated prices.

One barrel of flour produces 280 pounds of bread, which is equal to 93 three-pound loaves, which costs the consumer $18.60, showing a spread $11.00. That is, the bread from one barrel of flour costs the consumer $11.00 more than the flour cost the baker, or 145 per cent. advance.

The baking business is a stable business and is not affected by season of depression as most are. No matter how hard times are, people have to have bread, and a fair profit should satisfy the bakers, but a fair profit don't seem to satisfy them lately.

If our city fathers want to do something for the benefit of everyone, they could do not more popular act than to operate a public bread bakery and give the citizens bread at a fair and just price—and then make money.

Yours truly,

WAS AFRAID HE WOULD SMOTHER

TORONTO MAN DECLARES HE HAD SUFFERED TERRIBLY FOR TEN LONG YEARS.

"At any time during the past ten years I would have given almost anything in the world to be able to eat a hearty meal, such as I eat three times a day now, and not suffer afterwards," said William J. Harrington, 471 Beresford Ave., Toronto Ont.

"After every meal I had sharp pains in my stomach and way up in my chest that seemed to go clear through me. For a long time there were many things, especially certain vegetables that I never dared touch, for if I did, I always paid the penalty. At nights there was so much gas on my stomach that I would lie awake for hours, hardly able to get my breath and actually afraid I was going to smother. I had to take medicine three or four times a day for connstipation, and had such severe headaches it looked like they would kill me.

"It's nothing less than marvelous the way Tanlac has rid me of all these troubles, I can eat heartily now of potatoes, cabbage, radishes, or just anything else I want and never suffer a particle from indigestion. I sleep fine at night and feel good all the time. After what Tanlac has done for me, there is nothing to good I can about it.

Tanlac is sold in Peterboro by the Warne Drug Co., Limited and by leading druggists everywhere.

DOCTORS WARN OF CANCER EVIL.

Medical Society Prepares List of Danger Signals To Be Heeded.

DETROIT, Oct. 28.—"Medicine will not cure cancer, but 80 per cent. of the 90,000 people who die yearly from this disease in the United States could be cured if the growth is removed properly before neighboring glands have been involved."

This is one of a long list of informative statements to be given the public by the American Society for the Control of Cancer in its campaign of enlightenment during cancer week and in preparation for which the Wayne County Medical Society devoted its meeting recently.

Here are some of the facts which are to be spread broadcast throughout the city during the next few days:

"The beginning of cancer is usually painless. Every persisting lump in the breast is a warning sign.

"Any sore that does not heal, particularly about the mouth, lips or tongue is a danger signal. Irritating such ulcerations or treating them with home remedies, pastes, caustics, etc., is dangerous. Warts, moles or other birthmarks, especially those subject to constant irritation, should be attended to immediately if they change in color or appearance or start to grow.

"Persistent indigestion in middle life, with loss of weight and change of color, or with pain or vomiting, call for medical advice as to the possibility of internal cancer.

BLUES HIT FAT REDUCERS WHEN SCALES SHOW GAIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Sorrow last night invaded the ranks of half a hundred New York fat women who are attempting to reach graceful slenderness through scientific training. Two of the fat had grown fatter. Forty-eight of the reducing class visited the scales and rejoiced. They showed an average loss in seven days of six pounds five ounces. But Ada Parker screamed; she was fatter by two and a half pounds and now weighs 196. Lillie Ice shuddered and groaned. Entered at 177, she showed a gain of two pounds.

This wonderful medicine is a vegetable compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin. The formula is on every package. BY THE WAY

ELEPHANTS SHOOT SHOOTS AT CAPE COLONY.

Special facilities for observation of the ways of elephants is afforded naturalists at the elephant reserve in Cape Colony, South Africa. One of the ponds visited by them has on one side a very steep bank. Sometimes the elephants after drinking amuse themselves by sliding down the incline, sitting on their haunches. The youngsters occasionally hesitate to indulge in this sport, and they are then coaxed up to the top and shoved off.

This recalls another naturalist's observation, made by Dr. Carpenter, near Victoria Nyanza. He says that the only entrance ways into some of the waters are grooves cleared in the bank by heavy bodies of the hippopotamuses as they climb in and out. But these grooves are entirely in the way of business and not for fun.

As he was making his way down to the water along one of these passages it was perhaps natural that Dr. Carpenter should wonder what would happen if a hippopotamus should chance to choose the same moment for coming up. One thing was clear, the hippopotamus could not turn.

Dr. Carpenter gives the hippopotamus a good character; it is gentle if unmolested, he says, and it does not seem to have occurred to him that infringement of a right-of-way might have constituted molestation from the point of view of the hippopotamus.

INNOCENT I. FIRST POPE OF CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Concerning the first Pope of the Roman Catholic Church, W. Ernest Beet in his "Rise of the Papacy," says: 'In the year 402 Anastasius died, and was succeeded by Innocent I., upon whose mind appears first distinctly to have dawned the vast conception of Rome's universal ecclesiastical supremacy, dim as yet and shadowy, yet full and comprehensive in its outline; his claims were indeed such, and so far made good as to justify us in applying to him the title of pope, the earliest Roman bishop that can with propriety be so called.

"The position of high authority to which he attained was, no doubt, in part achieved by Innocent's own high moral qualities and strength of will, but not by any means entirely so; circumstances were entirely in his favour, and the course of public events was such as inevitably to strengthen the seat of the bishop by undermining the throne of Caesar, and by driving him from the ancient imperial capital."

ORIGIN OF PHRASE, "LION OF THE SEASON."

A celebrity who is feted and adored by society at the zenith of his success is the lion of the season. To get at the origin of this expression one must hark back to the old days before London had its now celebrated Zoological Gardens, and when a small menagerie formed one of the attractions of the Tower of London.

Among its exhibits was a famous lion, and when the countrymen, immediately after harvest time, would make their annual trip to the capital, they never failed to visit the lion's cage before they took in any of the other sights. Flippant Londoners soon came to connect the beast with these fall visitors from the provinces, and that time of the year became known as the "lion season." Later, the meaning was broadened to apply not only to the time but to the animal itself.

REINDEER IN ENGLAND 100 YEARS AGO.

A hundred years ago it was thought that the mountain forests of Great Britain might be colonised by reindeer from Lapland, and an account was given in 1821 in an issue of The Observer, London, of the extraordinary sagacity displayed by them when a number were brought to England at the instigation of an eminent naturalist., Mr. Bullock. The herd was accompanied by a Lapl.nder to whom the animals were attached and to whose wishes they were usually obedient.

The experiment did not prove a success, but the marked intelligence of the reindeer made a deep impression upo nthe public.

HENRY IV.'S WIFE MEANT LITTLE TO FICKLE KING.

Marie de Medici, daughter of Cosimo, and niece of the infamous Catherine de Medici, became the wife of Henry IV. of France, better known as Henry of Navarre, in the first year of the seventeenth century, shortly after he had divorced her equally noted cousin, Margaret of Valois.

Marie, like so many women of the nobility and royalty, did not love her husband, nor, apparently, did he love her. It was a marriage of state, and they went their own several ways with the utmost unconcern.

Marie filled the court with gay and brilliant people, and had as her particular favourite the dashing Duke of Buckingham. Her greatest interest seems to have been art and architecture. She was at the head of the decadent renaissance period for art and decoration. It was Marie who built the Hotel de la Force, the Louvre, and an endless number of palaces in the most ornate barocque style.

Many artists were present at her court, notably Peter Paul Rubens, that engaging diplomatist-painter, who is said to have been deeply infatuated with the beautiful queen. He painted 24 life-size portraits of Marie, among the treasures of France to-day.

Marie spent much time brewing beauty potions and love charms, for she, like most people of her day, was highly superstitious. Also, she was one of the early exponents of the milk bath as a beauty inducer.

For Henry, however, who was far more interested in his first wife, Marie meant nothing but the mother of his son, who became Louis XIII. She lived as Queen of France in the ssssssssswK thmaf wodaf rahtm hm utmost magnificence until the assassination of Henry in 1610. Then Marie returned to Italy to continue her luxurious existence, in spite of the enmity of her aunt Catherine.

30,000,000 GALLONS OF BEER FOR CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—All that stood between Chicago and 30,000,000 gallons of real beer today was the official notification to brewers that they could make delivery of their product to corner drug stores.

"The demand for real beer cannot exceed the supply," Anton Laadt, manager of the Atlas Brewing Co. said in speaking of the state of preparedness Chicago found herself in when Secretary of the Treasury Melton tilted the lid by signing regulations allowing the sale of medicinal beer.

The 30,000,000 gallons is all ready for consumption, Laadt, stated. In addition to this sea of brew, vast vats of beer that has not yet been aged are on hand in Chicago breweries.

"By the time the 30,000,000 gallons are gone,' said Laadt, "The new brew will be ready to sell as a tonic."

And in the meantime, the well got sick and the sick got sicker.

Because the rubber tires act as non-conductors the motor car is the safest place in the world during a thunder storm.

WRECK AIRSHIP ZR-2 NOT THE BEST POSSIBLE

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The wrecked airship ZR-2 (R-38) must not be taken as an example of the best that could be done, writes Major C. C. Turner in the Observer. Major Turner is a veteran baloonist and one of England's foremost exponents of airships.

He adds: "The disaster can hardly fail, however, to lower British airship prestige.

"The capabilities as well as the design of airships must be put to very searching criticism, for it is only after this preliminary that progress will be attained.'

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

ADDRESSED THE LOCAL ENGINEERS

PROFESSOR PETER GILLESPIE DEALT WITH QUESTION OF SEWAGE DISPOSAL.

Last night's meeting of the Engineering Institute in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms was very well attended. The speaker of the evening was Professor Peter Gillespie of Toronto University who handled his subject "Disposal of Municipal Sewage" in masterly style. That the professor is one of the foremost authorities in this science in Canada was well demonstrated last night.

He prefaced his address by a description of sewage showing that ordinarily it contained 1 part of solid matter to 999 parts of water, and the difficulty to be overcome in any method of disposal is to separate the two elements.

Professor Gillespie described each method of disposal including dilution, fine screening, sedimentation, and filtration, and brought out the fact that sewage can be purified to any degree desired depending on the economical cost.

Purification of a million gallons of sewage costs a great deal more than purification of the same amount of water supply to the same degree of purification.

He explained the differences of construction of the Sceptic, Traves and Imhoff tanks, and also the activated sludge process.

Asked which he thought was best for Peterborough, the professor explained thus.

Taking the same standard of purification in each case, the Imhoff tank process would entail a larger capital cost than the activated sludge process, but the former would cost less to operate than the latter.

In addition, the sludge from the former system is very much easier to handle and dispose of, than the latter, although in some places owing to local peculiarities this does not hold.

In Brampton the activated sludge is in demand by the large number of florists in that vicinity, who draw it away for its manurial properties.

At the conclusion of the lecture there was a considerable amount of discussion in which many took part, including Alderman Joseph Crowe.

Many lantern slides were shown in the course of the address, following which three reels of motion pictures were shown. These described the manufacture of "Armco" iron plates from the ore to the finished products. These pictures were taken at the mills of the American Rolling Mills Company by the United States Department of Mines and were secured through the efforts of P. P. Westbye.

The chairman of the evening was Jas. Mackintosh A.M.E.I.C.

Professor Gillespie was entertained by the members of the Institute at a dinner in the Empress Hotel prior to the lecture.

ELECTION NEWS

ROSS NOMINATED.

MONTREAL, October 28 (Canadian Press). — St. Antoine Division —Wm. G. Ross (Government).

The nomination came as a surprise since it was to have been offered to W. M. Birks, head of the well-known jewellery firm. Mr. Birks, however, stated to-day that he had been advised by his physician not to accept the nomination on the ground that he ought not to add the worries of a political campaign to his already onerous work with his business.

Mr. Ross is the president of the Montreal Harbour Commission.

Westmoreland, N.B.—Col. S. Boyd Anderson (Government).

MEIGHEN SAYS ENEMIES MALIGN AND DISTORT

NORTH BAY, Ont, Oct. 28. — Canadian Press. — The Prime Minister's trip from Sault Ste. Marie was punctuated by stops at Sudbury, Warren, Verner, Cache Bay, and Sturgeon Falls. At some of these places Premier Meighen merely got off and shook hands with a number of those who had come down to the station in the hope of seeing him. In others he made short speeches.

Premier Meighen said that politicians in the province of Quebec, who were opposed to the government, had attemtped for years to malign him in that province. What they declared was false, and they knew it, because they had worked with him in the House of Commons He defied these politicians to point to a single sentence he had ever uttered that showed the slightest lack of cordiality and friendship for the French-Canadian people or the slightest animosity toward any class of people in the Dominion

Opponents of the government were trying to get the farmers and workmen in Canada to vote against the present administration, claiming that the manufacturers and the big interests were linked up behind him, said Mr. Meighen. In Russia, the result of an effort to set various classes one against another, was ruin and starvation. Class antagonism brought its penalties and Canada could not expect to escape them if her people listened to the cries of the government's opponents.

IRISH AFFAIRS AGAIN BROUGHT NEAR A CRISIS

ANNOUNCEMENT THAT PREMIER WANTS DEBATE ON UNIONIST RESOLUTION SURPRISES SINN FEIN.

BELIEVE DEBATE MIGHT LESSEN SCOPE OF TERMS

LONDON, Oct. 28.— (Canadian Press.)—The announcement of Mr. Llyod George that next Monday had been allocated by the Government for a discussion in the House of Commons on the pending motion of Unionist members, censoring the Government for conducting the present Irish negotiations, was taken as bringing the Irish issue to another critical stage.

The announcement came as a surprise to the Sinn Fein deleagtes now in London, who indicated last night they had expected that Parliament would not be consulted until there was a nearer approach to an agreement than hitherto had been possible. They have negotiated with Mr. Lloyd George, believing him to be in a position to strike a binding bargain; and they expressed apprehension over the possibility that the forthcoming debate might enable him to modify his proposals.

Their view last night was that nothing likely to happen in the House of Commons could better the terms obtainable by Sinn Fein, but that on the contrary, the debate might easily lessen these terms.

The Sinn Fein delegates appear to be suspicious that the Premier has been faced with trouble in his own party and that he thinks a debate in the House would be the best way in obtaining for himself a certain majority. Ulster is understood to present his chief difficulty, since he has pledged himself not to reduce the importance of the position of the northern parliament. He has been pressed from the start by the Sinn Fein deleagtes to rip up the Home Rule Act and to re-open the Ulster question.

On the other hand, Mr. Lloyd George is urged by many Unionists, even those who approve his recent offer of dominion status to Ireland, to permit the northern parliament to function. Although opened formally by King George, it still has no real power, and lacking funds, it cannot exercise most of the powers granted it. Although it was given large administrative powers within its area, it still is adminstered from Dublin Castle and its leaders are constantly denouncing officials there, particularly Arthur Cote, Assistant Under Secretary of Ireland, as allies of the Sinn Fein.

If Mr. Lloyd George assents to facilitating the power of the northern parliament, he risks a break in the negotiations with the Sinn Fein. Yet there is a powerful feeling in his own party in favor of leaving Ulster what she has. Until after Monday's debate, the conference with Sinn Fein delegates will continue in more or less suspended animation, but both sides last night expressed the view that the debate in commons may kill it.

AGRICULTURAL "BLOC" TO ASK HIGHER TARIFF.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. Canadian Press. — Senators of the Agricultural "bloc" have decided on the schedule of rates on agricultural porducts they will ask when the Senate Finance Committee resumes hearings on the permanent tariff bill, November 1st. They have decided to ask even higher rates than in the Fordney Bill as it passed the House.

On wheat they will ask that the 35 cent rate of the emergency tariff be continued; that an increase of five cents per bushel be made on the rate for barley, and that rates be placed on livestock about equal to the emergency rates.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, dgestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Prohibition Enforcement Agent Drake alleges he was offered a bribe of $36,000 by the accused men to release to them 400 barrels of alcohol which he suspected was to be used to make bootleg whiskey.

KINGSTON CLAIMS $1,700 FOR CLINIC.

Alleges Province Has Broken Faith.

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

KINGSTON, Oct. 28.—The Kingston Board of Health is going after the Ontario Government with regard to its refusal to pay a bill of $1,700 or thereabouts for the venereal clinic maintained at the Kingston General Hospital. This is the hospital's bill for the past year.

The Kingston Board undertook at the Government's request to establish the clinic, the only one in Eastern Ontario, and work has been carried on for a year. One of the original provisions was that a service nurse was to be engaged, but as Kingston is well provided with social service nurses and the hospital is well staffed, the engagement of additional worker was not pressed, nor was one needed. The sum of one hundred thousand dollars, it appears, was set aside by the Dominion Government for the work in Ontario and if the Kingston Hospital bill is not soon paid the Dominion Health Department, of which Hon. Dr. J. W. Edwards is head, will be asked to make some enquiries at Toronto. It is said that if the Ontario Government does not settle up, the clinic here will be closed for good.

TO EXTEND BRITISH NAVAL BASES IN PACIFIC

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(Canadian Press).—Replying to a question in the House of Commons, the Prime Minister announced that the Imperial Conference had generally agreed with the policy adopted previously by the Admiralty that for the better security of Great Britain's outlying possessions certain naval bases, including those in the Pacific, needed modernizing and in special cases, extending.

It was not intended, however, to ask Parliament to vote any additional money this year because of the adoption of this policy.

WINDSOR, Oct. 28. —(Canadian Press.)—After a two-day trial Russel Robinson was yesterday found guilty of robbery while armed, in connection with the Petit Cote Bank hold-up.

EXCLUDE PRESS FROM SINN FEIN CONVENTION.

DUBLIN, October 28 (Canadian Press). — Requesting newspaper reporters to leave a Sinn Fein convention here yesterday, Eamonn DeValera said:

"This is a meeting in miniature of the Nation, and this is a critical time for the nation.

"We who are responsible for the nation's policy," he continued, "want to have a free expression from the representatives of the nation. We feel that they would be hampered in their expression, and that we should be hampered in giving the advice we have to give if anything we said should be open to misrepresentation outside. We have representatives of the nation at present acting on behalf of the nation in London, and we do not want, if we can possibly help it, to cut in upon their work."

The convention was the first of its kind to be held in two years. Two thousand delegates from all parts of Ireland were present.

WAGE COMPARISONS AT ARBITRATION HEARING.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 28.—(Canadian Press).—Comparisons of wages being paid at present and previous to the reduction on the Canadian National Railways, with those paid in different cities of Canada, as well as on the other railways, took up most of yesterday afternoon's session of the Canadian National Railways Arbitration Board. Figures were given by both employer and employees' delegates to show how Canadian National Railwaymen were faring in matters of pay.

F. P. Brady, for the company, cited an outstanding case of the oldest engineer on the Halifax and South-Western Railway, who had been allowed to choose his own run. In the course of a year, with overtime, this engineer had managed to take a full month's holiday, and still collect pay cheques amounting to $6,000 for running his engine over a short line. Mr. Brady claimed that the rules were more unsatisfactory than the high wages which employees had been receiving. There were cases, he stated, of men getting more money through overtime than they made by their full day's work.

PLAN CLEAN-UP OF BORDER RUM-RUNNING.

DETROIT, Mich., October 28 (Canadian Press).— James R. Davis, Federal Prohibition Officer for Michigan, announced to-day he was making plans for a drive against the illicit liquor traffic in Michigan.

"We plan a general clean-up of conditions at the Canadian border," Mr. Davis said, announcing the Federal authorities would be aided in the effort by city and county authorities.

"The clean-up" will be timed, Mr. Davis said, to take place by the November Federal Grand Jury when it is in session. The jury will begin its sittings next Tuesday.

Federal authorities are prepared to take any law violators arrested before the jury immediately, Mr. Davis said.

SAYS FRANCE MUST HAVE FREEDOM OF ACTION ON ARMS

PARIS, Oct 28. Canadian Press.— The semi-official Temps, commenting on M. Briand and the Washington conference, says: "We sincerely hope that the results of the Washington conference will permit us to reduce without danger, land as well as naval armaments. If the spectacle of our devastated regions is not sufficient to convey abroad how we loath war, one glance at the French budget, crushed under the weight of reparations, would show how sincere we are in our wishes for limitation of armaments.

CREW ESCAPE FROM SHIP STRANDED IN HURRICANE

HAVANA, Oct. 28. — (Canadian Press).— Captain Alexander Olsen of the Schooner Cerrito, and fourteen members of the crew have reached Pinar del Rio after abandoning their vessel off the Sands of San Luis, in the southern Pinar del Rio, following four days battle with a Gulf hurricane. A message to-day from the port captain at Pinar del Rio said that the crew of a tanker believed to be the Albertdich, stranded off the coast betwen Boca Guena and Punta Cortes had been lauded at Venguerio Jobito.

BOTTOMLEY CONCLUDES TWO DAYS OF TESTIMONY

LONDON, Oct. 28.— (Canadian Press Cable.)— Horatio Bottomley, M.P., yesterday finished two and a half days in the witness box under cross-examination concerning his prosecution of Reuben Rigland for criminal libel, arising out of a pamphlet in which it is alleged, ottomley was accused of fraud in connection with his Victory Bond Club.

A curious sequel has arisen concerning Bottomley's prosecution of Bigland. Street hawkers for some days have been selling a small pamphlet professing to give a full account of Botomley's good deeds for ex-service men.

When opened the pamphlet is found to consist of merely blank pages.

A London magistrate sentenced one hawker to six weeks for fraud and the sentence provoked a general outcry against its severity. The magistrate to-day announced that he had reduced the sentence to ten days but almost simultaneously there came an announcement that the Home Secretary had remitted the entire sentence.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The home of Lt. Col. E. B. Clegg, Charlotte street, was the scene last evening of a merry masquerade party held under the auspices of the Major Bennett Chapter I.O.D.E. with Mrs. Clegg as a charming hostess, assisted by Miss Doris Clegg, convenor, and a committee composed of the Misses Daisy Davidson, Audrey Milburn, Marjorie Ingall, Muriel Harvey, Edna Connor and Janet Stapleton.

The pretty rooms were attractively decorated with streamers and festoons of crinkly black and yellow paper, decorative panels of the same with sportive goblins and elves depicted, and many hollowed-out pumpkins lighted by enclosed candles. The sixty or more guests disported themselves with all manner of games, in which fortune-telling and The Dead Man were conspicuously popular, followed by dancing and refreshments of home-made pumpkin pie, fresh doughnuts and coffee.

The costumes were varied and wonderful. A black and red Pierrette with saucy pointed cap and curly head flirted unafraid with an awe-inspiring Klansman, a gypsy danced gaily with a sobre, black-frocked clergyman and a gay red-paper lady adorned with numerous black cut-out cats, had good time with damsel whose long panniered skirts, dangling ear-rings and lacy cap didn't quite conceal the fact that "she" wasn't used to skirts as a general rule.

Some of those present were:—Grace Hall as an Italian gypsy, Audrey Huycke and Helen Martin as Little Bo-Peep, Agnes Logan as a Spansh gypsy, Doris Cowan as Pierrette, Daisy Davidson and Margaret Widdis as gypsy girls, Marjorie Reed as Hawaiian dancer, Mack Donnelly as a resplendent Indian chief, Alex. Donnelly in a darky costume, and Trevor Miller as Robin Hood. Others noticed were:—Phyllis Hall, Violet McKeown, Grace Wilson, Edna Borbridge, Margaret Cameron, Marion Huff, Vera Porteous, Clara Mason, Herb. Mason, Clayton Ridpath, Noel Rish or Eric Finley, Bob Breyfogle, Harold Wilgar, Fairen Stevens, Alex. Sollitt, Homer Borland, Alex Elliott Elsworth Ingal, Clifton Carruthers and Jack Porteous.

CELEBRATED DOUBLE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

ALD. AND MRS. MORRISON AND DAUGHTER COMMEMORATE ON SAME DAY.

Two wedding anniversaries were the somewhat unique events celebrated at the home of Ald. Robert Morrison, 599 Bolivar street, yesterday. Ald. and Mrs. Morrison celebrated their 30th anniversary, while Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Gibbs celebrated the fourth annual event commemorating their marriage. Mrs. Gibbs is a daughter of Ald. and Mrs. Morrison. A host of friends joined on this occasion in showering good wishes on Ald. and Mrs. Morrison, and Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs.

Ald. Robert Morrison was married to Martha Moncrief, of Smith township, thirty years ago yesterday by Rev. Hough, a Methodist clergyman popular in the marriage solemnization at that time. A happy family of one son and three daughters, including Mrs. Gibbs, joined in wishing their parents every blessing at the family home last night. The family are Mrs. Charles Thorpe, Mrs. Sidney Gibbs, Cora and Oswald at home.

The home was prettily decorated with autumn trimmings. The supper was very bountiful and the occasion marked by much good humor. Miss Palen gave a delightful musical programme.

FINDS SHIP ADRIFT, TOWING HER TO PORT

KEY WEST, Fla Oct. 28 (Canadian Press).—The coastguard cutter Tallapoose reported by radio today that she found the United States Steamship Frederick Luckenbach helplessly adrift at 9 o'clock last night, fifty four miles from the entrance of Tampa Bay. The Luckenbach was badly listed and without steam. The cutter took the vessel in tow for Tampa.

MAKE AFFIDAVITS THAT KARL IS CONFINED

BUDAPEST, Oct. 28.—(Canadian Press.)— The British, French and Italian Commissioners to Hungary visited Benedictine Abbey at Tisany yesterday and made affidavits that former Emperor Charles, with his wife, are lodged there. A cordon of troops isolates the Abbey.

FEAR YACHT LOST IN FLORIDA STORM

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 28.—(Canadian Press.)—The body of an unidentified negro and a life preserver bearing the name of "Kona of Roslyn" floated ashore near Mayport at the mouth of the St. John's river, 18 miles from here today.

The only "Kona" listed in available shipping records here is a sixty foot motor yacht with home port at New York. The crew of that vessel was given in the records as four men.

"Millions Now Living Will Never Die!"

(JUDGE RUTHERFORD)

The Scriptures abound in time prophecies indicating when such events as have distressed mankind during the past few years, and the opportunity for profiteering in all its phases will for ever end.

The divine law is inexorable, and every inspired revelation of the divine purpose respecting the affairs of the old world, over which Jehovah for a special purpose tolerated Satan to rule, has been fulfilled exactly on time, and the time for the binding of Satan is at hand.

Every Bible scholar is aware, whether it is now or one hundred years hence, that mankind will some time arrive at the end of Satan's reign, when everlasting life on this earth can be his blessed portion, instead of death and the tomb, as has been the case under Satan's six thousand years of evil domination and delusion.

The purpose of this Free Lecture is to furnish every inquirer positive Biblical proof and secular evidence, based on prophecies fulfilled during the past five years that millions now living will never die, and that we will within the next few years enter this long-hoped-for period, when families will be re-united and live happily on earth for ever.

If you are interested in the future blessing of yourself and your loved ones and of the whole human family, you owe it to yourself to hear this Lecture by

DEAD SPORTS WRITER PICTURESQUE FIGURE

"Bat" Masterson Credited With Having Killed 28 Men.

NEW YORK, Oct.28.—Bat Masterson who died of heart disease, at a desk in the famous "Old Carbarn" office of the New York Morning Telegraph, of which he was sporting editor in his last years, writing a story, was credited with having killed 28 men in his time.

William Barclay Masterson began his career as a gun-fighter at the age of 20 in a town called Abobe Walls, somewhere in the western desert, by killing a man in a poker argument. They took the deceased outside and the poker game went on.

The men rolled up in the blankets when the game had come to a peaceful finish and went to sleep. But fortunately the ceiling of the abobe house fell on Bat and his hunky sometime during the night and they extricated themselves from the wreckage in time to intercept a band of 200 Indians, led by a negro deserter from the United States cavalry, bent on massacre

Materson Kills Negro

Materson and his friend began firing and this aroused the other men of the town, preventing a surprise. For 14 days the Indians, led by the Negro ex-cavalryman, continued to attack the town. On the fourteenth day Masterson, himself killed the negro and the siege ated.

General Nelson A. Miles, famous Indian fighter, heard of Masterson's conduct in the long battle and made him second in command of a detachment of 10 scouts. Later he became sheriff of Dodge City, formerly Fort Dodge, Kansas, and in subsequent years he drifted to Trinidad and Denver as sheriff. Although he was required to kill men to maintain the peace during his terms as Sheriff, Bat Masterson, during all his 15 years on Broadway was reticent about all the shooting except the incident in which he hunted down and killed four drunken cowboys in Dodge City, all between sunset and sunrise, to avenge the killing of his brother by one of them.

He Hated Prize-Fighters

Bat was one of the last survivors of the old west but he never capitalized his past, never became a circus plainsman. He had counted Theodore Roosevelt among his personal friends

In his sporting comment here, Masterson was forever lambasting prize-fighters, for whom as a class he had no great admiration. He was a familiar figure for years, however, at the ringside in Madison Square Garden and elsewhere.

3,000 GALLONS OF LIQUOR ARE SMUGGLED DAILY.

Investigator Says This Amount is Being Run Over Detroit River.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Rum-runnng is operated along the lines of big business. There is no one big booze "ring" operating nationally, but the business of smuggling liquor into the country of Detroit—the biggest booze gateway next to Miami or Savannah—is an organized business.

Bootleggers, the men who sell, are first cousins to thugs and bandits. They operate mostly as individuals, cutting each others throats and selling more cheap poisonous "doctored" hootch than high grade liquor.

A national investigation made for the News by the NEA Service shows that bootleggers fight each other, while rum-runners hang together.

Around Detroit the liquor smugglers are organized after the general plan of a chamber of commerce.

A thousand cases of liquor—3000 gallons worth conservatively $60,000 under illicit traffic prices — come across the Detroit River from Canada every night, according to inside estimates.

Only a handful of government officials are there, making futile efforts to check the smuggling.

Big Ones Rarely Caught

The organized smugglers belonging to the "chamber of commerce" are rarely caught. The little fellows are the ones who suffer generally.

Ecorse is one receiving depot for smuggled booze. Anybody who cares to go there and hang around the docks—if he be acquainted with some members of the gang—can see the boats unloaded.

The village of Ecorse is wide open. Bars sell openly. Even beer bulkier and awkward to handle in quantities is available.

Small launches are used by the rum-runners. They easily evade the river patrol. Often government agents are sent off on a wild goose chases, by false tips, while liquor is being safely landed.

Persons supposed to have influence are given a quart of liquor occasionally; others, supposedly more influential, get it in case lots.

Soft drink stores where imported liquor can be obtained at 50 cents a drink are numerous in Detroit Moonshine can be obtained for 25 cents a glass

Bottled goods, Canadian, Scotch and Irish brands, are easily purchased in Detroit. A bottle of Irish—the familiar "fifth"—can be bought for $5.

Shipped By Trainload

Until July before the law was enacted against importing liquor into the province of Ontario, liquor made in Windsor and Walkerville —across the river from Detroit— was sold over there by putting through the transaction in Detroit. This made a technical importation into Ontario.

Now liquor can be made legally in Ontario, for export purposes.

A favorite method for distributing it through the United States, including Detroit, was for an organized gang to send an agent to Havana or to a point in Mexico. Then a trainload of whisky was regularly shipped, consigned to this agent in a foreign country.

When the train came through the river tunnel it was looted somewhere in the Detroit yards. Every case of liquor was removed. The empty train was sent on. Of course, the agent never complained that his liquor never arrived.

Office In Arsenal

An investigator visited the headquarters of one of the big rum-running gang. It was a dilapidated house in Detroit within 10 blocks of Grand Circus Park. Inside it looked like a mountaineer's shack.

On a bed lay a loaded shotgun! A caretaker in charge made sure he knew the person accompanying the stranger before the door was unlocked. The "boss"—head of the ring—was in Lansing, the state capital "on business!"

There is an open space beside the house and usually one or two touring cars standing there. These machines bring the booze from Escorse, where it is landed from launches plying between there and Canada. These same cars deliver this liquor in case lots at night to city patrons.

Trunks are often used to ship smuggled liquor from Detroit to other cities, large quantities going to Chicago. In shipping a trunk of bottled booze the trunks sometimes are checked on duplicate tickets. Then one is destroyed and the baggage checks are sent to the destination where the agent, to escape possible detection, sends an unsuspecting porter after the trunks.

Bottles Bad For Shipment

The drawback to any shipment of bottled booze in small quantities is that no bottle is ever quite full, and no matter how well the bottles are packed in cotton or straw, the handlers of the trunk or box can always hear the peculiar, unmistakable sound of liquor as the bottles are shaken in transit.

Consequently much of it never reaches its destination.

Summer cottages along the Detroit River, with small wharves, where it is easy to load liquor rent at much higher rates than before prohibition.

James Davis, state prohibition director at Detroit, said that "conditions are not bad now!" He pointed to the fact—which is true—that smuggling via Windsor and Walkerville ferryboats had been wiped out.

MONTREAL STAR'S VIEW OF LIBERAL TARIFF POLICY.

The Montreal Star, regarded as the national organ of the Conservative party, injects into the political debates on the hustings the following interesting comments on the Liberal party and its tariff policy:

One of the humors of the campaign lies in the labored efforts of certain mal-adroit supporters of the Meighen government to fasten upon the Liberal party a tariff policy which every influential spokesman for that party indignantly repudiates. The upshot is that the country is treated to a debate between the opponents of the Liberal party and the Liberal leaders over what the Liberal policy is. This is a debate which, in the very nature of things, must eventually be won by the Liberal leaders; for they are the boys who make the policy and change it if they find themselves losing the debate on the old premises. They are, in fact, in the happy and irresistable position of a golf player who might be empowered by some fantastic agreement to change the rules and even edit the score as he went along.

If the Liberals do not know what the Liberal policy is, who does? And they insist that it not only escapes the supreme folly of "free trade," but that it also does not propose any revolutionary reduction of the tariff. Many—indeed most—of the Ontario candidates of the party insist with an earnestness approaching tears that they would never, never, NEVER think of exposing any industry within a hundred miles of the Town Hall in which they will be nominated to the inclement blasts of outside competition. When we find an Ontario Liberal candidate like Raymond of Brantford, for instance attacking the Government for reducing the duty on agricultural implements and keeping binder twine, cream separators and tractors on the free list, we not only deduce that there are industries making these things in his constituency, but that he is quite as good a protectionist as any Meighenite or any of his own Quebec colleagues.

There is danger enough in the situation without manufacturing it artificially. There is a party in the country which is not Protectionist. If it should get into power, then we might look for disaster. It it should even get into a position to dictate the tariff policy of a Coalition Government, of which it might possibly form the supreme factor, then our industrial, fiscal and political independence would, indeed, be in danger. But there doesn't seem to be anything to be gained by this "shadow-boxing" or by pretending that there are two Liberal parties, one in Quebec and the other risking fatal dislocation of the spine in an effort to follow the twistings of the expert Contortionist King.

There are, of course, two Liberal parties on the railway issue. But so are there two Conservative parties on the same issue. This is an issue which has cut right across party lines. And we might as well admit it. We shall get no real and lasting solution of our crushing problems unless we face facts and give over the foolish old partizan claptrap of trying to convict a party of advocating a policy which it comes near to unanimity in repudiating.

The little hip-length, loosely-cut fur coats continue to be popular, regardless of the fact that many novel styles in full length garments are being shown this season.

SUFFERING OF YOUNG WOMEN

This Letter Tells How It May be Overcome—All Mothers Interested.

Toronto, Ont.—"I have suffered since I was a school girl with pain in my left side and with cramps, growing worse each year until I was all run down. I was so bad at times that I was unfit for work. I tried several doctors and patent medicines, but was only relieved for a short time. Some of the doctors wanted to perform an operation, but my father objected. Finally I learned through my mother of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and how thankful I am that I tried it. I am relieved from pain and cramps, and feel as if it has saved my life. You may use my letter to help other women as I am glad to recommend the medicine."—MRS. H. A. GOODMAN, 14 Rockvale Ave., Toronto.

Those who are troubled as Mrs. Goodman was should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Those who need special advice may write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. These letters will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

NEW YORK CHEERS FOCH, COMING FOR ARMS CONFERENCE

NEW YORK, October 28. Canadian Press. — A mighty bombardment of cheers greeted Marshal Foch when the liner Paris steamed nto New York to-day. Thousands lined the waterfront to welcome the grey-haired little man, soldier of France, and citizen of the world.

Moving among the crowds were British Tomies, Canadian and Poilus in uniform.

General Pershing reached quarantine about 11 o'clock in ample time to greet Marshal Foch. It was due to ex-service men in the fire room of the George Washington that General Pershing was able to get back in time from his trip to Europe, where he had conferred the Congressional Medal of Honor on the unknown soldiers of France and Great Britain. Responding to a wireless appeal from the American Legion, which is entertaining the Marshal on his visit to this country and bringing him to its national convention at Kansas City next week, the fire room forces raised additional pounds of steam.

WHO SAID MONKEY GLANDS?

By application of his newly discovered invisible rays, that are produced by electricity, Dr. Richard Schleusner, of Paterson, N. J., has successfully restored youth to two sixty year old men by the means of direct stimulation of the Pititular Gland; no surgical operation being necessary. They were subject to a shower of rays, ten minutes each day continuously for three months. The rays were directed at the Pititular Gland (which because of its position at the base and within the brain, was considered by Science impossible to stimulate). This gland is considered the main spring of youth and old age in men, the rays forced the gland to greater activity and cleared away the deposits of senility and replaced them with youth.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash poisons and toxins from system before putting food into stomach.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities in the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food taken into the stomach nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins, which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which suck only nourishment.

A splendid health measure is to drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons from the stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the alimentary canal before eating more food.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside bathing.

Do no lock the wheels of your car, for it may be necessary to move the machine in case of fire in the vicinity. Stop the engine and set the emergency brakes.

PETERBOR'S' PIONEER DIES IN TORONTO

MRS. CATHARINE BROPHY MAHONEY CAME TO CANADA 75 YEARS AGO.

TORONTO, Oct. 28.—Mrs. Catherine Brophy Mahoney, a pioneer of Peterborough county, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Keogh, 49 Springhurst avenue, after a long illness. Mrs. Mahoney was born in Ireland in 1834, but came to this country 75 years ago. She lived for many years in Peterborough, then in Ottawa, and for the past five years in Toronto.

Mrs. Mahoney was a very devoted Catholic. Her uncle, Rev. John Butler, was the founder of St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough.

She is survived by three sons—Raymond, Hamilton; John, Detroit, and Thomas, Toronto, and three daughters, Mrs. Daniel O'Connell, Toronto; Mrs. Elizabeth Keogh, Toronto, and Sister Saint Mary of Loretto, Montreal, and one brother, Rev. George Brophy, Kingston.

LINDSAY PRESS PRAISES "THE GIRL IN RED"

The Lindsay Evening Post and the Watchman-Warder speak highly of the presentation of the "Girl in Red" at the Lindsay Academy, Wednesday night. The Watchman-Warder says:—"It was one of the few amateur plays where the principals appeared to be well trained."

The Post says:—"The production was staged under the auspices of the Kawartha Chapter I.O.D.E. and not withstanding the fact that rehearsals covered a period of only a couple of weeks "The Girl in Red" was capably presented."

The Peter Robinson Chapter I.O.D.E. are presenting this comedy drama in Peterboro, Nov. 11 and 12 under Mrs. T. H. Bird of New York city.

LABOR MAN NOT LIKELY

WOODSTOCK, Oct 28.—The possibility of the Independent Labor Party of North Oxford placing a candidate in the field in the Provincial bye-election seems to have been dissipated owing to internal dissensions in the party. Although it was announced following a split with the U. F. O. that Labor would have a man in the field no definite action has yet been taken. The party held a meeting in Woodstock last night and action was deferred until after the I. L. P. Convention in Hamilton on Saturday.

The local party will send a delegate to the convention and whether or not they place a candidate in the field depends on the outcome of the deliberation there.

TAPLIN SHOES AT THE GRAND

To a crowded and interested house at the Grand Opera House last evening Mr. V. E. Taplin, general manager of Natural Tread Shoes, Limited, of Toronto and Belleville, delivered an instructive and illuminating illustrated lecture on "Hygiene of the Feet."

Mr. Taplin, in a quiet and mildly humorous fashion that seemed to appeal immensely to his hearers, outlined his theory of one-inch heels in a brief address.

He charged the shoe manufacturers of this country and of the United States with changing styles in footgear every six weeks. 'Imagine bath tubs changing in fashion every six weeks." And, "you are slaves to the big shoe manufacturers, who teach you that you are not in fashion unless you are wearing the very latest idea in stitching or placing of buttonholes or height of heel—ideas approved by whom? Only by the men who make them." Mr. Taplin also remarked that "the women organizations of this country are big enough to stop the accursed binding of feet within thirty days, if they set their mind to it," and referred to the impossibility of any one shoe merchant keeping the nine widths of shoe which are necessary to properly fit the human foot with the constantly-changing modes, which often render his stock slightly out of date before it is placed on his shelves. The visiting shoe traveler who carried a line comprising 300 separate and distinct models in shoes was cited as an instance.

The theory of the speaker that a good shoe clerk should be able to fit a customer with a shoe without looking him or her in the face and without speaking at all, was advanced, also the undeniable fact that "you can sit down in the store and jam a 5E foot into a 4A shoe and still be comfortable, but you can't walk around in that shoe and be comfortable."

Evils of Wrong Type of Shoes.

A recent inspection undertaken amongst high school children in the city of Toronto revealed a condition in which one out of every three was suffering from fallen arches, and one in every five had flat feet, directly due to the desire of the parents for so-called stylish-looking feet in their children. In 1916 statistics from the United States showed that 1,149 women were killed and over 4,000 crippled by accidents caused by high heels. A research conducted by the Museum of Safety in New York revealed in figures that attributer from ten to fifteen per cent. inefficiency in the individual to wrong shoes, and revealed that the earning power of the nation was decreased as a whole by twenty per cent. on account of sore and diseased feet.

Mr. Taplin, whose address involved some wholesome criticism of the fair sex, remarked: "I am more and more convinced that women have sense in these matters, if you can start it going." From a consideration of the fact that those peoples who did not wear shoes at all never suffered from foot ills, he had deduced the opinion that wrong shoes caused the foot ills to which our flesh seems to be heir. "The consumptive stoop," the chest position caused by high heels, which left its victim a prey to colds and diseases, the baneful effects on home life and happiness of corns and bunions in their inmates, and the discomfort to girl clerks in stores caused by bad shoefitting, were all regarded by the speaker as unnecessary and wrong.

Endorsed by Y.W.C.A.

"The Y.W.C.A. in the United States, which endorses the Taplin shoe, have gone into the question actively, to educate their 400,000 members into the idea that 'they don't have to look like fools nor be uncomfortable to be stylish.' While Canadian women were saving up their money to go to New York and buy shoes, stores in New York were sending to Canada for the Taplin shoe," asserted the speaker, who referred to the names of Dr. Anna Patterson, Dr. Margaret Young, experts in the sporting world of both sexes; Miss Alexa Stirling, Miss Kate Robertson, Miss Ada McKenzie, Messrs. Geo. Cummings, George Lyon and Charlie Murray of Montreal, as being strong believers in and constant wearers of his product.

Illustrations Shown.

A series of slides pictured various types of perfect and malformed feet, the former in most cases belonging to those peoples who wear no shoes at all, and the latter appearing in slides of Chinese feet of the higher classes, one of which showed a baby with both feet amputated as the result of too close binding, and in delineations of the pedal appendages of English speaking races. Enormous callouses, bunions, corns, hammer toes, feet bent out of all semblance to the natural shape, fallen arches, flat feet, deformities of all sorts, were flashed on the screen, with X-rays of the normal and abnormal conditions following birth and the later use of narrow-pointed shoes. The fallacy of the poplar belief in the beauty of abnormally high arches and the walk which "toes out" was exposed, and the slides illustrated the proper poise and control of a body properly shod, with the curved spine, the hollow chest, the inevitable strain and tension of the wrong type of footwear.

Living Models.

These slides were followed by an exposition of the Taplin shoe on living models, who displayed different styles of this make with costumes that ranged from sports clothes to afternoon and evening dresses of the daintiest varieties. Messrs. Turnbull Co. Ltd. provided the entire showing from start to finish and also dressed the stage with an artistic background of black and orange within a simulated arch, and floral garnitures of glowing autumn leaves. The whole effect was simple and attractive and the young ladies paraded before an interested audience in the loveliest of frocks and hats. The costumes were numerous and varied, all complete down to the last dainty accessory, and were exquisite examples of the very latest thing in feminine apparel. A heavily embroidered navy suit with moleskin collar and hat of mole and silver lace; a navy tricotine dress with hat of grey and silver; a navy tricotine with mohawk canton crepe; a wonderful afternoon dress of mohawk crepe with mushroom pleating of georgette; a dress of radium lace trimmed with jet; a charming sports costume; an evening gown of sunset charmeuse with tangerine, were among some of the beautiful costumes which drew expressions of delighted applause from interested spectators. All were worn with the Taplin one-inch-heeled shoes, in Oxford and strap pumps, of brown and black patent, kid and suede, and the ease and poise of the graceful models in their beautiful gowns were a revelation to the adherents of the high heel.

Mr. Taplin closed the lecture with a few announcements relative to the store which he is opening here on Saturday next, and a drawing for a pair of shoes to go to some lucky lady in the audience, Mrs. Hammels, of Toronto, seated in the third chair in the second row of the balcony, was the winner.

During the intermission, a collection was taken up to be divided jointly between St. Vincent's Orphanage and the Children's Shelter.

OUTSIDE REFEREE HERE TO-MORROW

WILL HANDLE THE RUGBY GAME AT RIVERSIDE PARK

The services of an outside referee for the game on Saturday have been secured. Bobby Armstrong, who has been refereeing the Intermediate O.R.F.U. games, has been secured and he will see that no partiality prevails in the game. Dr. McPherson has also been procured to umpire, so that the game will be handled in first-class shape.

The latest word from Oshawa says that they have a heavy, smooth-running team, four of their men being over 160 lbs., while two or three are under this weight. They have a good coach in Oshawa and he has them in good condition, both as regards their play and their defence. They hope to come down here and do the same to Peterborough as Peterborough did to Belleville last Saturday. The Peterborough boys, however, are determined to hold them back and defeat them.

The team had a good workout last night at Riverside Park, when they played the second team. They played till the ball could not be distinguished from the trees in the background. This was the final uniform practice before the game and only a light workout will be gone through to-night to finish up their preparation of the plays to be used in to-morrow's game. The new rules entirely change the style of the game, making it a more open game and a better game to watch than the old one. The Collegiate has fallen in with the new rules and have developed some very good plays which ought to work well and bring many yards to them.

The spectators are asked to stay in the grand stand during the game, as by the rules the home team forfeits the game if the onlookers do not stay back from the side and goal lines. The co-operation of the spectators will be very much appreciated in this matter as the team do not wish to lose the game by any means and especially not by forfeiture.

The team which will go into action at the start of the game will depend largely on how the players work out in the preliminary work-out, but the line-up that is expected to start the game is as follows:

	Weight.
Flying wing, C. Redpath	143
Right half, J. Fanning	164
Left half, S. Browne	145
Full back, G. Maniece	135
Quarter-back, D. Young	147
Centre, B. Breyfogle	167
Inside right, S. Fleming	146
Inside left, S. Stacey	162
Middle right, A. Bookhout	163
Middle left, G. Eastwood	153
Outside right, E. Legon	145

Substitutes—Grimes 135, Hay 137, Johnston 138, Parrington 145, Cowan 149, H. Young 133.

By these weights it is seen that the team averages up very well as to weight, the regular team's weight being 1,813 lbs., and the average weight per man being 151 lbs. This is the best average the Collegiate has had in some years, as the teams generally average between 140 and 145 lbs. per man, but this year the school has been lucky in having some fast and heavy players, also players who can use their heads.

The game Saturday will be one of the best and most important of the series and may the best team win. Here's hoping it is Peterborough.

GENERAL SPORTS IN TABLOID FORM

NO GUARANTEE, MONTREAL WON'T PLAY TORONTO

MONTREAL, Q., Oct. 28.—(Canadian Press.) — The action of the British Rugby Union of Ontario in refusing a guarantee to the Montreal Club, after having agreed to do so, is considered by the executive of the latter club as not calculated to put English Rugby in this country on a better basis than formerly, and not in the interest of the spirit of the game.

Montreal guaranteed and subsequently paid $300 to a Toronto club to play here in the spring, and now the Montreal Club have expressed their willingness to play in Toronto on the 15th, 22nd or 29th of November. The game is on a sound footing in Toronto, where there are six clubs engaged, but none of the above causes have been accepted and now the British Rugby Union of Toronto say they will give Montreal the amount asked, "providing the gate realizes that amount."

Under these conditions the Montreal Club will not play in Toronto.

THOMAS J. DUGGAN PURCHASES CANADIENS

MONTREAL, Oct. 28. — (Canadian Press.)— Thomas J. Duggan, President of the Mount Royal Arena Company, announced last night that his offer for the franchise of the Canadien Hockey Club has been accepted. The consideration was not made public, but it is stated that the bid was in the neighborhood of $20,000. This was the amount asked on several ocacsions by the late owner, George W. Kendal, whose widow has thus disposed of the club.

NEW YORK CLERGYMAN SELECTS "OVER THE HILL' AS TOPIC FOR SERMON

That the motion picture drama is the best medium for the moulding of sentiment toward preservation of the sacredness of the home was the declaration of Rev. Lincoln Caswell, pastor of the Crawford Memorial church, New York, during a sermon delivered on "Mother and the Fifth Commandment." Dr. Caswell elects to choose his topics for Sunday night sermons from the stage and the screen. He selected recently as his topic "Over the Hill' the William Fox film production which is to open at the Allen Monday for entire week.

"We need in America today all possible influences to preserve the sacredness of the home," said Dr. Caswell, "and no instrument I know of is a powerful in the moulding of drama. It is therefore a matter of genuine congratulation that this particular story, "Over the Hill," is now presented with such amazing success. Now has arrived the opportunity of seeing the truth in terms of practical and attractive realism. I am sure that ten sermons would not produce the effect that one showing of "Over the Hill" does; and this goes on twice a day, day after day, week after week.

"The picture sends a young man home to write that love letter to his mother, or to carry her a handful of violets or to send her a larger check than usual, or to rush in upon her with a hug and a kiss and an apreciation which she longs for. I say to you that a picture that will send men to their homes to do things like these is a mighty sermon in the real sense of the word. We need a preachment like this in America today. No pulpit is so effective or reaches a larger congregation than the pulpit of the motion picture screen."

AT THE CAPITOL.

Thomas Meighan is as attractive as usual at the Capitol this week in "White and Unmarried." With his dashing manner, his bran new fortune, acquired more honestly than the gains of his former years, his crook record and spotless passport, he breezes into Paris and proceeds to mix thing up generally. With a taste for high society and an equal liking for the shady side of life as exemplified in the Apaches of the French capital, with a knack of acquiring any loose jewellery lying around, the hero of this light, adventurous little drama has a good, all-round time, as Billie Kane. He sends his tubercular pal on a health trip as an initial proceeding with his unexpected legacy, and annexes his sweetheart's diamond pin, which he has made into a ring and flashes unconcernedly thereafter.

The Cave of the Blue Devils, encountered in a Parisian sight-seeing expedition, has a startling background of dancing devils and ghosts, and Dorothea messes things up in a temperamental outburst which causes her to run off with a 'phoney' Count. Lots of action, effective scenery and some unusual situations make up an interesting performance.

Joe Ryan in "The Purple Riders" and an excellent comedy, "Society Dogs," with wonderfully trained animal actors, complete a pleasing programme.

ROAD RACE OFFERS MOVIES A CHANCE

FORMER WINNERS WILL NOT BE ENTERED—WILL BE HELD AS FIRST ARRANGED.

The Examiner road races, junior and senior, will be run on Thanksgiving Day morning, starting the juniors at ten o'clock or a few minutes later, and the seniors about 10:30 o'clock. There should be no conflict with any other events of the morning, and for that reason, and because of the plans announced some weeks ago, it has been decided to go through with the original programme.

Just to refer to the course again, the Y.M.C.A. will be the jumping off point, thence south on George to Sherbrooke, west to Park street, north to McDonnel, then east to Aylmer, north to Dublin, east to George, and south to the finishing mark in front of the "Y."

Preparations are well in hand and details are gradully being worked out. From the present outlook the entries will be more numerous than in any of the former road races formerly held under the Examiner's auspices. To revive the game as bow, are being given the fullest encouragement. Charlie Thorpe is in the managerial ranks of this year's race. Albert Smoke will likely run in the Hamilton Herald race, and a Toronto man with a big mark, who proposed to enter has been excluded. Had he been living here, or in the district, his entry would doubtless have been accepted, but in this year's race the chief aim is to give rapidly as possible those candidates who have never won a distance race, who, in fact are making their first everyone a chance, especially the novices.

Entrants in the Senior Race must have amateur cards. If they have not yet secured them they should apply to Doug Loomis at the Y.M.C.A., who will get the cards from the C.A.A.A.

Entries will be received at the Y.M.C.A. up to 9 p.m., on Thursday, November 3rd.

A Word to Appreciative Playgoers—

Some time ago I made arrangements to present Mr. Walter Hampden at my theatre for one day. This great Shakespearean actor had at that time opened, en route from London to Toronto, where he is booked to appear next week in response to those who had seen and appreciated his remarkable performances during his initial appearance at the Royal Alexandra Theatre last fall. The difficulties in bringing an actor here whois virtually unknown in Peterborough are obvious, for to the rank and file Walter Hampden is the same in Shakespearean roles as anybody else. That is why I want to urge on you the high rank in which he has been placed by both critics and public in those cities he has visited. "I am very anxious," writes Hector Charlesworth, Canada's foremost critic, in The Toronto Saturday Night, "for Mr. Hampden to get popular support in Canada." "The best of contemporary Shakespearean actors," declares Morgan Powell, in The Montreal Star. Following Mr. Hampden's enormously successful New York season last spring, nine of the twelve critics on the metropolitan dailies unhesitatingly pronounced him to be "the foremost Shakespearean actor in America today." I could go on at length, quoting eulogies from the world's foremost critics about the artistry of this star who received his training from Sir Frank Benson and H. B. Irving, but I have not the space. I ask you to back me up in my belief that good things ARE appreciated here. Mr. Hampden will appear in "The Taming of the Shrew" tomorrow night.

CHUBBY KILLINGBECK IN JAIL AGAIN

CHARGED WITH ATTEMPTING FRAUD ON A LAKEFIELD MAN

Laverne Killingbeck, better known as "Chubby," was sentenced to a year in the London common jail by Police Magistrate Bartlett, in London, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to obtain $200 by fraud from A. V. Hill, of Lakefield. He sent a telegram on October 19 to Hill, asking for the money, and signed the name of Hill's son, Stanley, who, unfortunately for Killingbeck, was at home when the telegram arrived.

Mr. Hill appealed to the local police to give their assistance in the case, and, on Chief Newhall's advice, a fake telegram saying the money would be sent to the Bank of Montreal, London, and he could obtain it at 11 a.m. the next day, was sent. The telegram was signed A. V. Hill.

Simultaneously, the London police were advised to apprehend whoever applied for the money.

A woman, who, it is alleged, had been involved with Killingbeck in illicit drug activities in Peterborough before going to London with him, was posing as his wife, calling herself Mrs. Johnston Hill. Johnston Hill, alias Laverne Killingbeck, sent this woman into the bank to get the money, while he waited outside. Both were arrested. The London police did not know who the man was, neither did the local police till Chief Newhall obtained the woman's name from the Globe. Suspecting Killingbeck, Chief Newhall sent his photograph to London, and he was identified at once.

Killingbeck has served four prison sentences, including a three-year term in Kingston for housebreaking, theft and other offences committed in the vicinity of Peterborough.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(Canadian Press).—Sterling Exchange irregular, demand a Great Britain 3.89 3-4; Canadian dollars 7 15-16 per cent. discount.

Selling for profits and 6 per cent. opening and renewal rate for call money caused only occasional impairment of gains during the morning. Investment rails did not improve their early position, but the junior issues showed gains of one to two points. Additions to stronger industrials included Pullman, Haskell and Barker, Lackawana Steel, Anaconda Copper, Amer. Smelting, Americn Sugar, American Woollen and Sears, Roebuck, these also gaining one to two points.

Dealings expanded and buying became more confident in the early afternoon on reduction in call money rates to five per cent. Motors and Mexican Oils were foremost in the rise.

TORONTO

TORONTO, Oct. 28.—(Canadian Press).—General Electric on sales of small lots firmed up to 94 7-8 on Toronto stock exchange this morning. C.P.R. sold up to 123 1-4 and Steel of Canada was stronger at 62 1-2. In the unlisted section Brompton moved up to 25 1-2. Trade was quiet in bonds with prices fairly steady. CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—(Canadian Press).—Opening wheat quotations which varied from unchanged figures to 1 1-4 cents higher with December 1.07 to 1.07 3-4 and May 1.10 3-4 to 1.11 3-4 were followed by numerous changes within the initial range.

Corn and oats paralleled the action of wheat. Corn opened 1-4 cents to 1-2 cents higher, May 53 1-4 to 53 3-8, and later eased off somewhat Oats started 1-4 to 1-2 cents up, December 37 7-8 to 38, but then underwent something of a setback.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Oct. 28.—(Canadian Press).—A very strong market was in evidence on the local Stock Exchange during the first half-hour this morning. Brompton rose 1½ points to 25, and Detroit United Railway, whose weakness and subsequent drop of eleven points was a feature of the early trading yesterday, strengthened 1¼ to 66¼. Laurentide, in sympathy with other rising issues, advanced 1 1-8 to 80. National Breweries appeared fractionally stronger at 56 5-8. Spanish River was prominent, rising 1½ to 67. Other changes in price quotations were fractional.

MUSICAL EVENING WAS HAPPY EVENT.

Last evening the pupils of Miss Edwina Palmer gave the first of a series of musical evenings for this season at the Conservatory of Music, to a large gathering of friends and relatives. The popularity of these little evenings is growing as evidenced by the increased attendance and the keen interest of those present. Those who watched the progress of the pupils who played at the evenings last year, were astonished at the confidence and ease displayed by them last night, showing the great advantages afforded these young people who have constant opportunities of playing in public. As Miss Palmer explained last evening, it was of no consequence what grade of music the pupil played, but it mattered a great deal how well he played it. Quite a number of new pupils made their first bows to the public last evening. The special numbers on the programme were a violin and cornet duet by William and Robert Cormack, which was much enjoyed, Dancla's Fantaisie No. 1, by Stewart Widdiss, and the No. 4 Fantaisie, by Leonard Grime, Gillet's "Passepied," by Roy Rome; Boccherini's "Minuet," by Kathie Taylor; Elgars "Salut d'Armour," by Arnold Spencer; Wienawski's "Mazurka," by Winnifred Evans. Others on the programme were Donald Morrison, George Barnes, Margaret Doris, Emmet McGarrity, Irene King, Eric Jones, Walter Thorne and George Hutchinson.

JOHN DOUGHTY WORKS AT CLEANING CELLS

Denton Garfield has Failed Since Starting Term in Prison.

TORONTO, Oct. 28.—Prison officials who accompanied a convict to Toronto recently, where the latter gave evidence in a case in the Sessions, say that Jack Doughty, serving six years at Kingston Penitentiary, is now working cleaning cells. He was formerly employed as a bookkeeper.

Stanley Brown, the Bank of Montreal teller who recieved his sentence recently for theft of some $21,000 from the bank, is employed as an accountant.

Denton Garfield, sentenced to 20 years, has been in the infirmary. He had a job in the laundry. Since being sent down Garfield has failed rapidly.

FORMER HOTEL MANAGER VANISHES; WARRANT ISSUED

SEAFORTH, Oct. 28. — Lorne Weir, formerly Manager of the Royal Hotel here, left town a few days ago and a warrant has been issued for his arrest. This came as a result of a visit to Weir's apartments in what was formerly the Royal Hotel by Inspector Pellow and Inland Revenue Officer Porter. Samples of three kinds of "home brew" are said to have been taken by analysis, and proved intoxicating, one sample going as high as 23 per cent. proof spirits, it is reported. An information was then laid against Weir for violating the O.T.A. and he was served to appear before Police Magistrate Reid. At the appointed hour his solicitor James Best, appeared and stated that Weir had left town.

NOVEL POPULARITY CONTEST

London must have its music halls and must select at periods, the most popular music hall artist. Here is a novel method of conducting a popularity contest. Posters of the leading stars are laid out on the sidewalk. The passerby throws money on the poster of his or her favorite and the poster gathering the greatest sum gives the crown to the original of it. Trafalgar Square is the scene of this contest and when receipts were totaled a tidy sum was added to the unemployment relief fund. We forgot to find out who won the contest.

The proceeds realized from the collection taken up at the Grand Opera House last evening in connection with the exposition of Natural Tread Shoes by Mr. V. E. Taplin amounted to the goodly sum of $108.30. This total, being divided equally between The Children's Shelter and St. Vincents Orphanage, will net each institution $45.15.

The committee in charge, composed of Mrs. Jos. Knox, Mrs. J. S. Fanning and Mrs. Jas. V. Gallivan, wish to extend their gratitude to Mr. V. E. Taplin and to all those who so generously contributed towards the handsome sum realized.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father and looked pretty in a wedding dress of blue tricolette, carrying a bouquet of red carnations The bridesmad, Miss L. Whose Baby is Ruth, Asks Shaw And the Babe Wonders Whether The Playwright Was a Catcher

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(Canadian Press). — George Bernard Shaw, author of "Man and Superman" and various other dramatic works, who showed what he knows about boxing by picking Georges Carpentier of France as a 50 to 1 favorite over the champion Jack Dempsey, doesn't even know that much about baseball. But he has nothing on Babe Ruth's lack of lore concerning Belles Lettres.

When Tex Richard, boxing promoter, learned Ruth was going into vaudeville for the winter, he suggested it might be a good little piece of publicity to get Shaw's opinion on the Sultan of Swat. Accordingly, he indited a cablegram to the author of "Man and Superman," inquiring whether it would be proper to bill Babe as the "Superman of Baseball."

"Sorry, never heard of her; whose baby is Ruth?" Shaw cabled back.

"Shaw," Ruth is reported to have mused when he was apprised of the answer, "Shaw, is that the guy that used to catch for St. Louis?"

SINN FEIN DEMAND UNION OF ULSTER WITH SOUTH OR VOTE TO DEFINE NEW BOUNDARIES

AUTHORITATIVE INFORMATION IS THAT PLAN IS TO FORCE CESSATION OF TYRONE AND FERMANAGH.

STILL FENCING OVER ALLEGIANCE TO CROWN

LONDON, October 29 (Canadian Press). — Sinn Fein has replied to the questionnaire of Premier Lloyd-George, still fencing regarding the recognition of British sovereignty, it was reported here to-day.

The reply stressed a demand that Ulster either unite with South Ireland or accept a plebiscite to fix new boundaries, according to authoritative information.

The plebiscite suggestion is to force the cessation of Fermanagh and Tyrone from the Ulster counties, it was believed.

This reply will delay any decisive action on the entire situation until Tuesday at least.

Premier Lloyd-George will go before the Commons on Monday to fight for his policy.

No meeting of the Irish confreence is expected before Tuesday — after action by Parliament.

Lord Robert Cecil has announced he will propose an amendment to the Unionist motion of censure practically killing the original motion. His substitution contains a quotation that "while we deplore the policy, or want of policy, of the Government in Ireland for the last three years, the House is of the opinion that to break off the negotiations with the Sinn Fein now would only add dangers and difficulties to the situation."

Acceptance of this motion would probably annihilate any attempt of the Unionists to censure the Premier. It was believed Lloyd-George will be able to rally enough of his forces to obtain a vote of confidence.

Both the Independent Liberals and the Labour Party have announced that they will support the Government.

LORD ROBERT CECIL,
Who will move an amendment to the Unionist motion of censure against the Government for its Irish policy, practically killing the motion.

ELECTION NEWS

CRERAR SAYS PROTECTION DRAWBACK TO NOVA SCOTIA

ANTIGONISH, N. S., Oct. 29. — (Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.) — The entry of Hon. T. A. Crerar into the Nova Scotia political field took place yesterday at Antigonish-Guysboro, formerly represented in the House by J. A. Sinclair, who has retired from the whirl of politics. Antigonish-Guysboro will have a three cornered fight. Walter McNeil is the Conservative candidate. C. F. McIsaac is running as a Liberal and D. A. McIsaac, a nephew of the Liberal candidate, is out as a Progressive. Antigonish is represented in the Nova Scotia Legislative Assembly by a Liberal and a farmer, and Guysboro by two Liberals.

Mr. Crerar dealt more particularly yesterday with some aspects of the economic issue as touching on Nova Scotia. Had protection made Canada properous? he asked. "Your young men and young women in Nova Scotia," he said, "have gone to the United States because they did not have the opportunity here that they should have. Fifty years ago this was a prosperous country. If there is any part of this Dominion which has suffered from the application of protection it is the province of Nova Scotia. Your geographical position is such that you should prosper from the development of maritime trade, as Great Britain has prospered. You have the conditions to enable you to produce foodstuffs. The population of the New England States is growing and your trade with them should have been developed."

MEIGHEN SAYS HE DOES NO BEG ANY SUPPORT

TORONTO, Oct. 29.—(Canadian Press).—"I am not here begging on my own behalf or on behalf of any member of my Government. I am here to lay before you the great issues at stak ewhich you must decide." With these words Premier Meighen prefaced his speech in Massey Hall last night to almost five thousand people. The speech in which he defended the lines of policy which ad actuatd the government in the post, re-affirmed his belief in a fiscal program of maderate protection for Canada and declared his intention of following this course which the Government had pursued in tariff matters if returned to power. "His speech," he said, "was not an apology or a defence. He did not maintain that the Government had come through the with without mistakes, but he insisted that they were small, that the great decision of the Government had been wide and that the country was strong and healthy.

FRENCH POLICY FOR DISARMING IS "SECURITY"

VIEWS HERSELF AS "COCKPIT OF EUROPE" AND FEARS GERMANY MAY PROVE VENGEFUL.

WILL REDUCE ARMAMENTS AS FAR AS THOUGHT SAFE

BY WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent).

PARIS, October 29.— The French policy toward disarmament—hidden during the diplomatic discussions of recent months—was defined authoritatively to-day in one word—"security."

This means, it was said, that France will refuse to consent to any disarmament to a point where the security would be menaced. Although insistent on this, France is anxious to go to any lengths to reduce military burdens without affecting her security, "as interpreted by herself."

At present, France considers that she must largely depend upon herself to care for her own security. After the failure of the ratification of the Anglo-American alliance, Premier Briand pointed out that France, because of her geographical position, is the "cockpit" of Europe.

Confronted with a vengeful neighbour in Germany, she places herself in a considerably different position than the other nations of the world.

Of course, the French interpretation of what constitutes her own security depends somewhat on what will transpire at Washington, it was said.

DELEGATION LEAVES.

PARIS, October 29 (United Press). — The French delegation to the limitation of armaments conference, headed by Premier Briand, started for Washington to-day.

The pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church has prepared his sermon for to-morrow night on "One of Religion's Big Demands." A very hearty invitation is again extended to you to be present at the evening service at St. Andrew's Church.

ONE DEAD 2 HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

CAR PLUNGES OVER EMBANKMENT IN DENSE FOG.

LONDON, Oct. 29. — (Canadian Press).—William Lawrence was instantly killed, Mark Stover probably fatally hurt, and Alexander Houston, all of Sarnia, injured, when the motor car in which they were riding plunged over an embarkment near Deleware early this morning. A dense fog is given as the cause of the accident. Two other unknown occupants of the car were slightly injured. Stover and Houston are in a hospital here.

EVELYN NESBITT TAKES MORPHINE

(United Press).

NEW YORK, Oct. 29. — Evelyn Nesbitt, who took an over-dose of morphine yesterday when threatened with eviction for non-payment of rent, was "all right" to-day, it was stated at her apartment house.

The former wife of Harry K. Thaw was making efforts to raise $300 to pay the back rent of her tearoom and her apartment. She must have it by Monday or have her furniture put into the street.

FRIEDMAN EASILY DEFEATS ERNIE RICE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(Canadian Press).—Sailor Friedman last night knocked out Ernie Rice, English lightweight champion, in the seventh round of what was to have been a fifteen-round fight. Friedman had the better of the fight all the way, and proved the master in almost every round. He will likely be matched with Leonard for the lightweight championship.

WARN OF FURTHER POSTAL ROBBERIES

(United Press).

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Guns, and orders to use them, were given postal employees here and in other large cities to-day on receipt of anonymous warnings that more hold-ups are to follow the one on lower Broadway last Monday.

A mysterious letter received by Postmaster Morgan warned that the "Big Four" would make its next raid in Philadelphia.

The letter also claimed that the loot in the New York robbery amounted to five million instead of $1,500,000, as claimed by Post Office officials.

TRADE IN WEST REVIVES LITTLE

SAYS THERE IS NO INDICATION OF RESUMPTION OF ACTIVITY TILL CROPS TURNED INTO CASH.

WHEAT PRICE DECLINE CAUSES LOSS TO MANY

Special Despatch to the Examiner.

MONTREAL, Oct. 10. — "I have just returned from a business trip throughout the western provinces," said Ross H. McMaster, vice-president and general manager of the Steel Company of Canada, Ltd., on his return to Montreal.

"From what I have seen in the West there is no indication of any immediate resumption of industrial activity, at last not until the present crops have been turned into cash. The prospects were excellent with a good crop but the decline in the price of wheat has disappointed the grain growers ,who, owing to the high prices prevailing for supplies and labor, see that their work for the season, even with a fairly good crop, will not bring anything but limited profits, while in some cases the profits will not be noticeable."

Mr. McMaster said that his trip west has been for the purpose of investigating the prospects for future business. He had visited Winnipeg, Regina, Moosejaw, Calgary, Edmonton , Saskatoon, Vancouver and Victoria.

"Generally speaking ,the outlook is for an improvement in business conditions," said Mr. McMaster, but this cannot be expected until the crops are turned into cash. Not only were the grain growers obliged to face higher prices for supplies and labor to get their crops in, and a decline in the price of wheat, but they suffered bad weather which reduced the grading of their grain."

From the point of view of hte steel industry he thought there would not be much business until the harvest had been turned into money, and old debts liquidated.

LIBERATION OF DEBS SIMULTANEOUS WITH PEACE PROCLAMATION

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
(United Press Staff Correspondent).

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Eugene V. Debs, Socialist leader, will be released from Federal prison soon after the proclamation of peace with Germany is promulgated, it was learned to-day from a source close to President Harding.

The exact technical procedure under which this is to be done was not disclosed, but it was stated emphatically that the doors of the Atlanta Prison will swing open for the veteran Socialist leader within a short time.

PROTEST AGAINST HYLAN'S PLAN TO WELCOME STRAUSS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(Canadian Press). — The announced plan of Mayor Hylan to welcome Richard Strauss, German musician, to-day has aroused a storm of protest, and there is much feeling over the matter. The Tribune asks, "Why select Dr. Strauss to slobber over," and suggests that "His Honor is in a panic; to get votes he would pay any price."

A tablespoon of freshly-made coffee added to an apple pie just before baking will give it a most delicious flavor.

SHERIFF DOUBTS MULLEN MURDERER AFTER HAVING INVESTIGATED CASE HERE

FINDS POSSIBILITY OF ACCUSED HAVING TRAVELLED SO FAR IN TWO DAYS VERY REMOTE AND LITTLE EVIDENCE THAT HE DID

SHERIFF IN KINGSTON TO EXAMINE ERNEST SCHWEIRS

After receiving from C.P.R. Constable George Evans the story of the arrest of Walter Mullen and Ernest Schweirs in Havelock at midnight of the 10th of May last in a box car, Sheriff Harry J. Mead, of Carthage, Missouri, where Mullen is wanted in connection with the murder of William Spain on the night of May 8th, finds the likelihood of Mullen being connected with the murder more remote than when he started extradition proceedings. Could Walter Mullen have murdered a man in the south-western corner of Missouri late on the night of the 8th, or more probably early on the morning of tho 9th, and less than 40 hours later have been in Havelock, Ontario, 1,400 miles away? Only by speeding on through trains, Sheriff Mead believes, could such a whirlwind attempt at escape be made.

Date Misleading.

When he came to Peterborough yesterday the Sheriff had no idea of having to go to the very bottom of the case as he is doing it. It must be remembered that Mullen and Ernest Schweirs were first brought before Magistrate D. W. Dumble on the morning of the 11th and were remanded for a week for investigation into their records. Schweirs' was bad and Mullen's nil ,and on May 18 Schweirs was sentenced to two years in Kingston penitentiary and Mullen to a year at Burwash reformatory. Sheriff Mead's information first received from Ottawa was, therefore, that Mullen had been on May 18 sentenced by the Magistrate. He had no knowledge that the arrest took place a week previously, and so the date, May 18, fitted in chronologically with the assumption that Mullen had fled to Canada.

Seeking Light.

When he found at Guelph that he had been arrested on the 10th, he was naturally confounded, and it was therefore with intentions of definitely fixing the time element that he came to Peterborough. And the result of his investigation has been to raise such a doubt in his mind that Mullen could possibly be guilty of the murder that he is in Kingston to-day questioning Ernest Schweirs to find out what light this friend of the road can throw on Mullen's movements. Armed with a letter from Chief of Police Newhall to the Penitentiary officials, he left on the 8.25 G.T.R. for Kingston this morning.

Mullen, Constable Evans told the Carthage sheriff yesterday, was in a very nervous condition when arrested in Havelock—in fact he was unable to control his nerves. Evans gave him a cigarette to brace him up, and according to the constable he nearly collapsed when he said jocularly, "What's the matter with you. You'd thing you had committed a murder?" Mullen told Evans he had been around Peterborough a day or two and he told the police here he got in with Schweirs in Toronto.

The evidence against Mullen is the statements of Earl Tucker, who is now serving a life sentence in the State Penitentiary at Jefferson City for connection with the murder that Mullen fired the fatal shots, and the fact of Mullen's gun having been established beyond question as the weapon that fired the fatal shots. Tucker from the first has denied that he was the actual murderer and on each time that the sheriff has questioned him at the Penitentiary he has held to the same story, even when warned that the authorities were preparing to extradite Mullen. He affirmed his readiness to give evidence against Mullen.

U. S. RAILWAYS CONTINUE TO PLAN FURTHER WAGE CUT IN SPITE OF BOARD'S DECISION

EXECUTIVES ANNOUNCE THAT CANCELLING OF THREATENED STRIKE WILL HAVE NO FFFECT ON CARRIERS PLANS.

BOARD CONGRATULATED ON HANDLING OF STRIKE

CHICAGO, October 29 (Canadian Press). — Railroad heads last night declared the nation's carriers would go right ahead with their plans to seek new wage cuts through railroad labour board bearings, despite the announcement from the unions that their action in calling off the strike schedule for 30th October had been influenced by the Board's announcement that pay reduction petitions for any class would not be considered until working conditions for that class had been settled.

"The calling off of the strike will have no effect on the plans announced by the carriers on 14th October to seek immediate wage reductions so that rates could be reduced," said Samuel Felton, president of the Chicago Great Western, and chairman of the Association of Western Railroad Executives.

"I don't know how long, under the Board's ruling, it will take to reach a decision on any pay cut petition, but these petitions undoubtedly will be presented within a very short time. It will be up to the Board to decide when action should be taken.

"I want it made plain, however, that we will seek these reductions in accordance with the law, posting notices of cuts, then discussing them with the employees, and, if no agreement is reached, appealing to the Board to settle the dispute."

Mr. Felton's statements were echoed by Samuel Dunn, editor of Railway Age, who, in an address at a luncheon of the local railroad executives, declared, "that the unions' action settles only one thing — that there will be no strike."

"It does not settle the question of further wage reductions or of rate reductions," he continued.

night, and by midnight scarcely an with the plans to get further pay cuts and thus reduce rates. But, if the Interstate Commerce Commission reduces rates and the Labour Board refuses to reduce wages, the roads will be in a disastrous condition."

The chiefs of the Big Five left for their homes yesterday and last night, and by cidnight scarcely an out-of-town union man was in the city.

The Labour Board continued work on its decision on Wednesday's hearing, and probably will render it today.

The Board last night received a telegram from Alton B. Parker, of New York, president of the National Civic Association, congratulating its members on procuring an annulment of the strike order, and declaring that the labour leaders' announcement that they "could not fight the Government," showed the difference between United States and European labour.

Board members were particularly interested in despatches from Washington, scanning every line in their efforts to determine how Government officials looked on the strike-averting efforts. No word had been received by the Board from any Government official.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 29.—(Canadian Press). — The Gloucester mackerel purse seiner Squanto, Captain Mollock, went ashore on Beck's Rock, near Hearn's Island, while making Prospect Harbor, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The schooner struck at high tide, and with prevailing winds should not be in immediate danger. A tug from Halifax has gone to the seiner's aid.

Prospect Harbor is about twenty-five miles from Halifax.

MONTREAL, Oct. 29.—(Canadian Press).—Following an inspection of No. 1 grain elevator by the Commissioners of the port, Secretary Fennell and Chief Engineer F. W. DEMONSTRATION FOR FOCH LIKE ARMISTICE DAY CHEERING THOUSANDS GREET CONQUEROR OF GERMAN ARMIES IN TRIUMPHAL ENTRY INTO NEW YORK.

WELCOME BEGAN 100 MILES OUT AT SEA FROM NEW YORK

NEW YORK, October 29 (Canadian Press). — New York surrendered to Marshal Foch yesterday without striking a blow. Not since Armistice Day has there been a demonstration on Broadway to compare in spontaneity or numbers with the reception accorded yesterday afternoon to the conqueror of the German Armies.

From the Battery, where he was greeted by Governor Miller of New York State, to City Hall, where he was welcomed by Mayor Hylan, the great little man in horizon blue moved in a triumphal procession of many thousands.

By his side rode General Pershing who, as leader of the United States forces in France, acted under Foch's supreme command. To General Pershing fell the honour of first welcoming the French Marshal to the shores of the United States.

Receiving the freedom of the city from the Mayor, Marshal Foch continued his "triumphal entry," motoring along Fifth Avenue to the Pennsylvania Station. All along the route and at the station multitudes had assembled to cheer the visitor.

Cheers were still resounding when

SAYS GOVERNMENT RAILROADS COULD EFFECT ECONOMIES BY CUTTING STAFF OF OFFICIALS

ROBERT DYKES, REPRESENTING EMPLOYEES, TELLS ARBITRATION BOARD ROADS EMPLOY MANY UNNECESSARY OFFICERS.

PRESENTATION OF EVIDENCE CONCLUDED BY BOTH SIDES

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 29.— (By Canadian Press.)— The submission of evidence and data to the Canadian National Arbitration Board came to an end here yesterday afternoon and the board will sit privately to consider its award next week. The evidence put in by A. R. Mosher for the employes and F. P. Brady for the Canadian National Railways, in support of their arguments against and for the reductions in wages was summed up by the chiefs of the two parties before the board. Mr. Mosher, while admitting that some reductions might be justified at the present time, held that the schedule put into effect by the company was unfair to the lower paid classes of employes. Mr Brady argued that the company must have the full amount of the reductions.

A flurry came in the proceedings just before the close of the sitting, when Robert Dykes, a representative of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employes, told the chairman that there were many ways in which the company could economize on operation costs without taking it all from the employes. There had been many appointments of impairs, he said, since the government had taken over the railways. There were more officials now than before the amalgamation and he believed there could be a saving.

Mr. Brady declared that the criticism was unfair and unreasonable and that no railway in Canada was so under-officered as was the Canadian National system. What officers had been appointed were necessary for the operation of the road and for seeing that equipment, etc., was kept clean.

George Hodge, assistant to the vice-president of the Canadian Pacific, who was called yesterday afternoon, gave specific information relating to the wages of the lower paid employees of his company and the reduction of wages by the C.P.R.

At the conclusion of Mr. Hodge's evidence, Rev. Byron Stauffer, chairman, asked Mr. Brady and Mr. Mosher to sum up their cases. Mr. Brady declared that he felt he had done enough and that special pleading was not worth the time it would take. He was ready to let the case rest with the board.

Mr. Mosher asked if this meant that Mr. Brady was binding the Canadian National Railway to abide by the deecision of the board.

"I didn't mean any such thing," retorted Mr. Brady.

That railway wages in Canada had not advanced with the same rapidity as in the United States, contrary to popular belief, was stated by Mr. Mosher. Wage schedules were higher in the U.S. in 1916 and were higher yet. Further, when reductions were made in the United States, railway employees had not lost certain privileges. United States railwaymen still received pay while absent from work through sickness.

TRUST THE MOTHERS.

"There is not one woman in 500 who knows how to bring up her children," Major Brunton declared in an address to the Toronto Humane Society. That is a startling indictment of the mothers of Canada, but it loses much of its effect when one stops to reflect that in spite of this general lack of knowledge children somehow are brought up most of them into healthy adults and useful citizens. A school to teach mothers how to take care of their children was Major Brunton's remedy, but in spite of his address we are inclined to regard the scheme as unnecessary. The mothers of Canada have done remarkably well under the circumstances, and for our part we are willing to entrust the problem to them. Mother love rises triumphantly above the level of theory and science in the care of children and while Major Brunton may be quite justified from his viewpoint in advocating that the youngsters shall be developed on a standard system is if they were cabbages, there will be a pretty general inclination to tell the women of the Dominion to disregard the fault-finding Major and "carry on."

THE KIWANIS CLUB.

The advent of Kiwanis into Peterborough should be hailed with satisfaction by all citizens interested in the welfare of their home city. The aims and objects which furnish the raison d'etre of the organization are such as to lend confidence in the hope that Kiwanis in Peterborough will prove of great service from a community standpoint. In other cities where Kiwanis clubs have been flourishing for some time they have always been well to the fore in every movement that was in the public interest, and there is every reason to expect that the local club will be of similiar importance in the life of Peterborough. In addition, the spirit of brotherhood and comradeship that is engendered by the gathering together of the Kiwanis Club each week will have its effect, as has the Rotary Club here of getting men of different professions and callings in life to understand each other better, to learn to view things from the other fellows' standpoint. As the members of a sporting organization usually grow attached to each other as a band of brothers, so with the members of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs. The new society should be given a hearty welcome and its work will be watched with interest.

UNCONSTITUTIONAL, TOO?

The latest gun to be trained on the recall system of the Agrarian party is attacking from a new quarter. Newspapers which have criticized the recall have condemned it as illogical, mischievous and harmful to the public interest, but Alexander Smith of Ottawa, a recognized authority on constitutional questions, declares that, in addition to all these things, it is a violation of the constitution as well, and adds that "it may be that a candidate who allows such a written statement of his own incompetence to exist cannot be legally elected." Mr. Smith's condemnation of the recall will strengthen the distrust of this method that exists outside of the Agrarian movement. His opinion, based on the provisions of the British North America Act, will surely cause grave doubts, even among the United Farmers, and will encourage that element of the Progressives which has already shown opposition to the adopting of the recall. Members of Parliament should be representatives, not merely the mouth-piece of a small section of the electorate. As Mr. Smith puts it, "They ask a candidate to sign a recall. If he does this then he may be asked to resign on the demand of a small group or a small committee of the same, as this pledge when signed is left with such a body to be enforced on demand. The man who signs it by so doing announces that he, even if elected, is not representing the electors or a majority of them. He is representing but a small number, very frequently a small committee who will really control him unless he disregards his pledge."

A STRIKING TRIBUTE.

The members of the executive of the Grand Army of United Veterans are to be congratulated upon the happy thought which inspired them to take steps to send the oldest living wearer of the Victoria Cross, Sergeant Richardson of Toronto, to pay homage in the name of the soldiers of Canada to the unknown American soldier upon whose tomb the Victoria Cross is to be placed on Armistice Day. The tribute they have arranged, the placing of a wreath of maple leaves at the foot of the shaft which marks the resting place of the unknown American, fires the imagination when it is reflected that the bearer is Canada's oldest recipient of the highest honour that Britain pays to valour and that the occasion is the first upon which the Victoria Cross has been awarded to anybody not a citizen of the Empire. Inspired, too, was the G.W.V.A.'s decision to have Sergeant Richardson accompanied to the Arlington National Cemetery by an escort representative of Canada's bravest soldiers, and it is hoped that other organizations of Canada's veterans will co-operate by choosing their most distinguished members to act with Sergt. W. L. Rayfield, V.C., who is the choice of the Great War Veterans for escort duty. It would be a delegation of which every Canadian would be proud and a fitting tribute from the fighting men of the Dominion to their allies.

WHY?

"Another suggestion for dealing with bank robbers is that banks be equipped with mechanism for locking the doors, capable of being operated from any point in the building. This mechanism, it was pointed out, could be operated by the foot and unnoticed by the bandits, who would find themselves locked in, like mice in a trap.

"But if the bandits are able by the use of their guns to compel the opening of safes, would they not be able to compel the opening of doors? It is not an easy matter to deal with the modern armed bandit. If convictions were more frequent, it would probably help some, especially if the convictions were followed by applications of the lash."—Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

Why should a necessity be considered to exist for the lash for armed bandits?

Why need armed bandits be so desperate a menace?

Why need bandits be armed—with revolvers or automatics?

Why need there be revolvers or automatics?

Why need revolvers or automatics be manufactured?

What good are they to anybody or for anything except to criminals and for crime?

Why should civilized states permit the manufacture, or sale, or importation, or possession of revolvers or automatics?

Of all crimes of violence put together, a majority are committed by the aid of revolvers or automatics.

Ninety-nine out of a hundred bank robberies are committed by men armed with revolvers or automatics.

The great majority of burglaries are perpetrated by men so armed. Without such arms, half of these would not be dared.

The gangsters and gunmen of New York and other larrge cities flourish on the revolver and automatic.

The Ku Klux, the anarchists, the Communists, the disturbers of society of all kinds, utilize chiefly the pistol of one kind or another. Two-thirds of the Sinn Fein murders were done with the revolver or automatic.

When does society propose to protect itself by the common sense of stopping the production of the pistol, rather than frothing at the mouth about the lash and other punitive measures?

What country is to be first in exercising that common sense? Canada?—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The public is reminded that a week from today is Poppy Day.

Somehow a lot of people find it difficult to get as excited about shells nowadays as when they were firing them, or dodging them—or making them.

"Tragic Night at the Opera" reads a Globe heading. It refers to the nature of the programme, although sometimes the real tragedy comes when the box office receipts are counted.

Wise and Otherwise

The press agent for the magician who is supposed to cut a girl in two on the stage might bill the act as a side-splitting comedy.

A wet orator asks what Prohibition has done. Among other things, it has brought much business to the vendors of the once humble yeast cake and raisin.

People who live in glass houses should provide enough excitement for the neighbours without throwing stones.

The announcement that medicinal beer is available in the United States is making a lot of men over there sick and, coupled with this, the fact that it is not available here is making a lot more sick.

If the disarmament conference is successful the arms and ammunition scrapped can be taken care of in the bank bandit conflict.

Perhaps the popularity of the Ku Klux Klan is due to the fact that its costume is an ideal one in which to eat grapeiruit.

"No home should be without a musical instrument," announced a speaker at a recent meeting. But it is always better to have a little music to accompany it.

And as The Detroit News points out, a number of prominent fiction writers have been engaged to report the disarmament conference.

Last night we asked the young lady next door whether she has theatrical aspirations. She replied, "No, my calves are too well fed."

LITERARY GEMS

REAL MEANING OF THE DAY

The British Legion is trying also to persuade the Government to give official sanction to the making of November 11th a perpetual day of remembrance. It is certainly to be desired that some some public recognition should annually be made. Armistice Day will never again be a Joy Day. The lessons we have learnt are too bitter for it to be likely that we shall commit that folly. There is all the more reason why in some signal way those lessons should be improved upon by renewing poignant memories and stimulating our still too feeble aspirations after peace. — London Daily News.

JAPANESE INFLUENCE TOO STRONG FOR CHINA.

LONDON, Oct. 29. — (Canadian Press).—The influence of Japan "is considered to be sufficiently powerful to divert China as a nation from a straightforward attempt to state her case at the Washington conference," declared Lord Northcliffe, in a signed Hong Kong despatch to the London Times, relating to interviews he has had with officials of the Republican Government of South China.

Lord Northcliffe says that in the absence of President Sun Yat Sen he interviewed Dr. Wu Ting Fung and other officials of the Government, which has its seat in Canton, and claims to represent the views of more than 130,000,000 Chinese in the provinces of Yunnan, Kwei-Chow, Kwang-Si, Kwang-Tung and Szechuan, "and is not under the sway of Japanese politicians."

"Pending recognition of its national status by world powers," the despatch continues: "President Sun's government declines to accede in the request made by the Peking government that it should send Wu Chao-Chu (son of Dr. Wu Tang-Fang) to Washington as its delegate.

SAYS GOVERNMENT RAILROADS

Employees of a railway company were not in the same position as employees of a business concern, Mr. Mosher argued. There was not the same personal touch between employer and employed, and also the employes of private firms in most cases enjoyed advantages in the way of Christmas presents and bonuses which railway employes did not receive.

Dealing with living costs in Canada and the United States, Mr. Mosher said the cost of living in American cities was lower than in Canada. It must also be remembered that Canadians had to buy American goods and the Canadian dollar was not worth 100 cents in that case.

The reductions put into effect by the railway were unfair, Mr. Mosher argued. It was not sufficient to say that the United States system had been followed. In the case of the lower paid employees, the cuts were too drastic.

If it was a matter of the employes being reduced below a decent standard of living in order that the Canadian National Railways might succeed, Mr. Mosher declared he would "rather see the Canadian National go to the wall." Men and women would degenerate if their standard of living had to be lowered and there would be a greater loss to the country than in the loss or failure of the railway system. It had not been shown, he argued, that these resolutions were fair and equitable. The man who was earning only $100 per month could not stand a twenty per cent reduction as compared with a 7 p.c. reduction to the man earning $254. The unequal distribution of the decreases could not be justified.

The question was whether the board intended to make the wives and children of lower paid employes suffer to save the railway money.

Mr. Brady, in his summing up, gave the board a history of the putting into effect on Canadian railways of the McAdoo award which, he said, "was a political move made prior to the presidential election in the United States." The Canadian railways had put the McAdoo award into effect and also all the supplements, which, he said, "had made the michief." Giving those increases had cost Canadian railways millions of dollars.

When the Chicago board had decreased wages the Canadian railways had followed suit, Mr. Brady said. The men are invited to meet the officers of his company and join in the distribution of the decrease, but they had failed to do so.

Mr. Brady outlined privileges which were given to the railways in the way of transportation, etc. There was no discrimination, he said, between union and non-union men. The Federated Trades and Sectionmen, as well as the four running trades and the telegraphers had accepted wage reductions, Mr. Brady declared, and part of Mr. Mosher's organization had signed an agreement with the Grand Trunk accepting the decrease. In the United States all the railway organizations had accepted the tentative agreements, subject to negotiations, and only this branch represented by Mr. Mosher had held out against the reductions.

Comparing his company with the Canadian Pacific Railway, Mr. Brady said the evidence of Mr. Hodge had shown that there was little difference between the wage schedules, and some of the differences were in favour of the Canadian National. It must be remembered also that the C.P.R. was a more prosperous company with more high-class traffic on its lines. The same prosperity could only come to the C.N.R. through settlement of the areas it served.

Robert Dykes, of the C.B.R.R., argued that as the increases in Canada had been seven months behind those in the United States, so the reductions should be delayed. The Canadian National Railways, he declared could practice economy in many ways other than by cutting the wages of their lower paid employes. The officers of the company had not reduced their salaries. Pointing out economies which could be practised. Mr. Dykes declared that many new positions had been created since the government took over the system. Yardmasters were kept at Kamsack, Dauphin and Calgary, where there was only one yard crew, who could be looked after by the station agent. At Calgary there had been two chief clerks, and offices of inspector of stock yards, inspector of fences and of B. and B. paint care had all been created in that time. If the executive took a few of the local and general chairman into their confidence and followed their advice, they would find many ways of reducing costs without cutting the men's wages to the extent proposed.

Replying to a question by the chairman, Rev. Byron Stauffer, Mr. Dykes said he did not know whether politics had anything to do with these appointments. He knew there were more officials now than before the amalgamation. These might be necessary, but he believed there could be a saving.

Mr. Egan of the railway representatives said the executive had been appealing in vain for the employes' co-operation and assistance. Inspectors were necessary to give proper supervision.

Referring to the same mater, Mr. Mosher declared that there were half a dozen inspectors on dining and sleeping cars out of Montreal and Halifax doing the work which one had done during the previous busy times. Mr. Brady said that inspectors had been necessary wherever they were appointed. He was sure that Mr. Dykes had not meant to make such an unfair and unreasonable criticism of the management. Mr. Dykes said he only spoke of conditions as they appeared to him.

The chairman then announced that the board would meet privately in Ottawa on Tuesday morning and would try and make a report to the Minister of Labor as early as possible. The issue appeared to be, he said ,as to the amount of the reduction which should be made. The company said it must have the full award, while the employes, admitting that some reductions might be fair, quarrelled with the schedule as drawn up by the company. It would materially assist the board if the representaives of both parties could lay before the board a statement showing which classes of employees, in their opinion, could best stand the reductions or which could least afford them.

Mr. Mosher said that while he could not sit down and name any classes and say that those could stand a reduction, he would place before the chairman and his organization thought was a fair schedule of reductions, and promised to have this then the board met next week.

DEMONSTRATION FOR FOCH

the special train taking the Marshal to Washington on the first leg of his journey to Kansas City for the American Legion convention pulled out of the terminal.

The welcome to Marshal Foch began 100 miles out at sea. There the liner Paris, on which he was a passenger, was joined by 12 destroyers and a squadron of seaplanes. The steamship George Washington, on which General Pershing was returning from Europe, raced into port, passing the Paris, in order that the United States General might be the first to welcome his former Commander-in-Chief.

At Quarantine, Marshal Foch was transferred to a navy cutter, where he was greeted by Ambassador Jusserand, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and others.

As the navy cutter passed Fort Jay, the guns of the fort thundered a general salute.
